Re Dallas telephone call to Mexico City 7/17/64, advising that Mr. WALTER E. CRAIG, President of the American Bar Association, would be in Mexico City and that in connection with Mr. CRAIG's work with the President's Commission he should be contacted here and extended courtesies.

Mr. CRAIG was contacted at his hotel on 7/24/64 following his arrival in Mexico City from Guadalajara. At that time he was most high in his praise of SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN and Agents of the Dallas Office for assistance rendered him while in Dallas. He advised that he was expecting the arrival in Mexico City of several other members of the American Bar Association who had been assisting the President's Commission and he preferred to await their arrival before discussing the ramifications of the OSWALD case in Mexico.

The writer again met with Mr. CRAIG on 7/27/64, at which time also were present Mr. LEWIS F. POWELL, JR., President-elect of the American Bar Association, Mr. CHARLES S. RHYNE of the District of Columbia, and Mr. EDWARD L. WRIGHT of Arkansas. Mr. CRAIG assured that these three men had all been working very closely with the President's Commission and their conversation indicated that they were quite familiar with the OSWALD case.

At the request of Mr. CRAIG the writer gave them a brief oral summary with regard to OSWALD's known movements and contacts in Mexico. Mr. CRAIG and the others expressed their appreciation for the information.

Mr. CRAIG was asked as to whether he and the others would be interested in seeing such places as the hotel where OSWALD stayed in Mexico City, the travel agency where he purchased his bus ticket, and general areas in the neighborhood of the Cuban and Soviet Embassies here. He replied that he did not feel this was necessary. It might be noted that Mr. CRAIG and the others were in Mexico City primarily for the purpose of attending the meeting of the International Bar Association and it was the writer's impression gained from conversation with them that they only desired the oral briefing in order to be in a position to answer any questions which might be raised by members of the President's Commission following the return of Mr. CRAIG and the others to Washington.

Mr. CRAIG and the others appeared to be completely friendly and well-disposed toward the Bureau. No information of particular interest to the Bureau was obtained from them other than the fact that Mr. CRAIG mentioned that the Commission was trying to finish its report by 8/7/64. He expressed a strong doubt that this would be accomplished.

Mr. CRAIG made no additional requests concerning the OSWALD case during the remaining few days that he was in Mexico.

With regard to the pending request of the President's Commission made through the U. S. State Department and the Embassy here to the Mexican Foreign Office for permission to publish material supplied by the Mexican Government in an official report, the following is submitted for the Bureau's information.

Through Foreign Secretary JOSE GOROSTIZA the Mexican Government has informally indicated to Ambassador FULTON FREEMAN that it has no objection to the publication of information contained in its official report and accompanying documents with the one exception of the publication of the signed statement given to the Mexican Government by SILVIA TIRADO DE DURAN. From statements made by GOROSTIZA to the Ambassador, it would appear that the Mexican Government is fearful that publication of DURAN's statement in the President's Commission's report might lead to repercussions with the Cuban Government, with which Mexico still maintains diplomatic relations. The Bureau will recall that the Cuban Government tried to deliver a strong note of protest to the Mexican Government following the detention and interrogation of DURAN by Mexican police officials in November, 1963. The Mexican Government rejected this note on the grounds that DURAN is a Mexican citizen and that the Cuban Embassy had not notified the Mexican Foreign Office officially that she was an employee of the Cuban Embassy here.

On 8/4/64 Mr. WALLACE W. STUART, Counselor for Political Affairs, advised that Ambassador FREEMAN had again seen Foreign Secretary GOROSTIZA on 8/3/64, at which time GOROSTIZA advised that he is making a further study of the DURAN statement and hopes to be able to approve publication of the pertinent parts of the statement which have to do with OSWALD's contact with the Cuban and Soviet Embassies here.

The above is submitted for the Bureau's information.

Two extra copies of this airtel are attached for forwarding by the Bureau to Dallas, the office of origin.

SUBJECT ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT

11/22/63 - DALLAS, TEXAS

Lee Harvey Oswald

Today a Mr. Slossen on the staff of The President's Commission telephonically requested certain additional document examinations in this case and advised me he would confirm his telephonic request by an official letter from Mr. Rankin. Mr. Slossen stated that page 377 of a December 10 Dallas report refers to certain documents in the American Embassy file which purport to be letters written by Oswald while he was in Minsk. Mr. Slossen requested that these documents, which will be more specifically designated hereinafter, be compared with other known writings of Oswald and a positive determination made that Oswald was in fact the author of this material in the American Embassy file. He suggested that items such as passport applications prepared in the presence of Embassy officials, letters from Oswald to Marina and letters from Oswald to V. T. Lee, Fair Play for Cuba Committee, be used as known standards for purposes of this comparison.

Mr. Slossen identified the documents in question by Commission Exhibit numbers as follows:

This is being prepared in connection with the leak of the Oswald diary to "The Dallas Morning News" and "Life" magazine.

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached airtel be sent turning down the suggestion of our Dallas Office that the Commission be requested to officially advise Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade of information previously furnished the Commission concerning our Laboratory's establishing that "Life" magazine's copies of the diary originated with Wade's Office.

DETAILS

Dallas by tel 7-29-64, suggested the Bureau request the Commission to advise Wade of our Laboratory's findings establishing that "Life" magazine's copies of the diary originated with Wade's Office and that we be permitted to orally advise Wade that the Commission would so advise him. Dallas pointed out that the reason for this suggestion was that should the results of this examination become known to Wade officially or unofficially, the Bureau would be put in an embarrassing position and further that Wade had fully cooperated in this particular inquiry.

AUG 11 1964

BACKGROUND

Bureau letter 7-27-64, advised the Commission our Laboratory had established "Life" magazine's Xerox copies of the diary originated from 35 mm. film maintained by the Dallas District Attorney's Office. In addition five latent prints were developed on Xerox copies of the diary from the

SENT DIRECTOR

District Attorney's Office and one latent was identified as the left thumb print of William Franklin Alexander, who may be identical with Assistant Dallas District Attorney Alexander. Our investigation strongly suggests that Alexander may be responsible for this leak, although he denies same.

Since the initiation of this investigation District Attorney Wade has been a thorn in the side of the Bureau by his impulsive manner of making inaccurate press releases resulting in confusion. Wade's Office has been negligent in the handling of evidence and he has shown a lackadaisical attitude in this regard. Further, in his testimony before the President's Commission Wade raised several points which apparently were construed by the Commission to substantiate uninformed charges that Oswald could have been an informant of this Bureau. This necessitated an unusual amount of work on our part to refute.

OBSERVATIONS

We are under no obligation to Henry Wade or the Dallas District Attorney's Office to advise them of the results of our investigation. This particular inquiry was made at the specific request of the President's Commission and Wade as well as members of his staff know that the results were furnished to the Commission. It is also pointed out Wade would no doubt immediately advise William Alexander of his staff concerning our findings. Whether Wade learns of our findings officially or unofficially is of no concern to us and how the Bureau can be embarrassed by such a disclosure as suggested by Dallas is not apparent. Although Wade has cooperated in this particular inquiry, it is still not felt the suggestion of Dallas has any merit.

RECOMMENDATIONS

That the attached airtel turning down the suggestion made by Dallas be sent pointing out to Dallas the impropriety of this suggestion.

closure of the info could compromise the informants involved and thus be injurious to the national defense. The enclosures concerning Lane set forth results of our coverage of a number of lectures Lane made in NYC. Lane generally rehashes a number of allegations alleging that Oswald was not the sole slayer of President Kennedy, and such allegations have all been disproved in our investigation. Lane also alleges that one James Markham furnished valuable info to him and later was arrested by the Dallas PD and suffered a severe injury which necessitated his hospitalization. Actually, Lane never contacted James Markham, but instead spoke with latter's brother, William Edward Markham, who was not in Dallas at the time of the assassination. William Edward Markham possessed no firsthand knowledge of the assassination or Lee Harvey Oswald. James Markham was arrested by the Dallas PD on a burglary charge completely unrelated to the Oswald investigation. James Markham jumped from an upper story bathroom window in an attempt to escape from police authorities and sustained a head injury which necessitated his hospitalization. Lane is completely confused in this whole matter.

NOTE: Rodriguez is a bartender in the Habana Bar in New Orleans. He claims Oswald, in the company of a Mexican or Latin-appearing individual, visited the Habana Bar in August, 1963. We have received no corroboration to such allegation. Mr. Liebeler, staff member of the President's Commission, requested we exhibit to Rodriguez the photo of an unidentified individual, which photo was taken by CIA in Mexico City. This is the photo which was shown Mrs. Marguerite Oswald by SA Odum of the Dallas Office on 11-23-63 and Mrs. Oswald later claimed the individual was Jack Ruby. Mr. Liebeler felt the unidentified individual bore some resemblance to the individual who allegedly accompanied Oswald to the Habana Bar in New Orleans. NOTE: Mrs. Silvia Odio claims that on 9-26 or 27-63 Oswald and two Cubans appeared at her apartment in Dallas, Texas, and requested support for an anti-Castro organization. Mrs. Odio's sister, Annie Laurie Odio, of Miami, Florida, was with Silvia Odio, at the time this incident occurred. Commission requested we contact Annie Laurie Odio to obtain info she possessed re the alleged incident. We contacted Annie Laurie Odio and she furnished substantially the same info as Silvia Odio. She stated, however, that she did not recognize the individual who visited Silvia Odio's apartment as Lee Harvey Oswald until Silvia Odio made such statement to her. Our investigation has established that Oswald was en route Mexico City on 9-26-63 and did not return to the U.S. until 10-3-63. There obviously is no substance to the allegations of the Odio sisters.

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached letter and enclosures be sent to the President's Commission concerning our investigation of allegations pursuant to a Commission request.

DETAILS

The Commission by letter 7-24-64, advised in the course of its report it intends to answer a great number of allegations which have been made since the assassination. Among the allegations made, the Commission requested we investigate the following four:

1. It has been FBI policy for 20 years to report to employers those of their employees who are communists or suspected communists.

2. Patrolman Tippit violated a procedure covering radio cars when he failed to notify headquarters that he was stopping to question a suspect.

3. Prior to the assassination Dallas police searched other buildings in the area of the Texas School Book Depository but not the Depository building itself.

REC-56 4626

4. Precautions taken by the Dallas police on November 22, before the assassination included surveillance of many people, among them some who did no more than speak in favor of school integration.

ACTION

The first allegation dealing with Bureau policy concerning internal security matters was coordinated with Inspector J. A. Sizoo.* Elaboration on this particular point is set out under a separate caption below.

CONTINUED - OVER

Dallas was immediately instructed to commence investigation of the latter three allegations. By airtel 7-29-64, Dallas advised that its investigation has established that the latter three allegations have no basis. Specifically, Patrolman Tippit did not violate regulations when he failed to advise the dispatcher he was stopping to question Oswald. Further, the Dallas Police Department advises that they did not search any buildings or conduct any surveillances prior to the assassination.

ALLEGED POLICY OF THE FBI

With regard to the first allegation, it is pointed out we have been guided in the dissemination of internal security information by Presidential Directive, the first one issued on 9-6-39, which was subsequently reiterated on 1-8-43, 7-24-50 and 12-15-53. These directives charge us with coordinating the investigation of espionage, sabotage, subversive activities & related matters. Any pertinent information developed of interest to other agencies within the Executive Branch of the Federal Government and the armed forces is appropriately disseminated. This has been done on a continuing basis including the dissemination of subversive information developed on civilian employees under a contractor or subcontractor for the armed forces wherein we furnish the data to the interested service.

With regard to the specific allegation, Departmental Order number 3464 issued by the Attorney General on 1-13-53, declares that the official records and information of the FBI was classified as "confidential." We have never engaged in a practice of informing employers in private industry that an individual employee of his is a member of the Communist Party or any other subversive group. When such requests are received, the requestor is informed of the confidential nature of our files.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached letter and enclosures be furnished to the President's Commission setting out the results of our investigation of the allegations specified in the Commission letter.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

By letter dated July 7, 1964, the President's Commission requested additional investigation concerning an alleged mark on the curb in the vicinity of the Texas School Book Depository (TSBD), Dallas, Texas, which had been photographed by James Underwood, a Newsman with KRLD-TV, Dallas, Texas. In connection with this request, the President's Commission letter made available a photograph of the curb made by Tom Dillard of "The Dallas Morning News" which had been forwarded to the President's Commission by Martha Joe Stroud, Assistant United States Attorney, Dallas, Texas.

On July 15, 1964, James Underwood, residence, 9751 Parkford Drive, Dallas, Texas, a Newsman for KRLD-TV, Dallas, was shown two photographs. One of these photographs is of a mark on the curb on the south side of Main Street near the triple underpass and shows a hand shielding the light from this mark. The second photograph was taken looking across Main Street and up Elm Street toward the TSBD. Mr. Underwood identified these photographs as frames taken from a 16 mm movie film, which film was taken by him on the morning of November 23, 1963. Mr. Underwood advised he had been told by a Deputy Sheriff, whose name he could not recall, that there was a mark on the curb on the south side of Main Street near the underpass, which was possibly made by a ricocheting bullet. The photograph of the hand shielding the mark on the curb was made by Underwood squatting down in the gutter to get a close-up view of the mark, and the picture of the TSBD was taken by placing the handle attached to the underneath side of Underwood's movie camera on the curb near the mark and pointing the camera back toward the TSBD, in order to get a low-level shot.

Mr. Underwood repeated what he had told Federal Bureau of Investigation Agents on June 11, 1964, that he could not be positive the mark was made by a ricocheting bullet, but appeared to him that it could have been, based on knowledge acquired by him while in the military service. He further stated it was definitely a mark on the curb and not a nick in the curb. He repeated that the concrete was not broken and that the mark appeared to have possibly been made recently, but he could not judge how much time had passed since the mark was made when he took the photographs of it.

ENCLOSURE

Mr. Underwood stated that prior to taking the photographs he met Tom Dillard, a Photographer for "The Dallas Morning News," near the entrance to the Dallas County Jail, and had told Dillard about the information he had received from the Deputy Sheriff about the mark on the curb. Dillard indicated he would possibly also take a still photograph of this mark.

On July 15, 1964, Tom C. Dillard, residence, 7022 Merrilee Lane, Dallas, Texas, a Photographer for "The Dallas Morning News," advised that on the morning of November 23, 1963, while at the Dallas County Jail entrance, he had received information from James Underwood, a Newsman for KRLD-TV, to the effect there was a mark on the curb on the south side of Main Street near the triple underpass. Underwood had told Dillard that the mark was possibly made by a bullet. Later during the afternoon of November 23, 1963, Dillard, using a Mamiyaflex 120 Camera, took a picture of a mark on the curb on the south side of Main Street about twenty feet east of the triple underpass. Dillard stated he was of the opinion the mark very possibly could have been made by a ricocheting bullet and that it had been recently made.

Mr. Dillard was shown a photograph of a mark on the curb with a hand holding a pencil pointing toward the mark. He identified this photograph as a copy of the one he had taken on the afternoon of November 23, 1963.

Mr. Dillard stated he definitely recalls it was a mark on the curb rather than a nick in the curb and the concrete was not broken or chipped.

On July 15, 1964, two Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, accompanied by Tom C. Dillard, a Photographer for "The Dallas Morning News," and James Underwood, a Newsman for KRLD-TV, went to the area approximately twenty feet east of the triple underpass and on the south side of Main Street. Through the use of the same camera used by Mr. Underwood on November 23, 1963, and by aligning three reference points in a photograph of the TSBD taken by Mr. Underwood on November 23, 1963, from this same area, it was ascertained the mark observed and photographed by Mr. Underwood and Mr. Dillard had been at a point on the curb twenty-one feet and eleven and one-half inches east of a point where Main Street passes under the triple underpass. This same point where the mark had been observed by Mr. Underwood and Mr. Dillard was seventy-three feet and five inches west of the first lamp post on the south side of Main Street, which lamp post is the first one located east from the triple underpass on Main Street.

The area on the curb from this point for a distance of ten feet in either direction was carefully checked and it was ascertained there was no nick in the curb in the checked area, nor was any mark observed.

Reference points in the photograph taken by Mr. Underwood used to locate this point were a lamp post located in the right of the photograph, which appears to be midway between two buildings, a lamp post located on the north side of Elm Street, which is in line with the third row of windows from the southwest corner of the TSBD, and which face south, and a traffic sign located on the left side of the photograph, which is to the west of the TSBD.

It should be noted that no nick or break in the concrete was observed, in the area checked, nor was there any mark similar to the one in the photographs taken by Underwood and Dillard observed in the area checked either by the Special Agents, by Mr. Underwood, or by Mr. Dillard. It should be noted that, since this mark was observed on November 23, 1963, there have been numerous rains, which could have possibly washed away such a mark and also that the area is cleaned by a street cleaning machine about once a week, which would also wash away any such mark.

Mrs. RUTH PAINE, 2515 W. 5th Street, was exhibited the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" and it was pointed out to her that this particular issue of "The Militant" on pages 4, 5, and 6 contains an article entitled "What Is Our Line? The Line Of Consistent Anti-Imperialism," a major policy speech by FIDEL CASTRO.

Mrs. PAINE stated she had no information that LEE HARVEY OSWALD received the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" or any information that OSWALD had read that particular article appearing in the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant." Mrs. PAINE stated she did not discuss the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" with OSWALD nor did OSWALD make any comments to her regarding this particular issue of "The Militant" or regarding any articles appearing in this particular issue of "The Militant."

Mrs. PAINE advised that about a week following the assassination of President KENNEDY, she became aware that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had read "The Militant" since one issue of "The Militant" had been addressed to him at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas. She said she does not know the date of this issue of "The Militant" since she did not take it out of its wrapper. She stated that OSWALD had one issue of "The Worker" addressed to him at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, and one copy of a Russian newspaper. She said she does not know the date appearing on any of these newspapers since she did not open the jackets. She advised that the one issue of "The Worker" and the copy of a Russian newspaper arrived, addressed to OSWALD at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, sometime during the approximate period November 12, 1963, to November 29, 1963, but she did not know the exact date each arrived. She said she destroyed all three of the above-described items sometime within a week or so after the assassination and she further advised that MARINA OSWALD did not see any of these items.

Mrs. PAINE advised that no mail was forwarded to LEE HARVEY OSWALD at 2515 W. 5th Street after November 22, 1963. She stated she is positive that no mail was forwarded to LEE HARVEY OSWALD from New Orleans, Louisiana, following November 22, 1963.

For the information and guidance of the Houston Office, Mrs. HUNTER was reluctant in furnishing the address of the DOMMNEYs as she did not want to "get them involved in a matter of which they had no knowledge." She stated that their planning a visit to Irving, Texas, was contained in a letter from Mrs. PATTERSON and the DOMMNEYs may have absolutely no knowledge of this letter or actually even contemplating visiting her in November, 1963. Mrs. HUNTER desired that these circumstances be explained to the DOMMNEYs so they will not be "mad at her."

The Truth about Cuba

IS IN CUBA!

On January 16, 1961, the United States Government imposed a ban on travel by U.S. citizens to Cuba. Failure to abide by the ban is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or 5 years in jail or both. (8 USC 1185, 22 USC 225.)

This is in clear contradiction to remarks made by President Kennedy before the United Nations on September 22, 1961, when he deplored action by any nation which "builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners". It seems also to violate the spirit of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 which states "Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own and return to his country".

What mysterious features exist on this tiny island of 6½ million people to become so taboo for American eyes? Although the policy of the Castro government is to promote tourism everywhere in Cuba, our government innocently explains that the travel ban is to safeguard our welfare.

- Why then does it allow American citizens to travel in such trouble spots as Somoza's Nicaragua?
- Why then does it exempt Americans such as "certain" businessmen and "certain" reporters from the ban when they are the very ones most likely to become involved in international incidents?
- Why then do other Western countries such as Canada, Mexico, England, France, West Germany, etc., find that the safety of their nationals does not require restrictions on travel to Cuba?

Our government states that another reason for the ban on travel is that it is in the national interest to combat Communism by preventing travel to Cuba.

- Why then is travel allowed and even encouraged to admittedly Communist countries such as Poland, Yugoslavia and even the Soviet Union?

In short, WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT HIDING?

As a result of the Cuban Revolution stopping the flow of Cuban wealth to the United States, Cuban soil, industry and manpower has been put at the disposal of the Cuban nation.

- Can it be that the new schools, homes and hospitals of revolutionary Cuba might contrast severely with the Cuba that served as a U.S. plantation and might weigh heavily on the American conscience?
- Can it be that we would also see the effects of the recent invasion which was supported by 43,000,000 dollars of our tax money?

WE MAINTAIN THAT THE TRUTH ABOUT CUBA IS IN CUBA AND THAT WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBSERVE AND JUDGE FOR OURSELVES WHAT IS HAPPENING THERE!

If you agree:

- Seek permission from the Passport Office to go there. When it is denied, ask why.
- Write to the U.S. State Department and President Kennedy asking that our government adhere to concepts of justice and international law and expressing your opinion on the travel ban.
- Read books which present the side of the story you haven't been told such as

  90 MILES FROM HOME by Warren Miller and

  LISTEN YANKEE by C. Wright Mills.

Both of these books are in pocketbook editions and can be purchased at the bookstands.

NOTE:

Mrs. Marguerite Oswald had previously furnished the Commission a number of letters she received from Lee Harvey Oswald during his residence in Russia. Commission reproduced these letters but found the quality of its reproductions not good. Commission requested we contact Mrs. Oswald and request that she make such letters available to FBI, Dallas, for photographing. Mrs. Oswald refused and states she believes Commission has lost the original copies it made of her letters and she does not desire to make them available to the Commission again. We so informed the Commission and Mr. Liebeler contacted Mrs. Oswald during his recent trip to Dallas to solicit her cooperation. Mr. Rankin has informed Inspector Malley that Mrs. Oswald was not cooperative with Mr. Liebeler and refuses to make the letters available for photographing. Commission then requested FBI Laboratory to attempt to improve the quality of the initial photos it took of the letters in question. By letter 8/4/64 the Commission was advised of the results of the Laboratory's efforts to improve the quality of the photos in question. Laboratory was unable to suggest any manner of treatment which would make the Commission's documents more legible.

ReBuairtel 7-30-64, Dallas airtel and enclosed letterhead memorandum dated 8-7-64, captioned as above and New York airtel 8-7-64, captioned "Mark Lane SM-C." These communications relate to a recent appearance of Mark Lane on the Barry Gray radio program.

Enclosed for Dallas and New York are copies of a verbatim transcription of tape recordings furnished the Bureau by the President's Commission on 7-29-64. According to the Commission these tapes relate to the appearance of Mark Lane on the Barry Gray radio program over station WMCA in New York City. While the date and time of this program were not furnished to the Bureau, New York has developed information indicating this program may have taken place on Sunday, 7-19-64, after 11:05 p.m.

You will note in the transcription (Pages 11-13) Lane makes reference to a possible Federal Communications Commission violation in regard to the recording of Helen Louise Markham's telephone conversation with him. For your information, in Rathbun v.s. the United States 355 US 107 (1957), the Supreme Court held that it was legal for a person to listen to a telephone conversation with permission from only one party to the conversation. Subsequent decisions of the lower courts have applied this decision to uphold the legality of recording of telephone conversations made with the consent of only one party to the conversation. In view of the above, there is not a violation as indicated by Lane.

You will note from a review of the transcription of this broadcast Lane has continued to put forth his biased maliciously calculated half-truths and theories in an effort to prove Oswald's innocence.

Dallas is instructed to thoroughly review this transcription particularly with regard to references made about the FBI. Some of the more pertinent statements appear on Page 3, starting on Line 9 and Page 4, starting on Line 32. Any necessary clarifying data with regard to these and other statements about the Bureau, should be furnished to the Bureau promptly.

New York should continue to be alert for any future appearance of Lane on the Barry Gray show to insure that appropriate arrangements can be made to tape pertinent portions thereof.

NOTE: Above tapes made available by Commission on 7-2964, with specific request to investigate allegation made by Lane that there was another female witness to the murder of Officer Tippit. Based on info available to the Bureau and investigation to date by Dallas fails to substantiate this allegation. Since the assassination Lane has made numerous unfounded allegations and this is consistent with his known actions. When the Commission's specific request is complete, it will be so advised. The tapes have been dubbed and are retained in Bureau files. The original tapes will be returned to the Commission pursuant to its request.

Helen Louise Markham was one of two eyewitnesses to the murder of Officer Tippit by Oswald. Lane apparently made a tape recording of a telephone conversation with Markham without her consent or knowledge. He has endeavored on several occasions to use this tape out of context to show that there is a question as to Oswald's guilt, although Markham's statements substantiate Oswald's involvement. The Commission is fully aware of this situation. The possible UPUC violation was discussed with Attorney Judson W. Bowles, Criminal Division of the Department by SA H. C. Swanson. Mr. Bowles stated in view of Supreme Court ruling no violation exists.

WASHINGTON 25, D. C.

August 11, 1964

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY
NOVEMBER 22, 1963,
DALLAS, TEXAS

The following is a verbatim transcription of two tape recordings made available on July 29, 1964, by the President's Commission investigating the assassination of the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. According to the President's Commission, these tape recordings concern the interview of New York Attorney Mark Lane on the Barry Gray radio show over WMCA in New York City. The date and time of this broadcast are not known.

Barry Gray (G): And now ladies and gentlemen, my guest, Mr. Mark Lane, Attorney. Who, by the way, I'm told will address the people of New York on Monday, July 20. That would be tomorrow night and also continuing through Sunday, July the 26, at Theater Four which is 424 West 55th Street. Mark, can you tell me what that's all about before we get into the body of the discussion?

Mark Lane (L): Well, I'll be speaking I guess about two or two and half hours on all the information we've uncovered in reference to the assassination of President Kennedy.

G: And, uh, this, uh, show, documentary whatever is being presented by whom?

L: By the Citizen's Committe of Inquiry which is a nation-wide organization conducting an inquiry, a citizen's inquiry into an independent investigation into the Dallas situation.

G: Who are some of your members?

L: Sterling Hayden of Dr. Strangelove, and Jessica Mitford, and here in New York City, Ted Mann the producer and, uh, author, and a number of attorneys associated, many of them, with the American Civil Liberties Union throughout the country, including some in California.

G: Uh, I don't know if this is the direction that you wish to take in this, uh, uh, dialogue, but it occurs to me in the last two times that you've been here, there have been countless interruptions, and I, as one bystander, really have not had an opportunity to examine, and digest, or hear all of the facts that you say you now have that change the complexion of this story the, uh, assassination of President Kennedy and the man that we believe is responsible and so, if you will, why don't you start logically at the beginning and tell me.

L: Fine. I thank you very much for that opportunity, Barry. The first statement that was made just after the shots were fired was that Oswald's description, we now find out, was sent out some twelve minutes after the last shot was fired at 12:31 on November 22nd, the President was shot and Governor Connally was shot. Twelve minutes later Oswald's description was sent out. Now, when Oswald was arrested later in the day, the Chief of the Dallas Police, Jesse Curry, said that Oswald was not arrested in connection with the assassination at all. He was arrested because they thought he was involved in the murder of Patrolman Tippit, who of course, was the officer who was killed on that same day. And Mr. Curry said that only after Oswald had been questioned for approximately two hours about the Tippit killing was he then questioned, and charged with the murder of Tippit, was he then questioned at all about the assassination of the President. It didn't occur to them they said at the outset that he might have been involved in the assassination. That's quite remarkable since Oswald's description, which was accurately broadcast by the police, perhaps the only accurate thing the Dallas Police did that day, was sent out twelve minutes after the President was shot, therefore, considerably before Tippit, himself was shot and the description we are now told was in reference to the murder of Tippit which had not yet taken place. In any event when Oswald was in custody, the Dallas Police stated and the Dallas District Attorney stated, this was reported in every newspaper, the Associated Press, UPI carried it, that the murder weapon which was found on the sixth floor of the Book Depository Building was a German Mauser, 7.65 millimeter and this document here, Barry, is a, an affidavit signed by Seymour Weitzman, the police officer who found the rifle on the sixth floor of the Book Depository Building, and in it he describes it as a Mauser, which is a German weapon 7.65 millimeter, and Mr. Wade, the District Attorney of Dallas, throughout the day identified the weapon found on the sixth floor of the Book Depository Building as a German Mauser. It was not until more than 24 hours later when the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced for the first time that an Italian Carbine 6.5 millimeter was purchased by Oswald under the assumed name of A. Hidell back in March of 63, did Mr. Wade jump in front of the first live television camera he could find in Dallas to announce that a miracle had taken place. The weapon which they found yesterday had transformed itself in terms of its nationality and size and now what we found yesterday said Wade was an Italian Carbine 6.5 millimeter. Now, when I testified before the Warren Commission on July 2, they showed me the murder weapon which had been identified in this sworn affidavit by the officer who found it as a German Mauser, 7.65. Clearly etched on the barrel of that rifle in large letters it says "Made in Italy, Caliber 6.5." I suggest it was impossible for the officer to read that and then swear that it was a German Mauser, 7.65 millimeter, but that the rifles were switched to meet the description of the rifle, uh, which had allegedly been ordered by Oswald back in March. Now, Marina Oswald, who was held in custody for some nine weeks, according to the "New York Times" held incommunicado for nine weeks before she was permitted to testify before the Commission, was questioned for two days before she was held in custody. She was taken into the Dallas Chief of Police Office and shown the alleged murder weapon and asked if that belonged to her husband and despite the fact that later when she testified before the Commission, after having been held incommunicado and questioned daily by the FBI and the Secret Service, then she said "yes, it was her husband's weapon." At that time, the very day of the assassination when shown the weapon at the Dallas Police

Office she said "no that was not a weapon which belonged to her husband." She was quite certain of it at that time. She also said she was sure that her husband was innocent; that he had only said kind things about President Kennedy; that she herself, felt very kindly about the President and his family and that all the information she secured about the President, she secured through her husband who interpreted the newspapers and explained to her what was taking place on television. And, so, the most essential piece of physical evidence in the case seems to have been altered. In addition to this, Mr. Wade, when he pronounced the case against Oswald the day of Oswald's death that evening in his international radio press television conference, said that the, when Oswald left the building, he entered into a bus and then he left the bus to go home and entered into a taxicab driven by Darrell Click and he said "I'll spell that for you boys, Click, C-l-i-c-k." When I went to Dallas, I spoke with the city personnel, city transportation company, the personnel office. That's the one company monopoly running all taxis in Dallas. There is not on November 22nd, and there never had been in the history of Dallas a taxi driver named Click, Darrell Click, C-l-i-c-k. When confronted with this information, and Mr. Wade remember told us he had a sworn statement in his office from this Mr. Click who was a nonexistent person. When this information was broadcast and made public, Mr. Wade then said, the District Attorney of Dallas then said well I made a mistake. Evidently there must have been some typographical mistake, and he later said the name of the taxi driver is a William Whaley and so the person who drove Oswald allegedly home, he also was changed. Now, perhaps the most shocking piece of evidence is the statement by the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Chief in Dallas, Gordon Shanklin, quoted in the "New York Times" and other publications and he said "I have seen the paraffin test. It shows that Oswald had nitrates gun powder on his hands and on his face and since it's on his hands and on his face, it is proof that he fired a rifle." The Chief of the Dallas Police, Mr. Curry, uh, was not quite so factual. He merely said "we have the paraffin test boys," this is on November 23rd, "it's just come in." "It proves that Oswald was the assassin."

Assassination of President
John Fitzgerald Kennedy

Here is the duplicate copy, a photostatic copy of the original paraffin test. Only one test can be conducted. This is the copy of it and an exhibit, uh, three exhibits were made. One of each of Oswald's hands and one of his face. The, both exhibits of his hands show a positive response. The response in terms of his face is as follows which is exhibit number one a cast of Oswald's face. Results of examination: no nitrates were found on exhibit number one. That's the official document of the Dallas City County Criminal Investigation Laboratory, Analyst Louie L. Anderson. In other words, this paraffin test if it proves anything in addition to proving the fact that the Director of the FBI in Dallas made a deliberate falsehood when he said it showed there were nitrates on the face and Mr. Curry, himself, was in error in stating that it proved that Oswald was the assassin. If the test is of any value, it proves that Oswald could not have fired a rifle on November 22nd. Unless, of course, he was wearing a rubber face mask or some such thing. But, ordinarily, it would tend to prove that he did not fire a rifle on that day. Now I think this is indicative of the problems facing the American people and the people of the world who are also deeply concerned about the events of Dallas on the 22nd in terms of getting the facts because all of these--this information has been termed "Top Secret" by the Commission and by the Government, but nevertheless, the Director of the FBI in Dallas is permitted to make statements which are totally untrue and had we not been fortunate enough to secure a copy of the original paraffin test, we would not know those statements are untrue. On the question of the murder of Patrolman Tippit there, uh, we were told by the District Attorney and by the Chief of Police that they had, that a number of witnesses identified Oswald as the person who killed Tippit. Now, Oswald, uh, has already, if the story is accurate, left the Book Depository Building, taken a bus, then a taxicab, gone home, and he is now walking through the streets trying obviously to hide. He is the most wanted man in the history of America. Obviously he committed the worst crime ever committed, these shores and he sees Tippit and for some reason he kills him. It would seem that Tippit must have tried to stop him. According to the Chief of Police, uh, according to the stories which were released at the time, Tippit did try to stop him and according to Chief Curry in a statement given to the "New York Times" and printed there some months ago, Curry said if it were not for Tippit stopping Oswald, we never would have found Oswald. We would have had to instead have made a run down of all the 90 employees in the Book Depository Building to get Oswald's description. By then he may have been out of the country. Well, the fact is that Tippit, we were told, was stopping Oswald because of the description which had been broadcast twelve minutes after the assassination. That was the first story and now they were saying there was no description and if Tippit had not stopped Oswald that perhaps the description would have come too late. Well, there was one eyewitness to the assassination, the murder of Patrolman Tippit. Her name is Helen Louise Markham. I have the affidavit here which she gave to the Dallas District Attorney's Office. I also have the-- this controversial tape recording which I made reference to before the Commission and which the Chief Justice has indicated that he does not believe exists, but there is such a tape recording and I will play it for you if you like.

G: Uh, uh, excuse me Mark. Has this tape ever been played before?

L: It has never been played anywhere before.

G: So, this is the first time it will have been heard by anyone except you?

L: That, that is correct.

G: And, uh, Chief Justice Warren asked you to play if for the Commission?

L: Yes, he did.

G: And you refused?

L: I refused at that time. I explained to the Chief Justice that there was an attorney-client relationship here. I was not permitted to release this information to anyone and the Commission was quite hostile about that, but I explained to them that unfortunately that that was the situation. I would try to secure permission to play it. To secure a copy of it for them. I have since then secured permission and today I mailed a copy of this tape to them.

G: I see.

L: But they've not heard it yet.

G: I see. Go ahead. Now, you have there an affidavit by the alleged eyewitness to the murder of Patrolman Tippit?

L: Yes. And her name is Helen Louise Markham, and in her affidavit, this is the one she gave to the -- the Dallas Police on the 22nd day of November, an affidavit in any fact taken before me in this State of Texas, County of Dallas. It, approximately, I'm quoting now. It's a short affadavit. I'd like to read it all.

G: Please.

L: "At approximately 1:06 p.m., November 22nd, 1963, I was standing on the corner of East Tenth and Patton Street waiting for traffic to go by when I saw a squad car stop in front of 404 East Tenth, about 50 feet from where I was standing. I saw a young white man walk up to the squad car opposite the driver's side, lean over and put his arms in the door of the car for a few seconds, then straighten up and step back from the car two or three feet. At this point the officer got out of the squad car and started around in front of the car, and just as he got even with the left front wheel, this young white man shot the officer and the officer fell to the pavement. I screamed and the man ran west on East Tenth Street across Patton Street and went out of sight. Helen L. Markham." According to this affidavit, therefore, Mr. Oswald who was the most wanted man in America at that time was walking down Patton and Tenth Street until he saw a parked police car. Without being called over, he walked over to the police car, leaned on the door with both of his arms, and engaged in a short conversation with the officer and then later killed him. Uh, I, it would hardly seems like the kind of conduct of someone who is trying to escape from the authorities would ordinarily engage in. In any event, Mrs. Markham told me at the one point that the man who she saw was wearing a light gray jacket. Now, when Oswald was last seen at the Book Depository Building he was wearing a dark brown shirt and when he was arrested and brought into the Dallas Police Station moments after the killing of Tippit, he was wearing a dark brown shirt and no light gray jacket at all. Uh, Mrs. Markham said that the man who shot Tippit was short. Oswald, according to the Dallas Police description was medium or a little bit taller than medium height, about five feet ten. Mrs. Markham said that the man who shot Tippit was a man who had somewhat bushy hair. She used different phrases. At one time she said bushy hair. Another time she said somewhat. Another time she said a little bushy, but she told the reporters, and this was reported in the Dallas newspapers the day of the assassination, that the man was bushy haired without any qualification. By the time she spoke with me on March 2 there was some qualifications, but it was still somewhat bushy or a little bushy. She told the Dallas reporters and it was reported in the "Dallas Times Herald" just after the assassination that the man was heavy. She didn't tell me quite that he was heavy. She, uh, said he was a little on the heavy side, slightly heavy, etc. words of qualification. The only part of the description which is not qualified was the, his being short. She was quite firm about that. Now, Oswald was quite slender, a little taller than average, and he had very thin hair which was receding. And, one could hardly think of a description, uh, which differed more from Oswald than the description, uh, given by Mrs. Markham the one eyewitness to the murder of Tippit.

G: How tall is Mrs. Markham?

L: I don't know. I haven't, I haven't seen her. I've just spoken to her by phone and of that time a couple of correspondence. I think it's a good question if she's short someone her height, a little taller might appear tall. Yes, I should find that out. Uh, and, so we have this statement in reference to, uh, to Patrolman Tippit. I can tell you this. We now have a statement, uh, from another witness to the, uh, Tippit killing. This is a witness who has been questioned at our request by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Months and months ago she was questioned. She is an eyewitness to the killing of Officer Tippit. To this day she has not been called before the Warren Commission to testify, and her statement is that she saw the killing of Tippit and two men were involved in the murder of Tippit, two men. One on each side of the street conversing with each other. Tippit got out of the car and walked toward one, this man pulled out a revolver, shot that man and then both of these men, who had been conversing before the shooting, ran in opposite directions. Thus far the Commission, which I assume must know of this testimony because we gave it to the FBI months ago and now we have given it to the Commission as well, the Commission has declined to call this eyewitness to the, this other eyewitness to the murder of Patrolman Tippit. I have made no reference to this other eyewitness until this time. We wanted to make sure that our statements were secured from her in writing and by tape, etc., so there could be no question about that. We now have, uh, the statements secured in that fashion so I can't--

G: Do you--

L: Make reference to her.

G: Do you have a statement here with you?

L: I am not in, uh, I do not have her permission at this time to release her statement but I hope that within the next two weeks I will be able to release her statement entirely.

G: To whom was her first voluntary, uh, statement made?

L: To someone associated with our inquiry.

G: No, I, I don't mean that, Mark, I'm, I'm talking about the FBI. Did she come forward shortly after November 22nd, and say I saw the killing of Officer Tippit?

L: She stated this to Agents who came in that neighborhood and questioned her, yes.

G: And, has, have they gone back to interview her, to interrogate her?

L: Yes, they have questioned her on more than one occasion.

G: And she has not been called by the Warren Commission?

L: She has not been called by the Commission.

G: And, uh, why does she suggest this be so, or what is your suggestion?

L: She has no theories at all and, uh, she is, she is an excellent witness in, in the area of speculation or conjecture. She says I'm sorry I don't know about that, and if you ask her a question, just try to lead her slightly, she said I'm sorry I just gave you all the information I have. She is very firm about what she knows and she won't go into this area as to why they're not calling her, she merely says I'm telling the truth and I'll tell it to anyone who wants to hear it but I can't tell anything which I don't know.

G: Is there something you want to add here before you get to the tape?

L: No, I think perhaps this might be a good point.

G: Well, I, I actually want to play the tape immediately after the news which is just a moment or two, Mark Lane, but I, I want, want to ask this, are you at liberty now to tell me and the audience how you obtained the conversation with Mrs. Markham, your taped witness?

L: This was a telephone conversation, which was taped, unfortunately, the law would require that whoever was involved, himself, in the taping probably has violated the law, the rules of the Federal Communications Commission if this took place from one state to another. And, under those circumstances, I think it's best that I not go into the question of how it was taped or taped, or who did it. But, I can tell you that it's been sent to the Commission. I've invited the Commission to play the tape for Mrs. Markham to see if she will identify this as her voice.

G: Has she identified it for you as her voice?

L: Uh, this, well.

G: Is, is she.

G: Do, do you have permission from her to release this tape?

L: No, I don't have permission from her.

G: Well, uh, why are you releasing it?

L: She has been questioned any number of times. The Commission knows that there is such a tape and, uh, a copy of the tape has been sent to the Commission at their request. It is now a document which is totally and completely privileged in that it, uh, belongs to the Commission and has been sent to them in due course and I have a right to play it under those circumstance.

G: Was she aware of the fact at the time of the conversation that her voice was being recorded?

L: Well, that's, that, there we go into the legal question of whether or not anyone is libel for the commission of any act and I rather, therefore, not answer that particular question.

G: But you surely will be asked this question by the Warren Commission as I assume you already have.

L: Yes, they asked me that question and I gave them an answer somewhat similar to yours.

G: Uh, you had, you did not play the tape at that time because you say it was, uh, a privileged communication. Uh, and, I'm given to understand that at that time Chief Justice Warren said in effect, and please correct my language here, that he did not believe either a tape existed or the contents of the tape, which?

L: He indicated that he did not believe that the tape existed at all. Mrs. Markham evidently has been called before the Commission and has denied that she made any statement to me at all, denied that she ever talked with me. And, when the Commission told me that I said I'm sorry gentlemen, she did talk with me and I have a tape recording of what she said and the Chief Justice said that if I did not produce the tape recording, he was inclined to believe that it did not exist.

G: As a lawyer, Mark Lane, and an officer of the court, can you explain to me what your liability is here?

L: Well, the liability of the person who made the tape, you mean?

G: Well, is it not, I've not heard the tape. Is it not your voice on the tape?

L: Oh, yes. Uh, the question is who, it is me. It is a conversation of my speaking with Mrs. Markham. The question is who actually made a recording of the conversation,

G: Uh.

L: Which took place..

G: How about-- how about the liability of the man who arranged for the recording to be made?

L: Well, yes, whoever arranged for it to be made would also be responsible.

G: And so, you're telling me now that you've made, you have a tape recording of a conversation between you and Mrs. Markham but you did not arrange for that recording to be made.

L: No, I'm just, I'm just not commenting on the question, that's all.

G: Will you ever answer the question?

L: Uh, I don't think so. I tell you, I don't, it's not really related to the question of the assassination.

G: No, I understand, I understand and, of course, uh, there are obviously cases in which the important thing is to get, uh, justice and worry about the periphery, uh, uh, areas after justice has been done.

L: Yes, precisely.

G: Uh, on that note let's pause for the news on WMCA in New York. I'm talking with Mr. Mark Lane an attorney who is here in New York discussing the latest evidence in the assassination of, uh, President John F. Kennedy. And, uh, in a moment is going to play for the first time anywhere a tape recording of a conversation between he and Mrs. Markham. Mrs. Markham is the lady who witnessed the murder of Patrolman Tippit in Dallas, Texas, on that, uh, unfortunate and tragic day. Here's the news.

PAUSE IN TAPE RECORDING

G: Ladies and gentlemen, my guest on radio WMCA in New York is Mr. Mark Lane an attorney who has been retained to try and clear the name of the accused assassin of President Kennedy, Lee Harvey Oswald. He was formerly a New York State Assemblyman, and now, Mark Lane, suppose you, uh, give us the prologue of this tape.

L: Uh, I'll, I'll play it now. This is a conversation between myself and Mrs. Markham the eyewitness to the, or so she says, the, she says she's the sole eyewitness to the assassination of President Kennedy and this was a conversation which took place between us on March 2nd, 1964.

(Then he plays tape recording--starts where Mark Lane asks "Do you recall what the gentleman was wearing who shot Officer Tippit?")

A verbatim transcription of this tape recording incorporating that part played at this time has been furnished previously to the President's Commission.

(Lane stops recording where Mrs. Markham is saying "I just thought it was a friendly conversation.")

G: That's the, uh, tape recording played for the first time between Mrs. Markham and, uh, yourself?

L: Yes, that's correct.

G: She said one thing, Mark Lane. She said she identified Oswald or the man who committed the murder in the lineup. I've never heard that before.

L: Yes, uh, she said that, uh, there was more to the tape recording than I played. It would take, uh, about, over an hour.

G: Yes.

L: And she does. And there-- there was also some conversation which was not recorded. But, uh, I do recall that she told me that she, I, I, discussed this with her in greater detail. She said she was taken to the lineup that evening of November 22nd and there were three men in the lineup and, uh, one of them was a very fat man with, uh, heavy, uh, blue shirt on and, uh, that was blue slipover sweater. That was obviously not the man who did it she said. And then there was one man wearing a light gray jacket and dark trousers, and she said that was the man.

G: Now, where did that gray jacket come from?

L: I would like to know that myself.

G: And was that man Oswald wearing the gray jacket in the lineup?

L: I don't, I don't know. She said that she was told that it was Oswald.

G: Well, we must assume that it was.

L: Well, I, at this point I'm not ready to assume that anything the Dallas Police say is necessarily so. I haven't been able to catch them in an accuracy yet.

G: It, it should certainly be easy to find out whether Oswald was in indeed in the lineup and, uh, who the other men were. Obviously, police officers or police attaches of one kind that's the---

L: Or suspects, yes.

G: Or some-- Well, I doubt that. They usually put policemen around them, four or five and the, the uh, uh, man accused of crime mixed up in the group.

L: Yes, I think that's true. I think it's rather unusual to find someone with a gray jacket and dark trousers when, especially when she gives that description. She only gave that description as she said to the Dallas Police and then there was a man in the lineup with a gray jacket and dark trousers. When Oswald was brought to the police station, he had no gray, uh, jacket at all. He just had that dark brown shirt which, of course, is present in all of the pictures of Oswald.

G: Yes.

L: In the police, police station and being taken to the police station and on television.

G: Now, uh, earlier on, not tonight but in a past discussion here with a member of the conservative party, you started to tell me before we ran out of time, uh, unless you want to add something in this area.

L: No, no.

G: Fine. You started to tell me about the assassination itself and the things that you have uncovered.

L: Yes. Well, uh, the, probably the most remarkable thing is the fact that three versions of the, official versions of what took place all different have been presented in order by the Federal and state authorities including the FBI and the Dallas Police and the Dallas District Attorney's Office. We started with one piece of hard intelligence. That is that a bullet entered the President's throat from the front. About that there was no question. Doctor Kemp Clark, the physician who pronounced the President dead in the Parkland Memorial Hospital, said that the bullet wound in the throat was clearly an entrance wound. Dr. McClelland, the Senior physician of the hospital, said the wound in the throat was an entrance wound. He said we see bullet wounds and we treat them every day here in Dallas and I know an entrance wound, which is small and neat, from an exit wound, which is large and gapping. That was an entrance wound. And Dr. Malcolm Perry, who is the physician who performed the tracheotomy on the President, uh, said that it was clearly an entrance wound. He, in fact, inserted a tube into the President's throat and he said he followed the path of the bullet and the bullet ranged downward into the chest. He inserted the tube downward in that fashion in order to prevent the President from strangling on the blood in his throat at that time and prolonged his life a short period of time in that fashion. And so, starting with the information the President was shot from the front, the first theory was released. Mr. Wade said that he had a map. He had uncovered a map in Oswald's room which showed that Oswald had planned the shooting just as it took place. That is, Oswald was on the sixth floor of the Book Depository Building and as the car approached the building on Houston Street before it turned away down Elm while they were still approaching the building, Oswald fired the first shot. And the "New York Times" on November 23rd carried a greatly detailed story of the Government version then that Oswald fired from the building directly on Houston Street, swung his rifle in an arc of over, of over 90 degrees as the car made a sharp left turn, and then fired twice more striking the Governor and fatally wounding the President striking him in the back of the head. And that was the first theory. And that's theory was completely consistent with the medical evidence and, therefore, had that virtue because it did explain how the President was shot in front of the throat. However, the remarkable thing is that every witness on the scene and all the still pictures taken show that the car was not on Houston Street approaching the Book Depository Building when the first shot was fired, but, in fact, had passed the Book Depository Building, had made the sharp turn and was, the back of the car was facing the building when the first shot was fired. Governor Connally, himself said "Yes, we had turned already. We had gone 70 yards past the building. The building was behind us when the first shot was fired." Every witness said this. The Secret Service re-enacted the crime and found that every witness agreed. Four reporters writing in "The Dallas Morning News" the next day said that was true. There was no -- and the still pictures show that was true. And so theory number one explicitly explained by the Government and printed in the "Times" as the official version on the day after the assassination was completely abandoned and theory number two took place, placing the car where, actually where it was when the first shot was fired some 75 yards past the Book Depository Building and moving directly away from the building. This raises some questions. Uh, how did Oswald shoot the President from the front from behind? It raises another question. How about that map which Mr. Wade said "we have in our possession. We found it in Oswald's room showing that he planned to shoot as the car approached the build-- the building and while it was on Houston Street." Well, that was handled in this fashion November 27th, AP report, Mr. Wade announced today that there never was a map. Any reference to a map found in Oswald's room was a mistake. Well, it certainly was a mistake and, therefore, that piece of evidence was gone. But, how did Oswald shoot the President in the front of the throat when he was now behind him? Well, version number two was enunciated, and this was done at the request of the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a result of the background briefing sessions by "Life" magazine in a full page article on December 6th of, uh, last year called "An End to Nagging Rumors, Those Six Critical Seconds" and "Life" sought to end all dialogue in this case, in this country by stating it was very simple.

Assassination of President
John Fitzgerald Kennedy

Oswald did shoot the President from the front. The bullet entered the throat and ranged downward into the chest said "Life" on December 6th. It's true Oswald was in the Book Depository Building. It's true that the Presidential limousine had passed the building and was some 75 yards away. It's also true that Oswald was the lone assassin. How is it all possible said "Life." It's simple. It's simple because the President had turned completely around and was facing the Book Depository Building when the first shot was fired. Now, one has to question not only "Life's" judgment because that statement is totally in error. The President was looking almost directly to the front when the first shot was fired. But, more than their judgment is in question, I think, because the week before in "Life" magazine, itself, on November 29th they had, of course, previously purchased the film taken by the amateur photographer and they ran a series of stills from that motion picture film and with "Life's" own captions, the week before they ran the theory saying the President had turned around they showed in their own captions, in their own magazine on November 29th that the President was looking almost directly to the front when the first bullet entered his throat from the front. And so, "Life" a week later repudiated itself in order to explain this theory. The problem with that theory is that the motion picture showed that it was not true. We saw on television, of course, that picture has not been shown publicly here but we did see on television one reporter, I think he was a CBS reporter, who was shown the film and who then, uh, acted out what he had seen. And he showed that the President was looking almost directly to the front when the first shot was fired. Uh, the film does seem to show that, the still clip certainly show that everyone's testimony is that that is what happened, including reporters from "The Dallas Morning News" and others on the scene including Mrs. Connally who said the President --she had just said something to the President. Tragically enough she had just said "You cannot say, Mr. President, that the people of Dallas have not given you a warm welcome today."

And he was leaning toward her. She was sitting in front of him when he was, when he was, uh, about to answer and was shot. (garbled)

G: I, I don't know, Mark Lane, if you're aware of the fact that the new "Life" magazine has a story by Mrs. Connally.

G: Uh, Oh, I beg your pardon. It's not "Life," it's "McCall's." The new, the new "McCall's" magazine which I have just read last night. I believe an advance copy.

L: Oh.

G: Do you have it, Judy? I'd like, I'd like very much to have it--read that portion to you because it--it's a bit of, uh, uh, writing on this very point in which she describes the instant of the impact of the bullet.

L: Oh, I'd like very much to see it.

G: Judy will get it, and I will read it to you but go ahead.

L: Oh, fine, In any event it was now conceded that the President was looking forward, so version number two, uh, established by the authorities was abandoned. And now they had to come to version number three. But, any explanation of how Oswald shot the President from the front when he was behind him, if the President was looking forward, would have to require a change in the evidence it would seem. And that took place.

END OF REEL ONE

The physicians in the Parkland Memorial Hospital had never been questioned by a single Agent of the Federal, state, or local Government; no one from the FBI, the Secret Service, the Dallas Police, the Dallas District Attorney's Office for a month after the assassination. This is a, uh, very curious, uh, matter I would suggest because in any ordinary homicide there is a, uh -- when there is any question at all in terms of how the uh--where the shots came from, all that is required is the medical statement in terms of an analysis of how the bullet coursed through the, uh, body of the victim and then if you know which direction the person was facing, you just extirpolate that bullet path projectory and you know exactly where the shots came from. And so it is remarkable that a month passed and no one ever talked to these physicians who, of course, had examined the President while he was alive and were in an excellent position to explain, uh, the course of the path of the bullet and the damage it did to the President. But now a month passed and two Agents of the United States Secret Service then journeyed to the Parkland Memorial Hospital and met with the physicians. They had, the Secret Service Agents had a copy of the autopsy report on their laps but refused to allow the physicians to see it. And after three hour session with the, with the physicians, the Secret Service Agents were able to leave the room and to state that the physicians in the Parkland Memorial Hospital all announced and agreed that they were all in error when they said that the bullet wound in the throat was an entrance wound. They confessed error. The fact is that the President had been shot from the back. The bullet entered the top of the President's head and a fragment of the bullet or bone exited from the throat causing a large gapping wound which the physicians all thought was a small neat wound when they examined him in the Parkland Memorial Hospital. And so it seems that the evidence was sharply altered to meet the theory that Oswald was the lone assassin. Now Richard Dudmond, who is a highly respected Washington correspondent for the "St. Louis Post Dispatch" called Dr. McClelland and said what made you change your mind doctor? And Dr. McClelland said two things made me change my mind. First of all the autopsy and Dudmond said you saw the autopsy, and, uh, Dr. McClelland said no, they never let me, they wouldn't let me look at the autopsy but the Secret Service Agents told me what was in there and I believe them. And what was the second thing Dudmond said? And, uh,

McClelland said the second thing which made me change my mind in believing that the wound in the throat was not an entrance wound but an exit wound was the history of the case given to me by the Secret Service Agents. Dudmond said you mean the medical history, and he said no, no, not the medical history. The Agents told me that Oswald was behind the President when he fired and, therefore, the wound in the throat would have to be an exit wound. I, I question that as expert medical testimony. The other physician, Dr. Malcolm Perry told a reporter for a national news magazine "Newsweek" magazine which has the story in their files but has never yet printed it, told one of their reporters that I can only tell you this, that the wound in the throat is officially now an exit wound and, uh, she asked how, how he could be so certain at one time that it was an entrance wound and now take the position it was an exit wound. Actually, uh, one must remember that the story now is that the President was shot in the back of the head and the bullet exited from the throat. Why then did Dr. Perry insert a tube into the President's throat ranging downward into the chest following the path of the bullet if the bullet didn't go in that direction. And he indicated that that was a very good question. He said "I wish I could tell you more about this case but I'm not permitted to discuss the case I'm only permitted to say the wound in the throat is a exit wound and I can say off the record that that certainly ties up the case very neatly for the FBI in view of the rest of the evidence does it not." That was the last medical statement that I know of on the case by the Parkland Hospital doctors.

G: Mark Lane, I, I have in the inner room got the up coming edition of the "McCall's" magazine not yet on the stands I don't believe.

L: Yes.

G: It is by Mrs. John Connally, wife of the Governor of Texas, as told to Michael Drury. Again the August edition of "McCall's." I quote an excerpts but every word of the excerpt. "The crowds were tremendous. We rode through downtown Dallas surrounded by cheerful happy faces. I was delighted. It isn't easy to ride in a motorcade; you have to look pleasant, yet you don't want a frozen smile on your face. It is something of a strain, and as we neared the end of the run, we all began to relax and let down a little. It was a wonderfully triumphant moment, and unable to restrain my pleasure any longer, I turned on the jump seat and said 'Mr. President, you can't say Dallas doesn't love you.' He did not reply, or if he did, it was lost in the terror of what followed, for in that instant the first shot rang out. I heard it and though I handle guns myself and am familiar with rifles, I did not in that split second realize it was gunfire. I knew only that it was an ominous and frightening sound, that we were caught in something terribly wrong. I looked directly at the President. He clutched his throat with both hands, and I felt sure he was dead. His face went blank. There was no pain or shock or fear just nothingness. His face was completely expressionless, as if the person had gone. Sitting on my right, John" the Governor, "turned very fast to his right trying to look around at the President. Not getting him in his line of vision, he started turning to his left and the second bullet hit him. I heard John say, 'They're going to kill us all.' He recoiled to his right and slumped over, still upright in his seat. My one thought was to get him out of the line of fire, and I pulled him down onto my lap and bent over him. It did not occur to me that I might be hit, too; I thought my husband was dead, and I could not think beyond that. As it happened, that instinctive action helped save his life because the bullet had torn through his right shoulder and out his chest leaving what is called a sucking wound. That means that every time you breathe, you take in more air through the wound than into your lungs and you strangle. A doctor's first act would have been to close that wound and when I pulled John down on my lap," he-- "his crouched position partially blocked it. Even so, if the hospital had been minutes farther away, we might not have made it in time. I heard the third shot and the Secret Service command to pull out of the motorcade and drive to the nearest hospital; but after John was hit, I didn't look back again." And then she goes on into the rest of the narrative.

L: Yes, that is completely consistent with all of the evidence I have in terms of what took place. But, that is totally inconsistent with the present posture of the Government in terms of how it all happened. The, uh, last word on the medical testimony was printed in the "New York Times" with pictures, perhaps you recall when the Secret Service posed down in Dallas and they drew marks on the various individuals representing the President and Governor Connally to indicate how the shots were fired. They indicated that the first bullet and this is the latest official Government theory according to the "New York Times" with the Secret Service Agents with the chalk marks and tape marks on them. They now indicate that the first bullet entered the President's right shoulder, went through the shoulder, and went into Governor Connally. Now, the problem with that story is that the Governor was, therefore, looking directly to the front. He had not yet had a chance to turn around after the first bullet had actually entered the President's throat. The second problem with that story is if it is true that the first bullet entered the President's shoulder and went through him and struck the Governor, why did the President then clutch his throat when the first shot was fired?

G: Mark, I must pause for the news on WMCA, New York. I'm talking with Mr. Mark Lane, Attorney who has been retained as you know to try and clear the name of the late Lee Harvey Oswald. I should add here as I did at the beginning of the broadcast that this is merely an opportunity to, uh, hear the, uh, Mark Lane ideas, theories, uh, the information that he has gathered and by no means is it a testament by me that I approve of the facts because like you, I'm a witness sitting by the side of the road, uh, very much interested in this case, obviously. But I have no way of ascertaining the truth or veracity of the comment. Mark, is there anything you want to add? Where does the investigation stand at the moment?

L: Well, we're eagerly awaiting the, uh, report of the Warren Commission to find out what, I assume, will be the last Government position on what took place on the 22nd in Dallas.

G: There, there's one thing which you've not touched on. Has the theory been advanced as I sure, I'm sure it must have that this entry wound in the throat was as the result of a ricocheting bullet?

L: No, I don't think so. I think that in all the various Government theories as to what happened, they never passed, uh, along that one at all except to say that the bullet entered the top of the head from the rear and exited either a bullet fragment or bone fragment exited at the throat. But, uh, I'm very grateful to you for this reference to Mrs. Connally's article in "McCall's" because it's, uh, it's consistent with everything that we've been able to discover in terms of what took place and as, as totally inconsistent with the Government medical evidence now as there can be because the present Government story--

G: Uh.

L: Is that the bullet, the, the first bullet entered the President's shoulder and went through Governor Connally before he turned around and she said that's not true. The pictures show that's not true.

G: The implication here though, Mark, by you is that the Government or the Warren Commission is for some reason trying to keep witnesses out. The, the lady that you referred to who as an eyewitness to the Tippit slaying; the autopsy report not shown to the doctor; the, uh, the uh, dialogue on the entry or the exit of the bullet. The implication would seem that the, uh, Government doesn't want all of the story released. Now, why would they--

L: Yes, I believe that is, that is true.

G: But why?

L: I don't really know that. I can just tell you, that uh, I won't name him but a very good friend of both of ours who is a leading liberal in this town with whom I discussed the case said to me "Why don't you drop the whole thing? Let's assume that Oswald was innocent or that there were, there was a group involving Oswald, either way, and that the Government's story is incorrect. Oswald is dead; the President is dead. What can possibly gain by raising these things?" And, well, I won't give my answer. I think it should be--

G: Well, my answer, my answer to that would be if there are two men or three men or nine men or fifty men involved, then I want all of them brought to justice.

L: Yes, of course. I, I feel that too. And I think we should have all of the facts. This was the most important public crime, most dastardly crime in the history of our country, and I think we're entitled to all the facts in a democratic society.

G: Are you, are you telling me also that you believe Oswald is innocent or was Oswald an accomplice in a larger group?

L: Well, I don't know. I do know that the, the story that Oswald was the lone assassin cannot be true; that the medical evidence and the other facts prove that that is not true. Now I have not seen evidence which proves that Oswald was involved in the assassination. There are a number of things that he did that day, which would, which raise questions in my mind, quite frankly, and would have to be explained. Unfortunately, I was not able to see him. He was killed before-- he was the only client I ever represented who was killed before I represented him and, therefore, I, I am unable, I'm at a disadvantage and so is, therefore, his defense. Uh, I just want to finish this last point.

G: Please.

L: If I might Barry, and then this, this leading liberal would say to me when I explained to him as you did that, as you did a moment ago why it's important to get the facts. He'd say "Well, don't you have faith in the Chief Justice and the Commission to get all the facts?" I'd say, then say to him this that I have faith in you too. You're a great liberal. You're really concerned about the Government and, uh, and uh, the functioning of democracy. But you have asked me to stay out of this. You've indicated that you, yourself, would suppress the facts because Oswald is dead; the President is dead. I think that in a functioning democratic society we can't have faith in any one individual to get the facts and to think for us no matter how benign he may be. We have to do the hard work ourselves in order for democracy to thrive.

G: Mark Lane, I thank you very much. Ladies and gentlemen Mark Lane, Attorney, who had been retained to try and clear the name of Lee Harvey Oswald, no longer retained I understand by Mrs. Oswald. The tape that you've heard this evening has been played on the air for the first time anywhere. A copy of that tape was sent prior to the broadcast to the Warren Commission by Mr. Lane and, uh, he's going to be appearing this week beginning tomorrow through next Sunday at Theater Four at 424 West 55th Street as he puts it to discuss the latest evidence in the assassination at a series of public lectures. I thank you very much.

L: Thank you.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

BASIS FOR INQUIRY

As has been previously reported, OSWALD was registered from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963, in Room No. 18 of the Hotel del Comercio, located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

The records of the hotel reflect that ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, Reynosa, Tamaulipas, Mexico, was registered in Room No. 8 on September 26, 1963, and FRANCISCO MORALES, also of Reynosa, was registered in Room No. 8 from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963.

On interview in Reynosa on June 16, 1964, ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, a masonry contractor, advised he was in Mexico, D. F., Mexico, where he stayed in Room No. 8, Hotel del Comercio, for a few days in the latter part of September, 1963, and possibly the first day or two in October, 1963. He was in Mexico, D. F., on business and was accompanied by FRANCISCO MORALES, whom he was attempting to aid in securing employment.

While at the hotel, LIMA JUAREZ noticed an American, whom he later recognized from news media photographs as LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He did not associate with OSWALD, and as far as he knows, MORALES did not associate with OSWALD. He pointed out that at that time he had no reason to pay any particular attention to OSWALD.

LIMA JUAREZ also saw four Cubans at the hotel and saw OSWALD associating with these Cubans on one or two occasions, but these meetings appeared to be social in nature. He did not associate with the Cubans and did not learn their names or addresses; however, MORALES had some

GUILLERMO GARCIA LUNA, owner and manager, Hotel del Comercio, Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. Mr. GARCIA said that OLIVA was sometimes referred to as a Cuban, apparently due to his appearance, but claimed to be a Mexican from Veracruz, Veracruz, Mexico. u

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION CONDUCTED TO LOCATE AND INTERVIEW ANTONIO OLIVA

[redacted] c

Investigation at Calle Sullivan 23, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, disclosed that a gasoline station is located at this address, and inquiry in the area failed to locate anyone acquainted with an ANTONIO OLIVA. u

However, on July 31, 1964, Mr. RODRIGUEZ-NAVARRO, owner of a low-class night club named LOS PERICOS, located at Calle Sullivan 13, stated that ANTONIO OLIVA was u formerly employed as a waiter at this night club. According to Mr. RODRIGUEZ, OLIVA is from Honduras and is probably in Mexico illegally. He recalled that OLIVA possessed a waiter's credential that was issued by a labor union in Veracruz, Veracruz, Mexico.

Mr. RODRIGUEZ advised that the night club was raided by the police in January, 1964, and OLIVA was taken into custody. He stated that OLIVA has not returned to the night club since that time, and, since OLIVA owes money to Mr. RODRIGUEZ, Mr. RODRIGUEZ also is trying to locate OLIVA.

By letter dated 7/12/62, captioned "RADIO STATION WMCA, RONALD PETER STRAUS, PRESIDENT, RESEARCH (CRIME RECORDS)", (NY 66-5143-165), the Bureau instructed that in the future STRAUS and other representatives of WMCA are not to be contacted on any occasion unless prior Bureau authority is obtained.

The above results from criticism of the Bureau by STRAUS in connection with the flight of Dr. ROBERT SOBLEN to avoid imprisonment.

On 8/5/64, GRAY's secretary at Radio Station WMCA, 415 Madison Avenue, NYC, was contacted [under pretext] by SA ROGER D. ASHLAND. [(Pretext used was that of an interested listener who heard LANE's defense of OSWALD on the 7/19/64 broadcast).] It was learned that at present LANE is not scheduled to appear again on the Barry Gray Show in the near future, however, there was little doubt that he would appear at some future date as a guest on the show. GRAY's secretary stated there was no advance schedule on the Barry Gray Show but pointed out the identities of his guests are usually carried in the "New York Post".

It is noted that the Barry Gray Show is broadcast daily except Saturday from 11:05 p.m. to 1:00 a.m.

New York will remain alert for any future appearance of LANE on the Barry Gray Show and arrangements will be made to tape same.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Lee Harvey Oswald

On July 31, 1964, A.I. Goldberg, correspondent, Associated Press (AP), 50 Rockefeller Center, New York ~~City,~~ New York, was contacted by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in an effort to determine if he is identical with a Mr. Goldberg referred to in Oswald's address book.

Mr. Goldberg stated that his full name is Abraham Isaac Goldberg and that he was formerly assigned to the AP office in Moscow, Russia. He advised that he is presently assigned to the AP office at the United Nations, New York City.

Goldberg advised that sometime around the latter part of October 1959, while assigned to the AP office in Moscow, he was notified by the New York AP office that according to a Texas newspaper article, a United States citizen and former Marine was reportedly in Moscow and applying for Soviet citizenship. In an effort to verify this story, Goldberg contacted the American Embassy at Moscow and determined that Oswald was temporarily residing at the Metropole Hotel.

He stated that he proceeded to the Metropole and to Oswald's room, which he believes may have been room 216, in an attempt to interview Oswald concerning his reported desire to relinquish his United States citizenship and remain in Russia. He remarked that he knocked on the door of the room and a young man, wearing a white shirt and black slacks, opened the door slightly and in response to Goldberg's inquiry, stated that he was Lee Harvey Oswald. Goldberg then stated to Oswald that he would like to interview him but Oswald replied that he did not want to furnish any statement.

Goldberg advised that although Oswald did not wish to furnish any statement, he engaged him in conversation for a short time during which period Goldberg asked Oswald why he was going to remain in Russia. According to Goldberg, Oswald replied "I've got my reasons" but did not elucidate. Goldberg stated that he attempted to discourage Oswald from remaining in Russia and asked Oswald if he knew the Russian language and if he had any particular ability which he thought he could utilize in Russia.

ENCLOSURE

Oswald replied that he did not know the language but that he could learn and that he would "make out."

Goldberg stated that Oswald did not want to have his picture taken and although Goldberg stated he had his camera with him and could have snapped Oswald's photograph, he decided against it.

He advised that this was the one and only time he ever had any contact with Oswald and that during this contact, Oswald did not permit Goldberg to enter his room but spoke from behind the slightly opened door. Goldberg remarked that upon departing he gave Oswald his card bearing his name and the phone number of the AP office in Moscow and requested Oswald to contact him if he changed his mind about having an interview.

Goldberg was unable to furnish any information concerning a possible radio broadcast by Oswald. He suggested, however, that the AP file regarding Oswald may possibly bear a notation concerning any foreign language broadcast that Oswald may have made. Goldberg explained that AP usually monitors all foreign language broadcasts.

Goldberg stated that he did not know a Lev Setyaev, associated with the North American section of Radio Moscow, but does recall an individual by the name of Nick Sergeyev, who was and, to Goldberg's knowledge, still is assigned to the North American section of Radio Moscow.

Goldberg stated that subsequent to his contact with Oswald, another correspondent, Aline Mosby, contacted Oswald but he also refused to be interviewed by her. Goldberg remarked, however, that at a later date Oswald did consent to an interview with Mosby and although Goldberg does not know why Oswald reconsidered and consented to this interview with Mosby instead of him, he is of the opinion that Oswald may have thought himself to be a "ladies man" and preferred to furnish his story to a female instead of a male reporter.

Goldberg stated that another correspondent, Priscilla Johnson, also interviewed Oswald but he did not know the circumstances which may have prompted Johnson to seek such an interview except that a short time after Oswald's arrival in Russia, his presence there became common knowledge among the news correspondents and Johnson may have sought an interview based on this common knowledge. He remarked that at no time did he suggest, to anyone, an interview with Oswald.

Goldberg was unable to furnish any information concerning Oswald's activities while in the Soviet Union.

On August 4, 1964, Ben Bassett, Editor, Foreign Desk, AP, 50 Rockefeller Center, New York City, advised that the AP file regarding Oswald failed to reflect any notation indicating that AP monitored a radio broadcast by Oswald while in Russia.

GABRIEL CONTRERAS UVINA, in interview reported in the enclosed letterhead memorandum, referred to one MACIAS. However, from the description furnished by CONTRERAS and the room number, No. 12, in which he believed this individual resided at the Hotel del Comercio, it would appear that CONTRERAS was referring to MANUEL SANTOS, who answered the description furnished by CONTRERAS and who occupied Room No. 12 during the pertinent period at this hotel.

Legat, Mexico will attempt to clarify this matter when CONTRERAS arrives at the Hotel del Comercio, principally through the exhibition of the photograph provided by JULIAN FRANCISCO HUERTA.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

BASIS FOR INQUIRY

As has been previously reported, OSWALD was registered from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963, in Room No. 18 of the Hotel del Comercio, located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

The records of the hotel disclosed that GABRIEL CONTRERAS, Ciudad Juarez, Chihuahua, Mexico, was registered at the hotel during the pertinent period.

INTERVIEW OF GABRIEL CONTRERAS UVINA

GABRIEL CONTRERAS UVINA, who was residing temporarily at the Fermont Hotel, Chihuahua, Chihuahua, Mexico, furnished the following information to a confidential source abroad on July 29, 1964:

CONTRERAS recalled that he had resided at the Hotel del Comercio, Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, in late September and early October, 1963. CONTRERAS was in Mexico City on business, as well as to make an appointment to undergo eye surgery at the Hospital Colonia, operated by the Mexican National Railroad in Mexico City. CONTRERAS stated that he had cataracts on both eyes, which had reduced his vision to approximately thirty per cent of normal, according to his doctors.

CONTRERAS said that he had been unable to undergo this surgery at that time and returned to Mexico City in late November, 1963, for the operation.

ENCLOSURE

CONTRERAS stated that his normal residence is Ciudad Camargo, Chihuahua, Mexico. He stated that he owns and operates a small store called "El Sol" (The Sun), selling small electrical appliances and new and used electrical parts. He said he is a retired employee of the Mexican National Railroad and is occasionally called upon by the firm known as "Aceites de Algodon" (Cotton Oil Company) to serve as an expediter of tank cars. He added that he spots and moves cars for loading and transfer on all of the company's sidings throughout Mexico. As a result, he is usually in Mexico City at least once a month.

During his stay at the Hotel del Comercio in late September and early October, 1963, he was in the habit of having his meals at a restaurant next to the Hotel del Comercio, which is operated by a woman named LOLA. CONTRERAS said that it was very possible he had seated himself at the same table as LEE HARVEY OSWALD during one of his visits to the restaurant, since the restaurant is often crowded during mealtimes. CONTRERAS pointed out that he could not see very well at the time and did not know LEE HARVEY OSWALD, did not remember ever seeing OSWALD during his stay at the hotel, and if he spoke to OSWALD, it would have been no more than a courtesy greeting.

After viewing a number of photographs that were exhibited to him, CONTRERAS had no trouble in selecting photographs of OSWALD. CONTRERAS pointed out that he became aware of OSWALD and his background as a result of the world-wide publicity which occurred as a result of the death of President KENNEDY. CONTRERAS said that he did not recall ever having seen OSWALD before or after his visit to the Hotel del Comercio in late September or early October, 1963.

CONTRERAS said that LOLA had advised Agents of the Mexican Ministry of Government, who had conducted investigation in regard to OSWALD's stay at the Hotel del Comercio, that CONTRERAS had been at the same table with OSWALD. CONTRERAS said that this was possible, but. because of his bad vision, he did not recall this incident.

CONTRERAS said that he was not aware of any Americans residing at the hotel during the period he was there. He associated with three of the guests, to the best of his recollection, and remembered a man named LIMA JUAREZ, who was at the hotel with another individual. CONTRERAS believed that both of these men came from Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, and were in Mexico City to seek employment. CONTRERAS could not recall the first name of LIMA JUAREZ and could not recall the name of the friend of LIMA JUAREZ.

CONTRERAS stated that the third man with whom he spoke on two or three occasions was a Cuban, who was residing at the hotel while waiting for a visa to enter the United States, en route to the State of Florida. CONTRERAS could not think of the name of this individual, but when the name of JULIAN FRANCISCO HUERTA was mentioned, he immediately acknowledged that this was the person he had in mind. CONTRERAS recalled going to an office of the Mexican Ministry of Government with HUERTA on one occasion to obtain some papers that HUERTA needed. CONTRERAS was not certain of the name or location of the office and could not identify the person to whom HUERTA spoke.

CONTRERAS said that he knew HUERTA was acquainted with LIMA JUAREZ and the friend of LIMA JUAREZ, but he did not know if HUERTA visited with other persons in the hotel.

CONTRERAS said that he had not known LIMA JUAREZ prior to his visit to the hotel during the pertinent period. CONTRERAS ascertained that LIMA JUAREZ was a member of some labor union and that the friend of LIMA JUAREZ apparently was an electrician.

CONTRERAS said that the best description he could furnish of LIMA JUAREZ, due to his limited vision, was that LIMA JUAREZ was a white, male, Mexican, about 55 years old, 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing 165 pounds, with grey hair and wearing glasses. The friend of LIMA JUAREZ was a white, male, Mexican, about 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, with black hair.

CONTRERAS recalled going out with LIMA JUAREZ, the friend of LIMA JUAREZ, JULIAN FRANCISCO HUERTA, and another man, whose name he could not recall. This unknown individual is a huge man, who is a rancher from Zacatecas, Zacatecas, Mexico, or from Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico, and CONTRERAS thought that his name might be MACIAS. CONTRERAS recalled that this man occupied Room No. 12 in the hotel and was in Mexico City to conduct some business with the Confederacion Nacional Campesina (National Federation of Farmers) and the Mexican Department of Farm and Colonization Matters in Mexico City. CONTRERAS and the other four individuals left the hotel together and visited the Tijuana Bar, located on the corner of Plaza Buenavista and Calle Heroes Ferrocarrilleros, Mexico City. While at this bar, a sidewalk photographer took two pictures of the group. The photographer developed the pictures on the spot. CONTRERAS bought one of the pictures and HUERTA also bought one. CONTRERAS did not recall whether or not everyone signed the photographs but did say that some of the group signed the photographs.

CONTRERAS said that he looked at the photograph in the hotel the next day and decided that he would not want his wife to see the photograph since she might object to his drinking and being photographed while drinking. He then tore up the photograph and threw the pieces away.

CONTRERAS stated that he usually does not drink and the above-mentioned incident was the only time he went out with anyone to visit a bar.

CONTRERAS said that he did not know if the other men who went with him to the Tijuana Bar were regular customers there. He did not know if they went to other nearby bars. He could not recall that any of these persons had engaged in conversations with any Americans or with any other persons who were not Mexicans.

CONTRERAS was certain that he had not seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD, regardless of the statement by LOLA indicating that CONTRERAS and OSWALD had shared a table in the restaurant. CONTRERAS said that the only reason he could identify a photograph of OSWALD was the fact he had seen photographs of OSWALD frequently in newspapers and other news media.

This matter must continue to receive close attention so that the Commission's request can be complied with at the earliest practicable time.

NOTE: Commission by letter 8-3-64, makes reference to the testimony of Mark Lane before the President's Commission, in which he alleged there was a meeting at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, in Dallas between Bernard Weissman, Officer J. D. Tippit and Jack Ruby. Lane is the New York attorney [redacted] He has been endeavoring to prove that Oswald is innocent. Weissman is the individual who placed the controversial full page ad in a Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, of course, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and proven that no such meeting took place. However, based on the specific request in the above Commission letter, it appears the Commission is endeavoring to check out every possible facet of this matter to preclude possible criticism in the future. The Commission request requires the obtaining of photographs of Weissman and Tippit and displaying same to various individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure that neither were seen in the club at any time.

The Commission also requested authenticated photographs of Officer Tippit and Weissman to be furnished them as soon as possible and prior to completion of our inquiries. This matter will be closely followed and when the results are received, the Commission will be notified.

NOTE: Commission stated that the interviews of the above individuals to be used in its published report relating to the murder of Officer Tippit and they desired affidavits from each specifying that our report of the interview was a correct representation of what each witnessed on 11-22-63. Russell was an employee of a used car lot, heard the shots which killed Tippit and saw Oswald running with a pistol in his hand. Robert Brock, a service station mechanic witnessed the Dallas Police find Oswald's jacket under a car along the escape route from Tippit killing. Mrs. Brock, Robert's wife, identified Oswald as individual passing near the service station. None of these people were actual witnesses to the murder of Officer Tippit. RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka.

ReBuairtel to Dallas, 7/28/64, enclosing a copy of a letter from the President's Commission dated 7/23/64, requesting certain investigation concerning two issues of "The Militant" which had been addressed to LEE HARVEY OSWALD at his post office box in New Orleans, Louisiana; and, Dallas teletype to Bureau and New Orleans, 7/30/64.

Enclosed are 10 copies of a letterhead memorandum reflecting requested investigation which was conducted by SA A. RAYMOND SWITZER. SA WALLACE R. HEITMAN assisted SA A. RAYMOND SWITZER in the interview of Mrs. MARINA OSWALD.

The Bureau's attention is called to the fact that the President's Commission letter dated July 23, 1964, referred to above, indicates that two issues of "The Militant" appear on the list of OSWALD's personal effects obtained at the time of the assassination, but that there was no indication as to the dates of these issues. It should be noted, as pointed out in referenced Dallas teletype to Bureau and New Orleans, that the list of inventory of personal effects of OSWALD shows Item 85 to be the October 7, 1963, issue of "The Militant" and no other issue of "The Militant" appears on this list. However, Item 86 is the October 20, 1963, issue of "The Worker." Referenced Dallas teletype requested the Bureau to check its inventory list of items furnished the President's Commission to determine if two issues of "The Militant" appeared thereon.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

The President's Commission, by letter dated July 23, 1964, advised that U. S. Post Office Inspector HARRY D. HOLMES had testified that two issues of "The Militant" were found in Post Office Box 30061 in New Orleans sometime after November 22, 1963. These issues of "The Militant" had been addressed to LEE HARVEY OSWALD and, apparently through oversight, had not been forwarded by the Post Office Department to 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, as OSWALD had instructed.

The President's Commission requested that efforts be made to determine the dates of the above issues and to determine if there was any indication OSWALD ever received the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant."

On July 30, 1964, HARRY D. HOLMES, U. S. Post Office Inspector, U. S. Post Office Annex, 207 South Houston Street, Dallas, Texas, advised that on November 22, 1963, following the assassination of President JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, he telephoned the U. S. Post Office Inspector's office in New Orleans, Louisiana, and spoke with Postal Inspector JOSEPH ZARZA. He stated ZARZA informed him that New Orleans Post Office Box 30061, rented by LEE HARVEY OSWALD, had been closed. ZARZA stated a forwarding order had been received and instructed that mail addressed to this box be forwarded to 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas. HOLMES stated ZARZA informed him that two issues of "The Militant" were then in the box. HOLMES advised he was not informed of the dates of these two issues of "The Militant." HOLMES advised he is not aware of the disposition made of these two issues, but stated it would be routine to forward the issues of "The Militant" according to the order. However, he stated, under the circumstances, Inspector ZARZA may have handled this differently.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On July 30, 1964, Mrs. MARINA OSWALD, 629 Belt Line Road, Richardson, Texas, was interviewed in the office of her attorney, WILLIAM A. MC KENZIE, Fidelity Union Life Building, Dallas, Texas.

A Photostat of the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" was exhibited to Mrs. OSWALD and she was asked if she possessed any information indicating that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had received this issue of "The Militant." It was pointed out to her that on pages 4, 5 and 6 of this issue of "The Militant" is an article entitled "What Is Our Line? The Line of Consistent Anti-Imperialism," a major policy speech by FIDEL CASTRO. Mrs. OSWALD stated she did not know if her husband, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, had received this issue, October 14, 1963, of "The Militant" or if he had read the article appearing on pages 4, 5 and 6 of this issue. Mrs. OSWALD further stated that her husband, LEE HARVEY OSWALD, had not discussed this article with her or made any remarks concerning this particular speech by CASTRO which would indicate he had read "The Militant" for October 14, 1963.

Mrs. OSWALD advised that in early December, 1963, while she was living at the residence of her then business manager, JAMES H. MARTIN, in Dallas, Texas, she recalls that four newspapers were forwarded to her from New Orleans, Louisiana. She stated two of these newspapers were two issues of "The Militant," one issue of "The Worker," and she believes the other was a Russian language newspaper. She stated she does not recall who delivered these newspapers to her, but definitely recalls that they had been forwarded from the post office box that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had rented in New Orleans, Louisiana. Mrs. OSWALD stated upon receiving these newspapers she threw them in the trash since they were addressed to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, and he was dead. She further stated she had no interest in them. She also stated she had no idea of the dates of these particular newspapers. She also stated she does not know if the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" was among the newspapers she threw away.

On July 31, 1964, MICHAEL R. PAINE, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at his place of employment, Bell Helicopter Company Research Laboratory, Arlington, Texas.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

He was exhibited the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" and it was pointed out to him that this particular issue of "The Militant," on pages 4, 5 and 6, contains an article entitled "What Is Our Line? The Line Of Consistent Anti-Imperialism," a major policy speech by FIDEL CASTRO. PAINE stated he had no information that LEE HARVEY OSWALD received the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" or any information that OSWALD had read that particular article appearing in the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant." PAINE stated he did not discuss the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" with OSWALD, nor did OSWALD make any comments to him regarding this particular issue of "The Militant" or regarding any articles appearing in this particular issue of "The Militant."

PAINE stated that his discussions with OSWALD usually involved discussion of communism and Russia, and he only recalls one occasion in October, 1963, when OSWALD mentioned CASTRO. This was following a meeting of the American Civil Liberties Union in Dallas, when LEE HARVEY OSWALD stated that a certain individual at this meeting, whom MICHAEL PAINE did not know, might be a communist since he spoke in favor of FIDEL CASTRO and CASTRO's regime in Cuba.

PAINE advised he had no information regarding any mail forwarded to OSWALD at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, either prior to or subsequent to the assassination of President KENNEDY. PAINE pointed out that in September, 1962, he moved from 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, at which time he was estranged from his wife, and did not move back to his Irving residence until a few days following the assassination of President KENNEDY. PAINE stated that his wife, RUTH PAINE, always removed the mail from the mailbox and stated he saw only the mail addressed to him. He said he had no information concerning any mail that may have been forwarded to LEE HARVEY OSWALD at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, from his post office box in New Orleans, Louisiana.

On July 31, 1964, Mrs. RUTH PAINE, 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, was exhibited the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" and it was pointed out to her that this particular issue of "The Militant", on pages 4, 5 and 6, contains an article entitled "What Is Our Line? The Line Of Consistent Anti-Imperialism," a major policy speech by FIDEL CASTRO.

Mrs. PAINE stated she had no information that LEE HARVEY OSWALD received the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" or any information that OSWALD had read that particular article appearing in the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant." Mrs. PAINE stated she did not discuss the October 14, 1963, issue of "The Militant" with OSWALD, nor did OSWALD make any comments to her regarding this particular issue of "The Militant" or regarding any articles appearing in this particular issue of "The Militant."

Mrs. PAINE advised that about a week following the assassination of President KENNEDY, she became aware that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had read "The Militant" since one issue of "The Militant" had been addressed to him at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas. She said she does not know the date of this issue of "The Militant" since she did not take it out of its wrapper. She stated that OSWALD had one issue of "The Worker" addressed to him at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, and one copy of a Russian newspaper. She said she does not know the date appearing on any of these newspapers since she did not open the jackets. She advised that the one issue of "The Worker" and the copy of a Russian newspaper arrived, addressed to OSWALD at 2515 West 5th Street, Irving, Texas, sometime during the approximate period November 12, 1963, to November 29, 1963, but she did not know the exact date each arrived. She said she destroyed all three of the above-described items sometime within a week or so after the assassination and she further advised that MARINA OSWALD did not see any of these items.

Mrs. PAINE advised that no mail was forwarded to LEE HARVEY OSWALD at 2515 West 5th Street after November 22, 1963. She stated she is positive that no mail was forwarded to LEE HARVEY OSWALD from New Orleans, Louisiana, following November 22, 1963.

This supplements the information contained in the communication dated July 30, 1964, at Miami, Florida, which sets out the results of an interview with Annie Laurie Odio. The interview of Annie Laurie Odio concerned the appearance of three men in the hallway outside the apartment of her sister, Mrs. Silvia Odio, in Dallas, Texas, in late September, 1963. Two of the men appeared Cuban and one appeared American.

On August 3, 1964, Mrs. Silvia Odio, 4223 West Lovers Lane, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and she advised the above incident occurred on either September 26, 1963, or September 27, 1963, when she was residing in apartment A at 1084 Magellan Circle, Dallas, Texas. She said she moved from this address on Monday, September 30, 1963, to the Cliffwood Apartments in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. Odio said she did not have a rent receipt for rent paid on her apartment for the month of September, 1963.

On August 4, 1964, Mrs. Betty Woods, Manager, Crestwood Apartments, 1080 Magellan Circle, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed by a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mrs. Woods stated her records reflect that Mrs. Silvia Odio moved into apartment A at 1084 Magellan Circle, Dallas, Texas, on August 1, 1963, and paid her rent through September 30, 1963. Mrs. Woods stated she does not know the exact date that Mrs. Silvia Odio moved out of this apartment since she left without giving notice. Mrs. Woods stated she presumes Mrs. Odio occupied this apartment through September 30, 1963, since her rent was paid through that date. She stated she has no way of determining the exact date that Mrs. Odio moved out but assumes it was either on September 30, 1963, or within a few days

Mrs. Munsell stated it is possible that Mrs. Odio moved into this apartment on September 30, 1963.

Enclosed for the Bureau are ten copies of a Letterhead Memorandum reflecting the results of an interview with ANNIE LAURIE ODIO. Two copies enclosed for Dallas.

Miss ODIO was apologetic concerning her inability to recall the precise date of occurrence of the incident involved. She suggested that her sister SILVIA might still retain rent receipts for the apartment in which she was living at the time and that referral to these receipts would possibly establish the date exactly. She said that since her sister usually moved on week ends, it was logical to assume that this incident occurred on a week day preceding the week end on which she moved.

Dallas will interview SILVIA ODIO, 4223 West Lovers Lane, Dallas, to determine if she can recall exact date on which she moved by referring to the rent receipts mentioned above.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

ANNIE LAURIE ODIO was interviewed at the residence of her brother, CESAR ODIO, 1600 South West 82nd Place, Miami. She advised that she is a Cuban exile, 18 years of age, and resides currently in Dallas, Texas. Her mother still lives near Havana, Cuba, and her father is a political prisoner of the CASTRO regime.

Miss ODIO said that in the Summer of 1963 she had been living with her sister SILVIA ODIO in an apartment in Dallas and was a summer employee at a university. In late August, 1963, she lost her job and for reasons of economy moved from the apartment of her sister to live with an American family named C. B. MATLOCK, also in Dallas. One day late in September, 1963, exact date not recalled, Miss ODIO went to the apartment of her sister SILVIA for a day or two in order to assist SILVIA in packing her belongings preparatory to moving. Miss ODIO recalled that this was a week day as SILVIA had been working that day.

During the evening hours, sometime after 6:30 P. M., as SILVIA and she were dressing in the bedroom of the apartment, there was a knock at the door and Miss ODIO went to answer it. There were three men in the hallway outside the apartment, two having the appearance of Cubans and one who appeared to be an American. One of the two Cubans inquired in Spanish for SILVIA. Miss ODIO then put the chain latch on the door, called SILVIA and returned to the bedroom to resume dressing. She said that SILVIA spoke with these men for several minutes after which they departed. They had not been admitted to the apartment but had remained in the hall.

On November 22, 1963, Miss ODIO was present during the parade of President KENNEDY and his party through Dallas. She recalled that the President's car had passed within a few feet of her about 15 minutes before the assassination. When she returned to her home and heard of the assassination, she turned on the television set. Subsequently, LEE HARVEY OSWALD appeared on television as the leading suspect. Miss ODIO said that as soon as she saw OSWALD on television she had a distinct impression that she knew she had seen him before.

ENCLOSURE

A short time thereafter while visiting her sister SILVIA, Miss ODIO mentioned to SILVIA that she had had the feeling that she had either met or seen OSWALD previously. SILVIA then remarked that OSWALD was the American who had accompanied the two Cubans to SILVIA's apartment in late September, 1963. Miss ODIO said that she then recalled that incident and realized that this was in fact the person of whom she had been thinking when she saw OSWALD on television. Miss ODIO said that she was almost certain that the American who came to SILVIA's apartment with the two Cubans was OSWALD. She said that she was unable to furnish any information regarding the identities of the two Cubans, nor could she be more specific as to the exact date of the incident.

On July 30, 1964, EVARISTO GILBERTO RODRIGUEZ, 1239 Chartres Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, was interviewed at his residence at which time he was referred to his previous interview with Special Agents of the FBI on May 12, 1964. On May 12, 1964, RODRIGUEZ had related that, as best he could recall, it was in September, 1963, at approximately 3:30 a.m. or 4 a.m., day of the week not recalled, that two white males entered the Habana Bar and sat at a table opposite the center of the bar. At that time RODRIGUEZ had stated that based on photographs he had seen of LEE HARVEY OSWALD after the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY, he was able to state that one of these two men was in his opinion LEE HARVEY OSWALD. On May 12, 1964, RODRIGUEZ described the man who accompanied the person he believed to be OSWALD as approximately 32 years of age and a little taller and perhaps a little heavier than OSWALD. He added that this individual had a medium build and muscular biceps.

On July 30, 1964, RODRIGUEZ was shown photographs of six white males, including the photograph depicted in the President's Commission Exhibit Number 237. RODRIGUEZ was asked if any of the persons depicted in these photographs was identical with the person who had accompanied LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ on May 12, 1964. RODRIGUEZ viewed each one of the six photographs slowly and carefully and then stated that none of the men depicted in these photographs was identical with the person who had accompanied OSWALD to the Habana Bar on the occasion described by him on May 12, 1964. He said he did not recognize the persons depicted in these six photographs as persons he had ever seen before.

RODRIGUEZ was then asked if any of the persons depicted in these six photographs in any way bore any resemblance to the man who had allegedly accompanied LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the Habana

Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ on May 12, 1964. He again reviewed all six of these photographs and remarked that the person depicted in one of the photographs (which is identical to President's Commission Exhibit Number 237), has shoulders which resemble those of the man whom RODRIGUEZ had seen with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ on May 12, 1964. RODRIGUEZ stated, however, that the person depicted in that photograph (identical with President's Commission Exhibit Number 237) did not resemble the man RODRIGUEZ had seen with OSWALD in the Habana Bar in any other way except for the way his hair receded on the sides of his head.

RODRIGUEZ then reiterated that the person depicted in the photograph which is identical to the President's Commission Exhibit Number 237 was not identical with the man RODRIGUEZ had seen with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Habana Bar.

In response to inquiry, RODRIGUEZ explained that on the occasion when LEE HARVEY OSWALD was seen by RODRIGUEZ in the Habana Bar with another man, RODRIGUEZ did not clearly see the face of the man who had accompanied LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the Habana Bar. RODRIGUEZ added that he recalls the physical build of the man who accompanied OSWALD to the Habana Bar better than his face. However, RODRIGUEZ was positive that the man depicted in the photograph which is identical to the President's Commission Exhibit Number 237 was not identical to the man that RODRIGUEZ had observed with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ to Special Agents of the FBI on May 12, 1964.

Re: Mark Lane
Security Matter - C

All sources mentioned herein have furnished reliable information in the past unless otherwise indicated.

The "National Guardian" issue of July 18, 1964, page 7, contained an advertisement reading, "One Week Only, July 20 thru 26 at 8:30. Mark Lane on: 'Who Killed Kennedy? Theatre Four, 424 W 55th St., LT 1-7877."

Page 3, column 3, of this same issue contained an article entitled "Lane To Play Recording Challenged by Warren." This article read: "Mark Lane will present new evidence to show that Oswald could not have been the lone assassin of President Kennedy at a series of public meetings to be held at Theatre Four, 424 W. 55th St. New York, beginning Monday night, July 20, and continuing through July 26. Tickets are available at the box office and at the Citizens' Committee of Inquiry, 156 Fifth Ave., New York, YU 9-6850. Lane said the 'controversial tape recording' which Chief Justice Warren has stated he 'has every reason to doubt' exists (Guardian, July 11) will be played."

The "National Guardian" is characterized in the Appendix hereto.

On July 23, 1964, a first confidential source stated that on Wednesday night, July 22, 1964, a program entitled "Who Killed President Kennedy?" sponsored by the Citizens' Committee of Inquiry (CCI) was held at Theatre Four, 424 West 55th Street, New York City, from 8:30 p.m. to approximately midnight. This source stated the meeting was attended by about 175 people. This source also furnished the following information concerning details of the meeting:

Re: Mark Lane

The meeting was opened by a woman who identified herself as Deirdre Griswold, an officer of the New York Branch of the CCI. Griswold stated the CCI office was located at 156 5th Avenue, New York City, and had been in existence about four months. She stated the CCI has sister organizations located in England, France and Denmark. She criticized the American press for its lack of coverage concerning the work of the CCI and Mark Lane in their struggle for the "truth" relative to the circumstances surrounding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas, Texas, in November, 1963.

Griswold stated that in England the Committee is headed by world-famous philosopher Bertrand Russell; in Denmark it is headed by leading legal authorities; and in France the organization is under the chairmanship of French author Jean-Paul Sartre.

Griswold spoke of the work of Mark Lane in seeking the true facts concerning Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy, and pointed out he had made five trips to Dallas, Texas, two transcontinental lecture tours and two trips to Europe in his efforts to convince intellectuals everywhere of the mysterious circumstances of Kennedy's death. She then introduced Mark Lane.

With regard to Deirdre Griswold, a second confidential source advised on September 5, 1963, that Griswold was named to the National Committee of the Workers World Party (WWP) at the Labor Day WWP Conference which was held on September 2, 1963, at WWP Headquarters, 46 West 21st Street, New York City.

The WWP is characterized in the Appendix hereto.

The first confidential source advised Mark Lane opened his lecture with a quotation attributed to the British philosopher, Lord Erskine, "Assassination is an act of patricide. Let us have a solemn pause before we rush to judgment."

Re: Mark Lane

Lane stated that accused assassin Lee Harvey Oswald had never had the services of an attorney and that pretrial prejudice against him was overwhelming. He stated a great mass of information relative to Oswald as given out by local, state and Federal agencies was so prejudicial as to preclude any chance of Oswald's receiving a fair trial.

Lane commented that immediately following events in Dallas, Texas, he planned to write a review for a law journal concerning Oswald and at that time never anticipated his involvement in the case. His article was thereafter refused by all liberal publications and finally published by the "National Guardian" which he termed the only publication with courage enough to place his remarks on the defense of Oswald before the public.

Lane stated the Dallas situation immediately following the assassination was chaotic. A poll taken after the assassination, according to Lane, showed the majority of American citizens believed the murder was the result of a conspiracy; almost all felt it could be laid at the door of the right wing extremists.

Lane stated the photograph of Oswald holding the alleged murder weapon on the cover of "Life" magazine compared with the picture which appeared in "The New York Times" newspaper and "Newsweek" magazine showed evidence that the photograph in "Life" had been retouched. In this connection he stated that on November 22, 1963, the Dallas District Attorney, Mr. Wade, had described the murder weapon as a German Mauser of 7.65 millimeter calibre. This same statement had originally been made by the Dallas police officer who found the weapon and Lane illustrated this point by the use of a slide projector to show a photostat of the police officer's affidavit from the files of the office of the Dallas District Attorney.

Lane said he had a friend who had been kind enough to get him all the files of the Dallas District Attorney's Office concerning the Oswald case which were "swiftly returned" after being carefully photostated.

Re: Mark Lane

Lane attributed the following statements to Dallas District Attorney Wade on November 22, 1963: The murder weapon was a Mauser. Oswald was a Communist Party member and Oswald used the alias of "Lee." Lane stated that on November 23, 1963, the rifle was changed to a 6.5 millimeter Italian Carbine and the alias was changed to "Hydell." In view of these facts, the question arose in his mind, "Was the rifle switched?"

Lane accused Wade of having invented a taxi driver named Daryl Click who never existed. Instead a person named William Whaley was suddenly produced as a taxi driver who gave Oswald a lift following the assassination. Again the question arose in his mind, "Were these individuals also switched?"

Lane stated the head of the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) had stated that the paraffin tests taken after the assassination were conclusive evidence of Oswald's guilt. This was a lie in Lane's estimation, for while paraffin tests can prove innocence they rarely are acceptable as proof of guilt. He stated that the records of the Dallas District Attorney's Office showed the paraffin tests were positive on Oswald's face with evidence of some nitrates on his hands. Lane said this was by no means conclusive, for the nitrates could have come from handling ordinary paint.

Lane then considered the accusation that Oswald was the killer of Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit. He pointed out there was only one witness to the Tippit slaying, a Dallas woman named Helen Louise Markham. He had previously noted from the files of the Dallas District Attorney's Office a telephone number for Mrs. Markham and called her to get her story firsthand. Mrs. Markham stated she could not talk to Lane because she was forbidden to do so by the FBI, the Secret Service and the Dallas Police Department. Lane stated he told her she was an American citizen and therefore was free to talk to anyone. She again refused. Lane then told her he would be testifying before the Warren Commission and was seeking her help. Mrs. Markham stated that if he was part of the official investigation by the Warren Commission, she could talk to him. According to Lane, he told Mrs. Markham he was not an official of the Warren Commission but would be testifying before the Commission in the near future.

Re: Mark Lane

Mrs. Markham then told him the man who killed Tippit wore a gray jacket, had a short heavy build and had bushy hair.

Lane pointed out that Oswald wore a brown shirt while at the Texas School Book Depository building on the morning of November 22, 1963, and was wearing the same shirt when arrested in the Dallas theatre following the assassination. He stated Oswald had a slender build with a receding hairline.

With regard to his conversation with Mrs. Markham, Lane stated he first denied having a tape of the call because he thought it was not really important. Later when asked by the Warren Commission if he had such a tape, Lane claimed this tape was part of his client's material. He explained that at that time Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, Oswald's mother, was his client and would have to be consulted before he could give the Warren Commission a definite answer. In the meantime Lane said Mrs. Markham denied the interview and, in fact, denied talking to Lane at all.

Lane stated that during his appearance before the Warren Commission, Attorney Lee Rankin, in discussing the recording Lane made of conversation with Mrs. Markham, asked Lane if Mrs. Markham knew her conversation was being recorded. Lane stated he then decided he could not give the tape to the Warren Commission. Later he stated he wrote to Chief Justice Earl Warren asking that he not be prosecuted if he furnished the tape to the Warren Commission. Upon receipt of a letter from an assistant on the Warren Commission that there would be no prosecution, Lane stated he then sent the tape to Warren.

Lane stated two investigators from his office attempted to contact the Markham home at which time Mr. and Mrs. Markham refused to cooperate because they were under constant harassment from the FBI and the Dallas Police Department. At this time, however, their 21-year-old son, James Markham, accompanied Lane's investigators to their car and gave them information which Lane stated he could not divulge at this time.

Re: Mark Lane

Lane commented that the following day James Markham was arrested by the Dallas Police Department on a charge of burglary. A few days later he "fell from a window in jail" and since then has been in a critical condition at the Dallas jail hospital. Lane stated that all attempts to contact James Markham or his attorneys have failed.

Lane then discussed the strange circumstances surrounding the life of one Warren Reynolds, a witness to the flight of the killer of Tippit. He pointed out the story of Reynolds was also covered in the February 23, 1964, issue of the "New York Journal-American" newspaper by Columnist Bob Considine.

Lane stated that after the assassination a man attempted to kill Reynolds, but this man was released by the Dallas Police Department when he swore he was at the home of his girl friend at the time of the attempt on the life of Reynolds. Lane claimed this girl friend was a strip-teaser who had worked in Jack Ruby's night club. She was also arrested and later was hanged or hanged herself in jail. Lane further stated the accused boy friend in the shooting of Reynolds has also disappeared.

Lane alleged that the FBI, the Secret Service and the Dallas Police Department failed to adequately protect President Kennedy. He stated that despite the record of these agencies which he described as "sloppy," Chief Justice Warren must still depend on them for his ultimate judgment in the case. He stated that all members of the Warren Commission are really Government employees in one form or another and, therefore, are actually disqualified from serving on the Commission.

Lane told of being stopped on a street in New York in bad weather by Agents of the FBI who accused him of taking a Government file pertaining to the Oswald case. Lane further stated there are always two FBI Agents present when he speaks.

Re: Mark Lane

This source stated that following a short intermission, Lane gave a brief description of the assassination scene in Dallas, Texas. He stated the police agencies announced that a physical description of Oswald had been broadcast in Dallas, Texas, twelve minutes after the slaying of President Kennedy, which description followed a roll call at the Texas School Book Depository building where Oswald had been employed. Lane stated this was a lie as there never had been any roll call immediately following the assassination.

Lane pointed out the local Dallas newspapers on November 22, 1963, contained a map of the route of the Presidential motorcade. For some reason, the route had been changed from the original plan and the change carried the President near the Texas School Book Depository building. Who made the change? The FBI or the Secret Service?

On the matter of medical evidence, Lane claimed a shot entered the President's throat from the front which meant that he was looking forward when hit. He stated the doctors involved in the examination of the President changed their original analyses that the throat wound was an entry wound and later said it was an exit wound.

Lane stated that one Mrs. Hill heard shots from a direction other than the Texas School Book Depository building and further had heard four to six shots. Mrs. Hill later stated she had been threatened by the FBI and the Dallas Police Department and will no longer talk to Lane. Lane did, however, play a tape recording of his first interview with Mrs. Hill.

This source stated that in conclusion Lane listed several pertinent questions:

Why was the FBI so inefficient?

Why did the parade slow down at the Texas School Book Depository building?

Re: Mark Lane

According to this source, following his lecture Lane held a question-and-answer period during which an unidentified person asked Lane, "Do you feel there is a conspiracy with Government personnel involved?" Lane answered, "As a politician I know this cannot be answered. I want to work for truth. I only want facts not theory."

A third confidential source who also attended the meeting of July 22, 1964, furnished substantially the same information concerning the meeting as furnished by the first source. In addition, the third source stated that at one point during his lecture, Lane stated that when he appeared before the Warren Commission to testify he had asked that a copy of his testimony be forwarded to him at a later date. When his copy arrived, he found the first five pages were missing. Lane then insisted that these pages be sent to him and when they arrived, according to Lane, they were all marked "Top Secret."

On Monday, July 20, 1964, a fourth confidential source attended the Lane lecture held at Theatre Four, New York City, and furnished substantially the same information as furnished by the first source. In addition, the fourth source stated that at one point during the question and answer period Lane was asked that if he had so much evidence and had obviously developed such a strong case, why had he not approached the President's brother, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, and presented these facts to him? This source stated Lane was flushed and hesitated before answering. Lane stated the Attorney General and the enforcement agencies involved had as much or more information than he did.

According to this source, several people in the audience did not like Lane's answer and began yelling that Lane was not answering the question. Lane disregarded the jeers and continued to answer other questions. This source stated that quite a few people left at that time.

Re: Mark Lane

On Tuesday, July 21, 1964, a fifth confidential source and a sixth confidential source attended Mark Lane's lecture at Theatre Four, New York City. Both sources furnished information concerning this lecture, the content of which was substantially the same as furnished by the first confidential source.

In addition, the fifth confidential source advised that on July 21, 1964, Lane made the statement that there were six witnesses in Dallas, Texas, who had not been questioned by the FBI, the Secret Service or the Dallas Police Department. Lane continued that he would be returning to Dallas soon himself to continue his investigation.

On July 21, 1964, the sixth confidential source stated that when introducing Lane on that date, Deirdre Griswold identified herself as the National Director of the CCI.

During the question-and-answer period Lane discussed "new facts" received by his investigators from James Markham, the son of Helen Markham. According to this source, it was indicated that Lane had learned from James Markham that Helen Markham was possibly a psychopathic liar.

This source further stated that near the conclusion of the meeting Lane announced that in November, 1964, there would be a conference in London, England, of all CCIs throughout the world on the Oswald case. He stated this conference would be attended by such notables as the French author Jean-Paul Sartre and the famous Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

On Thursday, July 23, 1964, a seventh confidential source furnished information concerning the Mark Lane lecture given on that date at Theatre Four, New York City, the content of which was substantially the same as that furnished by the first confidential source. In addition, during this lecture, according to the seventh confidential source, Lane stated that the law enforcement agencies, including the FBI, the Secret Service and the Dallas Police Department, insist that only three bullets were fired during the assassination of President Kennedy, while they have full knowledge that actually more than three bullets were fired.

On Friday, July 24, 1964, an eighth confidential source attended the Mark Lane lecture given on that date at Theatre Four, New York City, the content of which was substantially the same as that furnished by the first confidential source. In addition, the eighth confidential source stated that Lane remarked that according to witnesses more than three shots were fired during the assassination of President Kennedy. He also stated that using an Italian Carbine, allegedly the assassination weapon, it would be impossible to fire more than three shots in five and a half seconds. According to the eighth confidential source, Lane stated the Kennedy family had shown "great displeasure" with the FBI over the assassination. Lane also stated that he will publish a book before the end of the year and that the completion of the book is being delayed, awaiting the publication of the Warren report.

According to the eighth confidential source, during the question-and-answer period following Lane's lecture, he was asked about the testimony and behavior of Marina Oswald, wife of Lee Harvey Oswald.

In answer to this question, Lane stated that at the beginning Marina Oswald had declared her husband was innocent but after his death and after nine weeks of being held incommunicado by Agents of the FBI and Secret Service, she reversed her statement. Lane stated that in some other countries this would be called "brainwashing."

On Saturday, July 25, 1964, a ninth confidential source attended the Lane lecture held that date at Theatre Four, New York City, the content of which was substantially the same as that furnished by the first confidential source.

Re: Mark Lane

On Sunday, July 26, 1964, a tenth confidential source attended the Lane lecture held that date at Theatre Four, New York City, the content of which was substantially the same as that furnished by the first confidential source. In addition, the tenth confidential source stated that at the conclusion of the lecture, Lane announced that he would hold one more "holdover" lecture by popular demand on Monday evening, July 27, 1964, also at Theatre Four, New York City.

The "Guide to Subversive Organizations and Publications," revised and published as of December 1, 1961, prepared and released by the Committee on Un-American Activities, United States House of Representatives, Washington, D.C., contains the following concerning the "National Guardian":

WORKERS WORLD PARTY

On April 17, 1959, a confidential source advised that on February 12, 1959, a Socialist Workers Party (SWP) minority group, under the leadership of National Committee member, SAM BALLAN, split from the SWP.

The source stated that this minority group, referred to as the Marcyites, after many years of program and policy differences on varied issues concerning tactics and interpretation of political events, split from the SWP on the grounds that the Party was liquidating itself by departing from the Marxist precepts of LEON TROTSKY and retreating from the fight for the world socialist revolution. The final issue which ultimately forced the split was the minority's opposition to the SWP regroupment policy which involved cooperation with the Communist Party (CP) periphery individuals characterized by the minority as petty-bourgeois.

The minority program, according to the source, advocated unconditional defense of the Soviet Union and has as its goal the building of a revolutionary party with a complete proletarian orientation for the purpose of overthrowing capitalism in the United States and throughout the world.

On May 12, 1960, the source advised that this minority group had chosen the name Workers World Party.

On April 27, 1964, a second source advised that the Workers World Party, which maintains headquarters at 46 West 21st Street, New York, New York, supports the People's Republic of China in its ideological dispute with the Soviet Union.

The SWP and the CP have been designated pursuant to Executive Order 10450.

Re Attempts to Locate FRANCISCO MORALES

On August 5, 1964, [redacted] Reynosa, Tamaulipas, Mexico, advised SA HAROLD H. CROSSETT that to date he had been unable to ascertain the exact location of FRANCISCO MORALES in order that MORALES might be interviewed in accordance with Bureau instructions.

He stated that his sources in Victoria, Tamaulipas, advised him MORALES was going to San Luis Potosi, San Luis Potosi, Mexico, to obtain employment, possibly in a pharmacy. He continued that MORALES has not furnished his sister in Reynosa with an address where he can be located and since San Luis Potosi is a city of over 125,000 population, it was not feasible, in his opinion, to travel to that city in an effort to locate MORALES in the absence of a definite address. He stated he will maintain frequent contact with the sister of MORALES and with sources in Victoria, Tamaulipas, in order to obtain an address for MORALES as soon as it is received by any of them, and thereafter will attempt to have MORALES come to the U. S. border for interview by Bureau Agents.

This matter will be followed closely by San Antonio.

REQUEST OF BUREAU:

Two extra copies of this communication were prepared for the Bureau in the event the Bureau desires to have Legat, Mexico, attempt to locate FRANCISCO MORALES at San Luis Potosi, San Luis Potosi, where he is possibly employed in a pharmacy.

A list of pharmacies might be obtained from pharmaceutical supply houses and a canvass of these stores could conceivably result in the location of MORALES more expeditiously than by waiting for him to contact friends and relatives as it has been the experience of the San Antonio office in other matters, that many Mexican people do not communicate with members of their families for long periods of time.

In view of revelation of Huerta Oliva and the facts relative to the photograph which Huerta Oliva furnished New Haven, Bureau is not at this time requesting Legat, Mexico City, to attempt to locate Francisco Morales at San Luis Potosi. When results of reinterview of Gabriel Contreras and officials at Del Comercio Hotel concerning the photograph supplied by Huerta Oliva are received, additional instructions will be issued concerning efforts to locate Morales.

Refer to Bureau airtel 7/20/64 which dealt with your 7/14/64 letterhead memorandum. Concentrate efforts to reinterview Lima Juarez in accordance with instructions in Bureau airtel 7/20/64 and display to him the photograph received from Huerta Oliva. NOTE:

Lima Juarez, a Mexican citizen, told San Antonio that he believed he saw Oswald at Hotel del Comercio in 9/63 in company of some Cubans. The alleged Cubans were reportedly in the company of Huerta Oliva. Lima Juarez, while at the Hotel, was in the company of Morales who we have beentrying to locate in Mexico. San Antonio source says that Morales has gone to San Luis Potosi, but no address or other data necessary to locate him there is available. Huerta Oliva has been interviewed and admits being at the hotel in the company of four Mexicans, not Cubans. He furnished photograph of these people which was taken by street photographer. If people at the hotel and Contreras, a Mexican who was one of the group, and Lima Juarez will identify the four people in the picture as four Mexicans with Oliva, it will not be necessary to go further in effort to locate Morales. Buairtel 7/20/64 instructed SA to rewrite 7/14/64 letterhead in report form and to reinterview Juarez.

At approximately 9:00 p.m., 7/16/64, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD was telephonically contacted at her residence by SA B. TOM CARTER in an effort to make arrangements to photograph certain documents in her possession at the request of the President's Commission. At that time, she stated she allowed the President's Commission to make copies of all such documents when she testified before the President's Commission. She stated she was convinced the President's Commission had lost the copies of the documents and was now attempting to obtain additional copies. She stated she would not allow anyone to make copies of the documents in her possession based on any oral authorization. She requested a letter be written to her at Post Office Box 9578, Fort Worth, Texas, and that in such letter the request from the President's Commission should be set out together with the description of the items desired to be photographed.

Mrs. OSWALD stated on this occasion that upon receipt of this letter if everything was agreeable she would contact the FBI Resident Agency Office, Fort Worth, Texas, and advise when Agents could come to her residence and make the copies of the documents in her presence.

In accordance with the authorization obtained from Section Chief WILLIAM A. BRANIGAN on 7/17/64, a letter from SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN was directed to Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD at Post Office Box 9578, Fort Worth, Texas, confirming the telephonic request by SA B. TOM CARTER and listing the documents desired to be photographed. This letter was sent to Mrs. OSWALD by Registered Mail, Return Receipt Requested, on 7/17/64 with a request that it would be sincerely appreciated if she could arrange a time satisfactory to her for Agents of this Bureau to photograph the documents described in the letter.

Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, 2220 Thomas Place, Fort Worth, Texas, was contacted on 7/21/64 by SA B. TOM CARTER. Mrs. OSWALD stated she had received a letter from SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN of the Dallas Office requesting that she allow Agents of the FBI to photograph certain documents which had been requested by the President's Commission.

Mrs. OSWALD stated she feels she has cooperated with the President's Commission. At the time she appeared before the Commission she took with her all documents in her possession. At the time of her appearance before the Commission, she allowed the Commission to make three copies of each of the documents which she had in her possession. She cannot at this time now understand why the Commission needs additional copies of these documents. She stated she believed the Commission must have lost the copies which were made of the documents which she allowed them to make when she appeared before the Commission. Mrs. OSWALD stated that unless the President's Commission can show her why additional copies are now needed, she will not allow anyone to photograph the documents in her possession.

Although it was pointed out to Mrs. OSWALD that the reason for the request to photograph certain exhibits in her possession was because the copies previously made were of such poor quality they were not considered sufficiently legible for the Commission's report, she stated this was not sufficient reason and she was still convinced the copies of the documents were lost, and that she would not permit additional copies to be made.

For the information of the Bureau and offices receiving copies of this communication, the following is noted:

On 7/29/64, AUBREY RAY LINDSEY, Richardson, Texas, advised that he had what he considered pertinent information to offer concerning instant investigation noting that one MALCOLM J. HOY, a business acquaintance, had told him on 11/22/63 that he was going to see the President KENNEDY motorcade in downtown Dallas, Texas. HOY subsequently told LINDSEY a short time after and on the same day of the assassination that President KENNEDY had been shot twice "because I was there watching it." LINDSEY noted that he thought this was very unusual because up to the time of HOY's remark the radio reports had only stated that President KENNEDY had been shot.

LINDSEY noted that he subsequently tried to contact HOY through the latter's landlady at which time the landlady told LINDSEY that she had asked HOY to move, which he did, because the walls and furniture in his room were "filled with bullet holes." She had noted that HOY was a very strange individual.

LINDSEY does not know HOY's present whereabouts as he has not seen him for months. However, LINDSEY noted that he thought HOY used to work on the assembly line at the General Motors plant in Arlington, Texas.

On 8/12/64, THEODORE H. FREEMAN, Plant Protection Chief, General Motors, Arlington, Texas, advised that his plant's employment record on MALCOLM JERRY HOY indicates that he was employed by General Motors as a spot welder from 6/4/63 until 5/4/64 when he quit without giving notice. The company attempted to locate him at his last address (4840 Junius, Dallas), and learned from the landlady that HOY had left stating he was being transferred to Michigan to attend a General Motors mechanics school. FREEMAN noted that this was untrue.

The General Motors employment office at Arlington, Texas, received an inquiry from their General Motors plant at Southgate, California, on 5/28/64 requesting employment recommendations from the Arlington plant. The Arlington plant returned a bad employment recommendation to the Southgate plant. FREEMAN stated that he doubts if HOY was employed at Southgate, but he cannot say so for sure.

FREEMAN noted that there is a comment in HOY's personnel file at General Motors, Arlington, Texas, that HOY [redacted]

A review of HOY's personnel file indicates that he arrived in Dallas, Texas, around June, 1963, from 8577 Tidewater Drive, Norfolk, Virginia, which is also the address of HOY's father, WILLIAM THOMAS HOY.

Synopsis: Letter written by CHARLES EVANS, 1735 Oakland Park Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, dated 5/13/64, to Attorney General of U. S. stated that OSWALD was reportedly in Wytheville, Virginia, short time before the assassination. EVANS interviewed and stated he believed he had once heard of this town or one of similar name in connection with press stories weeks after the assassination, that OSWALD was reportedly present, that this was found to be untrue, that he has absolutely no facts, and admitted he had written vague statements concerning matters he knows absolutely nothing about.

DETAILS:

By communication dated July 7, 1964, the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C., forwarded to the Cincinnati, Ohio, Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, a letter written by CHARLES EVANS, 1735 Oakland Park Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. This letter addressed to the Honorable ROBERT KENNEDY, Attorney General of the United States, was received from the President's Commission by letter dated July 2, 1964.

The letter is as follows:

"1735 Oakland Park Ave.
Columbus 24, Ohio
5-13-64

Hon. Robert Kennedy
Attorney General of the United States
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

WYTHEVILLE VIRGINIA

Oswald was reportedly in this town a short time before the asassination of the President.

It is possible that there is no relation between this town and the Dallas tragedy.

Nevertheless, I believe every clue, whether strong or weak, should be checked out completely, and I do mean completely.

Yours, Sincerely,

On July 9, 1964, efforts were made to locate and interview CHARLES EVANS, 1735 Oakland Park Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, but there was no response at that address.

Mrs. HELEN BARD, 1729 Oakland Park Avenue, next door neighbor, advised on July 9, 1964, that CHARLES EVANS and his family departed Columbus, Ohio, on an extended vacation traveling throughout the West on June 28, 1964. She said she does not believe EVANS intends to stay in any one location for any length of time.

The current Columbus City Directory lists the employment for CHARLES EVANS as salesman, The Fashion, a department store.

Mrs. ETHEL BURCH, Personnel Department, The Fashion, 130 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio, on July 9, 1964, advised from records that CHARLES EVANS, an employee, began vacation in addition to leave of absence on June 28, 1964, and would not return until July 27, 1964. She said EVANS told her he and his family would travel extensively throughout the West and he left no forwarding address or location where he could be contacted.

EVANS was contacted and interviewed on July 31, 1964.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 8/5/64

CHARLES EVANS, residence 1735 Oakland Park Avenue, Columbus, Ohio, employed as a salesman in the men's clothing department, The Fashion, 130 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio, advised he thought he recalled having seen reference to a Wytheville, Virginia, or a town of similar name, in news media within several weeks after the assassination of the late President KENNEDY. He said he cannot recall the identity of the news media but assumes it must have been the press.

His recollection, he said, was that the news may have indicated that LEE HARVEY OSWALD may have personally visited this town, name of which he is not certain, several days before the assassination. He further thought he recalled that whatever connection OSWALD was supposed to have had with that town had been investigated and found to be completely false.

EVANS then compared his naming the town Wytheville, Virginia, to a hunch, similar, he said, to that of a horse player at the race track who bets on horses because of their names. When pressed further, he admitted he did not know why he named that town in connection with OSWALD and stated emphatically that he has absolutely no facts or information whatsoever to furnish in regard to OSWALD or the assassination or to any of the events related thereto.

When questioned as to why he waited until May 13, 1964, to write the letter he replied he did not know except that he thought the elimination of the OSWALD link to that town occurred too soon to have been legitimate.

EVANS then described the letter as a "wild goose chase" and said he was sorry he wrote it because he honestly had no facts to report. He stated he realizes he was making vague statements concerning matters he knows absolutely nothing about and he said he would not now repeat such an action.

He concluded by emphatically denying any knowledge whatsoever concerning OSWALD or the assassination.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On July 21, 1964, Mr. Lloyd Beck, Office of Naval Intelligence, Eighth Naval District, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that according to the records of his agency, the aircraft carrier "USS Wasp" (CVS - 18) visited the Port of New Orleans from June 13, 1963 to June 20, 1963 and during this period of time, was berthed at the Dumaine Street Wharf. Mr. Beck informed that the "USS Wasp" was one of six U.S. Naval Vessels visiting the Port of New Orleans during this period and that the "USS Wasp" is currently at its home port of Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. Beck informed that no information had been received by his agency that during the period that the "USS Wasp" visited the Port of New Orleans, any individual was engaged in distributing leaflets in the vicinity of the "USS Wasp" or any other Naval Vessel.

On July 21, 1964, Raymond Martinas, Harbor Master, Port of New Orleans, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that he recalled the visit of the aircraft carrier, the "USS Wasp" to the Port of New Orleans during June, 1963. Mr. Martinas informed that no information had come to his attention that any individual had been distributing leaflets near the "USS Wasp" during the period of time this ship was visiting the Port of New Orleans.

On July 21, 1964, Lieutenant Roy Alleman, New Orleans Harbor Police, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI that his agency is in no way connected with the New Orleans Police Department, but is a separate and distinct law enforcement agency. He informed that his agency is under the control of the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, an agency of the State of Louisiana.

Lieutenant Alleman advised he recalled an incident wherein an individual was distributing leaflets on the Dumaine Street Wharf at the time the "USS Wasp" was berthed during June, 1963. Lieutenant Alleman stated that he recalled that Harbor Patrolman Girod Ray had been contacted by a member of the United States Navy and requested to locate an individual who was passing out leaflets on the Dumaine Street Wharf near where the "USS Wasp" was berthed. As a result, Patrolman Ray located this individual, name unknown, and asked this individual to leave the premises. Lieutenant Alleman stated that no arrest was made and that this person upon request, did leave the Dumaine Street Wharf. Lieutenant Alleman informed that Patrolman Ray obtained two leaflets that this unknown individual had been passing out and recalled that one of these leaflets had "something to do with Cuba" but could not recall any additional information.

Lieutenant Alleman stated that he did not personally observe the individual passing out the leaflets and that he could furnish no additional information regarding this incident. He stated that the records of his agency do contain a brief, typewritten report made by Patrolman Ray, and also one copy each of the pamphlets that this unknown individual was distributing. Lieutenant Alleman furnished copies of these pamphlets, together with a copy of Patrolman Ray's report, which are set forth in the attached pages.

On July 21, 1964, Patrolman Girod Ray, Harbor Police, advised a Special Agent of the FBI he recalled the incident in June of 1963 wherein he requested an individual to leave the Dumaine Street Wharf, after this individual was observed passing out leaflets in the vicinity of the "USS Wasp."

Patrolman Ray stated that he could not recall the day of the week, but believed it was either on a Saturday or a Sunday and that he had been assigned to a roving patrol in the area of the Toulouse and the Dumaine Street Wharves. He said this was a special assignment, inasmuch as the "USS Wasp" was berthed and that there were visiting hours for civilians who desired to go aboard this ship. Patrolman Ray stated that late in the afternoon, possibly between 3:00 pm and 5:00 pm he was approached by an unknown enlisted man from the "USS Wasp" who told him that the Officer of the Deck of the "USS Wasp" desired Patrolman Ray to seek out an individual who was passing out leaflets regarding Cuba and to request this individual to stop passing out these leaflets. Patrolman Ray stated that he was between the Toulouse and Dumaine Street Wharves when he received this information and thereafter, immediately went to the Dumaine Street Wharf where he saw an unknown white male passing out leaflets which were white and yellow in color. He described this unknown individual as a white male, age late 20's, 5'9" tall, 150 pounds, and slender build. He said this individual was distributing these leaflets to U.S. Naval personnel in the area and also to civilians who were leaving the "USS Wasp." Patrolman Ray stated that he approached this person and asked him if he had permission to distribute the leaflets. This person replied that he did not have permission to do this and felt that he did not need anyone's permission since he was within his rights to distribute leaflets in any area he desired to do so. Patrolman Ray stated that he told this individual that the wharves and buildings along the Mississippi River, encompassing the Port of New Orleans, are operated by the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, and that if this individual received permission from the Board of Commissioners, he could distribute these leaflets. Patrolman Ray stated that after informing this individual of this information, this person kept insisting that he did not see why he would need anyone's permission and thereafter, Patrolman Ray informed this individual that if he did not leave the Dumaine Street Wharf, Patrolman Ray would arrest him. Upon hearing this, this person then left the Dumaine Street Wharf.

Patrolman Ray stated he could not recall how this person was dressed, other than that he was well groomed and that this unknown individual was alone and was not assisted in the distribution of these leaflets by any other person.

Patrolman Ray stated that he could not now recall whether he looked at some type of identification of this individual, but believes he may have done so. Patrolman Ray stated that he feels sure that he wrote this unknown person's name on a slip of paper, but that apparently he had lost this piece of paper, as he did not include this individual's name in his typewritten report and that he could not recall the name.

Patrolman Ray stated that he feels that this unknown individual who was distributing the leaflets was Lee Harvey Oswald. He said he bases this on the fact that subsequent to the incident, he had observed photographs of Oswald on television and in the newspapers and that from these photographs he observed, he believes that the individual on the Dumaine Street Wharf was Lee Harvey Oswald.

On January 16, 1961, the United States Government imposed a ban on travel by U.S. citizens to Cuba. Failure to abide by the ban is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or 5 years in jail or both. (8 USC 1185, 22 USC 225.)

This is in clear contradiction to remarks made by President Kennedy before the United Nations on September 22, 1961, when he deplored action by any nation which "builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners". It seems also to violate the spirit of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 which states "Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own and return to his country".

What mysterious features exist on this tiny island of 6½ million people to become so taboo for American eyes? Although the policy of the Castro government is to promote tourism everywhere in Cuba, our government innocently explains that the travel ban is to safeguard our welfare.

- Why then does it allow American citizens to travel in such trouble spots as Somoza's Nicaragua?
- Why then does it exempt Americans such as "certain" businessmen and "certain" reporters from the ban when they are the very ones most likely to become involved in international incidents?
- Why then do other Western countries such as Canada, Mexico, England, France, West Germany, etc., find that the safety of their nationals does not require restrictions on travel to Cuba?

Our government states that another reason for the ban on travel is that it is in the national interest to combat Communism by preventing travel to Cuba.

- Why then is travel allowed and even encouraged to admittedly Communist countries such as Poland, Yugoslavia and even the Soviet Union?

In short, WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT HIDING?

As a result of the Cuban Revolution stopping the flow of Cuban wealth to the United States, Cuban soil, industry and manpower has been put at the disposal of the Cuban nation.

- Can it be that the new schools, homes and hospitals of revolutionary Cuba might contrast severely with the Cuba that served as a U.S. plantation and might weigh heavily on the American conscience?
- Can it be that we would also see the effects of the recent invasion which was supported by 43,000,000 dollars of our tax money?

WE MAINTAIN THAT THE TRUTH ABOUT CUBA IS IN CUBA AND THAT WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBSERVE AND JUDGE FOR OURSELVES WHAT IS HAPPENING THERE!

If you agree:

- Seek permission from the Passport Office to go there. When it is denied, ask why.
- Write to the U.S. State Department and President Kennedy asking that our government adhere to concepts of justice and international law and expressing your opinion on the travel ban.
- Read books which present the side of the story you haven't been told such as 90 MILES FROM HOME by Warren Miller and
  LISTEN YANKEE by C. Wright Mills.

Both of these books are in pocketbook editions and can be purchased at the bookstands.

SUBJECT: Distribution of Propaganda Literature

While working a special assignment at Dumain St. Wharf I was approached by a U.S.S. Navy Officer from the U.S.S. Wasp, who stated that he saw a white male adult subject handing out the enclosed pamphlets to persons visiting the Wasp, berthed at Dumaine St. Wharf.

I immediately looked for this subject and found him distrubuting these pamphlets and asked him if he had received permission from the Dock Board to issue these papers. He stated that he thought as an American citizen he did not need anyones permission. I ordered this man off of our property and told him he would have to refrain from issuing anything on Dock Board Property without their express consent.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter of August 11, 1964, which refers to a request by Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff for analysis of the handwriting appearing on certain documents apparently written by Lee Harvey Oswald to the American Embassy in Moscow while Oswald was in residence in Minsk.

It was concluded that the handwriting on Commission Exhibits 913, 244, 931, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 246, 247, 256, 1093 (formerly Commission Exhibit 248), 249 and 1083 (formerly Commission Exhibit 250), was written by Lee Harvey Oswald. In making the foregoing handwriting comparison the following Exhibits were used as known standards of the handwriting of Lee Harvey Oswald:

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On August 7, 1964, W. David Slawson of our staff spoke with Mr. William Griffith of the Bureau in regard to a handwriting analysis problem. Mr. Slawson asked Mr. Griffith if the Bureau would analyze the documents hereinafter listed to determine whether they are in the handwriting of Lee Harvey Oswald and, if they are, supply the Commission with a letter so stating. These documents are letters apparently written by Lee Harvey Oswald to the American Embassy in Moscow while Oswald was in residence in Minsk. The documents in question are Commission Exhibits 913, 244, 931, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 246, 247, 256, 1093, 249 and 1083.

These letters were apparently mentioned on page 337 of the Report of Special Agent Gemberling dated December 10, 1963. There they were apparently used as a sample of Oswald's known handwriting for the purposes of testing other samples. By now, however, there ought to be many more samples of Oswald's handwriting which have been gathered which could be used as a basis for testing unknown samples with equal or even more assurance of validity than these particular letters.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated August 7, 1964, requesting certain statistical data as to the scope of this Bureau's investigative efforts since the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

As of July 31, 1964, this Bureau submitted to you over 1756 investigative reports comprising over 17,200 pages. In addition, over 3682 items of physical evidence were received in the FBI Laboratory for technical examination and our Exhibit experts constructed and delivered to you detailed scale models of the assassination site and garage of the Dallas City Jail with accompanying visual aids.

We did not keep track of the number of interviews conducted or the number of Agent-days expended on this investigation by virtually every one of our fifty-six continental field offices and representatives abroad. To obtain this information would be an extremely laborious and time consuming statistical research project in view of the scope of our activities and the number of personnel involved for over an eight-month period.

As an example of the number of personnel involved, I would like to point out that immediately after the assassination I transferred on a temporary basis over eighty additional FBI personnel to our Dallas Office alone to assist in affording this matter expeditious and thorough handling.

In addition to the large number of field personnel involved, a considerable number of supervisory officials at our Washington Headquarters have been exclusively assigned to this investigation since its inception and will continue to be so assigned until no longer needed.

As this investigation progressed, we received an increasing number of special requests from members of your staff. Some requests imposed a very tight deadline on us and some necessitated travel to and from Dallas and other locations by our Agent, technical and supervisory personnel. It was necessary on several occasions to make special arrangements to enable your staff to handle necessary inquiries and to obtain specialized equipment and services to facilitate your investigation such as the arrangements for the partial re-enactment in Dallas on May 24, 1964, and the obtaining of a helicopter for aerial photography.

The above summarizes to some degree the areas in which this Bureau has endeavored to cooperate with the President's Commission in handling its responsibility. I hope this information will be of assistance to you. You can be assured that I will continue to insist that every logical effort be made by FBI personnel to assist you in this historic and tragic undertaking.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

Dear Mr. Hoover:

As you know, the Commission is nearing the completion of its investigation into the assassination of President Kennedy. In its final Report, the Commission desires to suggest in some appropriate way the extent of the excellent investigative effort undertaken by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

It would be helpful if the Bureau could supply some statistics which would reflect the scope of the FBI's investigation. In particular, we would appreciate figures on the approximate number of interviews conducted by the Bureau, the pieces of correspondence and reports sent by the Bureau to the Commission, and the total number of pages of such materials. If the information can be obtained without undue difficulty, the Commission would also like to be advised concerning the approximate number of Agent-days spent by the Bureau on this investigation since November 22, 1963.

For the Commission's purposes, it is not necessary to distinguish between the investigation conducted regarding Jack L. Ruby and the investigation conducted regarding Lee Harvey Oswald and the assassination. I recognize that your work is continuing, but I suggest that a cut-off date of August 1, 1964 would be appropriate for the purpose of compiling these figures. Any thoughts you have about presenting these statistics in the most effective way would be appreciated by the Commission.

Thank you for your assistance.

Memorandum

TO : DIRECTOR, FBI (105-82555) DATE: 8/13/64

FROM : SAC, BOSTON (89-43)

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
IS - R - CUBA

Re Bureau airtel 7/28/64.

Miss PRISCILLA MARY POST JOHNSON, 48 Brattle Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts, free lance journalist, vacationing in care of Mrs. RUTH ROBINSON, North Summer Street, Edgartown, Massachusetts advised she had no knowledge of any radio broadcasts by LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the fall of 1959 or at any other time. She suggested that such a broadcast, if it occurred, likely would have been monitored by the United States or some country friendly to this country and the recording might still be available.

She never knew anyone named LEV SETYAEV while she was in Russia. She said the Russian interpretation of that name is "Leo of the Network" so obviously this man's last name was an assumed name.

Miss JOHNSON said Miss ALICE MOSBY is currently in Paris writing womens fashions for UPI. She did not know where ABE I. GOLDBERG, former AP reporter in Russia, is at the present time.

She said JOHN MC VICKAR, Consular Officer in the American Embassy in Moscow first referred her to OSWALD for her interview of him 11/15/59. She said MC VICKAR is currently attached to the U. S. Consulate at Cochabamba, Bolivia.

Miss JOHNSON said she wrote a profile regarding the OSWALD interview for North American News Alliance on 11/18/59. She said this can be obtained at the North American News Alliance Office, 230 West 41st Street, New York Herald Tribune Building, New York City. She voluntarily sent a telegram to the above alliance authorizing release of above to theFBI. She said this profile is in the possession of the Warren Commission.

ReBSlet 8/13/64 concerning reinterview of Priscilla Johnson.

New York obtain the profile written by Miss Johnson on 11/18/59 and furnish copy of same to Dallas and Bureau.

For information of Dallas Miss Johnson is correct in her translation of the name Lev Setyaev in that it could be interpreted to represent "Leo of the Network." It is of interest, therefore, that her observation concerning the name Setyaev being an assumed name could be correct. Instructions concerning reinterview of Marina Oswald concerning this and other factors will be forthcoming in the near future.

NOTE:

Johnson, a newspaper woman, interviewed Oswald in Moscow in 1959. We want New York to obtain her account of the interview written at that time. Setyaev's name was in Oswald's address book with the notation that he was connected with Radio Moscow. Mrs. Nikonishin concurs that the name Setyaev would translate as "of the Network."

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - R, CUBA

Lillie May Rahm, residence 1738 First Avenue, Ketchikan, Alaska, telephone CA 5-3007, was interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Ketchikan, Alaska, on August 4, 1964.

She was born Lillie May Edwards at Northland, Michigan, on November 8, 1902, the daughter of Jesse Calvin Edwards, who died on February 16, 1952, at Pensacola, Florida; and Alviria Amelia Ashley, who died in 1936 at Lake Stevens, Washington.

She stated that she was first married on January 6, 1919, at Seattle, Washington, to William K. Zugoff, a Russian national. A daughter and two sons were born of this marriage. She said that in 1934, without her knowledge, Zugoff took the three children to the U.S.S.R. The two boys were reported killed during World War II.

She said that the daughter is her only surviving child. The daughter was born Anita May Zugoff on November 18, 1919, at Lake Stevens, Washington, and is now a citizen of the U.S.S.R.

She advised that her daughter is now Anita May Setyaeva, wife of Leo Setyaev, residing at Kotelnicheskaya 1/15. Sect V, Apartment 78, Moscow, U.S.S.R. She said that her daughter and son-in-law are both employed in the North American Section of Radio Moscow and in this employment her daughter uses the name Annette Setyaeva. She added that the daughter's married name is Setyaev, but that when referring to the female gender, an "a" is added; thus Setyaeva.

She advised that she lost all track of her daughter when she journeyed to Russia, but on an unrecalled date William K. Zugoff wrote to his uncle, Matt Zugoff, in Seattle, Washington, and mentioned that he was visiting Anita, giving her address. She added that Matt died in 1957.

ENCLOSURE

She stated that she wrote to Anita and was pleased to get a reply from her, enabling her to thus establish correspondence with her daughter. She lost contact again with the daughter during World War II and cited this reason for being unable to furnish any information concerning the daughter during this period of time.

She said that she knows her daughter was married sometime in about 1939 or 1940 to one Boris (last name unknown). A daughter, Marina, was born of this marriage on June 25, 1941, probably in Moscow, U.S.S.R. She recalled that Marina was about one week old when they evacuated Moscow to the South. She stated that she never did know the last name of Boris, so has never known her granddaughter, Marina's, last name.

She stated that she has never been sure what happened to Boris (last name unknown), but believes that her daughter divorced him, marrying Kirill Henkin, date and place not known. She became then Anita May Henkina and at Radio Moscow used the name Annette Henkina.

It is her understanding that Kirill and her daughter did not get along; however, a son, Kostia Henkin, called "Bunny", was born of the marriage, about June 1, 1955. The daughter divorced Henkin and on August 24, 1962, married Leo Setyaev.

She recalled that Marina was married in January before her mother, Anita, was married in August. She recalled that Marina was married in Moscow on January 26, 1962, to one Vashi (last name unknown) or Vasya (last name unknown). She furnished a photograph taken at the wedding and included in the photograph are Anita, Kostia, Marina, and Vashi (Vasya). The date of the marriage on the back of the photograph was January 26, 1963; however, Mrs. Rahm said that the date is in error as she knows that Marina was married in January, 1962.

Mrs. Rahm advised that she was successful in 1963 in obtaining a visitor's visa to Russia and departed Anchorage, Alaska, on April 25, 1963, for Moscow, where she visited her daughter, Anita; son-in-law, Leo; granddaughter, Marina and her husband, Vashi (Vasya); and her grandson, Kostia Henkin, for six months. She said that Marina was introduced as her granddaughter by her daughter, Anita, and that the only way she has of knowing her identity is through Anita. She stayed in Moscow with her daughter and visited almost daily with her granddaughter, Marina.

She claimed that to this day she does not know the married name of her granddaughter, Marina, or her address, and she is unable to write to her as Marina does not speak, read, or write the English language.

She said that the State sends Marina to school, as the State finances anyone who wants to study and has the necessary intelligence and capacity to learn. Marina attends Moscow University where she is currently studying to be a pharmacist. It was her recollection that Marina at first wanted to be a doctor of medicine and studied this for a while, but was unable to continue as she could not stand surgery, so switched to pharmacy.

She advised that Marina also works regularly in a hospital as a technician in a cancer clinic.

She said that Vashi (Vasya) is also employed, but seems to be interested only in ballet. Being unable, because of his constant thoughts about dancing, to give his full concentration to employment, he does not last long on any job. She described Vashi (Vasya) as a ne'er-do-well, who dreams only of being a great ballet or dramatic star and predicted that the marriage of Marina and Vashi (Vasya) will not last. She mentioned that in the U.S.S.R. the State takes the view that if a couple cannot get along together, they might just as well get divorced and seek other mates. She also mentioned that artists and actors are included in the Soviet cultural hierarchy and receive much respect and admiration from the people.

She furnished the following name and address as a close friend of Marina:

Natasha Pokrovskaya
Yablochkov Street 18 V
Section 13, Apartment 42
Moscow, U.S.S.R.

Mrs. Rahm furnished several letters from her daughter for review. Among them the following pertinent portions are quoted:

Letter dated April 25, 1963:

"You mentioned 'I hope' in your letter. That reminds me of what Marina told me. She went out to see Natasha several times and she came back simply floored. We always thought Natasha read so much as was so well educated and intelligent. It seems the besides studying English she doen't do much other reading at all. Marina could hardly believe her ears. She says it must be her grandmother's influence but Natasha is so old-fashioned and backward and such a prude.....she never goes anywhere and never sees anything.....she has mentioned many times that you helped her (Natasha) immensely with her English, she so enjoyed talking to you..."

Letter dated October 25, 1963:

"Marina is back with her Grandmother. I see her about once a week. . . She's studying very hard right now and working every day. It's very tough on her but she keeps at it..."

Letter dated November 18, 1963:

". . . my birthday. I got calls from Zina, Miriam, and Marina..."

Letter dated November 28, 1963:

"I'm just a little late in answering your letter . . . came in 9 days...because I received them on Friday, the day Pres. Kennedy was killed. I can't begin to describe the reaction here in the Soviet Union. We got the news late in the evening and you can't imagine the consternation it caused. People were calling each other up at midnight to report the horrible tragedy. I don't know how to describe to you what an effect it has had on everybody I know here. We have been talking of nothing else ever since it happened. People ask me: do things like that actually taken place in the 20th century in a country that assumes to be leading the rest of the world. What the Press calls the 'free world'? If that's their idea of freedom they can keep it! I still can hardly believe it. It is so shocking, so disgraceful. We were waiting for the news that Ruby was shot, too and were surprised that it didn't taken place. It's very strange but people here took it to heart so strongly, everyone was so deeply grieved especially for the Kennedy family. I don't think there was a dry eye among the millions who watched the T.V. program of the funeral. When I heard the taps I thought I'd break down entirely.

(The foregoing excerpt was from a letter actually written to John Emanuel Rahm, present husband of Lillie May Rahm, and the letter was addressed to J. E. Rahm, Box 585, Ketchikan, Alaska).

Letter dated December 7, 1963:

"..I received two letters from you (Nov 6 and Nov 12.) on the day Kennedy was assassinated. Everybody was so stunned, shocked, and horrified here. We spent a great deal more time at work and of course we could talk about nothing else. It took a week for it to wear off. I never dreamed that I could be so effected by such an event. I don't know how you feel about it, Honey, but American prestige has taken a blow from which I don't think it will ever recover. People here just couldn't believe it. I was asked: do such things really happen there? If it all weren't so tragic it would be like one of good old serial pictures. After Oswald was killed someone here, or maybe elsewhere, started the rumor that Ruby had been poisoned, and for at least half a day it persisted...."

"..Zina bought me some very nice leotards . . . my legs are so long that they were short in the crotch and I must give them to Marina now..."

"Honey, don't worry about Marina . . . she is trying to finish a letter to you which she started some weeks ago. She has so very little time. She's doing very well in her studies. I think I told you she once had a very pleasant boy friend in Riga. He's a big tall handsome fellow. They have started corresponding again and she hopes they will see each other sometime in the future. She met him when she was there with me. He's going to be a doctor. Then she has gone out several times with Vasya's best friend, but she says they are only friends. She doesn't lack company at all. What she does lack is time. Oh, Honeybunch, I must tell you a funny thing that happened about a week ago. Marina was here and she happened to pick up the receiver the same time as Kirill, but she didn't know it. She was just going to answer when a woman's voice asked 'did you call me?' K said 'Yes, Fluffy I called you ten minutes ago.' Marina nearly fell over. She said, You know, Mother, somehow I never realised how sickening that whole affair was although I knew about it. When I heard that 'Fluffy' I felt like vomiting. Since that day Marina can't stand the sight of him. Before that she had always felt so sorry for him. She says that one word made her see how false, insincere, and dishonest he was. Because Fluffy is not the only one by a long shot, and a very long shot at that! . . ."

Letter dated December 19, 1963:

". . Leo bought tickets to the New Years party for radio & T.V. workers at the T.V. Theater . . . guess I'll have to pack Bunny off to Marina's grandmother.."

Letter dated January 29, 1964:

". . .I don't like to leave Bunny alone. I must ask Marina to come & stay with him until we return....."

Letter dated February 29, 1964, continuing on March 1st:

"Last night Marina dropped in for a short visit, we all had dinner together. She is going rather steady with a boy, Vasya's former best pal, of all things! But he's a nice boy, we had them over last week and Leo liked him. I didn't see much of him, I was in the kitchen most of the time. Zina asked me what I thought of him. I said he seems very nice but he's not very good looking, in fact he's rather ugly until you start to talk to him. Zina said that to me nobody is good looking after Leo, and she reminded me how he looked when she first saw him, the day he returned from Yalta.....Anyway, Marina is doing fine in both work and studies. She'll finish in a little less than two years. Her boy friend is also working and studying. He's in his second year at the theatrical college, and works as an editor on the staff of an art magazine. At least he's not a second Vasya! His name is Alexei. You know, Darling, I am so sorry that you met Marina at the worst time of all. She's so different from that. That was just a mistake, a youthful folly. What a pity it had to happen just when you came. Sometimes when we talk about Vasya we get hysterical from laughing. I remember his face with that melo-dramatic look of woe - I go wild. He and his mother, by the way, blame me for everything and if we ever meet I'm sure they won't speak to me. Marina has had a taste of what I experienced (a son can do no wrong) and now she knows what it's like. She sends you her love and asks to excuse her for not writing, she's so busy and tired, too. She studies five nights a week now because she'll be finishing soon. I told her I'd strangle her if she ever thinks about marriage before she's through and a full-fledged engineer. Alexei has no mother, she died some-time ago, his father is the same as Michael, he heads a theater, but lives with his 2nd wife. Alexei has a room nicely furnished in a 2-room apt. with another young couple. He has proposed but I don't think Marina is in any hurry yet."

Letter dated April 15, 1964:

"Marina was here a few days ago and was so surprised and so ticked. It seems she bad wanted a white blouse with embroidery or lace more than anything else. They are all the rage here now. . ."

Letter dated July 3, 1964, continued on July 5th:

"Just before I left Yalta I received a letter from you, Marina sent it . . "

". . my plan to send Bunny to camp fell through . . Finally Marina managed to get her vacation in July instead of August and she will take Bunny to Estonia where I was in 1960. . Marina needs a rest. . . Since January Anna kept telling me that there was nothing to worry about. Then at the very last minute they refused to take Bunny because he is her nephew and not her son. If it weren't for Marina I don't know what I would have done. . . .I shall have to borrow some money . . . things are rather expensive in the Baltic area - rent is much more. . ."

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Letter dated July 12, 1964:

". . It's hot as hades in Moscow. . .Thank heavens, Marina and Bunny are at the seashore. . ."

"Poor Leo's garden dried up. . while we were gone. . even though Marina came every few days to water it. . "

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

The report of Special Agent Gemberling dated November 30, 1963, on pages 74-76, sets forth interviews with W. W. Scoggins, who on November 22, 1963, was employed as a cab driver for the Oak Cliff Cab Company, Dallas, Texas.

Scoggins advised that at approximately 1:25 p.m. on November 22, 1963, he was sitting in his cab preparing to eat his lunch. His cab at that time was parked on the east side of Patton Street facing north at 10th Street at a point where a stop sign had been, but which had been removed.

He observed a policeman in a squad car going east on 10th Street at a slow rate of speed. This officer stopped on 10th Street just east of Patton, got out of his car, and apparently said something to a man walking west on the south side of 10th Street. When the officer spoke to him, the man stopped.

The next thing that attracted Scoggins' attention was a gun firing and he heard three or four shots, saw smoke near the squad car, and saw the officer fall beside the car on the driver's side. The man, whom the officer had stopped, started running, proceeding west on 10th Street to Patton Street and then south on Patton Street onto Jefferson Avenue. As this man passed Scoggins' cab, he muttered either "Poor dumb cop" or "Poor damn cop", and he was observed to have a pistol in his left hand.

On November 23, 1963, Scoggins identified Lee Harvey Oswald as being the same individual whom he had seen shoot a uniformed police officer of the Dallas Police Department in the 400 block of East 10th Street on the early afternoon of November 22, 1963.

The report of Special Agent Gemberling dated April 15, 1964, on pages 232 and 233, records an interview with Barbara Jeannette Davis, who on November 22, 1963, was residing in an apartment at 400 East 10th Street, Dallas, Texas, the apartment building being located at the southeast corner of East 10th Street and Patton Street.

She advised that shortly after 12 noon, November 22, 1963, she had put her two children to bed for a nap and she had lain down with them. Her sister-in-law, Virginia Davis, was lying on a couch in Barbara's apartment at this time.

Approximately 15 to 30 minutes later she heard two loud reports, which she thought were gunshots. She and her sister-in-law ran to the front door of the house and looked out. She observed a young white man walking across her front yard in a southwesterly direction, who had a pistol in his hand and who appeared to be trying to unload it. The chamber of the pistol was open and he was shaking it as he walked. She and this individual looked at each other and he then disappeared around the corner of the house on Patton Street.

At this point she heard a woman, who was standing on the northwest corner of the intersection of East 10th Street and Patton Street, scream "He shot him, he shot him, he killed him", and saw her point toward a police car parked on East 10th Street, a short distance east of her residence. After seeing the police car approximately a house and a half from her residence, she went into her residence and called the police. She later went to the police car where she observed a uniformed police officer lying on the ground bleeding.

Later that same evening she identified a man in a line-up at the Dallas Police Department as being the same man whom she observed walking across the front of her yard carrying a pistol and trying to empty it. She later learned the individual, whom she identified, was Lee Harvey Oswald.

The report of Special Agent Gemberling dated April 15, 1964, on pages 234 and 235, records an interview with Virginia Davis, who on November 22, 1963, was also residing in an apartment at 400 East 10th Street, Dallas, Texas.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Virginia Davis stated sometime between 1 and 2 p.m. on November 22, 1963, she was lying on a couch in the apartment of her sister-in-law, Barbara Jeannette Davis, when she heard a loud noise like a blowout of a tire. After hearing a second loud noise, similar to the first one, she and her sister-in-law ran to the front door of the house and looked out. She observed a white man crossing the lawn in front of her residence, who was carrying a pistol and shaking it as if he were attempting to empty out some shells. He was walking in a southwesterly direction and disappeared around the corner of the house on Patton Street.

At this point she heard a woman, later identified as Mrs. Markham, who was standing on the northwest corner of the intersection of East 10th Street and Patton Street, scream "He's dead, he's dead, he shot him, call the police." She and her sister-in-law then went back inside the house and Barbara called the police. Shortly thereafter she and Barbara went to the vicinity of a police car, which was about 50 feet east of her home, and she observed an officer lying on the ground near the police car, who had blood on his face and chest.

Later that same evening she identified a man in a line-up at the Dallas Police Department as being the same man she observed walking across the lawn in front of her residence emptying a pistol. The man she identified was Lee Harvey Oswald.

It should be noted neither Barbara Jeannette Davis nor Virginia Davis actually saw the shooting of Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit, but they did observe Lee Harvey Oswald leaving the scene.

Miss Josephine Miller, Drift, Kentucky, advised on August 7, 1964, that she is thirty-eight years of age and was graduated from the Cardome Academy, a Catholic girls' school, Georgetown, Kentucky. She is self-employed in the real estate business and receives coal royalties on some of her property.

Miss Miller forwarded the following letter to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C.:

"December 4, 1963
Box 25
Floyd County
Drift, Kentucky

"Honorable J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington, D. C.

"Dear Sir:

"I wish to ask you for information concerning Lee Harvey Oswald, the accused assasian of our late and beloved president of our United States.

"Is it possible that this man could have been in the Louisville, Kentucky area on September 6th, 1963 or September 7th, 1963?

"I was in Louisville, Kentucky from September 6, 1963 to September 10, 1963 at the Sherriton Sealbach Hotel, and have reason to think that after looking at two or three of his pictures in the Courier Journal, a Louisville,Kentucky paper, that I saw a person at night time on a street in Louisville, Kentucky, who looked like this man Lee Harvey Oswald. I believe itwas the night of September 7th, 1963.

ENCLOSURE

"This man was with two more fellows, approximately the same age, maybe younger. One was carrying three books. The one who looked like Lee Harvey Oswald was carrying a trumpet or cornet musical instrument, and held it with his left hand. He held the instrument with a dignity of pride. He conversed in a foreign language. He was sorta dark complected with black hair, and had on a brown coat or suit identical to the material and weave in one of his pictures, after being captured.

"He conversed with a party I was walking with, and I was told that these boys were 'Pick Pockets'. But there was something about this fellow that stuck in my mind. His tight pressed lips for one reason and of course the musical instrument. I just thought it strange at the time and still do.

"Therefore it would please me if the following information I seek, may be given.

"No.1- Where was Lee Harvey Oswald on September 6, or September 7, 1963 ?

"No.2- Was he ever known to carry a trumpet or cornet musical instrument, out of the case, on the streets ?

"No.3- Was he left or right handed ?

"No.4- Was he ever known at any time to pledge or salute in any fashion such as, the right hand, fist closed on the left shoulder above the heart ?

"I feel it my patriotic duty to clear my mind of this feeling of identication, and the all due respect for our slain president.

"Thanking you for this information I am

"Yours very truly,

The letter of Miss Miller dated December 4, 1963, was acknowledged by the Federal Bureau of Investigation by letter dated December 9, 1963, in which she was advised that President Johnson had instructed the Federal Bureau of Investigation to conduct a full investigation into the assassination of President Kennedy and the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald. She was advised that no developments could be disclosed in connection with this investigation.

Miss Miller forwarded the following letter to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Washington, D. C.:

"July 27, 1964
Drift, Kentucky

"Honorable J. Edgar Hoover, Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
Washington 25, D.C.

"Dear Mr. Hoover:

"I have been debating for the past several months whether ornot I should write and explain why I wrote you the letter of December 4, 1963. And have come to the conclusion that I should. If nothing else it will at least free my own mind. However I relize and have read in the papers that your organization has made the report, that President Kennedy's assassination was the act of one person alone, but then again I read that The Bureau of Investigation would check out all leads in the future.

"I mentioned in my letter of December 4, 1963 that I thought possibly I saw a person in Louisville, Kentucky who looked like Lee Harvey Oswald, and asked you certain questions concerning the accused assasian of our late President, in which you were not at ease to disclose developments in connection with the investigation. As per your letter of December 9, 1963.

"Refering to my letter of December 4, 1963--- After my party and I had left these three boys there on the street and went walking up the street toward the Sheration Seelbach Hotel, this fellow I was walking with suddenly started bumping people with his shoulder (hitting their side or shoulder) and I ask him what he was doing and he said Quote- 'This is how the president is guarded--I use to do a little of that duty my self. I said, ' you are fixing to get your self into a fight--' And he bumped at least two more people.

"Now that I think back about it, he seemed up-set and very emotional or maybe I should say he acted for a few short minutes very strange.

"I had met this person in Prestonsburg, Kentucky around July 1963, and for approxmately two months had a very close association with him. I collaborated with him in reference to writing and poetry etc. Being a very good conversationalist I thought him to a certain extent very interesting, and the fact that he was educated I found our relationship interesting in this field. While our relationship grew and our conversation became closer in these two months, he talked more to me than any one else.

"He spoke of the Bay of Pigs in Cuba and that he was in that invasion. And had gotten scars from this invasion. One evening he fell asleep, and had a nightmare and spoke Cuban names. When he half way awakened he told me with tears in his eyes, about his buddies getting killed in that invasion. And ask me to never mention the incident.

"Then before he left Prestonsburg, Kentucky and went to Louisville, Ky. he said he was with the C.I.A. and the money he earned from this organization was being sent to his children, somewhere in Colorado. He talked more of his family affairs, divorce etc. Living in Jacksonville, Fla. when all his martial problems came up, but I will not go into detail here about this.

"One evening I remember I stopped by his room in Prestonsburg, Kentucky to pick up some papers, and a strange looking character was there. He introduced this fellow to me as a Harvey Lee, or Lee Harvey, I am not sure which way he said the name, but I am positive he said the Harvey part. Any way he wispered to me out side, that this fellow was a nut, and not to pay any attention to him. The young man left and was never mentioned again.

"This person that I collaborated with was working with a sewer project here in Prestonsburg, Kentucky. He also said he was here on a secret done investigation and the boot-legging here in Floyd County. He did have someone that he kept in close contact all the time. He also told me that if I wanted to be one of them, that he would send a fellow around the next day to see me. So I told him that I would study about it. This really made me more suspicious and I tried more to act like that I was interested, so I could find out what he really was doing.

"Then he went to Louisville, Kentucky and said that a higher athority was placing him in teaching. He acted all the time like there was a higher athority telling him what to do and placing him. He wrote me a few letters whilein Louisville, Kentucky during the months of August and September, but none in October or November or the rest of the year. However occasionally he called me. He did have a school there in the city system.

"I had an occasion to be in Louisville, Kentucky from September 6th, 1963 to September 10th.1963 with a friend who is in our state government, and his wife. This friend of mine was working for our incoming governor who was elected that fall. And this was why I was at the Sheration Seelbach hotel with he and his wife. And of course I met again this gentleman associate with whom I was walking with as per my letter of December 4, 1963.

"Approximately two months ago he called me from Louisville, Kentucky and more than once, he would keep me on the phone for an hour or over. He never seemed to want to hang up. This was strange as he was always laking with funds. Most of the time he would play a transistor radio over the telephone, for as long as our personal conversation should last. I thought this very strange, since it was costing money on long distance and knowing he was not financially able to do this. When he called one night I made up a tale to see how he wouldreact. I told him that some men had been asking me questions about him, and he went all to peaces talking on the telephone. He said 'Don't tell any-one any-thing about me'. I said, 'Well I know nothing to tell. all I know is that you said you were in Floyd County on a Dope investigation, and the bootlegging situation. He said the following- Quote 'Well Jo, certain things could be linked that would or could get me into serious trouble.

"So this is one ofthe reasons that I am writing you this second letter because of this saying. And of course thinking that possibly I saw Oswald last September 7th. 1963 in Louisville, Kentucky. All the times I have talked to this party after seeing him in Louisville, Kentucky last September, he has never mentioned this fellow with the musical instrument on the streets in Louisville, Ky., with whom he conversed with and that I remembered and was told that these three boys were 'Pick Pockets'. But he has said many words to me on the telephone in a way to see if I would mention these past recollections.

"I have received three or four letters from him in the past two months. Having ask him when he would make a visit back to the mountains, he always said his face was two familiar to ever return, and wrote the following in one of the paragraphs of his letters. (' AS to my beingable to mke a visit to you, you above all people should know the impossibility of that as I have tried repeatedly to explain to you. It just cant be done. If I did it would tear up some darn good work done by myself and some others. I cannot and will not do that, it not only is a primary thing involving my code of ethics but it is also extremely hazardous. Need I say more along those lines?' UNQUOTE. This kind of writing sounds strange to me for any type of investigator. I don't believe they talk like this.

"This fellow also has a name similar to that used to ship the gun from Chicago, Ill. to Dallas Texas. All this may not mean any thing, but I believe that I am in the right by writing you this information, and that it is my duty to do so. And I relize that this can be very dangrous talk.

"Therefore Mr. Hoover, it is not my wish to get any person or persons in trouble or be involved my self, but I can assure you whether these words be worthy or un-worthy, that I do have a knack of remembering faces. And this has worried me, because I truly believe with all my heart, that the person I saw in Louisville, Kentucky last September 6th, or 7th, 1963 was Lee Harvey Oswald. Of course I also relize that its possible that I could be mistaken. But all these other strange occurances linked together make me believe it this much stronger.

"I trust that you will have confidence and a consideration for my recollections.

"With much respect for you and your organization, and your great endurance with time, I beg to remain,

"Most sincerely yours,

"/s/ Josephine Miller

"THE ' PICK POCKETS' CASE"

Miss Miller advised on August 7, 1964, that she had forwarded a letter dated June 15, 1964, to the Warren Commission, Honorable Earl Warren, Chief Justice of the United States, Washington, D. C., requesting information concerning the whereabouts of Lee Harvey Oswald on September 6, and September 7, 1963, and whether or not it was known if Oswald was left-handed.

Miss Miller said she received an acknowledgement dated June 29, 1964, from the President's Commission of the Assassination of President Kennedy, written by J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, which indicated that no information could be furnished to her until the final report is published.

Miss Josephine Miller advised on August 7, 1964, that she does not want her name published in the Warren Commission report and she did not want her name mentioned to Howard Caddell if Caddell is interviewed concerning her information.

Miss Miller stated that in July, 1963, she met a man by the name of Howard Caddell, who was then residing at the Blue Sky Motel, Prestonsburg, Kentucky. While visiting Caddell at the Blue Sky Motel on one occasion, Caddell introduced her to an individual whom she believed was using the name Harvey. She said Caddell explained to her, subsequent to the introduction, that this individual was a "nut." Miss Miller said she now believes that the man introduced to her in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, as Harvey is not identical with Lee Harvey Oswald and has no connection whatsoever with Oswald.

Miss Miller stated that on another occasion at Prestonsburg, Kentucky, she met another friend of Howard Caddell, whose name she does not recall. She said she does recall that Caddell had stated he was working for a man by the name of Sam Marsh, whom he did not further identify. She said she did not know what connection Caddell has had with Sam Marsh. Miss Miller said that through a friend of hers in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, whom she refused to identify, she developed information that Sam Marsh was working as a construction engineer on the swimming area at Jenny Wiley State Park, Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Miss Miller observed a photograph in the May 19, 1964, issue of "The Courier-Journal," a Louisville newspaper, of one Manuel Ray, who was described as a Cuban rebel leader. She said the photograph of Manuel Ray strongly resembled the individual whom she was introduced to as Sam Marsh. Miss Miller said that Caddell stated he was with the CIA at the time he was in Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and she believed that Caddell may have been connected with Manuel Ray, the Cuban rebel leader, since his photograph strongly resembled Sam Marsh.

Miss Miller said Howard Caddell moved from Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to Louisville, Kentucky, in the fall of 1963.

Miss Miller said she visited Howard Caddell in Louisville, Kentucky, in September, 1963. She said she had gone to Louisville, Kentucky, on this occasion because she was assisting a friend who is in the Kentucky State Government, whom she refused to identify.

On the night of September 7, 1963, Miss Miller and Howard Caddell were in a bar, name unknown, near the Sheraton Seelbach Hotel, Louisville, Kentucky. She could not identify the bar but indicated it had a second floor. She said she recalled she had two Tom Collins while at this bar. When she and Caddell left the bar, they proceeded on foot and shortly thereafter met three young men. She said these three men were recognized by Caddell but Caddell did not introduce them by name. She said she cannot recall the description of two of the men, but does remember they were in their early twenties. Miss Miller described the third male individual as being approximately twenty-three years of age. He is believed to be 5'7" in height and of a medium to heavy build. He had a receding hairline and tight lips. He was wearing a tan or brown sport coat.

She said Caddell spoke to the three individuals in a foreign language, which she now believes may have been Russian. She said the man, whom she has described, complimented her and admired her blonde hair. After the brief conversation with these three individuals, she asked Caddell who these individuals were and he stated they were "pickpockets."

Miss Miller stated that after observing the first photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald, which was published in "The Courier-Journal," a Louisville newspaper, date and issue unknown, she recalled the meeting of these three strange men in Louisville, Kentucky, on September 7, 1963. She said the man, whom she described, looks exactly like Lee Harvey Oswald. She said the tan or brown sport coat which this man was wearing is the same type of weave as that worn by Oswald. She remembers that this individual was carrying what she believed to be a trumpet case in his left hand. She now believes that the trumpet case which this man was carrying could have contained the rifle which was used to assassinate President Kennedy.

Miss Miller said she read the publication reflecting the diary of Lee Harvey Oswald. She recalls that the diary made reference to some blonde female friends. After recalling that the individual she met on September 7, 1963, complimented her and made a comment concerning her blonde hair, she believed this to be further evidence that the man she met was Oswald.

Miss Miller stated that Howard Caddell, as of July 15, 1964, was residing in Room 5, Hotel Stearns, Stearns, Kentucky. She said Caddell is an intelligent individual, however, she believes he has a detective complex. She said several of her friends who have met Caddell told her he was "nuts". She said she does not think he is "nuts" but she does believe he has many personal problems.

Miss Miller said she had written letters to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Warren Commission in an effort to learn whether Oswald was in Louisville, Kentucky, on September 7, 1963, so that she could satisfy her own personal curiosity. She said she did not know whether the information she furnished would be of any value in the investigation of Lee Harvey Oswald.

ReBuairtel 8-5-64, and LSairtel and enclosed letterhead memorandum dated 8-11-64.

Based on the information furnished by Miss Miller, it would appear she is more convinced than ever that the individual she observed in Louisville, Kentucky, on the night of 9-7-63, was Lee Harvey Oswald. Therefore, it appears absolutely essential that Howard Caddell be thoroughly interviewed to either substantiate or disprove Miss Miller's allegations. There does not appear to be sufficient justification in your airtel to preclude interviewing Caddell. Unless in possession of more specific information which would make interview of Caddell undesirable, you are instructed to promptly locate and interview him concerning those specific points in Miss Miller's statement where he should possess sufficient knowledge to substantiate or disprove her allegations. Any additional necessary investigation should be promptly initiated.

On page 8 of your letterhead memorandum Miss Miller states Caddell identified himself as being with the Central Intelligence Agency. The possibility of a violation of the impersonation statute should not be overlooked. Advise what action if any is taken with regard to this possibility.

With regard to Miss Miller's desire that her name not be published in the President's Commission report, it is pointed out the Bureau has no control whatsoever over what the President's Commission publishes or does not publish in its report. Miss Miller by her own statement initiated correspondence with the Commission and it would appear a bit late to request anonymity. Further, it does not appear possible for you to honor her request to not mention her name to Howard Caddell. Louisville is reminded Miss Miller has made allegations, which could be of pertinence to this investigation. The Bureau has been entrusted by the President of the United States, with the responsibility of conducting a thorough investigation, the results of which are furnished to the Commission for its evaluation. Therefore, with this in mind Louisville should proceed with its investigation as instructed.

Since Miss Miller's requests are included in your letterhead memorandum on Page 7, it will be necessary you recontact Miss Miller and explain our responsibilities in this investigation, pointing out to her the necessity of conducting that investigation deemed essential to establish the facts and the possibility of her identity becoming known should we interview Caddell.

For your information and future guidance, when you call attention to errors in a quoted communication by underlining, it is necessary you underline all errors, spelling, punctuation, etc., otherwise errors not detected and underlined will appear to have been made by your office. Several such errors appear in Miss Miller's letters and were not detected by you. It is permissable to indicate the letter is a "True Copy" and merely quote the various paragraphs. In order to correct your letterhead memorandum all underlinings not appearing in Miss Miller's original letters will be erased at the Bureau and you should do likewise.

In addition, pages 7 and 8 should be revised and submitted insuring the following are corrected:

Page 7, paragraph 4, lines 2 and 3, change "did" to "does;" paragraph 6 end of line 12, should be changed to read "...issue of 'The Courier-Journal' a Louisville newspaper of one..."

Page 8, paragraph 4, line 6, "pickpockets" is one word, a hyphen is necessary at end of line, paragraph 5, lines 2 and 3, name of paper should be correctly set out.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

The results of all additional investigation should be furnished to the Bureau as a supplement to that already furnished in your letterhead memorandum. A suitable paragraph should be included disclosing that Miss Miller was advised it might not be possible to conceal her identity from Caddell, in view of the nature of our inquiry and the circumstances in this particular matter.

You should afford this matter expeditious attention.

NOTE: Miss Miller by letter 12-4-63, posed several questions concerning the assassination and made substantially the same allegations as in her 7-27-64, letter. She claims to have met an individual in Louisville on 9-7-63, who she feels was Oswald. Louisville was instructed to interview Miller inasmuch as the whereabouts of Oswald during September, 1963, are not positively known although it is suspected he was in New Orleans during this month. Louisville interviewed her on 8-7-64, and she maintains on the night of 9-7-63, she and a friend Harold Caddell met three young men, one of whom resembled Oswald, and to whom Caddell spoke to, possibly in the Russian language. She claims this man was carrying a case, and she feels it could have held the assassination rifle. Louisville does not desire to interview Caddell as he is former PCI discontinued because of [redacted] Although Miss Miller's allegation may have no basis, it would appear logical and necessary to interview Caddell. Unless Louisville is in possession of additional information which would preclude interview of Caddell, it is felt the above instructions should stand. When this matter is complete, the Commission will be advised.

There is also attached a copy of a letter to the Commission from Assistant United States Attorney, Martha Joe Stroud, Dallas, Texas, and an accompanying photograph of a nick in the curb taken by Tom Dillard of the Dallas Morning News on 11/22/63.

You should first attempt to locate the nick in the curb and sutel the Bureau whether or not you can locate it. Since the nick area, if located, will be analyzed spectrographically in the Laboratory, you are cautioned not to clean the curb area or otherwise make any alterations that would effect such laboratory examination. If the nick is located, you will be furnished detailed instructions regarding photographs to be made before removal of this portion of the curbing as well as instructions for removal after the pictures are made. You should determine through contact with appropriate Dallas officials whether or not there is any objection to the removal of a portion of the curbing. For the spectrographic examination, it will be necessary to have the nick and the curbing approximately four to six inches around it intact. The amount of curbing removed beyond this will be determined by the method of removal that is used in order to retain the portinent area intact.

To locate the nick in the curb on the south side of Main Street, you should use the photograph made by Mr. Underwood taken from the nick toward the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building (TSBDB). If you move along the south curb of Main Street until all objects in view are aligned as they are in the picture, that point should be within inches of the nick in the curb providing Mr. Underwood actually made the picture from the nick as he stated. The best guide to use initially is the lamp post between the two buildings on the right side of the photograph. After that is aligned, other objects can be checked such as the sign on the left and its relation to the steps and the TSBDB as well as the lamp posts on the north side of Elm Street and their relation to specific areas of the TSBDB. Sutel results of efforts to locate the nick on the curb.

The photographers, James Underwood and Tom Dillard, may be of assistance to you in locating the nick in the curb. In this regard, you should interview both photographers and submit letterhead memoranda in compliance with Item 3 of the attached letter from the Commission. For your further information, Item 1 of the Commission's letter is being handled by the Laboratory. Item 2 will be handled by the Laboratory depending upon whether or not the nick in the curb can be located after which you will be furnished further instructions relative to submission of the piece of curbing. The Laboratory will also make a comparison of photographs to be made after the nick is located, with photographs made by Underwood and Dillard as requested in Item 3.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On June 30, 1964, you forwarded to the Commission two photographs obtained by your Dallas office from James Underwood, a newsman with KRLD-TV in Dallas. Enclosed herewith is a photograph forwarded to the Commission from Martha Joe Stroud, Assistant United States Attorney in Dallas. We are also enclosing a copy of a letter from Miss Stroud indicating the conditions under which this photograph was obtained.

Since the photographs taken by Underwood purport to indicate the exact point on the curb where this niche is located, we request that your Bureau perform the following investigatory steps:

(1) Using either the model of the assassination scene or a diagram, please trace the path which a missile would have taken if it traveled from the sixth floor southeast corner window to the point on the curb indicated in these photographs, and then advise us of the approximate frame in the Zapruder film which would correspond to the point at which this missile would have passed over the President's car.

(2) We would like an analysis made of this mark on the curb to determine whether there are any lead deposits there or any other evidence upon which a conclusion can be reached as to whether this mark was caused by the striking of a bullet.

this curbing has been designated C 321. The piece of curbing was removed on 8-5-64 and is now in the custody of the FBI Lab. by the FBI laboratory.

Small foreign metal smears were found adhering to the curbing section at an area which bears a mark. These metal smears were spectrographically determined to be essentially lead with a trace of antimony. No copper was found.

The lead could have originated from a lead bullet, the lead core of a metal jacketed bullet such as the type of bullet fired from a Mannlicher-Carcano rifle, such as C7 or some other source of lead into 6.5 mm Mannlicher-Carcano cartridges or from some other source having the same composition.

The absence of copper precludes the possibility that the mark on the curbing section was made by an unmutilated military type full metal jacketed bullet such as the bullet recovered from the Governor Connally stretcher, C1 or the bullet or bullets represented by the jacket fragments, C2 and C3, found in the Presidential limousine. Further, the damage to the curbing would have been much more extensive if a rifle bullet had struck the curbing without first having struck some other object.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated July 7, 1964, requesting additional examination of the mark appearing on the curbing on the south side of Main Street near the triple underpass at the assassination site in Dallas, Texas. This mark was located and was found to be 23 feet, 4 inches from the abutment of the triple underpass. The Laboratory comparison of the mark as it now appears with the photographs made by James Underwood, a newsman for KRLD-TV in Dallas, and Tom Dillard, a photographer for the Dallas Morning News, establishes they are photographs of this same mark. Four copies of the results of the interviews with Mr. Underwood and Mr. Dillard are attached.

In response to your inquiry, assuming that a bullet shot from the sixth floor window of the Texas School Book Depository Building struck the curb on the south side of Main Street at the location of the mark described above and assuming it passed directly over the President, the bullet would have passed over the President at approximately frame 410 on the Zapruder film. This is 97 frames after the shot that struck the President in the head which is frame 313. At 18.3 frames per second, this represents a lapse of time of 5.3 seconds between frame 313 and frame 410. Based on a direct shot from the sixth floor window to the curb on Main Street, this bullet would have passed over the center of Elm Street at an elevation of about 18 feet from the street level. It is noted that in frame 410 of the Zapruder film, Mrs. Kennedy has returned to the seat beside the President and Secret Service Agent Hill is about midway from the back bumper to the President crawling across the trunk lid.

The piece of curbing containing the mark was removed on August 5, 1964, and examined in the FBI Laboratory. This curbing has been designated as Item C321 by the Laboratory. Small foreign metal smears were found adhering to the curbing section within the area of the mark. These metal smears were spectrographically determined to be essentially lead with a trace of antimony. No copper was found. The lead could have originated from the lead core of a mutilated metal-jacketed bullet such as the type of bullet loaded into 6.5 millimeter Mannlicher-Carcano cartridges or from some other source having the same composition.

The absence of copper precludes the possibility that the mark on the curbing section was made by an unmutilated military-type full metal-jacketed bullet such as the bullet from Governor Connally's stretcher, C1, or the bullet or bullets represented by the jacket fragments, C2 and C3, found in the Presidential limousine. Further, the damage to the curbing would have been much more extensive if a rifle bullet had struck the curbing without first having struck some other object. Therefore, this mark could not have been made by the first impact of a high velocity rifle bullet.

It was also determined from a microscopic study that the lead object that struck the curbing causing the mark was moving in a general direction away from the Texas School Book Depository Building. Assuming this mark was made by a fragment of a bullet from the assassin's rifle, the evidence present is insufficient to establish whether it was caused by a fragment of a bullet striking the occupants of the Presidential limousine, such as the bullet that struck the President's head, or whether it is a fragment of a shot that may have missed the Presidential limousine.

This completes the request in your letter dated July 7, 1964. The piece of curbing is available in the FBI Laboratory. A photograph of the mark on the curbing before removal and a photograph of the curbing after removal are attached.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

SUBJECT: "RED ROSES FROM TEXAS"
BOOK BY NERIN E. GUN

Captioned book has been received from Legat, London, following publication by Frederick Muller Limited, London. This book is the English version of a book previously published in French language by Gun which had the title "The Red Roses of Dallas." Gun's book is a report on the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

The French version, "The Red Roses of Dallas," was reviewed previously at the specific request of the President's Commission. Results of that review were set forth in memorandum Mr. Branigan to Mr. Sullivan dated 7/1/64 and the Bureau's comments on the various unfounded allegations by Gun were furnished to the President's Commission by letter dated 7/2/64.

The English and French versions of Gun's book have been compared and found to be identical with only a few exceptions. Photographs of the assassination scene and evidence carried in the English version do not appear in the French version. In addition, there are several minor editorial differences such as Chapter 13 in the French version having the title "The Empty Armchair" and the same chapter in the English version having the title "I Could Stay Here For Ever." The latter title refers to an alleged statement by the late President Kennedy made during a visit with Mrs. Kennedy to the Arlington National Cemetery.

While Gun, a writer of Turkish nationality who has been in the United States since the mid-1940s, wrote a complimentary article on the Bureau in the leading Italian pictorial magazine "Epoca" in February, 1964, he previously wrote in 1960 an article for a French magazine which was unfriendly to the FBI. Gun has been described as an opportunist and an individual who would help anyone who paid him.

As set forth in referenced memorandum Mr. Branigan to Mr. Sullivan dated 7/1/64, Gun has based much of his discussion of the assassination matter on speculation, confused and unreliable press accounts, disregard of and/or lack of facts, and a desire to dramatize and achieve high readership or notoriety. In both versions of his book Gun attempts to cast doubt on the so-called "official version" of the assassination and the evidence which points to Oswald's guilt as a lone assassin. The English version of the book, as the French version previously published, contains no factual information that would cause the Bureau to alter its conclusion that Oswald acted alone in the assassination of President Kennedy.

No review is being made of the English version of Gun's book for the President's Commission, inasmuch as Commission has been furnished our comments on the previously published French version which is the same as the English version with minor exceptions noted as above. Information regarding Gun was previously furnished the President's Commission by letter 7/2/64.

NOTE: The Commission requested several investigative steps be taken to substantiate or disprove an allegation that prior to the assassination Oswald and his wife, Marina, visited the Irving Sport Shop to have a telescopic sight mounted and sighted on a rifle. This was initially reported by an employee of the store, Dial D. Ryder who allegedly found a repair tag with the name Oswald on it. This allegation has been somewhat supported by two women Mrs. Gertrude Hunter and Mrs. Edith Whitworth, who claimed they saw the Oswalds and directed them to the sport shop. The circumstances of this whole situation indicated Ryder prepared the repair tag after the assassination. However, he is so involved he can't back out now. The women appear mistaken in their identification as the supporting data furnished by them is not consistent with what we know of the Oswalds' background. The enclosed communication from Houston discloses that Mrs. Hunter is known to exaggerate and has an "obsession" to inject herself into any big event. Her family reportedly knows she has a tendency to tell "tall tales." When the remaining investigation is received, the Commission will be notified.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reply to your letter of August 4, 1964, enclosing a copy of a telegram to the President's Commission from Mr. Mark Lane, there are enclosed herewith two copies of the July-August, 1964, issue of "Fact" magazine.

The statement attributed by Mr. Lane to Mr. Melvin Belli concerning a Dallas Police Officer and another who sought on November 23, 1963, to have Ruby approve the idea of killing Oswald appears on page 13 of this magazine. The article quotes Mr. Belli as stating that "the cop and his girl just disappeared" and he could never locate them. Since Mr. Belli cannot identify the Dallas Policeman and the girl friend referred to by him, interview of Mr. Belli concerning this statement would not appear warranted.

As you are aware, Jack Ruby has identified the police officer and his girl friend as former Dallas Police Officer Harry Olsen and Kathy Kay Coleman, a former employee of Ruby's. Interviews of Olsen and Coleman and related investigation do not indicate they sought any such approval from Ruby.

NOTE:

The President's Commission in enclosing the telegram from Mark Lane requested that we conduct an appropriate investigation to include an interview with an attorney, Melvin Belli, regarding statements he was alleged to have made. We obtained copies of the article referred to by Lane, and Belli specifically states that he was never able to locate the "cop" and the girl friend whom he refers to as having spoke to Ruby on the night of 11/23/63 and tried to get him to approve the idea of having Oswald lynched. Our investigation has identified the "cop" as Harry Olson, formerly of the Dallas Police Department, and Kathy Kay Coleman, a former stripper at Ruby's club. We have interviewed Olsen and Coleman extensively concerning their alleged contact with Ruby on the night of 11/23/63 and they made no statements indicating they sought Ruby's approval for lynching Oswald. This was called to the attention of Mr. Griffin of the President's Commission who requested that we furnish copies of the article and that we not interview Belli pending receipt of a further request from the Commission.

By letter dated August 6, 1964, the President's Commission advised Mrs. Gertrude Hunter, Irving, Texas, had furnished certain information alleging she had observed Lee Harvey Oswald in Irving, Texas, in November, 1963, in an automobile she believed was a 1957 Ford, blue and white in color. Mrs. Hunter expressed the opinion this automobile was similar to an automobile owned by a Houston couple whom she identified as "Mr. and Mrs. Dominick."

On August 11, 1964, Mrs. Hunter advised the Dallas Office of the FBI the couple she had referred to from Houston, Texas, was "James and Doris Dommney," 8133 Locksley, Houston, Texas. Mrs. Hunter indicated "Mrs. Dommney's" mother, a Mrs. Patterson, had written Mrs. Hunter that the "Dommneys" were planning to visit Irving, Texas, during November, 1963.

On August 13, 1964, Mrs. Doris M. Dominey, 8133 Locksley, Houston, Texas, was interviewed at Dugan's Drug Store, 8415 East Houston Road, Houston, Texas, where she is employed as a cashier. Mrs. Dominey stated her husband, James E. Dominey, is employed as a truck driver.

Mrs. Dominey stated she is well acquainted with Gertrude Hunter of Irving, Texas, Mrs. Dominey's sister being married to Mrs. Hunter's brother.

Mrs. Dominey was questioned regarding the descriptions of all automobiles owned by her family during 1963. She replied her husband owns a pickup truck, but the only passenger automobile owned by the family during 1963 was a 1958 model Ford sedan. This automobile was purchased in 1958 and the color was originally turquoise and white. In 1960, Mrs. Dominey had an accident in this automobile and it was repainted. Since 1960 the color of this automobile has been black with a white top.

ENCLOSURE

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Dominey related she and her husband last visited in the Dallas area in approximately February, 1963, and she could recall that trip was made in the pickup truck and not in the Ford sedan. Mrs. Dominey has not seen Mrs. Gertrude Hunter in the Dallas - Irving area since approximately February, 1963, but she has received several letters from Mrs. Hunter. Mr. and Mrs. Dominey did not visit Irving, Texas, in November, 1963; they never had any plans to visit Irving, Texas, at that time; and they never told anyone that they had plans for such a visit.

When questioned as to whether Mrs. Hunter had ever informed her she had any knowledge of Lee Harvey Oswald or any aspect of the assassination of President Kennedy, Mrs. Dominey advised as follows:

Mrs. Hunter never told Mrs. Dominey in a letter or otherwise that she possessed any information whatever concerning Oswald or the assassination; however, in June, 1964, Mrs. Dominey's mother, a Mrs. Patterson, died and many of the relatives gathered for the funeral. One of these relatives told Mrs. Dominey that Mrs. Hunter had claimed she had been working at some store, believed by Mrs. Dominey to have been a variety store in Irving, Texas, and had waited on Oswald. Mrs. Dominey could not recall which of the many relatives relayed this remark to her. It is Mrs. Dominey's recollection that Mrs. Hunter claimed to this relative she had sold some gun sight or part of a gun to Oswald. Mrs. Dominey stated when this information was related to her, she and the other relatives present considered it a joke and put absolutely no credence in it.

In explaining the above statement, Mrs. Dominey advised that while she realized Mrs. Hunter possibly could have seen Oswald in the past, she felt the investigating authorities should be warned regarding certain "personality traits" of Mrs. Hunter. According to Mrs. Dominey, Mrs. Hunter has had a strange obsession for attempting to inject herself into any big event which comes to her attention. As examples of this inclination, Mrs. Dominey explained that Mrs. Hunter is likely to claim some personal knowledge of any major crime which receives much publicity. In further explanation of this trait of Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Dominey stated if a tornado should strike out of a clear sky, Mrs. Hunter will claim that she had known the day before that this event was to occur. Mrs. Dominey stated that the entire family is aware of these "tall tales" Mrs. Hunter tells and they normally pay no attention to her.

PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

During the conversation on August 13, 1964, with Mr. J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission, Mr. Rankin mentioned the requests that have been made of the Bureau to furnish the number of reports, the number of pages, as well as the number of interviews and man hours which have been consumed in the over-all investigation. Mr. Rankin stated that the number of pages as well as the number of reports, as furnished by the Bureau's letter of August 13, 1964, would be most helpful and that he certainly did not expect the Bureau to perform the tedious task of counting the actual number of interviews or to compile the number of man hours utilized. He advised that when the request was made he thought there was a possibility this data might be readily available.

Mr. Rankin stated that in order to give the Bureau due credit for the tremendous amount of investigation which had been performed by the Bureau, it was intended that a statement would be included in the "foreword" of the Commission's report, mentioning the extent of the Bureau's activity.

Polygraph Examination of Ruby:

Mr. Rankin stated that Chief Justice Warren had recently returned to the United States, following which he, Mr. Rankin, had briefed the Chief Justice thoroughly concerning the Bureau's assistance in affording Jack Ruby a polygraph interview on July 11, 1964. Mr. Rankin stated that the Chief Justice was most appreciative that the Bureau had gone ahead with this polygraph examination in view of the personal promise that he had made to Jack Ruby that he would be afforded a polygraph examination. He stated that the Chief Justice was fully cognizant and appreciative of the various sound observations which had been made by the Bureau relative to affording Ruby a polygraph examination, but regardless of the Bureau's feelings in this matter, we had gone ahead and complied with the request of the President's Commission.

Memo to Mr. Belmont from A. Rosen
Re: President's Commission

Mr. Rankin advised that with regard to the polygraph examination, there would be a discussion in the report of the Commission showing the conditions under which this polygraph examination was given to Jack Ruby and the report would quote the Bureau's letters therein, where we set forth our observations relative to the desirability of giving Ruby such an examination.

Bureau's Interest in Rights of Individuals:

During the discussion, Mr. Rankin mentioned that staff members of the Commission were very much interested in seeing that the comments of the Director and Mr. Belmont were brought to light in the Commission's report in such a way that they would receive appropriate attention rather than appearing solely in the testimony itself. He advised that this matter had not been taken up with the seven members of the Commission as of this time but this would be done very shortly and that it was his desire to see that the Bureau's interests in the rights of individuals was properly related in an appropriate part of the report. Mr. Rankin did not volunteer where in the report this information would be set forth.

Comments Concerning the Bureau's Participation in the Investigation:

Mr. Rankin commented that throughout the tremendous amount of work which has been done concerning the assassination of the President, the FBI had certainly carried a tremendous workload, and that while Secret Service had performed a small amount of investigation at the request of the Commission and a few other agencies had done some minor work, the bulk of the investigative activity had been carried on by the FBI. He stated that throughout the entire existence of the President's Commission the Bureau had cooperated fully and never on any occasion refused to carry out a request of the Commission, regardless of how ridiculous the request might have seemed on the surface. He stated he was well aware of the fact that many of the requests did not have any basis in fact for being run out but because of the nature of the investigation, the Commission felt that it had to be done. He stated he felt that the Bureau's efforts along these lines would certainly reflect favorably on the Bureau's investigation and the amount of interest that was given to detail, both by the Bureau and the President's Commission. He stated that all in all, he felt that the Commission's report would certainly reflect creditably on the FBI.

Date of Final Report by the Commission:

Mr. Rankin advised that the present target date for the submission of the report of the Commission was September 8, 1964. He stated he sincerely hoped that the Commission would be able to meet this target date but that as of the present time he was not certain whether this could be done. In this connection Mr. Rankin mentioned the fact that he was aware the Bureau had received a number of requests in recent weeks and that all of the requests of the President's Commission were being complied with as rapidly as possible. He also stated that anything that could be done to expedite these late requests would be appreciated.

Mr. Rankin was assured that the Bureau was well aware of the Commission's desire to wind up their activity and that specific instructions had been given to all offices conducting investigation to complete all phases of our investigation in the shortest possible time.

This is being watched most carefully at the Seat of Government and we are seeing that all offices are handling matters on an expeditious basis.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

I inform you by this letter that Mr. McKenzie will no longer represent me after the trial (sic) has ended; all he has to do is to transfer money from one bank to another. Therefore, I request you to address me personally in the future should my services be needed by the Commission.

I do not think that I need an attorney; moreover, I cannot afford expensive lawyers, particularly when I testify before the Commission; no lawyer is necessary when one tells the truth.

I would like to request from you a copy of my testimony before the Commission. Mr. McKenzie told me that he has already requested it from you. Please send it to my address and in my name, together with a bill for expenses in connection with this. After the conclusion of the work of the Commission, I would ask you to send me all my personal belongings and those of my husband (photographs, documents, diary, clothes, etc.).

As to the rifle belonging to my husband (however, I do not know to what extent my wishes in this case would be of importance to the Commission), it is my wish that the rifle become the property of the United States Government, but not be exhibited for public view during my lifetime.

Respectfully,

Dear Mr. Rankin!

Этим письмом сообщаю Вам, что я больше не буду представлять интересы Освальда, как мой бывший защитник должен только переслать деньги из одного банка в другой. Теперь, поэтому, в дальнейшем обращайтесь ко мне, если я могу быть полезна Комиссии.

Я думаю, что мне не нужен адвокат, да и не по карману оплачивать хороших адвокатов, поэтому когда я дам показания перед Комиссией, т.к. говорить правду - адвокаты не требуется.

Разрешите спросить у Вас копию моих показаний перед Комиссией. Мистер Маккензи сказал мне, что он уже заплатил ей у Вас. Я хочу перевести ее на свой язык и мне кажется, что это будет справедливо. Также я хотела бы получить копию всех показаний Освальда, которые он давал перед Комиссией, а также все письма, фотографии, документы, фильмы, видеозаписи и т.д.).

Что касается фильма, принадлежащего мистеру Шоу (мне не было известно, что он был в этом случае судьей Комиссии), то я хочу, чтобы United States Government, по моей просьбе не дало бы ему показывать его в течение (2) лет.

Thereafter, "Life" Magazine obtained permission from MARINA OSWALD for publication of diary for $20,000 plus one half share of all foreign sales of the issue containing the diary. Additional inquiries made at Dallas Police Department and Dallas District Attorney's Office. Disposition of film and prints in possession of Dallas Police Department and Dallas District Attorney's Office summarized. I. INTERVIEW WITH HOLLAND MC COMBS, DALLAS CORRESPONDENT FOR "LIFE" MAGAZINE

FD-302 (Rev. 3-3-59)

HOLLAND McCOMBS was interviewed in his office, Room 1112 Republic National Bank Building, Dallas, Texas. Mr. McCOMBS stated he is the Dallas correspondent for "Life" magazine. He made telephonic contact with Mr. JOHN F. DOWD, General Counsel for "Life" magazine in New York City, for approval to furnish the FBI any information he had concerning the purchase of a copy of the diary of LEE HARVEY OSWALD by "Life" magazine. After receiving this telephonic approval, Mr. McCOMBS stated he would furnish the FBI any information he had concerning the matter.

Sometime prior to June 25 or 26, 1964, McCOMBS learned from LARRY GROVE, a Reporter for "The Dallas Morning News," that the diary of OSWALD was in existence. On about June 25 or 26, 1964, McCOMBS learned from GROVE that HUGH AYNESWORTH, a Reporter for "The Dallas Morning News," had a copy of the diary. McCOMBS explained that the existence of the diary did not "excite" him as it had been common knowledge among the news media that such a diary was in existence and was believed to be in possession of the President's Commission.

On June 25 or 26, 1964, McCOMBS telephonically contacted AYNESWORTH and told AYNESWORTH something to the effect that he, McCOMBS, had information that AYNESWORTH was in possession of a copy of the diary and wanted to know if AYNESWORTH could "ethically sell" a copy of the diary to "Life" magazine. This appeared agreeable to AYNESWORTH and McCOMBS asked AYNESWORTH if he would bring a copy of the diary to McCOMBS' office. AYNESWORTH told McCOMBS that he didn't have time and requested McCOMBS to come to AYNESWORTH's house, 729 North Buckner, Dallas. McCOMBS explained that it was a worry to himself and to his superiors in "Life" magazine that perhaps this was not the only copy which had been sold and that they were buying something that was not exclusive.

McCOMBS recalls that, during his contacts with AYNESWORTH by telephone, he was told by AYNESWORTH that McCOMBS should talk to AYNESWORTH's wife about the purchase of the copy of the diary.

McCOMBS advised he contacted Mrs. AYNESWORTH by phone and at first offered her a thousand dollars. He was advised by her that she knew a thousand dollars was not enough. McCOMBS requested her to find out about a price through discussion with her husband and, when he telephoned her again later that same night, he was told that the price was $2,500. McCOMBS then received approval to pay this amount from his superiors in New York City. The next morning he went to the AYNESWORTH residence, where he met PAULA AYNESWORTH, the wife of HUGH AYNESWORTH. Except for the AYNESWORTH's small child, the only persons present in the house at that time or during the negotiations with Mrs. AYNESWORTH were Mr. McCOMBS and Mrs. AYNESWORTH. Mrs. AYNESWORTH had the twelve pages consisting of a copy of the diary in the living room at the time. McCOMBS described them as being on legal-size paper and that they had a smooth finish and appeared to be a copy made from a Photostat or Recordak-type copying machine. These twelve pages were the only documents he observed in the possession of Mrs. AYNESWORTH.

McCOMBS offered to pay Mrs. AYNESWORTH with a $2,500 check, but she advised she did not want a check and he asked her if a money order or cash would be sufficient and she replied, "A money order would be fine." A contract between Mrs. AYNESWORTH and McCOMBS, as a representative of "Life" magazine, was signed and was worded in such a way that neither "The Dallas Morning News" nor AYNESWORTH would sell any other copy. After receiving the copy of the diary, Mr. McCOMBS notified his New York Office with instructions to send a $2,500 money order to Mrs. AYNESWORTH at her residence.

Mr. McCOMBS explained that he could understand why HUGH AYNESWORTH did not have time, at that particular time, to enter into negotiations, as AYNESWORTH was then undoubtedly preparing his story concerning the diary, which was published in "The Dallas Morning News" on June 27, 1964, and was thereby operating under a newspaper deadline. Mr. McCOMBS stated there was nothing secretive or, in his opinion, illegal in the dealings with AYNESWORTH for the purchase of the copy of the diary. He advised he had no information as to AYNESWORTH's source for receiving the diary, nor did he ever ask AYNESWORTH, as he, McCOMBS, didn't want to know.

Mr. McCOMBS stated he had no information whatsoever that any representative of the FBI, United States Secret Service, the President's Commission, the Dallas Police Department, or the Dallas District Attorney's Office was responsible for the furnishing of a copy of the diary to anyone including AYNESWORTH.

After receiving the diary from Mrs. AYNESWORTH, McCOMBS and officials of "Life" magazine at New York City began worrying about the legalities of publishing it because the diary was not the property of AYNESWORTH but was, in his opinion, part of the estate of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and, therefore, the property of MARINA OSWALD. On June 30, 1964, TENNYSON SCHAD, of "Life" magazine, New York City, flew to Dallas and, with McCOMBS, began negotiations with MARINA OSWALD through her attorney, BILL McKENZIE, to enter into a contract with MARINA, whereby "Life" magazine would be given permission to publish the diary. They contacted MARINA OSWALD and Mr. McKENZIE at MARINA's residence and it was the opinion of Mr. McCOMBS that at first MARINA, who didn't want anything to do with any magazine or newspaper, appeared to be humiliated by the existence of a diary. It was also McCOMBS' opinion, based on her actions and demeanor, that she did not know anything about the diary. The first offer made to McKENZIE and MARINA by "Life" magazine was for $5,000. "Life" magazine desired to not only have permission to publish the diary but to obtain some photographs or snapshots in the possession of MARINA which had been taken in Russia. Because of MARINA's attitude towards the representatives of "Life" magazine and the news media in general, SCHAD and McCOMBS left the house and waited outside while McKENZIE, at the suggestion of McKENZIE, had a long discussion with MARINA. Also present was Mrs. DECIAN FORD, who was acting as MARINA's interpreter.

McCOMBS explained that the presses of "Life" magazine in Chicago were literally being held in abeyance for the signing of a contract with MARINA. Mr. McCOMBS stated he believes the final agreement was for MARINA to receive $20,000, plus a one-half share of all foreign sales of the issue containing the diary, for which she would give permission to print the diary and five photographs. MARINA, through her attorney, wanted to know where "Life" magazine had obtained the diary. McCOMBS stated that, only after obtaining permission from Mrs. AYNESWORTH to disclose HUGH AYNESWORTH as the source from whom "Life" magazine obtained the diary, did he reveal this information to McKENZIE and MARINA.

Sergeant M.A. SOUTHERLAND, Records Bureau, Dallas Police Department, advised that sometime in January 1964, he received orders from Deputy Chief GEORGE L. LUMPKIN to take the two original rolls of 35 millimeter Recordak film to the Recordak Company and have two positive copies made of this film. Sergeant SUTHERLAND advised he did this and, after the work was completed at the Recordak Company, he returned the original two rolls of film and the two positive prints to Chief LUMPKIN's office. He stated he did not know the reason or the purpose of this copying work as he was acting under orders of a Deputy Chief of Police.

He advised that his office presently has one positive copy of this Recordak Film which they maintain in a locked file drawer, and that Chief LUMPKIN is in possession of the original two rolls of Recordak film and one positive copy.

Deputy Chief of Police GEORGE L. LUMPKIN, Dallas Police Department, advised that he is presently in possession of the original Recordak film which had been received by the Dallas Police Department in December 1963, from the FBI. He is also in possession of two positive copies made from this Recordak film for the Police Department by the Recordak Company, Dallas.

The original film is kept under lock and key in a locked cabinet in Chief LUMPKIN's office and is presently in that cabinet. The two positive copies are maintained in the Records Bureau of the Dallas Police Department under the supervision of Captain O. T. SLAUGHTER and are in a locked cabinet.

Chief LUMPKIN stated he has never looked at any of these films and could not furnish any information as to the quality of them.

Chief LUMPKIN advised that copies have been made from the Police Department film through the Recordak Company. Chief LUMPKIN stated no record was maintained to show how many copies were made, but definitely recalled that one copy was furnished to the U. S. Secret Service, one copy to the FBI, Dallas, and two copies were given to State Attorney General WAGGONER CARR, for which a receipt was obtained. Chief LUMPKIN explained that the State Attorney General's office had requested that whenever any items, documents or photographs were furnished to their office that they be furnished a duplicate as one copy of each such item furnished was then forwarded by the Attorney General's office to the President's Commission. Chief LUMPKIN stated that from his calculations, six copies of the film were made at the request of the Dallas Police Department through the Recordak Company, and, through the above, had accounted for all six copies.

Chief LUMPKIN described this film as consisting of two rolls of 35 millimeter film. He further recalled that in early June 1964, these two rolls of film were loaned to Assistant District Attorney WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER and were returned the following day by ALEXANDER.

He further stated that Captain WILL FRITZ of the Homicide Bureau, from time to time, did request certain portions of the film to be copied in connection with Captain FRITZ's investigation. Chief LUMPKIN did not know if these copies were made by the Identification Bureau of the Dallas Police Department or the Recordak Company.

Lieutenant JOHN C. DAY, Dallas Police Department Crime Laboratory, advised he recalled, although no record was ever kept, that on several occasions, either Captain O. T. SLAUGHTER or Sergeant M. A. SOUTHERLAND, or Patrolman H. L. CRAIGHEAD, all of whom are assigned to the Records Bureau of the Dallas Police Department, brought a 35 millimeter negative film to the Crime Laboratory. They would project this film and thereafter copy certain portions as requested by one of these officers. This copying work would normally consist of a few frames of film.

Lieutenant DAY stated he does not recall the number of copies ever made at one time, but that it would be the number requested by one of the officers. He stated he had no idea as to the reason or purpose of this copy work, nor what was done with the copies made by the Police Department Crime Laboratory.

Captain WILL FRITZ, Homicide and Robbery Bureau, Dallas Police Department, advised that on three or four occasions, the exact number unknown or unrecalled, he has requested the Records Bureau of the Dallas Police Department to have certain pprtions of a 35 mm Recordak film copied by the Identification Bureau of the Dallas Police Department. The work in the Identification Bureau would have been under the supervision of Lieutenant J. C. DAY. He stated that the portions copied would have been needed in connection with the investigation of the assassination of President JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY and the subsequent murder of LEE HARVEY OSWALD by JACK RUBY which was investigated by the Dallas Police Department, Homicide and Robbery Bureau. He advised that all of the copies made of portions of the film are still in his possession and kept under lock and key in his office. He also added that copying of these portions was necessary in view of the fact that the original evidence seized by the Dallas Police Department which had been the property of OSWALD had been turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation after being photographed in the above-described 35 mm Recordak film. He stated, therefore, the only thing he could use in viewing this evidence were copied portions of the film. He further stated he could not recall which portions of the film had been copied at his request and did not recall if the diary of LEE HARVEY OSWALD had ever been copied.

III. INTERVIEW WITH RUSSELL W. POLLARD OF RECORDAK COMPANY, DALLAS, TEXAS

Mr. RUSSELL W. POLLARD, residence 1623 Heather Glen Drive, Dallas, advised he is the Production Supervisor at the Recordak Company, 1605 Stemmons Freeway, Dallas.

Mr. POLLARD advised that there would be no such thing as a "false run" on any hard copy paper prints made from a 35 millimeter film. He explained that the two rolls of film received by him on June 2, 1964, from WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER were negative copies. Because of this and because of the order placed with the company by ALEXANDER, a positive and a negative copy were then made from the original negative. The original negative copies were immediately returned to ALEXANDER on June 2, 1964. The positive and negative copies retained by the Recordak Company were part of the package delivered to ALEXANDER on June 9, 1964, and which were picked up by the messenger from the Dallas County Clerk's office, C. D. LEE.

He explained that the negative copy made from the original negative was the one used in the reproduction of the hard copy paper prints and that 600 prints in total were made, three each of the 200 frames exposed in the original negative.

Mr. POLLARD stated that whenever there is a false run made on the movie film or the original negative, a record is maintained as he must account for all wastage. He stated there is no such record in connection with the transaction with the District Attorney's office and that he recalled no false run having been made. He believes Mr. ALEXANDER may have been mistaken when the original negative on June 2, 1964, was taken into the processing room by another employee prior to the arrival of Mr. POLLARD and then returned by this employee to Mr. POLLARD after he arrived and talked to Mr. ALEXANDER.

Mr. POLLARD recalled that when he learned the package containing the positive and negative film copies and the hard copy paper prints had been given to C. D. LEE for delivery, he made two telephone calls, one to LEW EARNHART, and the other to Mr. WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER. He told Mr. EARNHART to have LEE immediately deliver the package to Mr. ALEXANDER upon his arrival at the County Clerk's office and not to open it. He called Mr. ALEXANDER as a double check and advised him that LEE had picked up the package.

Mr. POLLARD stated that the company records show that a total of five positive copies of the film meeting the standards of the company had been reproduced from the original negative in possession of the Dallas Police Department. Three copies were made on December 2, 1963, and at that time one poor copy or test copy was also furnished to the Dallas Police Department at no cost. On January 7, 1964, two positive copies were made, thus making a total of six positive copies. From the original negative copy furnished by Mr. ALEXANDER, a negative and a positive copy were made, as well as the hard copy paper prints.

IV. INTERVIEW WITH MILLARD SWEATT OF THE DALLAS DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE, DALLAS, TEXAS

FD-302 (Rev. 3-3-59)

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date 8/5/64

MILLARD SWEATT, residence 8378 San Fernando Drive, Dallas, advised he is employed as an investigator by District Attorney HENRY WADE, Dallas.

SWEATT recalls that sometime in June 1964, when Assistant District Attorney WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER was making preparations to go on his vacation, ALEXANDER was explaining his, ALEXANDER's, file set-up so that if, in his absence, anything was needed from his office, Mr. SWEATT could locate it. SWEATT recalled ALEXANDER picking up a package which was about three inches thick, about twelve inches wide and about fourteen inches or fifteen inches long. This was a package wrapped in brown Manila paper and sealed with brown paper tape. It was unopened. ALEXANDER started to make reference to this package as some "photostats," but then stated that Mr. WADE had a copy.

After a story appeared in "The Dallas Morning News" concerning the diary of LEE HARVEY OSWALD which SWEATT read on June 28, 1964, and after the return of District Attorney HENRY WADE from Seattle, Washington, at about the same time, SWEATT received instructions from WADE to take everything out of ALEXANDER's office which pertained to JACK L. RUBY and LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

SWEATT found in one unlocked drawer the above-described sealed package and in another drawer a small box measuring about four inches by four inches which contained some movie film about an inch wide. In a third unlocked drawer he found a red cardboard folder in which there were numerous "photostats." He glanced through these "photostats" and saw the name "OSWALD" on one and on another saw what appeared to be some copies of photographs. He took these three items and gave them to Mr. WADE. Mr. WADE informed him that there was another box of film in ALEXANDER's office. SWEATT explained to Mr. WADE that two of the cabinets in ALEXANDER's office were locked.

At Mr. WADE's instructions, SWEATT contacted ALEXANDER at home by telephone and was advised by ALEXANDER that there was another box of film in one of the locked cabinets. SWEATT stated he never saw this other box of film and had no information as to what was contained in the film or the "photostats" other than what he described above.

Mr. SWEATT stated he could not recall what date he picked up the above items from ALEXANDER's office, but believed that this occurred two or three days after the story appeared in the newspaper.

Mr. SWEATT stated he had no information whatsoever that any representative of the FBI, the President's Commission, the U. S. Secret Service, the Dallas Police Department, the Dallas District Attorney's office or anyone else was responsible for any unauthorized release of the documents or "photostats" to any news media.

V. INTERVIEW WITH CLARENCE BOOKER T. LEE, ALSO KNOWN AS "GENERAL" AND "C.D." LEE OF THE DALLAS COUNTY CLERK'S OFFICE, DALLAS, TEXAS

Date 8/7/64

CLARENCE BOOKER T. LEE, residence 2515 Crossman Street, Dallas, advised he is also known by the nickname of "General," and is frequently referred to as "C. D." LEE.

Mr. LEE stated he is employed as a deputy clerk in the Dallas County Clerk's office and that his duties consist mostly of making deliveries and general clerical work.

Mr. LEE recalled that sometime in the early part of June 1964, he had gone to the Recordak Company on Stemmons Freeway to pick up some packages which were ready for delivery to the County Clerk's office. Someone, whose name he does not know, at this company told him there was a package ready for the District Attorney's office and instructed LEE to take it to the District Attorney's office.

LEE brought the package to the County Clerk's office without any stops en route. He noticed that the package was addressed to the District Attorney's office and believes that the name of Assistant District Attorney WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER was in the address.

Mr. LEE advised he talked to Deputy Clerk LEW EARNHART and was instructed by EARNHART to take the package directly to Mr. ALEXANDER. LEE advised he took it to Mr. ALEXANDER's office and personally gave it to Mr. ALEXANDER. He did not observe ALEXANDER open the package as he left immediately after delivering it. Mr. LEE believed that the package measured about six inches high by fifteen inches long by twelve inches wide. He stated that it was one package and he was of the opinion that it was wrapped in brown wrapping paper, which is the way that packages are usually wrapped by the Recordak Company.

Mr. LEE stated that this package was not opened or tampered with at any time it was in his possession, and it was in the same condition at the time he gave it to Mr. ALEXANDER as it was when he picked it up at the Recordak Company. He

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at her residence, 629 Belt Line Road, concerning the publication of the LEE HARVEY OSWALD diary. She was questioned concerning her statement that HUGH AYNESWORTH, a Reporter for "The Dallas Morning News" had asked her about the OSWALD diary in an interview which he had had with MARINA. MARINA said that on this occasion AYNESWORTH had asked her some questions about the OSWALD diary. She repeated that she told AYNESWORTH she did not care to discuss the diary. She said she could not remember exactly what she and AYNESWORTH had said in this regard. She said she may have told him that she might want to use the diary in some book that she might write or that she would never want the diary published. She cannot remember the exact conversation. She does remember that she did not mention to AYNESWORTH that the President's Commission was studying the diary.

VII. SUMMARY OF DISPOSITION OF FILM AND PRINTS OBTAINED BY DALLAS POLICE DEPARTMENT AND DALLAS DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S OFFICE, DALLAS, TEXAS

DL 100-10461

In the interview of District Attorney HENRY WADE on July 9, 1964, and in connection with the exhibiting and furnishing of certain items by Mr. WADE on July 10, 1964, to SAs ROBERT M. BARRETT and IVAN D. LEE, the following should be noted for clarification:

The cardboard folder containing "hard copy prints of evidence" consisted of a large number of hard copy prints, which, when stacked together, measured about two inches thick. Each item has a number, but these prints were not in any numerical order. Mr. WADE also had two unopened packages in his possession which were suppose to contain hard copy prints of what appears in the two rolls of 35 mm Recordak film. From the cardboard folder SA BARRETT and SA LEE obtained the items enumerated as follows:

Item Number 116 -- Twelve pages reported to be a copy of the diary of LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Item Number 406 -- A letter from the Communist Party, dated July 31, 1963, directed to OSWALD

Item Number 425 -- A copy of the undesirable discharge of OSWALD

Item Number 444 -- A copy of a vaccination certificate of OSWALD.

It appeared to the Agents that there were approximately 200 hard copy prints in the cardboard folder.

Mr. WADE had advised that each unopened package was suppose to contain 200 hard copy prints of items photographed in the Recordak film, however, he had never counted these prints. It was unknown to Mr. WADE and to the Agents interviewing him whether the complete diary of LEE HARVEY OSWALD was in these packages. After opening one of the packages, the Agents noted that Items Number 116, 406, 425, and 444 were in this package opened in their presence, but not in any numerical order.

It is also noted that MILLARD SWEATT found two packages in the office of Assistant District Attorney WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER, one unopened, and one in a cardboard folder. The other unopened package was already in the possession of District Attorney WADE.

In the interview of Mr. WADE on July 9, 1964, it is noted that ALEXANDER gave WADE one of the unopened packages in June, 1964. The other unopened package in the possession of Mr. WADE, as per interview of July 10, 1964, was the one which Mr. SWEATT had found in ALEXANDER's office. Copies of Items 116, 406, 425, and 444 were obtained from the package already opened and which, according to interview of ALEXANDER, had been opened by Mr. ALEXANDER at the time he received same in June, 1964, when it was delivered to him from the Recordak Company, Dallas. These prints were in the cardboard folder described above.

For purposes of clarification, the following is a disposition of copies made of the 35 millimeter Recordak film, the original of which was furnished to the Dallas Police Department in December 1963, by the Dallas Office of the FBI and which consisted of two rolls of 35 millimeter film:

On December 2, 1963, the Dallas Police Department had three positive copies made; however, they received an additional copy which was of poor quality, making a total of four. On January 7, 1964, the Dallas Police Department had two positive copies made. Total number of positive copies, therefore, is six. Two of these copies and the original are still in the possession of the Dallas Police Department. One copy was furnished to U. S. Secret Service and, on July 8, 1964, according to FORREST V. SORRELS, Agent in Charge, U. S. Secret Service, Dallas, this copy was furnished to the U. S. Secret Service Headquarters, Washington, D. C. One copy was furnished the FBI Office, Dallas, which in turn has been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory, Washington, D. C., on December 2, 1963. Two copies were furnished to State Attorney General WAGGONER CARR, one of which was to be forwarded to the President's Commission. A receipt for these two copies was obtained by the Dallas Police Department. All of the above are positive copies. The original film is a negative.

On June 2, 1964, using the negative copy borrowed from the Dallas Police Department, Assistant District Attorney WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER had copied a positive and a negative, which were obtained by Bureau Agents on July 10, 1964, from District Attorney HENRY WADE, and which are presently in possession of the Dallas Office of the FBI and which will be returned to Mr. WADE in the near future. The only hard copy paper prints made from this film were those made for the District Attorney's office on June 2, 1964, by Recordak Company and those made July 1, 1964, as per the interview of Mr. RUSSELL POLLARD, Recordak Company, Dallas, on July 7, 1964.

The following is the results of a Federal Bureau of Investigation Laboratory examination and Latent Fingerprint Section, Identification Division, examination of the following items obtained from HENRY WADE, District Attorney, Dallas, Texas:

One roll of 35 mm positive film;

One roll of 35 mm negative film;

Fifteen Xerox prints of some of the pages of OSWALD's diary.

The New York Office had furnished the Federal Bureau of Investigation Laboratory copies of OSWALD's diary purchased by "Life" Magazine.

Examination of these items in the Federal Bureau of Investigation Laboratory has established that the 35 mm positive film obtained from the Dallas District Attorney's Office contains imperfections in their original state that are reproduced in the 35 mm negative film obtained from the Dallas District Attorney's Office. In addition, these imperfections from the positive film, plus some original imperfections in the negative film, are all reproduced in the Xerox prints of this film obtained from the Dallas District Attorney's Office and are also reproduced in the Xerox prints from "Life" Magazine. This shows that the "Life" Magazine copies originated from the 35 mm films from the Dallas District Attorney's Office.

The Xerox copies of the diary obtained from the Dallas District Attorney's Office and the Xerox copies obtained from "Life" Magazine were all examined for latent fingerprints. Seventeen latent fingerprints and three latent palm prints were developed on the copies from "Life" Magazine. Five latent fingerprints and four latent palm prints were developed on the copies from the Dallas District Attorney's Office. One of the latent fingerprints on the copies from the Dallas District Attorney's Office is identical with the left thumb print of a WILLIAM FRANKLIN ALEXANDER who may be identical with WILLIAM F. ALEXANDER, Assistant District Attorney, Dallas, Texas. The other fingerprints and palm prints have not been identified.

ReBuairtels 7-30-64, and 8-12-64, and Dallas airtels 8-7-64, and 8-14-64, relating to Mark Lane's appearance on the Barry Gray radio program.

The above is furnished for your information.

NOTE:

Commission by undated letter which was received 7-29-64, enclosed 2 recording tapes of the appearance of Lane on the Gray radio program believed to have taken place on 7-19-64, wherein Lane alleged there was another female witness to the murder of Officer Tippit. The Commission specifically requested we check this out. The enclosed LHM discloses this allegation is completely without foundation. Since the assassination, Lane has made numerous unfounded allegations which is consistent with his known actions. The tapes are being returned pursuant to the Commission's request and they are also being furnished two copies of a 27-page transcription of this broadcast. In the transcription Lane also alleges the FBI as well as SAC Shanklin of Dallas made press releases concerning developments which Shanklin categorically denies. With regard to the specific Commission request it is pointed out

NOTE CONTINUED ON PAGE THREE

Helen Louise Markham was one of two eyewitnesses to the murder of Officer Tippit by Oswald. Lane apparently made a tape recording of a telephone conversation with Markham without her consent or knowledge. He has endeavored on several occasions to use this tape out of context to show that there is a question as to Oswald's guilt, although Markham's statements substantiate Oswald's involvement. The Commission is fully aware of this situation.

Re Dallas airtel 8/12/64, which requested Norfolk and Los Angeles to attempt to locate MALCOLM JERRY HOY.

The following investigation was conducted by SA HENRY A. WELKE of the Norfolk Division:

On 8/18/64, Mrs. JEAN TOWLES, Norfolk Retail Merchants Assn., produced a record card on WILLIAM THOMAS HOY, wife MARTHA. This indicates that HOY has been a matter of record since 1946. Since that time he has lived at at least 11 different locations in Norfolk. He and his wife MARTHA have seven children. Mr. HOY is blind and sells pencils in downtown Norfolk.

Mrs. TOWLES produced a card on MALCOLM J. HOY, 8577 Tidewater Drive, Norfolk. This indicates that he has been a matter of record since 6/9/62, at which time he was employed with the Best Ever Ice Cream Company, Norfolk.

On 8/18/64 Miss LILLIAN D. BROWN, Social Welfare Bureau, Norfolk, advised that MALCOLM MORGAN HOY, born 6/8/42, Chattanooga, Tenn., is the son of WILLIAM and MARTHA HOY. The HOYs have seven children and reside at 9206 Hickory Street, Norfolk. The father is blind and the family has been receiving welfare assistance since 1938.

On 8/19/64 Mr. and Mrs. WILLIAM HOY were contacted at their residence. They advised that their son, MALCOLM, had served in the U.S. Army for three years and had received an honorable discharge in 1962. They stated that in 1963 their son went to Dallas, Tx., where he obtained employment with the General Motors Corporation as a spot welder. They said that he terminated employment there about five months ago and they have not heard from him since. They have no idea as to his present whereabouts.

They stated that as of 10/21/63 MALCOLM resided at Apartment 106, 4320 San Jacinto St., Dallas. His neighbor's phone number was TA-6-5202.

As of 3/64 he resided at 6914 West Lake Avenue, East Dallas. From there he moved to his last known address - Apt. B, 4840 Junius Ave., Dallas.

At the Junius Ave. address, MALCOLM resided with Mrs. HOY's brother - ROBERT MORGAN, aged 42, who works at an unidentified cement company in Dallas.

MALCOLM's sister - SHARON JONES, who is married to CHARLES A. JONES - resides on Swiss Street, number unknown, Dallas. Mr. JONES works at the Wire-All Electric Company, Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. HOY stated that in Dallas MALCOLM had met a young divorcee named PAULETTE LNU, aged 21, who worked in an unidentified dress factory in downtown Dallas. HOY bought PAULETTE a number of things, including a record player, T.V. set, and clothing. Until recently, she lived at an unknown address on Adrans Road in East Dallas and had phone number TA-3-8561.

The HOYs stated that PAULETTE jilted MALCOLM and they speculated that because he felt badly about this, he may have left the Dallas area.

The HOYs stated that MALCOLM has always been a well-behaved young man who had an exemplary Army record. The only difficulty he was in that they know of was when he was arrested by the Norfolk, Virginia, Police Division, a number of years ago. MALCOLM and several other boys were "messing with cars" on a used car lot in Norfolk. As a result, the juvenile court placed him on probation for a few months.

The HOYs stated that in the event they hear from MALCOLM, they will advise the Norfolk Division.

Info copy is being furnished Los Angeles in view of their efforts to locate MALCOLM HOY.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letters dated July 30, 1964, and August 5, 1964, requesting comparison of the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald in two photographs designated as Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B and a photograph appearing on page 26 of the December 14, 1963, issue of the Saturday Evening Post, designated Yarborough Exhibit A, with the shirt which is Commission Exhibit 150.

It has been determined that the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald in the photograph appearing on page 26 of the December 14, 1963, issue of the Saturday Evening Post (Yarborough Exhibit A) is the same shirt as Commission Exhibit 150. It was not determined whether the shirt being worn by Lee Harvey Oswald in Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B is the same shirt as Commission Exhibit 150 because there is insufficient detail in these photographs to warrant a positive identification. It is pointed out that the original color slides from which the Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B were made have not been located; however, a duplicate color slide of the original color photograph of Gerald L. Hill Exhibit B shows that the shirt being worn by Oswald in this photograph is the same color and fabric design as the shirt that is Commission Exhibit 150.

This completes your requests set out in letters dated July 30, 1964, and August 5, 1964. Yarborough Exhibit A and Gerald L. Hill Exhibits A and B are attached.

ReBuairtel to New Orleans and WFO dated 7/13/64, which requests WFO contact appropriate agencies in Washington, D. C., to determine if any of these agencies have a record of OSWALD, whether alone or with others, distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature in the vicinity of the U. S. fleet in New Orleans.

Enclosed for Bureau are five copies, for Dallas and New Orleans one copy each of an LHM describing investigation ONI, Washington, D. C., in this respect. WFO reasoned that only logical agency check this area was ONI; hence checks were confined to that agency.

Information from WILBUR SARTWELL was furnished to SA ROBERT C. PUTNAM, WFO. GORHAM was interviewed by SA JAMES F. MORRISSEY, who reviewed ONI files for information pertaining to the described incident.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - R - CUBA

It will be recalled that a Mr. Martin Samuel Abelow advised that in or about June of 1963, while on a vacation trip in New Orleans, Louisiana, he observed a young man distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee leaflets to a crowd waiting to board a United States aircraft carrier, which was docked in New Orleans at that time. It will also be recalled that in a letter to Mr. V. T. Lee, then National Director of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, Oswald said that "we also managed to picket the fleet when it came in and I was surprised at the number of officers which were interested in our leaflets."

Pursuing the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald, either alone or with others, may have distributed Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature under the circumstances indicated above, inquiry was made at the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI).

On July 14, 1964, Wilbur Sartwell, ONI, Potomac River Naval Command, telephonically advised a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), that the files of his office contain no information that would relate to the subject and the incident described above. He indicated any such record would be at Headquarters, ONI.

On July 15, 1964, Mr. Don Gorham, Acting Chief, NCISC-3, United States Naval Counter Intelligence Support Center, ONI, made available to a representative of the FBI, the Headquarters, ONI files pertaining to the subject.

A review of these files, on July 15, 1964, failed to disclose any record of, or reference to, the circumstances described previously in this communication. This also includes a summary of information available in the file relating to the subject up to the period of the assassination.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Gorham pointed out that the actual file of ONI is with the President's Commission, that the files reviewed represent about ninety-eight per cent of available ONI information pertaining to the subject. He said he did not recall any reference to such an incident possibly involving the subject, and felt if there had been such an incident reported it would have been contained in the previously mentioned summary.

Re Dallas airtel to Bureau dated 8/12/64.

MALCOLM JERRY HOY located and interviewed this date. He advised he had no information pertaining to OSWALD, JACK RUBY or assassination of former President KENNEDY. HOY was present at corner of intersection at which motorcade turned just prior to assassination. He heard what he thought sounded like explosion of fire-crackers at that time. Believed there were about four close reports; could not be certain of number. Did not realize what happened until later in day while in lobby of movie theater.

Admitted firing old single shot .22 caliber black open breech loading rifle into pillows in closet of room at 2222 Harlandale, Dallas, Texas for target practice about early part of 1963. Gun given to HOY by landlady's son. Incident reported to and handled by police. No reason for target practice. Claimed never owned or used any other gun except while in U.S. Army, 1959-1960. Also summarized is investigation to locate passengers who traveled on 10/2/63 on Transportes del Norte (TDN) Bus No. 332 from Mexico City and San Luis Potosi to Monterrey and on TDN Bus No. 373 from Monterrey to Nuevo Laredo and Laredo. All information set forth hereinafter has been reported previously to the Bureau in a disseminable form.

GUESTS AT THE HOTEL DEL COMERCIO

As has been reported, records at this hotel are maintained in a rather inaccurate and unsatisfactory manner. In no case did a guest on registering give a complete and accurate home address and in many cases not even the name of the guest was complete.

From the hotel register covering the period from 9/27/63 through 10/1/63 approximately 71 names and partial names were obtained. This is an approximate figure inasmuch as some cases of duplication were noted. From this group of names some 37 persons have been located and interviewed to date. In order that some idea might be had with regard to the widespread area which had to be covered in locating these persons, there are being set forth below their home towns, home states, and

None of the 37 persons interviewed furnished any information of value concerning OSWALD's activities in Mexico. On initial interview on 5/23/64 by an informant, GABRIEL CONTRERAS UVINA of Ciudad Camargo claimed that on one occasion he had occupied a table with OSWALD in a small restaurant next door to the Hotel Del Comercio, this being done due to the crowded condition of the restaurant. He claimed they had no conversation due to the language barrier. On reinterview by a Bureau Agent on 7/29/64, CONTRERAS said that a woman named LOLA, operator of the restaurant, had told him he occupied a table in the restaurant with OSWALD on one occasion. CONTRERAS pointed out that at that time he was in Mexico City for a cataract operation on his eyes and because of his bad vision he did not recall this incident.

On 8/7/64 DOLORES (LOLA) RAMIREZ DE BARREIRO, proprietor of the restaurant "Loncheria Esperanza," identified a photograph of CONTRERAS as being that of a man who sat at the same table in the restaurant with OSWALD on at least one occasion.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ of Reynosa, when interviewed by a San Antonio source on 7/10/64, told of having been at the Hotel Del Comercio during the pertinent period with FRANCISCO MORALES. He claimed that at the hotel were residing two young Cuban Negro males, one of whom was supported by a Cuban Negro woman who also resided at the hotel. He alleged that on about 9/23/63 these three Cubans went to the Mexico City airport and met a fourth, older Cuban who arrived by plane from Cuba. This latter subsequently departed for Miami, Florida, to join his wife.

LIMA JUAREZ said that some time prior to the departure a street photographer took a picture of LIMA JUAREZ, MORALES, GABRIEL CONTRERAS, and the two older Cuban men.

LIMA JUAREZ also stated that in the latter part of September, 1963, he saw a young American man, believed by him to be identical with OSWALD, speak briefly in English with the two Cuban Negroes.

Previous investigation had established that the hotel register listed no Cuban nationals as guests during the time OSWALD was there. The hotel owner corroborated this fact. One guest, ANTONIO OLIVA, listed as a Mexican national, was thought possibly to be Cuban because of his manner of speech; however, when he was located and interviewed, it was determined that he is a Honduran Negro born in La Ceiba, Honduras.

When interviewed following the LIMA JUAREZ statements, the hotel owner again reiterated that there had been no Cuban guests at the hotel when OSWALD was there. He remembered that prior to that time some Cubans had stayed at the hotel. He recalled that the last Cuban to leave was one JULIAN HUERTA, since fully identified as JULIAN FRANCISCO HUERTA OLIVA. He was at the hotel through 9/22/63 and traveled to Miami on 9/23/63.

Interviewed by Miami and New Haven, HUERTA OLIVA alleged there were no other Cubans at the hotel when he was there. He made available a copy of the photograph mentioned by LIMA JUAREZ. In addition to LIMA JUAREZ and HUERTA OLIVA appearing in the photograph were CONTRERAS UVINA, FRANCISCO

MORALES, and MANUEL SANTOS. This latter has been identified as a Mexican citizen from Saltillo, Coahuila. Thus it can be seen that LIMA JUAREZ was mistaken in stating that two Cubans appeared in the photograph, there only being one, HUERTA OLIVA.

It was thought that ANTONIO OLIVA, the Honduran, might have been one of the "Cuban Negroes" seen by LIMA JUAREZ talking with the person believed by him to be identical with OSWALD. On interview OLIVA claimed never to have seen OSWALD or to have had any contact with him.

While it is felt that the LIMA JUAREZ allegations regarding the Cubans have been discredited in that HUERTA OLIVA, the only Cuban identified as being at the hotel, departed Mexico for Miami four days before the arrival of OSWALD at the hotel, it is suggested the Bureau may desire to have New Haven reinterview HUERTA OLIVA to ascertain whether his friend, NESTOR CARBONELL, might be identical with one of the three other Cuban males mentioned by LIMA JUAREZ. It is noted that HUERTA OLIVA advised New Haven that on arrival in Mexico City from Cuba he was met at the airport by CARBONELL.

The above has been set forth in considerable detail to show that of the 37 hotel guests interviewed only 2, CONTRERAS UVINA and LIMA JUAREZ, furnished any information possibly bearing on the case. Even this information appears to be of doubtful veracity and value.

Very extensive negative investigation has been conducted through established sources and contacts in an effort to locate the remaining hotel guests. The major portion of this investigation has not been reported to the Bureau because of its negative nature.

Investigation established that passenger M. H. VILLANUEVA did not travel. It also established that passenger No. 12, handled by the travel agency called Chihuahuenses, was H. O. LEE, believed to be identical with OSWALD. Passenger No. 15, handled by the travel agency called A. Viajes, was identified as ANASTASIO RUIZ MEZA.

Of the 15 passengers, excluding OSWALD, who departed Mexico City, the following 10 have been identified, located, and interviewed:

MARGARET A. WOLFF
J. M. DE CUBA
Mrs. J. M. DE CUBA
AUGUSTO AGUILAR
EULALIO RODRIGUEZ
ANASTASIO RUIZ MEZA
PH. VAN DER VORM
JOSE BARRIGA
Mrs. JOSE BARRIGA
AGAPITO DEL RIO

Two of these 10 passengers, ANASTASIO RUIZ MEZA and EULALIO RODRIGUEZ, positively identified photographs of OSWALD as being those of a person they had noted on the bus.

Of the remaining 5 passengers, extensive investigation has failed to result in their location. The incomplete names of Miss COSIO and A. MARTINEZ, this latter a very common name in Spanish, has made their location most difficult. The same is true to some extent with the names of ROBERTO P. GONZALEZ and JORGE DAVILA.

The problem of the location of PAULA RUSIONI has been a most intriguing one. From the TDN offices in Monterrey, two portions of ticket No. 9511, which on the passenger list appear to have been issued to her, were obtained. These two portions covered travel from Mexico City to Monterrey and from Monterrey to Laredo, Texas. This would definitely indicate that someone used the tickets for travel; however, Mexican Immigration records fail to contain information to indicate that anyone with the name of PAULA RUSIONI departed Mexico during 10/2-3/63. U. S. INS records are likewise negative. A check of all available Mexican records, such as Social Security, income tax, passports, police, etc., as well as records of the American and Italian Embassies in Mexico City, has failed completely to reveal any information concerning her.

From all of the above, the conclusion almost has to be reached that for reasons unknown the name of PAULA RUSIONI was an assumed one given to the bus company in Mexico City and that the person using this name departed Mexico and entered the U. S. at Laredo under a different name.

TDN records indicate that 10 passengers boarded TDN Bus No. 332 at San Luis Potosi. No passenger lists are prepared at this latter place. Through records of a feeder bus line at Guadalajara and a comparison of ticket numbers, it was possible to determine that three of the San Luis Potosi passengers had reservations in the name of HILDA QUEZADA, one in the name of CECILIO CARDENAZ, another somewhat illegible but probably JOSE CRUZ, one in the name of PEDRO GZLEZ. (probably GONZALEZ), and one in the name of MAXIMINO ESQUIVEL.

The last four mentioned persons were identified as CECILIO CARDENAS MENDEZ, JOSE CRUZ CUELLAR, PEDRO GONZALEZ YERENA, and MAXIMINO ESQUIVEL LIMON. All four were located and interviewed. All recalled making the trip on the bus from San Luis Potosi to Monterrey, but were unable to furnish any information of value, largely due to the fact that they had purchased a three-liter barrel of tequila prior to their departure from Guadalajara and consumed a goodly portion of the same en route to Monterrey.

No information was available to indicate the identity of the remaining 3 passengers who boarded the bus at San Luis Potosi. From collateral investigation growing out of a review of Mexican Immigration records, one of the 3 passengers was identified as HERBERT VOORHEES. On interview he recalled a young American who was on the bus and who resembled OSWALD; however, he was unable to make a positive identification.

Investigation has shown that TDN Bus No. 332 terminated its trip at Monterrey and passengers continuing on to Nuevo Laredo and Laredo transferred to TDN Bus No. 373. Only two passengers, in addition to those proceeding from Mexico City and San Luis Potosi, boarded TDN Bus No. 373 in Monterrey. These two passengers were unidentifiable due to the fact that no passenger lists are prepared in Monterrey for the trip to Nuevo Laredo and Laredo.

TDN records reflect that one person, either one of the passengers already on TDN Bus No. 373 or someone else, purchased a ticket for travel from Nuevo Laredo to Laredo

Summing up the above, it can be seen that a possible total of 29 persons, including OSWALD, were involved in one way or another in travel from Mexico City, San Luis Potosi, and Monterrey to Nuevo Laredo and Laredo. Of this total of 29, 15 have been located and interviewed.

REQUEST OF BUREAU

Inasmuch as all reasonable logical investigation has been conducted in an effort to locate all guests at the Hotel Del Comercio during the time OSWALD was there and to locate all bus passengers who traveled with OSWALD on 10/2-3/63 from Mexico City to Laredo, the Bureau is requested to advise whether it desires this investigation to be continued. As set forth above, 37 of the approximately 71 guests at the hotel have been located and interviewed and 15 of the 29 bus passengers have been located and interviewed.

The Bureau is also requested to advise whether it desires to have submitted in a form suitable for dissemination a summary of the negative investigation made to locate the remaining hotel guests and the remaining bus passengers. Other than making this negative investigation a matter of record at the Bureau and with the President's Commission, no useful purpose would appear to be served by disseminating such information.

In addition, inquiry at Alliance, Inc., telephone MU 3-1277, determined this company is a research organization and is also engaged in the sale of books.

On July 31, 1964, Mrs. Annette Wright, Home Counselor, St. Thomas Street Housing Authority, 909 Felicity Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised there is no building designated 1A or an apartment designated 1A in the St. Thomas Project. She advised that the fifth block of the project on St. Mary Street is actually located in the 600 numbered block of St. Mary Street. She stated she would make a thorough search and review of tenant records for all buildings located on St. Mary Street to determine if any units were let during the pertinent period to a B. Artego, Lee Harvey Oswald, or Jack Ruby, as well as to determine if names of any of these individuals were included on tenants' records as guests or visitors.

Mrs. Wright advised there are five buildings of the project located on St. Mary Street, namely buildings numbered 500, 501, 504, 509 and 515. She said each building contains six family units.

On August 4, 1964, Mrs. Wright advised a thorough search and review of records of tenants located in buildings on St. Mary Street for the year 1963 revealed no information indicating any unit had been let to B. Artego, Lee Harvey Oswald, or Jack Ruby. Further, she said the names of these individuals were not contained on any of the tenants' records as guests or otherwise.

Mrs. Wright said as Home Counselor, she makes visits to each tenant through the project and she has received no information of any kind relative to Oswald or Ruby having been in the project or having stayed in the project. She said in this regard she was certain had there been any "look alikes" in the area, word of it would have reached her or some member of her staff.

Mrs. Wright said the name B. Artego is totally unfamiliar to her and it is not contained in records of the project as a past or present tenant or employee.

Mrs. Wright said she is familiar with pictures of Oswald and Ruby as they appeared in the newspapers and on television and she is unable to recall anyone in the project during the pertinent period who bore a resemblance to either individual.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Wright advised that at the present time, there are no tenants residing on St. Mary Street who were located there during June and July, 1963.

Investigation in this matter, previously reported, has revealed Lee Harvey Oswald resided at 4905 Magazine Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, during July, 1963.

On July 30, 1964, records of the New Orleans Office of the FBI were reviewed relative to information concerning B. Artego. These records contained no information identifiable with any individual by the name of B. Artego.

On July 31, 1964, Mrs. Marcelle Madden, Clerk, Identification Bureau, New Orleans Police Department, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised there was no record of a B. Artego in the files of that Bureau.

On July 31, 1964, Wilba L. Hull, Jr., Cadet Officer, Record Room, New Orleans Police Department, New Orleans, La., advised the records of that office contained no record card for B. Artego.

On July 31, 1964, B. T. Kaylor, Manager, New Orleans Retailers Credit Bureau, Inc., New Orleans, Louisiana, advised there was no record of B. Artego in the files of that office.

On July 30, 1964, the current New Orleans, Louisiana, Telephone Directory, as well as the 1962 R. L. Polk Directory, for New Orleans, were reviewed for listings of B. Artego, with negative results.

The investigation reported herein resulted from a telephone call to the Houston Office by LEOPOLDO TANGUMA, mentioned herein. It is noted that the actual complainant who alleged that SIDNEY JOSEPH WHITESIDE had been in touch with LEE HARVEY OSWALD was Mrs. ENEDINA RAMIREZ, who has obviously been suffering from mental disorders and is considered of questionable reliability by her own family. The interview of WHITESIDE strongly suggested that he was telling the truth in denying any knowledge of OSWALD, and consequently no further inquiries are being made in this matter.

RE: SIDNEY JOSEPH WHITESIDE

On August 11, 1964, Leopoldo Tanguma, 1900 West Humble Street, Baytown, Texas, advised he was employed by the Harris County Library in Houston, Texas. Tanguma stated his sister, Mrs. Eneidina Ramirez, resided at 1602 West Gulf Street in Baytown and was employed by Frank's Cleaners in Baytown. Mrs. Ramirez was married very briefly; her husband disappeared shortly after the marriage and none of the family knows of his whereabouts.

Tanguma stated in approximately April or May, 1964, Mrs. Ramirez told him she had been having dates with Mr. Sidney Whiteside, a man approximately sixty years old, who had been employed by the Humble Oil Company Refinery in Baytown for many years. Mrs. Ramirez told Tanguma that in about March, 1963, Whiteside had told her he had been at Houston, Texas, and had met a very interesting and intelligent young man by the name of Lee Oswald. Mrs. Ramirez told Tanguma that Whiteside told her this young man could speak Russian fluently and had once resided in Russia. Tanguma stated he did not believe this story and asked his sister how she had been able to remember the name of Lee Oswald inasmuch as it held no significance at all in March, 1963. Mrs. Ramirez replied she recalled this name because when it was mentioned to her by Whiteside she had commented to Whiteside that she had a brother named Lee. Mrs. Ramirez made no mention of the cities of Dallas or New Orleans in connection with her recollection of this conversation.

ENCLOSURE

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Tanguma stated he wanted to report that during the period in question, covering the first several months of the year 1963, his sister, Mrs. Ramirez, was suffering severely with "nervous sickness." Tanguma stated his sister was never confined to a mental institution but she had been quite ill and was unable to work for a period of several months. Tanguma stated he was convinced at the time that his sister had just imagined this or that Whiteside was just "handing her a line" inasmuch as he was exhibiting a romantic interest in Mrs. Ramirez and there was a very marked difference in their ages. Tanguma stated his sister told him in April, 1964, that she had repeated this information to no one else.

Tanguma stated he did not report the above information when his sister first gave it to him because he was utterly convinced there was no truth in the story and he would feel guilty in reporting such information from his sister, who he realized had been mentally disturbed and had been known to fabricate such stories. Tanguma stated that on August 10, 1964, he happened to be talking to his sister again and she asked him why he had not believed the Oswald story when she first related it to him. Tanguma stated on the latter occasion he merely told his sister that he thought she had probably misunderstood Whiteside.

Tanguma further related Mrs. Ramirez had claimed that Whiteside had strong racial prejudices and had told her that race riots would occur in the Unites States in the future and some day there would have to be a revolution. Tanguma stated he himself had never met Whiteside and could furnish no information other than the remarks related to him by Mrs. Ramirez.

On August 12, 1964, Mrs. Jewell Spear, Personnel Department, Humble Oil Company Refinery, Baytown, Texas, advised records of that company indicated Sidney Joseph Whiteside was born May 11, 1904, at Timpson, Texas, and entered on duty with the Engineering Department on August 5, 1929. Whiteside retired from this company on December 31, 1962, at which time he held the position of drafting supervisor.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Spear stated she was well acquainted with Whiteside, both personally and through their association at the Humble Refinery. She stated as of 1935 Whiteside was married to Mrs. Elizabeth Whiteside, whom he later divorced. Several children were born to this marriage, all of whom are now adults. Whiteside later married a young stenographer at the Humble Refinery by the name of Helen McKay but they were divorced in 1958 after a short marriage.

Mrs. Spear stated Whiteside was a very smart man in many respects but was a type of man who is "his own worst enemy." Mrs. Spear explained that Whiteside has frequently been known to drink excessively and after his last divorce in 1958 he ran around with several young girls, both in the area of San Antonio, Texas, and Houston, Texas. She stated Whiteside was inclined to make irresponsible statements, was considered a "big talker," tended to exaggerate excessively, and she felt he was capable of "fabricating anything." Mrs. Spear stated Whiteside is the type of person who might readily make remarks about killing someone he did not like, although he would not actually be serious in such statements. Mrs. Spear stated she had never known Whiteside to belong to any type of secret or political organization, and he never expressed any particular racial prejudices in her presence.

On August 12, 1964, Jerry J. Dvorak, Chief, Design Engineering Department, Technical Division, Humble Oil Company Refinery, advised he had been well acquainted with Whiteside for at least thirty years and Whiteside worked directly under his supervision for approximately twenty years. He related Whiteside was originally a pipefitter who had an excellent technical knowledge, had voluntarily attended technical schools, and had applied himself well to his work. Dvorak related Whiteside had one brother who had been an attorney in Houston, Texas, and who committed suicide several years ago by jumping out a window in an office building, which resulted in considerable publicity. Another brother of Whiteside had been committed to a penal institution and had died while in prison. Another brother had been a dentist in eastern Texas. Dvorak stated Whiteside was divorced from two wives and had two daughters and one son, all of whom were adults. He stated Whiteside's son was extremely well educated and held a very responsible position with Texas Instruments, Inc., at Dallas, Texas.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Dvorak stated Whiteside retired from the Humble Refinery about two years previously. He described this as "an early retirement" which resulted from certain problems. Dvorak related that Whiteside had suffered a complete nervous breakdown about five years ago and had been committed to a hospital in Galveston, Texas. He later received treatment from a psychiatrist at Houston, Texas, but never seemed to overcome his emotional problems. Dvorak stated Whiteside drinks very heavily on occasions and has a wide reputation as being a "real capable story teller." Dvorak stated Whiteside is basically an honest man and the stories he tells are his idea of practical jokes. Whiteside has bragged to Dvorak about many of the jokes he has pulled.

As an example of this behavior, Dvorak related that during World War II when he and Whiteside were working at a Humble refinery at Ingleside on the Gulf Coast, every time Whiteside had occasion to visit the port area he would come back and tell the female employees weird stories about submarines he had sighted, in order to alarm them. On other occasions Whiteside has been known to fall on the floor and fake heart attacks in order to create excitement among other employees.

Dvorak related that while the above habits of Whiteside were objectionable, he had actually been an extremely capable employee who had written many technical manuals and had taught technical courses in schools operated by the company. Dvorak stated he had never known Whiteside to be affiliated with any type of political or racial organization, and Whiteside never expressed any racial hatred to Dvorak.

On August 12, 1964, Mrs. Enedina Ramirez, 1602 West Gulf Street, Baytown, Texas, advised she met Sidney Whiteside in approximately January, 1963, when she was working for a cleaning plant on Route 146 in Baytown. She stated Whiteside was approximately 58 years of age at that time and had recently retired from the Humble Oil Company Refinery. Whiteside invited Mrs. Ramirez to dinner, and this started what developed into a fairly close social relationship. Whiteside finally proposed marriage to Mrs. Ramirez, but she would not give him an answer.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Ramirez stated that in approximately March, 1963, she was with Whiteside at a restaurant in Baytown, Texas, and he told her he had been to Houston on that date and had met a brilliant young man by the name of Lee Harvey Oswald. Mrs. Ramirez stated she could recall she remarked to Whiteside at that time that she had a brother named Lee, and she also recalled that Whiteside spelled out the name Oswald to her. Whiteside allegedly told Mrs. Ramirez that Oswald spoke Russian and Spanish, had lived in Russia, and was married to a Russian girl.

Mrs. Ramirez was requested to consider these dates carefully and was reminded that Lee Harvey Oswald was virtually unknown in the United States prior to November, 1963. Mrs. Ramirez acknowledged that she had been rather sick during the early months of 1963 with what she referred to as "a nervous condition" but she insisted that she was not confused about these dates. She stated she was able to recall the name Lee Harvey Oswald because of the fact she had a brother by the name of Lee, or Leopoldo. Mrs. Ramirez was asked whether she had revealed the above information to anyone at all, either before or immediately after the assassination of President Kennedy, and she stated she had never revealed this information to any other person except her brother, Leopoldo, to whom she gave this information several months ago.

Mrs. Ramirez stated the only explanation she could make for not having reported this information before was that she frankly never took Whiteside seriously and that she had been very ill shortly after Whiteside made the above remarks. Mrs. Ramirez stated her family had tried to discourage her from seeing Whiteside, and she had decided that Whiteside probably was not telling the truth. Mrs. Ramirez was again asked if she could possibly have received this information from Whiteside after the assassination of President Kennedy in November, 1963, but she stated she saw very little of Whiteside after November, 1963, and she felt sure his references to Oswald were made several months before the assassination.

Mrs. Ramirez stated she could recall one occasion in which she saw Whiteside in November, 1963. She stated she was then in bad need of money inasmuch as she had many debts and a finance company was putting pressure on her, and she went to Whiteside's residence in an effort to borrow money from him.

Whiteside would not loan her money but referred her to a man in Houston who had been sympathetic to persons of Latin American extraction who needed financial assistance.

On August 12, 1964, Raymond Tanguma, 1602 West Gulf Street, and Mrs. Anita Tanguma, 1602 West Gulf Street, Baytown, Texas, were interviewed jointly. Raymond Tanguma is a brother of Enedina Ramirez and Anita Tanguma, the mother of Mrs. Ramirez. Mrs. Tanguma could speak no English, and Raymond Tanguma acted as interpreter. Both Raymond Tanguma and Mrs. Anita Tanguma stated they were aware that Enedina Ramirez had gone out with Sidney Whiteside but that Mrs. Ramirez had never mentioned to them anything about Whiteside having claimed to have been acquainted with Lee Harvey Oswald. Mrs. Tanguma desired to advise that her daughter, Mrs. Ramirez, had experienced serious emotional problems during 1963 and was inclined to become confused.

On August 12, 1964, Sidney Joseph Whiteside, 1702 Woodlawn Street, Baytown, Texas, advised he was born May 11, 1904, at Timpson, Texas, and was then self-employed doing research and other work in the drafting and engineering field.

Whiteside stated he had absolutely no knowledge of any aspect of the assassination of President Kennedy, that he had never heard of Lee Harvey Oswald until after the assassination, that he had never met Oswald at any time in his life, and that he had never told anyone that he had been acquainted with Oswald. Whiteside stated he could not understand why anyone would make any claim that he had been associated with Oswald inasmuch as there was absolutely no basis for such remark.

Whiteside stated he has made a few "strong statements" in the past concerning the racial situation, but he has also supported the United States Government on many occasions when other persons were criticizing the Government. As an example, Whiteside related that he had approved the action of President Kennedy in sending troops to Oxford, Mississippi, when the crisis developed there, while he had later criticized the recent action of the Government in sending so many investigators into Mississippi when the three civil rights workers had disappeared. Whiteside stated his position in the latter instance was that the Attorney General was using the FBI to "intimidate" the people in Mississippi, and it was his opinion that the United States Government was attempting to take over certain rights which more properly belonged with the states. Whiteside stated he fears the concentration of power in the central government more than he fears anything else, but that he has never become involved in any political activities and has never belonged to any organization other than the Methodist Church.

Whiteside stated he desired to advise for the record that while he has usually been a Republican in the past and he originally voted against President John F. Kennedy, he learned to admire President Kennedy before the assassination, and if there had been an election shortly before the assassination he would have voted for President Kennedy. Whiteside stated that his father was a prominent surgeon in eastern Texas who actually raised a Negro boy in their home, and the Whiteside family had always respected and sympathized with Negroes, even though they did not socialize with Negroes. Whiteside stated his father left the above Negro boy a substantial amount of money in his will, and no member of his family had ever engaged in any activities aimed at attempting to oppress persons of the Negro race.

Whiteside stated in conclusion that he categorically denied ever having made any claim that he was acquainted with Oswald, that any such statement attributed to him would necessarily have been made maliciously, and that if he had ever had any such information in the past he would have immediately reported it to the proper authorities.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

As has been previously reported, OSWALD was registered from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963, in Room No. 18 of the Hotel del Comercio, located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ from Reynosa, Tamaulipas, was a guest of the Hotel del Comercio on September 26, 1963. LIMA JUAREZ previously advised that a photograph had been taken of a group of the guests of the hotel.

JULIAN HUERTA OLIVA, a Cuban who was residing at the Hotel del Comercio shortly prior to the arrival of OSWALD in September, 1963, furnished a copy of a photograph of a group of the guests at the Hotel del Comercio in September, 1963.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ also advised that he believed that he had seen OSWALD conversing with two Cuban Negroes who were residing at the Hotel del Comercio.

Employees of the Hotel del Comercio stated that ANTONIO OLIVA, a young Negro, possibly a Cuban, had resided in Room No. 4 at the Hotel del Comercio during the period of time that OSWALD was a guest at the hotel. A housemaid at the hotel advised that OLIVA was visited frequently by another young Spanish speaking Negro who may have been a Cuban.

EXHIBITION OF PHOTOGRAPH
TO EMPLOYEES OF HOTEL DEL COMERCIO

The photograph furnished by JULIAN HUERTA OLIVA was exhibited by a confidential source abroad to SEBASTIAN PEREZ, desk clerk, Hotel del Comercio, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, on August 7, 1964. PEREZ advised that he was personally acquainted with all of the individuals in this photograph as being former guests at the hotel. PEREZ identified them as being, left to right:

FRANCISCO MORALES, the friend of ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ.

GABRIEL CONTRERAS, from Chihuahua, Chihuahua, Mexico.

JULIAN HUERTA, the Cuban who was waiting for a visa to enter the United States.

MANUEL SANTOS, the representative of an agricultural workers union from Saltillo, Coahuila, Mexico.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, from Reynosa, Tamaulipas, Mexico.

The confidential source abroad exhibited this photograph to DOLORES RAMIREZ DE BARREIRO, proprietor of "Loncheria Esperanza," a restaurant located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 18, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, and she identified GABRIEL CONTRERAS as the man who sat at the same table as OSWALD on at least one occasion.

INTERVIEWS OF ANTONIO OLIVA ALVAREZ, JUSTINO RODRIGUEZ HERNANDEZ, and IRMA CANSECO ORTIZ

The records of the Visa Section, United States Embassy, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, disclosed that JUSTINO RODRIGUEZ HERNANDEZ, born August 5, 1919, Quemados de Guines, Cuba, bearing Cuban passport No. 01596, issued January 17, 1956, at Havana, Cuba, was issued a visa to travel to New York City in April, 1961. RODRIGUEZ was described as being 5 feet 6 inches tall, weighing 142 pounds, black hair, brown eyes, and employed as a musician.

The confidential source abroad mentioned above obtained the following information on August 6, 1964:

A photograph of JUSTINO RODRIGUEZ HERNANDEZ was exhibited to MATILDE GARNICA, the housemaid at the Hotel del Comercio, and she advised that it could be a photograph of the individual who visited OLIVA at the Hotel del Comercio.

JUSTINO RODRIGUEZ HERNANDEZ, Salado Alvarez 17-10, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, advised on August 6, 1964, that he vaguely recalled ANTONIO OLIVA as a former employee of the night club called "Los Pericos," Mexico, D. F., Mexico, where RODRIGUEZ was employed as an entertainer. RODRIGUEZ claimed that he was not a close friend of OLIVA and did not know his present whereabouts. RODRIGUEZ claimed that he had never heard of the Hotel del Comercio and had never visited OLIVA there.

When photographs of OSWALD were exhibited to RODRIGUEZ, he said that he recognized OSWALD only as the result of seeing his photograph in the newspapers.

It is noted that RODRIGUEZ was barely coherent during this interview and appeared to be under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

A confidential source, who has furnished reliable information in the past, obtained the following information on August 6, 1964:

ANTONIO OLIVA ALVAREZ was encountered by chance at Salado Alvarez 17, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, on August 6, 1964. OLIVA stated that he was born in La Ceiba, Honduras, and entered Mexico in August, 1961, at Chetumal, Quintana Roo, Mexico.

[redacted]

OLIVA stated that he was formerly employed as a cook at the night club called "Los Pericos," Sullivan 13, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, but is presently unemployed. OLIVA stated that he was visiting JUSTINO RODRIGUEZ, a Cuban, residing at Salado Alvarez 17, Apartment 10, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

The confidential source abroad mentioned above obtained the following information on August 7, 1964:

ANTONIO OLIVA ALVAREZ was interviewed at his present residence in the Hotel Fornos, Revillagigedo 92, Room 17, Mexico, D. F., Mexico. OLIVA stated that he was formerly a waiter at the "Los Pericos" night club and is currently unemployed. He stated that he was born on June 13, 1933, at La Ceiba, Honduras.

OLIVA said that he resided at the Hotel del Comercio from about June, 1963, until January, 1964, in Room No. 4, located on the roof of the hotel, with his common-law wife, IRMA CANSECO.

OLIVA stated that he does not recall ever having seen any Americans residing at that hotel during the time that he was a guest.

OLIVA said that he had read about OSWALD in the newspapers but had never seen OSWALD in person and did not possess any information concerning OSWALD, other than that gained from newspapers.

OLIVA stated that he did not associate with any of the guests at the Hotel del Comercio and did not know any of them by name. OLIVA pointed out that he worked late hours and he and his wife limited their personal contacts with the hotel staff to those contacts that were absolutely necessary.

OLIVA was not acquainted with any Cubans residing at the Hotel del Comercio, nor was he acquainted with any Negroes residing in the hotel. OLIVA stated that he is often mistakenly identified as a Cuban, perhaps because he is a Negro and a Spanish speaking foreigner. OLIVA stated that he had a Negro friend, who was in the habit of visiting him at the Hotel del Comercio, but OLIVA could not recall this person's name and did not know his present whereabouts. OLIVA stated that he would locate this individual and make him available for interview.

IRMA CANSECO ORTIZ was interviewed at the Hotel Fornos where she is residing with ANTONIO OLIVA in Room No. 17. She stated that she was born on August 15, 1944, in Oaxaca, Oaxaca, Mexico.

CANSECO confirmed that she had resided with OLIVA at the Hotel del Comercio from approximately June, 1963, to January, 1964. She stated that the housemaid was the only person at the hotel with whom she had any contact.

CANSECO stated that she had never seen an American at the Hotel del Comercio and the only information she possessed concerning OSWALD was obtained through newspaper reports.

A press release, which was included in a folder of literature made available to persons attending the Student-Miner Conference held in Hazard, Kentucky, on March 27 to March 29, 1964, stated as follows concerning the Appalachian Committee for Full Employment:

"The newly formed Appalachian Committee for Full Employment is a group made up of unemployed and retired miners working to organize public pressure and political action for meaningful Federal, State and local programs to wipe out poverty and unemployment in the Appalachian region. At present, a function of the Committee is to provide relief for those unemployed living in desperate conditions. Students around the country have helped collect food and clothing towards thie effort".

The Hazard Herald, Hazard, Kentucky, a local newspaper, on March 26, 1964, in a story about the Student-Miner Conference, noted the Conference was being sponsored by the Appalachian Committee for Full Employment, which was "the official name of a group of unemployed miners previously known simply as the pickets".

Both offices are reminded to press this matter vigorously and insure the Bureau is promptly furnished the results of investigation so the Commission can be notified.

NOTE:

Commission by letter 8-3-64, refers to testimony of Mark Lane before Commission, in which he alleged there was meeting at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, between Bernard Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full page ad in Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. It appears the Commission is taking every precaution to preclude possible future criticism. Commission request requires displaying photographs of Weissman and Tippit to 6 individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure neither were seen in the club. Four offices are engaged in locating these people. Commission was advised by letter 8-13-64, some delay may be encountered. As results are received, Commission is being advised. There are 5 more individuals to be located and interviewed as well as other investigation to be handled before this inquiry is complete. Every effort is being made to expedite this matter.

Reference is made to my letter dated August 21, 1964, concerning a transcript of the original transmissions recorded by the Dallas Police Department Radio Station. These transmissions relate to the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the murder of Police Officer J. D. Tippit and the security and movement of Lee Harvey Oswald.

Enclosed are two copies of a memorandum dated August 11, 1964, Dallas, Texas, captioned "Assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, November 22, 1963, Dallas, Texas." The memorandum contains the transcript covering the time periods of 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., November 22, 1963, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., November 24, 1963, which you requested.

A copy of the enclosed memorandum was furnished to Assistant Chief of Police Charles T. Batchelor, Dallas Police Department by our Dallas Office in the absence of Chief Jesse E. Curry. Assistant Chief Batchelor was requested to furnish the memorandum to Texas State Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

No further action is being taken in this matter.

NOTE: The Commission was previously furnished a 96-page letterhead memorandum containg radio logs of the Dallas PD during events relating to the assassination which they prepared. The Commission requested the Bureau to obtain the Dallas PD tape recording and prepare a transcript. The Commission also sent a copy of their letter to Chief Curry and Attorney General Waggoner Carr of Texas. Subsequently through Chief Curry, Mr. Carr requested a copy of anything obtained by the Bureau from the original tapes. Mr. Carr's request was cleared with the Commission, who advised there would be no objection for this information to be transmitted to Mr. Carr unless there were discovered variances in our transcript from that which had previously been recorded by the Dallas PD. There were no signigicant variances noted and Dallas furnished a copy of our transcript to Assistant Chief Batchelor for Mr. Carr. Request completed.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 20, 1964, relating to Mrs. Mark E. Martin of Hominy, Oklahoma.

Enclosed for your information are two copies each of four communications furnished our Kansas City Office by Mr. Donald Janson, Correspondent of "The New York Times" at Kansas City, Missouri. These communications all bear the name of Mrs. Mark E. Martin, Hominy, Oklahoma.

A communication containing substantially the same information as the enclosure dated July 17, 1964, was enclosed with my letter to you dated July 29, 1964. The enclosure dated July 22, 1964, was furnished to you with my letter dated July 28, 1964. The other two enclosed communications have not been previously furnished to you by this Bureau.

Your attention is directed to the enclosure addressed to Mr. Bishop, specifically paragraph five, wherein it is alleged an unidentified Dallas female had been threatened by the FBI with economic reprisal if this individual held any further conversations with New York Attorney Mark Lane. It is also alleged Lee Harvey Oswald's associate Nelson Delgado was pressured by the FBI.

In a letter to you dated June 18, 1964, the allegation concerning Mr. Delgado's being "pressured" by the FBI was fully discussed and it was pointed out there was no basis for Mr. Delgado's assertion. I have been further advised that none of the personnel in our Dallas Office ever threatened anyone with economic reprisal. Therefore, it is apparent this allegation is completely unfounded.

It is possible the unidentified Dallas female is Mrs. Jean Lollis Hill. On page forty-five of the Dallas report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling dated April 15, 1964, it was reported that Mrs. Hill during interview on March 13, 1964, stated that about a month earlier she had been telephonically interviewed by Mr. Lane. Mrs. Hill stated after reading Mr. Lane's statements regarding this conversation she was of the opinion Mr. Lane had taken some of her remarks out of context, changed the meaning of her replies, had not used her full answers and misquoted her. Further, in my letter dated April 29, 1964, I furnished you a communication from our Dallas Office wherein Mrs. Hill reported that on the afternoon of April 22, 1964, she was telephonically contacted by an unidentified woman in Oklahoma who persisted in questioning her about the assassination and made some reference to Mr. Mark Lane a New York Attorney. Mrs. Hill stated this conversation concluded with the unknown woman stating she was only trying to be friendly with Mrs. Hill, as Mrs. Hill might later need a friend.

The above is being furnished in view of your prior interest in Mrs. Martin.

Sincerely yours,

NOTE:

KClet 8-10-64, furnished Bureau with the 4 lets authored by Martin. Janson who furnished these lets to KC stated he is apparently on the mailing list of Martin. This is our 24th let to the Commission on Martin who is the subject of SAC Letter 64-23 (B) dated 4-28-64, based on her continuing prolific letter writing campaign to vilify the Director and the FBI. She has been described as a "bright nut" and since the assassination has been conducting her own investigation endeavoring to show Oswald is innocent. She apparently has been associated in some degree with Mark Lane, the oft married New York Attorney who has engaged [redacted] and who has been associated with communist dominated organizations. In one of these lets not previously disseminated to the President's Commission Martin implies Oswald's diary was "intentionally leaked" and that even after reading it she does not feel it disclosed anything of pertinence to the Commission's investigation. In the other let she made several allegations which are completely unfounded and which are answered in our current let to the Commission. The communication regarding Nelson Delgado can be found in 105-82555-4148. Delgado is a proven opportunist and liar. These communications are being furnished to the Commission in line with similar prior dissemination of Martin's works.

All logical investigation has been negative. The 8/17/64 letterhead from Houston deals with statements of woman, who was reportedly suffering from a nervous ailment, that a male acquaintance, Sidney Whiteside, told her in 3/63 that he met Oswald in Houston. Whiteside denies this and logical investigation has not established allegation to be of substance.

Lima Juarez, a Mexican businessman from Reynosa who travels extensively, has alleged he saw man he thought to be Oswald at the Del Comercio Hotel in September - October, 1963, talking with four Cubans. His story has largely been discredited as we have found only one Cuban, Huerta Oliva, to have been at the hotel during Oswald's residency there. Lima states that Huerta Oliva was one of the Cubans and that a second Cuban was also depicted in a photograph taken by a street photographer in which five individuals appeared. We have obtained what we believe to be this photograph from Huerta Oliva who denies any knowledge of Oswald. There are five people in the picture, including Lima, Huerta and two other individuals who have been identified and who are Mexicans. The fifth, Santos, is also believed to be a Mexican. We have been trying to locate Lima to show him this picture. If he will identify it as picture to which he was referring, his story will be discredited and no further inquiry will be necessary concerning this phase.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 20, 1964, concerning the publication of excerpts from Lee Harvey Oswald's diary in "The Dallas Morning News" and "Life" magazine.

During the course of our investigation in this matter, an allegation was made that Congressman Gerald R. Ford of the President's Commission leaked information concerning the diary to news media.

As a result of this allegation, Congressman Ford indicated his desire to be officially interviewed. On August 17, 1964, Congressman Ford was interviewed by a representative of this Bureau. He said he desired to unequivocally state, and to furnish a signed statement if necessary, that he did not leak the information in question.

Congressman Ford confirmed the fact he did previously talk with representatives of "Life" magazine and further stated that under no circumstances had he given "Life" representatives any information concerning Oswald's diary.

No further action is being taken by this Bureau concerning the leak of Oswald's diary to "The Dallas Morning News" and "Life" magazine in the absence of a specific request from you.

NOTE: We have conducted extensive investigation regarding the leak of Oswald's diary to news media. The Commission has been furnished two reports regarding this matter and the results of our Laboratory examination which concluded the copy of Oswald's diary in possession of "Life" magazine originated from the Office of the Dallas County Attorney. William F. Alexander, Assistant County Attorney in Dallas alleged Congressman Ford of the President's Commission leaked the information to news media. This allegation was completely erroneous and when this information was brought to the attention of Congressman Ford, he requested to be interviewed for the record. Congressman Ford was interviewed by Mr. C. D. DeLoach, see memo C. D. DeLoach to Mr. Mohr dated 8-24-64, which now concludes our inquiries into this matter as our investigation indicates the leak originated from the Dallas County Attorney's Office and not by any Federal agency or the President's Commission.

INQUIRY AT ONI RE SUBJECT POSSIBLY HANDING OUT FAIR PLAY FOR CUBA COMMITTEE LEAFLETS AT NEW ORLEANS DOCK

It will be recalled that a Mr. MARTIN SAMUEL ABELOW advised that in or about June of 1963, while on a vacation trip in New Orleans, Louisiana, he observed a young man distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee leaflets to a crowd waiting to board a United States aircraft carrier, which was docked in New Orleans at that time. It will also be recalled that in a letter to Mr. V. T. LEE, then National Director of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee, OSWALD said that "we also managed to picket the fleet when it came in and I was surprised at the number of officers which were interested in our leaflets."

Pursuing the possibility that LEE HARVEY OSWALD, either alone or with others, may have distributed Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature under the circumstances indicated above, inquiry was made at the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI).

On July 14, 1964, WILBUR SARTWELL, ONI, Potomac River Naval Command, telephonically advised a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), that the files of his office contain no information that would relate to the subject and the incident described above. He indicated any such record would be at Headquarters, ONI.

On July 15, 1964, Mr. DON GORHAM, Acting Chief, NCISC-3, United States Naval Counter Intelligence Support Center, ONI, made available to a representative of the FBI, the Headquarters, ONI files pertaining to the subject.

A review of these files, on July 15, 1964, failed to disclose any record of, or reference to, the circumstances described previously in this communication. This also includes a summary of information available in the file relating to the subject up to the period of the assassination.

Mr. GORHAM pointed out that the actual file of ONI is with the President's Commission, that the files reviewed represent about ninety-eight per cent of available ONI information pertaining to the subject. He said he did not recall any reference to such an incident possibly involving the subject, and felt if there had been such an incident reported it would have been contained in the previously mentioned summary.

RE: NATIONAL RIFLE ASSOCIATION

On July 17, 1964, Mr. LOUIS F. LUCAS, Executive Director, and Mr. FRANK F. DANIEL, Secretary, National Rifle Association, Washington, D. C., were interviewed regarding the statement made on page 80 of the book "OSWALD: Assassin or Fall Guy," by JOACHIM JOESTON, to the effect that "Life" reports that CLAYTON E. WHEAT, JR., Director of the National Rifle Association, "fired an identical-make rifle with an identical sight against a moving target over similar ranges for 'Life' last week."

Mr. LUCAS advised that he recalls a request made to the National Rifle Association, through Mr. DANIEL, shortly after the assassination by news media to make such a test. However, the request came from one of the broadcasting services, the name of which they cannot now recall, and not "Life" magazine. According to Mr. LUCAS, this request was denied inasmuch as the officers of the Association had previously decided not to become involved in the reaction to the assassination and the weapon used.

Mr. DANIEL stated he recalls suggesting to the inquiring party the names of several individuals in the New York City area that could make such a test, including Mr. WHEAT. He explained Mr. WHEAT's name was included since the latter was a member of a gun club in the New York area, which had the facilities available for such a test.

Mr. LUCAS added that he knows such tests were subsequently made by Mr. WHEAT as an individual, but not at the request of the National Rifle Association. According to Mr. LUCAS, the National Rifle Association was not furnished the criteria used by Mr. WHEAT in making the test or the results. Mr. LUCAS is confident, however, that the information sought is known to Mr. WHEAT.

Mr. LUCAS stated he and Mr. DANIEL personally never questioned that three shots could be fired in 6.8 seconds from the weapon in question. However, to verify this for their own information, the National Rifle Association had a weapon of the same make fired at the range in their building in Washington, D. C., for the sole purpose of determining if this bolt-action rifle could be fired three times in 6.8 seconds. During the course of this test, no consideration was given to distance, use of a telescopic sight, or a moving target. Mr. LUCAS said this test verified the opinion of the Association officers, that if one round were in the chamber, that round and two more could be fired in 6.8 seconds.

Both Mr. LUCAS and Mr. DANIEL emphasized that the results of this "so-called" test were never published nor was mention made of it to the press. Rather, when questioned by representatives of various news media, National Rifle Association officials merely answered, "Yes, three shots can be fired from that weapon in 6.8 seconds."

Re: JOSEPH RODRIGUEZ MOLINA

It is to be noted that on November 22, 1963, the date of the assassination of President JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, JOSEPH RODRIGUEZ MOLINA, born June 18, 1924, at Dallas, Texas, was employed by the Texas School Book Depository, Dallas, Texas.

On July 4, 1964, a representative of the Federal Bureau of Investigation made inquiry at the Central Office, Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), Washington, D. C., through Mr. SIDNEY B. RAWITZ, Deputy Associate Commissioner for Security, INS, for any information in the D.C. files of that agency concerning MOLINA.

On the same date, Mr. RAWITZ advised that a search of records at the Central Office, INS, failed to disclose any information in the files of that agency identifiable with JOSEPH RODRIGUEZ MOLINA, born June 18, 1924, Dallas, Texas.

Re: EDWARD F. BRAY

On July 13, 1964, a Miss JULIA OLSON, Manager of the National Capital Democratic Club, 300 New Jersey Avenue, S. E., telephonically advised a representative of the Washington Field Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), that she had received a copy of a letter from one EDWARD F. BRAY to Governor GEORGE WALLACE of Alabama, wherein it was stated that the United States Navy Department knew in advance of a plot on President KENNEDY's life. Miss OLSON indicated she would forward the letter to the Washington Field Office of the FBI.

On July 15, 1964, the described letter was received at the Washington Field Office. The envelope for it was handwritten addressed in ink to the Democratic Club, 300 New Jersey, S. E., Washington,D. C., and was postmarked Portland, Oregon, p.m., June 30, 1964.

The letter, which is typed except for the signature, "Edw. F. Bray," is as follows:

By letter dated August 10, 1964, Mrs. JEHU L. HUNTER, President, League of Women Voters of the District of Columbia, 1346 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., forwarded to the Washington Field Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), a copy of a letter from EDWARD F. BRAY, to the Secretary of the Navy, Pentagon, Washington, D.C.

This copy was sent to the organization by mail in an envelope postmarked July 3, 1964, at Portland, Oregon.

The content of BRAY's letter is substantially the same as that set forth above.

It is to be noted that Mr. and Mrs. EDWARD FRANK BRAY, 2606 N. E. 12th Avenue, Portland, Oregon, are presently engaged in a very widespread mailing of letters and other materials to FBI offices, prominent individuals, and federal and state officials throughout the United States.

The subjects of the BRAY mailings are:

(1) The sinking of the nuclear submarine Thresher;

(2) The assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY;

(3) An allegation that the Navy has lost an atomic war head off the Pacific Coast.

EDWARD FRANK BRAY was formerly employed by the Bendix Company at the Navy Torpedo Station, Keyport, Washington, and as a result of mental instability caused by a head injury in the course of his employment there, he was terminated from such employment for medical reasons. He has a suit pending against the Bendix Company for damages. He has been interviewed by representatives of the FBI, the Postal Service, and Office of Naval Intelligence. He is considered definitely psychopathic.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letters dated July 7 and July 8, 1964, dealing with Joe R. Molina, formerly an employee of the Texas School Book Depository, Dallas, Texas.

In response to the requests in letters of reference there are enclosed two copies each of a report concerning Joe Rodriguez Molina dated August 20, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, and a memorandum of evaluation of same date relating to the sources concealed in the report. There are also enclosed two copies of a memorandum captioned "American GI Forum" dated August 25, 1964.

With specific reference to question number one in your July 7, 1964, letter, we have been advised by the Department of Justice that a review of the files of that Department has disclosed no information concerning Joe Rodriguez Molina. In addition, we have been advised by Mr. Sidney B. Rawitz, Deputy Associate Commissioner for Security, Immigration and Naturalization Service, that a search of the records at the Central Office, Immigration and Naturalization Service, failed to disclose any information in the files of that agency identifiable with Joe Rodriguez Molina. We would further advise that Joe Rodriguez Molina was never the subject of an investigation by this Bureau prior to November 22, 1963, and that at no time has this Bureau furnished any information to the Dallas Police Department concerning any alleged subversive activities by Molina.

NOTE:

Classified "Confidential" as Dallas report and letterhead so classified in order to protect current confidential informants who furnished information concerning CP efforts to infiltrate the GI Forum in Dallas in 1955 and 1956.

Referenced letters requested limited inquiry into Dallas police handling of Molina, a former Texas School Book Depository employee whose house was searched and who was questioned on 11-23-63. Following this a Dallas radio station and possibly newspapers and television [illegible] carried articles commenting on the police interrogation of Molina and adding that according to Dallas Police Molina had a subversive record in that department. Molina is now suing the Dallas radio station. Molina is not known to us to have had any subversive associations. He was associated from 1955 - 1963 with the Dallas Chapter of the American GI Forum, a veterans group comprised principally of Mexican-Americans. The parent body of the American GI Forum has since its inception been strongly anticommunist and, while from informant coverage we know the members of CP, USA, in Dallas attempted to infiltrate the Dallas Chapter in 1955 and were successful in controlling that chapter for a brief period, there has been no reported CP infiltration of the chapter since 1956. Our informants show that Molina always has been anticommunist and at no time participated [redacted] in the attempts of CP to infiltrate the Dallas Chapter. Specific reference in outgoing to Commission question - 2 - number one in its 7-7-64 letter deals with their request to be advised if Justice Department or any of its agencies had a file on Molina and if they gave Dallas PD any information concerning subversive activities by him.

AMERICAN GI FORUM

This organization was organized at Corpus Christi, Texas, in 1946 to establish a charitable, educational and benevolent society to render aid and assistance to individuals in the State of Texas in needy circumstances, to provide scholarships to worthy students and to seek improvement in educational facilities in general. Subsequently, several chapters of this organization were formed in various states primarily throughout the Southwest. (62-96541-5)

In the past communists have attempted to infiltrate a few chapters of the organization and the organization's national chairman has circulated information to the various chapters warning members against communists and communist fronts and urging members to report any pertinent information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Records of this Bureau contain no information to indicate that the national organization has ever been infiltrated or controlled by the Communist Party, USA. (62-96541-45)

In the Fall of 1954 a chapter of the American GI Forum of Texas, Incorporated, an affiliate of the American GI Forum, was organized at Dallas, Texas. The Dallas Chapter was composed primarily of Mexican-American servicemen who reportedly banded together to stamp out discrimination of the Mexican-American people and to help these people in various other ways. The Communist Party sought to infiltrate this chapter at the time of its inception and for a brief period in 1955 controlled and dominated the Dallas Chapter. Subsequent to October, 1955, the Dallas Chapter continued to be infiltrated by a few communist members; however, no Communist Party control or infiltration of this chapter has been reported since December, 1956. LEE HARVEY OSWALD

By letter dated August 6, 1964, the President's Commission requested additional investigation be conducted concerning the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald had a telescopic sight mounted on a rifle and sighted at the Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. The President's Commission noted previous testimony regarding this matter has raised questions concerning which they desired additional investigation.

It was desired the following persons be interviewed: Mrs. Gertrude Hunter; Roy Truly; Charles Woodrow Greener; friends of Mrs. Hunter whose names were furnished as Mr. and Mrs. Dominick, as well as determine the date of the Irving - Richland Hills High School football game, which occurred in November, 1963.

On August 11, 1964, Mrs. Gertrude Hunter, 141 South Hastings, Irving, Texas, furnished the following information regarding the proposed trip of her relatives, "James and Doris Dommney" of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Hunter stated that the Dommneys had not directly told her that they planned to visit her in November, 1963, but that her sister-in-law and mother of Doris Dommney, one Mrs. Patterson, had written her that the Dommneys were planning a visit to the Dallas area in November, 1963, and would probably visit her in Irving, Texas.

Mrs. Hunter stated that Mrs. Patterson died on or about June 13, 1964.

ENCLOSURE

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Hunter does not have the letter in which Mrs. Patterson mentioned that the Dommneys planned to visit the Dallas area in November, 1963.

Mrs. Hunter stated that the Dommneys did not visit her in Irving, Texas, in November, 1963.

Mrs. Hunter furnished the address of James and Doris Dommney as 8133 Locksley, Houston, Texas.

She does not know if the Dommneys still have their old station wagon, but might now have a newer Chrysler automobile.

On August 11, 1964, Rex Andrews, Police Officer, Irving, Texas, advised that the football game between Irving High School and Richland Hills High School was played on Friday, November 8, 1963, at Richland Hills, Texas (a suburb of Fort Worth, Texas).

On August 13, 1964, Roy S. Truly, Superintendent, Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, advised his company does not utilize a "time clock" system for its employees to check in and out of work. A notation is merely made that a particular employee is at work in the morning and is still at work at the end of the same day, at which time the individual is credited with eight hours work.

Warehouse employees are given forty-five minutes for lunch, and although it is possible for employees to take a few minutes longer, any excess absences would be noted and the employee would have wages deducted from his pay. Truly does not recall Oswald being away from his employment at any time on an extended lunch period.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Truly advised he believed Oswald rode to work from Irving, Texas, with a fellow employee, Wesley Frazier, in Frazier's automobile. To his knowledge, Oswald was not known to have an automobile of his own and arrived at work either by bus or riding with Frazier.

Truly stated Mr. H. S. Aiken, a leadman in the warehouse, keeps the daily employment records of each employee.

Truly stated that while a warehouse employee such as Oswald would have noted on a bill of lading that he was the particular employee filling the book order, the particular bills of lading would not indicate the time of the day the work was started or finished nor would they indicate the amount of time utilized in filling a particular order. Mr. Truly noted small book orders can be filled in a few minutes while large orders may take hours to fill.

Mr. Truly stated further that the orders and bills of lading are filed by towns and cities and that to locate a particular order filled by Oswald on November 6 or 7, 1963, would be an enormous task. In addition, in the event such bills of lading were located, they would not contain a notation as to the time of the day the order was filled by Oswald or the amount of time taken to fill the particular order. Consequently, Mr. Truly stated such a review would not determine how much time Oswald was off on his lunch period on the dates in question. Mr. Truly concluded that his company did not have any record which would indicate an employee was gone for a longer period of time than forty-five minutes on his lunch hour.

On August 13, 1964, Mr. H. S. Aiken, Leadman, Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, advised he keeps the daily employment records of warehouse employees.

He stated the employees do not use a time clock to record their time of arrival, departure or time taken for lunch. He stated that he is advised in the morning as to who is at work and at the end of the workday who is still at work. The normal workday consists of eight working hours.

Aiken stated that no notation of any sort is made of the time an employee takes his forty-five minute lunch period, that is, the employee's time of departure for lunch and the time of his return.

Aiken noted his time record for Lee Harvey Oswald indicates that during the week of November 4 through November 8, 1963, Oswald was credited with having worked eight hours each day from Monday, November 4, 1963, through Friday, November 8, 1963.

Aiken stated that if an employee was gone for a period of time much longer than the employee's forty-five minute lunch period, he would have reported this information, and the time would have been deducted from the employee's pay for the day. In Oswald's particular case, there had been no notation that Oswald was gone for lunch on either November 6 or November 7, 1963, for any extended period of time in excess of his normal forty-five minute lunch period, and AIKEN would surmise that Oswald had not overstayed his lunch period on those days.

Aiken added that he knows of no company records which would indicate how much work a particular employee did in the morning or in the afternoon.

On August 13, 1964, Wesley Frazier, 1413 West Shady Grove, Apartment 27, Irving, Texas, who is employed in the warehouse of the Texas School Book Depository, advised

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Lee Harvey Oswald used to ride to work with him from Irving, Texas, in his (Frazier's) 1954 Chevrolet, four-door sedan, black in color. Frazier further described this vehicle as rather "beatup" looking with most of its chrome missing. The car has power-glide transmission as well as loud pipes.

Frazier stated that Oswald has never driven this car and at no time did he ever loan the car to Oswald, including any short period of time such as a lunch hour.

Frazier further advised that he has never heard of any of the other Texas School Book Depository employees loaning their car to Oswald at any time.

Frazier noted that his car had previously been photographed by a representative of the President's Commission investigating the assassination of President Kennedy.

On August 18, 1964, Charles Woodrow Greener, owner, Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, advised his memory regarding past events and dates has always been very poor and he was not positive that the information he was about to furnish regarding his whereabouts between Friday, November 22, 1963, and Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 28, 1963, would be absolutely correct, but that his information was based on the best of his present recollection.

Greener stated that between November 22, 1963, and November 28, 1963, he had been in Irving, Texas, at either his place of business or his home. If he had left Irving at any time during this period, it would have been for only a few hours and not overnight.

Greener stated that during this week's period he naturally had conversed on numerous occasions with his employee, Dial D. Ryder, at work, but he did not recall Ryder ever mentioning to him that the Irving Sports Shop had worked on a gun for Oswald. At no time, according to Greener, did Ryder advise him between November 22, 1963, and November 28, 1963, that he, Ryder, had located a work ticket bearing Oswald's name.

Greener stated that the first he knew about any work slip in the name of Oswald was when he read about it in "The Dallas Times Herald" newspaper on Thanksgiving Day, November 28, 1963, and the news article was a complete shock to him. Greener stated he was at home on Thanksgiving Day when he read this newspaper article. He then, on the same day, went down to his store and saw the work ticket for a person named "Oswald".

He stated the employees do not use a time clock to record their time of arrival, departure or time taken for lunch. He stated that he is advised in the morning as to who is at work and at the end of the workday who is still at work. The normal workday consists of eight working hours.

Aiken stated that no notation of any sort is made of the time an employee takes his forty-five minute lunch period, that is, the employee's time of departure for lunch and the time of his return.

Aiken noted his time record for Lee Harvey Oswald indicates that during the week of November 4 through November 8, 1963, Oswald was credited with having worked eight hours on Monday, November 4, 1963, through Friday, November 8, 1963. Oswald, according to his records, had worked eight hours on Wednesday and Thursday, November 6 and November 7, 1963.

Aiken stated that if an employee was gone for a period of time much longer than the employee's forty-five minute lunch hour, he would have reported this information, and the time would have been deducted from the employee's pay for the day. In Oswald's particular case, there had been no notation that Oswald was gone for lunch on either November 6 or November 7, 1963, for any extended period of time in excess of his normal forty-five minute lunch period, and AIKEN would surmise that Oswald had not overstayed his lunch period on those days.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

By letter dated August 6, 1964, the President's Commission requested additional investigation be conducted concerning the possibility that Lee Harvey Oswald had a telescopic sight mounted on a rifle and sighted at the Irving Sport Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. The President's Commission noted previous testimony regarding this matter has raised questions concerning which they desired additional investigation.

It was desired the following persons be interviewed: Mrs. Gertrude Hunter; Roy Truly; Charles Woodrow Greener; friends of Mrs. Hunter whose names were furnished as Mr. and Mrs. "Dominick," as well as determine the date of the Irving - Richland Hills High School football game, which occurred in November, 1963.

On August 11, 1964, Mrs. Gertrude Hunter, 141 South Hastings, Irving, Texas, furnished the following information regarding the proposed trip of her relatives, "James and Doris Dommney" of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Hunter stated that the "Dommneys" had not directly told her that they planned to visit her in November, 1963, but that her sister-in-law and mother of "Doris Dommney," one Mrs. Patterson, had written her that the "Dommneys" were planning a visit to the Dallas area in November, 1963, and would probably visit her in Irving, Texas.

Mrs. Hunter stated that Mrs. Patterson died on or about June 13, 1964.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mrs. Hunter does not have the letter in which Mrs. Patterson mentioned that the "Dommneys" planned to visit the Dallas area in November, 1963.

Mrs. Hunter stated that the "Dommneys" did not visit her in Irving, Texas, in November, 1963.

Mrs. Hunter furnished the address of "James and Doris Dommney" as 8133 Locksley, Houston, Texas.

She does not know if the Dommneys still have their old station wagon, but might now have a newer Chrysler automobile.

On August 11, 1964, Rex Andrews, Police Officer, Irving, Texas, advised that the football game between Irving High School and Richland Hills High School was played on Friday, November 8, 1963, at Richland Hills, Texas (a suburb of Fort Worth, Texas).

On August 13, 1964, Roy S. Truly, Superintendent, Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, advised his company does not utilize a "time clock" system for its employees to check in and out of work. A notation is merely made that a particular employee is at work in the morning and is still at work at the end of the same day, at which time the individual is credited with eight hours work.

Warehouse employees are given forty-five minutes for lunch, and although it is possible for employees to take a few minutes longer, any excess absences would be noted and the employee would have wages deducted from his pay. Truly does not recall Oswald's being away from his employment at any time on an extended lunch period.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Truly advised he believed Oswald rode to work from Irving, Texas, with a fellow employee, Wesley Frazier, in Frazier's automobile. To his knowledge, Oswald was not known to have an automobile of his own and arrived at work either by bus or riding with Frazier.

Truly stated Mr. H. S. Aiken, a leadman in the warehouse, keeps the daily employment records of each employee.

Truly stated that while a warehouse employee such as Oswald would have noted on a bill of lading that he was the particular employee filling the book order, the particular bills of lading would not indicate the time of the day the work was started or finished nor would they indicate the amount of time utilized in filling a particular order. Mr. Truly noted small book orders can be filled in a few minutes while large orders may take hours to fill.

Mr. Truly stated further that the orders and bills of lading are filed by towns and cities and that to locate a particular order filled by Oswald on November 6 or 7, 1963, would be an enormous task. In addition, in the event such bills of lading were located, they would not contain a notation as to the time of the day the order was filled by Oswald or the amount of time taken to fill the particular order. Consequently, Mr. Truly stated such a review would not determine how much time Oswald was off on his lunch period on the dates in question. Mr. Truly concluded that his company

Upon receipt of the revised Page 4, your letterhead memorandum will be sent to the President's Commission ending our inquiries into this particular matter.

NOTE: The Commission requested several investigative steps to be taken to substantiate or disprove an allegation that prior to the assassination Oswald and his wife, Marina, visited the Irving Sport Shop to have a telescopic sight mounted and sighted on a rifle. This was initially reported by an employee of the store, Dial D. Ryder who allegedly found a repair tag with the name Oswald on it. This allegation has been somewhat supported by two women Mrs. Gertrude Hunter and Mrs. Edith Whitworth, who claimed they saw the Oswalds and directed them to the sport shop. The circumstances of this whole situation indicated Ryder prepared the repair tag after the assassination. However, he is so involved he can't back out now. The women appear mistaken in their identification as the supporting data furnished by them is not consistent with what we know of the Oswalds' background.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Please have your agents display to Mr. Harvey Lawill Wade, 813 Donaldson Road, Chattanooga, Tennessee, the enclosed photographs taken by photographer Eddie Rocco, and ask Mr. Wade to what extent the man indicated by an arrow in the Rocco photographs resembles the person he described to FBI agents (Clements report, November 30, 1963, pages 789-790) as resembling Lee Harvey Oswald.

Please make a similar inquiry with respect to the enclosed photographs of Larry Crafard and an unidentified patron of the Carousel Club, shown in a white shirt dancing with one of Ruby's dancers. On 8/20/64, LEE E. BOWERS, JR., 10508 Maple Grove, Dallas, Texas, telephonically advised the office that he had just been contacted by telephone by a woman giving her name as Mrs. MARK MARTIN of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. MARTIN questioned BOWERS regarding the assassination of President KENNEDY and stated she was just an individual and was in Dallas for the purpose of trying to "piece the whole thing together".

Mr. BOWERS stated based upon the questions asked by Mrs. MARTIN, it was quite evident she was in possession of the information which he had previously furnished to the Dallas Police Department as well as the FBI. Mrs. MARTIN also asked BOWERS if he thought OSWALD committed the assassination and if there were any police on top of the triple underpass. She also asked him how fast the Texas School Book Depository had been sealed off by the police.

For information of Bureau, the interview of BOWERS is recorded on page 43 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, Dallas, 11/30/63, under the assassination caption.

The above is furnished the Bureau for its information and no other action is being taken.

When this additional information is obtained the entire episode should be incorporated by Dallas in an appropriate letterhead memorandum for dissemination to the President's Commission insuring an appropriate summary is made of Bowers' prior interview (Page 43, of SA R. Appropriate paragraph should be incorporated in your letterhead memorandum concerning this possibility. Lee Harvey Oswald

The following is a verbatim transcription of that portion of the Les Crane Television Show, New York, on August 5, 1964, which featured as guest panelists Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, and Melvin Belli, former defense attorney for Jack Ruby:

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Oswald, I think this probably is going to be the easiest interview to start of my career. The obvious question, I think, on everybody's mind in the country and in this room at this time — do you think he did it?

Mrs. Oswald — No, of course not and this is why I thank my emotional stability and come on such programs as yours, Les, and the many, many programs I have been on, because I certainly have investigated this thoroughly and believe that my son, Lee Harvey Oswald, is innocent of the crime, the charge, against him, not only President Kennedy's assassination but the murder of Patrolman Tippit. I do not speak as a mother, I am a mother first of all, and it's because I am a mother, I guess, that I do take my stability emotionally and come before audiences, but I also speak as a human being. I have investigated this thoroughly and because I, myself, know more about Lee than any human being living.

Mr. Crane — Let me ask you this. Let's go back in time a little bit. Since the assassination, there have been many, many articles in magazines, diaries have been published, letters allegedly written between yourself and Lee, letters between Lee and his wife, Marina, and so forth. What's your reaction to the publication of these diaries and this information about the boy, the man?

Mrs. Oswald — About the diary, I'm going to have to assume, like the rest of the public, that it is Lee's diary; however, all of Lee's letters to me and all of the correspondence is in longhand and if any of you have noticed, on particularly "Life" cover the diary is printed and there's many, many things in the diary that I know are incorrect. Now I'm going to cite one of those things that I, as a mother, would see that no one else could possibly see. My husband, Lee's father, was an insurance agent. This is the term that we used, I'm originally from New Orleans, Louisiana, so Lee has heard this all of his life that his father was an insurance agent and in the diary it says, "My father died before I was born and he was an insurance salesman." So you see just this little thing is most important. I am just assuming that this is Lee's diary. I have no proof.

Mr. Crane — But you're actually, you're casting doubt as to whether it is or isn't.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, I am casting doubt because it would be very easy to compile such a diary through dates and so on and so forth from State Department correspondence, which by the way, two copies of State Department correspondence have been stolen from my home and also the original affidavits from the Red Cross, because I have an accident, were also stolen, but I would like to make this public now. The people that have stole this do not have the complete set and this is why I have them in my home. Naturally I keep everything in a safety deposit box, all in the State of Texas, but I must have some things with me in order to investigate and research. So they do not have the complete array of State Department literature but I wish them success with whatever they want to do with this and I'm under the impression that part of this was used in the diary because the dates are so exact with the correspondence of the State Department.

Mr. Crane — Now there have been many speculations and many areas of investigation that people have written about your relationship with Lee, how you got along as a mother and son, and the picture that has been painted has been not too glowing.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, you're so right there and you see I'm in the minority group. I believe that my son is innocent and it's much easier to believe that he's guilty and let's let him lie. Let's accept the fact because the awful truth is too awful maybe for us to understand. But I don't believe this. I believe the truth should be known. If my son is guilty, any other member of my family or any one club or even the President of the United States, or Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, or any high official, if I find them guilty, I, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, expect to let the public know. I will not cover up for anybody in authority.

Mr. Crane — Well, do you feel, you've been obviously exploring this thing, you've read all the books written about it, you've discussed it with lawyers, you've checked over the police records and the dates and times, you've looked at the photographs and there apparently is quite a bit of controversy ranging around the world, at least about some of these photographs.

Mrs. Oswald - Yes, but I think there should be controversy. There's so much speculation, so much untruth and, Mr. Crane, you said that there was a bad picture of me and my relationship with Lee. Now I have had published in "Esquire" magazine sixteen letters that Lee wrote to me and anyone who has read Lee's original letters to his mother from Russia know what he thought about his mother. This is all together a different boy than has been exploited in the newspapers and the magazines. This is his letters to his mother and they were not doctored. This is the only true thing that has ever come out publicly and that has never been doctored.

Mr. Crane - You've suggested to various people that you've spoken to that there's more to this business about him defecting to the Soviet Union and returning than meets the eye. What's your

Mrs. Oswald - Well naturally. Lee was an agent of our United States Government.

Mr. Crane - Well, you're making a statement now that has yet to be proven.

Mrs. Oswald - Yes, I am but I can back up.

Mr. Crane - Well, I assume you've testified before the Warren Commission.

Mrs. Oswald - Yes, I have made this statement before the Warren Commission.

Mr. Crane - Then I'm sure you're aware of the fact that one of the investigators assigned to this case and on the Warren Commission is Mr. Allen Dulles who was at that time, I believe, the head of the CIA, which seems to me as though he would know pretty much

Mrs. Oswald - Yes, Mr. Allen Dulles, you see, you have two administrations in my son's life, when Lee was in the service and when Lee went to Russia, he was in the younger administrative group and Allen Dulles was head of the CIA at that particular time and, of course, he is on the Warren Commission as most people know. And then you have the Kennedy administration that brought this boy back to the United States. So you have two political groups.

Mr. Crane — Well, what makes you think, obviously he never could have or never would have, so if he was, in fact, a secret agent for our government he never would have or could have told you that so what makes you feel that this is the case?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, because of many, many things that I have in black and white. It isn't that I think this. I feel sure that I know but, of course, I can never prove it; it would be up to the government to say whether Lee was an agent or not. I have made this statement many times and I will make it now. I have more circumstantial evidence in my possession, written evidence, that Lee was an agent of the United States Government than the Dallas police have that he murdered Patrolman Tippit or President Kennedy, this is for sure.

Mr. Crane — Again what I'm asking you for, you've made this statement boldly and flatly, Lee was an agent of the government. Give me a fact or two.

Mrs. Oswald — All right. I will start then at age 15½ years. Lee was a cadet in a Civil Air Patrol and this is the time that we had just arrived from New York back to New Orleans, which is our home town, and as soon as we reached there he became a member of the Civil Air Patrol at 15½ years. Now I have his picture in the uniform and at 16 years old Lee tried to join the Marines and the reason why he did this, he quit school at age 16 two weeks before his birthday, there was a U.S. Marine Recruiting Officer who had influenced this boy while he was with the Civil Air Cadets to become a Marine at age 16. I will prove this. When I returned, I'm ahead of my story. Lee came into the place of business where I was and said, "Mother, I have quit school because I want to join the Marines." I said, "Lee, go home and wait for me. I will be off work in a little while." So when I arrived the Marine Recruiting Officer, in uniform, was at my apartment with my son. I said, "No, I will not let Lee join the Marines. He's too young at age 16." He said, "Well, Mrs. Oswald, a lot of boys do at age 16. The boy has quit school and this is what he wants to do." And I said, "No. He's too young and he may be sent overseas." He said, "Mrs. Oswald, there's less delinquency overseas actually than we have here." And I didn't go along with the idea. Now you mothers who have children age 15 and 16 years old that get a specific idea such as this wanting to join the Marines, you will realize it's an awfully hard thing to combat and control. So for three days Lee and I were at each other's throat about this because he wanted me to sign a birth certificate saying that he was 17 years old. So I spoke to the rest of the family and they all said, "Well, let him go."

Mr. Crane — Forgive me. I

Mrs. Oswald — Surely.

Mr. Crane — You know we're on television and there's a slight time problem here.

Mrs. Oswald . Well, he did join the Marines then at age 17, and now the point I'm going to make. He did join the Marines at age 16, however, they sent him home because they found out that he was 16 years old.

Mr. Crane Yes ma'am.

Mrs. Oswald Well, between age 16 and 17 years old Lee lived to become a Marine. Now his brother, Robert, had just came home from the Marines and left the Marine manual at home and that is when Lee Harvey Oswald was reading his brother's Marine manual and also Karl Marx, which is communist literature. Now at age 17 on his birthday he did join the Marines and he was in the Marines for three years less three weeks when he got a dire need discharge.

Mr. Crane A dire need?

Mrs. Oswald A dire need discharge.

Mr. Crane That's what they call a hardship discharge?

Mrs. Oswald A hardship discharge because I had had an accident and I was destitute. I waited eight months before I told my son anything about it. I didn't want to worry him about it.

Mr. Crane All right.

Mrs. Oswald All right. So then Lee is only home three days when he goes to Russia. Now we're going to have to skip, as you say, I realize I'm on television. Let's go a little faster. So the boy goes to Russia and he's in Russia not quite three years. He meets a Russian girl but before he met the Russian girl he had gone to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and I was informed that Lee wanted to come home, that he had been to the Embassy in Moscow. Now I had researched for twenty months trying to locate my son with no avail. This is the first contact. So the boy wants to come home to America, I'm informed. Then a few weeks after he marries the Russian girl.

Mr. Crane — Marina?

Mrs. Oswald — Marina. This doesn't make sense that a boy who has been in Russia for twenty months, then wants to come home, turns around and marries a Russian girl. Now the way I figure this is that he was told to marry this Russian girl. This is his job, part of his job. You must understand everything I say, that I think my son is an agent and I wish I had the time and the places to prove to you. I think that this boy was told to bring this girl back here to America so that they could get in with Russian people here. This is his work you must understand, as far as I am concerned. This is his work and his diary proves this. Part of this diary is proof that Lee was an agent. Also, he said when he denounced his country and the Russians wouldn't accept him, the thing to do is to (unintelligible), dunk it in hot water, take it out, put it in cold water. If this is a boy who has no country and is on a spot, he's not going to write in his diary how to commit suicide. This boy is trained what to do.

Mr. Crane — In other words you feel as though the United States Government, because they allowed him to come back to this country with his bride after defecting to the Soviet Union, this tends to prove something?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, Crane, it's not as simple as that but that's the basis of it. The thing is it's awfully hard to get out of Russia, as we know, and it's awfully hard to get a Russian girl out of Russia, and another thing, if this boy

Mr. Crane — Wait, wait. Do you think that our government would make it easier to get a Russian girl out of Russia?

Mrs. Oswald — It's quite possible. This is a very, very long thing to go into but when this boy, then who was a, got out of the service ahead of time and didn't stay in the United States and went to Russia as a defector, let's say, and then he comes back and the government helps him to come back, not only money wise, which was the loan, but every way possible; I have the papers. I have the papers. They were always contacting me step by step and he comes back and he's not persecuted. Isn't it strange that our Marine service would let a boy be, let's say, AWOL? He went to Russia when he got a dire need discharge, and then to come back and do nothing about this. How many servicemen can get out of the service ahead of time?

Mr. Crane — In other words you're saying

Mrs. Oswald — And then go to Russia as a defector and come back to the United States without being questioned or put into the hoosegow? Answer that question for me.

Mr. Crane — Okay. We're going to come back with some more questions for you and Mr. Melvin Belli, who is a lawyer of great repute and an eminent authority in this case obviously for more discussion about this case in two minutes 15 seconds from right now.

Mr. Crane — My guests are Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald who was alleged to have slain President Kennedy and now may I introduce to you Mr. Melvin Belli. What I was going to say is Mr. Melvin Belli, noted attorney from the grand and glorious city of San Francisco and (unintelligible) cry on each others shoulders for the next (unintelligible). Yes you are going back. After these next five days, I may be going back as well. Before I bring you in, I have one question, another one, that I've been dying to ask Mrs. Oswald. I heard a shocking quote attributed to you. I had understood, and there's no offense intended here

Mrs. Oswald — That's all right. I'm use to it.

Mr. Crane — But I understood

Mrs. Oswald — I'm in the minority group. I don't expect people to like me.

Mr. Crane — All right. I understood that it was reported in a national magazine that you had requested an interview with President Johnson and this request was denied and the statement was attributed to you as follows: "Well, he's got some nerve not wanting to see me. If it wasn't for my son, he wouldn't be President." Did you say that?

Mrs. Oswald — No, of course not. I have

Mr. Crane — That was printed you know.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. No, I don't know about this part being printed. About the request to see President Kennedy

Mr. Crane — Johnson.

Mrs. Oswald — Johnson, this is absolutely false. The whole thing is false and this is what is deplorable with me. They seem to write and say anything they want. I am in the minority group. I am the mother of the accused assassin of the United States and it's much easier to let this lie than to bring it out in the open.

Mr. Crane — Well, that's why we're here tonight. Another thing

Mrs. Oswald — And most of all I go on television to bring the things out in the open. I wish I could talk straight for three hours instead of being interrupted. I think I will give some pertinent information. There's no question I cannot bring out the true facts and the newspapers and the magazines won't give me true coverage. They lie. In "Redbook" there's a story that when I spoke before thousands of people in New York City at Town Hall that I was paid $5,000.00. I want you to know and the audience listening that I was paid transportation and $100.00 for expenses.

Mr. Crane — I'd like to add at this point that Mrs. Oswald is not being paid for her appearance on this program as well. We brought her to New York and we will pay her expenses and return.

Mrs. Oswald — I do not accept money for this appearance. I expect transportation and hotel bills.

Mr. Crane — One point that you touched on which is quite, I think that's reasonable. One point that you touched on which is the most exciting thing about all of this to me, I want you people here and I want you people at home to think about this for just one second, we are sitting here in the studios of a major broadcasting company of America and we are talking to the mother of a man who, it is alleged, assassinated our President not too long ago. This is being broadcast coast to coast. I wonder if anybody here thinks this would be taking place in any other country in the world today except ours. That's pretty wonderful isn't it? Pretty exciting. All right, one last question and then to Mr. Belli. Have you ever, did you ever see Jack Ruby before the time that you saw the pictures of him in the Dallas jail?

Mrs. Oswald — No, but I saw a picture of Jack Ruby on November 23, shown to me by an FBI agent.

Mr. Crane — Wait a minute. November 23?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, before my son was murdered. A picture of Jack Ruby

Mr. Crane — That's the day before.

Mrs. Oswald — The day before.

Mr. Crane — The day before Jack Ruby

Mrs. Oswald — The day before my son was murdered while all in Dallas, the FBI and all of the authorities were saying that they had a threat on Lee Harvey Oswald's life and the Dallas police were supposedly to have been told by the FBI that they had these threats. At 6:30 on November 23 at the Executive Inn where I was with my daughter-in-law an FBI man tried to show the picture to my daughter-in-law. It wasn't meant for me but I wouldn't let my daughter-in-law see the picture because she had this young baby and we had been moved from place to place for the last few days and I said, "I'm awfully sorry but you can't talk to her unless we have an attorney." And then he showed me the picture of Jack Ruby.

Mr. Crane — What you're claiming is that they showed you a picture of Jack Ruby before Ruby shot your son.

Mrs. Oswald — On November 23, 6:30 in the afternoon at the Inn of the Executives.

Mr. Crane — Well, what do you know about that?

Mrs. Oswald — Where we couldn't talk to a lawyer or anybody.

Mr. Belli — I think it's a mother's duty to do what this mother is doing today to defend her son.

Mrs. Oswald — Thank you.

Mr. Belli — I've never prosecuted and I can't accuse this mother but I can say in answer to some of the things that she's raised here that, forgive me for saying this, I think she's errant. I think she's completely errant. Jack Ruby did not know Lee Harvey Oswald before the shooting, of that I am certain.

Mrs. Oswald — No. I am certain that he didn't know Lee. I didn't say he knew Lee before the shooting. I'm saying that there was a threat on my son's life before the shooting and the authorities got wind that it was Jack Ruby who was going to do the shooting.

Mr. Belli — I wonder if Mrs. Oswald will take, or may I ask her directly, will take the word of the Warren Commission as to what they say happened?

Mrs. Oswald — No. I won't take the word of anyone on this because I was shown a picture of Jack Ruby and this is for sure.

Mr. Belli — But I mean as to who did what and who shot who and who was responsible. Would you take the word of the Warren Commission on this?

Mrs. Oswald — On who shot who? You mean if Lee Harvey Oswald shot the President?

Mr. Belli — Yes.

Mrs. Oswald — No sir, unless I am shown the evidence. I'm a very reasonable person and my son could be guilty. He is a human being.

Mr. Belli — You see it's a very difficult thing.

Mrs. Oswald — But I want proof.

Mr. Belli — To accuse the mother or ask the mother to say a son is guilty and I don't think that anyone

Mr. Crane — Nobody's asked her to do that.

Mr. Belli — I don't think anyone would do that, but I do say if you ask me directly with reference to some of these hearsay statements and I say that respectfully, of course, with Mrs. Oswald, that from what I know of the case, and I must now say that I think that I know as much about it as, in legal evidence, as anyone living including those who were on the Warren Commission and I know that there was no connection between Jack Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald and from everything I know, the mother's son was the responsible party.

Mr. Crane — But let me ask you

Mr. Belli — That made no differences in my representation of Jack Ruby, of course.

Mr. Crane — Let me ask you a few questions now.

Mr. Belli — Yes sir.

Mr. Crane — As you probably know there have been photographs shown around the world, not too prominently in this country, for example the alleged murder weapon. I've seen pictures of this rifle with the telescopic sight as published in American magazines. I've seen the pictures of the exact picture posed with the same fellow, in theory the exact same gun without the telescopic sight on it and the assumption you might draw from this is that the telescopic sight was added to the photograph prior to its being released.

Mr. Belli — Well, we come to the ultimate conclusion that there must be some finders of fact in this democratic system of ours and I think that we picked the greatest finder of fact and the most objective man with the utmost integrity, our Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. He went down, he talked to Jack Ruby. He did all of the investigation which a human being could do. We're never certain on these things but I would say as certain as we can be, the person we're talking about did shoot the President and I know that Jack Ruby did shoot the son.

Mr. Crane — Another question. I don't want to put you on trial, obviously I'm out of my

Mr. Belli — And I'm reluctant, of course, to prosecute.. I've never been a prosecutor. I've defended.

Mr. Crane — What I want

(unintelligible).

There has probably been more armchair generally, that's not the right term, the armchair lawyering of your conduct at the Ruby trial than any other trial in recent time and one of the points raised.

Mr. Belli — If they were all there to try the case we'd still be trying it, but the thing they say too (unintelligible).

Mr. Crane — You put all your eggs in one basket, the insanity basket. I wonder if you've got any second thoughts about the way you.

Mr. Belli — No. No, we didn't. No, we didn't. Because when we argued the case, we argued the case for three individuals, the normal man in Dallas at that time who would have been so upset he would have done a thing like this, then the normal man who cracks under the strain, and then, thirdly, the man who had the mental aberration that Jack Ruby did have and does and we prognosed at the time before the trial that Jack Ruby did have organic brain damage and that he would attempt suicide afterwards and fortunately or tragically or unfortunately, we were proved right. Jack Ruby does have brain damage and Jack Ruby is insane and I think that will be proved more later on. Now when we argued the case we did wrap up within that argument the scientific argument and the only honest argument that we could make.

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald, how was your relationship with Marina, your daughter-in-law, before, not before the event, but in the few days immediately after the assassination?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. Well, I think the American people saw me in my nurse's uniform coming to the rescue of my daughter-in-law, who I love very dearly, and we were held in protective custody. Well, first I was alone with Marina for two days and Marina had also made statements and they have been printed in magazines, that "Lee no do this. Lee good man." And then we were put in protective custody at the end of the sixth day and the babies were ill and I was very busy with the Russian girl and two young babies that had diarrhea and the Secret Servicemen and my son. All the men were in the living room and we were in the bedroom, when I had the doctor sometimes three times a day, so I wasn't even watching television, and knowing what was going on just getting snatches. So Marina and I were very, very close and I had had an insurance policy on my son that was extended insurance because when I was ill I was destitute, as I told you, and for a $21.00 annual premium that I couldn't pay it elapsed, so I had it for eight hundred and some odd dollars. I wasn't sure if it was still effective so I insisted upon going home because I thought now we can start out with this. You must remember we had no donations of any kind at this particular time. This is the three day period after my son was murdered.

Mr. Crane — You and Marina were friendly at this

Mrs. Oswald — Very friendly and everything was "Mama" this and "Mama" this. So I remembered about the policy and we were going to live together. "I no want big house Mama, I want small house." And this was all settled and thus on the 27th of November I walked into the bedroom and I said something to my daughter-in-law and she brushed me aside and walked away. Well, that morning I had acted as interpreter for Marina for an FBI agent and I naturally was using the name Lee quite a bit and I thought maybe she thought I was hurting her husband. So I waited a while and about a half hour later I went again. She shrugged me away again. So I walked into the main room where my son and all of the Secret Servicemen were and the others and I said, "Robert, what's wrong with Marina? She doesn't want to talk to me. She has pushed me aside." He said, "Mother, I'll tell you what's wrong. She has had an offer to go to live in a very wealthy woman's home who will educate her children and she doesn't know how to tell you." I said, "Well, Robert, why didn't you tell me?" "Well, just the way you're acting now."

I said, "How am I acting now? My son has been murdered. Now you're asking me to give up my daughter and grandchildren to strangers. How do you expect me to act?" "Well, you see this is why we didn't tell you." And this is the very last time that I have seen my daughter-in-law or grandchildren.

Mr. Crane — Now let me get back to you for just a second. Immediately after the trial you had an interview outside on the Dallas Courthouse steps and you said some pretty explosive things about the trial and the kind of

Mr. Belli — Factual things still the less and still agree with them.

Mr. Crane — You made some wild statements about the city of Dallas.

Mr. Belli — They weren't wild. As a matter of fact, Judge Sarah Hughes, who's the United States District Judge in Dallas, said the same thing rather recently to a congress of South American newspaper editors. She said that Dallas was a city of shame and the only city that this assassination could take place and she made some comment about a sick man doing a thing like this.

Mr. Crane — Well, you were censored at the time, were you not, by the American Bar Association?

Mr. Belli — They attempted to and that's the result of my suit against the President of the American Bar for saying I was unethical in crying out that this was a kangaroo court (unintelligible) and just the other day I came across a United States Supreme Court decision, Sapple vs. New York, in which the United States Supreme Court used the expression regarding a censorship case in New York. This procedure is a kangaroo court and the American Bar isn't going to censor the United States Supreme Court on that, I'm sure, but they did me because it did and I think that when the transcript is made available we'll see that it did, both from the way the jury was picked and the trial was run.

Mr. Crane — We'll be back with the final few moments of this particular discussion in just two minutes and fifteen seconds from right now.

Mr. Crane — My guests tonight are Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of the alleged assassin of President Kennedy, Lee Harvey Oswald, and Mr. Melvin Belli, the very colorful and charming gentleman from San Francisco who defended the slayer of Mrs. Oswald's son, Jack Ruby. Mel, how's your career been since this particular case? Have you found any dramatic alterations in your personal practice?

Mr. Belli — No, except that I had to hide some of the letters that came in from Dallas so the younger members of my family couldn't see them.

Mr. Crane — Really?

Mr. Belli — Yeah.

Mr. Crane — You got a lot of that hate?

Mr. Belli — From the sophisticated South and the warm, hospitable city of Dallas there were some pretty rough letters that came in and some that came in from Mississippi and some from Alabama.

Mr. Crane — Have you been the target of much of this kind of hate?

Mrs. Oswald — No, surprisingly I haven't. In the beginning I held a press conference at the Parkway (phonetic) Press Club and there was a threat on my life if I went through with the press conference which, of course, I did. I am not going to let anyone intimidate me in any way whatsoever. As I said before, I don't care who I find that's involved with this. If my son is guilty, I believe there are other people involved.

Mr. Crane — Well, wouldn't you say, Mrs. Oswald, there's a tone of voice and an attitude and a whole funny transformation that takes place when you start talking about "I don't care who is involved in this." Are you prepared to make some kind of an allegation tonight that you know somebody

Mrs. Oswald — Well, no, I think

Mr. Crane — About somebody else being involved?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I stick to my very original theory and I have had many, many letters with many, many theories, many books have been written, that I have read, and there's many theories about who killed Kennedy and why and so on and so forth and when I'm not (unintelligible) under protective custody and came into my own home, I have eh, the newsmen were there, I made the statement and I still stick to this statement after nine months investigative work, I say it much stronger now. I think because of the material that I have myself because I researched Lee's defection, that the leak is in our own State Department. Now I believe in America and I believe in our American way of life but we all know that we have corruption in anything and I say we have a few corrupt men in high power that wanted President Kennedy out of the way and that my son was a perfect patsy.

Mr. Belli — May I answer that just briefly?

Mr. Crane — Sure.

Mr. Belli — Les, that's one of the reasons I came on the program this evening, again starting with the premise that I can't attack a mother for doing what she's doing but I do feel that if we're going to rely on hearsay and we're going to make wild statements under the guise of freedom of speech,

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, (unintelligible)

Mr. Belli — Look, you believe in freedom of speech and I do too, so let me answer you, and let me answer you just this and say nothing more. I've seen the headlines that Mark Lane, a lawyer, generated in Europe and generated

Mrs. Oswald — That's nothing to do with me.

Mr. Belli — Just a moment please now. I've been very gracious, I think. And in Greece and in Norway, Sweden, that there was a conspiracy here and that the people of the United States weren't told about who the real slayer was but it was a conspiracy between Ruby and Oswald and here when the cards are down in a democracy the people aren't told and there's an unseen government and I think that what you're saying on the hearsay and these statements about people in corrupt governmental offices in the State Department is only giving fuel to enemies abroad.

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, it isn't hearsay.

Mr. Belli — It's awfully difficult to make the statement

Mrs. Oswald — Les, it isn't hearsay.

Mr. Crane — Let him go ahead.

(Unintelligible)

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald, let him finish.

Mrs. Oswald — But he's saying it's hearsay and I can prove it isn't.

Mr. Crane — Well, let him finish.

Mr. Belli — I've listened very patiently this evening and and since the time of the slaying and I haven't heard one statement, other than hearsay, or one bit of evidence in this case that would hold up, not only in court in my form, but in a court of human relations or between us on the street or with American citizens. I haven't seen one bit of information. Now we've got to rely on somebody to give us information.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I have

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald

Mr. Belli — We've got then to rely on the people of the utmost integrity in this country and I would rely on the Chief Justice and the Commission.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, then why

(Unintelligible)

Mr. Crane — I don't think Mr. Belli, once he gets started

Mr. Belli — But I think you're doing a tremendous service in this country which, Les points out, wouldn't be allowed in any country in the world, that you'd have this freedom of speech that you have here.

(Unintelligible)

Mrs. Oswald — Your statement is hearsay because I testified before the Warren Commission for three days with documents this high and how do you know it's hearsay?

Mr. Belli — Might I ask you just this question, madam? Would you be willing to listen to what is said in the Warren report reporting the documents that you brought there? Would you think that the Chief Justice would be fair enough and honest enough accurately to report you and your documents? Would you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, I

Mr. Belli — Would you answer me just that directly?

Mrs. Oswald — I can answer you this directly. I have made this statement continuously that I think the Warren Commission will be most fair but I do not think it's the proper type of commission, investigative commission, for this particular case.

Mr. Crane — Headed by the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court?

Mrs. Oswald — I think we needed both sides cross examined. I think that we needed a Senate investigating committee.

Mr. Belli — This is not a trial. A Senate investigating

Mr. Crane — I don't believe we have an answer to it.

Mr. Belli — Would you just say this, would you answer me on this? Will you believe that the Chief Justice will report you and your records accurately? Do you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, I'm going to quote the Chief Justice. May I quote Chief Justice Warren before the Commission?

Mr. Belli — Well, I would rather have you answer the question.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I want a cross examination. "No ma'am, Mrs. Oswald, your son is not on trial here. There is an accusation against your son in the Dallas court but this Commission is not warranted an accusation against your son." I have this in black and white in the testimony before the Warren Commission. My son is not on trial before the Warren Commission.

Mr. Belli — I thought he was. Weren't they determining who

Mrs. Oswald — No sir. I have this in black and white.

Mr. Belli — Weren't they determining who shot President Kennedy?

Mrs. Oswald — No sir. When I appeared

Mr. Belli — What are they determining then?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, you'll have to ask Chief Justice Warren about

Mr. Belli — No, what did you think they were determining?

Mrs. Oswald — All right. I thought they were so when I

Mr. Belli — No, what did you think they were determining?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I thought they were determining the killing of President Kennedy and the consequent killing of my son and when I

Mr. Belli — What do you think now that they're investigating?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I'll tell you what Chief Justice Warren said and I'll quote it over nationwide. I have it in black and white.

Mr. Belli — Don't tell me what he said. Just tell me what you think they were investigating.

Mrs. Oswald — I thought that (unintelligible)

Mrs. Oswald — My son was not on trial before the Warren Commission, but there is no accusation against my son in the Warren Commission but in the Dallas Police Court.

Mr. Belli — Well, let me ask you again if the Warren Commission comes out and says that they have investigated whether your son did the shooting, that they examined you, took your evidence, took your documentary and oral evidence and if the Chief Justice says in that report that it was your son, then would you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — What you are doing, Mr. Belli

Mr. Belli — Well, would you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — You are questioning me as an attorney and in answering, expecting me to answer yes or no.

Mr. Belli — Now, I'm not an attorney now, just asking you a simple question.

Mrs. Oswald — I'm not going to answer yes or no like a cross examination.

Mr. Crane — So, let's listen Mrs. Oswald.

Mrs. Oswald — Please, I'm right.

Mr. Crane — He's not on the witness stand. She's not, you know, this is no (unintelligible) court we're holding.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I'm gonna be again in the minority group and be wrong if I say no that I don't think the Warren Commission

Mr. Belli — Well Mrs. Oswald, I think my record stands with that question that I represented those

Mrs. Oswald — But you're an attorney. I'm just an (unintelligible).

Mr. Belli — But let me put the question without accusing me or my profession of trying to trick you. Won't you believe what the Warren report says?

Mrs. Oswald — I will not sir unless they prove it to me. Now does that answer your question?

Mr. Belli — How could they prove it to you?

Mrs. Oswald — By showing me things. I know nothing. People in the audience, I know as much as you do. When the report is given I will read it like you will read it and yet I am the mother of an accused assassin of the United States. I have some rights, American rights, and judicial rights to say now Mrs. Oswald

Mr. Crane — Well, first of all.

Mrs. Oswald — Can you a, a, a.

Mr. Crane — First of all Mrs

Mrs. Oswald — Let me show you your son's rights.

Mr. Crane — Did you give all the jury evidence to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I gave

Mr. Crane — All of your evidence to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I gave them

Mr. Crane — All of your evidence to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes.

Mr. Crane — So that we have to determine whether they, looking at all of the evidence that you gave them, give an honest report.

Mrs. Oswald — Well here's a little instance. Here is a letter that my daughter-in-law, a little note that my daughter-in-law claims that she found weeks after the statements were made that Lee took a shot at Walker. Does the Warren Commission or the FBI or the Secret Service or any authority group come to me and ask me if its my son's handwriting? No, Sir. And I'll tell you something that you don't know. I have never been questioned by the FBI or the Secret Service when Lee Harvey Oswald went to Russia. Isn't it strange that no authority group came to the mother of this spy who got out of service, as I said before, ahead of time and supposed to defect to Russia and no authoritative group came to me and questioned me about this.

Mr. Crane — Wait a minute. Wait a minute.

Mr. Belli — Mrs. Oswald, I have heard that there were some psychiatric reports that were given to you about your son when he was in the

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I'm happy that you brought it up and I have been waiting for you to say it.

Mr. Belli — Well, I haven't put the whole question yet. If you know the answer then without the question, then if you want-to give me the answer.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I do. I know the answer. Yes, I do. This is another instance like I received $5,000.00 for the New York

Mr. Belli — No, just a psychiatric report. Not the $5,000.00.

Mrs. Oswald — Wal, I. This is an audience here if you'll let me say.

Mr. Belli — Well, don't explain to the audience, just answer my question, cause you've been doing that for a long time.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, you're an attorney and I'm a lady and I don't talk like you do. Don't talk like you do.

Mr. Belli — What about the psychiatric report?

Mrs. Oswald — No. Never.

Mr. Belli — Well, the answer is no.

Mrs. Oswald — And the results

Mr. Belli — At no. time

Mrs. Oswald — And it was also said that I had psychiatric treatment and I've never had psychiatric treatment. I've never been in a hospital. But there's been many many things, untrue things, that, and this is what is deplorable. You must realize that. I must get true press coverage but I don't because I'm in the minority group and this is a fact.

Mr. Crane — Well Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Oswald, you've certainly had

Mrs. Oswald — I'm getting it here.

Mr. Crane — You're getting it here.

Mrs. Oswald — But you see I cannot bring out the whole story. I appreciate this and its (unintelligible). I came by plane to come on the program for a few minutes, but it doesn't tell the whole story why I think my son is an agent. Not why I think he's an agent but the actual papers that I have to make me think he's an agent. I don't have the time to go into everything.

Mr. Belli — Mrs. Oswald, do you tell us then that you never at any time had any psychiatric reports on your son in his teens?

Mrs. Oswald — That is absolutely correct.

Mr. Belli — And you never knew that Lee had psychiatric treatment.

Mrs. Oswald — That is absolutely correct and when they said He fled New York because I did not want to give my son psychiatric treatment

Mr. Belli — Who said this?

Mrs. Oswald — This has been in all of the magazines and the newspapers. I can prove this. That Lee was picked up for truancy in the spring and we stayed in New York ten months later when he got out of the home for truancy.

Mr. Belli — All right. Let me ask you if I may

Mrs. Oswald — So how can you say I flee?

Mr. Belli — Just another question for the sake of time because we're going to have to rely on, at least I think we will, the Warren report. Did you have an opportunity to give all of your evidence before the Warren report?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I have given all of my evidence.

Mr. Belli — They gave you a fair hearing. Did they?

Mrs. Oswald — Before the Warren Commission and I have spent - I have no income. This is not of any value to anybody.

Mr. Belli — Did they give you a fair hearing?

Mrs. Oswald — But since then I have given the Warren Commission information and just one month ago I called the Warren Commission. I had had a witness for four months that I didn't want to go see alone. A young lady gave me this information. She went to speak to this woman, who was a negro woman, who lived, worked, in the vicinity of the Tippit murder, and I had had this information but I couldn't investigate it alone. Just four weeks there were some people at my home that I didn't know that came to Dallas, and they asked if I wanted to talk about the case so I asked them to go with me. So then I reported it to the Warren Commission. I have yet

Mr. Belli — In order words, you gave all of the evidence you had to the Warren Commission.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, sir, even now, even now for the past nine months.

Mr. Belli — Yea. They didn't foreclose you on anything, did they?

Mrs. Oswald — I want to say that I gave them the

Mr. Belli — Is that correct?

Mrs. Oswald — Warren Commission the last four weeks

Mr. Belli — Wait a minute.

Mrs. Oswald — This is an eye witness to the Tippit murder and there was an accident on tenth and (unintelligible) the morning of the assassination and the Tippit murder, there were two men, one on each side of the street. Now this is an eye witness, that the FBI and the Secret Service and she lives, she works there.

Mr. Belli — You told this to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes Sir.

Mr. Belli — All of this information?

Mrs. Oswald — I have been. Yes Sir.

Mr. Belli — Then we have to depend upon the honesty

Mr. Crane — Wait. Excuse me. Excuse me.

Mr. Belli — of the Chief Justice as to whether he probably will report that.

Mr. Crane — Excuse me. I wish to say, excuse me, I'm always fascinated to watch your tremendous investigative interest.

Mr. Belli — Now. Now. Now. Take it easy there. Easy there.

Mr. Crane — But, however, because of the problems of time in television, may I ask you to get where you were going with this (unintelligible). Without the whole

Mr. Belli — Two things that I think we can sum it up to. Number one, you did give everything. You did get everything, every bit of evidence that you knew and had to the Warren Commission. Didn't you?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I don't think

Mr. Belli — And if they give a report you'll, you'll abide by what they say.

Mrs. Oswald — No sir. Not unless I see it.

Mr. Belli — All right. Well that's the only point that I can make.

Mrs. Oswald — Now I'll answer the question you've

Mr. Crane — We will have to

Mrs. Oswald — Been asking me and I have gone (unintelligible). Which is the legality you are an attorney. I have said no.

Mr. Crane — Okay.

Mrs. Oswald — As far as I know, I say no.

Mr. Crane — Our time is up. Mrs. Oswald I can't thank you enough for being with us.

Mrs. Oswald — Thank you. I appreciate it very much.

Mr. Crane — I hope that you feel you were treated fairly tonight.

Mrs. Oswald — I must present my case and this is why I spend a few times. I just wished I could talk for hours and hours. Present the case exactly as it is.

Lee Harvey Oswald

Mr. Crane — Unfortunately, time is a problem in television Mel. I can't thank you enough for flying all the way in from San Francisco to be with us tonight.

Mr. Belli — Unintelligible.

Lee Harvey Oswald

The following is a verbatim transcription of that portion of the Les Crane Television Show, New York, on August 5, 1964, which featured as guest panelists Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, and Melvin Belli, former defense attorney for Jack Ruby:

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Oswald, I think this probably is going to be the easiest interview to startoff my career. The obvious question, I think, on everybody's mind in the country and in this room at this time - Do you think he did it?

Mrs. Oswald — No, of course not and this is why I thank my emotional stability and come on such programs as yours, Les, and the many, many programs I have been on, because I certainly have investigated this thoroughly and believe that my son, Lee Harvey Oswald, is innocent of the crime, the charge, against him, not only President Kennedy's assassination but the murder of Patrolman Tippit. I do not speak as a mother, I am a mother first of all, and it's because I am a mother, I guess, that I do take my stability emotionally and come before audiences, but I also speak as a human being. I have investigated this thoroughly and because I, myself, know more about Lee than any human being living.

Mr. Crane — Let me ask you this. Let's go back in time a little bit. Since the assassination, there have been many, many articles in magazines, diaries have been published, letters allegedly written between yourself and Lee, letters between Lee and his wife, Marina, and so forth. What's your reaction to the publication of these diaries and this information about the boy, the man?

Mrs. Oswald — About the diary, I'm going to have to assume, like the rest of the public, that it is Lee's diary; however, all of Lee's letters to me and all of the correspondence is in longhand and if any of you have noticed, on particularly "Life" cover the diary is printed and there's many, many things in the diary that I know are incorrect. Now I'm going to cite one of those things that I, as a mother, would see that no one else could possibly see. My husband, Lee's father, was an insurance agent. This is the term that we used. I'm originally from New Orleans, Louisiana, so Lee has heard this all of his life that his father was an insurance agent and in the diary it says, "My father died before I was born and he was an insurance salesman." So you see just this little thing is most important. I am just assuming that this is Lee's diary. I have no proof.

Mr. Crane — But you're actually, you're casting doubt as to whether it is or isn't.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, I am casting doubt because it would be very easy to compile such a diary through dates and so on and so forth from State Department correspondence, which by the way, two copies of State Department correspondence have been stolen from my home and also the original affidavits from the Red Cross, because I have an accident, were also stolen, but I would like to make this public now. The people that have stole this do not have the complete set and this is why I have them in my home. Naturally I keep everything in a safety deposit box, all in the State of Texas, but I must have some things with me in order to investigate and research. So they do not have the complete array of State Department literature but I wish them success with whatever they want to do with this and I'm under the impression that part of this was used in the diary because the dates are so exact with the correspondence of the State Department.

Mr. Crane — Now there have been many speculations and many areas of investigation that people have written about your relationship with Lee, how you got along as a mother and son, and the picture that has been painted has been not too glowing.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, you're so right there and you see I'm in the minority group. I believe that my son is innocent and it's much easier to believe that he's guilty and let's let him lie. Let's accept the fact because the awful truth is too awful maybe for us to understand. But I don't believe this. I believe the truth should be known. If my son is guilty, any other member of my family or any one club or even the President of the United States, or Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, or any high official, if I find them guilty, I, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, expect to let the public know. I will not cover up for anybody in authority.

Mr. Crane — Well, do you feel, you've been obviously exploring this thing, you've read all the books written about it, you've discussed it with lawyers, you've checked over the police records and the dates and times, you've looked at the photographs and there apparently is quite a bit of controversy ranging around the world, at least about some of these photographs.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, but I think there should be controversy. There's so much speculation, so much untruth and, Mr. Crane, you said that there was a bad picture of me and my relationship with Lee. Now I have had published in "Esquire" magazine sixteen letters that Lee wrote to me and anyone who has read Lee's original letters to his mother from Russia know what he thought about his mother. This is all together a different boy than has been exploited in the newspapers and the magazines. This is his letters to his mother and they were not doctored. This is the only true thing that has ever come out publicly and that has never been doctored.

Mr. Crane — You've suggested to various people that you've spoken to that there's more to this business about him defecting to the Soviet Union and returning than meets the eye. What is your

Mrs. Oswald — Well naturally. Lee was an agent of our United States Government.

Mr. Crane — Well, you're making a statement now that has yet to be proven.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, I am but I can back up.

Mr. Crane — Well, I assume you've testified before the Warren Commission.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, I have made this statement before the Warren Commission.

Mr. Crane — Then I'm sure you're aware of the fact that one of the investigators assigned to this case and on the Warren Commission is Mr. Allen Dulles who was at that time, I believe, the head of the CIA, which seems to me as though he would know pretty much

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, Mr. Allen Dulles, you see, you have two administrations in my son's life, when Lee was in the service and when Lee went to Russia, he was in the younger administrative group and Allen Dulles was head of the CIA at that particular time and, of course, he is on the Warren Commission as most people know. And then you have the Kennedy administration that brought this boy back to the United States. So you have two political groups.

Mr. Crane — Well, what makes you think, obviously he never could have or never would have, so if he was, in fact, a secret agent for our government he never would have or could have told you that so what makes you feel that this is the case?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, because of many, many things that I have in black and white. It isn't that I think this. I feel sure that I know but, of course, I can never prove it; it would be up to the government to say whether Lee was an agent or not. I have made this statement many times and I will make it now. I have more circumstantial evidence in my possession, written evidence, that Lee was an agent of the United States Government than the Dallas police have that he murdered Patrolman Tippit or President Kennedy, this is for sure,

Mr. Crane — Again what I'm asking you for, you've made this statement boldly and flatly, Lee was an agent of the government. Give me a fact or two.

Mrs. Oswald — All right. I will start then at age 15½ years. Lee was a cadet in a Civil Air Patrol and this is the time that we had just arrived from New York back to New Orleans, which is our home town, and as soon as we reached there he became a member of the Civil Air Patrol at 15½ years. Now I have his picture in the uniform and at 16 years old Lee tried to join the Marines and the reason why he did this, he quit school at age 16 two weeks before his birthday, there was a U.S. Marine Recruiting Officer who had influenced this boy while he was with the Civil Air Cadets to become a Marine at age 16. I will prove this. When I returned, I'm ahead of my story. Lee came into the place of business where I was and said, "Mother, I have quit school because I want to join the Marines." I said, "Lee, go home and wait for me. I will be off work in a little while." So when I arrived the Marine Recruiting Officer, in uniform, was at my apartment with my son. I said, "No, I will not let Lee join the Marines. He's too young at age 16." He said, "Well, Mrs. Oswald, a lot of boys do at age 16. The boy has quit school and this is what he wants to do." And I said, "No. He's too young and he may be sent overseas." He said, "Mrs. Oswald, there's less delinquency overseas actually than we have here." And I didn't go along with the idea. Now you mothers who have children age 15 and 16 years old that get a specific idea such as this wanting to join the Marines, you will realize it's an awfully hard thing to combat and control. So for three days Lee and I were at each other's throat about this because he wanted me to sign a birth certificate saying that he was 17 years old. So I spoke to the rest of the family and they all said, "Well, let him go."

Mr. Crane — Forgive me. I

Mrs. Oswald — Surely.

Mr. Crane — You know we're on television and there's a slight time problem here.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, he did join the Marines then at age 17, and now the point I'm going to make. He did join the Marines at age 16, however, they sent him home because they found out that he was 16 years old.

Mr. Crane — Yes ma'am.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, between age 16 and 17 years old Lee lived to become a Marine. Now his brother, Robert, had just came home from the Marines and left the Marine manual at home and that is when Lee Harvey Oswald was reading his brother's Marine manual and also Karl Marx, which is communist literature. Now at age 17 on his birthday he did join the Marines and he was in the Marines for three years less three weeks when he got a dire need discharge.

Mr. Crane — A dire need?

Mrs. Oswald — A dire need discharge.

Mr. Crane — That's what they call a hardship discharge?

Mrs. Oswald — A hardship discharge because I had had an accident and I was destitute. I waited eight months before I told my son anything about it. I didn't want to worry him about it.

Mr. Crane — All right.

Mrs. Oswald — All right. So then Lee is only home three days when he goes to Russia. Now we're going to have to skip, as you say, I realize I'm on television. Let's go a little faster. So the boy goes to Russia and he's in Russia not quite three years. He meets a Russian girl but before he met the Russian girl he had gone to the U.S. Embassy in Moscow and I was informed that Lee wanted to come home, that he had been to the Embassy in Moscow. Now I had researched for twenty months trying to locate my son with no avail. This is the first contact. So the boy wants to come home to America, I'm informed. Then a few weeks after he marries the Russian girl.

Mr. Crane — Marina?

Mrs. Oswald — Marina. This doesn't make sense that a boy who has been in Russia for twenty months, then wants to come home, turns around and marries a Russian girl. Now the way I figure this is that he was told to marry this Russian girl. This is his job, part of his job. You must understand everything I say, that I think my son is an agent and I wish I had the time and the places to prove to you. I think that this boy was told to bring this girl back here to America so that they could get in with Russian people here. This is his work you must understand, as far as I am concerned. This is his work and his diary proves this. Part of this diary is proof that Lee was an agent. Also, he said when he denounced his country and the Russians wouldn't accept him, the thing to do is to (unintelligible), dunk it in hot water, take it out, put it in cold water. If this is a boy who has no country and is on a spot, he's not going to write in his diary how to commit suicide. This boy is trained what to do.

Mr. Crane — In other words you feel as though the United States Government, because they allowed him to come back to this country with his bride after defecting to the Soviet Union, this tends to prove something?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, Crane, it's not as simple as that but that's the basis of it. The thing is it's awfully hard to get out of Russia, as we know, and it's awfully hard to get a Russian girl out of Russia, and another thing, if this boy

Mr. Crane — Wait, wait. Do you think that our government would make it easier to get a Russian girl out of Russia?

Mrs. Oswald — It's quite possible. This is a very, very long thing to go into but when this boy, then who was a, got out of the service ahead of time and didn't stay in the United States and went to Russia as a defector, let's say, and then he comes back and the government helps him to come back, not only money wise, which was the loan, but every way possible; I have the papers. I have the papers. They were always contacting me step by step and he comes back and he's not persecuted. Isn't it strange that our Marine Service would let a boy be, let's say, AWOL? He went to Russia when he got a dire need discharge, and then to come back and do nothing about this. How many servicemen can get out of the service ahead of time?

Mr. Crane — In other words you're saying

Mrs. Oswald — And then go to Russia as a defector and come back to the United States without being questioned or put into the hoosegow? Answer that question for me.

Mr. Crane — Okay. We're going to come back with some more questions for you and Mr. Melvin Belli, who is a lawyer of great repute and an eminent authority in this case obviously for more discussion about this case in two minutes 15 seconds from right now.

Mr. Crane — My guests are Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald who was alleged to have slain President Kennedy and now may I introduce to you: Mr. Melvin Belli. What I was going to say is Mr. Melvin Belli, noted attorney from the grand and glorious city of San Francisco and (unintelligible) cry on each others shoulders for the next (unintelligible). Yes you are going back. After these next five days, I may be going back as well. Before I bring you in, I have one question, another one, that I've been dying to ask Mrs. Oswald. I heard a shocking quote attributed to you. I had understood, and there's no offense intended here

Mrs. Oswald — That's all right. I'm use to it.

Mr. Crane — But I understood

Mrs. Oswald — I'm in the minority group. I don't expect people to like me.

Mr. Crane — All right. I understood that it was reported in a national magazine that you had requested an interview with President Johnson and this request was denied and the statement was attributed to you as follows: "Well, he's got some nerve not wanting to see me. If it wasn't for my son, he wouldn't be President." Did you say that?

Mrs. Oswald — No, of course not. I have

Mr. Crane — That was printed you know.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. No, I don't know about this part being printed About the request to see President Kennedy

Mr. Crane — Johnson.

Mrs. Oswald — Johnson, this is absolutely false. The whole thing is false and this is what is deplorable with me. They seem to write and say anything they want. I am in the minority group. I am the mother of the accused assassin of the United States and it's much easier to let this lie than to bring it out in the open.

Mr. Crane — Well, that's why we're here tonight. Another thing

Mrs. Oswald — And most of all I go on television to bring the things out in the open. I wish I could talk straight for three hours instead of being interrupted. I think I will give some pertinent information. There's no question I cannot bring out the true facts and the newspapers and the magazines won't give me true coverage. They lie. In "Redbook" there's a story that when I spoke before thousands of people in New York City at Town Hall that I was paid $5,000.00. I want you to know and the audience listening that I was paid transportation and $100.00 for expenses.

Mr. Crane — I'd like to add at this point that Mrs. Oswald is not being paid for her appearance on this program as well. We brought her to New York and we will pay her expenses and return.

Mrs. Oswald — I do not accept money for this appearance. I expect transportation and hotel bills.

Mr. Crane — One point that you touched on which is quite, I think that's reasonable. One point that you touched on which is the most exciting thing about all of this to me, I want you people here and I want you people at home to think about this for just one second, we are sitting here in the studios of a major broadcasting company of America and we are talking to the mother of a man who, it is alleged, assassinated our President not too long ago. This is being broadcast coast to coast. I wonder if anybody here thinks this would be taking place in any other country in the world today except ours. That's pretty wonderful isn't it? Pretty exciting. All right, one last question and then to Mr. Belli. Have you ever, did you ever see Jack Ruby before the time that you saw the pictures of him in the Dallas jail?

Mrs. Oswald — No, but I saw a picture of Jack Ruby on November 23, shown to me by an FBI agent.

Mr. Crane — Wait a minute. November 23?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, before my son was murdered. A picture of Jack Ruby

Mr. Crane — That's the day before.

Mrs. Oswald — The day before.

Mr. Crane — The day before Jack Ruby

Mrs. Oswald — The day before my son was murdered while all in Dallas, the FBI and all of the authorities were saying that they had a threat on Lee Harvey Oswald's life and the Dallas police were supposedly to have been told by the FBI that they had these threats. At 6:30 on November 23 at the Executive Inn where I was with my daughter-in-law an FBI man tried to show the picture to my daughter-in-law. It wasn't meant for me but I wouldn't let my daughter-in-law see the picture because she had this young baby and we had been moved from place to place for the last few days and I said, "I'm awfully sorry but you can't talk to her unless we have an attorney." And then he showed me the picture of Jack Ruby.

Mr. Crane — What you're claiming is that they showed you a picture of Jack Ruby before Ruby shot your son.

Mrs. Oswald — On November 23, 6:30 in the afternoon at the Inn of the Executives.

Mr. Crane — Well, what do you know about that?

Mrs. Oswald — Where we couldn't talk to a lawyer or anybody.

Mr. Belli — I think it's a mother's duty to do what this mother is doing today to defend her son.

Mrs. Oswald — Thank you.

Mr. Belli — I've never prosecuted and I can't accuse this mother but I can say in answer to some of the things that she's raised here that, forgive me for saying this, I think she's errant. I think she's completely errant. Jack Ruby did not know Lee Harvey Oswald before the shooting, of that I am certain.

Mrs. Oswald — No. I am certain that he didn't know Lee. I didn't say he knew Lee before the shooting. I'm saying that there was a threat on my son's life before the shooting and the authorities got wind that it was Jack Ruby who was going to do the shooting.

Mr. Belli — I wonder if Mrs. Oswald will take, or may I ask her directly, will take the word of the Warren Commission as to what they say happened?

Mrs. Oswald — No. I won't take the word of anyone on this because I was shown a picture of Jack Ruby and this is for sure.

Mr. Belli — But I mean as to who did what and who shot who and who was responsible. Would you take the word of the Warren Commission on this?

Mrs. Oswald — On who shot who? You mean if Lee Harvey Oswald shot the President?

Mr. Belli — Yes.

Mrs. Oswald — No sir, unless I am shown the evidence. I'm a very reasonable person and my son could be guilty. He is a human being.

Mr. Belli — You see it's a very difficult thing.

Mrs. Oswald — But I want proof.

Mr. Belli — To accuse the mother or ask the mother to say a son is guilty and I don't think that anyone

Mr. Crane — Nobody's asked her to do that.

Mr. Belli — I don't think anyone would do that, but I do say if you ask me directly with reference to some of these hearsay statements and I say that respectfully, of course, with Mrs. Oswald, that from what I know of the case, and I must now say that I think that I know as much about it as, in legal evidence, as anyone living including those who were on the Warren Commission and I know that there was no connection between Jack Ruby and Lee Harvey Oswald and from everything I know, the mother's son was the responsible party.

Mr. Crane — But let me ask you

Mr. Belli — That made no differences in my representation of Jack Ruby, of course.

Mr. Crane — Let me ask you a few questions now.

Mr. Belli — Yes sir.

Mr. Crane — As you probably know there have been photographs shown around the world, not too prominently in this country, for example the alleged murder weapon. I've seen pictures of this rifle with the telescopic sight as published in American magazines. I've seen the pictures of the exact picture posed with the same fellow, in theory the exact same gun without the telescopic sight on it and the assumption you might draw from this is that the telescopic sight was added to the photograph prior to its being released.

Mr. Delli — Well, we come to the ultimate conclusion that there must be some finders of fact in this democratic system of ours and I think that we picked the greatest finder of fact and the most objective man with the utmost integrity, our Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court. He went down, he talked to Jack Ruby. He did all of the investigation which a human being could do. We're never certain on these things but I would say as certain as we can be, the person we're talking about did shoot the President and I know that Jack Ruby did shoot the son.

Mr. Crane — Another question. I don't want to put you on trial, obviously I'm out of my

Mr. Delli — And I'm reluctant, of course, to prosecute.. I've never been a prosecutor. I've defended.

Mr. Crane — What I want

(unintelligible).

There has probably been more armchair generally, that's not the right term, the armchair lawyering of your conduct at the Ruby trial than any other trial in recent time and one of the points raised.

Mr. Delli — If they were all there to try the case we'd still be trying it, but the thing they say too (unintelligible).

Mr. Crane — You put all your eggs in one basket, the insanity basket. I wonder if you've got any second thoughts about the way you

Mr. Belli — No. No, we didn't. No, we didn't. Because when we argued the case, we argued the case for three individuals, the normal man in Dallas at that time who would have been so upset he would have done a thing like this, then the normal man who cracks under the strain, and then, thirdly, the man who had the mental aberration that Jack Ruby did have and does and we proposed at the time before the trial that Jack Ruby did have organic brain damage and that he would attempt suicide afterwards and forturately or tragically or unfortunately, we were proved right. Jack Ruby does have brain damage and Jack Ruby is insane and I think that will be proved more later on. Now when we argued the case we did wrap up within that argument the scientific argument and the only honest argument that we could make.

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald, how was your relationship with Marina, your daughter-in-law, before, not before the event, but in the few days immediately after the assassination?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. Well, I think the American people saw me in my nurse's uniform coming to the rescue of my daughter-in-law, who I love very dearly, and we were held in protective custody. Well, first I was alone with Marina for two days and Marina had also made statements and they have been printed in magazines, that "Lee no do this. Lee good man." And then we were put in protective custody at the end of the sixth day and the babies were ill and I was very busy with the Russian girl and two young babies that had diarrhea and the Secret Servicemen and my son. All the men were in the living room and we were in the bedroom, when I had the doctor sometimes three times a day, so I wasn't even watching television, and knowing what was going on just getting snatches. So Marina and I were very, very close and I had had an insurance policy on my son that was extended insurance because when I was ill I was destitute, as I told you, and for a $21.00 annual premium that I couldn't pay it elapsed, so I had it for eight hundred and some odd dollars. I wasn't sure if it was still effective so I insisted upon going home because I thought now we can start out with this. You must remember we had no donations of any kind at this particular time. This is the three day period after my son was murdered.

Mr. Crane — You and Marina were friendly at this

Mrs. Oswald — Very friendly and everything was "Mama" this and "Mama" this. So I remembered about the policy and we were going to live together. "I no want big house Mama, I want small house." And this was all settled and thus on the 27th of November I walked into the bedroom and I said something to my daughter-in-law and she brushed me aside and walked away. Well, that morning I had acted as interpreter for Marina for an FBI agent and I naturally was using the name Lee quite a bit and I thought maybe she thought I was hurting her husband. So I waited a while and about a half hour later I went again. She shrugged me away again. So I walked into the main room where my son and all of the Secret Servicemen were and the others and I said, "Robert, what's wrong with Marina? She doesn't want to talk to me. She has pushed me aside." He said, "Mother, I'll tell you what's wrong. She has had an offer to go to live in a very wealthy woman's home who will educate her children and she doesn't know how to tell you." I said, "Well, Robert, why didn't you tell me?" "Well, just the way you're acting now."

I said, "How am I acting now? My son has been murdered. Now you're asking me to give up my daughter and grandchildren to strangers. How do you expect me to act?" "Well, you see this is why we didn't tell you." And this is the very last time that I have seen my daughter-in-law or grandchildren.

Mr. Crane — Now let me get back to you for just a second. Immediately after the trial you had an interview outside on the Dallas Courthouse steps and you said some pretty explosive things about the trial and the kind of

Mr. Belli — Factual things still the less and still agree with them.

Mr. Crane — You made some wild statements about the city of Dallas.

Mr. Belli — They weren't wild. As a matter of fact, Judge Sarah Hughes, who's the United States District Judge in Dallas, said the same thing rather recently to a congress of South American newspaper editors. She said that Dallas was a city of shame and the only city that this assassination could take place and she made some comment about a sick man doing a thing like this.

Mr. Crane — Well, you were censured at the time, were you not, by the American Bar Association?

Mr. Belli — They attempted to and that's the result of my suit against the President of the American Bar for saying I was unethical in crying out that this was a kangaroo court (unintelligible) and just the other day I came across a United States Supreme Court decision, Sapple vs. New York, in which the United States Supreme Court used the expression regarding a censorship case in New York. This procedure is a kangaroo court and the American Bar isn't going to censure the United States Supreme Court on that, I'm sure, but they did me because it did and I think that when the transcript is made available we'll see that it did, both from the way the jury was picked and the trial was run.

Mr. Crane — We'll be back with the final few moments of this particular discussion in just two minutes and fifteen seconds from right now.

Mr. Crane — My guests tonight are Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of the alleged assassin of President Kennedy, Lee Harvey Oswald, and Mr. Melvin Belli, the very colorful and charming gentleman from San Francisco who defended the slayer of Mrs. Oswald's son, Jack Ruby. Mel, how's your career been since this particular case? Have you found any dramatic alterations in your personal practice?

Mr. Belli — No, except that I had to hide some of the letters that came in from Dallas so the younger members of my family couldn't see them.

Mr. Crane — Really?

Mr. Belli — Yeah.

Mr. Crane — You got a lot of that hate?

Mr. Belli — From the sophisticated South and the warm, hospitable city of Dallas there were some pretty rough letters that came in and some that came in from Mississippi and some from Alabama.

Mr. Crane — Have you been the target of much of this kind of hate?

Mrs. Oswald — No, surprisingly I haven't. In the beginning I held a press conference at the Parkway (phonetic) Press Club and there was a threat on my life if I went through with the press conference which, of course, I did. I am not going to let anyone intimidate me in any way whatsoever. As I said before, I don't care who I find that's involved with this. If my son is guilty, I believe there are other people involved.

Mr. Crane — Well, wouldn't you say, Mrs. Oswald, there's a tone of voice and an attitude and a whole funny transformation that takes place when you start talking about "I don't care who is involved in this." Are you prepared to make some kind of an allegation tonight that you know somebody.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, no, I think

Mr. Crane — About somebody else being involved?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I stick to my very original theory and I have had many, many letters with mary, many theories, many books have been written, that I have read, and there's many theories about who killed Kennedy and why and so on and so forth and when I'm not (unintelligible) under protective custody and came into my own home, I have eh, the newsmen were there, I made the statement and I still stick to this statement after nine months investigative work, I say it much stronger now. I think because of the material that I have myself because I researched Lee's defection, that the leak is in our own State Department. Now I believe in America and I believe in our American way of life but we all know that we have corruption in anything and I say we have a few corrupt men in high power that wanted President Kennedy out of the way and that my son was a perfect patsy.

Mr. Belli — May I answer that just briefly?

Mr. Crane — Sure.

Mr. Belli — Les, that's one of the reasons I came on the program this evening, again starting with the premise that I can't attack a mother for doing what she's doing but I do feel that if we're going to rely on hearsay and we're going to make wild statements under the guise of freedom of speech,

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, (unintelligible)

Mr. Belli — Look, you believe in freedom of speech and I do too, so let me answer you, and let me answer you just this and say nothing more. I've seen the headlines that Mark Lane, a lawyer, generated in Europe and generated

Mrs. Oswald — That's nothing to do with me.

Mr. Belli — Just a moment please now. I've been very gracious, I think. And in Greece and in Norway, Sweden, that there was a conspiracy here and that the people of the United States weren't told about who the real slayer was but it was a conspiracy between Ruby and Oswald and here when the cards are down in a democracy the people aren't told and there's an unseen government and I think that what you're saying on the hearsay and these statements about people in corrupt governmental offices in the State Department is only giving fuel to enemies abroad.

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, it isn't hearsay.

Mr. Belli — It's awfully difficult to make the statement

Mrs. Oswald — Les, it isn't hearsay.

Mr. Crane — Let him go ahead.

(Unintelligible) -

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald, let him finish.

Mrs. Oswald — But he's saying it's hearsay and I can prove it isn't.

Mr. Crane — Well, let him finish.

Mr. Belli — I've listened very patiently this evening and and since the time of the slaying and I haven't heard one statement, other than hearsay, or one bit of evidence in this case that would hold up, not only in court in my form, but in a court of human relations or between us on the street or with American citizens. I haven't seen one bit of information. Now we've got to rely on somebody to give us information.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I have

Mr. Crane — Mrs. Oswald

Mr. Belli — We've got then to rely on the people of the utmost integrity in this country and I would rely on the Chief Justice and the Commission.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, then why

(Unintelligible)

Mr. Crane — I don't think Mr. Belli, once he gets started

Mr. Belli — But I think you're doing a tremendous service in this country which, Les points out, wouldn't be allowed in any country in the world, that you'd have this freedom of speech that you have here.

(Unintelligible)

Mrs. Oswald — Your statement is hearsay because I testified before the Warren Commission for three days with documents this high and how do you know it's hearsay?

Mr. Belli — Might I ask you just this question, madam? Would you be willing to listen to what is said in the Warren report reporting the documents that you brought there? Would you think that the Chief Justice would be fair enough and honest enough accurately to report you and your documents? Would you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, I

Mr. Belli — Would you answer me just that directly?

Mrs. Oswald — I can answer you this directly. I have made this statement continuously that I think the Warren Commission will be most fair but I do not think it's the proper type of commission, investigative commission, for this particular case.

Mr. Crane — Headed by the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court?

Mrs. Oswald — I think we needed both sides cross examined. I think that we needed a Senate investigating committee.

Mr. Belli — This is not a trial. A Senate investigating

Mr. Crane — I don't believe we have an answer to it.

Mr. Belli — Would you just say this, would you answer me on this? Will you believe that the Chief Justice will report you and your records accurately? Do you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — Mr. Belli, I'm going to quote the Chief Justice. May I quote Chief Justice Warren before the Commission?

Mr. Belli — Well, I would rather have you answer the question.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I want a cross examination. "No ma'am, Mrs. Oswald, your son is not on trial here. There is an accusation against your son in the Dallas court but this Commission is not warranted an accusation against your son." I have this in black and white in the testimony before the Warren Commission. My son is not on trial before the Warren Commission.

Mr. Belli — I thought he was. Weren't they determining who

Mrs. Oswald — No sir. I have this in black and white.

Mr. Belli — Weren't they determining who shot President Kennedy?

Mrs. Oswald — No sir. When I appeared

Mr. Belli — What are they determining then?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, you'll have to ask Chief Justice Warren about

Mr. Belli — No, what did you think they were determining?

Mrs. Oswald — All right. I thought they were so when I

Mr. Belli — No, what did you think they were determining?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I thought they were determining the killing of President Kennedy and the consequent killing of my son and when I

Mr. Belli — What do you think now that they're investigating?

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I'll tell you what Chief Justice Warren said and I'll quote it over nationwide. I have it in black and white.

Mr. Belli — Don't tell me what he said. Just tell me what you think they were investigating.

Mrs. Oswald — I thought that (unintelligible)

Mrs. Oswald — My son was not on trial before the Warren Commission, but there is no accusation against my son in the Warren Commission but in the Dallas Police Court.

Mr. Belli — Well, let me ask you again if the Warren Commission comes out and says that they have investigated whether your son did the shooting, that they examined you, took your evidence, took your documentary and oral evidence and if the Chief Justice says in that report that it was your son, then would you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — What you are doing? Mr. Belli

Mr. Belli — Well, would you believe that?

Mrs. Oswald — You are questioning me as an attorney and in answering, expecting me to answer yes or no.

Mr. Belli — Now, I'm not an attorney now, just asking you a simple question.

Mrs. Oswald — I'm not going to answer yes or no like a cross examination.

Mr. Crane — So, let's listen Mrs. Oswald.

Mrs. Oswald — Please, I'm right.

Mr. Crane — He's not on the witness stand. She's not, you know, this is no (unintelligible) court we're holding.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, I'm gonna be again in the minority group and be wrong if I say no that I don't think the Warren Commission

Mr. Belli — Well Mrs. Oswald, I think my record stands with that question that I represented those

Mrs. Oswald — But you're an attorney. I'm just an (unintelligible).

Mr. Belli — But let me put the question without accusing me or my profession of trying to trick you. Won't you believe what the Warren report says?

Mrs. Oswald — I will not sir unless they prove it to me. Now does that answer your question?

Mr. Belli — How could they prove it to you?

Mrs. Oswald — By showing me things. I know nothing. People in the audience, I know as much as you do. When the report is given I will read it like you will read it and yet I am the mother of an accused assassin of the United States. I have some rights, American rights, and judicial rights to say now Mrs. Oswald

Mr. Crane — Well, first of all.

Mrs. Oswald — Can you a, a, a

Mr. Crane — First of all Mrs

Mrs. Oswald — Let me show you your son's rights.

Mr. Crane — Did you give all the jury evidence to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I gave

Mr. Crane — All of your evidence to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I gave them

Mr. Crane — All of your evidence to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes.

Mr. Crane — So that we have to determine whether they, looking at all of the evidence that you gave them, give an honest report.

Mrs. Oswald — Well here's a little instance. Here is a letter that my daughter-in-law, a little note that my daughter-in-law claims that she found weeks after the statements were made that Lee took a shot at Walker. Does the Warren Commission or the FBI or the Secret Service or any authority group come to me and ask me if its my son's handwriting? No, Sir. And I'll tell you something that you don't know. I have never been questioned by the FBI or the Secret Service when Lee Harvey Oswald went to Russia. Isn't it strange that no authority group came to the mother of this spy who got out of service, as I said before, ahead of time and supposed to defect to Russia and no authoritative group came to me and questioned me about this.

Mr. Crane — Wait a minute. Wait a minute.

Mr. Belli — Mrs. Oswald, I have heard that there were some psychiatric reports that were given to you about your son when he was in the

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I'm happy that you brought it up and I have been waiting for you to say it.

Mr. Belli — Well, I haven't put the whole question yet. If you know the answer then without the question, then if you want to give me the answer.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I do. I know the answer. Yes, I do. This is another instance like I received $5,000.00 for the New York

Mr. Belli — No, just a psychiatric report. Not the $5,000.00.

Mrs. Oswald — Wal, I. This is an audience here if you'll let me say.

Mr. Belli — Well, don't explain to the audience, just answer my question, cause you've been doing that for a long time.

Mrs. Oswald — Well, you're an attorney and I'm a lady and I don't talk like you do. Don't talk like you do.

Mr. Belli — What about the psychiatric report?

Mrs. Oswald — No. Never.

Mr. Belli — Well, the answer is no.

Mrs. Oswald — And the results

Mr Belli — At no time

Mrs. Oswald — And it was also said that I had psychiatric treatment and I've never had psychiatric treatment. I've never been in a hospital. But there's been many many things, untrue things, that, and this is what is deplorable. You must realize that. I must get true press coverage but I don't because I'm in the minority group and this is a fact.

Mr. Crane — Well Mrs. Oswald, Mrs. Oswald, you've certainly had

Mrs. Oswald — I'm getting it here.

Mr. Crane — You're getting it here.

Mrs. Oswald — But you see I cannot bring out the whole story. I appreciate this and its (unintelligible). I came by plane to come on the program for a few minutes, but it doesn't tell the whole story why I think my son is an agent. Not why I think he's an agent but the actual papers that I have to make me think he's an agent. I don't have the time to go into everything.

Mr. Belli — Mrs. Oswald, do you tell us then that you never at any time had any psychiatric reports on your son in his teens?

Mrs. Oswald — That is absolutely correct.

Mr. Belli — And you never knew that Lee had psychiatric treatment.

Mrs. Oswald — That is absolutely correct and when they said I fled New York because I did not want to give my son psychiatric treatment

Mr. Belli — Who said this?

Mrs. Oswald — This has been in all of the magazines and the newspapers. I can prove this. That Lee was picked up for truancy in the spring and we stayed in New York ten months later when he got out of the home for truancy.

Mr. Belli — All right. Let me ask you if I may

Mrs. Oswald — So how can you say I flee?

Mr. Belli — Just another question for the sake of time because we're going to have to rely on, at least I think we will, the Warren report. Did you have an opportunity to give all of your evidence before the Warren report?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I have given all of my evidence.

Mr. Belli — They gave you a fair hearing. Did they?

Mrs. Oswald — Before the Warren Commission and I have spent— I have no income. This is not of any value to anybody.

Mr. Belli — Did they give you a fair hearing?

Mrs. Oswald — But since then I have given the Warren Commission information and just one month ago I called the Warren Commission. I had had a witness for four months that I didn't want to go see alone. A young lady gave me this information. She went to speak to this woman, who was a Negro woman, who lived, worked, in the vicinity of the Tippit murder, and I had had this information but I couldn't investigate it alone. Just four weeks there were some people at my home that I didn't know that came to Dallas, and they asked if I wanted to talk about the case so I asked them to go with me. So then I reported it to the Warren Commission. I have yet

Mr. Belli — In order words, you gave all of the evidence you had to the Warren Commission.

Mrs. Oswald — Yes, sir, even now, even now for the past nine months.

Mr. Belli — Yes. They didn't foreclose you on anything, did they?

Mrs. Oswald — I want to say that I gave them the

Mr. Belli — Is that correct?

Mrs. Oswald — Warren Commission the last four weeks

Mr. Belli — Wait a minute.

Mrs. Oswald — This is an eye witness to the Tippit murder and there was an accident on tenth and (unintelligible) the morning of the assassination and the Tippit murder, there were two men, one on each side of the street. Now this is an eye witness, that the FBI and the Secret Service and she lives, she works there.

Mr. Belli — You told this to the Warren Commission?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes sir.

Mr. Belli — All of this information?

Mrs. Oswald — I have been. Yes sir.

Mr. Belli — Then we have to depend upon the honesty

Mr. Crane — Wait. Excuse me. Excuse me.

Mr. Belli — of the Chief Justice as to whether he probably will report that.

Mr. Crane — Excuse me. I wish to say, excuse me, I'm always fascinated to watch your tremendous investigative interest.

Mr. Belli — Now. Now. Now. Take it easy there. Easy there.

Mr. Crane — But, however, because of the problems of time in television, may I ask you to get where you were going with this (unintelligible). Without the whole

Mr. Belli — Two things that I think we can sum it up to. Number one, you did give everything. You did get everything, every bit of evidence that you knew and had to the Warren Commission. Didn't you?

Mrs. Oswald — Yes. I don't think so.

Mr. Belli — And if they give a report you'll, you'll abide by what they say.

Mrs. Oswald — No sir. Not unless I see it.

Mr. Belli — All right. Well that's the only point that I can make.

Mrs. Oswald — Now I'll answer the question you've

Mr. Crane — We will have to

Mrs. Oswald — Been asking me and I have gone (unintelligible). Which is the legality you are an attorney. I have said no.

Mr. Crane — Okay.

Mrs. Oswald — As far as I know, I say no.

Mr. Crane — Our time is up. Mrs. Oswald I can't thank you enough for being with us.

Mrs. Oswald — Thank you. I appreciate it very much.

Mr. Crane — I hope that you feel you were treated fairly tonight.

Mrs. Oswald — I must present my case and this is why I spend a few times. I just wished I could talk for hours and hours. Present the case exactly as it is.

Lee Harvey Oswald

Mr. Crane . Unfortunately, time is a problem in television Mel. I can't thank you enough for flying all the way in from San Francisco to be with us tonight.

Mr. Belli Unintelligible.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.
IS - R, CUBA

I talked with Congressman Jerry Ford (R-Mich.) on 8-17-64 relative to the allegation that he had leaked information concerning the Oswald diary to the communications media. Congressman Ford told me he desired to unequivocally state, and would furnish a sworn signed statement if necessary, that he did not leak the information in question.

He confirmed the fact that he had briefly talked with representatives of "Life" Magazine and stated that under no circumstances had he given them any information concerning Oswald's diary.

RE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

Sebastian F. Latona, Latent Fingerprint Section Supervisor, received a telephone call at home at approximately 8:00 P. M. last night, 8-27-64, from Night Supervisor S. F. McInerney, General Investigative Division, instructing him to be at the Office of J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, The President's Commission, 200 Maryland Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C., at 9:00 A. M. this morning, 8-28-64, with Exhibit 636. This exhibit is a charted enlargement of a latent palm print identified as Oswald's. The palm print was developed by Latona on the wrapping paper in which the rifle, reportedly the murder weapon, was carried. As you are aware, Latona had previously testified before the Commission concerning this exhibit and other latent fingerprint exhibits. The reason for Latona's requested appearance this morning is not known; however, McInerney did advise that Inspector J. R. Malley, #1 Man, General Investigative Division, has also been requested to be in Rankin's office at 9:00 A. M. When more details become available you will be further advised.

Re: Harvey Oswald

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to our letter dated August 27, 1964, concerning our dealings with Mrs. Marguerite Oswald on August 24, 1964.

In this connection there are enclosed two copies of a memorandum dated August 21, 1964, in which is set forth a transcript of that portion of the August 5, 1964, Les Crane television program on which Marguerite Oswald and Melvin Belli appeared as guest panelists. As set forth in the enclosure to our August 27, 1964, letter, Mrs. Oswald on August 24, 1964, made a passing reference to her appearance on the Les Crane program. The enclosed material is furnished to you for the further completion of your records.

Mrs. Oswald on 8/24/64 volunteered that she was on the Crane show, that she "outsmarted" Belli on five occasions and that the audience "absolutely loved it." Enclosure hereto is a 33-page letterhead from New York setting forth what is described as a verbatim transcription of indicated portion of the show. This will be of interest to the Commission for during her appearance Mrs. Oswald rambled at length and at times was incoherent. There are many grammatical errors in the speech of the individuals recorded in the transcript. New York attempted to show this by, in part, underscoring these errors. To be consistent we have deleted all underscoring as the document has been described as verbatim.

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached letter be sent to the President's Commission advising them of the extent of our investigative efforts since the assassination pursuant to its request.

DETAILS

By letter dated 8-7-64, the Commission advised it intends to incorporate in its final report the extent of the "excellent" investigative effort undertaken by the Bureau since the assassination. In this letter it requested the following statistical data:

1. Approximate number of interviews conducted.

2. Pieces of correspondence and reports submitted to the Commission.

3. Total number of pages of such materials.

4. If available, the approximate number of Agent-days spent on this investigation.

The Commission specifically pointed out they did not desire us to distinguish between the various investigations conducted, such as the Jack L. Ruby case and Lee Harvey Oswald. They did state that they desired any thoughts on our part which would enable them to present these statistics in the most effective way.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont
RE: THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION

BACKGROUND

As of 7-31-64, more than 1756 investigative reports comprising more than 17,200 pages constituting the FBI's investigation have been furnished to the Commission. Further, over 3682 items of physical evidence were received in the FBI Laboratory for technical examination. In addition, our Exhibit Section constructed and delivered to the Commission detailed scale models of the assassination area, including appropriate buildings, landmarks, etc., with accompanying volume of visual aids.

We do not have a record of the number of interviews conducted since the assassination and the only way this could be accomplished would be a time consuming physical count. Likewise, we do not know the number of Agent-days spent on this investigation and tabulating same would be an enormous undertaking. It is pointed out that virtually every field office and legal attache have at one time or another conducted some investigation in this matter.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached letter be sent furnishing the Commission with that statistical data available and summarizing the major accomplishments of this Bureau since the assassination.

JOSEPH RODRIGUEZ MOLINA, aka
SECURITY MATTER - COMMUNIST

Molina, an American-born veteran, was employed by the Texas School Book Depository (TSBD) for 16 years until December, 1963, when he was discharged. On 11/23/63 he voluntarily appeared at Dallas Police Headquarters where he was questioned. He denied knowledge of the assassination and said he knew nothing about Oswald beyond having seen him on a few occasions at the TSBD. Following the police interrogation of Molina, local television, radio and press in Dallas announced that according to the police Molina was being questioned in connection with the assassination and that he reportedly had a subversive background. Molina is now suing a Dallas-owned radio station for $100,000. The President's Commission by 7/7/64 letter asked us to look into certain aspects of this incident as follows:

(1) Did Justice Department or its agencies have file on Molina and give Dallas police any information concerning subversive activities on his part? (Answer: No.)

(2) Did Dallas police have file on Molina and any data regarding subversive activities by him? (Answer: Dallas police had a file on Molina's activities in American G. I. Forum which amounted by and large to informant information placing Molina at twelve meetings of the Forum between May, 1955, and July, 1956, at which meetings six individuals identified by police informants as communists, were in attendance at one time or another. Three of these individuals were Bureau informants and Dallas police file containednothing substantive concerning subversion on Molina's part. Our informants consistently describe Molina as anticommunist.)

(3) What are the factors of police search of Molina's home and his "voluntary" detention at Police Headquarters on 11/23/63? (Answer: Molina was visited at home between 2 and 3 a.m., 11/23/63, by five police officers, accompanied by Assistant District Attorney

William Alexander. They searched his home with negative results. He was questioned at Police Headquarters 11/23/63 between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. where he executed a brief statement for police concerning his association with the G. I. Forum. He denied knowledge of assassination.)

(4) What is nature of American G. I. Forum? Is it considered subversive? (Answer: This is a veterans group formed in 1946 comprised essentially of people of Mexican ancestry. The national body has never been infiltrated or controlled by the Communist Party (CP). There were several efforts of CP to infiltrate the Dallas Chapter in mid-50's, however, there has been no CP control or infiltration of this chapter since December, 1956. Molina has never been identified as party to this infiltration.)

(5) Was there any connection between Molina's loss of his job and the publicity following his interrogation? (Answer: Molina feels this is the case. He says that after the publicity he was told he could no longer sign outgoing letters, that letterheads bearing his name were taken from him and that a TSBD vice president later told him allegations about his loyalty would have to be cleared up, that company received crank calls and several customers threatened to discontinue doing business with the company as it had a subversive on its pay roll. TSBD vice president admits knowledge of the allegations of subversion but says Molina was let out as company was installing automatic data processing equipment.)

(6) Did Molina have difficulty in finding another job? (Answer: Molina claims such was the case, that the Texas Employment Commission questioned him as to whether he was a subversive and then told him it had no work for him.)

(7) Did Dallas police make any effort to correct the allegations against Molina? (Answer: No.)

Dallas report dated 7/24/64 has been submitted in response to Commission's request. While we do not like to delve into a civil suit in which Government is not a party at interest, we have inquired into this matter in response to Commission's request. We are restricting our inquiry to precisely the points in which Commission is interested. There are, however, two areas requiring additional inquiry to properly respond to Commission's questions five and six. We should inquire as to identity of TSBD employee who told Molina he could no longer sign outgoing letters and who took the letterheads from him and we should question the vice president of the company concerning his reported comments to Molina concerning receipt of crank calls and a possible loss of business. In addition, we should inquire at the Texas Employment Commission to review Molina's file. Molina was never subject of Bureau investigation prior to assassination and there is nothing derogatory regarding him in our files.

RECOMMENDATION:

That Dallas be instructed to conduct additional investigation identified above. Attached for approval is an airtel to Dallas. The airtel also contains instructions for minor refinements of other areas of Dallas' 7/24/64 report for purposes of clarification.

Following observations are set forth as matter of guidance to insure that investigation requested by President's Commission in its 7/7 and 8/64 letters is properly completed and accurately reported:

(1) Re Commission's question number five in its 7/7/64 letter. Note that pages 14 and 15 of rerep record that, according to Molina, about ten days after publicity concerning his interrogation by police he was told he could no longer sign outgoing letters and shortly thereafter all letterheads which bore his name were taken from him; that thereafter he contacted O. V. Campbell, Vice President of Texas School Book Depository (TSBD) who told him that allegations made about his loyalty would have to be cleared up; that the company received a lot of crank calls and several customers said they would not buy books from the company as long as it had a subversive working for them. Campbell on interview (page 36 rerep) admitted hearing reports over television and radio that Molina might have a subversive background, however, he claimed such allegations were not factor in discharge of Molina. Reinterview Molina to identify TSBD employee who told him he could no longer sign outgoing letters and who took from him letterheads which bore his name. Determine if Molina questioned these actions at time of their occurrence. RBeinterview O. V. Campbell concerning Molina's version of Campbell's representations to him concerning allegations re his loyalty and receipt of crank calls and loss of customers. Interview other employees of TSBD identified by Molina in response to reinterview. If Campbell admits his alleged comments to Molina concerning his loyalty, the receipt by company of crank calls and possible loss of business, develop specifics.

(2) Re Commission question number six in its 7/7/64 letter. Page 15 rerep records that according to Molina woman connected with Texas Employment Commission questioned him as to whether he was a "subversive" and thereafter told him Commission had no work for him because of his lack of college education. Identify this woman and interview her. Review Molina's file at Texas Employment Commission. Endeavor to determine basis of Molina's statement that prospective employers had no further interest in him after learning of his discharge from TSBD after 16 years employment there, coupled with fact that TSBD was silent of the assassination. If any specifics are developed in this regard, run them down.

(3) Page 23 rerep records that Captain Gannaway had no objection to furnishing signed statement, but that he desired to review his records to refresh his memory to insure strict accuracy of such statement. This infers that Gannaway's comments on 7/15/64 were from an unrefreshed recollection and that he may be able to furnish further specifics. Note that Gannaway's comment in fourth paragraph, page 27, to effect he made no release of any kind concerning Molina to radio, television or newspapers, appears inconsistent with his statement recorded in same paragraph that he may have given out Molina's name and may have told press representatives that Molina's name was in the police department files. Obtain signed statement from Captain Gannaway after he has reviewed his files setting forth specifics as to his dealings with representatives of radio, television or press concerning police interrogation of Molina.

(4) Re interview of Police Chief Curry (page 29 rerep) it appears the word "neither" should be inserted after word "that" in second line, paragraph one. Sentence "Lowery is a known member of the Communist Party," in eighth line, second paragraph, is inaccurate and form in which it appears may lead reader to regard statement as a documentation by Bureau. Note that rerep on page 3 describes Lowery as a former member of the Communist Party (CP) who testified in Washington on 9/23/63. From other areas of rerep it is clear to reader that Lowery was furnishing information concerning

CP activity in the mid-50s. Accordingly, appropriately amend or delete questioned sentence on eighth line, paragraph 2, page 29 and, if amended, at least attribute it to Curry. Sentence on 15th line, paragraph 2, page 29, beginning "On September 13, 1955, Curry related..." should be changed to "Curry related that on September 13, 1955..." Incorporate in inserted page following interview of Chief Curry the information in second paragraph, Cover Page B% concerning comments of Curry on 11/23/63. Note in this connection that the term "Mexican race" is inaccurate.

(5) Pages 22 and 23 rerep deal with interview of Detective H. M. Hart. Last paragraph, page 23, refers to him as Lieutenant Hart. Is this correct? If not, amend.

Handle inquiry requested herein immediately and submit inserts and amended pages where necessary to rerep no later than 8/20/64. Note in this connection necessity to amend synopsis.

NOTE:

Molina was employed by TSBD for 16 years and was well regarded there. In the past he has been associated as charter member of the American GI Forum, Dallas Chapter, which organization in mid-50s the Dallas communist group attempted to infiltrate. We had several informants among the CP members associating with the AGIF. These informants have consistently described Molina as anticommunist. There is no derogatory data re him in our files and the AGIF national and state organization is a legitimate Veterans organization interested in improving the welfare of servicemen of Latin-American extraction.

Molina was visited by Dallas Police at his home at 2-3 a.m. on 11/23/63. His home was searched with negative results and he was asked to come to the police department the following day. This he did where he was interrogated and released. During the interrogation it has been alleged that Chief Curry and others of police department made statement that Molina who had a subversive record in Dallas police files was being questioned by the police re the assassination. This was allegedly carried on radio, television and in the papers as results of which Molina is suing Dallas-owned radio station for $100,000. Commission's 7/7/64 letter asked us to look into this. Question number five referred to herein asks if there was any connection between Molina's loss of his job at TSBD and the publicity and question six inquires if Molina experienced difficulty in finding another job because of the publicity. TSBD Vice President Campbell says that he was aware of the publicity, but that Molina was let out as company was automating and had to release one of two employees and that the publicity was not a factor in choosing Molina. In view of Molina's statements (he was the credit manager) it is necessary to go further, as suggested herein, to properly respond to question number five. To properly respond to question six it is similarly necessary to go to Texas Employment Commission and review Molina's file there to substantiate or disprove Molina's statement. By 7/8/64 letter Commission asked us to take statements from two Dallas police officers, one of whom was Captain Gannaway. Commission did not specify signed statements, however, Gannaway was interviewed at Fort Sam Houston on 7/15/64 when serving with Army Reserve and, in view of inconsistency in his remarks and his expressed willingness to give signed statement after his memory refreshed, believed advisable to take this step and to endeavor to clarify his earlier remarks. Chief Curry during 7/16/64 interview said he could not recall talking about Molina to the press or mentioning Molina by name and said that if he did make any comment it was probably concerning the American GI Forum. Curry's interview deals largely with his attempting to show through Dallas police files that a number of communists were members of AGIF in mid-50s and attended functions with Molina. (Three of individuals referred to by Curry at these meetings were Bureau informants.) On 11/23/63 Curry told SA Weir that Molina had caused PD considerable trouble by demanding such things as listing Mexicans as white rather than Mexicans and generally protesting alleged discrimination against members of Mexican race. Latter comment on cover page is pertinent.

Re telephone call from SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN, Dallas, to Inspector JAMES R. MALLEY, 8/24/64; telephone call to SAC SHANKLIN from Section Chief WILLIAM A. BRANIGAN, 8/24/64; and telephone call of SAC SHANKLIN to Assistant Director W.C. SULLIVAN.

At approximately 10:10 a.m., 8/24/64, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, mother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, telephonically contacted the Dallas FBI Office and advised SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING that she desired to talk to SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN.

Mrs. OSWALD was advised that Mr. SHANKLIN was not at that time available. She stated she perhaps should then contact "HERBERT HOOVER" (apparently referring to Director J. EDGAR HOOVER). Mrs. OSWALD was questioned as to what information she had, at which time she stated she wanted it known that she had nothing to do with President KENNEDY's assassination, but that as far as she was concerned, everyone else was under suspicion and stated she had information which might involve an Agent of the FBI. She was questioned as to the identity of the Agent, which she refused to divulge on the telephone. She stated she would like to give a deposition to FBI Agents as to information she had. She consented to be interviewed by Agents from the Fort Worth Resident Agency.

The foregoing information was discussed by SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN with Inspector JAMES R. MALLEY at 10:20 a.m., 8/24/64, at which time Inspector MALLEY authorized an interview of Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD by Agents of the Fort Worth Resident Agency.

At approximately 11:40 a.m., Section Chief WILLIAM A. BRANIGAN telephonically contacted SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN at Dallas, and stated that Assistant Director WILLIAM SULLIVAN had just received a telephone call from MARGUERITE OSWALD, who claimed she had information but would not divulge it to anybody but Mr. HOOVER. When Mrs. OSWALD told Mr. SULLIVAN that it would be up to him to pay for her telephone call, he advised that he did not intend to pay for her telephone call, and Mrs. OSWALD then hung up.

On 8/24/64, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, 2220 Thomas Place, Fort Worth, Texas, mother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, refused to be interviewed by Special Agents ROBLEY D. MADLAND and RICHARD L. WIEHL, stating that the information she had was given by her to a Mr. (First Name Unknown) SULLIVAN of the FBI in Washington, D. C., via long distance telephone on that date. Mrs. OSWALD said she "decided to go to the top" with the information she had as it concerned a local problem in connection with "the case", and she did not want "to get involved". Mrs. OSWALD said further that the information she gave Mr. SULLIVAN would have to come from him as she had spent her money in order to call Washington and would not give the information to "ordinary Agents" at this time. Mrs. OSWALD further stated she did have some "gossip" that she wanted to relate at this time. Mrs. OSWALD stated that two weeks ago, she was invited to New York to appear on the LES CRANE Television Show. Mrs. OSWALD stated that on 8/7/64 she was taping the television program for the LES CRANE show in New York City and was on a panel discussion with CRANE and MELVIN BELLI, former attorney for JACK RUBY. She stated that she "outsmarted" BELLI on five different occasions during the program and the audience "absolutely loved it". Mrs. OSWALD said she learned after this program that BELLI came to Fort Worth and Dallas to confer with RUBY in his cell in the Dallas County Jail, which she did not think was proper because he, BELLI, no longer represented RUBY.

Thereafter, on 8/24/64, SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN telephonically contacted Assistant Director W. C. SULLIVAN who advised that he actually had not accepted the call from Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD as she wanted to make it collect, but that he understood that she had later called and talked to someone in the Washington Field Office.

SAC SHANKLIN, thereafter, ascertained through SA ROBERT P. FINZEL at the Washington Field Office that he had received a call from Mrs. OSWALD, at which time she made some wild, rambling statements to the effect that former Special Agent FAIN (former SA JOHN W. FAIN, now retired) had paid LEE HARVEY OSWALD's fine in New Orleans when he was arrested for distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature, and was also making an allegation against an Agent by the name of HOSTY, to the effect that HOSTY and/or his wife might be leaking information to HUGH AYNESWORTH of "The Dallas Morning News". AYNESWORTH is the reporter for "The Dallas Morning News" who wrote the story containing photographs of the OSWALD diary and other documents.

The foregoing summary of information from Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD is being submitted to the Bureau in detail and no action is being taken by Dallas, UACB, and the information contained herein will not be included in any report submitted by Dallas, UACB.

On 8/24/64, at 2;23 p.m. a woman identifying herself as MARGARET OSWALD (phonetic) of Fort Worth, Texas, who claimed to be the mother of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, telephoned the WFO on a complaint phone.

The information furnished by Mrs. OSWALD is set forth in the enclosed LHM.

For the information of the Bureau, Mrs. OSWALD claimed she had placed a long distance call to the FBI, Washington, D. C., earlier on 8/24/64, but the call was not accepted. She placed a second call asking that the FBI, Washington, call her. She received no return call. She then placed a third call to relate the enclosed information.

Mrs. OSWALD stated she felt she should be reimbursed for her call and that she cannot contact the Dallas Office of the FBI because "They are so directly involved, as the information will show." She added she would appreciate it if in the future her calls would be accepted.

Since WFO is not in a position to evaluate the information furnished by Mrs. OSWALD, further action is being left to the discretion of the Bureau and the Dallas Office.

At 2:23 p.m. on August 24, 1964, a woman identifying herself as Margaret (phonetic) Oswald of Fort Worth, Texas, and claiming to be the mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephonically advised the Washington Field Office (WFO) of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as follows:

Mrs. Oswald: Hello Hugh.

Ainsworth: How are you Lu (phonetic)?

Mrs. Oswald: How would you like another FBI scoop?

Ainsworth: Oh, it is you Mrs. Hosty (phonetic).

At this point Mrs. Oswald claims she hung up.

She identified Hosty as an FBI Agent of the Dallas Office and stated her belief that Hosty or Mrs. Hosty is furnishing information to Ainsworth.

She identified Ainsworth as a newspaperman who published Lee's (Oswald's) diary and other unauthorized articles connected with the Warren Commission Report.

Mrs. Oswald further advised that she learned from her informant, whom she refused to identify, that a former Agent of the FBI, John Fain, 52 years of age, retired, residing at Houston,

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

At approximately 12:10 p.m. on August 24, 1964, Mrs. Marguerite Oswald, mother of Lee Harvey Oswald, telephonically contacted the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) and asked to speak to Special Agent in Charge J. Gordon Shanklin. Mrs. Oswald was advised that Mr. Shanklin was then not available, whereupon she stated that perhaps she should contact "Herbert Hoover."

Mrs. Oswald stated she wanted it known that she had nothing to do with the assassination of President Kennedy, but that as far as she was concerned, everyone else was under suspicion. She added that she had information which might involve an Agent of the FBI.

When questioned as to the identity of the Agent, she refused to divulge same over the telephone. She indicated a desire to give a deposition concerning the information in her possession and consented to be interviewed by our Agents from Fort Worth, Texas.

At approximately 1:15 p.m., August 24, 1964, Mrs. Oswald telephonically contacted Assistant Director William C. Sullivan. She stated that she desired to furnish some information, whereupon Mr. Sullivan told her he would accept the information. She then told Mr. Sullivan that she was not going to pay for the telephone call as she had considerable to say and it would be costly. She stated that she did not want to furnish her information to our local office in Texas and desired to be called back. She then furnished to Mr. Sullivan an indistinct telephone number and, when asked for the address from which she was calling, she discontinued the conversation.

Exhibit 113 in this case is a set of ten photographs of a booklet entitled "Certificate of a Hunter and Fisherman" which, in essence, was Oswald's hunting license when in Russia. This booklet is described in summary fashion on pages 359 and 330 in your 1/7/64 report in this case.

Your office is in possession of the photographs comprising this exhibit. Note that as originally constituted, this exhibit consisted of eleven photographs which were occasioned by the fact that the cover of the booklet (photograph 1) was photographed twice.

Heretofore, the Commission expressed interest in only the photograph (previously designated 113-3) on which Oswald's picture appears. Recently the Commission has expressed interest in other photographs in this exhibit and, accordingly, on 8/28/64 the complete set of pictures comprising of this exhibit was furnished to the Commission. To avoid confusion the Bureau, in preparing the exhibit for delivery to the Commission, deleted the duplicate of photograph 1 and renumbered the remaining photographs so that photograph previously referred to as number 3 has now been designated as 113-2.

In furnishing this complete exhibit to the Commission, the Bureau has also forwarded full translations of all the photographs. Enclosed for the completion of your files is a set of full translations of all photographs of Exhibit 113 as presently constituted.

Synopsis:

FRANCISCO MORALES advised he was registered with ERNESTO LIMA in Hotel del Comercio in Mexico City in September and October, 1963, and does not recall having seen OSWALD during his stay there. ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ advised he registered at Hotel del Comercio in September, 1963, and stayed about two months. In about latter part of September, 1963, LIMA saw young American at hotel. LIMA believes but not positive man may be identical with OSWALD. Due to lapse of time LIMA cannot state, after looking at good photograph of OSWALD, whether or not young man identical with OSWALD. MARTIN SUMAYA, who reportedly was guest at Hotel del Comercio on 9/27/63, advised he did not recall having seen OSWALD or having heard anything concerning him while in Mexico City in September, 1963. Efforts to locate A. MARTINEZ and HILDA QUEZADA negative. HARRY SMITH, Greyhound Bus Lines, Laredo, Texas, and LEOBARDO MEDELLIN, TDN Bus Company, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, both advised TDN Ticket Number 9511 re-issue of Ticket Number 39532 for purpose of correcting ticket. Letter from JOHN H. BOWEN received Laredo, Texas, contained return address of "Niza 22, Mexico, D. F." Unknown female telephoned San Antonio office and stated RICHARD NIXON was in Dallas November 21, 1963, and gave JACK RUBY some money to kill OSWALD because NIXON wanted a Lutheran in office instead of a Catholic. She stated she was known by Detectives BURTON and RICHARDSON,

DETAILS:

SA 105-2909

As has been previously reported, OSWALD was registered from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963, in Room Number 18 of the Hotel del Comercio located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun Number 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

The records of the hotel reflect that ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, Reynosa, Tamaulipas, Mexico, was registered in Room Number 8 on September 26, 1963, and FRANCISCO MORALES, also of Reynosa, was registered in Room Number 8 from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent JAMES R. WILSON:

AT REYNOSA, TAMAULIPAS, MEXICO

[redacted]

MORALES was in Ciudad Victoria seeking employment, and he might leave in the near future to travel to Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico, for the same purpose.

MORALES was registered with ERNESTO LIMA in the Hotel del Comercio in Mexico City in September and October, 1963, exact dates unrecalled, while seeking employment with the federal government. He does not recall having seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD during his stay there. The only other hotel guests at that time whose names he recalls were GABRIEL CONTRERAS of Chihuahua, Mexico, and one ARTURO CHAVEZ MARTINEZ, a Mexican Federal employee who is supposed to reside at Zaragoza Number 58, Ciudad de Maiz, San Luis Potosi, Mexico, and who was supposed to be assigned to work at Bahia de Todos Santos, Baja California, Mexico. CHAVEZ attempted to sell MORALES an illegal Customs receipt for use in bringing an automobile into Mexico without paying import duties. On two occasions MORALES had drinks with two Cubans who stayed at the hotel, one of whom was going to Florida and was arranging immigration papers. Both Cubans were in their late forties or fifties, were about five feet eight inches in height, and the one going to Florida wore dark glasses most of the time. The names of these Cubans and other hotel guests should be known to a Hotel del Comercio employee named SEBASTIAN.

The Source advised MORALES was reluctant to discuss the above matters, and Source believes MORALES did not divulge all information in his possession.

Date May 13, 1964

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, advised as follows:

He is a masonry contractor by trade and is presently out of work. He resides several miles outside of Reynosa on the Monterrey Highway, and is usually in downtown Reynosa during the daytime. His surname is LIMA, JUAREZ being his mother's maiden name.

LIMA, and FRANCISCO MORALES, a close friend, went to Mexico City and registered at the Hotel del Comercio on about September 18, 1963. The purpose of the trip was to attempt to obtain employment for MORALES in the Comision Federal de Electricidad (Federal Electric Power Commission) in Mexico City. They were contacting officials and persons necessary for such purpose during the major portion of each day. When they returned to the hotel, LIMA, age 58, usually went up to the room and MORALES, a younger man, would stay in the hotel lobby. They were not acquainted with any hotel guests prior to registering at the hotel. MORALES became acquainted casually through friendly overtures with several of the hotel guests whom MORALES later introduced to LIMA. They thusly became acquainted with one GABRIEL CONTRERAS of Chihuahua, Mexico, whom LIMA believes to be a retired railroad man. They also became acquainted casually soon after their arrival with three Cubans who were residing at the hotel on the second floor, room numbers unknown. They had drinks with the Cubans, names unrecalled, several times. LIMA believes the three Cubans they met at first were in the hotel when LIMA and MORALES registered. Two of the Cubans were Negro males whom he recalled only as young, tall and slender, and one of them resided with and was supported by a Cuban Negro woman in the hotel. The third Cuban was a white male, age 44-46, 5' 10" to 5' 11", dark hair and eyes, dark complexion. These three Cubans had no apparent occupation.

On about September 23, 1963, these three Cubans went to the airport at Mexico City and met a fourth Cuban who arrived by plane from Cuba. He was described as white, male, age 54-58 years, 5' 7" to 5' 8", brown greying hair, grey mustache, who claimed to have owned a large ranch near Havana, Cuba, which ranch was confiscated by CASTRO. The four Cubans were anti-CASTRO and denounced CASTRO for his actions, policies, and political philosophy. The latter Cuban departed Mexico City via plane enroute to Miami, Florida, to join his wife, having received money by check from Florida. His departure was on about October 8, 1963. Sometime before this Cuban departed, a street photographer took a picture of LIMA, MORALES, CONTRERAS, and the two older Cuban men. Each person signed his name on the reverse of his respective likeness in the photograph, and this photograph was retained by CONTRERAS.

On two occasions in about the latter part of September, 1963, LIMA saw a young American male talk briefly in English to the two Cuban Negroes at the entrance of the hotel. LIMA believes these were merely exchanges of friendly greetings, but he is not certain due to his being able to understand only a few English words. This young man and MORALES never met to LIMA's knowledge, nor did LIMA meet this young man. MORALES does not speak or understand English. This young man is described only as about twenty-six years of age, having receding hair at each side of his forehead forming a widow's peak. LIMA believes but is not positive that this young man may be identical with OSWALD. He saw no other individual who resembles OSWALD in any way.

In October, 1963, funds used by LIMA and MORALES were becoming depleted, and the hotel bill could not be paid. LIMA then requested MORALES return to Reynosa, Mexico, to seek funds with which to pay the hotel bill. MORALES then checked out about October 12, 1963, and LIMA remained at the hotel. MORALES never returned with and never sent any money to LIMA, and on about November 18, 1963, LIMA arranged with the hotel to pay the bill at a later date and check out. He returned to Reynosa, Mexico. He later sent the money to the hotel from Reynosa.

When there was later publicity about OSWALD, LIMA saw the photographs of OSWALD in local news media. Those news media photographs, however, were not clear and LIMA at that time was not sure the young man referred to above was OSWALD. Due to the lapse of time, LIMA cannot state, after looking at a good and clear photograph of OSWALD, whether or not this young man at the hotel referred to is identical with OSWALD.

On August 2, 1964, a female who declined to furnish her name and who had a Latin American accent telephoned the San Antonio office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. She stated she knew why President KENNEDY was assassinated. She related that RICHARD NIXON was in Dallas November 21, 1963, and gave JACK RUBY some money to kill LEE OSWALD because NIXON wanted a Lutheran in office instead of a Catholic. She also related that MARGUERITE OSWALD was in San Antonio in 1951 at Jimmy's Cafe. This caller stated that she was known by Detectives BURTON and RICHARDSON of the San Antonio Police Department.

The following investigation was conducted by Special Agent JOHN M. KEMMY:

AT SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS:

On August 14, 1964, Detective JOHN BURTON, San Antonio Police Department, advised that he did not know who the above-mentioned female might be. Dear Mr. Rankin:

On July 29, 1964, Mr. Aubrey Ray Lindsey, Richardson, Texas, advised Special Agents of our Dallas Office that a business acquaintance, one Malcolm J. Hoy, told him on November 22, 1963, he saw the President Kennedy motorcade. Hoy advised Lindsey President Kennedy had been shot twice "because he was there watching it." Mr. Lindsey thought this remark was unusual and added he did not know Hoy's present location. Mr. Lindsey said Hoy formerly worked at the General Motors plant in Arlington, Texas.

Investigation at Arlington, Texas, determined inquiries had been received concerning Hoy from the General Motors plant at South Gate, California.

Enclosed for your information are two copies of the report of Special Agent Robert H. Karl dated August 24, 1964, at Los Angeles, California, captioned "Lee Harvey Oswald, Internal Security - R - Cuba." It contains the results of an interview with Mr. Hoy.

No further action is being taken in this matter.

In Hoy's interview he remarked that he did observe the President's motorcade and had heard reports thought to be the explosion of firecrackers and saw an individual climb on the back of the President's car and speed away. However, he did not realize until some time later when he was in a movie theater and heard the announcement that the President had been shot that he tied the activities together. Hoy had no information of pertinence to the investigation.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Pursuant to the request from the office of Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff, there are enclosed three sets of photographs comprising Item Number 113 in the Lee Harvey Oswald case. This exhibit is comprised of ten photographs depicting a booklet entitled "Certificate of a Hunter and Fisherman." Attached to each of the photographs enclosed herewith is a full translation thereof.

This booklet is described in summary form on pages 359 and 360 in the January 7, 1964, report in the Oswald case made at Dallas, Texas.

A full translation of the photograph enclosed herewith designated Item Number 113-2 was previously furnished to you by our letter dated February 26, 1964. The translation previously furnished referred to that photograph as Item Number 113-3. This was occasioned by the fact that the cover of the booklet (Item 113-1) was originally photographed twice. In preparing the enclosures we have deleted from Item Number 113 the duplicate of Item 113-1 and have accordingly renumbered the remaining photographs.

ReBuairtel to Dallas, 8/13/64, enclosing a verbatim transcription of tape recordings furnished the Bureau by the President's Commission 7/29/64, which tapes reportedly relate to the appearance of MARK LANE on the Barry Gray radio program over station WMCA, New York City, and Bureau telephone calls to Dallas, 8/12, 19 and 20/64, concerning an alleged press release by SAC SHANKLIN pertaining to paraffin tests.

This allegation appears on Page 4 of the above-mentioned recording as follows: "Now, perhaps the most shocking piece of evidence is the statement by the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Chief in Dallas, Gordon Shanklin, quoted in the 'New York Times' and other publications and he said 'I have seen the paraffin test. It shows that Oswald had nitrates gun powder on his hands and on his face and since it's on his hands and on his face, it is proof that he fired a rifle.' "

I wish to state this allegation regarding a press release is completely unfounded and it is a false and malicious statement.

Attention is directed to New York airtel to Bureau, 2/20/64, which enclosed a transcription of the recording of a meeting held, 2/18/64, at The Town Hall, 123 West 43rd Street, New York City, featuring MARK LANE, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, and others. On Page 26 of this transcription is information relating to a report of the paraffin test as follows: "Now you may recall that on Saturday, November 23rd, we were told by Chief CURRY, told the press of the nation, told the press of the world

"that the paraffin test had come back. It was positive. It proved that OSWALD had fired a weapon, it proved that OSWALD was the assassin."

With respect to the statement appearing on Page 3 of the transcript furnished by Buairtel of 8/13/64, to the effect, "It was not until more than 24 hours later when the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced for the first time that an Italian Carbine 6.5 millimeter was purchased by OSWALD under the assumed name of A. HIDELL back in March of 1963". No press release was made by the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Dallas.

In connection with this latter item, Page 394 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, Dallas, dated 11/30/63, under the Assassination caption, reveals that at 6:45 PM, 11/23/63, SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN advised Chief of Police JESSE E. CURRY, Dallas Police Department, that the sale of the rifle used in the killing of President KENNEDY had been traced through serial number to a firm in Chicago, Illinois, and through that firm it had been established that such rifle had been shipped to Dallas. Chief CURRY was also advised that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had been identified through handwriting as the individual who had ordered this rifle.

The Dallas Office has reviewed the transcript furnished by referenced Bureau airtel and it is not believed further clarifying data is necessary concerning the biased maliciously calculated half-truths and theories of MARK LANE in an effort to prove OSWALD's innocence.

Re Bureau airtel to Memphis, 8/27/64.

For the information of the Bureau, Shelby County Sheriff's Office (Memphis) prisoner JOHN FRANKLIN ELROD was interviewed on morning of 8/11/64 after a representative of the Sheriff's Office advised he possibly possessed information relative to the shooting of LEE HARVEY OSWALD by JACK LEON RUBY.

On interview he proved to be a self admitted chronic alcoholic, claiming to have been a prisoner in the Dallas City Jail on 11/22/63 immediately following the assassination of the late President JOHN F. KENNEDY. He claimed to have been told by a cellmate that five men had recently met at some motel and that one of the men may have been JACK RUBY. He emphatically denied any knowledge of the assassination or the involvement of RUBY in killing OSWALD.

This information was recorded in FD 302 and 25 copies thereof were sent by Memphis to Dallas by airtel 8/11/64 in the case entitled, "JACK L. RUBY, aka; LEE HARVEY OSWALD (Deceased) - VICTIM, CR."

INFORMATION REGARDING LIFTED
PALM PRINT FROM GUN

This memo is submitted to report the receipt of a telephone call at approximately 11:45 A. M., today, 8/26/64, from Mr. Norman Redlich, of the General Counsel's Staff of the President's Commission. As you are aware, I testified before the Committee concerning certain latent print identifications. One of the latent palm prints identified appears on a lift submitted by the Dallas, Texas, Police Department, reportedly lifted from the underside of the barrel of the rifle identified as the murder weapon.

Mr. Redlich asked me if I were able to tell from my examination of the rifle whether there was any indication of a latent print having been lifted from the underside of the barrel. I told him, on the basis of taking the gun apart and my examination and inspection of the weapon, I could not tell. He then posed several hypothetical questions as to whether prints could be lifted and no trace left. I told him that it was possible that prints could be developed and lifted and no trace left.

Mr. Redlich said he would follow his call with a letter.

ReBuairtel enclosed a letter from the President's Commission concerning photographs taken at the Texas Theatre of OSWALD being removed from the theatre by police officers. The Commission requested that the photographer, JIM MAC CAMMON, 3121 Routh Street, Dallas, Texas, be contacted for the purpose of obtaining the original color slides that he took of OSWALD's arrest.

On 8/4/64, JIM MAC CAMMON, owner of Jim Mac Cammon Associates, 3121 Routh Street, Dallas, Texas, advised that on 11/22/63 he was outside the Texas School Book Depository Building, 411 Elm Street, when he heard over the Dallas police radio that a Dallas police officer had been shot in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas. MAC CAMMON stated following this police broadcast he accompanied a Dallas police officer to the Oak Cliff section of Dallas and was in the Texas Theatre at the time of OSWALD's capture.

MAC CAMMON stated he had his 35 mm camera equipped with a "Strobe light" with him. He said he took a series of five photographs at the Texas Theatre, three inside the theatre and two outside the theatre. Of the three photographs taken inside the Texas Theatre, MAC CAMMON stated only one came out since a police officer stepped in front of his "Strobe light" just as he snapped two of the pictures.

The three good photographs have been given the following designations:

Capture of OSWALD inside Texas Theatre.

GERALD L. HILL Exhibit B
OSWALD in custody of police outside the Texas Theatre.

GERALD L. HILL Exhibit C
Crowd scene outside entrance of Texas Theatre following OSWALD's capture.

MAC CAMMON advised that he sold the above photographs to "Life" Magazine and that NATALIE KOSEX, position unknown, "Life" Magazine, Rockefeller Center, New York City, has the original 35 mm color slides of the above photograph given the designation GERALD L. HILL Exhibit A. MAC CAMMON stated he believes he has the original 35 mm color slide of the above photograph given the designation GERALD L. HILL Exhibit B. He said he is not sure if he has the original 35 mm color slide from which the GERALD L. HILL Exhibit C was made or if "Life" Magazine has it.

MAC CAMMON stated that pressure of business has kept him and his staff from properly indexing and filing his numerous color slides and, consequently, he does not know the exact location of the above-mentioned 35 mm color slides. After searching through numerous loose slides in various boxes, loose slides on desks, tables, and on the floor, MAC CAMMON stated he could not locate the originals of any of the above color slides. He did locate and furnish a duplicate 35 mm color slide from which the photograph designated GERALD L. HILL Exhibit B was made. He stated this color slide is an exact duplicate of the original color slide. MAC CAMMON was requested to and he advised he would continue searching for the original of this slide and also for the original 35 mm slide from which the photograph given the designation GERALD L. HILL Exhibit C was made.

The duplicate 35 mm color slide furnished by MAC CAMMON is enclosed herewith for the FBI Laboratory.

Re Bureau airtel to Philadelphia and New York, 8/7/64, and copy of President's Commission's letter to Bureau dated 8/5/64.

For the information of the Bureau and the New York Office, JOHN MAZZIOTTA, Head Photographer, "The Dallas Times Herald", Dallas, Texas, advised on August 17, 1964, that while he does not know the present whereabouts of the negative of the photograph referred to in referenced Commission's letter of August 5, 1964, he noted that he is in possession of what he considered a better photograph and negative of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, taken a few seconds prior to the photograph appearing in the December 14, 1963, issue of "The Saturday Evening Post". MAZZIOTTA noted that this particular photograph has never been published, although he considers it a better photograph of OSWALD's shirt than what appeared in "The Saturday Evening Post" issue in question.

There are being enclosed herewith to the Bureau two copies of the photograph referred to by Mr. MAZZIOTTA.

Enclosed herewith are 16 copies of a letterhead memorandum for the Bureau and one each to San Francisco and Washington Field for information because of intelligence interests, and to Dallas because of interest in the OSWALD case.

Interview with Mrs. RAHM at Ketchikan, Alaska, on 8/4/64 was conducted by SA's RAMON W. STRATTON and THOMAS G. CUMMINGS.

NOT RECORDED
198 SEP 17 1964

60 SEP 22 1964

For the Bureau's information, Anchorage is submitting a separate letterhead memorandum in the LEE HARVEY OSWALD case which tends to resolve the matter of subject's granddaughter, MARINA, as being not identical with OSWALD's wife, MARINA. The enclosed letterhead memorandum is furnished separately for use in dissemination and for placement in various Bureau files because of contents and a separate OSWALD memorandum was prepared limiting it insofar as possible to the Bureau's current OSWALD interest.

The Bureau will note that photographs furnished by subject were forwarded to the FBI Laboratory in the OSWALD case by Anchorage airtel dated 8/7/64 and the Bureau may desire to distribute these photographs through various pertinent Bureau files.

The letters referred to in attached memorandum are being furnished separately to the FBI Laboratory for obtaining of handwriting specimens of subject's daughter, ANITA MAY SETYAEVA (SETYAEV), nee ZUGOFF, aka., ANITA MAY HENKINA (HENKIN), and her husband, LEO SETYAEV, both employed at Radio Moscow, and for such other reproduction as the Bureau substantive desk desires.

ANNABELLE BUCAR mentioned in attached memorandum is known to Bufiles as former U.S. Embassy employee in Moscow who defected to the Soviets in February, 1948. Bureau will note that she is apparently homesick and disgruntled. In this connection, Bureau is invited to refer to report of SA BIRL WILSON, Buffalo, 8/6/64, captioned LEE HARVEY OSWALD, for further reference to BUCAR.

Bureau is referred to the same report concerning SERGEI RUDIN, aka., EDDIE RUDIN, known to THOMAS SGOVIO as EDDIE RUDERMAN. Anchorage is not aware as to whether Bureau has a file concerning him.

In letter number 10 in attached memorandum, reference is made to a Fairbanks, Alaska, man who married a Russian girl, and he is undoubtedly LAWRENCE MOSIMAN BRAYTON, Bufile 105-126088, who married ROZITA JOSIFOVNA SHIFMAN in Moscow on 12/17/63.

With reference to Bureau airtel to Anchorage dated 7/29/64 in the LEE HARVEY OSWALD case, the name of MARIA GOLDSHTEYN (GOLDSTEIN) was not mentioned by subject and no references were found to her in letters furnished.

With further reference to Bureau airtel dated 7/29/64, Mrs. RAHM apparently has additional photographs of MARINA which she indicated she would be willing to make available at a later date when she has had time to go through her things; however, at this point, in view of the letterhead memorandum being separately submitted in the OSWALD case, it appears likely to Anchorage that her granddaughter, MARINA, is not OSWALD's wife and Anchorage awaits any further Bureau instructions. Also, the Bureau should know that Mrs. RAHM has indicated that she has stored in her house a great number of other letters from her daughter which the Bureau may want reviewed and Anchorage will take no further action until instructed to do so by Bureau with regard to these letters.

It was felt pertinent to excerpt portions of the letters she has furnished and to include the excerpts in the memorandum as of possible interest in placement in Bufiles as well as dissemination to interested agencies.

The Bureau will also note that there are references in the memorandum to other Radio Moscow personnel, to-wit: LUCY PRAVDINA, aka., OLGA PRAVDINA; JOE ADAMOV; and NIKOLAI SERGEYEV, aka., NICK SERGEYEV. Anchorage is not aware of the Bureau's interests, past or present, in these people.

With respect to Burad to Anchorage 7/31/64 in the LEE HARVEY OSWALD case, the Bureau will note that [redacted] has made reference to a male adult who lives with the subject's daughter. From the attached memorandum, it becomes apparent that this person is the daughter's former husband, KIRILL HENKIN, who is registered at the address, and while LEO SETYAEV, her present husband, also lives there, he is not registered at the address and cannot get mail there.

Mrs. RAHM has named MARINA's husband as VASHI, whereas from letters excerpted in the attached memorandum it appears his name is VASYA and that MARINA has lost interest in him and is now friendly with his best friend, ALEXEI, who has proposed to her.

With reference to mention of Governor WILLIAM EGAN of Alaska in Burad 7/31/64, the Bureau is advised that subject's brother is JESSE EDWARDS of Ketchikan, Alaska. His wife, JANETTE EDWARDS, is a Democratic politician of sorts and is Ketchikan supervisor of the Alaska Department of Revenue. She and her husband are close in political circles to EGAN.

With reference to Burad 7/31/64 and report by [redacted] with respect to the 1/29/64 contact between subject and her daughter and the mention of negatives, this undoubtedly refers to photographs taken while subject was in Moscow in the summer of 1963 and her desire to have copies of these photographs. It appears the negatives have been either lost or insufficient supplies were available to print them. The alternative is that the photographs contained something which is not mailable from Moscow and hence the long stalling action in furnishing them by ANITA to subject, her mother. This is somewhat bolstered by the references to ANITA's own darkroom and the taking of additional photographs of Radio Moscow personnel, which would indicate capacity to print photographs.

Should the Bureau desire further contact with subject, a ready opportunity will be available when the photographs and letters currently borrowed from her are returned.

Bureau is requested to advise Anchorage whether copies of the attached memorandum should be disseminated to local intelligence agencies. Copies are being retained by Anchorage pending Bureau advice.

LILLIE MAY RAHM,

Lillie Mae Teslich, nee Edwards
INTERNAL SECURITY - R

Lillie May Rahm, residence 1738 First Avenue, Ketchikan, Alaska, telephone CA 5-3007, was interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation at Ketchikan on August 4, 1964.

She advised that her daughter, Anita May Zugoff, was born on November 18, 1919 at Lake Stevens, Washington, and in 1934 was taken to Russia by her father, William K. Zugoff, a Russian National. She also had two sons who were very young when taken to Russia in 1934 and they were killed during World War II.

She said that her daughter, Anita, is now Anita May Setyaeva, wife of Leo Setyaev, residing at Kotelnicheskaya 1/15. Sect V, Apartment 78, Moscow, U.S.S.R. She said that her daughter and son-in-law are both employed in the North American Section of Radio Moscow and in this employment her daughter uses the name Annette Setyaeva. She added that the daughter's married name is Setyaev, but that when referring to the female gender, an "a" is added; thus Setyaeva.

She advised that she lost all track of her daughter when she journeyed to Russia, but on an unrecalled date William K. Zugoff wrote to his uncle, Matt Zugoff, in Seattle, Washington, and mentioned that he was visiting Anita, giving her address. She added that Matt died in 1957.

She stated that she wrote to Anita and was pleased to get a reply from her, enabling her to thus establish correspondence with her daughter. She lost contact again with the daughter during World War II and cited this reason for being unable to furnish any information concerning the daughter during this period of time.

COPIES DESTROYED

MAR 5 1973

ENCLOSURE

She said that she knows that her daughter was married sometime in 1939 or 1940 to one Boris (last name unknown). A daughter, Marina, was born of this marriage on June 25, 1941, probably in Moscow. She recalled that Marina was about one week old when they evacuated Moscow to the South in World War II. She said that she never did know the last name of Boris, so has never known her granddaughter Marina's last name.

She stated that she has never been sure what happened to Boris (last name unknown), but believes that her daughter divorced him, marrying Kirill Henkin, becoming Anita May Henkina, and at Radio Moscow was known as Annette Henkina. A son, Kostia, called "Bunny", was born to this marriage, about June 1, 1955. The daughter divorced Henkin and on August 24, 1962, married Leo Setyaev. Marina was married on January 26, 1962, at Moscow to Vasya (last name unknown). She said that Vasya is a ne'er-do-well, and predicted the marriage would not last. Kostia continues to live with his mother.

She advised that she visited in Moscow with her family, including Anita, Leo, Marina, and Kostia, from April 25, 1963, to September 28, 1963, on a visitor's visa.

She stated that while in Moscow she met many of the employees at Radio Moscow and she identified and furnished photographs of the following:

Lucy Pravdina, also known as Olga (Olga, she said, is the American translation of Lucy)

Sergie Rudin, also known as Eddie Rudin

Joe Adamov

Nikolai Sergeyev, also known as Nick Sergeyev

Annabelle Bucar, whom she said was an American who came from the Philadelphia area. She said Annabelle had married a Russian and had stayed in Russia, apparently while employed there by the United States. She mentioned that Annabelle is a particular friend of her daughter and that while she, Mrs. Rahm, was visiting in Russia, she saw a lot of Annabelle. She said that she called Annabelle "my little girl" and that Annabelle was very homesick and had cried not a little, muttering, "will I ever see my folks again?" She said that Annabelle very much desired to return to the United States.

She said that her daughter has applied on at least one occasion to her knowledge for a visa to visit America, but that the visa was turned down by the U.S.S.R. officials. She mentioned that her daughter would very much like to visit her in America and would come in a minute if she could get a visa and raise the money for the trip.

She said that she was unable to remember the names of many of the people she met.

She recalled that her daughter visits frequently in the country with Claudia and Nick (last name unknown) and that Nick is not the same Nick as Nikolai Sergeyev, the latter of whom works at Radio Moscow.

She recalled meeting Sashya and Anna (last name unknown), whom she identified as cousins of Kirill Henkin, former husband of her daughter.

She stated that while she was in Russia, she was free to go almost anyplace with her daughter, although she recalled that there were places in and around Moscow where no one was permitted to go. The only specific place that she could recall was the reservoir, as she had on one day wandered up toward it and was stopped and turned back by a guard.

She said that she and her daughter correspond freely.

Lillie May Rahm is married to John Emanuel Rahm, a Ketchikan longshoreman.

Mrs. Rahm made available 22 envelopes containing 23 letters from her daughter, Anita May (Annette) Setyaeva (Setyaev), pertinent parts of which are quoted:

1. Letter dated April 25, 1963:

"I saw my boys off to Saratov, Leo's hometown.."

"Leo went to visit his father's grave, the 26th was his birthday, put some flowers on it and see his grandmother again.."

"...I couldn't get off at all. Annabelle is sick and Joe has taken a month's vacation."

"Bunny was so excited he was goggle-eyed. I think they will have a fine time, the two of them."

"I am so glad I could make John happy on his birthday, it was about all I could send.....I had it all planned to send him a crystal glass for tea with the Russian glass-holder. You know that's an old Russian custom to drink tea in glasses. ....I decided I'd better call the Custom's to make sure. So nothing doing - the glass-holder is silver and that's not allowed".

"We were so stricken about the earthquake..... The destruction you describe is certainly heartbreaking..... We had a quake here in Central Asia in a city called Ashkabad in 1949 or 1950, a very bad one - God, half the country was rushed there to work, doctors, nurses, and every kind of building worker. I think it's been entirely rebuilt now..."

"...don't you bother about sending me anything at all. When I wrote you about the Panti-hose and deodorant I had no idea...(you) were in the hospital....I won't refuse the books.....be sure and declare them just to make sure I get them.....I haven't read 'The Northwest Passage'.....and I'll be waiting for 'Mandingo'...."

"Zina and Michael came over for a short visit..."

"...there's a faint hope that we may be able to get another apartment. It means leaving this one to K. but I don't care anymore, let him rot in it! It's time we were in a place of our own..."

"You mentioned 'I hope' in your letter. That reminds me of what Marina told me. She went out to see Natasha several times and she came back simply floored. We always thought Natasha read so much as was so well educated and intelligent. It seems the besides studying English she doen't do much other reading at all. Marina could hardly believe her ears. She says it must be her grandmother's influence but Natasha is so old-fashioned and backward and such a prude.....she never goes anywhere and never sees anything.....she has mentioned many times that you helped her (Natasha) immensely with her English, she so enjoyed talking to you..."

1. Letter dated October 8, 1963:

"....Annabelle, Zina, Semyor, Anna and Tanya - - just about everybody has been asking about you..."

"...Sunday we went out to Claudia and Nick's..."

"K's daughter Annich arrived on the second of October. Leo and I had to help Kirill get his room ready, you know K. Sometimes it's comical. Leo says we've got a second baby on our hands, and he's hit the nail on the head I think. Annich brought me a big bottle of perfume....She will be leaving next Sunday, Oct. 12. I have accorded her what hospitality I could (I leave every morning at 10:30) and they have been just about as friendly as anyone could be without slobbering all over me. (K. would be only too happy to do that but I keep a nice big distance between)..."

"...she brought him some clothes, the only thing that affects me are 3 sweaters, bulky-knit, thick warm ones. Damn it, I can just see Leo in them. (K looks like hell in anything right now!) Once again I must tell you what a difference there is in those two..."

3. Letter dated October 11, 1963:

"It was nearly a month since I had any news of you except the magazine (which Annabelle and I read from cover to cover).."

"..Yes, Honey, the silver plate and pictures poses quite a problem doesn't it? Well, I guess it can't be helped."

Letter continues under date October 12.

"I got your ...parcel slips. Now I've quite a story to tell you, Honey. At the International Post (at the railway station where we used to go to the country) I was asked who sent the parcels. I told them and it seems that on the parcels it was stated that the sender was Nordiska Kompaniet. According to our regulations Soviet citizens cannot receive anything from any foreign firm. I explained the circumstances and showed them your letter where you mentioned shopping at N.K. That cinched it and I got your two parcels."

"Bunny and Leo were at home . . .so we opened everything ...Leo in his lovely Chester sweater, and I in my beautiful Cashmere coat, the only one I've ever had..."

"K and his daughter were admiring it and fingering the cloth..."

"Oh yes, darling, before I forget. In the future please always address things to me. Leo isn't registered at my place and so cannot get parcels addressed to our apt. I got his parcel by taking a power of authority (or what_ever it's called). So you see how many new things I learned yesterday. I asked also about the scales. There's only one way I can get them and that is if you send to one of the 4 firms dealing with the Soviet Union for what they call a 'license' here, I'm translating from Russian, Honey, so if it sounds crazy don't mind it. These firms send parcels to Soviet citizens (they have agreements with our Parcel Service to send anything to Russia) I was told you could order anything through them except canned food. But there's a catch in it, sweetheart. I get the parcel duty-free but you pay extra. And I have a hunch that they might charge something awful. .....Here are the addresses:

"Union Tours, 1 East 36th Street, New York 16, N.Y.

"Package Express & Travel Agency Inc., 1530 Bedford Ave., Brooklyn 16, New York

"Cosmos Parcels Express Corporation, 45 West 45th St, New York 36, N.Y.

"Central Parcel Service, 220 South State Street, Chicago 4, Illinois."

"These agencies have offices in various cities. I imagine if there isn't one in Seattle, there must be one in San Francisco. . . .The customs inspector could not explain why I got the elec. frying pan. Luck, I guess."

...."The painting is over, Leo & I threw out loads of junk, there's only one trunk and desk in the hall now and they will go soon. I want to put the T.V. in the hall and have some armchairs there (if I ever get the money) I did want to put shelves in the dark room but I don't know whether it's worth it. If we can exchange the place I want to live alone naturally..... At least K doesn't bother us one bit . . . K. obviously seems to be willing to do everything to keep relations warm & friendly....he's working nearly all the time to get out of debt..."

"Zina came to see me yesterday..."

"I came to work in my coat today and Annabelle thinks it's gorgeous..."

"..Leo...been promoted again. I think when you were here he was to go to another section, or he was already there. Well now he's been made boss over his boss, he's one of three assisstant heads of the whole radio news department...He so wanted to stay just a news commentator. I told him it wouldn't last long and I don't think he was there a week when they put him in a higher job."

"....excuse a very disjointed letter but I write in the studio between readings..."

A note from Leo was included in the letter.

"...we are in different shifts with Nita so in a day time I'm absolutely alone..."

4. Letter dated October 25, 1963:

"...I'm beginning to wonder when Maggie sent the 5 cartons of cigarettes she mentions in her letter. I haven't received any cigarettes since you left, and if they were sent in your name I doubt very much whether I'll ever get them..."

"..Did you try the Petrov vodka? Did you like it?..."

"Marina is back with her Grandmother. I see her about once a week. . .She's studying very hard right now and working every day. It's very tough on her but she keeps at it. . ."

"Zina's husband, Michael, came back from Berlin yesterday. ....Annabelle asks about you..."

5. Letter dated November 12, 1963:

"Your . . letter . . came . . . Bunny brought it to me in the kitchen where I was . . . making stewed cabbage with sausage. It's called soljanka, pronounce the j the way the Swedes do..."

"We have bought her (Maggie) a big album of L.P. records (10 in all) of popular Soviet Songs... There's a little book with (unfortunately in Russian) the scores. None of the songs are jazz . . . There are lots of songs by the Soviet Army Chorus which are considered very good..."

"...no cigarettes yet anywhere. Could you let me know when they were sent. . .Could Maggie ask the p.o. to send a tracer? . . . I can hardly believe that anything would be taken from a parcel. The seeds I can understand, they are not allowed anywhere....."

"When I saw the 75 cents in stamps on my letter & card last night I was ready to drop. My goodness, this letterwriting sure is an expensive pleasure for you..."

". . On the 9th Zina and Michael came over and we had a pleasant evening together..."

"...Leo finally bought his tape-recorder..."

6. Letter dated November 18, 1963:

". . my birthday. I got calls from Zina, Mariam, and Marina..."

"K. got up before I was even awake and came in with some lovely roses, a little black jewel box and a bouquet of chrysanthemums!! . . "

"...I asked K. to stay with Bunny (the first time since his mother's death). He agreed, altho he didn't exactly seem crazy about the idea. Seems he was going to the movies at 6...."

7. Letter dated November 28, 1963:

"I'm just a little late in answering your letter . . . came in 9 days...because I received them on Friday, the day Pres. Kennedy was killed. I can't begin to describe the reaction here in the Soviet Union. We got the news late in the evening and you can't imagine the consternation it caused. People were calling each other up at midnight to report the horrible tragedy. I don't know how to describe to you what an effect it has had on everybody I know here. We have been talking of nothing else ever since it happened. People ask me: do things like that actually taken place in the 20th century in a country that assumes to be leading the rest of the world. What the Press calls the 'free world'? If that's their idea of freedom they can keep it! I still can hardly believe it. It is so shocking, so disgraceful. We were waiting for the news that Ruby was shot, too and were surprised that it didn't taken place. It's very strange but people here took it to heart so strongly, everyone was so deeply grieved especially for the Kennedy family. I don't think there was a dry eye among the millions who watched the T.V. program of the funeral. When I heard the taps I thought I'd break down entirely.

(The foregoing excerpt was from letter actually written to John Emanuel Rahm, present husband of Lillie May Rahm, and letter was addressed to J. E. Rahm, Box 585, Ketchikan, Alaska.)

8. Letter dated December 7, 1963:

"...I received two letters from you (Nov 6 and Nov 12.) on the day Kennedy was assassinated. Everybody was so stunned, shocked, and horrified here. We spent a great deal more time at work and of course we could talk about nothing else. It took a week for it to wear off. I never dreamed that I could be so effected by such an event. I don't know how you feel about it, Honey, but American prestige has taken a blow from which I don't think it will ever recover. People here just couldn't believe it. I was asked: do such things really happen there? If it all weren't so tragic it would be like one of good old serial pictures. After Oswald was killed someone here, or maybe elsewhere, started the rumor that Ruby had been poisoned, and for at least half a day it persisted...."

"...Last Monday I went to a dentist because my teeth sure need some repairing. I had two pulled. . . the first one came out alright, the second one was a wisdom tooth. . . I was in that dental chair for nearly two hours with the dentist pounding with hammer & chisel trying to dislodge that root (or rather three roots). When it finally came out I was nearly unconscious. Anyway my dentist was soaking wet.... After I had the teeth out I had a fever for nearly a week and was in misery. I couldn't work because my mouth and face were all swollen up something awful..."

"Bunny and Olga went to the circus today..."

"Zina and Michael celebrated their 5th wedding anniversary on Dec. 5...."

"...Zina bought me some very nice leotards . . . my legs are so long that they were short in the crotch and I must give them to Marina now..."

"Honey, don't worry about Marina. . . she is trying to finish a letter to you which she started some weeks ago. She has so very little time. She's doing very well in her studies. I think I told you she once had a very pleasant boy friend in Riga. He's a big tall handsome fellow. They have started corresponding again and she hopes they will see each other sometime in the future. She met him when she was there with me. He's going to be a doctor. Then she has gone out several times with Vasya's best friend, but she says they are only friends. She doesn't lack company at all. What she does lack is time. Oh, Honeybunch, I must tell you a funny thing that happened about a week ago. Marina was here and she happened to pick up the receiver the same time as Kirill, but she didn't know it. She was just going to answer when a woman's voice asked 'did you call me?' K said 'Yes, Fluffy I called you ten minutes ago.' Marina nearly fell over. She said, You know, Mother, somehow I never realised how sickening that whole affair was although I knew about it. When I heard that 'Fluffy' I felt like vomiting. Since that day Marina can't stand the sight of him. Before that she had always felt so sorry for him. She says that one word made her see how false, insincere, and dishonest he was. Because Fluffy is not the only one by a long shot, and a very long shot at that!..."

"I see Annabelle every day at work now. . . She had an awful accident about a month ago, rather her husband did. He was having his car repaired and some men were doing a soldering job and didn't want to remove the gas tank from the car. To make a long story short: - the car and the garage burned down in something like 8 minutes. They were heart-broken at first but now they're feeling better. The garage has been rebuilt and the car can be and is being fixed. But it took all the money they had on an insurance bond. They borrowed on it and now will have to pinch like everything to pay it back. It's very difficult to live like that. ."

9. Undated letter and card saying Happy New Year:

"This is the nearest I could find to a Xmas card but you will understand that I wanted to wish you a very happy Christmas and a wonderful New Year..."

"...I have tried to buy (Leo) a nice necktie but I guess the colors in style here just don't appeal to me. I wanted something red and all I could find was a deep cherry color which I'm just about positive Leo wouldn't wear, at least not with white specks!"

"...I've just returned from the dentist.. I've had nearly all my teeth in the upper left jaw removed . . The X-ray showed the roots to be decaying . . . it's going to cost a tidy sum. So I guess it's teeth first, after all my job depends on that, and that means no coat right now. I just can't manage both at once, unless I borrow more and I'd hate to do that..."

10. Letter dated December 19, 1963:

"..Leo bought tickets to the New Years party for radio & T.V. workers at the T.V. Theater . . . guess I'll have to pack Bunny off to Marina's grandmother..."

"...I'm very sorry to say that not a single cigarette has arrived let alone ary clothes hangers or girdles..."

"..I don't think I can send your yellow cup with the lid. I'll try, but I was told that only new articles can be sent."

"Some fellow from Fairbanks got married to a Russian girl in Moscow today..."

11. Letter dated January 29, 1964:

"...Your magazine and the Borden's Condensed Milk Cook book arrived on New Year's eve, so that was very nice. The only thing is I don't have any condensed milk at present, and when I do have I use it with my coffee. Well, I can use the cook book when the canned milk will be plentiful again, which I hope won't be too far away..."

"We had a fairly nice time at the New Year's Party but along towards 3.A.M. we both wanted to go home very much and the theater was miles away from home. There wasn't a taxi to be had for love nor money so we had to wait until 5:45 for the subway to open. We got into bed at around 7:00 a.m...."

"...Anna and Semyor were at our house for dinner just after New Year. He told me he had found the negatives of those pictures and would print them for sure..."

Letter continues under date of January 31:

"There was a meeting or conference at work yesterday and I was feted on my 20th anniversary at Radio Moscow. I was awarded a pin with the inscription 'Honored Radio-Worker' on it and was cited in an order for good work. The section (or department) made me a present of some lovely silver spoons. Nick and Joe made a tape recording where they said all kinds of nice things about me. In February (the next sitting of our Announcers Council) I have been put up for the highest category..."

"..my teeth ... all fixed. It cost a small fortune, but every cloud has a silver lining, I guess. I had been wracking my brain about the money when all of sudden K. tells me he put 500 roubles on my bank account, he was paid for some book...so my teeth are paid for and my debts too..."

"...I wonder if you could send Bunny and Leo something just alike for the summer . . . . .I think if you could send them jeans just alike Bunny would be the happiest little guy alive. They both need them. I can find something in Leo's size but nothing for Bunny..."

"....would you send me some cake mixes, you told me some of them are so nice. You know we had a bad harvest failure this year and are buying wheat abroad. So there's no flour. . . so if you can...do send the kind you buy and some frosting..."

12. Letter dated February 6, 1964:

".... you asked me if I have used the Buffet Server for pancakes. No, I haven't darling, for the simple reason that I got nothing to make pancakes out of. I have no flour. I wrote about that in my last letter; because of the crop failure last year we're very short of grain, cereals, and flour products."

13. Letter dated February 17, 1964:

"...I didn't have a darn thing for dinner today and I found a recipe in the little booklet which came with my buffet server called tuna rice casserole. In place of tuna fish I used a can of crabs and instead of sweet cream I used sour and omitted the Worcestershire sauce (because I don't have it) and the catchup (because it doesn't agree with me)...I put the crabs on top the rice when it was ready, added some more cream and sprinkled some cheese on top for good measure. . .we had some ice cream for dessert, so it was a regular feast..."

14. Letter dated February 29, 1964, letter continues under date of March 1st:

"I started my letter yesterday . . in the studio while I was waiting for some stuff but didn't manage to write much because only Joe and I were on, and on Saturday we record two full programs. We are off on Sunday, except for the news. One comes in to read it at 11 p.m. Out of six announcers only Joe, Nick, and I are working. Annabelle, Eddie, and Olga are ill... We work daily and every third night on the night shift..."

"...Marina's boyfried, Alexei, has no mother....his father is the same as Michael, he heads a theater...."

"Since you left. . . we didn't receive one single cigarette, none that Maggie sent, none that Nellie sent, just nothing.."

15. Letter dated March 18, 1964, letter continues under date of March 20th:

"...and also...please send me some deodorant, I'm down to my last bottle. K's got a whole shelf full but I'd rot before I'd ask him for any. He gets an awful lot from his daughter through travellers from Paris..."

"I had a chance of sending you something through a friend of a friend. . . but this person lives in Montreal and was afraid they couldn't be sent in the mail over the border so now I have to wait for this summer when somebody will be going to the States. . . .since they (silver spoons) are silver I can't send them in a parcel....so...you have a half dozen hand-designed Vietnamese tea spoons, even though you haven't got them yet...."

"...March 8th here is Women's day, and, believe you me, our stores resemble the pre-Xmas rush sales during a fire..."

16. Letter dated March 26, 1964, letter continues under date April 2nd:

"...I am so glad you got the cup & saucer. . . the little set is Saxe, the German firm whose trademark you will find on each piece - 2 crossed battleaxes. I don't know whether their chinaware is sold in the U.S. but it's very famous and very expensive in Europe. That's why I'm so glad you didn't pay anything on it - I was so afraid you might be soaked something awful. I've seen beautiful dinner and tea sets, the average price is somewhere around $200. . ."

"...in my last letter. . I told you about some spoons I bought for you. They are on their way but you won't get them for a long time yet, so be patient, they will be slow but sure."

17. Letter dated April 6, 1964:

"....I haven't talked in my sleep . . for ages, ever since I divorced K...."

18. Letter dated April 15, 1964:

"..you wrote me that you received the addresses . . . the only reason I sent you those addresses was that at the Custom's they told me I could have anything sent through those firms. What I wanted you to do was to inquire about scales, would it be reasonable more or less, or would they charge a fortune to send a bathroom scales..."

". . . what happened to those stockings. Did you send them long ago. If I knew the date I could inquire maybe. If for some reason they are not allowed now, surely they would come back. Although the cigarettes certainly didn't come back..."

"..We are trying to get accomodations at a resort hotel through our trade union because otherwise I'm very much afraid that we'll spend all our time trying to get our meals along with about a million other vacationers. But I very much doubt whether we'll get anything...."

"..It's very tireing to work every day after 19 years of night work.."

19. Letter dated May 21, 1964:

"...Leo and I received accomodations to the same resort in Yalta where I was in 1961 and '62 - from the 9th of June.... they don't usually allow children there but if I can't pay for Bunny's meals at the resort there we'll feed him some place else..."

"... I want to tell you about . . the apartment . . Cooperative building is experiencing a terrific boom right now. Up till now, as I told you when you were here, all housing was built at the expense of the State and turned over to tenants at very low rents. The state-financed or rather gov't-financed building is still going on full blast, but now anybody who wants to (mostly the higher-paid workers) can join a cooperative development and buy their own apartment. You make one cash payment (40% of the cost) and the rest is in installments (monthly) for 10 or 15 years. So now we are terribly excited about the prospect of finding a cooperative building in a location favorable to us and joining. It's taking me one hell of a time to collect the necessary papers. Leo's already got his, but mine are in an awful mess because the apt. is still in K's mother's name. We've been chasing around for three weeks looking at various places - most of what we saw are too far from the subway. One place we did like, right next to the subway, not far from our house. It's a 3-room apartment, kitchen, bath, a big closet in the bedroom, balcony in the living-room. Now all we have to do is get in, but my papers are holding us up and I'm scared stiff everything will be taken by the time we can join. . . .K. has promised to pay a part so we should manage without any skimping. Leo's mother gave us all her savings for the first down payment and we've figured that we'll pay her back in a year, maybe even less, depending on K..."

"...There are a great many cooperatives and we've got to ferret out something suitable. We missed joining our radio cooperative development because at that time we couldn't have a 3-room apt. - now we can. There's another building going up but there will only be 1 and 2-room apts. They are too small for us. Joe was the one who got us started. He's also looking for a suitable 3-room apartment. Nick just moved into his 2-room apt. out on the road to the airport where you arrived. It's a lovely location, right next to a big reservoir. The new housing projects are so bright and gay . . . the ceilings are much lower than ours and windows low & wide. ."

". . Nick's apartment is lovely. The whole development is white and the houses are all trimmed in different colors red, green, yellow and so on. They look so bright and clean. By the way, Nick took some new pictures of the announcers yesterday so I'll have something new for you soon. I have reminded Senya so many times about those pictures that it's embarassing. . ."

". . the cake mixes and frosting arrived the other day and I paid very little duty on the parcel. Leo appreciated the cigarettes immensely.."

"..was Red flower the name of the candy you liked so much? We have so many candies Red Moscow, Red candy, Red Flower and so on. . ."

" . I think it would be marvelous if you could go to Sweden . . I don't know about myself . . . I'd rather visit you in Ketchikan. We might be able to come all three of us. Could you stand that? Of course, it would only be for a month . . because Leo's vacation is 28 days. So when I apply for a visa I'd rather apply for one to Alaska than Stockholm.

20. Letter dated May 30, 1964:

". . we got the accomodations . . leaving on Friday, 5th of June. . . The Crimean beaches are steep and stony but to me it'll be pure heaven to sit and do nothing. ."

"About the apartment . . I've found just the thing we want, but I can't get my documents from our house management. I hope to God they hurry up. The Moscow University is building an immense cooperative apartment house at the end of one of the subway lines called Southwest. . . The three-room apts. have any number of built-in cupboards, a big balcony (the Italian loggio) a nice entry-hall, bath & lavatory separate, and a nice kitchen. . .The building will be completed at the end of next year. . . Now all we've got to do is join the cooperative, but I can't do that without a lot of papers from our house management. Leo has his long ago. . . The location is on the edge of Moscow but we have decided it's about time we began thinking about our health and and the air out there is lovely....Right now it's just an open field with the Metro station in the middle . ...I'm sick of living in the heart of Moscow. It's so noisy I can't sleep in the morning at all. ."

Letter continues under date May 31:

". . I made the chocolate cake and used the creamy white frosting. Maybe I was supposed to use the French vanilla I didn't know. . . those cake mixes are gorgeous. It took me half an hour to make it. . When I'd finished I just couldn't believed I'd made a cake . . . let whoever wants have the real cakes. I'll take the mix any day. . ."

21. Letter dated June 19, 1964 at Yalta:

". . I got accomodations for Bunny too when we came here. . . We have a nice clean little room with twin beds with a big tree in front of the porch. . ."

22. Letter dated July 3, 1964:

". . We flew in (to Moscow) very late . . . Leo thought it would be better to fly at night . . . The trip from Yalta to Simpferopol where the airport is located is 2 hours, from there to Moscow it's nearly 2 hours, and from the Unukovo airport to the city is 1 hour. . ."

". . if you have what they call foot-savers or is it stocking-savers please send me a couple. It's simply impossible to wear stockings in this heat. ."

Letter continues under date of June 5th, (actually July):

". . my plan to send Bunny to camp fell through . . Finally Marina managed to get her vacation in July instead of August and she will take Bunny to Estonia where I was in 1960 . . Marina needs a rest. . . Since January Anna kept telling me that there was nothing to worry about. Then at the very last minute they refused to take Bunny because he is her nephew and not her son. If it weren't for Marina I don't know what I would have done. . . . I shall have to borrow some money. . .things are rather expensive in the Baltic area - rent is much more. . ."

". . We have cabbage again. . ."

". . I should get my papers this week I think. It took two months just to have the apt. put in K's name. Now I should get all my documents signed. . . I think I wrote you before leaving that we were there with Leo and his papers were taken and we signed up for a 3-room apt with kitchen, bath, toilet and a big balcony - loggia (built-in). . . They called up from the university yesterday to ask about my papers. It's an awful long way out there - it will take us nearly an hour to get to work. . Moscow seems to be getting hotter and dirtier with every year. ."

". . Nick is crazy about his new apartment and he's also a 40 minute ride from the radio, but he's on the same subway line. ."

". . We went out on the subway and at present the station 'Southwestern' is in the middle of an open field, behind the university building. ."

". .About the cakes. . they were simply heavenly. . . Leo went to town on the yellow cake. . I like the frosting where you add 1 tbsp of butter, besides the eggs, it's nicer than the other ones and much easier to beat up without a mixer. . . planning on making a strawberry short cake. . if strawberries get a bit cheaper. . . I brought some flour with me from Yalta so you can send me the can of baking powder you bought. . .I think it is good flour. It's not too white, but will do . . ."

". . Leo has finally taken up photography. . . So you should be getting some pictures. He developed his first ones last night. . . He's using a simple little camera K. gave to Bunny for his birthday.

23. Letter dated July 12, 1964:

". . Leo's mother is . . having a rest at a mineral springs place in the Caucasus. ."

". . tell Maggie . . . we were both tickled to know that the records came through. We thought they went the way of the cigarettes and other things. . ."

"P.S. . . I'm dying for something to read."

SUBJECT:

MARK LANE

(OO: NEW YORK)

ReNYairtel 8/12/64.

Enclosed herewith is an original and two copies of a LHM containing a verbatim transcription of pertinent portions of the radio program "The Randi Show", broadcast over radio station WOR AM-FM, NYC on 8/8/64, featuring MARK LANE as guest. In addition enclosed is one package containing 6 reels of tape constituting 2 copies of the original tape recording of approximately three hours of "The Randi Show" for the Bureau in the event the Bureau desires to furnish same to the Warren Commission.

Two copies of LHM are also enclosed for the Dallas Division in view of their interest in this matter.

The original tape of the broadcast starts at 12:14 am (the show itself started at 12:00 midnight) and ends about 3:00 am, at which time the panel, including subject, began answering incoming telephone calls from the listening public.

It is believed the panel on the morning of 8/8/64, consisted of the following persons:

With regard to the transcription contained in LHM, it is pointed out that the transcribing stenographers encountered difficulty in placing on paper the exact remarks of all members of the panel as they frequently talk at the same time, make incomplete sentences, interrupt each other or talk to another panel member when someone else is talking to the radio audience. In addition there is no way for the stenographer to record inflection in a speaker's voice which, in conversation, gives many shadings of meaning to the words spoken. It is felt the actual recording helps clarify this point.

Investigation is continuing at New York.

RA RAZICK

Dear Sirs:

I am writing this letter-as I am concerned with the Kennedy case as- I know the whole world is.

At the time of the investigation of the murder- I called up the Seattle branch of the F. B. I. and. I told of my- theory-There- has never been- any mention of- it- so I hope to satisfy my- convictions. by writing direct to Washington D. C.

During my stay- in the Army of Occupation- in Europe- I had - occassion to fire the Italian Rifle very frequently and- often- wondered at the way the bullet -used to-dessentregrate on contact. Taking one of the bullets- apart I noted that the bullet was- a-thin steel jacketed case that held together the Lead-core- which was- cut-up-to burst upon contact. Here is a sketch of the type of bullet that I used.

Not this one

Italian- Rifle shell Military- Issue	Steel jacket Lead- core- spit to provide a more deadly wound.

This bullet-no doubt is- illegal according to the Genero Conference- as- is the same-type of shell. that the Italians had -using wooden bullets instead of- Lead. These would be very painful. and cause infection more readily - than - a Lead bullet

REC-34

Please let me know- if this type of bullet was-used or not-as- it bothers-me-that no mention was made of a - bullet- that was possitively fired from- Oswalds' Rifle.

Thank you-

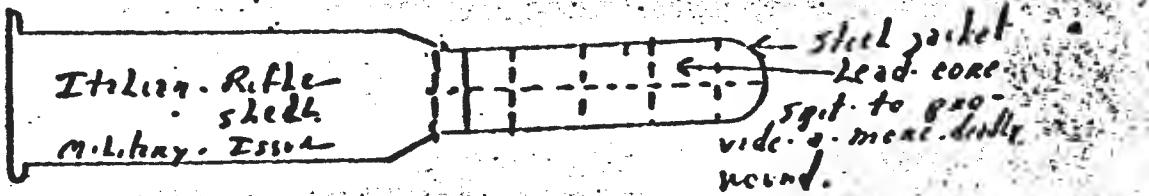
Dear Sirs:

I am writing this letter as I am concerned with the kennedy case as I know the whole world is.

At the time of the investigation of the murder. I called up the Seattle branch of the F.B.I. and I told of my theory. There has never been any mention of it so I hope to satisfy my convections by writing direct to Washington D.C.

During my stay in the Army of Occupation in Europe - I had occassion to fire the Italian rifle very frequently and often wondered at the way the bullet used to dessentregrate on contact king one of the bullets apart I noted that the bullet was a thin steel jacketed case that held together the lead core which was cut up to burst upon contact. Here is a sketch of the type of bullet that I used.

Joseph G. Pavnlich
4206 S. 110th St.
Seattle 98, Wash.



This bullet - no doubt is - illegal according to the Geneva Conference - as is the same type of shell that the Italians had - using wooden bullets instead of Lead. These would be very painful and cause infection more readily - than a lead bullet

Please let me know - if this type of bullet was used or not - as it bothers me - that no mention was made of a - bullet - that was possitively fired from - Oswald's rifle.

Thank you -

Sincerely Yours
Jo Powell

Mr. REEVES advised that a verification of HOY's previous employment with General Motors in Dallas, Texas, was requested on May 26, 1964, and the General Motors plant in Dallas informed that HOY had been employed from June 4, 1963, to May 4, 1964, as a spot welder; had quit voluntarily, and was not eligible for rehire. He had a very poor record.

Mr. REEVES said HOY would not be considered for employment at this plant and was not hired.

LA 105-15823

The following investigation was conducted by SA's ROBERT H. KARL and MERLE L. PARKER;

On August 18, 1964, Mr. I. KAWAMOTO, Manager, Post Hotel, 509 Banning, Los Angeles, California, produced his tenancy register which did not reveal any record of a MALCOLM J. HOY during the month of May, 1964. KAWAMOTO said HOY had never resided here.

On August 18, 1964, Mr. BOYD BROWN, Manager, Post Hotel and Apartments, 729 South Bonnie Brae, Los Angeles, California, advised that his records revealed that MALCOLM J. HOY and DAVID DARLING resided at this apartment-hotel from May 21, 1964, until May 29, 1964. They paid $18.00 rent for their room, and they left no forwarding address when they left. BROWN could provide no further information concerning the two tenants.

MALCOLM J. HOY advised that he currently resides at 12020 Kessoch Avenue, Whittier, California. HOY was advised that he did not have to say anything, that anything he did say could be used against him in a court of law, and that he was entitled to consult an attorney before saying anything. HOY furnished the following voluntary information:

On November 22, 1963, HOY decided to drive downtown in Dallas, Texas, to purchase a radio and also to watch the motorcade in which President JOHN F. KENNEDY was being driven. HOY drove downtown sometime prior to 11 o'clock that morning in his 1960 four-door Star Chief Pontiac, metallic green color. He met no one en route and parked his car in a parking lot, which was in the vicinity of the Palace Theater in downtown Dallas. HOY did not recall the name of the parking lot.

HOY was dressed in dark colored pants, a sport shirt, and black shoes. He was carrying nothing in his hands and he walked down Main Street to the Gordon Jewelry Store where he purchased a radio on credit. The radio, which was approximately twelve inches long and four inches high, was placed in a paper bag and the bag had no string or cord around it.

After making the purchase, HOY returned to the parking lot where he placed the radio in his car. He then walked down to where the motorcade would pass, and he could observe the President. He did not recall the names of the streets nor the directions involved, but he was standing on the corner of the intersection facing the oncoming motorcade, and the automobile in which the President rode turned left and proceeded down toward a tunnel.

HOY heard what sounded to him like exploding firecrackers, and he believed he heard approximately four reports which sounded close together. HOY could just see the rear portion of the President's car and saw someone leap on the rear portion of the car. At that time, there seemed to be a lot of confusion and people running around.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

HOY saw nothing that appeared to him to be unusual and since the President's car had now passed out of his sight, he turned away and walked down toward a group of theaters. He believed that the movie theater to which he went was the Palace Theater, but he was not certain, as there were about four theaters very close together. HOY recalled that the picture he went in to see was "Cleopatra."

He did not recall the specific part of the movie that was showing when he entered the theater, but approximately 35 minutes after he entered the theater he went to the lobby to get some candy. There, he heard some people say that the President had been shot. It was at that time that he first realized what had occured, and that the noise that he thought was exploding firecrackers might well have been shots. HOY could not recall the specific number of shots that he had heard. HOY went back to his seat and a short time thereafter a man announced in the front of the theater that the President had been shot. Many people in the theater left at that point, but others stayed, and HOY stayed until he had seen the entire movie.

On leaving the theater, HOY bought a newspaper and thought that it was about 3 o'clock. He was not certain of the time. He returned to his car and drove back to his apartment. He talked to the apartment manager about the day's events and told the manager that he had heard a number of shots and saw the assassination. Actually, HOY said he had not seen any more than he had related above, and he did not recall whether or not he specified the number of shots he had heard.

HOY said he had no information pertaining to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, JACK RUBY, or the assassination of President KENNEDY except what he had spoken of above. He said he had never met OSWALD or RUBY personally and had never had any contact with them in any regard.

HOY said that outside of his time spent in the U.S. Army, he had only on one occasion ever actually owned a gun. He said this gun to which he referred was an old single shot .22 caliber break open breech loading rifle which had been given to him by his landlady's son in the early part of 1963. He was then residing at 2222 Harlandale, Dallas, Texas. HOY bought some shells for the rifle and placed some pillows in his closet and a package of cigarettes on the pillows, after which he fired the rifle at the package of cigarettes. He said the bullets went through the pillows and into the woodwork and passed into another room where it chipped the porcelain off the bathtub. He said his landlady was greatly upset over his activity and called the police. HOY said he had no reason for shooting the rifle in his room except that it was something he felt like doing at the time and had no motive for doing it. HOY said he was subsequently approached by the police at his employment, but he was never arrested for it and was merely interviewed by them.

HOY furnished the following background information concerning himself through observation and interview:

An article from a French-language weekly newspaper "MINUTE," of August 21, 1964, issue No. 125.

"EXCLUSIVE. MARINA OSWALD: WHY MY HUSBAND KILLED KENNEDY."

(Article on page 15):

"THE WIFE OF THE ASSASSIN OF KENNEDY FINALLY FRANKLY EXPLAINS: MY HUSBAND KILLED, TO MAKE PEOPLE TALK ABOUT HIM."

By Nerin E. Gun

(Editor's Note):

In a few days, the Warren Commission, charged with the final clearing of the circumstances of the death of President Kennedy, is going to publish its report. According to a few premature leaks, this report will conclude that Lee Harvey Oswald was the sole culprit. And so, "Minute" asked Nerin A. Gun to interview Marina Oswald, to find out what she thought about the conclusions of the Warren Commission. Nerin E. Gun is that great journalist, to whom we owe the only serious investigation of the assassination of Kennedy, the investigation published exclusively in the "Minute" and which appeared in France under the title, "The Red Roses of Dallas." He is also the same well-known political expert, who recently replied to the question: "Can Goldwater Be the President of the United States?" "Minute" is happy to present to you today the first big interview with Marina Oswald.

"I had two husbands: Lee, the father of my children, an affectionate and kind man; and Harvey Oswald, the assassin of President Kennedy. I immensely pity Lee, my husband. But I do not feel anything with regard to Oswald, the assassin. That Oswald was a madman."

COPIES DESTROYED

Translated by Tatiana Nikoshinidek
September 2, 1964 (1-4)

Thus speaks Marina Prusakova Oswald. She received me and my photographer in her new home, hidden under the trees and situated in a very quiet section of Dallas suburbs. The place is called Richardson; it is almost completely "residential."

The painted brick house is not yet completely furnished. It has two bedrooms, a very modern kitchen, bathroom, and a big living room. This is the permanent home of Marina Oswald, for her future seems now to be secure, while Jacqueline Kennedy continues to wander distractedly, from Washington to Cape Cod and from Boston to New York.

Marina placed a few gaudy rugs on the floor and some engravings on the walls: nothing very original. There is an armchair and some chairs, but she prefers to sit on the floor. This is the first time when she calmly received a journalist and a photographer at her home, that she consented to pose, that she agreed to talk freely, and to confide.

She has made considerable progress in her English since that fatal evening, when I saw her in the antechamber of a police station in Dallas: at that time, she could say only a few words of American slang and vainly tried to explain herself in Russian.

We discuss the past; she immediately eliminates the conspiracy theory:

"No, no," she protests, shaking her head a few times, as though to add the force of gesture to words: "No Cuba, no Russia, only Lee. Lee all by himself!"

She says this today so much more forcefully, for she has for months searched her memories, reread the "diary" of her husband, his letters and has examined hundreds of photographs and documents.

"It is the last thing in the world I would like to say, but I am convinced of Lee's guilt. My husband killed because he wanted to become a 'big shot,' a celebrated person, a somebody...."

This is Marina's theory. This will be the theory of the Warren Commission whose report will be published next month. Marina Oswald was the most important and most assiduous witness for this Commission. She succeeded in convincing the investigators: her husband committed an insane act; he wanted to prove to his wife, to the world, to himself, that Lee Harvey Oswald was not a failure.

"Lee did not know Ruby," she adds, as if continuing her testimony. "I had never seen them together; he had never talked to me about this man!"

Now, Marina is warming up; her voice becomes impassionate; she is ready to take an oath.

"Already in April 1963, Lee wanted to kill Vice President Richard Nixon (who was Vice President in name only; he was, in fact, defeated in the elections for the post of the Governor of California). I tried to dissuade him from it. We argued and he struck me. I had a 'black eye' for a week."

"I have already told," continued Marina, "how one day he fired from a distance at General Walker."

Edwin Walker is the former commandant of the American garrison in Berlin who was implicated in the disorders in Oxford, Mississippi. He is considered to be a man on the extreme right, a savage opponent of the Government to such a point, that when an official from Washington comes to Dallas, he turns the star-spangled flag upside down. One day, in fact, an unknown person fired a bullet from a rifle at the general, missing him by inches. Walker was seated near the window of his library and was filling out a form.

Marina repeats, as if to be more convincing:

"It was another Oswald, Oswald the assassin, who fired upon Walker that evening. He told it to me. He revealed to me the details which could be known only to the perpetrator of the attempt, I am sure of it."

"This Is Better Than in Russia"

There is an enormous difference between the now smiling Marina, relaxed in her small flower garden, and the poor dishevelled, haggard, frightened woman who held a dirty-faced baby in her arms at a police station in Dallas, on the evening of her husband's arrest.

She is dressed simply, it is true, but also with some degree of luxury. Her hair is carefully coiffed - she must be going to a hairdresser often - she uses make-up on her face and especially her eyes, but very little lipstick. When she smiles, the rather hard features of her face suddenly soften and then she seems pretty. She must know it, for she smiles often, for no reason. This is a trick she learned in America.

She loves to be photographed and passes a large portion of her time in sorting her photographs and those of her children in an album decorated with flowers, her first important purchase. In the evening, between two television programs, she slowly turns pages of this album and explains the photos to June, the eldest of her two daughters.

Marina always talks Russian with her children; although June knows English - she learned it from the children of the neighborhood - little Rachel understands only Russian.

Marina improves her knowledge of English by watching television which is her favorite amusement. "This is a thousand times better than in Russia," she likes to say.

June is an extremely lively and very intelligent child. She resembles her father.

"But not in character," protests Marina Oswald. June is a happy youngster, gay, carefree, always content with her lot.

As to Rachel, she is still a baby walking completely naked in the house and murmuring strange things.

"I Often Wake Up...."

The American Secret Service no longer watches over Marina or her children. For months Mrs. Oswald was practically their prisoner. One never knew whether they wanted to protect her or to isolate her from journalists.

Today, an agent of the Special Services (sic)* passes by once a week to see if everything is all right and whether there were any threats against the little family. They do not tell it to her openly, but they are afraid sometimes that Marina may be kidnapped by communist emissaries who, after leaving the United States, may force her to make dangerous statements: they can compel her to say that she was subjected to pressure which did not permit her to say that Oswald was innocent, that he was with her at the time of the crime, etc.

Threatening or insulting letters which Marina receives every week are also forwarded to a Secret Service agent. There are generally five or six, addressed simply to "Marina Oswald, Dallas"; only the Post Office knows the exact address. Then they make a discreet inquiry.

Although they are not numerous, these epistolary warnings are often violent. "After him, it will be your turn..."; "We know that you are an agent of the Kremlin and that you hypnotized your husband..." one may read in these, nearly always anonymous, missives. Here is a correspondent who sends thirty dollars with these words: "The payment to the widow of Judas"; there is an adversary of Kennedy who encloses the following note with his check: "Bravo, for the work well done!"

Marina always returns the money, but, at the beginning, she was so disgusted that, forgetting the Secret Service, she tore up all the letters.

She had to get used to insults, slander and provocations. Did not her own mother-in-law, Marguerite Oswald, claim that Marina, who is a nurse by profession (sic)*, "injected" her son Lee with some mysterious drugs while he slept? "Thus, Oswald, was no longer himself and behaved like a sleepwalker who did everything he was asked to do. One day, he was told to go and assassinate Kennedy...."

"Naturally," Marina admits, "I am ashamed of what my husband did. How can it be otherwise? Often I wake up at night and think again about all this and I am filled with remorse."

But the children do not know anything about their father. She will wait a long time, a very long time, before revealing the truth to them.

"But," she declares emphatically, "they will go to school here in Dallas, under their real names, June Oswald and Rachel Oswald."

A few days ago she put some fresh red roses on his grave; she also transplanted some shrubs and evergreens. But an unknown hand uprooted the young trees, destroyed the evergreens and scattered the roses. For Marina, there is no doubt:

"It was my mother-in-law who did this. She has nothing but hate for me."

After the burial of Lee Oswald, Marina did not want to see her husband's mother ever again.

"A year before these events, Lee no longer wanted to hear the name of his mother mentioned in front of him. He even forbade me to tell her that Rachel was born. It was only at the police station that Marguerite Oswald saw the baby and learned about her birth."

"I Shall Remain in Dallas"

By a strange phenomenon, incomprehensible in any country other than the United States, Marina Oswald received considerable gifts from all sides:

"People know that I am not responsible for Lee's actions and thus they do not hold his crime against me," she explains.

She has at present over $60,000 (30 million old francs) and, if the literary and moving picture contracts which she signed materialize, she will have still more money. One of the strangest propositions came from Kentucky:

"I offer you $50,000, if you permit me to exhibit the body of Lee Harvey Oswald at fairs. I will double the amount if you show yourself by the side of the corpse."

Incredible but true!

However, Marina is still unable to dispose of a good part of the money which she received from the public or which came from the sale of certain documents. This is a sad story.

When, very soon after the death of her husband, she lived at a motel on the outskirts, she became friendly with a certain Jim Martin who became her "counsellor" and made her engage John Torne (sic)*, an attorney. Some people claim that Martin was a secret agent, but this has never been proved. In any case, it seems certain that the two confederates sold without Marina's consent, certain documents among which was the celebrated picture of Oswald with the weapon of the crime, which they purloined from the effects seized by the police.

As soon as Marina Oswald, who felt herself to be held in confinement, was able to get in contact with friends and, particularly, with her brother-in-law Robert, she separated herself from her counsellors. The latter, furious, sued her and refused to give her the money received in her name.

She would probably find herself destitute without the intervention of the Council of Churches of Fort Worth which organized a collection and placed $7,000 (3,500,000 old francs) at her disposal.

Marina has never had a reason to complain about her neighbors: they all are charming and do not see anything improper in seeing their children play with the little Oswalds. When Marina goes to the "supermarket," they look at her sympathetically and smile at her. Often some women accompany her to her door. She frequents again her old friends and pays numerous visits to her brother-in-law Robert who lives in a neighboring locality, Denton.

Marina does not think at all of moving away, of going to live elsewhere, of changing her name or hiding herself:

"People would recognize me," she says; "the press would start chasing me. It would be as though I admitted that I had an uneasy conscience. Here I have friends. I know well that certain people try to exploit me, that others show me friendship solely because of their taste for the unusual or extraordinary. But it always will be like this; why change then? What matters, is the future of my children and their education."

Does she think of returning to Russia, to Minsk, to the home of her uncle?

"No, no. My children are born Americans and they will remain Americans. Had 'all this' happened to me in the USSR, they would have made me disappear; I would never be able to see June or Rachel again: they would have sent them to a boarding school and would have destroyed records of their origin. Of course, I feel nostalgic for my country at times, especially at the moments of crisis, when I feel alone, lost, abandoned.... I cannot forget the plane trees of Leningrad. I also think about parties, where I went to dance with my friends from the factory.... The other night on television, Danny Kaye sang some melodies popular in my childhood; I cried.

She frequents almost all the Russian exiles in her neighborhood. Her best friend is Mrs. Declan Ford, a Russian deported to Germany and interned in a camp, who, after the liberation, emigrated to the United States as a displaced person. It was with her that Marina stayed when her husband mistreated her, which happened at times.

"That Poor Jacqueline"

Marina is very proud of her new washing machine and all the modern utensils which decorate her kitchen. She, who only a year ago was an ordinary woman, without much money, considers her present home a paradise in miniature.

Of course, she did not neglect to stress more than once, the sympathy which she feels toward "poor Jacqueline."

"Poor Mrs. Kennedy! I know what it is to lose one's husband. She lost a good husband!"

"If I wanted to," continued Marina who just celebrated her twenty-second birthday, "I could remarry immediately. I have the right to a second chance and my children need a father...."

And she showed me a pile of letters coming from New York, San Francisco, Montreal, Paris, Amsterdam, Stockholm, Tokyo. All are marriage proposals.

And then, bluntly, without realizing the incongruity of her question, she asks me:

"Is it true what they say about Jacqueline Kennedy, that she also may think of marrying again?"

I do not answer; one should excuse her. Since Marina Prusakova Oswald has been Americanized, nothing shocks her any more and she no longer finds anything shocking.

"My friends from Russia write to me sometimes," she said when I was leaving her. "They cannot understand why the newspapers continue to publish my photos, why people send me money and why one would wish to interview me. They refuse to believe that I am well treated here. My friends from Minsk or Leningrad say to me: 'If they did not kill you, it is because no one in America believes that your husband is really the assassin of President Kennedy.' And still...."

CUISINE ESPAGNOLE

LA CORRIDA

9, rue d'Argenteuil (1er) - RIC. 90-07
Mo Palais-Royal, Pyramides - F. Dimanche
SITUATION : En plein centre de Paris, à deux pas du Théâtre-Français, entre l'avenue de l'Opéra et la rue de Rivoli, le dernier né des restaurants espagnols de Paris vient d'ouvrir. Et c'est vraiment nouveau.
STATIONNEMENT : Zone bleue, mais facile.
CADRE : Dès la petite terrasse-balcon qui sert d'entrée et qui évoque déjà l'Espagne, on est saisi par la simplicité et la vérité du décor, tissus rouge et blanc des « talenquères » des arènes qui font ressortir les pierres taillées du bar, dans le plus pur style espagnol, accolé à un patio andalou.
CUISINE : La cuisine, elle, est aussi simple et aussi vraie. Précisons — oh ! miracle... — sans une goutte d'huile de trop, avec la senorita Alicia, cette trouvaille venue directement du pays basque espagnol.
La PAELLA, bien que parfaite n'est pas également de rigueur. On a le choix entre la MERLUZA KOSKERA (tranche de colin avec des pointes d'asperges, petites coquet, petits pois, dans une sauce verte aux champignons) 6,50, le BAKALAO A LA BISKAIA (morue à la sauce tomate avec des poivrons doux servie comme la Merluza, bien mijotée dans son petit plat en terre) 6,00, PIMENTS FARCIS FROIDS (thon, échalotes, œufs durs, petits pois) 3,50, FRITOS VARIADOS (assortiment de petites grenouilles) 5,00 et bien d'autres choses... Pour les DESSERTS : PECHES AU SIROP FLAMBEES AU RHUM 5,00, EL BRAZO GITANO (pâtisserie classique très légère) 3,50.
Les vins, bien sûr, sont vraiment d'Espagne, sans aucun stage à Bercy (7,50 à 11,00 F pour les vins français et 11,00 à 13,00 F pour les vins espagnols, la bouteille).
N.B. — Les prix indiqués plus haut sont ceux pratiqués pour le dîner. A midi, l'établissement est un endroit calme qui convient parfaitement à l'homme d'affaires qui désire inviter un client dans un endroit pittoresque. Le soir, par contre, on vit à l'heure espagnole, l'ambiance est formidable. Certains connaissent déjà PEPOLO et JUANJO. Ces deux garçons ont vraiment pris « le taureau par les cornes » et se sont jetés dans « la corrida » en inaugurant leur maison en une saison difficile de vacances, mais qui doit leur permettre de bien « mijoter »... (et c'est peut-être déjà fait) une excellente équipe pour la rentrée.
Il ne faudrait pas oublier de citer la jeune et jolie Nekane qui nous reçoit avec son beau sourire et son élégance. Demandez-lui donc de vous chanter la « berceuse basque » et vous apprécierez la pureté de sa voix.
Avec cette magnifique équipe, accompagnée de guitaristes talentueux et sincères, c'est toute l'Espagne que vous retrouverez en plein cœur de Paris : Aragon, Catalogne, Madrid, Grenade... et aussi le flamenco.
Cette « CORRIDA » n'est pas interdite à Paris, et ce serait dommage de s'en priver...

SACRÉ SARRASSAT

Il y a de grands restaurants à Vichy, mais c'est à Saint-Gérand-le-Puy qu'il faut aller si l'on veut passer pour initié.

Sarrassat est un temple de gueule, non point à la manière ostentatoire des étoilés du Michelin, mais dans le secret des carnets de croûte des vrais amateurs.

Sarrassat ? Un chef. La tête sous et près du bonnet blanc. Demandez plutôt à ce client qui, comme Mme Sarrassat lui proposait : « Si vous voulez attendre vingt minutes, il y aura du mille-feuilles », répliqua : « Mais la pâtisserie, c'est aussi bon de la veille ! ». Il quitta le restaurant à la vitesse d'une fusée, poursuivi par les imprécations... de Lucien.

Car, s'il faut ici commander son repas, Lucien Sarrassat ne consent à le préparer que lorsque vous êtes là, les pieds sous la table et alléché par ces écrevisses à la crème et au champagne qui sont célèbres dans la France entière. (Je connais un Parisien qui, en automne, fait ses 700 kilomètres pour elles, suivies d'un lièvre à la royale.)

Entre les écrevisses et le mille-feuilles s'inscrivent des plats qui ont nom côte de bœuf aux truffes ou ragoût de mouton, brochet au beurre blanc ou tête de veau, caneton au champagne ou entrecôte au vin. Le grand et le tout simple et comme pour faire la preuve que le simple peut être grand et que le grand ne l'est qu'à la condition d'être simple. C'est la règle d'or de la cuisine.

Aucun guide, sauf le guide de Hachette France 1964 (dont on annonce malheureusement que l'édition 65 ne paraîtra pas), ne signale ce petit bistrot de village, cette halte imprévue sur la Nationale 7, ce chef impétueux et sublime. Son caractère le porte à mépriser les snobs, les faux connaisseurs et les inspecteurs du Michelin. Il n'ira pas loin mais préfère être le premier dans son village — et son département.

Cher Sarrassat, il faut des chefs comme lui, ne serait-ce que pour sauver ce qui peut encore être sauvé d'une cuisine qui "... le camp.

L'entrecote minute

● Pour les août'iens, je signale au Prunier-Traktir de l'avenue Victor-Hugo une bouillabaisse en gelée (et non surgelée). Tous les poissons de la bouill..baisse, homard compris, figés dans l'éclatant du safran. Une splendeur.

● En semaine, dans la vallée de Chevreuse, l'Auberge du Gros Marronnier, à Senlisse, est une oasis de calme. Les cocktails de Pierre Mollichi, la cuisine de Corinne Mollichi en font une récréation gourmande.

...inspecteur des ambassades de la République Dominicaine n'était pas là. On le chercha en vain sur le terrain de polo et dans les salles de jeux. L'ex-mari de Danielle Darrieux, de Barbara Hutton et de quelques autres était bel et bien manquant à l'appel.

De méchantes langues vous murmurent que cette désertion est bien involontaire. Les temps seraient devenus durs pour l'ancien gendre de Trujillo. A tel point qu'il hésiterait à se montrer dans la station normande, de peur de ne pouvoir suivre sur le tapis vert des camarades qui ne souffrent pas de la même disette.

Horrible détail : on avance même que l'entretien d'un « team » de polo — on sait la passion que Porfirio porte à ce noble sport — serait désormais au-dessus de ses moyens. Est-ce pour se refaire qu'il avait écrit ses « Mémoires » ? On vous glisse que oui. Mais l'agence parisienne à laquelle il les avait confiées cherche encore un acheteur.

Trente millions

D'autres vous font remarquer que le beau Porfirio vient d'atteindre ses 58 ans et qu'une vie aussi ardente que la sienne en fatiguerait de plus robustes. D'autant que notre Don Juan est actuellement l'époux d'une printanière jeune femme, Odile Rodin, tout juste âgée de 25 ans. La belle Odile l'aime et le couve que c'en est attendrissant. De là à insinuer qu'elle n'hésiterait pas à relancer ses parents pour aider son mari, il n'y a qu'un pas que les jaloux ont vite franchi.

Bref, tout ne va pas pour le mieux chez le meilleur des Rubirosa et, sans notre baron Elie de Rothschild, on se demande comment Michel d'Ornano aurait « rajeuni » Deauville. Suivi d'une bande de 40 personnes, ce vigoureux presque-quinquagénaire est le capitaine d'une équipe de polo. Il ne manque pas un match. Ni une soirée au casino. Ne l'a-t-on pas vu perdre avec le sourire une trentaine de millions au « Privé » ?

Vous en connaissez, vous, beaucoup de jeunes qui amuseraient leur monde à ce prix-là...

Porfirio Rubirosa et Odile Rodin : les temps sont durs

GRAND-PAPA WLADIMIR RUE DANS LE FAUTEUIL

CONSTERNATION au Palais-Gruvère. Voilà que notre Wladimir d'Endormesson se réveille. Et en sursaut. Le grand-papa gâteau de l'O.R.T.F. veut travailler, na ! Ce n'était vraiment pas la peine de se donner tant de mal pour dénicher un septuagénaire décoratif et bien tranquille.

On eunérait qu'une fois installé dans le fauteuil de président du conseil d'administration, avec une bonne couverture sur les genoux, il reprendrait son petit dodo. Quand brusquement, l'autre matin, il s'est mis à taper de la canne sur le plancher. Il venait de s'apercevoir qu'on le tenait à l'écart de ces conférences au sommet où se concoctent chaque matin les principales directives de l'O.R.T.F.

Ne cherchez pas trop d'où venait l'idée si charitable de ne pas déranger grand-papa Wladimir. Vous risqueriez de faire rougir jusqu'à la racine des cheveux le modeste Contamine, porte-parole des volontés peyrefittiennes. Depuis qu'il a été nommé directeur général adjoint il se sent pousser des ailes.

Aussi est-ce avec une fougue bien touchante qu'il trace des plans révolutionnaires comme quelqu'un qui serait déjà le futur directeur général. N'a-t-il pas annoncé à grands sons de trompe un remaniement complet des programmes : « Cinq Colonnes à la une » passerait le dernier mercredi du mois au lieu du premier vendredi, « Lectures pour tous » serait transféré du mercredi au lundi. De même, « Au-delà de l'écran », « Les Coulisses de l'exploit » et toutes les autres émissions diffusées à date fixe seraient déplacées.

En attente

Tout cela sent l'homme qui pense ! Vous vous demandiez comment on allait pouvoir sauver la télévision de la faillite et les téléspectateurs de l'ennui ? C'était simple : en prenant les mêmes émissions et en les diffusant... d'autres jours.

On peut même vous dire que ces remaniements seraient déjà choses faites si grand-papa Wladimir n'avait, là encore, ruê dans le fauteuil. Il veut qu'on lui soumette tout. Le superviseur, c'est lui, scrogneugneu !

Pour le coup, Contamine a décidé d'attendre la fin des vacances. D'ici là, les premiers brouillards de septembre auront peut-être réussi à calmer l'ardeur de Wladimir.

OUF !

UN homme heureux, c'est le metteur en scène Festa Campanile. Pourquoi ? Parce qu'il vient de terminer « Le Cœur dans la gorge », d'après le roman de Pratolini « La Constance dans la raison », et qu'il va être débarrassé de Sami Frey.

Durant tout le tournage du film, l'ex-monsieur Bardot s'est montré si désagréable avec les autres acteurs et les techniciens que ses cabotinages ont failli provoquer une grève générale sur le plateau.

Seule, Catherine Deneuve était épargnée. Sami Frey consentait à être poli avec elle. Sans doute se sentait-il un peu de la famille.

Ah ! ces gens qui se croient sortis de la cuisse de D...

Elie pète le feu

Il est terrible cet Elie ! Tout Deauville n'a plus que son nom sur les lèvres. C'est qu'il faut le voir toutes les nuits au « New-Brummel », la boite de Régine, se tortiller dans son frac en poussant la chansonnette. Ça c'est une vraie locomotive !

Vous ne connaissez pas encore Elie? Allons donc ! N'est-il pas le plus turbulent rejeton des messieurs-frères de la rue Laffitte. Mais oui, c'est d'Elie de Rothschild qu'il s'agit.

Un rejeton turbulent mais déjà avancé en âge, direz-vous. Eh oui, la cinquantaine n'est pas loin. Comme vous le voyez, Deauville a commencé sa cure de rajeunissement. Cette fameuse cure que son maire, Michel d'Ornano, nous avait annoncée à grands sons de trompe.

SON COPAIN

LES milliers de bidasses en lointaine garnison, réduits à l'auto-stop pour venir voir leurs parents au cours des rares « permes » de longue durée, doivent sûrement se réjouir des égards dont bénéficie le soldat Johnny Hallyday.

Il y a un mois, il était à Madrid. Le passage illégal d'une frontière aurait valu à tout autre bidasse un séjour au gnouf.

Lui, on lui a immédiatement redonné une autre permission pour se rendre à Brive, où il a

Sur le sable

Rappelez-vous aussi qu'à la même époque MINUTE posait déjà une question qui constituait un sérieux avertissement : « Et si les jeunes en avaient assez de ces rythmes d'importation ? » Les sarcasmes par lesquels répondirent nos rois du disque retentissent encore à nos oreilles.

Excusez-nous de nous en délecter aujourd'hui. Car la vente des disques des yés-yés de tout poil a baissé de plus de 50 % dans les magasins des Champs-Elysées connus pour être le baromètre du succès, et la tournée des plages de nos brailleurs professionnels s'avère de plus en plus comme un fiasco sans précédent. La vague du twist est sur le sable.

En revanche, on ne peut plus guère ouvrir son poste de radio sans entendre « Zorro est arrivé » d'Henri Salvador, « Ma vie » d'Alain Barrière, ou « Il pleut dans ma maison » de Rayel Gérard. Ces trois chansons battent des records de vente.

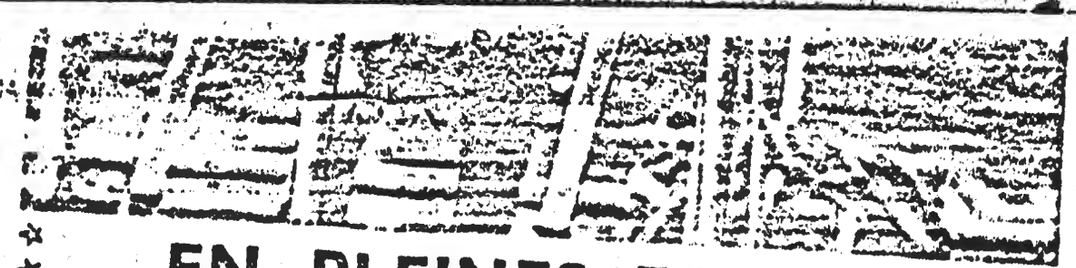
Reconversion

Elles sont suivies de près par « Nathalie » de Gilbert Bécaud, qui dépasse maintenant Aznavour au « Box Office », malgré le triomphe de « La Mamma ». Quant à la plus extraordinaire ascension, c'est bien celle d'Enrico Macias, un champion de la chanson douce et sentimentale.

Bref, la chanson française s'assagit et retrouve la voie de sa tradition. Les états-majors des firmes de disque en sont tellement convaincus qu'ils se reconvertissent à toute vitesse. Les idoles et idolettes sont priés d'aller réécouter Tino Rossi.

Etonnez-vous après cela que Johnny Hallyday se plaise dans l'Armée. A sa place on y resterait !

ENFIN REUNIS : Marcillac et Herzog s'entendaient si bien que cela devait arriver : Marcillac serait affecté au Secrétariat à la Jeunesse et aux Sports après son départ de l'O.R.T.F. en septembre.



EN PLEINES FORMES

EH bien, Votre Altesse, en voilà une façon de faire la révérence ! Il est vrai qu'un aussi beau sourire ferait pardonner d'autres entorses au protocole. Il est vrai qu'un Grace de Monaco se porte bien, et c'est l'essentiel puisqu'elle attend un héritier. C'est ce qui explique cette chemisette légère passée par-dessus son maillot de bain, et du plus réjouissant effet. Maman attentive, Grace était venue à la piscine du Palm Beach de Monte-Carlo pour y voir le petit prince Albert disputer une compétition de natation. La simplicité de Grace enchanta tous les spectateurs. Encore une fois elle avait tous les Monégasques derrière elle.

BIZARRE, CE TOURISME VERS LA ROUMANIE !

ESPERONS que la Roumanie aura fait son plein d'heureux vacanciers. Ce ne serait que justice. Car voilà un pays où les « tovaritch » se sont mis en quatre pour accueillir le touriste en provenance des pays capitalistes.

Rappelez-vous « Cinq colonnes à la Une », du 8 mai dernier. Un médecin roumain y était interviewé par les Lazareff's boys.

Qu'expliquait-il ? Que désormais en Roumanie l'avortement était libre, qu'on y « délivrait » sans formalité toute femme qui se présentait moyennant deux à trois mille de nos anciens francs.

Les cliniques suisses ayant renoncé depuis quelques années à ce genre de facilités, on imagine l'intérêt qu'une telle annonce pouvait provoquer. Mais ne nous égarons pas, restons-en au tourisme.

Ce n'est certainement qu'une coïncidence si, quelques jours après ce fracassant « Cinq colonnes », les camarades roumains simplifiaient les formalités d'obtention du visa : auparavant il fallait une semaine pour l'avoir : on vous le délivre désormais en vingt-quatre heures.

Ce n'est pas tout : le franc qui valait 1 leu 40 s'échange désormais au taux de 3,64. De quoi rendre l'Escart encore plus fiérot qu'à son habitude. Mieux : le billet de train Paris-Bucarest aller-retour coûtait 118.000 anciens francs, mais, depuis juin, pour 99.000 anciens francs, on vous offre le voyage aller-retour plus un séjour de deux semaines, tous frais compris.

Evidemment, il y a toujours de vilains individualistes qui préfèrent utiliser leur voiture. Qu'ils se rassurent : depuis juin encore, l'essence n'est plus rationnée en Roumanie pour les nobles étrangers. Et elle ne coûte que 45 anciens francs le litre.

Si ce n'est pas là un gaillard...

... pelle une belle campagne de publicité en faveur du tourisme, on veut bien faire la route à pied ! Maintenant, direz-vous, quel rapport avec cet interview du médecin roumain ?

Aucun, bien sûr. Vous ne voyez tout de même pas notre vertueuse Télévision encourager les jeunes femmes rebelles à la maternité à se rendre à Bucarest. Fi donc !

POUR rien au monde le sémillant Chaban-Delmas n'aurait voulu manquer le tournoi de tennis d'Hossegor. Il y avait d'ailleurs sa place réservée.

Il n'empêche qu'il ne put suivre que la moitié du tournoi.

C'est qu'un autre amateur de tennis, François Mitterrand, avait été malencontreusement placé près de lui.

UNE SUFFIT

ON n'en a pas fini avec la belle Mata-Hari : après Dureux et Castelot à la télévision, Jean-Louis Richard, mari (sur le papier) de Jeanne Moreau, vient de donner le premier tour de manivelle d'une super-production consacrée à la célèbre espionne. Cette fois, ce ne sera plus l'espionnage-de-papa. François Truffaut a truffé le scénario de séquences très nouvelle vague.

Espérons en tout cas que nos deux compères sont mieux documentés que ce Kurt Singer qui vient de publier dans la collection « L'Air du Temps » un livre sur « Les plus grandes

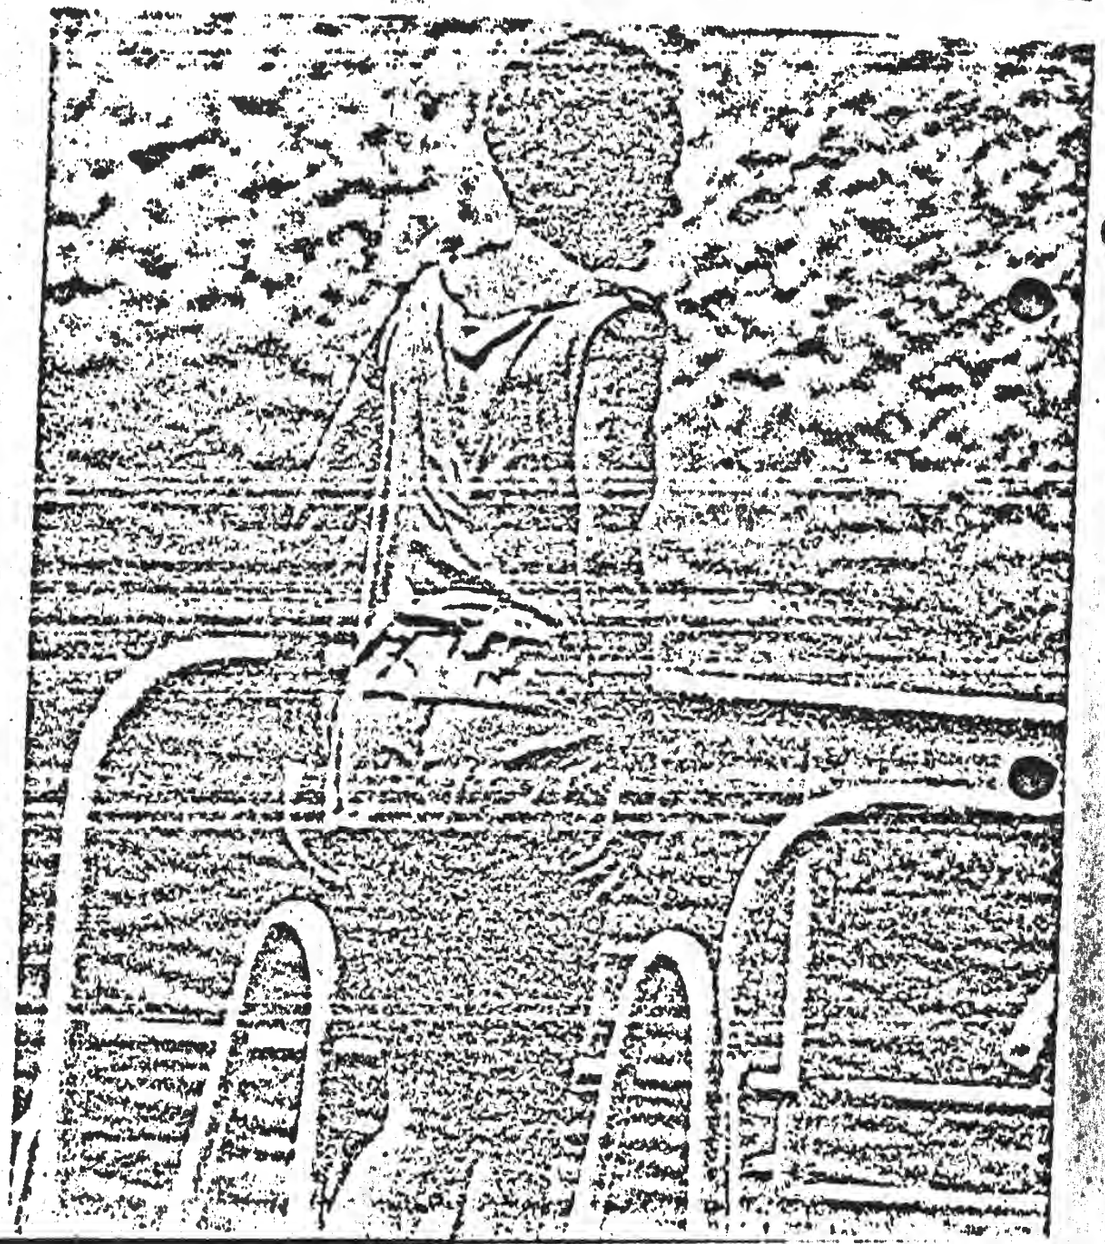
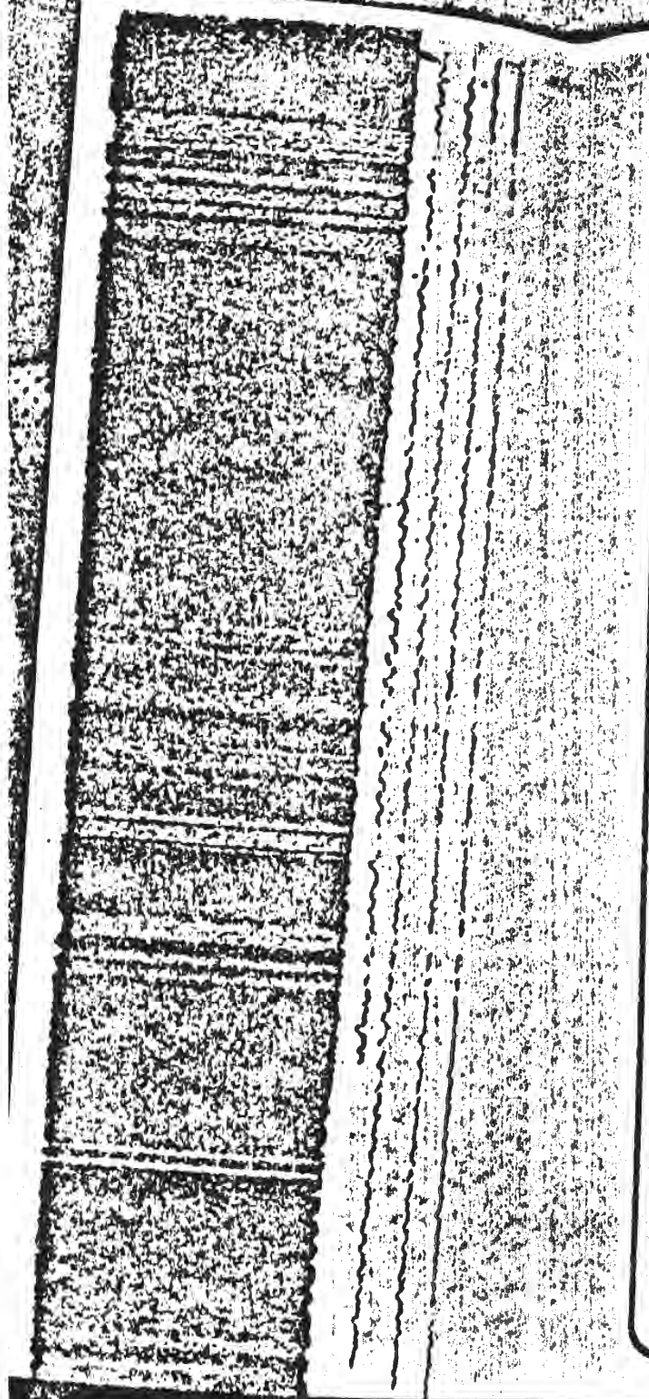
Tout cela, bien sûr, c'est presque toujours la faute de la sonorisation. Elle est trop forte ou pas assez. Si on siffle, si on chasse nos yés-yés, c'est parce qu'on les entend mal.

Hum !... Elle a vraiment bon dos cette « sonorisation ». Rappelez-vous, l'an dernier, lorsque la virginale Sylvie Vartan fut huée par des milliers de jeunes en colère au Théâtre de Verdure de Cannes, c'est la même expli-





Substituer à l'œuvre d'un pompier inconnu celle d'un vieil artiste que l'on savait physiquement incapable de réaliser un tel ouvrage, c'est un procédé pour le moins curieux. Et d'autant plus inexcusable que si le nouveau plafond ne pouvait avoir les deux cents mètres carrés de celui de Lenepveu, il était tout de même trop important pour qu'on chargeât de cette tâche un septuagénaire.

La conclusion s'impose d'elle-même. Nos grands caïds des Affaires Culturelles ont donné à un entrepreneur improvisé et diminué par l'âge une petite fortune en francs légers pour faire extrapoler par des tâcherons habiles une œuvre dont il ne pouvait s'acquitter tout seul.

Si encore le plafond de Chagall était un chef-d'œuvre ! Mais comment en juger. Il est entreposé sur la scène de l'Opéra en attendant que des spécialistes l'installent au-dessus du fameux grand lustre du palais-bazar de Garnier.

Ce que j'ai pu en voir me permet de supposer que des femmes nues formeront une sorte de corolle rose autour du lustre. Chagall semble avoir donné à ses demoiselles une hypertrophie locale qui rappelle les gros postères des montmartroises d'Utrillo.

Placer au-dessus du lustre monumental et dans une salle bourgeoisement surchargée de toutes les horreurs du style de l'époque une petite ronde de sphéroïdes, c'est risqué.

Heureusement, la hauteur de la salle de l'Opéra aura l'avantage de ramener à des dimensions convenables les formes rebondies des callipyges de Chagall.

Et puis, il y a la couleur de Chagall qui peut tout sauver.

Francis Blanche et J.-P. Cassel : la vente de la Tour Eiffel ne sauvera pas Claude Chabrol !

QUELQUES BONS MOMENTS VOUS ÉVITENT DE CRIER AU VOLEUR

LA plus belle escroquerie du monde, ce n'est pas « Les plus belles escroqueries du monde », mais bien cette formule de film à sketches. Quatre ou cinq petits films mis bout à bout ne font jamais un grand film. Ici, on a multiplié les difficultés — ou les facilités — en faisant tourner chaque sketch par un metteur en scène différent. D'où, bien sûr, une absence totale d'unité et de ton.

Mais, avouons-le, les histoires qu'ils nous racontent avec un bonheur inégal ne sont pas mal choisies et, tout compte fait, ce mauvais film procure de bons moments.

Ce n'est pas son petit sketch sur la Tour Eiffel qui va faire remonter les actions de Claude Chabrol qui, ces temps derniers, ne dépassaient pas les cours de l'emprunt russe. Mais le charmant Jean-Pierre Cassel (charmant et assez inconsistant) s'y prend à merveille pour vendre la Tour Eiffel à ce sacré Francis Blanche, tellement cabot qu'il doit en aboyer la nuit.

Le sketch de M. Hiromichi Horikawa se déroule, comme on s'en doute, à Tokyo. L'histoire de cette serveuse de bar qui cherche à se faire offrir un collier de perles ne vaut pas tripette. Pourquoi être allé chercher au Japon une anecdote aussi vaseuse et un metteur en scène aussi médiocre ? Ce sont les petits mystères de cette autre magnifique escroquerie qu'est la coproduction.

Roman Polanski, lui, vient de Pologne. Mais pas les mains tout à fait vides. Sa petite voleuse d'Amst[illegible]m ne manque pas de charme.

C'est pourtant à l'Italien Ugo Gregoretti que revient le mérite de nous faire franchement rire. L'histoire de ce souteneur napolitain qui fait épouser ses protégées par les vieillards d'un hospice, afin qu'elles bénéficient du statut de la femme mariée, a la cocasserie d'une nouvelle de Félicien Marceau. On s'amuse ferme.

Cela dit, le film sur les escroqueries reste à faire. Il nous semblait que les producteurs en savaient un bout sur ce sujet-là...

Une semaine sauvée par le cinéma !

ALLONS ! Pour une fois, nous serons presque indulgents. La qualité des films programmés cette semaine dépassait singulièrement la moyenne des navets qui composaient jusqu'à présent notre ordinaire du mois d'août.

Mis à part l'interminable « Œil pour œil », le plus mauvais film de Cayatte, reconnaissons que le joyeux « Habit vert » n'était pas tellement mangé aux mites et que « Le salaire du péché », baignant dans l'atmosphère parpaillotte de la grande bourgeoisie de La Rochelle, se laissait voir sans ennui.

Grâce à Danielle Darrieux surtout ! Quelle classe, quelle sobriété, à côté de l'éreintisme de parentèle dispensé par Jeanne Moreau.

On attendait avec une [illegible] d'appréhension [illegible] « Visiteurs du soir », tourné par Carné sous l'occupation. Eh bien ! le film n'a pas eu de ride. Il tient le coup, le cinéma de papa !

Bien sûr, les images en conserve ce n'est pas de la télévision. Mais, que voulez-vous, on préfère encore le numéro de Jules Berry, le diable des « Visiteurs », aux singeries de Jacqueline Joubert. On rit, au moins.

MERCI, M. FENOUILLET ! Vous avez été l'éclat de rire inattendu de cette pompeuse retransmission des cérémonies du 15 août. Après les jolis mouvements de menton du suffisant Jean-Claude Servan-Schreiber trompettant l'héroïsme à plein micro, M. ELLE A BON DOS LA TABLE D'HUGO

MEFIEZ-VOUS des tables parlantes. Elles sont parfois bien indiscrètes. Pour s'en persuader il n'est que de lire ce curieux petit ouvrage paru chez Jean-Jacques Pauvert sous le titre « Ce que disent les tables parlantes » et qui nous en apprend de belles sur Victor Hugo.

Le prolifique auteur de « La Légende des Siècles » aurait, au moins une fois dans sa vie, utilisé les services d'un « nègre », n'importe lequel, s'il vous plaît, puisqu'il s'agit de Shakespeare lui-même.

Voilà toute l'histoire : pour tromper son ennui à Jersey, pendant son exil, Victor Hugo s'était mis à faire bavarder les tables. Il espérait ainsi entrer en communication avec les esprits les plus distingués et leur demander leurs impressions sur les grands problèmes agitant l'humanité. Le monde qui avait été converti au Bayard, aux « Templiers ».

Fantaisistes

Un épisode étrange et peu connu du sacre de Charles VII à Reims aurait, selon lui, leurré de signification.

— Parmi les bannières qui flottaient sur l'autel, nous dit-il, apparut soudainement déroulé le Baussant du Temple. Un certain Jehan de Foucauld le portait et, pour que cela fût plus explicite, il se tenait aux côtés de Jeanne.

Poursuivant le raisonnement, Bordonove ajoute :

— C'est en raison de ses relations avec les clandestins du Temple que la sainte fut prise par trahison, abandonnée par Charles VII et condamnée par l'évêque de Rouen. Ainsi la puche par tout un groupe de familiers, y compris son fils Charles, excellent médium.

Ne se refusant rien, il avait successivement convoqué à sa table — si l'on peut dire — Chénier, Molière, Eschyle et Jésus-Christ. La venue de Shakespeare lui donna une idée bien digne d'un professionnel de la plume : il décida d'utiliser les talents du cher confrère et de lui faire dicter un drame par le truchement des pieds de table.

Le résultat fut assez lamentable et le drame en question finit ses jours au fond d'un tiroir. Il avait pour sujet les turpitudes de Louis XV vieillissant sur lesquelles l'auteur du « Roi Lear » semblait anormalement bien renseigné.

Il se trouva bien des esprits chagrins pour prétendre que le style de l'illustre fantôme ressemblait à s'y méprendre à celui du cher Victor, et pas dans sa meilleure forme. Mais Hugo jura sur Belzébuth qu'il s'était borné à enregistrer.

celle que fonda, sous le premier Empire, un certain Bernard Fabré-Palaprat.

— Fabré-Palaprat, raconte Bordonove, se prétendait successeur légitime de Jacques de Molay et produisait, à l'appui de ses dires, une « généalogie » des Grands Maîtres où figuraient les noms illustres de Du Guesclin, Chabot, Duras, Condé, Conty, Cossé-Brissac. Avec, « in fine », le sien évidemment. Napoléon le soutint un moment, espérant sans doute que le mouvement prendrait ainsi de l'ampleur et pourrait être utilisé.

Trop cher

Un détail aurait dû lui mettre la puce à l'oreille. Les nouveaux Templiers semblaient assez peu soucieux de l'austérité qui était la règle principale de leurs anciens.

— Le Grand Maître organisait de fastueuses cérémonies où les chevaliers paraissaient dans les uniformes blancs des Templiers, mais enrichis de ceintures à franges, de baudriers incrustés d'or, coiffés de toques à aigrettes selon la mode du temps. Fabré-Palaprat portait modestement un globe surmonté de la vieille croix pattée. Il avait aimablement divisé la planète en province de rêve ; en lui faisant sa cour, on pouvait devenir : Frère Hyacinthe-Henry de Tartarie-Moscovite, ou de Corée ou de Zanzibar.

Jusqu'au jour où il apparut que ce n'était pas seulement en faisant sa cour au distingué Fabré-Palaprat que l'on pouvait se voir confier la principauté spirituelle de Tartarie-Moscovite. Il convenait de verser en même temps à l'Ordre — ou tout au moins à son Grand Maître — une cotisation rondelette. Ce versement était même devenu la seule règle de l'Ordre à laquelle un chevalier digne de ce nom ne pouvait se permettre de faillir.

L'intransigeance du Grand Maître sur ce point précis finit par lasser les Suprêmes Précepteurs, Grands Connétables et autres Comtes Palatins qui foisonnaient dans le nouvel Ordre.

visait Proust

MARCEL PROUST a manqué se retourner dans sa tombe. Sans la vigoureuse contre-offensive des admirateurs de l'écrivain, c'en était fait de la maison de son enfance, si amoureusement décrite dans « A la recherche du temps perdu ». Elle a failli être transformée en recette-perception.

C'est Pierre de Lagarde qui dévoile cette sombre affaire dans « Chefs-d'œuvre en péril » (Ed. Julliard), un livre courageux qui fait campagne pour la défense des monuments, villes et demeures du passé, livrés au pillage ou à la destruction.

Un habitant d'Illiers, en Eure-et-Loir, petite patrie de Marcel Proust, avait eu l'idée on ne peut plus estimable de transformer en musée sentimental la célèbre maison de tante Léonie, la bonne dame chez qui l'écrivain eut sa fameuse illumination littéraire en trempant une madeleine dans une tasse de thé. Il s'agissait simplement de remettre la maison en l'état exact décrit par Proust dans son œuvre, avec pains de sucre dans la cuisine, odeur de vernis dans l'escalier, portrait du peintre Eugène au mur, « terrible et beau dans son dolman », et, sur la table de nuit le roman « François le Champi » que Mme Proust lisait à Marcel lorsqu'il n'arrivait pas à s'endormir.

Mais le maire du village ne l'entendit pas de cette oreille. Vivement peu hanté par la recherche du temps perdu, il soupçonna rapidement le brave M. Larcher de vouloir saper son autorité et, peut-être, préparer les prochaines élections municipales. Aux solutions vigoureuses, il préféra ironiquement la destruction de la maison.

« Nécessité d'urbanisme ! » affirma-t-il simplement.

Précisons tout de suite qu'Illiers se compose essentiellement d'une série de maisons sagement rangées le long de la route venant de Chartres.

Affolé, le fidèle proustien entreprit d'alerter l'opinion pour éviter l'irréparable. Chose curieuse : son appel ne trouva guère d'écho en France mais souleva une véritable vague d'indignation aux Etats-Unis et... au Japon. Rancheros et samouraïs formèrent aussitôt des associations pour la défense de tante Léonie et, de toutes les tasses de thé de Kyoto et de Nagasaki, surgirent des pétitions aux idéogrammes menaçants.

— Fort bien, dit le maire entêté. On ne veut pas que je démolisse cette maison. Eh bien, je la réquisitionne !

— Pour quoi faire ? s'enquit M. Larcher.

— Pour y installer le percepteur !

Pas de chameau

Cette fois Paris s'alarma. Le fisc à l'ombre des jeunes filles en fleur, quelle aubaine pour nos chansonniers. De discrètes interventions rappelèrent le bouillant édile au sens de la mesure. Il dut s'incliner.

— Mais pour cette demeure sauvée, combien d'autres en péril, s'indigne Pierre de Lagarde. Les institutions les plus vénérables chargées de veiller sur notre patrimoine artistique sont souvent les premières à donner le mauvais exemple !

Ne cherchez pas. La flèche vise l'Institut de France, propriétaire de l'admirable site d'Ermenonville, où Rousseau venait philosopher, et qui fut cédé pour 25 ans, moyennant finances, à Jean Richard qui y a installé un parc d'attractions.

Nos habits verts étaient d'ailleurs présents le jour de l'inauguration, Marcel Achard en tête. Il tint à essayer lui-même le grand toboggan et on eut toutes les peines du monde à lui faire renoncer au chameau.

CLIC !

AVEC l'admirable zèle des novices, le romancier Jean Lartéguy vient de faire ses premières armes dans le reportage photographique.

Pourquoi prendre à son compte les clichés des autres ? Il a décidé d'illustrer lui-même son prochain livre « Le paravent japonais » qui paraîtra à la rentrée aux Editions Raoul Solar.

Bien résolu à ne pas faire les choses à moitié, il a pris quelques trois mille photos pour accompagner cette étude sur l'évolution du Japon moderne. C'est bien le diable s'il ne se trouve pas dans le tas quelques cadrages de derrière le Fousi-Yama !

LE RETOUR D'ELBE : La romancière « pied-noir » Marie Elbe s'apprête à donner une suite à son livre « Et à l'heure de notre mort », qui décrivait les derniers jours de la France en Algérie. Cette suite paraîtra en novembre aux Presses de la Cité sous un titre particulièrement évocateur : « Comme une torche dans la fête ».

ELLE FAIT SON TROU

NOUS l'avons notre nouveau Jules Verne : c'est Norbert Casteret. Le plus célèbre des spéléologues s'était jusqu'à présent contenté de signer le récit de ses voyages souterrains. Il est bien décidé maintenant à faire son trou dans la littérature pure.

Son prochain livre sera un vrai roman mais inspiré tout de même par les activités qui ont fait la gloire de Norbert. Titre : « Mission Centre-Terre ». Le manuscrit est en cours d'impression aux Presses de la Cité.

Le principal « héros » de l'histoire est une étrange machine sœur terrienne du bathyscaphe du professeur Picard, qui accomplit des « plongées » souterraines avec l'aisance d'une belette. Casteret l'a baptisé « Le Tatou ».

Pour l'instant, elle est entièrement sortie de son imagination. C'est dommage ! Imaginez un peu les services que le « Tatou » rendrait à nos ingénieurs de la R.A.T.P. aux prises avec le percement du métro de la Défense.

Sous ces couvertures

Richard Collier : « Le Vent du diable »

Il ne manque pas de souffle

CE n'est pas un roman mais cela y ressemble. C'est un livre d'histoire sérieux, complet et documenté mais un livre d'histoire auquel, grâce à un énorme travail, l'auteur a su donner le mouvement et la puissance d'évocation d'un excellent ouvrage romanesque. D'un de ces gros romans solides et animés dont certains anglo-saxons ont le secret.

Ce « Vent du diable », le lecteur en sent véritablement passer le souffle. C'est un vent qui vient de l'Est : de la célèbre révolte des Cipayes, les soldats indigènes des Indes britanniques.

Un jour terrible de mai 1857, le bruit se répandit parmi les Cipayes que les cartouches du nouveau fusil Enfield, qu'il fallait déchirer avec les dents, étaient enduites de graisse de vache, animal sacré qu'aucun hindou n'a le droit de consommer. Prophètes et agitateurs exploitèrent la rumeur et attisèrent les passions. Le « vent du diable » se leva et faillit balayer l'Inde, en chassant les Britanniques. Des régiments entiers se soulevèrent et se retournèrent contre leurs officiers blancs, tandis que la foule se répandait dans les villes en égorgeant et brûlant tout sur son passage. Il fallut près d'un an de combats et de massacres pour que le vent tombât et pour que l'immense péninsule fut à nouveau pacifiée.

Pour aider le lecteur à revivre ces jours de colère, Richar Collier a usé avec le plus grand succès d'un procédé particulièrement difficile : il a minutieusement reconstitué les faits et gestes de quelques personnages réels ayant traversé l'épreuve en consignant ça et là leurs souvenirs. C'est à travers ces personnages « reconstruits » et leurs aventures que nous vivons le soulèvement, l'historien n'intervenant que pour faire le point et donner les vues d'ensemble.

Le procédé n'est pas neuf, mais on peut dire qu'il a rarement été aussi complètement et parfaitement utilisé. Le résultat est digne en tous points de l'effort entrepris : ce n'est évidemment pas du Kipling ; mais c'est un utile complément, une précieuse annexe à son œuvre. (Presses de la Cité.)

ROMANS

VASCO PRATOLINI : « LE GAGRIS ». On serait tenté de dire que ce titre dangereux donne une idée un peu trop exacte du travail fourni par Vasco Pratolini. S'étant choisi un sujet vaste et riche — vingt années parmi les plus agitées de l'histoire d'Italie vues à travers une brassée de personnages dûment sélectionnés — il en a laborieusement tiré un millier de pages confuses, superflues et prodigieusement incolores. Parti avec l'ambition évidente d'écrire un grand livre, il n'a réussi qu'à produire un gros bouquin. (Albin Michel.)

Jany crie...

Par cet « élargissement possible » qu'entend-t-on à la F.F.N.? Tout simplement l'envoi à Tokyo des nageuses du 4 × 100 mètres et de compétitrices individuelles sur cette distance.

Voilà au moins qui calmerait un peu Alex Jany. Car notre géant du Club des Nageurs de Marseille ne décolère pas, et on le comprend.

— C'est bien la peine, rugit-il, de m'avoir confié l'équipe de France féminine pour que l'on n'envoie à Tokyo que deux nageuses de dos.

Jany a d'autant plus de raison de protester qu'il a fait accomplir de sérieux progrès à ses filles en leur faisant miroiter ce voyage à Tokyo :

— On n'écarte pas les gens comme cela parce qu'ils n'ont aucune chance de gagner une médaille ou d'aller en finale, se plaint-il amèrement.

Cela relève, hélas, d'une conception de sportif et non de l'idée de grandeur qui ne s'attache qu'aux seuls résultats flatteurs.

...Berlioux sourit

On se souvient en outre du drame provoqué cet hiver par la réception de notre équipe de France féminine à Suzanne Berlioux pour la confier à Alex Jany. Pourquoi tant de bruit, tant de querelles, si, finalement, on ne retient aucune des nageuses de Jany ?

Inutile de vous dire que Suzanne Berlioux, elle, a un sourire en coin qui en dit long. Non seulement elle ira à Tokyo avec Christine Caron, cette jeune fille de seize ans sur qui reposent tous nos espoirs de médaille d'or, mais, au lieu de partir le 29 septembre avec le reste de l'équipe de natation, elle quittera la France le 19, dix jours avant.

Mais Jany n'a pas dit son dernier mot et la Fédération [illegible]

Encore une fois la colère gronde chez les supporters de l'Olympique de Marseille. On n'en est pas encore à défiler dans les rues, mais une pétition circule qui a déjà recueilli cinq mille signatures. Elle demande le départ du docteur Luciani.

Ce médecin avait été choisi pour remplacer à la présidence de l'O.M. M. Zaraya qui avait laissé le onze phocéen très malade.

On attendait beaucoup de lui. Peut-être trop. Toujours est-il que ceux qui furent ses plus bouillants partisans le désignent comme le responsable de la mort qui menace leur club.

Le mot n'est pas trop fort quand on sait que Boucher, Bernard, Milazzo, Virene, Moulon et Dogliani n'ont pas renouvelé leurs contrats, que les transferts promis ne se feront pas, et que le club marseillais risque encore d'être privé de Peretti, Keller, Pavon et Leonetti.

Est-ce bien la faute du docteur Luciani ? Les supporters en révolte l'accusent de n'avoir pas su retenir ses joueurs, de se désintéresser de la vie du club, de n'accompagner que très rarement son équipe dans ses déplacements, etc. Ils l'accusent encore de les avoir bernés. Comment ?

Il y a d'abord eu l'affaire Dogliani. L'hiver dernier, celui-ci était au bataillon de Joinville. Le Stade Français demanda à l'Olympique de Marseille de bien vouloir lui prêter ce joueur jusqu'à la fin de la saison. Or, le docteur Luciani aurait fait échouer cette opération intéressante pour Dogliani et rentable pour l'O.M. en réclamant la somme exorbitante de cinq millions pour un simple prêt.

Le correspondant parisien d'un grand journal marseillais révéla les faits. Le docteur Luciani n'hésita pas à démentir. Tout était pourtant bien vrai, affirment les accusateurs du docteur Luciani.

Mais, selon eux, il y a plus grave encore : le mois dernier le [illegible] regretta un vigoureux démenti.

Il n'empêche que le surlendemain, Jean Robin était « remercié » sans avertissement préalable, et que Mario Zatelli débarquait à l'O.M.

C'est ce licenciement que le chef de file des supporters insurgés, M. Jean Hiéraud, reproche avant tout au président Luciani dans une lettre ouverte d'une rare violence, qui accompagne les pétitions.

— De tout cœur, conclut cette lettre, nous disons : « Au revoir Jean Robin et merci pour tout ce que tu as fait pour l'O.M. » De tout cœur aussi nous aimerions dire : « Adieu docteur Luciani. »

Marseille en est là. Oui, décidément, avec ou sans docteur, le football français est bien malade.

BAFOUÉE

INCROYABLE mais vrai ! C'est à Baastad que les Australiens viendront jouer la finale interzone de la Coupe Davis contre les Suédois.

En dépit du règlement qui veut que le match se dispute dans le pays détenteur du challenge. En l'occurrence, les Etats-Unis.

Il n'a pas fallu moins de 25 millions de francs anciens pour les décider, et il y a gros à parier qu'Emerson, Stolle, Newcombe et Roche vont trouver plus d'un avantage sous leur raquette en venant à la rencontre de Lundqvist et Schmidt.

Tant mieux pour eux. Mais jamais l'esprit de la Coupe Davis n'a été aussi ouvertement bafoué !

FILS A PAPA

C'EST évident : pour devenir entraîneur régional de basket-ball il faut avoir [illegible] une longue carrière de pratiquant, et une forte expérience. Ou alors un papa « bien placé ».

C'est le cas de Claude Brunel. Cet heureux jeune homme est le fils de Robert Brunel, entraîneur national en titre, qui doit avoir ses entrées au secrétariat d'Etat.

Sinon on ne voit pas comment expliquer la nomination de ce [illegible]

LES NAGEUSES METTENT LE COLONEL DANS UN DRÔLE DE BAIN !

BIEN innocent en apparence ce communiqué de la Fédération française de Natation annonçant l'élargissement possible de la sélection française pour Tokyo. Mais si quelqu'un ne s'y est pas trompé, c'est bien le colonel Crespin, l'adjoint d'Herzog, chargé de la préparation olympique.

JAZY SERAIT SOT DE NE PAS SAUTER

La valse-hésitation de Jazy continue. En Suède où il passe ses vacances à préparer les Jeux Olympiques, il a encore remis en question la distance sur laquelle il courra à Tokyo.

Disons tout, il a ses raisons. Depuis un an, il se sent barré par deux champions plus expérimentés que lui : l'Australien Ron Clarke, le Soviétique Poliakov et le Français Halbert. Et dans le 5.000, son sprint est moins efficace que celui de Peter Snell.

Devenu en cas de conscience fédérale, certaines personnes de son entourage voudraient bien lui proposer une troisième solution. Pourquoi n'essaierait-il pas le 3.000 mètres steeple ? Là, à coup sûr, il pourrait remporter

En effet, recordman du monde du 3.000 mètres plat, Jazy vaut bien 10 secondes de moins que le Belge Roelands, recordman du monde de la distance en 8'35"6 et favori de cette spécialité aux jeux Olympiques.

De plus, les 15 à 20 km de cross que s'impose quotidiennement Jazy ne sont-ils pas la meilleure préparation pour le steeple ?

Raphaël Pujazon devint champion d'Europe du 3.000 steeple en 1946 sans préparation spéciale. Un exemple encourageant. Oui mais...

Mais Jazy trouve que le 3.000 steeple n'est pas une épreuve vraiment « noble », comme le 1.500 ou le 5.000.

Espérons qu'une conception

C'est, en effet, lui qui avait inspiré, pour ne pas dire organisé, la sélection officielle annoncée une semaine auparavant (8 nageurs, 2 nageuses).

Or, ce n'est un mystère pour personne, les dirigeants de la F.F.N. ne nourrissent aucune tendresse pour le secrétariat d'Etat aux Sports. Ils sont même en constante rébellion contre lui.

Toutefois, un accord tacite avait été conclu : on avait enterré la hache de guerre jusqu'aux Jeux Olympiques afin de sauver les apparences et de ne pas troubler l'atmosphère.

Mais on n'est pas de bois et les patrons de la natation n'ont pu résister à l'envie de faire comprendre au colonel Crespin que ce n'était pas lui qui faisait la loi chez eux. Tout le Comité directeur de la Fédération s'est donc trouvé d'accord pour annoncer que le dernier mot de la sélection n'était pas dit.

lants du voisinage. La petite Rachel, elle, ne comprend que le russe.

Marina perfectionne ses connaissances d'anglais en regardant la télévision qui est sa distraction favorite. « C'est aussi bon marché qu'un Revue », aime-t-elle à faire remarquer.

June est une enfant extrêmement vive et très intelligente. Elle ressemble à son père.

— Mais pas de caractère, proteste Marina Oswald. June est une gosse heureuse, gaie, insouciante, toujours contente de son sort.

Quant à Rachel, c'est encore un bébé qui se promène tout nu dans la maison en murmurant des choses étranges.

"Souvent je me réveille..."

LES services secrets américains ne veillent plus sur Marina ni sur ses enfants. Pendant des mois, Mme Oswald fut pratiquement leur prisonnière. Personne n'a jamais su si on voulait la protéger ou plutôt l'isoler des journalistes.

Aujourd'hui, un agent des services spéciaux passe une fois par semaine pour voir si tout va bien et s'il n'y a pas eu de menaces contre la petite famille. On ne le dit pas à haute voix, mais on craint parfois que Marina ne soit enlevée par des émissaires communistes qui, l'avant sortie des États-Unis, l'obligeraient à faire des déclarations dangereuses : on pourrait ainsi lui faire dire qu'elle a subi des pressions pour parler, qu'Oswald n'est pas coupable, qu'il était avec elle au moment du crime, etc.

L'agent des services secrets se fait également remettre les lettres de menaces ou d'insultes que Marina reçoit chaque semaine. Il y en a généralement cinq ou six adressées simplement à « Marina Oswald, Dallas » — seule, la poste connaît l'adresse exacte. On fait alors une discrète enquête.

S'ils ne sont pas nombreux, ces avertissements épistolaires sont souvent

— Il en avait les cheveux. Lee ne voulait déjà plus que l'on prononce devant lui le nom de sa mère. Il m'avait même interdit de lui dire que Rachel était née. Ce n'est qu'au poste de police que Marguerite Oswald vit le bébé et apprit sa naissance.

"Je resterai à Dallas"

PAR un phénomène étrange et incompréhensible dans un autre pays que les États-Unis, Marina Oswald a reçu de toutes parts des dons importants :

— Les gens savent que je ne suis pas responsable des actes de Lee et donc on ne me tient pas rigueur de son crime, explique-t-elle.

Elle possède actuellement plus de 60 000 dollars (30 millions anciens) et si les contrats littéraires et cinématographiques qu'elle a signés voient le jour, elle aura encore beaucoup plus d'argent. Une des propositions les plus étranges vint du Kentucky :

— Je vous offre 50 000 dollars si vous me permettez d'exposer dans les foires le corps de Lee Harvey Oswald. Je double la somme si vous vous montrez à côté du cadavre.

Incroyable mais vrai !

Toutefois, Marina ne peut pas encore disposer d'une bonne partie des sommes qu'elle a reçues du public ou qui proviennent de la vente de certains documents. Tout cela, à cause d'une sombre histoire.

Quand, tout de suite après la mort de son mari, elle habita un « motel » de la périphérie, elle se lia d'amitié avec un certain Jim Martin qui devint son « conseiller » et fit engager l'avocat John Thorne. Certains affirment que Martin était un agent secret, mais cela n'a jamais pu être prouvé. En tout cas, il semble bien que les deux compères aient vendu certains documents sans le consentement de Marina, dont la célèbre photo d'Oswald portant l'arme du crime qu'ils avaient soustraite aux perquisitions des policiers.

Dès que Marina Oswald, qui se sen-je n'ai pas la conscience tranquille. Ici, j'ai des amis. Je sais bien que certains essaient de m'exploiter, que d'autres me témoignent de l'amitié uniquement par goût de l'insolite ou de l'extraordinaire. Mais il en sera toujours ainsi ; à quoi bon changer ? Ce qui importe, c'est l'avenir de mes enfants et leur éducation.

Songe-t-elle à retourner en Russie, à Minsk, chez son oncle ?

— Non, non. Mes enfants sont nés Américains, ils resteront Américains. Si « tout cela » était arrivé en U.R.S.S., on m'aurait fait disparaître, je n'aurais jamais pu revoir June et Rachel ; on les aurait envoyé dans une pension et détruit à jamais leur origine. Bien sûr, j'ai parfois la nostalgie de mon pays, surtout dans les moments de crise quand je me sens seule, perdue, abandonnée... Je ne peux oublier les platanes de Léningrad. Je pense aussi aux soirées où j'allais danser avec mes camarades d'usine... L'autre soir, à la télévision, Dany Kaye a chanté des airs populaires de mon enfance : j'ai pleuré.

Et elle me montre un tas de lettres venant de New York, de San Francisco, de Montréal, de Paris, d'Amsterdam, de Stockholm, de Tokyo. Toutes des demandes en mariage.

Et puis, brutalement, sans se rendre compte de l'incongruité de la question, elle me demande :

— Est-ce vrai ce que l'on dit de Jacqueline Kennedy, qu'elle songerait à se remarier ?

Je ne réponds pas ; il faut me donner. Depuis que Marina Prusakova Oswald s'est américanisée, rien ne la choque plus et elle ne trouve plus rien choquant.

— Mes amies de Russie m'écrivent parfois, me dit-elle quand je la quitte. Elles ne peuvent pas comprendre pourquoi les journaux continuent à publier mes photos, pourquoi les gens m'envoient de l'argent, pourquoi on veut m'interviewer. Elles refusent de croire que je suis bien traitée ici. Mes amies de Minsk ou de Léningrad me disent : « Si l'on ne t'as pas tuée, c'est que personne en Amérique ne croit que ton mari est réellement l'assassin du président Kennedy. » Et pourtant... l'assassin, qui tira ce soir-là sur Walker. Il me l'a dit. Il m'a révélé des détails que seul l'auteur de l'attentat pouvait connaître, j'en suis sûre.

" C'est mieux qu'en Russie "

IL y a une différence énorme entre la Marina qui sourit maintenant, décontractée, dans son petit jardin fleuri et la pauvre femme échevelée, hagarde, terrorisée, qui tenait dans ses bras un bébé au visage tout souillé dans le poste de police de Dallas, le soir de l'arrestation de son mari.

Elle est habillée avec simplicité, certes, mais aussi avec un certain luxe. Ses cheveux sont coiffés avec soin — elle doit aller souvent chez le coiffeur — elle se farde le visage et surtout les yeux mais ne met que très peu de rouge à lèvres. Quand elle sourit, les traits assez durs de son visage s'adoucissent soudain et elle paraît alors jolie. Elle doit le savoir, car elle sourit souvent, sans raison. C'est un truc qu'elle a appris en Amérique.

Elle adore se faire photographier et passe une partie importante de son temps à classer ses photos et celles de ses enfants dans un album fleuri, son premier achat important. Le soir, entre deux programmes de télévision, elle tourne lentement les pages de cet album et commente les photos à June, la plus grande de ses deux filles.

Marina s'entretient toujours en russe avec ses enfants, bien que June sache l'anglais. Elle l'a appris avec les enfants du voisinage. La petite Rachel, elle, ne comprend que le russe.

Marina perfectionne ses connaissances d'anglais en regardant la télévision très volontiers. « Après lui, ce sera ton tour... », « Nous savons que vous êtes un agent du Kremlin et que vous avez hypnotisé votre mari... », peut-on lire sur ces missives presque toujours anonymes. Ici, c'est un correspondant qui envoie trente dollars avec ce mot : « Le salaire pour la veuve de Judas » ; là, c'est un adversaire de Kennedy qui joint à son chèque ce billet : « Bravo pour le travail bien exécuté ! »

Marina renvoie toujours l'argent, mais, au début, elle était tellement dégoûtée, qu'oubliant les services secrets, elle déchirait toutes les lettres.

Il a fallu qu'elle s'habituât aux insultes, aux calomnies et aux provocations. Sa propre belle-mère, Marguerite Oswald, n'a-t-elle pas prétendu que Marina, qui est infirmière de profession, avait « injecté des drogues mystérieuses à son fils Lee pendant qu'il dormait. Ainsi Oswald n'était-il plus lui-même et se comportait-il comme un somnambule qui faisait tout ce qu'on lui demandait. Un jour, on lui dit d'aller assassiner Kennedy... »

— Naturellement, avoue Marina, j'ai honte de ce que mon mari a fait. Comment en serait-il autrement ? Souvent, la nuit, je me réveille, je repense à tout cela et le remords ne me quitte plus.

Les enfants, eux, ignorent tout de leur père. Elle attendra longtemps, très longtemps, avant de leur révéler la vérité.

— Mais, proclame-t-elle avec force, ils iront à l'école, ici à Dallas, sous leur vrai nom, June Oswald, Rachel Oswald.

Il y a quelques jours, elle a mis des roses rouges toutes fraîches sur la tombe de son mari ; elle a aussi repiqué des arbustes et des plantes vertes. Mais une main inconnue a déraciné les jeunes arbres, détruit les plantes et éparpillé les roses. Pour Marina, il n'y a pas de doute :

— C'est ma belle-mère qui a fait cela. Elle n'a que de la haine pour moi.

Depuis l'enterrement de Lee Oswald, Marina n'a jamais voulu revoir la mère de son mari.

— Un an avant les événements, Lee ne voulait déjà plus que l'on prononce devant lui le nom de sa mère. Il m'avait même interdit de lui dire que Rachel était née. Ce n'est qu'au poste tait séquestrée, put se mettre en rapport avec des amis et en particulier avec son beau-frère Robert, elle se sépara de ses conseillers. Ceux-ci, furieux, lui ont fait un procès et refusent de rendre les sommes reçues en son nom.

Elle se serait retrouvée dans le dénuement sans l'intervention du « Conseil des Eglises de Fort Worth » qui organisa une collecte et mit 7 000 dollars (3 500 000 anciens francs) à sa disposition.

Jamais Marina n'eut à se plaindre de ses voisins : ils sont tous charmants et ne voient aucun inconvénient à ce que leurs enfants jouent avec les petits Oswald. Quand Marina se rend au « supermarket », on la regarde avec sympathie et on lui sourit. Souvent, des femmes l'accompagnent jusque chez elle. Elle fréquente à nouveau ses anciennes amies et rend de nombreuses visites à son beau-frère Robert qui habite dans une localité voisine, Denton.

Marina ne songe nullement à déménager, à aller vivre ailleurs, à changer de nom ou à se cacher :

— Les gens me reconnaîtraient, dit-elle, la presse me donnerait la chasse. Ce serait comme si je reconnaissais que commission Warren, Marie L. Gun est ce grand journaliste à qui l'on doit la seule enquête sérieuse sur l'assassinat de Kennedy, enquête que MINUTE a publiée en exclusivité et qui a paru en France sous le titre « Les Roses Rouges de Dallas ». C'est aussi cet enquêteur politique réputé qui, récemment, a répondu à la question : « Goldwater peut-il être président des Etats-Unis ? » MINUTE est heureux de vous présenter aujourd'hui la première grande interview de Marina Oswald.

Marina a placé quelques tapis bariolés sur le sol et des gravures au mur : rien de très original. Il y a un fauteuil, des chaises, mais elle préfère s'asseoir par terre. C'est la première fois qu'elle reçoit tranquillement un journaliste et un photographe chez elle, qu'elle consent à poser, qu'elle accepte de parler librement, qu'elle fait des confidences.

Son anglais a fait des progrès considérables depuis cette sinistre soirée où je la vis dans l'antichambre du poste de police de Dallas : à l'époque, elle ne savait prononcer que quelques mots d'argot américain et tentait vainement de s'expliquer en russe.

— C'est la dernière chose au monde que je voudrais dire. Mais je suis convaincue de la culpabilité de Lee. Mon mari a tué parce qu'il voulait devenir un « big shot », un personnage célèbre, quelqu'un...

C'est la thèse de Marina. Ce sera la thèse de la Commission Warren, dont le rapport paraîtra le mois prochain. Marina Oswald a été le témoin le plus important et le plus assidu de cette Commission. Elle a réussi à convaincre les enquêteurs : son mari a eu voix devient passionnée ; elle est prête à jurer.

— Déjà, en avril 1963, Lee voulait tuer le vice-président Richard Nixon (qui, de vice-président, n'avait alors que le titre ; il avait, en effet, été battu aux élections pour le poste de gouverneur de la Californie). J'avais essayé de l'en dissuader. Nous nous sommes disputés, il m'a battue. Pendant toute une semaine, j'ai eu un œil « au beurre noir ».

— J'ai déjà raconté, poursuit Marina, comment un jour il avait tiré de loin sur le général Walker.

Edwin Walker est cet ex-commandant de la garnison américaine de Berlin qui fut impliqué dans les désordres d'Oxford au Mississipi. Il est considéré comme un homme d'extrême-droite farouche adversaire du gouvernement, à tel point que lorsqu'une personnalité officielle de Washington arrive à Dallas, il hisse le drapeau étoilé à l'envers. Un jour, en effet, un inconnu tira une balle de fusil sur le général, le manquant de peu. Walker était assis près de la fenêtre de sa bibliothèque et rédigeait sa feuille d'impôts...

Marina se répète, comme pour mieux convaincre :

— C'est l'autre Oswald, Oswald

La femme de l'assassin de Kennedy s'explique enfin à cœur ouvert

MON MARI A TUÉ POUR QU'ON PARLE DE LUI

DANS quelques jours la Commission Warren, chargée en dernier ressort de faire toute la lumière sur la mort du président Kennedy, va publier son rapport. D'après quelques premières indiscrétions, ce rapport conclurait à la seule culpabilité de Lee Harvey Oswald. Aussi MINUTE a-t-il demandé à Nerin E. Gun de rencontrer Marina Oswald pour savoir ce qu'elle pensait — J'AVAIS deux maris : Lee d'abord, le père de mes enfants, un homme si affectueux et si gentil ; puis l'autre, Harvey Oswald, l'assassin du président Kennedy. J'ai une immense pitié pour Lee, mon époux. Mais je n'éprouve rien à l'égard d'Oswald, l'assassin. Cet Oswald-là était un fou.

par Nerin E. GUN

Ainsi parle Marina Prusakova Oswald. Elle me reçoit avec mon photographe dans sa nouvelle maison cachée sous les arbres et située dans un quartier extrêmement calme de la banlieue de Dallas. La localité s'appelle Richardson : elle est presque entièrement résidentielle ».

La maison de briques peintes n'est pas encore tout à fait meublée. Elle comporte deux chambres à coucher, une cuisine très moderne, une salle de bain et un grand living-room. C'est la demeure permanente de Marina Oswald. Car son avenir semble maintenant assuré, alors que Jacqueline Kennedy continue à errer, désemparée, de Washington au Cap Cod et de Boston à New York.

Nous abordons le passé : elle élimine d'emblée la thèse du complot :

— Non, non, proteste-t-elle en secouant plusieurs fois la tête comme pour ajouter à la parole la force du geste ; pas Cuba, pas Russie, seulement Lee. Lee tout seul !

Elle dit cela aujourd'hui avec d'autant plus de force qu'elle a interrogé pendant des mois ses souvenirs, relu un geste de fou ; il voulait prouver à sa femme, au monde, à lui-même que Lee Harvey Oswald n'était pas un raté.

— Lee ne connaissait pas Ruby, ajoute-t-elle comme si elle poursuivait sa démonstration. Je ne les ai jamais vus ensemble ; il ne m'a jamais parlé de cet homme !

Maintenant, Marina s'échauffe ; la voix devient passionnée ; elle est prête

MALGRÉ TOUS CES HONNEURS LA FEMME N'A PAS SUCCOMBÉ

HUIT bridgeurs sur dix trichent (et chez les bridgeuses, la proportion est certainement encore plus forte). Mais n'allez pas le leur dire : vous risqueriez de recevoir une paire de gifles, un verre dans la figure, une invitation à venir poursuivre l'explication dans la rue ou, avec ceux qui ont le sens de la tradition, un rendez-vous à l'aube dans la forêt la plus proche.

Car nos huit bridgeurs sont des messieurs Jourdain de la tricherie. Ils font cela sans le savoir. Pour la bonne raison qu'ils ignorent ce qu'est la « tenue de table », ce code du savoir-vivre au bridge. Vous pouvez — même si cela n'est pas recommandé — mettre vos doigts dans votre nez, ne pas vous lever quand une femme vient jouer avec vous et avoir, cependant, une excellente « tenue de table ». En revanche, vous pourrez accueillir vos adversaires comme un prince des Mille et une Nuits, leur offrir champagne ou whisky à leur choix, faire preuve de la galanterie la plus raffinée et, malgré tout, avoir une déplorable tenue de table.

Assis dix minutes auprès de quatre bridgeurs de partie libre, vous aurez autant d'occasions de relever des infractions au code de la tenue de table qu'un contractuel parisien de mettre des papillons bleus par un après-midi d'octobre dans un quartier du centre.

Au moment des annonces, ce sera, par exemple, un point d'interrogation à la fin d'une enchère : ainsi la séquence : 1 ♠, 2 ♠, 3 ♠ ? n'aura pas du tout la même signification que la séquence : 1 ♠, 2 ♠, 3 ♠. D'ailleurs, d'un partenaire scrupuleux pas compte de ces nuances, notre tricheur sans le savoir dira sévèrement : « Il joue battu ».

Tout cela, bien sur, est strictement interdit, mais difficilement reprehensible. Il n'en est pas de même du « true » que je vais vous donner pour trouver une dame d'atout en partie libre. Là, vous mettrez franchement les pieds dans l'illegalite. Mais cela peut toujours servir, ne serait-ce que pour donner une leçon (vous expliquez, après, pourquoi vous l'avez donnee) à ces joueurs passionnes qui abusent de ficelles.

Si le deroulement du coup suivant est authentique, c'est qu'il y avait au moins deux « requins » à la table, plus un joueur de grand sang-froid !

Nord ouvre de 3 ♠ ; Est aimerait bien contrer, mais son partenaire risque de prendre cela pour un appel ; froidement, il annonce : 3 ♣. Sud bondit : « Votre enchère est insuffisante ; si vous ne la remplacez pas par une annonce au palier de 4, votre partenaire est tenu de passer jusqu'à la fin des enchères ». Est, qui n'attendait que cela, dit alors, comme à regret : « Je contre ».

Mais Sud ne laisse pas ce contre et joue 7 ♦. Il est vital de trouver la dame d'atout. Malgré ce problème, Sud annonce alors avec aplomb : « Cent d'honneurs ». Le Roi de ♦ étant au mort, le possesseur de la dame devrait avoir une réaction. Mais Ouest connait sans doute la musique et, sans un mot, il inscrit les 100 d'honneurs reclamés. Pour que cette histoire soit morale, il y a donc une de chute.

Mais bien rares sont les bridgeurs qui, dans la même situation, sauront ne pas « tiquer ».

Robert Lacoste et de Maurice Lemaire) entre les filiales étatiques du gouvernement français, le Gouvernement Général de l'Algérie (dont l'Etat de Ben Bella est aujourd'hui le successeur) et quelques miettes cédées au prix fort à Cofirep, Finarep, etc.

Nouveau miracle

Boursièrement, ces miettes étaient, depuis 1962, comptées pour zéro par nos sociétés en REP. Mais voici tout à coup qu'elles se revalorisent grâce aux revendications de l'Etat algérien. Que se passerait-il, se demandent en effet nos spéculateurs, si d'aventure et pour « consolider » les accords d'Evian, l'Etat français rachetait aux REP leurs participations dans la S.N. REPAL pour les « céder » ensuite à l'Etat algérien ? Une grosse rentrée de fonds pour les REP et pas un sou à débourser pour Ben Bella.

Chimère ? Peut-être. Mais du côté de la rue d'Antin (voir Banque de Paris), on ne tient pas ce rêve pour irréalisable. Le gouvernement ne va-t-il pas se sentir obligé de faire quelque chose pour les « petits porteurs » si maltraités au moment où Giscard parle d'une plus grande « diffusion » de l'épargne ?

Pour les gros du pétrole, en tout cas, ce serait la répétition, en plus petit, du miracle saharien. En 1957, ce miracle avait eu lieu autour des puits d'Hassi-Messaoud et d'Edjelé et de la guerre que l'on entamait pour les conserver. En 1964, le nouveau miracle pourrait bien consister à s'en débarrasser contre des compensations pour les « petits porteurs ».

Voyez d'ailleurs comme la Française des Pétroles (qui détient 50 % du gisement d'Hassi-Messaoud en association avec la S.N. REPAL) est pleine d'optimisme. Elle va commencer, début septembre, une augmentation de capital d'une action nouvelle pour trois anciennes au prix de 80 F, soit un appel de 260 millions actuels d'argent frais.

Pourquoi tout cet argent ? Ce n'est pas que la trésorerie de la Française soit gênée aux entournures. Mais elle va, avec l'ancien fermier Caltex, 7 % du marché français. Notre Mattei voudrait créer une marque unique sous le nom d'ELAN, mais là, il aura fort à faire avec son associé : les Rockefeller de la Californian ... de la Texas Oil qui n'entendent pas laisser tomber leur marque Caltex, connue dans le monde entier, même si en France elle se limite à un petit réseau de la région bordelaise.

Tout ce grenouillage a remis du baume au cœur de la spéculation. Certes, ce n'est plus le temps de Parentis (1954) ou d'Hassi-Messaoud (1957). Mais il faut bien rêver à d'autres choses qu'au plan de stabilisation. D'où ce nouveau snobisme boursier qui consiste à jouer encore une fois les pétroles. Encore un instant, M. le Bourreau !

TOUT VA TRÈS BIEN

NOUS sommes en pleine expansion, a dit le Guide. Hum ! Hum ! Voyez plutôt du côté du chiffre d'affaires des grands magasins. Et comparez les résultats du premier semestre de cette année avec ceux de la période correspondante de 1963.

Certes, ils ne sont pas en récession, mais la belle expansion en prend un sérieux coup. D'autant qu'il faut tenir compte de trois éléments qui devraient entraîner une hausse de ces chiffres : l'augmentation du coût de la vie, la poussée démographique et le développement du nombre des points de vente.

On pourrait même y ajouter le génie bien connu de ces organismes pour faire intervenir tel ou tel facteur selon les besoins de la cause...

Eh bien, malgré tout cela, les résultats sont loin d'être brillants. L'accroissement du chiffre d'affaires des Galeries Lafayette n'a été que de 3,7 % au lieu de 7,5 % l'an dernier à pareille époque, celui du Printemps de 7,4 % au lieu de 11,5 %, celui du B.H.V. de 6,4 % contre 16,1 %. Les Nouvelles Galeries sont passées de 26,3 % à 17,9 % et Prénatal de 35,5 % à 20 %. Bref, tout BRAVE Giscard ! Ah voilà un qui sait trouver les mots qu'il faut pour mettre du baume dans le cœur ... boursiers échaudés. Lors de ses dernières « confidences », n'a-t-il pas déclaré que le marché devait devenir « un instrument équilibré et ample de financement des équipements de l'économie » !

Il y a sûrement des oreilles qui ont dû tinter et des souvenirs qui sont remontés dans les mémoires. Car Dieu sait s'il y en a eu des placements correspondant exactement à la définition d' « instrument de financement des équipements de l'économie nationale » et qui se sont avérés pour le moins... décevants.

Il suffit pour s'en rendre compte d'examiner un compartiment peu exploré de la Cote officielle, celui des Obligations. On y fait des découvertes extrêmement édifiantes.

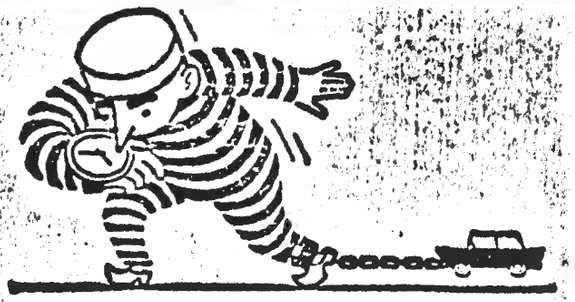
Regardez, par exemple, les obligations du Crédit Foncier de ... fluide et de moins spéculatif ? Eh bien, parmi elles figurent une obligation 3 % 1883 de 5.000 F (de l'époque) qui cote environ 38.50 de nos francs, et un titre de 500 F de l'emprunt 3 1/2 % 1913 qui cote 4,80 F.

On peut sans appartenir à l'I.N.S.E.E. considérer que 5.000 F de 1883 et 500 F de 1913 représentent respectivement 250 et 25 louis. Or, sur la base des cours actuels de la pièce d'or française, on devrait arriver à des valeurs de 10.500 F et 1.050 F...

La dépréciation est donc considérable et pour le moins comparable à celle des Bull et autres R.E.P. Cela est d'autant plus choquant qu'il s'agit de titres traditionnellement placés dans les couches les plus modestes de l'épargne.

Que dire également de cet emprunt « Ville de Paris 4 1/2 % 1929 » de 1.000 F qui cote 9,50 F et du 4 % 1930 de 5.000 F qui en vaut aujourd'hui 46 ?

Et la liste pourrait être longue, M. Giscard d'Estaing !



Ne soyez pas "prisonnier de la moyenne"

N'est-il pas ridicule en effet de courir et de faire courir mille risques... pour ne gagner que quelques minutes ? Détendez-vous et souriez, la route sera plus sûre.

LE PETROLE FAIT FLAMBER LA BOURSE, MAIS GARE AU BOURREAU!

INTERMINABLES, ces conversations franco-algériennes sur le pétrole saharien. Cela a commencé à la fin du printemps et cela est en passe de durer jusqu'à l'automne. Ni Sidi Broglie, représenté par le subtil Olivier Wormser, ni Boumaza, qui a délégué à Paris son Houhou de service, ne paraissent pressés de conclure ou de rompre. Cette négociation de marchands de tapis paraît, en tout cas, assez étonnante pour intéresser en Bourse une certaine spéculation. Laquelle a été sevrée depuis trop longtemps de coups gagnants et sans danger.

Le fait est que, politiquement, les deux parties paraissent s'entendre comme larrons en foire pour faire tout le tour de la bête avant de passer au « tope là ! ».

Nos Algériens parlaient cette semaine de la question du gaz saharien. Nos Français se déclarent prêts à en acheter pour le transporter vers l'Europe par des gazoducs sous-marins. Nos Algériens voudraient « revoir » le problème des redevances versées par les compagnies. Nos Français ne disent pas non et proposent pour l'avenir une « association coopérative » dans le secteur des recherches.

Une association où la France, bien entendu, fournirait les capitaux et où le gouvernement Ben Bella ne paierait sa quote-part qu'en cas de découvertes positives. Pour les Français, il s'agirait de créer de nouvelles « REP » où les Algériens auraient, au départ, une participation gratuite.

La Bourse a bien compris le cinéma. Le scénario en serait copié sur celui de la S.N. REPAL, filiale directe, la Compagnie Française de Raffinage, s'apprête, elle aussi, à augmenter son capital. Et qu'elle a besoin d'argent pour renforcer sa position devant la concurrence internationale.

Elle exploite déjà le réseau de distribution TOTAL. Mais elle entend mettre la main sur le réseau AZUR de Desmarais Frères, dont elle détient depuis peu de jours quelque 30 %. La C.F.R. a aussi des vues sur les Docks des Alcools. Avec cela, elle contrôlerait le quart du marché français d'essence et d'hydrocarbures.

Du baume...

Du coup, la C.F.R. n'aurait plus qu'un seul concurrent « national » : le trust étatique de l'Union Générale des Pétroles, dirigé par le Mattei français : [illegible] Ce trust con-

RÉGIME SANS SHELL

APPELEZ-VOUS : nous

...es tomber vivant...

Le dernier carré des « Marie-Louise » du Führer : pour endiguer la marée russe.

C'est ainsi, les chefs militaires, plus l'indispensable Bormann, se réunirent au Bunker pour la conférence décisive. Le général Koller, chef d'état-major de la Luftwaffe, se montrant incapable de supporter cette formalité, y délégua son adjoint, le général Christian, naturellement très bien vu d'Hitler parce qu'il avait épousé une des secrétaires de celui-ci : Gerda Daranowski.

Christian descendit de sa voiture devant le perron, s'engouffra sous les hautes colonnes de l'entrée pour pénétrer dans le vestibule de la Chancellerie, fut arrêté par un sous-lieutenant de S.S. qui paraissait avoir la fièvre, suivit un long couloir tapissé, descendit un premier escalier jusqu'à une porte, bardée d'acier, où deux S.S., armés de mitraillettes, un chapelet de grenades à la ceinture, montaient la garde. Ils le laissèrent passer. Christian descendit dans un couloir plus étroit, couvert de 30 centimètres d'eau, où l'on avançait sur des planches, descendit d'autres marches, faiblement éclairées par des ampoules nues, arriva dans la cuisine, traversa les deux dortoirs où des soldats mangeaient des sandwiches en buvant du schnaps, rencontra un autre escalier et parvint enfin au « niveau du Führer », sous un plafond renforcé, épais de trois mètres, lui-même surmonté de neuf mètres de béton armé. Il attendit impatiemment, dans le ronronnement des ventilateurs, que deux gardes eussent fini de le fouiller et d'examiner l'intérieur de son porte-documents.

Dans la pièce des conférences, seul manquait l'amiral Dœnitz, parti pour son Q.G. de Plön, au Schleswig-Holstein ; un aide de camp se tenait dans le vestibule, [illegible] téléphone en militaires l'abandonnaient : la corruption régnait partout. Très bien, puisqu'il en était ainsi, il resterait à Berlin. Ceux qui le désiraient pouvaient partir vers le sud ; mais, lui, dirigerait personnellement la défense de la capitale et, s'il le fallait, s'ensevelirait sous ses ruines.

Quand il eut fini, les personnes présentes essayèrent de le dissuader. Assurément, la situation n'était pas brillante à Berlin, mais de l'espoir subsistait ailleurs. Les Groupes d'Armées Schœrner et Kesselring, demeurés intacts, se battaient toujours, le premier dans le sud de l'Allemagne et en Tchécoslovaquie, le second en Italie. Le Führer devait gagner l'Obersalzberg pour diriger leurs opérations. L'amiral Voss, représentant de Dœnitz, téléphona à celui-ci, qui promit d'envoyer des marins pour aider à défendre Berlin. L'Obergruppenführer de S.S. (général de division) Hermann Fegelein, ancien jockey, appela également son chef Himmler, der treue Heinrich (le fidèle Henri) qui, lui aussi, promit l'envoi de troupes de S.S. dans sa même intention. L'ambassadeur Walter Hewel, délégué des Affaires étrangères, apporta un message de Ribbentrop disant qu'il existait d'excellentes chances de conclure la paix avec les Alliés occidentaux, à condition que Berlin tînt encore un peu.

Hitler demeura inébranlable. Il mander les troupes qui résistaient toujours au sud.

— Vous ne pouvez rien diriger d'ici, observa le second.

— Goering pourra exercer le commandement.

Les généraux protestèrent, assurant qu'aucun soldat allemand n'accepterait de combattre sous les ordres du [illegible].

— Combattre ? fit Hitler. Il n'y a plus guère à combattre ! S'il s'agit de négocier, Goering le fera beaucoup mieux que moi.

D'un geste de la main, il arrêta toute discussion. Il désirait, dit-il, examiner la façon de défendre Berlin, notamment les moyens de dégager la ville. La 12e Armée, commandée par le général Wenck était établie sur l'Elbe, à 80 kilomètres de la capitale. Elle recevrait l'ordre de marcher vers l'est pour faire lever le siège de Berlin. Keitel offrit de porter personnellement cet ordre à Wenck. Hitler accepta, mais insista pour que Keitel mangeât avant de partir. Il surveilla lui-même la confection d'un casse-croûte : sandwiches, caviar, vin, cognac et chocolat. Jodl, qui rejoignait le Q.G. de l'O.K.W., à Krampnitz, partit avec Keitel, peu après 20 heures.

Les Américains occupaient la rive gauche de l'Elbe, face à la 12e Armée, mais semblaient ne pas vouloir attaquer. Wenck disposait du 41e Corps blindé, au nord et à l'ouest de Berlin, et du 20e Corps, à l'ouest et au sud-ouest de la capitale. Ces deux — Vous n'avez pas le droit, lui dit-il, de conserver ce bataillon, alors que le Führer a décidé de rester à la Chancellerie. Moi, je vais à Berlin. Et vous en avez aussi l'obligation.

Himmler n'avait nullement l'intention d'imiter le suicide de son chef. Bien au contraire ; il comptait accroître ses pouvoirs, pour entamer des négociations sérieuses avec le comte Bernadotte. Il avait envoyé Schellenberg à cet effet, dans l'après-midi, pour l'informer de cette résolution ; il ne pouvait être question de renoncer à devenir l'intermédiaire d'une paix entre l'Allemagne et l'Occident. Pourtant, il ne pouvait renier purement et simplement sa fidélité au Führer. Comment en assurer celui-ci sans se rendre à Berlin ?

Il téléphona au bunker pour essayer, vainement, d'inciter Hitler à quitter la capitale. Il parla aussi à Fegelein, qui le pressa de venir. Le Himmler de 1945 adopta un compromis : il se rendrait à Nauen, à mi-chemin de Berlin, pour discuter la question avec Fegelein, et il partit presque aussitôt, suivi par le Dr Karl Gebhardt, qui, proposé par Himmler comme directeur de la Croix-Rouge, désirait obtenir l'approbation d'Hitler à cette désignation.

Himmler attendit près de deux heures à Nauen sans voir paraî-britanniques et américains [illegible] tenus, plus l'ancien Chancelier autrichien Kurt von Schussnigg. On les avait transférés en Bavière, et Berger devait assurer leur garde à partir du lendemain. Berger mentionna qu'une certaine agitation séparatiste se manifestait en Bavière et en Autriche. Hitler bondit de nouveau :

— Qu'on les fusille tous !

Berger s'enfuit, ne sachant pas très bien si le Führer voulait parler des prisonniers ou des séparatistes.

A Hohenlychen, Heinrich Himmler attendait avec anxiété le retour de Walter Schellenberg, après la rencontre de celui-ci avec le comte Bernadotte. A son refus de rejoindre Hitler à Berlin, les dés étaient jetés. Il n'y avait plus de temps à perdre. Il fallait négocier au plus vite, sous peine d'être devancé par quelqu'un d'autre, Goering, par exemple.

Tandis que der treue Heinrich pensait à tirer tous les avantages possibles de sa défection, ses S.S. réglaient sommairement le sort des prisonniers condamnés à mort après l'attentat avorté du 20 juillet 1944. Himmler avait différé leur exécution, pour des raisons connues de lui seul, probablement dans l'espoir qu'ils lui seraient utiles s'il parvenait à monter sur le trône nazi. Mais, avec ou sans son accord, dix-huit furent « liquidés », dans [illegible] du 22 au 23 avril.

Dans Berlin obscurci, on conduisit de la prison de [illegible] Lehrterstrasse à l'entre de la G[illegible] tapo, dans la Prinz-Albrechtstrasse, et une compagnie de S.S. les intercepta en cours de trajet. Ayant renvoyé l'escorte, les S.S. les alignèrent contre un mur et les fauchèrent à la mitrailleuse. Fait incroyable : deux de ces malheureux parvinrent à s'échapper sous le couvert des ténèbres.

à l'est et au nord-est de la capitale ; mais l'avance soviétique les rejeta dans les faubourgs, où il furent accueillis avec joie par une garnison qui avait bien besoin de soldats entraînés. C'était un lot fort bigarré : des Belges, des Hollandais, des Danois et Suédois formaient la Division Niederland S.S. et la 11e Division Nordland de Panzer grenadiers ; des Estoniens et des Lettons composaient la 15e Division S.S. Latvia ; des Français, des Espagnols et des Suisses constituaient la Division S.S. Charlemagne ; quant à la Division du 30 janvier, elle groupait les élèves de diverses écoles de S.S. et tout un échantillonnage d'étrangers.

Envoyés aux issues sud-est de la ville, les survivants de ce corps de volontaires se battirent avec vaillance à Karlshorts, Strausberg et Adlershof, mais furent contraints, le 22 avril, de se replier sur Neukölln, à moins de dix kilomètres de la Chancellerie du Reich. Ils y rejoignirent des S.S., en position autour de divers « points fortifiés ».

Pour ne

tant que directeur des opérations de l'O.K.W. (Oberkommando der Wehrmacht) ; le second, chef d'état-major général, précisant des détails. Ils parlèrent avec prudence, laissant entendre que les choses allaient mal, mais que tout n'était pas encore perdu.

— Epargnez-moi ces détails, dit soudain Hitler, interrompant le monologue de Krebs. Je n'ai que faire de ces banalités. Je veux savoir où se trouve Steiner.

Il y eut un long silence, puis Keitel et Jodl « lâchèrent le morceau » : on ignorait tout de Steiner. Il n'avait adressé aucune demande de concours à la Luftwaffe. L'attaque n'était pas encore déclenchée.

Hitler, une fois de plus, perdit le contrôle de ses nerfs. Il cria d'abord, puis hurla. On l'avait trahi. On lui mentait ; ses chefs situaient les citadelles inexpugnables du Reich : le monde entier l'apprendrait. Des têtes approuvèrent lourdement et la séance se termina.

Hitler réclama ses papiers, en mit de côté une partie et donna le reste à un aide de camp, pour qu'il les brûlât dans le jardin. Il avait également convoqué Goebbels et sa femme. A leur arrivée, il leur communiqua sa décision et leur demanda de venir s'installer dans l'abri avec leurs six enfants. Goebbels renouvela ses assurances de fidélité, déclarant qu'il se suiciderait en cas de défaite. Sa femme dit qu'elle se tuerait également et empoisonnerait ses enfants. Hitler essaya de l'en dissuader, inutilement. Dans un monde privé du Führer, la vie ne vaudrait plus d'être vécue, affirma-t-elle.

Hitler appela ensuite Keitel et Bormann, leur répéta sa résolution de ne jamais quitter Berlin et ordonna au premier, malgré ses protestations, de partir le lendemain pour Berchtesgaden. Renvoyant Bormann, il fit venir Jodl et déclara, devant les deux généraux, qu'il se suiciderait si Berlin succombait, pour ne pas tomber vivant aux mains des Russes. Keitel et Jodl insistèrent pour qu'il quittât la capitale, afin de commander symbolique, pour mieux tenir à l'Est, un front qui empêcherait les Russes d'avancer.

"Tout le monde m'a trompé"...

L'ANNONCE que le Führer avait décidé de rester à Berlin, troubla profondément Heinrich Himmler. L'accusation d'avoir été abandonné par les soldats, formulée par Hitler, lui inspira un sentiment de culpabilité, et il envisagea de rejoindre celui-ci à Berlin pour y mourir avec lui.

— Tout le monde est devenu fou à Berlin, dit-il à Gottlob Berger, directeur des camps de concentration. Le Führer dit que même les S.S. le désertent. J'ai avec moi mon bataillon d'escorte — 600 hommes, pour la plupart blessés ou convalescents. Que dois-je faire ?

Le devoir, répondit Berger, lui commandait de retourner sans délai à Berlin avec ce bataillon.

tre Fegelein. Il discuta alors avec Gebhardt, déclarant qu'il ne se rendrait pas à Berlin avant d'avoir été renseigné par un officier de liaison. Gebhardt proposa d'aller porter à Hitler un message éventuel. Himmler le chargea de dire qu'il enverrait son bataillon d'escorte si le Führer le désirait.

Le médecin arriva dans la capitale un peu avant minuit. Une grêle de projectiles y tombait. Il parvint cependant sain et sauf au bunker. Introduit auprès de Hitler, il proposa d'abord d'évacuer les femmes et les enfants qui se trouvaient dans l'abri : Eva Braun, Mme Goebbels et ses enfants, les diverses secrétaires. Hitler refusa. Toutes les femmes, dit-il, avaient décidé de demeurer à ses côtés. Mais il accepta l'offre du bataillon d'escorte et, conduisant Gebhardt devant une carte, lui indiquant la position que ce bataillon devrait occuper dans le Tiergarten. Il approuva aussi la nomination à la Croix-Rouge et, au moment du départ, chargea le médecin de porter « ses amitiés » à Himmler.

Berger fut le visiteur suivant. Hitler, défait, abattu, lui parla d'un ton calme des trahisons commises autour de lui et répéta qu'il avait la volonté de demeurer à Berlin.

— Tout le monde m'a trompé ! Personne ne m'a dit la vérité ! Les militaires m'ont tous menti !

Berger vit le visage s'empourprer, comme pour une apoplexie. Le bras gauche, remarqua-t-il, qui, précédemment, s'agitait nerveusement, était alors comme paralysé. Hitler, aussi, ne pouvait plus que la main droite sur la table.

L'orage s'apaisa aussi brusquement qu'il avait éclaté. Hitler ouvrit une discussion sur les prétendus prisonniers « prééminents », britanniques et américains importants, plus l'ancien Chancelier au [illegible] de guerre de calibre [illegible] stupéfait, raccrochait [illegible] un soupir de soulagement ; mais il n'était pas très [illegible] dans l'après-midi, [illegible] au Führerbunker, [illegible] sur la situation. Il mentionna, comme accessoirement, le groupe Steiner [illegible] au nord ; peut-être pourrait-il contenir l'ennemi [illegible].

Hitler tira les yeux de la carte qu'il consultait. Ce nom de Steiner [illegible] l'électrisait. Mais oui ! Steiner attaquerait sans délai, en direction des faubourgs méridionaux – il se pouvait être question de lui faire prendre une attitude défensive qui ne serait qu'une autre forme de l'éternelle offensive ! Il attaquerait donc le plus tôt possible et on lui donnerait pour cela, tous les soldats dans les chars, tous les avions qui se trouvaient dans la région de Berlin. En particulier, tous les effectifs terrestres de la Luftwaffe devaient entrer en jeu.

– Tout chef qui refusera de donner ses troupes dans les cinq heures le paiera de sa vie ! cria Hitler à Keitel. Vous me garantissez sur votre tête que vos hommes participeront au combat, jusqu'au dernier.

Keitel jeta un coup d'œil à Jodl et à Krebs. Ils allaient certainement dire la vérité, à savoir que le groupe Steiner était encore au stade de la formation, et qu'il avait pour mission de protéger le flanc très menacé de la 9e Armée. Mais Jodl et Krebs gardèrent le silence.

De toute évidence, rien ne pouvait plus arrêter l'avance des Russes. Au nord et au sud, l'Armée rouge avait déjà pénétré jusqu'au milieu des faubourgs. Des Allemands qui s'étaient héroïquement battus jusque-là réfléchirent calmement à la meilleure façon de quitter, avec discrétion, la vie militaire. Certains ne hésitèrent à brûler leur uniforme et à se joindre à la masse des civils dans les abris, mais ils restaient exposés à la menace [illegible] de vivants.

[illegible] ne l'entendait pas le dire, affirma-t-il, mais aurait voulu que Bernadotte se rendît auprès d'Eisenhower, afin de préparer une rencontre en tête-à-tête entre les deux hommes.

Bernadotte ne l'entendait pas de cette oreille. Il voulait un mandat formel, par écrit, d'Himmler, qui, souligna-t-il avec amertume, avait « perdu tout contact avec la réalité ». « Je ne peux plus rien pour lui, dit-il. Il aurait dû prendre en main les affaires du Reich aussitôt après ma première visite. » Bien entendu, Schellenberg resterait en liaison avec lui par le Consulat suédois de Lübeck. Le comte était homme à conserver de l'espoir, même pour ceux qui n'en avaient plus.

Soudain un claquement de sabots...

LICHTENGRADE s'avance comme un nez dans la campagne, au sud de Berlin ; il a toujours été qualifié de faubourg, mais il se trouve à l'intérieur du « Gross Berlin », à 22 kilomètres du centre ; ce qui confère une certaine logique au fait que les premiers soldats russes arrivèrent par là.

Le 22 avril, à 10 heures, ils atteignirent l'abri de la Hohenzollernstrasse, où plus de 400 civils, des femmes et des enfants pour la plupart, s'étaient réfugiés derrière les épais murs en béton. Se fondant sur le bruit de la canonnade et de la mitraillade, ils attendaient les Russes depuis déjà quatre heures, angoissés, mais résignés. Un nommé Ernst Brandt, qui avait pris la direction, après la mort du responsable de l'abri, tué par un obus, leur avait indiqué la façon de se comporter à l'arrivée des envahisseurs. Les réfugiés garderaient le silence, mais ne [illegible] de vivants.

L'homme arriva soudain, dans un claquement de sabots de cheval. Un cavalier, vêtu d'une veste de fourrure blanche [illegible] monture – piaffante, agitant, de l'autre, un large sabre dans l'air chargé de poussière... Tandis que cavalier et cheval dansaient follement devant la porte, des balles de pistolet-mitrailleur entrèrent en sifflant, arrachant des morceaux de plâtre au plafond. Une femme cria et l'enfant, adossé près d'elle contre la paroi, regarda avec curiosité la tache rouge qui s'élargissait sur sa cuisse.

Puis ce fut un désordre sauvage. D'autres femmes hurlèrent, une des grandes calebasses se renversa, ébouillantant les enfants, entassés sur le sol. Des ombres chargèrent, de part et d'autre du cavalier à la monture hystérique, se ruèrent sur les gens, les refoulèrent, piétinèrent ceux qui tombaient.

Brandt lança le mot préparé : « Zdravstvouïté ! » (bienvenue), mais, au même instant, un coup de plat de sabre le jeta à terre. Des étincelles jaillirent du sol, allumées par les sabots du cheval. « Moi, communiste ! » cria une voix, qu'une crosse de pistolet fit taire.

L'Asiatique sauta de sa monture, jetant la bride à l'une des ombres, et avança à grands pas vers une femme blonde, à la poitrine généreuse.

— Femmes allemandes bon, dit-il en un sabir allemand. Bon et gras !

Plaçant un pied derrière les jambes de la femme, il la fit basculer et s'abattit sur elle, sans lâcher son sabre. Trouvant celui-ci encombrant, il le jeta et prit à sa ceinture un couteau, avec lequel il fendit la robe, la culotte et le soutien-gorge. Ses doigts s'affairèrent devant son pantalon, puis il introduisit ses jambes entre celles de la femme.

Des dizaines d'ombres répétèrent ces mêmes gestes, des dizaines de fois. Certaines tenaient une bouteille, mais, de l'autre [illegible] douzaine de montres. Des cris dominaient le vacarme : « Femme, viens ! » et : « Des montres ! Des montres ! »

Brandt se releva, étourdi, pour cracher un caillot de sang et deux dents. Le cavalier marcha sur lui.

— Capitaliste, hurla-t-il. Sale capitaliste ! Tous capitalistes !

L'abri était plein d'ouvriers qui avaient gémi, leur vie durant, sur leur condition malheureuse. Brandt le regarda sans mot dire. Le Russe lui allongea un coup de pied dans les tibias, avant de s'éloigner en saisissant le bras d'une femme qui avait essayé de se glisser derrière lui.

A l'extérieur, le parc était transformé en campement mongol. Il y avait partout de petits chevaux sibériens que se harcelaient mutuellement ou donnaient des

Espoir de Hitler

LE 22 avril, à midi, d'autres troupes avaient franchi les lisières de Berlin, à Katow, dans le nord, à Weissensee, au nord-est. D'autres, plus à l'est, poussaient en direction de Lichtenberg et de Neukölln. Entre-temps, des colonnes dépassaient la ville, au nord et au sud, pour se rabattre et compléter l'investissement par l'ouest.

Hitler fondait de grands espoirs sur des groupes de combat, composés de « volontaires », en provenance de divers pays européens, qui avaient pris position

Chatilov avait reçu le drapeau No 5.

— Je ne veux pas en voir d'autre sur le Reichstag, Stepan.

— J'ai compris, camarade général, répondit Neustroyev en souriant. Je n'ai aucune envie de passer devant une cour martiale.

"N'entendez-vous pas le canon ?"

A ce moment encore, Hitler refusait de croire les Russes aussi rapprochés de Berlin ; il ne s'expliquait pas pourquoi des projectiles d'artillerie pleuvaient sur la capitale. Il téléphona au général Koller, au Q.G. de la Luftwaffe, installé à Wildparkwerder, en dehors de la ville, pour lui demander, d'un ton sarcastique, s'il savait que celle-ci était bombardée.

Non, répondit Koller. Il ne s'en doutait même pas.

— Vous n'entendez donc pas le canon ? cria Hitler.

— Non, mais je suis à Wildparkwerder.

— Les « gens », continua Hitler, furieux, s'inquiétaient de ce « bombardement à grande distance », effectué, lui avait-on dit, par une batterie de grosse artillerie sur voie ferrée. Les Russes avaient dû construire un pont ferroviaire sur l'Oder, pour amener cette batterie.

— Il n'existait pas de pont ferroviaire sur l'Oder, affirma Koller. Peut-être l'ennemi avait-il capturé une batterie allemande qu'il employait ainsi ; mais, plus que probablement, il s'agissait de pièces permanentes que constituaient les patrouilles de S.S. D'autres conserveront leur uniforme, mais prépareront des documents, couverts de cachets, qui les autoriseront à franchir tous les barrages pour exécuter une « mission militaire importante ». Les S.S. avaient encore quelque respect pour ce genre de documents, qui pouvaient provenir du Führer. Les déserteurs résolurent le problème de la nourriture en pillant les dépôts de vivre placés sous leur garde.

Les Berlinois, eux, ne pensaient plus qu'à survivre. Les hommes de la Gestapo écoutaient toujours les conversations téléphoniques ; on n'y parlait guère que d'alimentation.

A Hohenlychen, Heinrich Himmler flottait toujours dans l'indécision. Il avait pris son petit déjeuner avec le comte Bernadotte, mais cet homme étrange, qui, d'un geste, pouvait faire mourir des milliers de gens, ne parvenait pas à se décider à sauver une poignée d'Allemands à l'insu d'Adolf Hitler.

L'entrevue du matin n'avait rien donné de positif, malgré la bonne volonté manifeste du diplomate suédois, qui désirait apporter tout son concours. Schellenberg poussait Himmler à négocier en qualité de successeur du Führer, pour ajouter le poids de l'autorité d'Etat aux offres faites à l'Occident ; mais Himmler ne pouvait se résoudre à faire ce pas décisif. Il insistait, en revanche, sur des détails techniques qu'il lui fallait examiner, disait-il, avant que de négocier. Il consentit à faire sortir quelques Polonaises du camp de Ravensbrück, mais estima encore nécessaire d'obtenir le consentement d'Hitler.

En accompagnant Bernadotte, lors de son retour vers Lübeck, Schellenberg essaya d'inciter celui-ci à prendre l'initiative des attitude amicale, en faisant de leur mieux pour ne pas montrer leur peur. Du café et plusieurs centaines de cigarettes, prélevées sur les rations serviraient de cadeaux d'accueil. La porte, bardée d'acier, était ouverte depuis plus d'une heure ; de temps à autre, des éclats d'obus et des balles de mitrailleuses y passaient. Les gens assez braves ou fous pour oser jeter un coup d'œil au dehors, n'apercevaient pas grand-chose. La poussière et la fumée les empêchaient de voir que le soleil brillait. Pas un être humain, allemand ou russe, n'apparaissait. Seuls les explosions de projectiles et le crépitement des mitrailleuses trahissaient l'existence un pistolet-mitrailleur. Elles agissaient vite, mécaniquement ; quand l'une avait fini, une autre prenait sa place... Les enfants regardaient, bouche bée ; incapables de crier, pour la plupart.

Les Russes qui en avaient terminé avec les femmes, passèrent à une autre besogne : arracher les montres aux poignets, vider les poches, renverser sacs et valises pour en éparpiller le contenu. Des odeurs de sueur, d'urine, de crottin, d'alcool, envahirent l'abri. Un soldat saisit un flacon de parfum dans une valise, en cassa le goulot contre le mur et versa le contenu dans son gosier. Un autre, relevant sa manche, coups de dents aux chevaux plus grands, attelés à des carrioles ou à des voitures recouvertes d'une bâche, comme les « wagons » des pionniers américains de l'ouest. Des filles portant l'uniforme russe, et des femmes en robes souillées, déchirées, faisaient la cuisine sur des feux à ciel ouvert. Auprès d'un char Sherman se voyait un animal bizarre, étrange : une chamelle qui allaitait un petit.

Finalement, Goebbels annonça à ses collaborateurs que la fin était venue. Ce n'était pas la faute d'Hitler : il avait été trahi par le monde entier, même par le peuple allemand auquel il venait donner un magnifique exemple.

— Le peuple allemand ! Le peuple allemand ! s'écria Goebbels. Que faire avec un peuple dont les hommes refusent de se battre, même quand on viole leurs femmes ? Les projets, les idées du national-socialisme sont trop élevés, trop nobles, pour lui !

SUR le front nord, la 3e Armée du général von Manteuffel ne put arrêter l'offensive lancée, le 20 avril, par le maréchal Rokossovski. Les Russes se déversèrent au-delà de Bernau et y entrèrent. Ils y étaient à peine : des planches obstruaient les fenêtres, l'électricité faisait défaut depuis le matin, des bougies encouraient un éclairage précaire.

ment en cet ultime stade, les y aidèrent.

Plusieurs gardiens demandèrent à l'aumônier américain Francis Sampson de leur délivrer l'attestation écrite qu'ils s'étaient toujours montrés corrects, voire aimables, parfois en s'exposant à des risques personnels. L'aumônier leur donna cette attestation.

A Berlin même, une seule unité pouvait encore être qualifiée de combattante : le 37e Corps blindé ; mais, en se repliant du front de l'Oder, il avait terriblement souffert et perdu une grande quantité de ses chars.

Sur l'insistance de Goebbels, le général Reimann avait étendu le périmètre défensif. Il englobait, désormais, la ceinture des faubourgs, avec une longueur supérieure à cent kilomètres. Une seconde ligne, longue de 80 kilomètres, passait par les limites proprement dites de la ville. Une troisième, destinée à protéger les principaux édifices gouvernementaux et la personne des hautes fonctionnaires, suivait furent hâtivement formés à se servir d'un fusil, d'une mitrailleuse, d'un bazooka. Les transports d'armes et de munitions qui traversaient la ville furent pillés et leur contenu distribué aux recrues envoyées sur les divers « fronts ». Le général de S.S. Mohnke tira un cordon autour du centre de la ville — la « citadelle » — un permis spécial fut exigé pour le franchir dans un sens ou dans l'autre. Aux abords de la capitale, des S.S. et des volontaires, issus de diverses organisations politiques, arrêtaient les soldats en retraite pour les renvoyer face aux Russes.

Parmi ceux qui essayaient de mettre un peu d'ordre dans le chaos se trouvait le major Arnulf Pritzsch, homme maigre, une expression de fatalisme sur son visage allongé. Mis à la retraite quelques mois plus tôt pour cause de surdité, il avait été rappelé pour servir au commandement de Berlin et on l'avait chargé de donner quelque apparence aux positions de combat des troupes et des auxiliaires. C'était une LA jeep s'arrêta devant une maison à deux étages, et le général Perevertkine, commandant le 79e Corps d'infanterie dans le Groupe d'Armées de Joukov, jugea que ce serait un excellent observatoire. L'aide de camp avait trouvé cette maison au haut d'une côte, d'où elle dominait la vue de la campagne jusqu'à Berlin, à la lisière sud de la ville de Bernau, située à une dizaine de kilomètres au nord de la capitale.

Le général grimpa jusqu'au grenier, empli de meubles couverts de housses, alla à une petite fenêtre donnant vers le sud, et l'ouvrit.

— Tenez, voilà Berlin ! dit-il à son aide de camp. Admirez-le tout votre saoul. Vous n'avez même pas besoin de jumelles.

La fumée des incendies permanents tendait un voile au-dessus de la capitale allemande, mais on distinguait nettement la masse des maisons et les grands espaces verts des parcs. Perevertkine n'eut aucune peine à discerner les clochers et les cheminées d'usines. Ici et là, son regard surprit l'étroit ruban argenté de la Spree, qui brillait au soleil. Des nuages de fumée noire montaient en divers points ; le général crut même voir les flammes allumées par les bombes ou par les gros projectiles de l'artillerie russe.

De temps à autre, la maison frémissait sous l'effet d'une explosion voisine, et des hommes couraient nerveusement à l'extérieur. Perevertkine n'en demeura pas moins à la fenêtre, se penchant au dehors pour regarder le panorama sous un angle différent, en employant, cette fois, ses jumelles. Des éclats criblaient pourtant la maison. Comme le nations communistes. Le 3e bataillon, selon le général Chatilov, était un modèle pour toute l'armée ; et les hommes s'efforçaient de se montrer à la hauteur de cette appréciation.

Chatilov venait souvent leur rendre visite, parfois sans se faire annoncer, et il devait forcément le faire la veille du jour où la 3e Armée de choc allait se jeter à l'assaut de Berlin. Cette fois le capitaine Stepan Neustroyev, commandant du bataillon, fut averti de l'approche de la jeep. Quand le général en descendit, les hommes étaient alignés.

— Alors, vous vous êtes reposés ? demanda Chatilov en serrant la main du capitaine Neustroyev.

— Nous sommes prêts à la bataille, camarade général.

Le général passa devant les rangs. Il s'arrêta pour parler à quelques soldats, de la compagnie Gouselnikov, qui portaient des bandages.

— Vos hommes se sont bien battus, capitaine Gouselnikov, dit-il. C'est une compagnie excellente. J'en attends beaucoup pendant la bataille de Berlin.

— Nous ferons tout ce que nous pourrons.

Chatilov se retourna vers les soldats.

— Et les blessés ? demanda-t-il. L'un d'entre eux désire-t-il être envoyé dans un hôpital ?

— Non, camarade général. Il n'y a pas de blessés, lui répondit-on à l'unisson.

C'était la réponse attendue ; mais, le 3e Bataillon constituant une unité exceptionnelle, tel était bien le sentiment des hommes.

Ils entrèrent sous la tente de Neustroyev, et le général mit celui-ci au courant. Le conseil de Guerre de la 3e Armée de choc avait attribué à chacune des neuf divisions un drapeau rouge dont l'un, espérait-on, serait hissé sur le Reichstag, comme « Drapeau de la Victoire ». La division de sent les faits géographiques de la crise : les Russes envahissaient le territoire ; dans quelques jours ils couperaient la dernière route vers le sud. Hitler devait partir sans délai pour l'Obersalzberg, près de Berchtesgaden, dans les Alpes bavaroises, afin de mettre en sécurité sa personne sacrée. Hitler refusa de prendre une décision :

— Ce n'est pas de l'indécision, dit-il à ses hôtes. Comme vous le savez, je retarde parfois une décision, mais, quand je l'ai prise, rien ne peut plus m'en faire dévier. J'arrêterai ce que je dois faire.

Dès la fin de la réunion, Himmler partit pour Hohenlychen, au nord-ouest de Berlin, où l'attendait, dans sa clinique, son médecin et conseiller politique, Gebhardt.

Bormann et Goebbels restèrent ; le premier parce qu'il lui fallait demeurer aux côtés du Führer, pour continuer à influer sur les événements, le second par fidélité.

A ce moment, très certainement, Goebbels ne se faisait plus d'illusions sur l'avenir du régime nazi. Le 18 au soir, il avait encore prononcé un discours particulièrement agressif ; mais il tourna sa fureur de vaincu contre son propre petit monde, celui du ministère de la Propagande, et contre ceux qui avaient « trahi ses idéaux ». Il entra dans la salle des conférences alors que les sirènes hurlaient l'alerte. On y voyait à peine ; des planches obstruaient les fenêtres, l'électricité faisait défaut depuis le matin, des bougies marquaient un l'Oder et poussèrent vers l'ouest, pour aborder Berlin par ses faubourgs septentrionaux. Les « machines à coudre », biplans d'avant-guerre, semèrent des tracts pour accroître la terreur de la population. « Rokossovski est à vos portes ! », annonçaient ces tracts et tout Allemand capable de marcher se lança dans une fuite éperdue.

Au camp de prisonniers de Neubrandeburg, à 130 kilomètres au nord de Berlin, les gardiens allemands devinrent inquiets. Certains désertèrent, courant vers l'ouest, pour se rendre aux Américains ; le commandant et une douzaine d'hommes s'en remirent à leurs prisonniers, qui les enfermèrent. D'autres entreprirent de construire des tranchées pour s'y abriter à l'arrivée des Russes ; et les prisonniers, peu désireux de mourir accidentelle-tout on l'on avait pu rassembler des civils et des soldats, on avait creusé des tranchées et dressé des barricades.

Cela pouvait faire impression sur le porte, mais il s'agissait [illegible] d'un trompe-l'œil. La défense immédiate de Berlin réclamait au moins 18 divisions à plein effectif ; 8 sur la ligne extérieure, 10 sur la seconde. Mais, en dehors du 57e Corps blindé, il n'existait seulement, à la date du 20 avril, quelques unités du génie, deux bataillons d'infanterie, trente bataillons du Volkssturm avec des armes et des munitions insuffisantes, plus un assortiment de garçons de la Jeunesse hitlérienne, soit, approximativement, 75.000 hommes ou adolescents capables de porter les armes avec quelque degré d'efficacité, contre une force soviétique évaluée à 22 divisions, soit 225.000 soldats expérimentés. Au nord de la capitale, un nouveau groupe devait se constituer sous les ordres du général de S.S. Felix Steiner, à l'aile gauche de la 3e Armée blindée, très éprouvée ; mais ce groupe n'existait encore que sur le papier.

De nouveaux volontaires de la Jeunesse hitlérienne, certains âgés de douze ans seulement, [illegible] ne trouvait aucun réconfort à coucher, après quinze heures de travail, dans la cave du Q.G., situé Unter den Linden, près de la Porte de Brandebourg. Il se mit donc en quête d'un meilleur gîte et découvrit, au voisinage, un élégant appartement abandonné par un général de la Luftwaffe.

La première nuit où il y coucha, dans des draps de soie bleue, il venait de s'endormir quand de violents coups à la porte le réveillèrent. Tout ensommeillé, il alla ouvrir et vit devant lui un jeune lieutenant de S.S., à l'air extrêmement excité.

— Une merveilleuse nouvelle ! s'exclama-celui-ci. Une merveilleuse nouvelle ! Je suis venu pour vous en informer en premier.

— De quoi s'agit-il donc ? demanda Pritzsch, éberlué. De la nouvelle arme secrète ?

— Une nouvelle arme secrète ? Je ne suis pas du tout au courant. Non, Arnulf, je viens de recevoir la Croix de Fer !

Le major parvint à se maîtriser et à dire :

— Très bien ! Toutes mes félicitations... Mais, maintenant, fiches-moi le camp d'ici et laisse-moi dormir.

Vers ce moment, Heinrich Himmler arriva à Hohenlychen, où l'attendait un Schellenberg impatient. Le comte Bernadotte se trouvait aussi à Hohenlychen, annonça celui-ci et avait accepté de rencontrer Himmler au petit déjeuner, à 8 heures, le lendemain matin, pour parler des tractations de paix avec les Occidentaux. Profondément las, Himmler se déclara d'accord.

La course des neuf drapeaux

[illegible] quelque chose à son aide de camp, il y eut un sifflement, puis un grondement au-dessous de leurs pieds ; le plancher se creva et s'inclina de façon dangereuse. Un obus venait d'exploser à la hauteur du rez-de-chaussée.

— Ils essayent de riposter, dit tranquillement le général. Eh bien ! descendons pour sauver notre peau.

Il s'engagea dans l'escalier, suivi de l'aide de camp, et descendit jusqu'à la cave, où avait été installé le centre de transmissions. Les rapports provenant du front étaient bien tels qu'il [illegible] prévoyait : les unités, [illegible] bordure des faubourgs, [illegible] cloués au sol.

— Progression arrêtée, disait un des messages. On nous tire dessus de chaque maison, de chaque fenêtre. Appelons l'artillerie.

— Les compagnies sont bloquées, annonçait un autre. Impossible d'avancer. Feu intense de tous les côtés. Attendons les chars et les canons.

Quatorze batteries allemandes avaient été repérées, au son, dans le secteur de la division, dont trois antiaériennes, deux de grosse artillerie et une de lance-fusées à six tubes.

En ce 21 avril, le général [illegible] revertkine se plut à [illegible] son corps avait approché Berlin de plus près qu'aucun autre des premiers « Fronts » de Russie blanche et d'Ukraine. Il ne s'en étonnait pas, pas plus que de savoir que la 150e Division du général Chatilov était en tête, avec comme fer de lance, le magnifique 756e R.I., commandé par le colonel Zinichenko.

Le régiment avait été réorganisé après le début de l'offensive sur l'Oder, le 3e Bataillon absorbant les survivants du 1er. Les compagnies avaient retrouvé leur effectif et reconstitué leurs organisations communistes. Le 3e Bataillon selon le général Chatilov, était un modèle pour toute l'armée ; et les hommes [illegible]

Les troupes russes convergeaient vers Berlin par l'est, le nord et le sud, dans un mouvement quelque peu désordonné, mais implacable. Presque accessoirement, leurs colonnes encerclaient peu à peu la 9e Armée du général Busse, condamnée par Hitler à se maintenir sur le front de l'Oder.

"ALLEMANDES... BON !" HURLAIT LE MONGOL

Le 20 avril au matin, l'O.K.W. Haut Commandement des forces armées, se trouva devant un terrible problème particulier. Zossen, à 30 kilomètres au sud de Berlin, où il était installé, se trouvait directement menacé.

L'O.K.W. disposait de ce que les documents officiels appelaient son ultime réserve, 250 fantassins lourdement armés. Il n'y avait rien d'autre à faire que d'envoyer ces hommes au sud, contre les centaines de chars russes, pour exercer au moins une action retardatrice.

Leur histoire s'inscrivit en deux messages, l'un envoyé à 6 heures, le 20 avril :

« Une quarantaine de chars ennemis sont passés devant nous. J'attaquerai à 7 heures. »

L'autre arriva deux heures plus tard :

« Attaque a échoué. Avons subi de lourdes pertes. Reconnaissances signalent que les chars ennemis continuent d'avancer vers le nord. »

Rien ne restait pour défendre l'O.K.W. Essayant de garder un ton ferme, le général Krebs téléphona au Führerbunker, pour demander l'autorisation d'évacuer. Elle lui fut refusée. Le chef d'état-major général insista à plusieurs reprises au cours de la matinée, sans plus de succès. Prenant sa voiture, il se rendit à Berlin pour demander personnellement à Bormann d'approuver l'évacuation. Bormann ne parut même pas l'entendre.

En rentrant à Zossen, Krebs trouva le lieutenant qui avait commandé l'ultime réserve. Il ne lui restait plus que 20 hommes. Pis encore, les Russes avaient enlevé Baruth, à moins de 25 kilomètres de Zossen, puis poussé jusqu'à une dizaine de kilomètres au sud du G.Q.G.

Krebs devint frénétique. Il décrocha le téléphone et ordonna à son aide de camp, Freytag-Loringhoven, de l'imiter. D'autres prirent les quatre appareils restant pour adresser une demande en masse au Führerbunker. Enfin, à 13 heures, alors que le bruit des chenilles russes se faisait entendre dans le lointain, l'O.K.W. fut autorisé à se transporter à Krampnitz, près de Potsdam, au sud-ouest de Berlin.

Le départ fut précipité. Très peu d'archives furent emportées. Le coffre-fort de Krebs demeura ouvert ; personne ne prit le temps de clore le quartier général. Le grand portail resta béant. Les cartes ne furent pas enlevées des murs ; les documents jonchaient le sol. Les téléphones et les téléscripteurs, les plus perfectionnés d'Allemagne, fonctionnaient toujours. Les Russes, s'ils l'avaient voulu, auraient pu causer avec Adolf Hitler dans son entre-sous-terrain.

"C'est la fin" dit Gœbbels

Ce jour-là, 20 avril, un autre événement préoccupait les occupants du plus fameux trou dans la terre. C'était le cinquante-sixième anniversaire d'Adolf Hitler ! A cette occasion, la vieille garde nazie se réunit pour la dernière fois : Gœbbels, Gœring, Himmler, Bormann, Speer, Ribbentrop. L'amiral Doenitz vint se joindre à Keitel et à Jodl. La confiance d'Hitler demeurait inébranlable. Les Russes, dit-il à ses hôtes incrédules, allaient « subir devant Berlin la plus sanglante défaite de leur histoire ».

A la Nouvelle Chancellerie, une délégation de la Jeunesse hitlérienne attendait, le cœur battant, la venue d'Hitler. L'édifice avait fortement souffert des bombardements, mais une horde de domestiques avaient réussi, par des réparations hâtives, à conserver l'immense salon diplomatique. Les garçons de douze à seize ans, assis inconfortablement au bord de leur chaise, dégustaient du chocolat, apporté par des serviteurs en livrée.

Artur Axmann, chef de la Jeunesse hitlérienne, vint prendre les garçons pour les conduire dans le jardin, où ils s'alignèrent. Peu après, la porte de l'abri s'ouvrit, Adolf Hitler avança lentement vers eux. Il passa devant l'alignement, s'arrêtant, ici et là, pour pincer une oreille ou une joue rose, remerciant les enfants d'un ton paternel de ce qu'ils faisaient pour la patrie. Tous devaient recevoir des décorations, mais Hitler ne les leur épingla pas lui-même, abandonnant ce soin à un aide de camp. Puis, avec un geste d'adieu très las, il regagna son repaire.

Les dignitaires entreprirent alors d'examiner avec lui la situation. Tour à tour, ils soulignè-

ANDREW TULLY fut l'un des trois premiers G.I.s qui pénétrèrent dans Berlin en feu. C'était le 27 avril 1945. Il ne se doutait probablement pas, ce jour-là, qu'il consacrerait dix-sept années de sa vie à reconstituer les apocalyptiques journées qui virent la fin du IIIe Reich national-socialiste. Son œuvre se fonde sur les témoignages, patiemment recherchés et confrontés, de ceux, grands personnages ou humbles Berlinois anonymes, qui furent les acteurs du drame. Humain comme un roman et précis comme un livre de marche, son récit nous entraîne aujourd'hui au cœur de la bataille. Tandis que tout s'effondre autour de lui sous la poussée des armées soviétiques, Hitler s'apprête à prendre sa suprême décision : s'ensevelir sous les ruines de la capitale comme dans l'hallucinant finale du « Crépuscule des dieux ». n'est pas le seul...

Tout bien votre article sur Loys Van Lee. Mais il y a aussi à la R.T.F. un autre baratineur de charme, plein de suffisance, à la diction déplorable, à la compétence limitée et à l'objectivité discutable : il s'appelle Roland Mesmeur. On ne comprend pas comment on peut mettre à la tête d'un des services sportifs de la R.T.F. ce manquement d'incompétence.

Le peu recommandable Marette a sa combine

J'AI lu dernièrement votre article sur la pagaille aux P.T.T. Etant postier je ne peux que vous confirmer la triste réalité. Toutefois je tiens à vous signaler certains faits :

Tout d'abord quelques chiffres : en 1938, il y avait 13 milliards de lettres ordinaires et environ 250.000 colis dont au moins la moitié ne sont pas au service du tri. En 1963, il y aura un milliard de lettres en plus et nous ne serons que 400.000 pour la France. Comme aucune mesure valable n'a été prise tant pour l'augmentation des effectifs que pour la mécanisation des services de tri et de manutention, la pagaille n'est pas prête de cesser. Sera quand le timbre de 25 centimes sera remplacé par celui de 30 centimes.

La situation est d'autant plus mauvaise que le mécontentement à l'intérieur de la profession est profond.

Ainsi les jeunes qui réussissent au concours d'agent d'exploitation doivent attendre plus d'un an avant d'être titularisés. Entre temps, ils font le même travail comme auxiliaire, ce qui permet de les payer moins.

Les conditions de travail empirent tous les jours et il est certain que les bénéfices des postes, voire leur dernier emprunt, servent à tout autre chose qu'à l'amélioration du service ou à l'augmentation des salaires du personnel.

La poste française vit sur son prestige passé et croyez bien que le dévouement de ses membres n'est pour rien dans l'anarchie présente.

Un préposé.

J'AI découvert votre journal depuis bientôt un an, et le meilleur compliment que je puisse faire est que, depuis lors, je n'ai pas oublié une seule semaine d'en attendre la parution impatiemment.

J'ai personnellement quelques suggestions [illegible] et je désire apporter moi aussi ma petite collaboration.

Il est un point auquel peut-être vous n'avez pas pensé : que Picard et Marette ont pu faire une entente ! Voici les faits dont je suis « comptable ».

Comme tous les trimestres, je fais ma déclaration à l'U.R.S.S.A.F. ainsi que le règlement, dès que mon comptable m'en fait connaître les chiffres.

Donc, le 23-4, les renseignements du 1er trimestre 1964 sont envoyés... déclaration, chèque et enveloppe portant bien cette date (timbrée par machine postale, donc sans aucune possibilité de doute).

Je viens de recevoir un superbe papier de couleur vert pâle à en-tête de l'U.R.S.S.A.F. me réclamant 10 % d'intérêts de retard, car ma déclaration n'a été remise que le 5-5. En effet, le chèque me fut débité à cette date. Ainsi donc, cette lettre adressée à un organisme officiel a mis 12 jours pour faire environ UN kilomètre et ceci me coûte une certaine somme que je ne puis pas réclamer à Marette.

Je vous dis que l'intérêt de 10 % que réclame le gouvernement sans risque d'être désavoué servirait les tribunaux...

DANS le nouveau barème des tarifs postaux, dont la hausse est une fois de plus la violation du plan de stabilisation, il est dit que la taxe des objets recommandés est portée de 0,70 à 1 F.

Cette hausse exagérée de 30 % a stupéfait les usagers, surtout le monde commercial ou industriel, qui considèrent cette augmentation comme un impôt supplémentaire.

Pour dorer la pilule, il y a cette justification qui est une « hénaurmité » : « L'Administration espère ainsi restreindre l'usage abusif des lettres recommandées. »

On n'avait jamais vu jusqu'ici l'Administration limiter pour sa clientèle les possibilités de l'usage de la Recommandation.

Que se cache-t-il donc là-dessous ? Un malaise nous l'a révélé : à la poste, les objets recommandés sont manipulés dans des salles où n'ont accès que les préposés à ce service. Les effectifs y sont si réduits qu'il faudrait doubler le nombre des employés pour assurer à bien la réception, l'examen et l'expédition de toutes les lettres et paquets de plus en plus nombreux et d'en faire exactement le bilan journalier.

C'est donc un moyen détourné, en limitant l'afflux des objets, d'éviter, tout au moins dans ce secteur, l'augmentation des effectifs, laquelle est, on le sait, la revendication majeure du personnel si dévoué des P.T.T.

X..., Rennes.

Si l'on nous promet d'être égal à soi-même jusqu'à la prochaine fois, et par-delà la mort.

Rien n'est bon dans le passé républicain, tout y était pourriture. Ils étaient pourtant là par la volonté du peuple, ces élus. Alors, quelle valeur peut-on donner à un référendum ?

S'il fait beau, c'est grâce à Lui, s'il pleut, le ciel n'était pas clément. Si l'on hasarde quelques départements français, c'est seulement parce qu'on a trouvé des interlocuteurs valables ; tant pis si au cours des temps les événements attestent que ce mandat était pour le moins usurpé. Si le coût de la vie monte, c'est une erreur d'interprétation, puisqu'on a dit « non » à la hausse.

Et c'est ainsi de tout, et chacun est heureux. Sans doute, les trésoreries sont étroites ainsi que les prisons, la Bourse ne répond pas aux désirs, les voisins et principaux alliés nous considèrent avec inquiétude, mais on ne nous a jamais autant aimés et enviés, puisque la cour des Miracles défile au pied du Trône en tendant sa sébile.

Rien ne change en France, où, de tout temps, la nouvelle cour a répudié l'ancienne. Mazarin est sorti de sa tombe. Sa grande ombre dominatrice passe dans les couloirs du palais. Ses longs doigts transparents glissent sur les tapisseries et jouent avec les hochets du pouvoir, mais, ne pouvant plus mentir, son spectre lugubre répète la phrase célèbre : « Il faut quitter tout cela... »

Mon général, c'est ça, le sens de l'Histoire.

Champceuetz.

« Si j'avais la possibilité d'écrire un article », disiez-vous au début de cette lettre. Eh bien ! voilà qui est fait ! Et même très brillamment avec une gravité, une hauteur de ton où MINUTE se plaît à reconnaître la plume d'un écrivain. Mais, au fait, cette signature de Champceuetz nous a tout l'air d'un pseudonyme bien commode pour masquer un confrère probablement célèbre. Tant pis... nous nous en contenterons !

ment percer l'anonymat d'un jury d'examen !

— Mais comment avez-vous donc fait pour vous procurer le nom du président du jury ? lui a demandé, faussement ingénu, le représentant de Paris-Presse.

— C'est ma femme qui s'est occupée de cela, a précisé le ministre coopérateur. Elle a téléphoné à la directrice du lycée où ma fille avait passé son examen, le lycée de Saint-Cloud, et la directrice lui a donné le nom du président du jury.

La ligne téléphonique du lycée de Saint-Cloud était-elle en dérangement, ce jour-là ? Toujours est-il qu'à en croire le même Triboulet, dans une autre déclaration — celle qu'il a faite à France-Soir — sa femme « est allée VOIR la directrice du lycée de Saint-Cloud ». C'est clair, comme vous le voyez !

— La directrice a admis qu'il pouvait y avoir quelque chose d'anormal, a ajouté le ministre, elle a donné à ma femme l'adresse du président du jury.

Et Bonnot ?

Pourquoi l'adresse personnelle du président du jury, demanderez-vous, alors que Triboulet savait pertinemment qu'il lui suffirait de téléphoner au lycée pour le joindre ? Etait-ce pour lui envoyer ses vœux au prochain Nouvel An ? Ou, plus simplement, pour permettre une discrète démarche ?

Celle de M. Bonnet, par exemple.

Car il existe, que diable, ce M. Bonnot, bien que Triboulet ait voulu l'ignorer dans toutes les déclarations cafouilleuses qu'il a faites aux gazettes ! Il existe même si bien qu'il a, lui aussi, répondu au reporter de Paris-Presse exceptionnellement curieux. Une fois n'est pas coutume !

— J'ai en effet été chargé d'une mission, dit-il, et j'ai rencontré M. Chateau... Ma rencontre avec lui avait pour but de lui demander si une erreur ne s'était pas glissée dans les notes attribuées à Mlle Triboulet.

Tout devient limpide, n'est-ce pas ! Car ce que Triboulet-la-Boulette semble ou injustice à l'égard de leur malchanceuse fifille ?

... Jusqu'au général

Car, à en croire notre ministre, Mlle Triboulet « a même peut-être été victime d'une injustice ». Voyez-vous ça !

Injustice ? Ce n'est pas l'avis du jury 108, qui a confirmé, après vérification des notes et du livret scolaire de la candidate, que ses 147 points ne justifiaient pas qu'elle fût admise à l'oral de contrôle.

— L'affaire n'a pas été plus loin, a conclu Triboulet.

Diable, jusqu'où aurait-il voulu qu'elle aille ? Jusqu'au général, peut-être ?

ON PEUT TOUJOURS REVER. Si Joxe se prive de vacances pour assurer l'intérim de Pompidou, ce n'est pas par bonté d'âme. Le général a promis à son Loulou de l'installer à Matignon le jour où lui-même céderait l'Elysée à son Pompon.

A LA SOUPE

A vos rangs, fixe ! Voici l'amiral Galleret, commissaire général aux monuments militaires.

Le poste avait été créé, discrètement, par de Gaulle, il y a trois ans, au profit du général de Larminat. Cela fit quand même un petit boum à la Chambre. Le ministre des Anciens Combattants eut beau jurer que la charge était purement honorifique, des petits curieux de la Commission des Finances constatèrent qu'il y avait comme des fuites du côté des frais de mission. L'Elysée étouffa l'affaire en puisant dans sa caisse.

A la mort de Larminat, Galleret, qui humait la soupe, s'en fut présenter ses compliments au général, qu'il avait connu à Londres, et à Tante Yvonne, une amie de sa femme. Il accepta tout de suite de siéger comme juge à la Cour de Sûreté de l'Etat. Cette bonne volonté lui a valu sa cinquième étoile et son commissariat général.

C'est vous qui le dites

C'est ça leur "effort pour le sport"

UN de mes amis étudiant qui a 22 ans et lance le marteau à 50 m, passe ses vacances près de Dinard. Il voulait poursuivre son entraînement pendant les vacances. Il a donc demandé au directeur du C.R.E.P.S. (Centre Régional d'Education Physique) de Dinard l'autorisation de lancer le marteau sur les installations du stade. Fort gentiment l'autorisation lui a été accordée. Mon ami s'est donc mis en rapport avec le gardien du stade pour régler les problèmes d'horaire et de terrain. Réticences de la part du gardien qui le renvoie à la mairie de Dinard afin d'y solliciter la permission des autorités municipales.

Pas de problème, me direz-vous, la municipalité de Dinard est U.N.R., dirigée par un député-maire jeune et dynamique, Yvon Bourges, l'autorisation sera accordée sans difficultés.

Las ! L'entretien avec le secrétaire de mairie, M. Lenormand, fut plutôt bref : « Pas question ! Le terrain de camping de la ville est bientôt plein ! Nous allons donc installer les tentes et les caravanes sur le terrain de sports. Alors, vous vous rendez compte ! Un lanceur de marteau n'a pas sa place là-bas. »

C'est tout ! Comme il est têtu, mon ami fait de longs crous à travers les dunes pour se tenir en forme et fait mélancoliquement tourner son marteau dans son petit jardin...

Etonnez-vous, alors, si les jeunes Français n'ont pour le sport qu'un intérêt limité. Si les jeunes sportifs français n'obtiennent que des résultats perpétuellement « encourageants ».

Joel Le Cain,
Dinard.

AU PIED DE SON TRÔNE LA COUR DES MIRACLES

SI j'avais la possibilité d'écrire un article concernant le fait du siècle, en France, il semble que je m'étendrais sur le développement du culte de la personnalité. Je chercherais ses sources. Naguère, nous avions la radio qui a fait ses preuves. Grâce à elle, certains ont pu se couvrir de gloire militaire en parlant et se créer un nom que seuls des hauts faits d'armes eussent autrefois permis. Depuis, la télévision a apporté sa pierre et jamais personne ne songerait à opposer les uns aux autres les textes pour en souligner les contradictions. Heureux celui qui parle : un recours à la notion d'Empire, fait il y a 26 ans, ne gêne pas celui qui, depuis, a nié l'utilité de cet Empire et en a disposé de la manière que nous savons. Mais c'était, paraît-il, le désir de la Nation entière.

Si j'étais, ce qu'à Dieu ne plaise, le bénéficiaire d'un héroïsme aussi facile et que, sans rire, je pouvais jouer au chef de guerre (cela se prononçait Vercingétorix en gaulois), je serais gêné par le succès parallèle des simples speakers de la R.T.F., et plus encore par ceux des Johnny et autres Sylvie. Ainsi donc il est prouvé que d'imposer son visage et sa voix chaque jour provoque un besoin chez le spectateur moyen et que cette humble communion est ensuite réclamée comme une drogue ; il est prouvé que l'angoisse religieuse est comblée par la possibilité de tourner un bouton qui vous livre votre idole à domicile ; il est prouvé que le peuple avide de liberté n'est heureux qu'en se prosternant devant le premier totem qu'on lui offre, sous réserve qu'il soit quotidien. Les mêmes poignées de main, et ayant le même sens, peuvent se donner sur la place publique et dans les Olympia. Je me souviens, dans les livres désuets, que les familles se voilaient la face lorsqu'un des leurs se perdait dans le monde du théâtre. Aujourd'hui, les tests d'accès aux premières charges de la République relèvent du baladin. Grandeur, est-ce là ta victoire ? Peuple de France, ce n'est pas là ta grandeur.

Parce que le roi boitait, toute la cour boitait. Que se passe-t-il en notre pays où jamais il ne fut autant question de péripéties, de quarteron et autres mots d'esprit qui résonnent comme un tambour crevé. On a les maîtres qu'on mérite.

Voilà maintenant qu'il déborde !

ENFONCE, le Triboulet ! Il ergote, il patauge, il bouffonne. Mais il avoue ! Monsieur le ministre de la Coopération est bel et bien intervenu auprès du jury qui avait recalé sa fille à l'écrit du bac de philo. Et les examinateurs, insensibles, ont aussi recalé papa. Voilà !

Le président de la Société des agrégés confirme qu'il a reçu du président du jury 108 un rapport sur cette affaire. Ce même et accablant rapport que MINUTE a publié la semaine dernière et que notre bouffon fait semblant d'ignorer.

— Oui, j'ai effectivement téléphoné à M. Chateau, le président du jury, a reconnu Triboulet qui, sous tout autre régime, aurait eu l'élémentaire pudeur de démissionner le soir même. Mais c'était uniquement pour lui demander s'il n'y avait pas eu d'erreur sur le cas de ma fille.

"C'est ma femme..."

c'est qu'il ne s'est pas borné à téléphoner au président du jury mais qu'il lui a également dépêché un interlocuteur.

Et un interlocuteur valable, s'il vous plaît ! M. Bonnot est un haut fonctionnaire de l'Education nationale, détaché au ministère de la Coopération ! Un homme du bâtiment !

Ce qui n'a pas empêché le Triboulet, de plus en plus empêtré, de déclarer au journal Le Monde :

— Je trouve déplorable que l'intervention que j'ai faite en tant que simple père de famille soit aujourd'hui exploitée à des fins politiques.

L'O.F.E.R.S.O.P., organisme de « relations sociales et publiques » (sic), a accepté d'assurer le gros œuvre. Son directeur, Claude Nataf, est originaire de Tunisie. Enfin, en serre-file, on trouvera la cohorte des rigolos de l'Association pour la Cinquième République, de l'Association pour le Soutien de l'Action du général de Gaulle et du Front pour le Progrès, sortis pour une fois de leur obscurité.

Le président de la section, un certain Deisol, en était franchement désolé. Il est vrai qu'il est également connu comme trésorier de la section U. N. R. de l'endroit. Il y a des gens qui n'aiment pas les mélanges.

SÉRIE NOIRE

DECIDEMENT, la Crimée ne paie pas ! En juillet, Maurice Thorez mourait d'une embolie alors qu'il naviguait en Mer Noire, en route pour Yalta. Palmiro Togliatti, le secrétaire général du P.C. italien, a eu la malencontreuse idée d'aller, lui aussi, y passer ses vacances : vous connaissez la suite.

On comprend l'impatience de notre Guide de voir arriver le mois de septembre. C'est qu'il est né en 1890, lui !

PATATI

PEYREFITTE a beau avoir le goût de la plaisanterie, il est resté coi l'autre jour, en franchissant les grilles du ministère de l'Intérieur.

Il venait de quitter l'Elysée et allait informer les journalistes des décisions du Conseil des ministres. Et là, sur le trottoir, il s'est heurté brusquement au cinéaste Jacques Tati, qui observait le secteur.

Alors, c'est une bien belle idée que ce « Livre d'or de la majorité », comme l'appellent ses promoteurs en toute modestie. On la doit à un certain Pierre de Bosmelet, membre du Conseil national de l'U.N.R.-U.D.T.

La chance de ce féal obscur est d'avoir su intéresser à son projet le sénateur Baumel, qui règle ordinairement les questions d'intendance au parti des godillots. On dit même que Jacquot-la-Moustache en a crié de joie !

Vite, ce n'est pas trop. Au moment de la revue, tous les navires français jouxtaient les rouges en rigueur devant.

VEXÉ

Le torchon brûle entre l'Information et la rue de Rivoli. Les deux gendins qui occupent ces ministères, Peyrefitte et Giscard d'Estaing, ont oublié qu'ils habitaient tous les deux de la rue des Saints-Pères (l'Ecole Nationale d'Administration), pour une querelle de télévision.

L'un, bien entendu notre Pulliat, entendait apparaître sur les petits écrans pour faire une mise au point sur les résultats de son plan. L'autre ne voulait pas entendre parler de ce numéro personnel en plein mois d'août. Pompidou, contacté téléphoniquement à Saint-Tropez par Peyrefitte, a rendu son arbitrage au bénéfice de Giscard. Pas de « One-man show » pendant les vacances !

Du coup, Giscard, vexé, a fait dire que désormais il réserverait ses apparitions aux postes de radio périphériques.

OUBLIÉ

Le gaullisme, ça n'existe pas ! Ce n'est qu'une parenthèse de la vie politique dans ce pays. Il n'a pas de racine profonde et il n'y a pas de néo-gaullisme possible.

Qui parle ainsi ? Defferre ? Pisani-Vignancour ?

Vous n'y êtes pas. C'est Bidault qui, de son refuge brésilien, à Campinas, au cœur de l'Etat de São Paulo, vient de confier à notre confrère « L'Esprit public » ses vues désolantes sur la succession.

Si le « cher petit homme » a choisi le vingtième anniversaire de la Libération de Paris pour cette méchante ruade, ce n'est sûrement pas le fait du hasard. A-t-on idée aussi d'avoir oublié d'envoyer une carte d'invitation à l'ancien président du C.N.R. ! également installés dans une somptueuse villa mauresque des Hauts d'Alger, dans le quartier du Balcon Saint-Raphaël.

Evidemment, ils ne se contentaient pas, depuis ce belvédère d'admirer le bleu de la Méditerranée. Discrètement, ils commencèrent par donner chez eux une garden-party, à laquelle assistèrent de nombreux frères ben-bellistes. Puis, s'enhardissant, on les vit essaimer dans toutes les réceptions officielles.

Joli ramdam

Ce fut justement le grain qui fit déborder le couscoussier. Depuis un certain temps déjà, des gens de la République fédérale surveillaient les envoyés de Pankow et prenaient des photos. Documents à l'appui, ils allèrent faire un joli ramdam au ministère algérien des Affaires étrangères. Que des intrus ne bénéficiant d'aucune représentation diplomatique, se glissent dans toutes les réceptions officielles, voilà qui était contraire aux usages !

Bon gré, mal gré, Boutefliika dut ordonner une enquête. Le résultat ne se fit pas attendre : pour pénétrer dans les réceptions, les Allemands de l'Est se servaient de cartes d'invitation... adressées à l'ambassade de Chine populaire !

Vous imaginez les transes de Ben Bella à l'idée de la colère de l'ambassadeur de Pékin. Quoi ! Des suppôts de Krouchev se servant de Mao comme d'un paravent ! Comme si le torchon rouge ne brûlait pas suffisamment En toute hâte, on expédia une note au camarade Ulbricht exigeant le rappel immédiat des trop astucieux représentants.

Quant aux zélés fonctionnaires du ministère des Affaires étrangères, ils ne perdent rien pour attendre. La police politique de Ben Bella va se faire une joie de leur apprendre ce que signifie « mener une enquête ». Une enquête qui touche aux secrets d'Etat, surtout.

Par Allah ! Il faut savoir s'arrêter à temps. On n'escalade pas la Muraille de Chine sans instructions spéciales !

Au cas où vous vous feriez du souci pour le frère Chaabani, ce colonel perdu embastillé par Ben Bella, remettez vite vos angoisses au vestiaire ! C'est du moins le conseil que donnent les chefs de l'opposition algérienne réfugiés à Paris, Londres et Genève.

A les croire, la stupéfiante arrestation du « Lion du Désert » près de Bou-Saada, dans la soirée du 8 juillet dernier, par un détachement de l'armée populaire, ne serait que le « happy end » d'une savante mise en scène réglée par Boumedienne, éminence grise du régime et grand patron de l'armée ben-belliste.

Chaabani, l'ancien chef de la région militaire du Sahara, celui-là même qui, en 1962, ouvrit la route d'Alger à Ben Bella, aurait tout simplement accepté de jouer les provocateurs pour coincer les frères en rupture de ban. Et son équipée, si peu glorieuse qu'elle en paraît suspecte à la réflexion, aurait eu pour objet de casser le moral des nouveaux maquisards en faisant la preuve de la force et de l'autorité du « Gouvernement » d'Alger.

Rébellion-bidon

Ce petit chef-d'œuvre d'« intox » serait dû à l'imagination d'un nommé Moussaoui, qui est au ministre algérien de l'Intérieur ce que certain Corse fut à Frey.

— Frère, déclara-t-il à Boumedienne au mois de mai dernier, méfie-toi de la rebellion kabyle. Ne prends pas Aït Ahmed de front ! Use-le plutôt de l'intérieur. Que penserais-tu, par exemple, d'une rébellion-bidon ?

Ainsi aurait été lancée, début juillet, la fausse dissidence de Chaabani, avec le bluff énorme de ses six mille hommes entraînés et bien armés. Ben Bella n'avait plus qu'à flétrir la trahison et lancer son pathétique appel contre le putsch, avec le ton du Grand Mécharlot en avril 1961. La fidélité inconditionnelle de l'armée populaire, on allait en avoir la preuve !

Aït Ahmed, tel un bleu, se serait laissé prendre à ce cinéma barbaresque. Il se serait même fait un devoir d'offrir l'hospitalité de ses djebels aux compagnons de Chaabani, après la capture de leur chef. Ses yeux ne se seraient ouverts que tout récemment après l'arrestation, à Constantine, d'une cinquantaine de ses fidèles, vendus à l'A.N.P. par les traîtres du clan Chaabani.

Incroyable ? Les frères venus chercher refuge à Paris assurent qu'on serait bien incapable de trouver la trace du « Lion du Désert » dans les geôles de Ben Bella. Il faudrait plutôt chercher du côté d'une confortable demeure proche de la Villa Joly. Ils ajoutent même, ces médisants, que Chaabani y partage son temps entre le couscous et les cajoleries de son épouse.

Après tout, c'est bien cela le repos du guerrier !

IL VOIT LOIN

Il voit l'avenir avec la longue vue de l'optimisme, ce cher comte d'Ornano, maire de Deauville ! Savez-vous qu'il vient de confier à ses intimes son intention de se faire élire député du Calvados aux prochaines législatives ?

Le comte est un homme si naturellement aimable que l'actuel député Duchesne, fabricant de parquets et giscardien bon teint, serait tout disposé à lui céder sa place.

Voilà donc notre Ornano plus engagé que jamais dans le tourbillon des réunions, des réceptions et des galas. Bref, faisant sa cour à dix lieues à la ronde.

Noblesse oblige !

B.B. se fait pincer

D'ICI que Ben Bella ait de sérieux ennuis avec Mao, il n'y a qu'une babouche petite pointure. Et par la faute de ses fonctionnaires, encore ! Car ce sont eux qui viennent de le prendre la main dans le sac de semoule. Sans le faire exprès, bien sûr.

ENTRÉE DE SERVICE

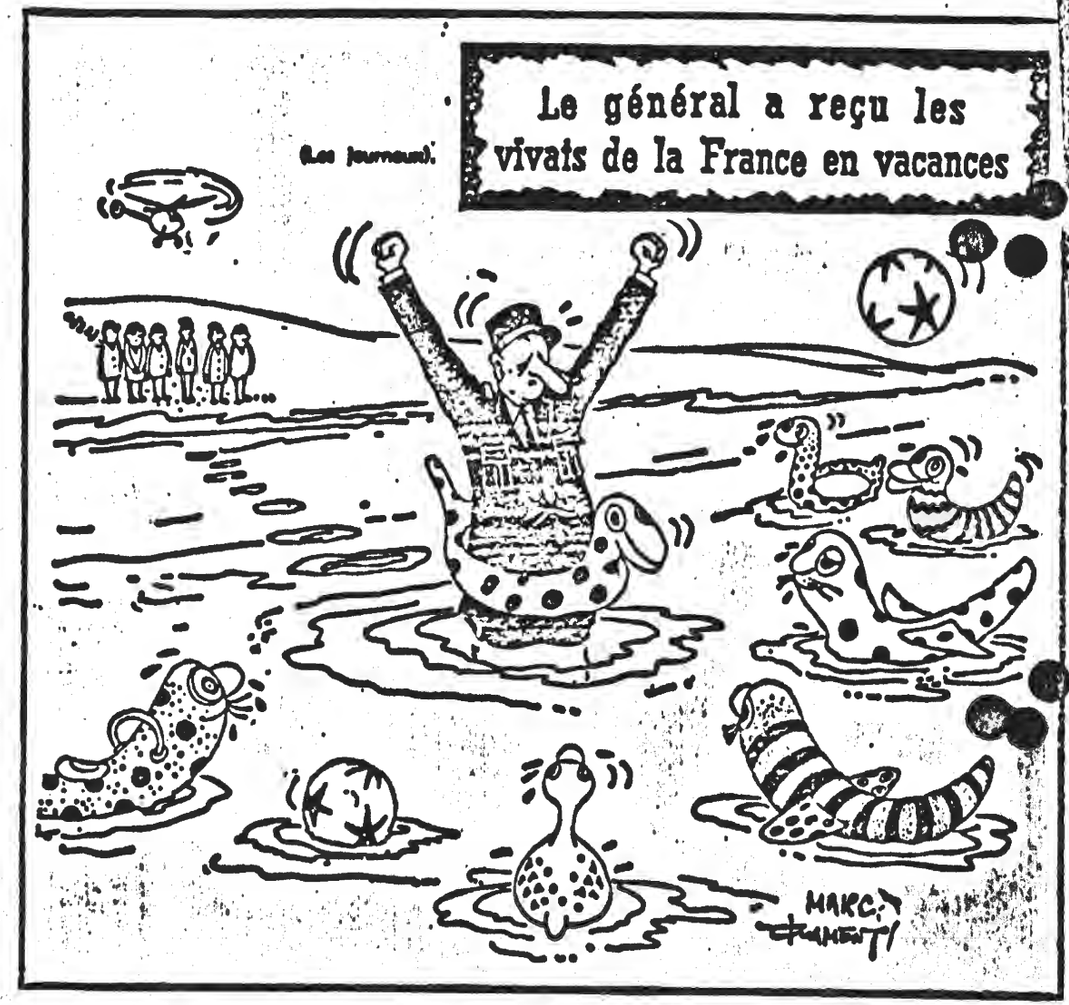
FAUT-IL être dans les annales de la Marine française, porte navale de Toulon, c'est sûr !

Sachez que pour l'embarquement sur un navire de guerre, le pavillon flotte est, par tradition, réservé aux amiraux, commandants et autres officiers. Bah, c'est l'entrée de service pour les hommes de l'équipage et les fournisseurs. Or, c'est par bateau que le commandant de la « Combattante » s'est fait un malin plaisir d'accueillir le Guide [illegible]

A l'origine du micmac, il y a cette fameuse ambassade de la République démocratique allemande à Alger. B.B. l'avait promise aux Allemands de l'Est, à l'époque où il s'était résolument engagé sur la voie de la révolution socialiste.

Jusqu'au jour où les représentants du Gouvernement de Bonn, qui savent faire comprendre tout le prix de leur présence, protestèrent violemment. Depuis, le Grand Frère retarde l'échéance en tirant autant qu'il le peut sur la queue du bourricot !

Ce fâcheux contretemps n'a pas empêché de nombreux Germains de Pankow de débarquer à Alger tout vibrants d'espoir. A défaut d'une ambassade officielle avec plaque de marbre et dra[illegible]



LE "LION DU DESERT" SERAIT-IL UN MOUTON ?

PANDORE VEUT DU GALON

ESTIVANTS, à la bonne vôtre ! Mais attention ! Pas au-delà de l'heure légale de fermeture des débits : il en coûte trop cher. Les clients du « Café des Mouettes », à Veiras-Plage, charmant petit coin de l'Hérault, vous préviennent gentiment.

L'autre nuit, ils dégustaient un petit alcool, bien tranquillement, profitant de la fraîcheur, lorsque, vers une heure et demie, le capitaine Guillaume, commandant les gendarmes de l'endroit, vint à passer. Pour lui, le délit était flagrant : le patron devait être condamné à une amende pour vente de boissons après une heure du matin.

— C'est notre faute si l'établissement n'a pas fermé à l'heure, s'écria un « titi » vacancier. Je propose que l'on se cotise pour payer. A combien s'élève la contredanse ?

— 78.000 anciens francs, répondit le gendarme.

Le règlement du vacancier, accompagné d'un sifflement sidéral.

— Eh bien ! On voit que de belles a besoin d'argent, laissa-t-il tomber, sincèrement indigné.

Il fut mis en prison. Le pandore se couvrit de gloire sous le coup d'un énorme ridicule. Le Parisien fut accusé de décliner ses identités fictives. On l'entendit le lendemain pour établir le procès-verbal d'offense au chef de l'Etat !

Moralité, méfiez-vous : il y a toujours quelqu'un qui veut du galon.

suite à l'époque :

— Je ne partirai d'ici que les pieds devant !

Son obsession

Mais une image l'obsède : celle d'un président de la République diminué qui n'arriverait plus à assumer sa tâche. Il lui faut pourtant choisir ! Et vite.

D'où l'idée d'un nouveau plan de sauvetage pour assurer l'avenir SANS RIEN LAISSER AU HASARD. Un plan qui risque de bousculer quelque peu le calendrier politique établi dans l'euphorie d'avant la rechute.

Dommage ! C'était un vrai feu d'artifice, ce calendrier des grandes manœuvres élyséennes. Rien n'y manquait. Au début de 1965, on aurait proclamé le succès complet et définitif du plan de stabilisation, en étouffant les ricanements et les quolibets sous le tintamarre de l'O.R.T.F. et de la grande presse féale. Aussitôt après, on lâchait tout : le crédit, les subventions, les prix agricoles, les prix industriels, les traitements, les salaires, pour faire passer sur l'Hexagone un grand souffle d'euphorie. Et éviter du même coup un échec trop cuisant aux élections municipales de mars.

Dans ce climat de « prospérité » retrouvée, on procédait au renouvellement d'un tiers des sièges du Sénat, à la fin septembre, comme prévu. On poussait vers le fauteuil présidentiel de cette honorable Assemblée Edgar Faure ou Joseau-Marigné, dit « Zozo Marigné », tout en avertissant aimablement les sénateurs de l'importance de leur choix : s'ils conservaient Monnerville à leur tête, ils se condamneraient eux-mêmes à une prochaine disparition.

Dissoudre la Chambre

En décembre 1965, au terme du septennat, c'était l'apothéose : de Gaulle réélu faisait un nouvel accroc à la Constitution par un référendum sur la vice-présidence, donnée en apanage au Premier ministre — Pompidou ou le favori du moment.

— Je me fais vieux, aurait expliqué le Guide aux Français, soupire de Gaulle.

Six mois pour faire la V^e, c'est peu. Et il y a de grandes chances pour que le général utilise ses dernières forces à mettre les bouchées doubles.

S'il veut prolonger le régime, il doit le relancer avant que les progrès de la maladie ne l'obligent à quitter la direction des affaires.

Comment ? La méthode la moins risquée, ce serait l'élection présidentielle anticipée, au cours des prochains mois. Alors que les comités Gustave et Théodule de l'opposition en sont encore aux bavardages, de Gaulle donnerait sa démission et reposerait aussitôt sa candidature pour en appeler au peuple de toutes les misères qu'on veut lui faire. En cas de succès il organiserait un référendum, quelques semaines plus tard, pour faire désigner son dauphin par la Constitution.

Que l'on voie la chose venir prochainement, à la chute des feuilles, par exemple, voilà qui ne nous ferait pas écarquiller les yeux d'étonnement.

L'autre solution

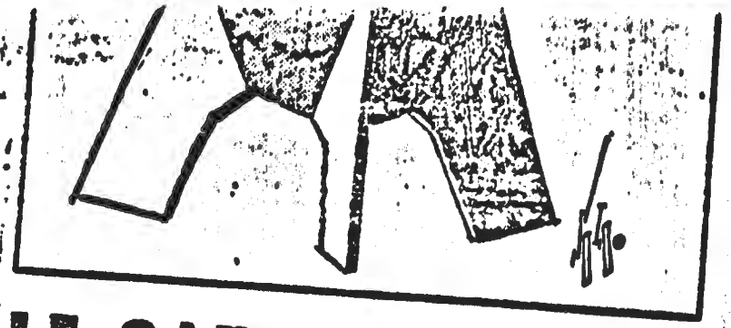
Reste l'autre solution, celle que souhaitent certains ultras du parti godilliot, toujours prêts à courir l'aventure pour sauver les meubles.

— Faites tout de suite un référendum, lui soufflent ces affolés, et demandez aux Français de répondre par un seul oui au renouvellement de votre mandat et à la désignation de Pompidou comme votre successeur éventuel. Dans l'état de somnolence où se complaît actuellement l'opposition, vous ferez place nette à coup sûr !

La nouvelle, qui commence seulement à filtrer à travers les portes capitonnées des antichambres ministérielles, a jeté les penseurs de la gauche gaullienne dans l'émoi le plus douloureux.

— C'est sûrement de l'intox, se disent ces gens pour se rassurer. Pourquoi pas le Consulat à vie pendant qu'on y est ?

Hé ! Hé ! C'est à voir après tout. Encore que, les choses étant ce qu'elles sont, on n'en est plus à Marengo. Ce serait plutôt Sedan.



LE CABOT DANS UN JEU DE QUILLES...

POUR ceux qui croyaient encore que les propos aimables, dont notre Guide bien-aimé avait gratifié les Américains en Provence, étaient sérieux, l'illusion n'aura pas duré longtemps...

Cabot Lodge, venu à Paris expliquer la politique de Washington au Vietnam, a dû se contenter d'un entretien entre deux portes avec Jove, le remplaçant de Pompidou.

Comme par hasard, Pompon, qui devait rentrer la veille à Paris, se faisait photographier à la même heure, à Saint-Trop', fendant la vague sur un canot automobile !

Rosserie supplémentaire : Couve était resté en Suisse pour terminer sa partie de golf. Il s'était fait représenter par un fonctionnaire du Quai !

Théo s'en mêle

Cabot Lodge, qui sait ménager sa publicité, était tout sourire devant la galerie. Mais, en privé, il ne cachait pas que la réception gaullienne avait, pour le moins, manqué d'ampleur et même de courtoisie.

D'autant que, dans les autres capitales européennes, l'envoyé spécial de Johnson avait eu droit aux honneurs dus à son rang : longés avec le ministre des Affaires étrangères... Avec des prévenances particulières à Bruxelles, où on lui fit rencontrer le président de la Chambre, Chaban-Delmas, lui, n'allait évidemment pas interrompre sa partie de tennis pour recevoir un vilain « Amerloc ».

Ce périple de Cabot Lodge a d'ailleurs eu pour résultat d'envenimer encore un peu plus les relations — déjà pas si brillantes — avec nos voisins. Témoin cette déclaration du chef du gouvernement belge, Théo Lefevre :

— Je ne crois pas, a-t-il dit, que les pays européens en général se soient montrés habiles et adroits au point de pouvoir se permettre de porter un jugement négatif sur la politique américaine au Vietnam. Ce n'est pas une question d'humilité, mais de simple réalisme.

Et pan pour mon général ! Il voulait déjà Spaak, le ministre belge des Affaires étrangères, aux gémonies. M. Théo Lefevre n'est pas près d'être invité à l'Elysée.

AVIS ! Charles Frappart, adjoint d'Olivier Guichard à l'Aménagement du territoire, accepterait volontiers la présidence de la Société d'Etudes pour le Développement Economique et Social, que...

De Gaulle : maintenant le temps presse

MAINTENANT, on ne peut plus en douter. Quand de Gaulle, à Toulon, a laissé tomber sa mystérieuse petite phrase sur la nécessité de « faire désormais ce qu'il faut pour nous garantir », c'était bien le signal que les vacances étaient terminées. Les vacances politiques s'entend. Les initiés sont déjà en alerte : la rentrée pourrait nous réserver un coup de Trafalgar.

L'allusion à « l'univers dangereux où nous vivons », celle aux « raisons quasi mortelles qui ont failli nous jeter à l'abîme », n'étaient pas le fait du hasard. Désormais le Guide n'a plus qu'une idée en tête : la survie du régime AU CAS OU LE PIRE ARRIVERAIT. Il est au seuil de décisions capitales. Et notre petit doigt nous dit que les choses vont se précipiter.

Pourquoi cette hâte soudaine ? C'est qu'en dépit des démentis savamment distillés dans les cercles officiels, de Gaulle a brusquement pris conscience que le temps, maintenant, lui était étroitement mesuré. Il sent ses forces décliner. Un rien le fatigue. Cette [illegible] échappent. On l'a encore constaté en Provence où un lapsus malheureux lui a fait parler de « notre allié » — lequel, grand Dieu ! — au lieu de « nos alliés ». Dans le cortège officiel, les plus incorrigibles optimistes ont été frappés par son air fatigué.

— Oui, le général ne va pas bien, ont-ils reconnu devant des « compagnons » incrédules en évoquant les traits creusés, le teint cireux, le dos voûté, le bras gauche légèrement raidi.

Bref, l'inquiétude renaît dans le petit monde féal comme aux plus sombres jours de Cochin. De Gaulle ne l'ignore pas et, dans la solitude retrouvée de Colombey, comme à la veille de chaque tournant historique, lui-même bute sur la grande interrogation : [illegible]

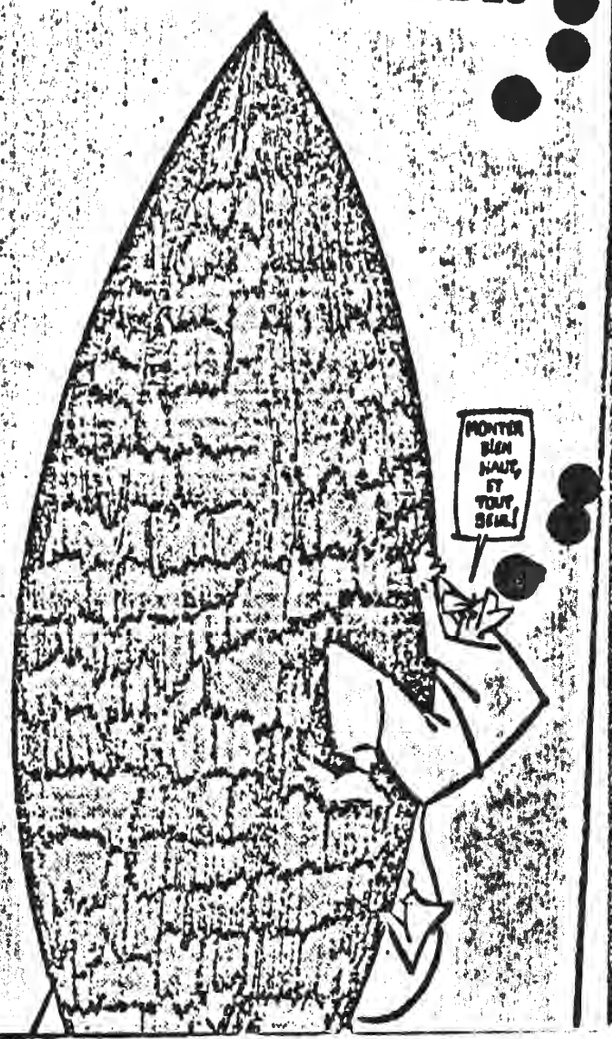
La stabilité est à ce prix.

Et cette assurance contre le risque d'une disparition brutale une fois souscrite, il ne restait plus qu'à passer au dernier chapitre : consolider les godillots sur les bancs du Palais-Bourbon. Car cela aussi était prévu. Mais c'était encore UN SECRET D'ETAT : sans attendre l'expiration normale du mandat de l'Assemblée Nationale au printemps 1967, le Grand Mécharlot avait décidé LA DISSOLUTION POUR 1966.

Bouchées doubles

Nous disons bien AVAIT. Car voilà que tout est remis en question. Aujourd'hui, le temps presse.

CHAMONIX 15 AOUT : LA FÊTE DES GUIDES



celui-ci n'il ne vaut pas son pesant de Frey ?

« Il est interdit sur tout le parcours suivi par le cortège officiel [illegible]

« a) De placer aux fenêtres, contre les murs et au-dessus des portes des objets susceptibles de blesser les passants par leur chute ;

« c) De jeter des confetti, serpentins, bouquets et de distribuer ou jeter des tracts de toute nature. »

Sait-on jamais, avec ces bouillants Méditerranéens ? Des fois qu'ils auraient la fantaisie de confondre le Grand Mécharlot et sa Majesté Carnaval !

RENFORTS

L'HOPITAL Maillot, à Alger, connaît une belle pagaille. Les Algériens ne sont pas capables de l'entretenir. Pas davantage de le faire fonctionner.

Qu'à cela ne tienne ! Sidi Broglie a obtenu de Messmer que des médecins militaires français soient expédiés là-bas. Il leur est toutefois interdit de se mettre en uniforme.

Les beaux gestes sont anonymes.

Charmant-Delmas saisit brusquement le bras de son voisin, le très pincé Geoffroy (Chouron) de Courcel, notre ambassadeur à Londres, pour lui dire dans un sifflement admiratif :

— Regardez ça, mon cher, même en bikini elles sont gaullistes !

Un beau spectacle, quoi ! Il n'y avait que les malheureux bidasses, levés depuis l'aube et condamnés au garde-à-vous malgré les démangeaisons que vous imaginez, pour trouver que l'atmosphère était suffocante.

A Cavalaire, on vit même un carré de ministres, formé de Messmer, Grandval, Palewski et Sainteny se désintéresser ostensiblement du boniment présidentiel et jouer de la prunelle en direction de la ligne multicolore des baigneuses.

Il est vrai que le Guide, de plus en plus myope, se laissa aller à serrer les mains de quelques-unes de ces jeunes beautés dévêtues. Heureusement que Tante Yvonne était restée à la maison !

L'emballage

A Saint-Raphaël, c'est Malraux qui fut surpris en train de frôler par inadvertance une nymphette vêtue d'un deux pièces à la surface très corrigée.

— Que pensez-vous du monokini, lui demanda le député-maire Lauria, godillot bon teint, mais volontiers coquin.

— Frey ne m'a pas consulté quand il l'a interdit, rétorqua notre brouillon de culture. Je m'occupe des œuvres d'art et lui de l'emballage !

Quant à de Gaulle, malgré la fatigue qui lui burinait le visage, il fut égal à lui-même. Au Mont Faron, on commença par lui passer un film sur le débarquement franco-américain de 1944, où il n'était pas. Au bout de dix minutes, il en eut assez :

— Partons, dit-il, agacé. C'est trop long. En bas, « ils » m'attendent !

Et l'on fila dare-dare sur Toulon, fêter « son » débarquement.

TOUR LES SPECIAUX

AYEZ donc un peu le sens des nuances, s'il vous plaît, si vous voulez comprendre quelque chose aux sinuosités de la politique élyséenne ! Quand le général se penche sur le grande misère du Congo, ce n'est pas pour mettre son nez dans les convulsions internes de ce pays, c'est pour lui apporter généreusement une aide économique et sociale, voyons !

Peyrefitte l'a d'ailleurs bien précisé à l'issue du dernier

COUAC

POUR qui se prennent-ils donc ces gens de l'Association varoise « Rhin et Danube » ? Parce qu'on ne l... a pas conviés aux cérémonies commémoratives de Provence, ils ont boudé les réjouissances !

Peut-être croyaient-ils que c'était leur débarquement dont on allait fêter le souvenir ? Tant pis pour eux !

Leur président départemental, le lieutenant-colonel Meiravel, a été jusqu'à publier un très sec communiqué dans la presse locale :

« Dans le déroulement de cette journée, écrit-il, nulle part il n'a été réservé aux membres de « Rhin et Danube » l'une des places de choix qui auraient dû leur revenir... Fidèles à la devise de leur chef, « Ne pas subir », ils se replieront sur eux-mêmes et accorderont une pensée émue à leurs frères d'armes. »

Un drôle de couac dans le fanfare, non ?

UN INDICE : En 1961, on a investi en France 10 % de plus qu'en 1960. En 1962, 7,5 % de plus qu'en 1961. En 1963, 6 % de plus qu'en 1962. L'argent, c'est comme les cigognes, ça disparaît dès les premiers frimas !

[illegible] pour notre chère ne faisions que [illegible] notre part.

TIENS, TIENS ! Ces rumeurs qui nous viennent des Antilles [illegible] Londres ? Treize [illegible] capitales à la Martinique dans le seul mois de juin ? Eh ! Foyot, dites-nous quelque chose !

Son képi chez les bikinis

FAN de chichourle ! On s'en souviendra du débarquement du général sur les côtes de Provence ! Foi d'Escartefigue, on n'avait encore jamais eu droit à un festival policier aussi grandiose.

Pas moins de 3.000 C.R.S. et plus de 2.000 gendarmes, dont certains avaient été expédiés de Belfort et même de Lille, pour endiguer l'enthousiasme des autochtones et des vacanciers ! Sans compter les gorilles, les barbouzes et les hommes-grenouilles !

Les journaux locaux avaient dû consacrer des colonnes entières aux avis officiels : on interdisait tout : le stationnement aussi bien que la circulation des voitures, la baignade sur les plages comme la pêche, le canotage ou même le yachting. On a même été jusqu'à fermer vingt et un bureaux du P.M.U. ! Dans ce festival de l'interdit, il appartenait naturellement au préfet du Var, un certain Armand Berthet, de surclasser par son

« Pendant la durée du voyage, ajoutait le prudent Berthet, il est également interdit de remettre directement à M. le Président de la République, ainsi qu'aux personnalités officielles, lettre, supplique, placet, bouquet, boîte ou cadeau quelconque. »

« Timeo Gallicos et dona ferentes » !

Si Tante Yvonne...

Une chance encore que le préfet ait oublié d'interdire le bikini sur le passage du général. Accablés par ce coquin de soleil, les officiels ont pu au moins dévorer de la pupille les jolies baigneuses venues au devant du cortège.

SUBJECT: MRS. MARGUERITE OSWALD (MOTHER OF LEE OSWALD ASSASSIN OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY)

At approximately 1:15 p.m., today, the above-captioned woman called the FBI and asked to talk with the Director. The call was transferred to me. Mrs. Oswald was in a highly hysterical frame of mind and started to shout at me that she was being transferred from one person to the other and that she had information to give to Mr. Hoover. I told her I would take the information. She said she wasn't going to pay for the telephone call for it would be a large bill and she indicated she had considerable to say. She told me she did not want to give this information to our local office in Texas but rather wanted me to call back so that the FBI would pay for the call and gave me the telephone number 7-7677 in Fort Worth, Texas.* When I asked her for the address from which she was calling, she hung up in a state of anger.

I see no reason to call this woman or to have our Dallas Office go out and see her again. We have already sent Agents to talk to her on the grounds she had information to give but what she had was a product of her unsettled mind and was nothing of any value whatsoever.

Dallas has been advised of this telephone call and told not to take any action at this time. Dallas in return stated that Mrs. Oswald had called the office about an hour ago and that an Agent was already en route to talk to her and to take whatever information she had to give.

(SUBVERSIVE CONTROL)

Re Cleveland letter to Bureau dated 6/24/64.

Enclosed for the Bureau are eight copies of a letterhead memorandum concerning an interview with captioned individual on August 26, 1964.

The information is being submitted in the form of a letterhead memorandum since the Bureau may desire to disseminate the information especially since it makes reference to the possible murder of Senator BARRY GOLDWATER.

The Bureau will recall that ZEMAITIS has been a "pest" to the Cleveland Office for some time and has furnished many wild stories which are the pure figment of his imagination and are completely unrealistic. The Cleveland Division has, on numerous occasions, attempted to tactfully discourage ZEMAITIS from calling and visiting the Cleveland Office, but to date this has been unsuccessful as is evident from the information set forth in the attached letterhead memorandum. The Cleveland Division will, however, continue its efforts to discourage ZEMAITIS making contact with the Bureau.

His latest request was that the information set forth in the attached letterhead memorandum is of such a vital nature that he wanted to personally furnish it to the Director.

INFORMATION CONCERNING

JONAS ZEMAITIS, 11389 Deborah Drive, Cleveland, Ohio, appeared at the Cleveland Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) on August 26, 1964, and stated that he had a number of things he wished to discuss. He said he had learned all information from his contacts with the Anti-Communist Lithuanian Underground; but as he has done in the past, ZEMAITIS refused to identify any individuals with whom he is in contact, refusing to state how and when his contacts are made.

He said the item with number one priority is that instructions have been issued from Moscow that Senator BARRY GOLDWATER is to be killed before the 1964 Presidential Elections. ZEMAITIS had no information as to how this is to be done or who is to actually murder Senator GOLDWATER. He went on to say that if it is impossible to murder Senator GOLDWATER before the elections, a number of riots are to be started all over the United States shortly after the election, and these riots will be far more destructive than anything that has taken place in the United States heretofore. ZEMAITIS had no further information regarding this alleged plot against the life of Senator GOLDWATER.

ZEMAITIS then stated that CYRUS EATON, the well-known Cleveland industrialist, is to provide money for Communists operating all around the world. He did not know whether EATON is spending his own money or is using money being furnished him by the Soviet government. He went on to point out that EATON has a group of prostitutes working throughout the United States to gather information which EATON personally transmits to the Soviet Union. He stated that the prostitutes are operating in areas where defense plants and military bases are located. ZEMAITIS was unable to name anyone participating in this activity and had no information as to how these persons are being recruited to work for EATON. He also mentioned groups are being organized to commit sabotage in all important industries in the United States in the event of war.

RE: JONAS ZEMAITIS, aka.
Valdo Regas, Waldo
Ragas, Valdo Ragash,
Jonas Z.

According to ZEMAITIS, the People's Republic of China and the Soviet Union have reached an agreement whereby Australia will be taken over by the Chinese without any interference from the Soviet government, and the USSR will take over all of Africa without any interference from the Red Chinese government.

With respect to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, ZEMAITIS stated OSWALD had been told by his Soviet superiors that the government would be overthrown at the time he assassinated President KENNEDY. He said that JACK RUBY is a part of the CYRUS EATON apparatus operating in the United States; and when it was discovered OSWALD had been arrested, orders were given in Moscow for RUBY to do away with OSWALD. RUBY was told the people in the United States would sympathize with him action of murdering OSWALD and great throngs would congregate at the jail to demand his release. He said the Soviet government was under the impression the American people would rise up in indignation over OSWALD killing the President and for this reason would come to RUBY's rescue.

ZEMAITIS said the Soviet government desires that President LYNDON JOHNSON be re-elected because they know he can be bought with "money."

In an interview with the Special Agent in Charge of the FBI on May 9, 1960, ZEMAITIS was highly critical of the United States for allowing an airplane used on a spy mission to be shot down by the Russians.

On February 28, 1962, ZEMAITIS appeared at the Cleveland Office of the FBI and advised that Astronaut JOHN GLENN is HITLER in disguise.

ZEMAITIS has been in contact with officials of the United States government including representatives of the Central Intelligence Agency, Department of Defense, White House, and the FBI in Washington, D. C. He has made statements to representatives of the FBI that JACQUELINE KENNEDY is a Communist and gave permission for her husband to be assassinated.

RE: JONAS ZEMAITIS, aka.
Valdo Regas, Waldo
Ragas, Valdo Ragash,

When pressed for information concerning the circumstances under which he is in contact with the Lithuanian Underground, ZEMAITIS merely states, "I am giving you the information you can believe it or not."

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

This deals with the latest (8/24/64) rantings of Oswald's mother, Marguerite Oswald. The details which follow in chronological sequence clearly show the deterioration of Mrs. Oswald's mental processes.

At 12:10 p.m., 8/24/64, she called the Dallas Office and asked to speak to Special Agent in Charge Shanklin. When advised he was not then available, she said that perhaps she should contact "Herbert Hoover." She said she had nothing to do with the assassination, but that in her view everyone else was under suspicion. She inferred she had information which might involve an FBI Agent. She refused to discuss this over the telephone but indicated a willingness to be interviewed by Agents from Fort Worth. At 1:15 p.m., by referral from the Director's office, she spoke telephonically with Assistant Director W. C. Sullivan. She said she desired to furnish information and Mr. Sullivan told her he would accept it. She said she was not going to pay for the telephone call as she had considerable to say and it would be costly. She asked to be called back and furnished an indistinct telephone number. When asked for the address from which she was calling, she angrily hung up. She did not furnish any information to Mr. Sullivan.

At 2:23 p.m., 8/24/64, she called Washington Field Office and spoke to Special Agent (SA) Robert P. Finzel. She claimed she received an anonymous call earlier in the day, the caller advising her that the hotel bill of Hugh Aynesworth of "The Dallas Morning News" was being paid by the FBI. She said she then anonymously telephoned Aynesworth, who greeted her as "Lu" (phonetic). She claimed to have asked Aynesworth how he would like another FBI scoop to which he replied, "Oh, it is you Mrs. Hosty." From this she asserted that Agent Hosty or his wife is furnishing information to Aynesworth. She further alleged that she learned from an informant, whom she refused to identify, that former Agent John Fain of Dallas paid Oswald's fine when he was arrested in New Orleans in 8/63.

On the afternoon of 8/24/64 she was contacted at her home by Dallas Agents. She refused to be interviewed stating she gave the information in her possession to Mr. Sullivan in Washington. She said she "decided to go to the top"; that she would not give the information to "ordinary Agents" and that she did not want "to get involved." She volunteered that she had some "gossip" to pass along and related that while taping a television program in New York on 8/7/64 on which she appeared (a panel show) with Les Crane, moderator, and Melvin Belli, Ruby's former lawyer, she "outsmarted" Belli on five occasions and the audience "absolutely loved it." She said she learned after this program that Belli conferred with Ruby in his cell which she did not think was proper as Belli no longer represented Ruby.

OBSERVATIONS:

Mrs. Oswald's actions on 8/24/64 are ludicrous and her assertions are patently ridiculous. From them and from other wild allegations she has made in the past, it is clear to see that she is deteriorating mentally. It is of interest to note that Agent Hosty's wife is Janet Ethel, nee Perry. The records of Municipal Court in New Orleans show that Oswald, after his arrest in 8/63, on 8/12/63 elected to pay a fine of $10 rather than serve ten days in jail. Moreover, former SA Fain has appeared before the Commission and offered sworn testimony concerning the nature and extent of his association with Oswald.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the President's Commission be advised of Mrs. Oswald's most recent rantings and that no further action be taken. Attached for approval is a letter to the President's Commission with a copy to Dallas for information purposes.

Enclosed for recipient offices are one copy each of self-explanatory letter from the Commission dated 8/23/64 and the enclosures thereto. Bureau regards the enclosures to Commission's letter to total six items rather than four indicated in incoming.

Note that all of the communications referred to in the first paragraph of page one of incoming are communications in the Oswald case, except document described as report of Special Agent (SA) Clements dated 12/14/63 at Dallas which is, in fact, Agent Clements' report in the Ruby case. Bureau sees no association between information on referenced page of Agent Clements' report in the Ruby case to the allegation of Sylvia Odio and the Commission will be advised of this. The 3/13/64 report of SA Heitman referred to in second paragraph of page two of incoming is the Dallas report of that date in the Oswaldo Aurelio Pino Pino matter, Dallas file 105-1579.

Indicated offices carefully review enclosed material and immediately institute inquiry as requested in incoming.

Dallas is to interview Guillermo Othon and Osvaldo Pino Pino. In connection with Commission's request that investigation be conducted to determine who it was Sylvia Odio saw in late 9/63, Dallas interview a representative number of the leaders in the Dallas area of the "Juro" and "Dre" organizations. If any information is available concerning the identity of pro-Castro individuals in the Dallas area who attempted to infiltrate anti-Castro groups, interview such individuals.

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

In connection with requested inquiry concerning the sale of Continental Trailways bus tickets from Dallas to Laredo or points beyond on 9/24 - 25/63 if the Continental Company no longer maintains records of this nature, simply so state. Note that from numerous factors which have been developed in this investigation, it appears highly improbable, if not impossible, for Oswald to have been at the Odio apartment in Dallas on nights of 9/24 through 26/63. In view of this and in light of Sylvia Odio's mental and nervous condition, Bureau believes that the most productive method of disproving her allegation lies in investigation to develop further specifics concerning her mental status and to establish her reputation for veracity. Note that Mrs. C. L. Connell, the source of the information concerning the claims of Sylvia Odio, advised that on 11/23/63 Odio indicated she was aware Oswald had made talks to small groups of Cuban refugees in Dallas and that she personally considered him brilliant and clever and that he captivated groups to whom he spoke. Further that Odio claimed a call had been made in recent months by a Cuban associate of hers to an unknown source in New Orleans concerning Oswald and that in turn the New Orleans source reported that Oswald was a "double agent" attempting to infiltrate the Dallas Cuban refugee group and that he should not be trusted.

When appearing before the Commission Sylvia Odio denied making any comments to Mrs. Connell concerning Oswald's appearance before Cuban refugee groups in Dallas. She further denied indicating to Connell that she considered Oswald clever and that he captivated groups to whom he spoke. It does not appear that the Commission questioned her concerning her reported comments to Mrs. Connell concerning check with the New Orleans source.

Dallas is to reinterview Sylvia Odio concerning these points. Question her specifically if she made such representations to Mrs. Connell. During interview develop background data including such information as the identity and whereabouts of her former husband, and her other relatives in the U. S. It is desired that her former husband be interviewed to develop specifics concerning Sylvia Odio's mental stability and her reputation for veracity. Dallas, where considered appropriate, set forth leads for interview of other relatives of Odio for same purpose. Dallas note that according to enclosures to incoming Odio fainted at her place of work on the day of the assassination and was taken to a hospital in Irving, Texas. Conduct inquiry pertinent to this incident. Dallas conduct inquiry at Odio's places of employment in the Dallas area to determine her general reputation.

New Orleans conduct inquiry at inexpensive hotels in the areas indicated in incoming to determine if you can place Oswald in New Orleans on the night of 9/24/63. In this connection check at all YMCAs in New Orleans. New Orleans note that according to Father McChanu, (page 7, Secret Service letter 5/5/64) Sylvia Odio's uncle is a Dr. Augustine Guitart, a physics professor at Xavier University in New Orleans who was frequently in telephonic contact with Odio. Contact Dr. Guitart to develop data re Odio's background, her mental condition and her reputation for veracity. No action is desired by New Orleans concerning Evaristo Gilberto Rodriguez referred to in first paragraph, page two of incoming, as investigation concerning his allegations has been reported and furnished to Commission.

Miami contact headquarters "Jure" in effort to locate and interview Manuel Ray. If Ray is presently located in Puerto Rico, set forth lead to San Juan to interview him concerning his knowledge of Sylvia Odio.

Dallas note that page three of Secret Service, Miami, 4/24/64 report (document 1426) shows receipt of informant information to the effect that police of Puerto Rico made inquiries about Sylvia Odio, however, basis of inquiries were unknown. Note that Odio admitted suffering from a mental condition in Puerto Rico and there is some information that she may have deserted her husband and children there. When sufficient background concerning Odio, her residence and acquaintances in Puerto Rico have been obtained, Dallas set forth lead to San Juan to handle appropriate inquiry.

Noting request in first paragraph on page four of incoming, leads in this matter are to be sent by teletype and Bureau is to be currently informed of all developments, including completion of negative inquiries, by teletype summary. Deadline for completion of inquiry and submission of letterhead is 9/11/64.

NOTE:

Odio, who admittedly is suffering from nervious-mental condition and has been under care of psychiatrist, claims that Oswald visited her in company of two Cubans at her apartment in Dallas on night 9/26 or 27/63. She says that unidentified Cuban who accompanied Oswald told her telephonically following day that Oswald spoke of necessity to kill the President. Oswald was in NO until sometime during the day of 9/25/63 for he obtained an unemployment check from the mail which was not deposited in his box prior to 5 a.m. 9/25/63 and he cashed it at a store in NO which did not open until 8 a.m. that day. We have placed him boarding a bus in Houston at 2 a.m. 9/26/63 and from that

NOTE: Miss Miller by letter 12-4-63, posed several questions concerning the assassination and made substantially the same allegations as in her 7-27-64, letter. She claims to have met an individual in Louisville on 9-7-63, who she feels was Oswald. Louisville was instructed to interview Miller inasmuch as the whereabouts of Oswald during September, 1963, are not positively known although it is suspected he was in New Orleans during this month. Louisville interviewed her on 8-7-64, and she maintains on the night of 9-17-63, she and a friend Harold Caddell met three young men, one of whom resembled Oswald, and to whom Caddell spoke to possibly in the Russian language. She claims this man was carrying a case, and she feels it could have held the assassination rifle.

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at her residence, 629 Belt Line Road, Richardson, Texas. Mr. DECLAN FORD, an advisor of MARINA OSWALD, was present during this interview.

MARINA advised that on the evening of August 26, 1964, Mr. JAMES WESLEY LIEBELER, a representative of the President's Commission, telephonically contacted MARINA at her residence to inquire of her concerning several matters in the investigation of the assassination, including an inquiry as to whether LEE HARVEY OSWALD had left New Orleans for Mexico the day following the departure of MARINA from New Orleans to Texas, or if OSWALD had stayed on in New Orleans for a while before his departure for Mexico. MARINA said that when Mr. LIEBELER asked this question it recalled to her that she had, on about August 17 or 18, 1964, found among some personal effects belonging to her, a stub of a Mexican bus ticket. She said she told Mr. LIEBELER about this ticket and that she had found it in a paperback pamphlet which OSWALD had brought back from Mexico. MARINA said these items, as well as the other items described below, had been discovered by her in a small brown suitcase which contained old magazines, personal letters, personal photographs of her children, greeting cards and books. This suitcase and its contents had been in MARINA's possession at the PAINE house at the time of the assassination. Following the assassination, these items were delivered to her. She does not recall now exactly when she acquired them or from whom.

MARINA made available these pertinent items which are described as follows:

(1) A paper stub of a bus ticket issued by Transportes del Norte showing travel from Mexico, D. F. to Laredo, Texas. The price shown is $93.75 (M$-Pesos). The stub number is 13688. A block stamp bearing this legend appears on the back of the stub, "Transportes del Norte, Set. 30, 1963, Mexico D.F., J. Gascon". The date shown is September 30, 1963. MARINA stated she found this stub inside the paperback pamphlet entitled "This Week - Esta Semana" which is described immediately below.

(2) A paperback pamphlet entitled "This Week - Esta Semana", for the week September 28 - October 4, 1963, which is written in the English and the Spanish languages. This book is a well-known tourist and entertainment guide for the Republic of Mexico and is published on a weekly basis. MARINA exhibited handwriting which appears on page 38 of this pamphlet. Some of this handwriting is in English and there is some Russian handwriting. MARINA identified the handwriting as that of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. She also pointed out markings made by a pen on pages 29, 31, 50, 54 and 78, but she could not identify these markings as having been made by LEE HARVEY OSWALD or any other person.

(3) A book with cover torn off entitled "Learning Russian", published by Foreign Languages Publishing House, Moscow. Author is NINA POTAPOVA. On page 12 of this book the Russian alphabet is printed and part of the alphabet is torn out. MARINA remarked that she had been exhibited by a representative of the President's Commission pieces of paper on which had been pasted printed letters cut from some book or magazine. She said therefore this item might be of interest in the investigation. She identified this book as a book used by OSWALD in his study of the Russian language.

(4) A guide map of Mexico City, folded, published by Editorial Flecha, printed in Mexico, D. F., which contains a large map of Mexico City on which appear three enclosed circle markings. There also appears on the back a smaller map which contains three circle markings, as well as a line drawn along streets in Mexico City. In the index opposite this smaller map, several locations are checked. MARINA identified this map as being the property of OSWALD. She said he probably obtained it in Mexico on his trip there.

(5) A paperback pamphlet entitled FIESTA BRAVA, published by Pemex Travel Club, Mexico, D. F., which describes the bullfight. MARINA stated this was also the property of OSWALD and was probably obtained by him in Mexico on his trip there and brought back by him to Dallas.

(6) A library pass in the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, dated April, 1962, written in the Russian language. This pass was used by OSWALD to obtain books in public libraries in Russia.

MARINA stated she had probably seen these pamphlets and book on several occasions, but did not think them of particular pertinence in this investigation. She said she did not know that the bus ticket stub was contained in one of the pamphlets.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

Miss Josephine Miller, Drift, Kentucky, was advised on August 19, 1964, that it may not be possible to conceal her identity from Howard Caddell in view of the nature of the inquiry and the circumstances of this matter. She said the main reason she did not want her name mentioned is that she would be fearful of retaliation by Caddell if he is in any manner connected with an international organization which effectively eliminated President Kennedy. She recalled Caddell recently mentioned in a letter he had had a nervous breakdown. She now believes, after studied thought, that Caddell may be ready for or has had a mental breakdown. She reiterated she firmly believes the man she saw in Louisville, Kentucky, in September, 1963, was Lee Harvey Oswald or his double.

Mr. Howard Andrew Caddell, Room #5, Stearns Hotel, Stearns, Kentucky, advised as follows:

He was born at Wallins Creek, Kentucky, on June 27, 1927. He was in the U. S. Navy from August 13, 1944, to April 2, 1946, at which time he received an honorable discharge. He graduated from Berea College, Berea, Kentucky, in 1952. He was married to the former Ursulla Boehm, who was born in Germany but is a citizen of the United States. He met his wife at Berea, Kentucky, where she resided and where she attended school. She came to the United States in 1939. He and his wife are divorced and she resides at 715 Emery, Longmont, Colorado.

ENCLOSURE

He has been employed in the past as a school teacher. During the year of 1962-1963, he was employed by the Department of Education in Florida and instructed inmates at the State Prison, Raiford, Florida. While working at Raiford, he maintained a residence at 5032 Redstone Drive, Jacksonville, Florida. He was experiencing domestic trouble in the spring and summer of 1963 and departed Florida.

In the summer of 1963, he went to Prestonsburg, Kentucky, to see Jack and Nancy Hodges, who are friends. He attended college with Jack Hodges. At the time he arrived in Prestonsburg, he was hard pressed financially and received assistance from his friends. He obtained employment while in Prestonsburg with the Forcum and Lannom Company, home office at Dyersburg, Tennessee. This firm is in the construction business and had a contract on a sewer project at Prestonsburg. He had duties of a field office manager for this firm at Prestonsburg. He was in Prestonsburg for some three or four months' time and resided at the Blue Sky Motel.

While in Prestonsburg, he did a "little scouting" for State Police Trooper Don Gonbel. He furnished this Trooper with information concerning the illegal sale of liquor in Prestonsburg. He has never been employed by the U. S. Government, other than his service in the U. S. Navy. He has never been employed by the State of Kentucky.

While in college he had two years study of the German language, but is unable to carry on a conversation in the language. He knows a few words of Spanish and French, but is unable to carry on a conversation in either language.

He does not know anyone by the name of Harvey. The only person he could recall by either the first or last name of Harvey was the baseball player Harvey Haddix. He did meet Sam Marsh in Prestonsburg; Marsh was working there for the Lite Cast Products Company, Louisville, Kentucky. The Lite Cast Company had a construction job at the Jenny-Willey State Park. The last time he heard from Marsh, he (Marsh) was employed by West Broadway Motors, Louisville, Kentucky, as a salesman. He believes Marsh is from the State of Washington or Oregon.

In the fall of 1963, Caddell went to Louisville, Kentucky, where he was employed as a teacher at Shawnee Junior High School. He taught there for the school year of 1963-1964. He will teach school at the Stearns Elementary School, Stearns, Kentucky, the school year of 1964-1965.

Caddell advised he did not recall he had ever informed anyone he was employed by the C.I.A. or the Central Intelligence Agency. He did say he used intoxicants at times but did not ever drink to the point where he would not recall remarks he made. He advised he had never informed anyone he had been employed in any position where he had duties of guarding or protecting the President of the United States. He further advised he had never made any remark indicating he had been in the "Bay of Pigs Invasion" or that he had taken part in any attempted invasion of Cuba. He did not know anyone presently living in Cuba; he had attended Berea College with one or two students who were from Cuba. He did not "bump" anyone while walking along the streets of Louisville; he only weighed 110 pounds and he considered he would be at a disadvantage in starting trouble. He was unable to speak Russian. He did not recall ever talking with three men on the streets of Louisville he described as "pickpockets".

Caddell knew Hugo Miller during the time he attended Berea College and Miller lives in the vicinity of Prestonsburg and teaches at McDowell, Kentucky. Hugo Miller has a sister, Josephine Miller, and while working in Prestonsburg, he became acquainted with this individual. He did often date Josephine Miller while in Prestonsburg.

Josephine Miller owns rental property in Prestonsburg and also received income from coal interests. There were occasions when Josephine Miller did visit him at his motel. Josephine Miller "did get the idea" Caddell was planning to marry her and Caddell jokingly would remark that when she sold her property and was able to take care of him in the manner he was accustomed to living, he would marry her.

Caddell denied he ever informed Josephine Miller he was employed by the C.I.A. or ever had duties of protecting the President. He denied he ever informed her he took part in the Bay of Pigs invasion in Cuba. Caddell does have some scars on his face and body which he received when a child. He denied he informed Miss Miller he was employed on a "secret dope investigation" in Floyd County.

He stated the reason he departed Prestonsburg was to accept employment as a teacher in a school in Louisville; he did not inform Miss Miller he had been placed there by a "higher authority". Miss Miller did make a trip to Louisville in September of 1963, at which time he, Caddell, saw her. Miss Miller made the trip to Louisville with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hayes. Mr. Hayes is an attorney in Prestonsburg and is active in politics. Mrs. Hayes [redacted] and Miss Miller made the trip to "keep an eye on Mrs. Hayes". At the time Miss Miller was in Louisville, she and Caddell did make a visit to some bar where they had a few drinks. He recalls as they were leaving the bar, they did stop and talk with three young men for a few moments time. As he recalled, one of the men did have a musical instrument case in his hand and these three men were playing at some local bar. He did not talk with these men in any foreign language nor did he inform Miss Miller they were "pickpockets". He had never seen these men before. He did not "bump" people while he and Miss Miller were walking along the streets in Louisville; he may have turned his shoulder when walking through a crowd.

Caddell advised Miss Miller was known to drink intoxicants and on occasions would reach the point where she was intoxicated. Miss Miller is the type person who feels she "has to carry her family"; that is, assist the family. Miss Miller often writes letters to the editors of various publications. Caddell advised he believed Miss Miller was "demented" if she had stated he informed her he had been employed by the C.I.A., had duties of protecting the President, had a part in the invasion of Cuba, or spoke with the three young men in Louisville in a foreign language.

Caddell did call Miss Miller on the telephone at times when he would play a new record where she could hear it; he has held the telephone where she could hear the radio. There have been times when Miss Miller would call him at 3:00 A.M. and would talk for an hour's time; he estimated he had never talked with her longer than twenty or thirty minutes when he would make the call.

Caddell stated he did not know anyone who resembled Lee Harvey Oswald. While in the U. S. Navy, he served his entire time in the United States. He had been in Canada for a short time on one occasion but has visited no other foreign country.

Caddell advised it was correct he had made some remark he did not want people to know he was in Louisville; this being due to the fact he does not want to be contacted by his former wife's creditors. He further stated since he had furnished information concerning illegal liquor sales in Prestonsburg, he did not think it would be safe for him to visit there.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

BASIS FOR INQUIRY

The following investigation was conducted in an effort to locate one PAULA RUSIONI who reportedly traveled on Transportes del Norte bus from Mexico City, Mexico, to Laredo, Texas, on October 2-3, 1963. According to the records of Transportes del Norte (TDN), portions of TDN Ticket Number 9511 cover travel from Mexico City to Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico, and from Monterrey to Laredo, Texas. TDN records reflect these tickets were utilized by PAULA RUSIONI to travel on TDN Bus Number 332, which departed Mexico City at 8:30 a.m. on October 2, 1963, and arrived at Monterrey at about 9:30 p.m. the same date. Travel from Monterrey to Laredo was performed on TDN Bus Number 373, which departed Monterrey shortly thereafter and arrived at Laredo at about 2:00 a.m., October 3, 1963.

RESULTS OF INVESTIGATION

Mr. HARRY SMITH, Manager, Greyhound Bus Lines, Laredo, Texas, advised on July 17, 1964, after viewing Transportes del Norte ticket stubs numbered 9511 that he was in agreement that the tickets numbered 9511 were reissues of Ticket Number 39532, and that the purpose of the reissuance of these tickets was that there should have been four portions of the ticket rather than just two tickets. Mr. SMITH stated that there should have been a ticket for Laredo, Texas, to Monterrey, Monterrey to Mexico City, Mexico City to Monterrey, and Monterrey to Laredo, Texas, in order to complete the round trip ticket.

In this regard it is to be noted that HARRY SMITH, on May 13, 1964, advised that TDN Ticket Number 39532 was sold at Laredo, Texas, on September 10, 1963, and was a round trip ticket to Mexico; however, SMITH was not certain if this ticket was to Mexico City or some other destination in Mexico.

105-8255-4758

ENCLOSURE

On August 10, 1964, LEOBARDO MEDELLIN, Assistant Manager, Transportes del Norte Bus Company, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, also advised that Ticket Number 9511 was reissue of the original ticket, 39532, sold in Laredo, Texas, and that the reissue was made for the purpose of correcting the ticket to issue four portions which would be Laredo, Texas, to Monterrey, Monterrey to Mexico City, and on the return would be Mexico City to Monterrey, and Monterrey to Laredo, Texas.

MARINA OSWALD today advised PRISCILLA JOHNSON, the newspaper reporter who interviewed LEE HARVEY OSWALD in Moscow, is presently in Dallas and is conferring with her concerning the writing of a book to be authored by MARINA OSWALD.

MARINA advised she no longer retains WILLIAM MC KENZIE as her attorney as the litigation between her and her ex-manager JAMES H. MARTIN and her ex-attorney JOHN M. THORNE has now been settled. She said if she enters into a contractual arrangement with PRISCILLA JOHNSON or with publishers concerning her book, she will have another attorney examine any contracts or other legal documents which might be pertinent.

MARINA has requested that she be furnished with a list of all property belonging to her or her late husband and which is now in possession of the Bureau or the President's Commission. The Bureau is requested to advise if it will be satisfactory to furnish such a list to MARINA and if so, will such a list be furnished to Dallas by the Bureau or should it be made up from the files available at Dallas.

In A previous interview with Mrs. Davis ~~indicated~~ she commented that no written registers were kept when Oswald was alleged to have practiced at the range, however, when she furnished a deposition to Mr. Liebeler of the President's Commission, she commented she had written in her journal regarding a date that a man thought to be Oswald had been at the range. Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your recontacting Mrs. Virginia Louise Davis, 2225 By Way, Dallas, Texas who, with her husband, operates the Sports Drome Rifle Range in Dallas. When interviewed by Special Agents Carter and Brown on December 1, 1963, she apparently indicated that no written "register" was maintained at the rifle range during the period in September through November 1963, when Oswald is alleged to have practiced at the rifle range. However, during the course of her deposition before Mr. Liebeler on April 1, 1964, the following colloquy took place:

"Mr. Liebeler. Can you tell us the date that Mr. Price said he took Oswald in, or this man who he thought was Oswald, who was the last customer?

"Mrs. Davis. I don't know the exact date, but I wrote it in my journal, but I don't have it with me.

"Mr. Liebeler. When you refer to the journal, what do you mean?

"Mrs. Davis. It is a daily record I keep of everything that happens at the range. When we first opened, everyone had to sign it. But the FBI picked up the sign-in slips and checked it out, and, of course, Lee Harvey Oswald wasn't on it, but at the time we did not have fences up and anyone could get on the range without us knowing it."

EXP. PROC.

In the interview report prepared by Special Agents Carter and Brown on December 2, 1963, covering their interview with Mrs. Davis' husband, Floyd Guy Davis, it is stated that Mr. Davis "furnished a list of members who have registered to shoot at the range"; I do not believe that the Commission is in receipt of this membership list.

From the several statements obtained from the Davises, it is not clear precisely what records were maintained at the rifle range during 1963. Hence, we request that you have them clarify exactly what records they did maintain during October through November, 1963, which in any way reflect the names of persons present at their rifle range during those months, and that you attempt to get for the Commission a copy of all such records which you have not previously obtained. In addition, please attempt also to obtain a copy of the "journal" or "daily record," to which Mrs. Davis referred, for the months of September, October and November 1963. The Commission is particularly interested in any entries in Mrs. Davis' journal which she may have made on September 28, October 13, November 10, 13, 16, and 17, 1963, and a few days on either side of these dates.

If your Bureau previously has obtained any membership lists or other similar records from the Davises, we would appreciate receiving a copy of them, so that we will have a complete set of everything which has been obtained in regards to the rifle range.

Your continuing cooperation with the Commission is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On August 20, 1964, Lee E. Bowers, Jr., 10508 Maple Grove, Dallas, Texas, telephonically advised that he had just been contacted by telephone by a woman giving her name as "Mrs. Mark Martin", of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. Martin questioned Bowers regarding the assassination of President Kennedy and stated she was just an individual who was in Dallas for the purpose of trying to "piece the whole thing together".

Mr. Bowers stated that based upon the questions asked by Mrs. Martin, it was quite evident to him that she was in possession of the information which he had previously furnished to the Dallas Police Department, as well as the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mrs. Martin also asked Bowers if he thought Oswald committed the assassination and if there were any police on top of the triple underpass. She also asked him how fast the Texas School Book Depository had been sealed off by police.

It is noted that the "Mrs. Mark Martin" who telephonically contacted Mr. Bowers is possibly identical with Mrs. Mark E. Martin, also known as Shirley Martin, of Hominy, Oklahoma, who is reportedly conducting her own investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy.

There is attached a detailed report of the interview of Mr. Lee E. Bowers, Jr., on August 28, 1964, pertaining to his telephonic conversation of August 20, 1964, with the aforementioned "Mrs. Mark Martin".

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date September 1, 1964

Mr. LEE E. BOWERS, JR., 10508 Maple Grove, Dallas, Texas, home telephone number Davis 1-1909, was interviewed at his present place of employment, the Green Clinic and Hospital, 1302 Englewood Street, Dallas; office telephone number Whitehall 2-1361.

Mr. BOWERS advised that on November 22, 1963, the day of the assassination of President KENNEDY, he was employed as a tower man at the North Tower Street Union Terminal Company, a railroad, which is located adjacent to the Texas School Book Depository building and the triple underpass, which President Kennedy's automobile was about to pass under at the time of the shooting.

Mr. BOWERS stated that at approximately 12:15 p.m. on Thursday, August 20, 1964, he received a local telephone call at work from a woman who identified herself as "Mrs. MARK MARTIN", of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. MARTIN described herself to Mr. BOWERS as a private individual conducting her own investigation into the events in Dallas on the day of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

Mrs. MARTIN expressed to Mr. BOWERS her desire to have a personal interview with him in his office about what he had witnessed and testified to as having seen at the triple underpass and in the vicinity of the Texas School Book Depository building at the time of the assassination.

Mr. BOWERS advised that he told Mrs. MARTIN that he had nothing to offer to her, and he saw no reason for her to interview him regarding this matter.

According to Mr. BOWERS, Mrs. MARTIN stated she desired to talk to him for a minute or two. He stated their telephone conversation lasted approximately seven or eight minutes.

ENCLOSURE

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Mr. BOWERS stated Mrs. MARTIN then commenced to ask him direct questions, which indicated to him that she had full knowledge and had possibly read the report of his previous interviews with the Dallas Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He noted that while he had also been interviewed by a representative of the President's Commission, her questions did not indicate to him that she had seen the President Commission's report on his interview, as a few things he had discussed with the Commission's representative were not touched on by Mrs. MARTIN.

While Mr. BOWERS does not recall the exact wording of Mrs. MARTIN's questions, he recalled she inquired as to whether or not he was going to author a book, to which question he replied "No". Her primary interests seemed to concern what had transpired at the triple underpass and the area of the "grassy knoll", next to the underpass, at the time of the shooting. She wanted to know who was on the underpass and what these individuals did at the time of the shooting. Mr. BOWERS stated he told her he had no comments to make on the matter as he had testified as to what he had seen. She persisted with her questioning and wanted to know if there were any policemen on top of the underpass. He told her there were two uniformed police officers on the underpass, one at each end. She then wanted to know if they left their post, and BOWERS answered that within three minutes after the shooting, there were some 100 policemen in the area of the underpass.

BOWERS stated that the reason he even talked with Mrs. MARTIN as long as he did was because he was interested in finding out just who she was and how much she knew about his previous interviews with law enforcement agencies.

Mrs. MARTIN asked BOWERS about his interview with the President's Commission, and he told her he had no comment to make in this regard.

Mrs. MARTIN questioned him about the three automobiles he had seen parked near the Texas School Book Depository, and she described these three cars to Mr. BOWERS in detail.

Mr. BOWERS stated that Mrs. MARTIN wanted him to evaluate the information he had previously given to the law enforcement agencies, and he stated he would not evaluate his testimony as he had reported just what he had seen. He told her to call the Federal Bureau of Investigation if she wanted an evaluation of his information.

Mr. BOWERS advised Mrs. MARTIN wanted to know if the shots he heard had come from the inside or the outside of the Texas School Book Depository building, and he answered her that in view of all the many noises in the area, he could not say where the shots came from.

Mr. BOWERS then told Mrs. MARTIN he was very busy, she thanked him and the telephone conversation ended.

Mr. BOWERS stated Mrs. MARTIN's questions were directed along the following lines:

(1) His previous testimony

(2) Events at the triple underpass at the time of the assassination

(3) Occurrences in the area of the Texas School Book Depository building at the time of the assassination

(4) Where the shots had come from

(5) Evaluation of what he had witnessed on November 22, 1963

Mr. BOWERS stated that Mrs. MARTIN had undoubtedly obtained his office telephone number through a local call to his residence, which telephone number is listed in the Dallas telephone book. He had questioned his father and son as to whom Mrs. MARTIN had spoken to on August 20, 1964, and each had told him that he had not spoken to any such woman that day; however, his father recalled a telephone inquiry about two weeks previously from a woman asking for his office telephone number.

It is noted that Mr. LEE E. BOWERS, JR., was previously interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 22, 1963, regarding what he had witnessed that day at the time of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

At that time Mr. BOWERS advised that he was watching the Presidential Motorcade from his tower at about 12:28 p.m., when he heard three shots. He saw no one run from the west or south side of the Texas School Book Depository building, and, prior to the shooting, did not see any suspicious person enter the building; however, he stated he had observed three cars parked in the parking lot located west of the Texas School Book Depository building. Mr. BOWERS described these three cars in detail. Following the shooting, BOWERS observed none of these cars were in the parking lot.

NOTE: The Commission requested several investigative steps to be taken to substantiate or disprove an allegation that prior to the assassination Oswald and his wife, Marina, visited the Irving Sport Shop to have a telescopic sight mounted and sighted on a rifle. This was initially reported by an employee of the store, Dial D. Ryder, who allegedly found a repair tag with the name Oswald on it. This allegation has been somewhat supported by two women Mrs. Gertrude Hunter and Mrs. Edith Whitworth, who claimed they saw the Oswalds and directed them to the sport shop. The circumstances of this whole situation indicated Ryder prepared the repair tag after the assassination. However, he is so involved he can't back out now. The women appear mistaken in their identification as the supporting data furnished by them is not consistent with what we know of the Oswalds' background. Current info further substantiates our findings.

SPECIFIC EMPLOYEES. INSURE MAJOR CASE PRINTS OBTAINED FROM OTHER LOGICAL INDIVIDUALS WHO MIGHT HAVE HANDLED CARTONS AND FURNISH SAME TO IDENTIFICATION DIVISION FOR COMPARISON PURPOSES.

NOTE:

The 4 cartons were recovered from the sixth floor of the Texas Depository Building after the assassination and were believed to have been used by Oswald to support his rifle. 20 latent fingerprints and 7 latent palm prints were developed on these cartons when delivered to the Bureau on 11-23-63. One latent fingerprint and palm print were positively identified as Oswald's. One additional latent palm print and 5 additional fingerprints of Forest L. Lucy, DL clerk who wrapped cartons, have also been identified. There remains 14 latent fingerprints and 5 latent palm prints unidentified. Commission in recent discussion with J. R. Malley, feels that as many latents as possible should be identified to preclude speculation that Oswald had a coconspirator. It is felt the above instructions are necessary to insure no other employee's prints are on these cartons. Major case prints are also being obtained from Texas School Book Depository employees and workers, Dallas police officers and newspaper reporters, who may have had access to the cartons prior to there delivery to us.

NOTE:

William Coleman of Commission inquired of SA John C. Stokes 9-2-64 if the Hotel Cuba was listed in pamphlet in question. Stokes checked and determined that Hotel Cuba was listed on page 20 and that the rates were indicated to be 30 to 35 pesos a day for single room. This is more than Oswald paid at Del Comercio. There are no markings on page 20. Coleman was advised of this on 9-2-64.

We are photographing page 20 to be sent to Commission. Coleman observed that Oswald made reference to Hotel Cuba to 2 passengers aboard the bus to Mexico City and he asked if we determined if he could have picked up the booklet at Nuevo-Nuevo Laredo on way into Mexico. This is reasonable request and may establish how Oswald was able to speak of the hotel to 2 passengers who boarded the bus at Monterrey.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

By letter dated August 21, 1964, the President's Commission requested that L. J. Lewis and B. M. Patterson, both of Dallas, Texas, be recontacted and an affidavit obtained from each in order to establish whether their previously recorded interviews of January 21 and 22, 1964, respectively, were accurate as to what they had seen on November 22, 1963.

On August 25, 1964, L. J. Lewis, Kemp's Garage, 634 West Davis, Dallas, Texas, advised that in regard to the information he had previously furnished to the FBI on January 21, 1964, concerning his observations on November 22, 1963, of the incident involving the shooting of Dallas Police Officer J. D. Tippit, he desired to make the following clarifications of this previous interview:

Lewis stated that upon hearing the three or four gunshots coming from the direction of Tenth and Patton Avenue and recognizing the sounds as gunshots, he had immediately telephoned the Dallas Police Department to report the shooting. While conversing with an unknown officer at the Police Department, there was so much confusion at the Police Department end of the telephone conversation, they were having trouble making out what Lewis was telling them. A few seconds later, he noticed a white male, approximately thirty years of age, running south on Patton Avenue, carrying either an automatic pistol or a revolver in his hand, and while running was either attempting to reload the gun or conceal the weapon in his belt. Lewis stated that when this unknown individual reached the intersection of Patton Avenue and Jefferson Boulevard, the individual then proceeded west on Jefferson Boulevard.

Lewis noted that as he now recalls, he had called the Dallas Police Department prior to seeing this unknown individual running south on Patton Avenue and had not called the Police Department after he had first witnessed this unknown individual.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On August 25, 1964, B. M. Patterson, Apartment 201, Habana Apartments, 1607 North Carroll, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed at his present place of employment, the Holly Southwest, Inc., 5606 Dyer, Dallas, where he is employed as an accountant.

Patterson stated that in regard to his interview with Agents of the FBI on January 22, 1964, he would like to make the following clarifications of any misinterpretations of information he had previously furnished at that time:

Patterson stated that when he had observed a white male, approximately thirty years of age, running south on Patton Avenue on the early afternoon of November 22, 1963, he remembers this person was carrying a revolver in his hand and was obviously trying to reload the gun. The individual stopped still, ejected the cartridges, reloaded the gun, and then placed the weapon inside his waistband. He then began walking west on the north side of Jefferson Boulevard.

Patterson stated he does not at this late date specifically recall the photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald having been displayed to him on January 22, 1964, and cannot at this time state that he had identified Lee Harvey Oswald at that time as the same person he had seen running south on Patton Avenue with a weapon in his hand.

On August 26, 1964, two different photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald were exhibited to B. M. Patterson, at which time Patterson advised that this person (Oswald) is positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 p.m., on the afternoon of November 22, 1963, running south down the east side of Patton Avenue between East Tenth Street and East Jefferson Boulevard, Dallas, Texas, with a revolver in his hand.

Patterson stated that he then saw Oswald stop, eject some cartridges from his revolver, and cross over to the north side of East Jefferson Boulevard, where he proceeded at a walk heading west on East Jefferson toward Crawford Street.

The two photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald from which Patterson made his identification on August 26, 1964, are described as follows:

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

1) Dallas Police Department photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald, side-face and full-face views, dated November 23, 1963, and bearing Dallas Police Department No. 54018; and,

2) A full-body photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald standing in a yard holding a rifle in his left hand and what appears to be a newspaper in his right hand.

I, B. M. Patterson, being duly sworn, depose as follows:

I now reside at Apartment 201, Habana Apartments, 1607 North Carroll, Dallas, Texas. On January 22, 1964, I was residing at 4635 Hartford Street, Dallas, Texas, and was then employed by Wyatt's Cafeteria, 2647 Lancaster, Dallas, Texas.

On January 22, 1964, I was interviewed by Special Agents John T. Kesler and Vernon Mitchem of the Federal Bureau of Investigation concerning what I had seen on November 22, 1963, as it related to Lee Harvey Oswald, the shooting of Dallas Police Officer, J. D. Tippit, and the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

I have been shown the written report of the results of this interview by Special Agents John T. Kesler and Vernon Mitchem of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, on January 22, 1964. While this transcription is basically and materially correct, I desire to make the following clarifications in regard to the contents of this report. This modification pertains to the second sentence of paragraph two. I choose to have the second referenced sentence changed to read as follows:

"A minute or so later, they observed a white male, approximately thirty years of age, running south on Patton Avenue, carrying a revolver in his hand and was obviously trying to reload it. He stopped still and then reloaded the gun."

In regard to the last paragraph of this report, I do not at this late date specifically recall having been exhibited a photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald, at the time of the interview of January 22, 1964, and desire that this paragraph be deleted as an official reporting of that interview.

I have read this written report and with the exception of the aforementioned notations, it reveals a correct report of what I saw on November 22,, 1963.

I have been shown the written report of the results of this interview of January 21, 1964, by Special Agents John T. Kesler and Vernon Mitchem of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. While this report is substantially correct, I wish at this time to make the following clarifications in regard to the last sentence in paragraph one and the entirety of paragraph two.

Lewis, a wholesale car dealer, and Patterson, a cafeteria employee, were on a used car lot along the escape route, from where Officer J. D. Tippit was murdered. Each heard shots and saw a white male carrying a gun pass the used car lot. Lewis could not identify Oswald. Patterson did identify Oswald and also saw him discard his zipper jacket. this paragraph to be deleted as an official reporting of that interview.

During Patterson's interview on 8-26-64, he observed two different photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald, at which time he advised this person (Oswald) is positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 PM. 11/22/63. This information is contained in the LHM furnished to the Commission and no further action necessary.

In the L. J. Lewis affidavit he stated upon hearing the gunshots (which were connected with the shooting of J. W. Tippit), Lewis indicated he immediately called the Dallas Police Department, followed by the comments he observed a white male running south on Patton Avenue carrying either an automatic pistol or revolver in his hand and was attempting to reload same. In Lewis' original interview on 1/21/64, he indicated he heard the shots, observed a white male with a pistol or revolver in his hand, running and was either attempting to reload or conceal the weapon in his belt line, followed by the comment that he then went into the office of a used car dealer and called the Police Department. Therefore, Lewis' affidavit is nothing more then the clarification of when he called the Police Department.

The Commission makes reference to page 13 of this issue concerning an article by one "Norman Mailas as told to Ken Armstrong" and specifically the second column on page 13 in which it is stated "one of the pictures I took as the presidental (sic) car passed, showed two figures beside the gun barrel in the window. A reporter for the Dallas Times also saw two figures. His newspaper published that story too. I have never heard another reference to it since."

The Commission requests the author of this article be contacted and if possible obtain the photograph referred to. The Commission also requests that the Bureau determine the name of the presumably Dallas Times reporter referred to in the article in order to "ascertain whether such a picture ever existed."

According to the N. W. Ayer and Son's 1964 issue of the Directory of Newspaper and Periodicals "Liberty" magazine is a monthly Canadian publication printed in Toronto, Canada by the Fengate Publishing Co., 55 York Street, Toronto. The editor of the magazine is reportedly John Dairymple.

No information identifiable with Norman Similas or Ken Armstrong with a locality in Canada could be identified in Bureau files.

Legat, Ottawa, through sources endeavor to comply with Commission's request at earliest practicable time. Furnish results of investigation in appropriate letterhead memorandum without property stamp for dissemination to the President's Commission. If the photograph is obtained, duplicate copies will be made at the Bureau. Should the identity of the Dallas Times reporter be ascertained, furnish identity by cablegram so that appropriate continental investigation can be initiated. Advise the Bureau of any delays anticipated in complying with Commission's request.

Although the Commission has not requested further investigation in this matter, it is noted in the concluding paragraph of this article there is a statement an additional installment was to appear in the August, 1964, issue. Legat, Ottawa, through sources endeavor to obtain a copy of this issue for the Bureau's review and evaluation.

NOTE:

The allegation by the author possibly refers to photographs of two Negroes directly below the floor from which the shots which killed President Kennedy were fired. The Commission is fully aware of this photograph taken immediately after the last shot. We have never developed any evidence or information disclosing that an actual rifle barrel was photographed, although some witnesses have stated they saw a rifle barrel being withdrawn from the window after the last shot. Summertime fun in your own backyard

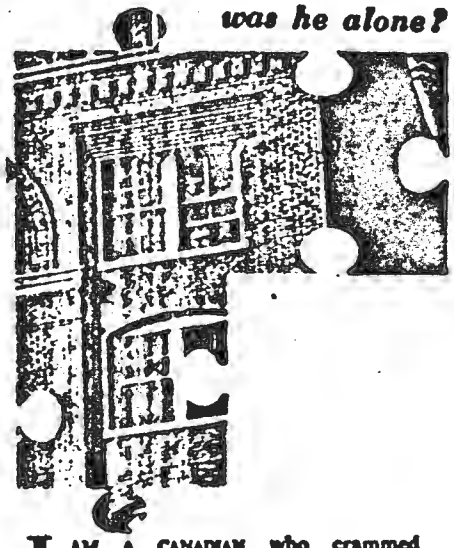
The window is empty now . . . but who fired those fatal shots? Was it Oswald and was he alone?



Norman Similas, as told to Ken Armstrong

I AM A CANADIAN who crammed enough memories into 72 hours to haunt me for the rest of my life.

It all happened last November in Dallas, Texas.

While I attended a national convention of carbonated beverage bottlers the following events occurred:

November 21—I interviewed Vice President Lyndon Johnson and photographed him in several informal poses.

November 21—I spent more than an hour chatting with Jack Ruby in his night club.

November 22—I witnessed from a distance of less than seven feet the assassination of President Kennedy, and unwittingly photographed his assassin or assassins as a rifle was levelled at him from a nearby building.

Because a coincidental set of circumstances involved me intimately in events leading up to the death of the president, and because I met key figures immediately prior to the assassination in Dallas on November 22, I have since sought out every bit of information available on the subject in the public prints in Canada and the United States. Some accounts I know to be grossly incorrect, and as far as I know, they have never been challenged.

I think I have a retentive memory and a normally healthy curiosity, and I am perplexed by a number of questions that nobody has ever taken the trouble to answer to my satisfaction. Possibly it is because the events surrounding the actual assassination of the President were overshadowed by the murder of suspect Lee Harvey Oswald as he was led from the Dallas Police Station on Sunday morning, November 24.

A special federal investigation committee is sifting evidence and clues related to the assassination, and it may come up with some answers.

Two in the window

BUT IN THE meantime, I am convinced that if Oswald was the assassin—and this has never been definitely proven—he was not alone when he aimed his rifle from the sixth floor window of the depository. One of the pictures I took as the presidental car passed, showed two figures beside the gun barrel in the window. A reporter for the Dallas Times also saw two figures. His newspaper published that story too. I have never heard another reference to it since.

If an accomplice existed, then perhaps it was not a lone screwball, a Marxist, anti-social neurotic who did the deed. In this event, it would be a conspiracy. Might evidence of a conspiracy prove embarrassing in certain quarters? Or might it be better to forget about the whole thing.

Will the investigation committee be able to identify the man who appeared at a Dallas rifle range with Oswald a few days before the President was killed? A man who gave words of encouragement as the ex-marine grouped his shots close to the center of the target?

I would also like to know if Oswald was aware of the planned route of the President's autocade at the time he applied for a job in the depository. If he did, he had "inside" information, because I have been told by reliable sources that the route was secretly planned two weeks prior to the President's visit but was not made known to the public until three days before the arrival of the President. Oswald had been employed at the book depository for 10 days before the President was shot.

I am convinced that the assassin must have been gifted with remarkable cunning to settle upon the sixth floor of the book building to take up his death watch. Its geographical position marked it as by far the most advantageous assassin's perch in Dallas. From his vantage point he could see the President's car approaching from at least a block away. The car would slow down, of necessity, as it negotiated the hairpin turn at Elm Street. It is possible that the President was in his sights for more than a minute. The building's location also provided an excellent opportunity for a fast get-away through the rear entrance.

Character of the city

SOME PEOPLE have asked me if a presidential assassination might be more likely to happen in Dallas than in other cities in the U.S. My first impression of this busy mid-western metropolis was: "It's a well-heeled Winnipeg." Modern skyscrapers, fine shops, broad streets, excellent parks and all the rest.

But a city is really more than a glistening collection of mortar and brick. The heart of a city is its people, and in the days following my arrival at Dallas' posh Adolphus Hotel I was to have an opportunity to examine the habits, mores and traditions of those people. My conclusion is that the President was in a prime danger zone.

Dallas is intellectually, culturally, morally and economically insulated from any other large city of similar size in the U.S. It reeks with the affluence born of its oil riches. It is a dynamic, no-holds-barred town—conservative, isolationist, flamboyant, all in the same breath.

Without exception, the people I met in Dallas were generous, warmhearted and considerate of my status as a Canadian visitor. Their hospitality showed in so many ways. I shall never forget the wonderful evening when I was invited to a rodeo and cook-out barbecue because it was one of the most pleasant experiences of my life.

But beneath this veneer was a hardness, a Calvinistic righteousness and a rightist political philosophy so alarmingly extremist that I soon learned to button my lips when politics were discussed.

One evening I attended a dance sponsored by our convention hosts. I asked an elegantly dressed lady for a dance, and as we swung around the floor I could not help but admire the velvety texture of her formal evening gown.

"What is the material," I asked, "clipped beaver?"

"No sirree, it's paw-nee," she drawled. Later, after I had escorted her to her table, and had been introduced to her husband, I again asked about the material in her dress.

Her husband immediately became belligerant.

"Don't you know what paw-nee is?" he asked. "That paw-nee cost several hundred dollars for the pelt alone, and plenty more to have that dress made."

Suddenly it dawned upon me as to what he meant by paw-nee. This was a pony skin dress, and a lovely one, too. I mumbled apologies for having confused it with clipped beaver.

Apologies accepted, he became the smiling host and insisted I join him for a drink. He asked about beavers and a number of other things Canadian. He was interested particularly in hunting, and drew a .25 pistol from his pocket to show me. The man beside him extracted a beautifully tooled .45, and when I left them they were extolling the merits of their respective firearms. From my brief experience in Dallas, I would judge that more of its citizens carry firearms than in any comparable city in the world.

During my stay in Dallas I rubbed shoulders with [illegible]naires and multi-millionaires. Th[illegible] seemingly a nickel a dozen. Strong-m[illegible]d men, intent upon maintaining the status quo of Dallas and democracy, and God help anyone who differs.

There were probably more people in Dallas outspoken in their views of President Kennedy than anywhere in the U.S. And they were acidly militant about it. That is perhaps why Dallas gasped and gripped its heart with remorse and chagrin when news flashed over the radio that a president of the United States had been killed in cold blood within its limits.

The first reaction of Dallasites was "Why did it have to happen here?"

The second reaction was, "Thank God it was a Commie; only a Commie would do such a terrible thing."

IT WAS my first trip to Dallas, and chances are I will never be there again. Another member of the Toronto publishing firm I represented, John Virgin, had been originally slated to go. The assignments were switched, and instead, he went to Quebec City and I headed for Dallas.

More than seven months have passed since the horrors of Dallas. Never a day passes but what the projector has not flipped in my mind, and the scenes tumble out in sequence after sequence. I can see Lyndon Johnson smiling as he pushed his hand into his coat and says, "Shall I pose like Napoleon?"

In the semi-darkness of the entrance of his night club, Jack Ruby throws a bear-like arm around my shoulders and ushers me to a table. He is saying, "Save your film. Why shoot the entertainers when you can photograph the President tomorrow. He'll be passing by, just down the street."

There is a fade-out and I'm next standing on the curb across from the Texas School Book Depository. From blocks away the cheers rise as the President's autocade comes off Main Street, from Houston Street, slows and turns onto Elm Street. Now the film gears down to slow motion. The leading limousine comes into view. Luckily, I have selected a spot not far from the underpass where the crowd has thinned out. He is sitting in the rear of the car, and I am expecting to see his face showing the traditional Kennedy smile.

A gust of wind tousles his hair. Mrs. Kennedy is beside him. As the crowds cheer and wave the limousine slowly dent turns his head and looks directly at the upper floors of the building.

At that very instant I hear a report that sounds like a firecracker. The crowd is still cheering, seemingly unaware of the fact that the President has pitched forward. Two more shots are fired.

Like a television camera that zooms back to take in the broad panorama of the crowd in motion, my dream broadens to include the figure of myself, standing at the curbside, as the President's car suddenly picks up speed and races away.

I have called this a dream, but perhaps I should describe it as a nightmare. It has frequently occurred at night, but sometimes during the day when I'm driving or not thinking of anything in particular, my mental newsreel keeps coming back.

Perhaps some psychiatrist could give a logical reason for these flashbacks, which seem to follow the general pattern of what happened to me in Dallas, with the exception that I am always viewing myself from a distance, as an impersonal detached witness.

BUT I AM getting ahead of my story. Shortly after arriving in Dallas, I read a prominent article in the local press devoted to an impending visit by Richard Nixon. Nixon would be flying directly from New York, and would be spending only one day in Dallas. I don't even recall what business brought him to Big-D, but I remember that the press coverage was heavy and a great many people were "talking up" Nixon's chances in the 1964 presidential election.

Somebody had told me that President Kennedy was also coming to the city in a few days, and the thought occurred to me, what a coincidence that these two battlers for the presidency a few years ago should both appear in Dallas at almost the same time.

A KEYNOTE speaker at the bottlers' convention was Vice-President Lyndon Johnson. I wanted to take some pictures of him for my magazine, so I waited at the Trade Mart door, and soon a procession of cars swept up to the main entrance. Two local photographers asked me, "What car is Johnson in?"

I gravely pointed to the third limousine. Then, when the Vice-President stepped from the first car, I was able to get his picture with less competition. Later, I was setting my camera to take a platform shot of Mr. Johnson from a vantage point backstage. I was interrupted by a secret service man, who seemed ready to throw me out of the building bodily. But after I showed credentials as a press photographer, he cooled down, and soon he was advising me how to fix my camera settings.

Earlier, I loaned a book of matches to a rather impressive looking chap who later identified himself as Broadfoot Saunders, Attorney-General of the State of Texas. We chatted for a while, and I told him I would like to get one of

He pointed to an entrance, told me that Johnson's car would be parked there, flanked by two motorcycle police, and that when the Vice President appeared, he would personally set up a picture for me. Broadfoot Saunders was true to his word.

When the Vice President appeared, he smiled at me and said, "Say, you're the young man who fooled the other photographers, aren't you?" I admitted I was, and asked if I could have a picture with his glasses off. He agreed, stepped back into a pose, stuck his hand on his chest and said, "Shall I look like Napoleon?"

After I had taken my shot, I noticed that Westby Parker, president of Dr. Pepper, one of the largest bottling companies in the world, was standing beside me. I asked him if he would like to have his picture taken with the Vice President. At that moment, Lyndon Johnson looked inquiringly at an aide whispering something to him.

[redacted] stepped forward, beamed and [redacted] "Westby Parker, how are you?"

I'm damned sure Lyndon Johnson had never seen Westby Parker before in his life, but this warm-hearted camaraderie convinced me that I was looking at an 'old pro' politician of the first magnitude.

But there was one thing I could not imagine in my wildest dreams as Johnson waved and took his leave—that within 24 hours he would be President of the United States!

In next month's second and concluding installment of "The Dallas Puzzle—By a Canadian Eyewitness", Norman Similes visits Jack Ruby's night club on the eve of the Kennedy assassination and has a conversation with him in the company of fellow Canadian, Peter Skiyerk. The author gives his personal impressions of the man who gained world notoriety by gunning down Lee Harvey Oswald. The author also relates details of the November 22 assassination that have never before been published. ◆◆

The identification of the papers held by Oswald in the photograph in which he is holding two papers and a rifle as being the 3/24/63, issue of "The Worker" and the 3/11/63, issue of "The Militant." (Bulet to Commission 6/29/64)

The examination of a photograph made by Mr. Phil Willis that purports to show the photograph of the President's limousine at the instant the first shot was fired. (Bulet to Commission 6/29/64)

Examination of the retouching on the original "Life" magazine photograph of Oswald holding the rifle that was used by them to prepare the cover for the 2/21/64, issue. (Bulet to Commission 7/22/64)

Location and examination of the mark on the south curb of Main Street at the assassination site. (Bulet to Commission 8/12/64)

The identification of Oswald's shirt, Commission Exhibit 150, with the shirt being worn by Oswald in photograph made at time of his arrest. (Bulet to Commission 8/20/64)

SA Shaneyfelt furnished several exhibits that were marked and included in the record. These exhibits were used to point out the basis for his conclusions. One copy of each of the exhibits is attached.

In addition to the items described above, SA Shaneyfelt was asked to review some correspondence by the Commission and "Life" magazine, the "New York Times" and "Newsweek" magazine. This correspondence pointed out to the various publications the testimony of SA Shaneyfelt that had been given to the Commission previously regarding the retouching on the photograph of Oswald holding the rifle that has been published in each of these publications. All of the replies from the publishers advised the Commission that the only retouching done to the photographs was normal reproducing retouching that is always done so that the photographs will reproduce better in the printed publication.

SA Shaneyfelt testified that he had reviewed the correspondence and that the correspondence conforms to testimony previously given by him to the effect that the retouching on the photographs is a normal operation in the reproduction of photographs in publications.

Mr. Redlich advised that the transcript of the deposition would be available for review by SA Shaneyfelt on the morning of 9/2/64.

UNIDENTIFIED LATENTS ON CARDBOARD CARTONS

Four cardboard cartons recovered from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building in Dallas after the assassination of President Kennedy were examined in Ident in November, 1963. Twenty latent fingerprints and seven latent palm prints were developed on these cartons. One of the latent fingerprints and one of the latent palm prints were subsequently identified as those of Lee Harvey Oswald. This left nineteen latent fingerprints and six latent palm prints unidentified.

Mr. Rosen's memorandum to Mr. Belmont, 8-28-64, and Mr. Conrad's memorandum to Mr. Belmont dated 9-1-64 reported that J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel of the President's Commission is anxious to try to resolve the identity of the remaining latent fingerprints and palm prints on the four cardboard cartons. The Commission now feels that if the identity of these prints is not resolved, it leaves room for the allegation and speculation that Oswald had a co-conspirator in killing President Kennedy. Mr. Rankin said he would request by letter that the FBI attempt to identify the latent prints on the cardboard cartons with particular reference to eliminating the prints of Dallas Police Officers, Secret Service Agents and Texas School Book Depository employees. Today we received from the Dallas FBI office the fingerprints and palm prints of two agents and three clerical employees who processed evidence in this case for transmittal to the Bureau. Five of the latent fingerprints and one of the latent palm prints on the cartons were identified with the prints of Forest L. Lucy, a clerical employee.

At the present time, fourteen latent fingerprints and five latent palm prints on the cartons still remain unidentified.

The principal characteristics of viscose used for comparison purposes are color and shade, diameter, and size and distribution of delustering agent.

3. The orange-yellow and grey-black cotton fibers in the shirt, Commission Exhibit 150, were respectively of uniform shades; the dark blue cotton fibers in the shirt were of three different shades. All the fibers in the shirt were mercerized, and of a substantially uniform twist.

4. The green cotton fibers found in the paper bag, Commission Exhibit 142, varied in shade, but were of a uniform twist. The brown viscose fibers in the blanket, Commission Exhibit 140, varied in diameter, shade, size and distribution of delustering agent.

5. Stombaugh Exhibits 1-3 consist of the following items:

JOHN W. LIGON, MANAGER, PLAZA HOTEL, LAREDO, TEXAS ADVISED TODAY THAT HE RECEIVED THE PAMPHLET QUOTE THIS WEEK ESTA SEMANA UNQUOTE FROM MEXICO CITY ON A WEEKLY BASIS. THIS IS NOT TO SAY THAT FOR THE PAST YEAR HE HAS RECEIVED A PAMPHLET EVERY WEEK AS THERE HAVE BEEN TIMES WHEN HE HAS NOT RECEIVED IT FOR A PARTICULAR WEEK, THIS BEING THE FAULT PROBABLY OF THE CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT IN MEXICO CITY. THE LATEST COPY PAREN THIS IS HIS PERSONAL COPY AND ONLY ONE AVAILABLE END PAREN OF THIS PAMPHLET THAT HE HAS IN HIS POSSESSION IS FOR THE WEEK OF AUGUST TWENTYSIX TO AUGUST TWENTYEIGHT LAST. GENERALLY HE RECEIVES A PAMPHLET ABOUT FOUR DAYS BEFORE THE PRINTED DATE FOR ANY PARTICULAR WEEK. FOR EXAMPLE THE COPY HE NOW HAS FOR THE WEEK OF AUGUST TWENTY TWO TO AUGUST TWENTY EIGHT LAST WAS RECEIVED BY HIM ON ABOUT AUGUST EIGHTEEN LAST. MISS BELIA URIBE, MANAGER, AAA OFFICE LAREDO, TEXAS, ADVISED SHE DOES NOT HAVE A CURRENT COPY OF THE PUBLICATION HOWEVER SHE USUALLY RECEIVES HER COPY FROM MEXICO CITY ON MONDAYS AND IN ORDER TO KEEP THEM CURRENT ON A WEEKLY BASIS THEY

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reference to inquiry by Mr. W. David Slawson of your staff concerning interview of Rolando Barrios, former employee of the Chihuahuenses Travel Agency, Mexico, D. F., Mexico, this is to advise that Mr. Barrios was interviewed on one occasion, namely April 2, 1964, by Special Agent Rolf L. Larson.

References to Special Agent Larson's interview of Mr. Barrios are contained in our letter dated April 6, 1964, and our memoranda dated April 7, April 28, and May 18, 1964.

During the interview, Mr. Barrios was shown photostats of the exchange orders (Exhibit 202) issued in connection with the travel of H. O. Lee from Mexico, D. F., Mexico, to Laredo, Texas, via the Transportes del Norte bus line on October 2-3, 1963. A photograph of Oswald's tourist card (Exhibit J-3) was also displayed to Mr. Barrios. He stated that he would interpret the comma following the name "Lee" on the tourist card to indicate the surname of the traveler to be "Lee" and in order to avoid unnecessary writing on the exchange orders, he would have used the initials of the first and middle names appearing on the tourist card which he considered to be "Harvey Oswald." not recall Lee Harvey Oswald or his dealings with him. On viewing the above-described documents, he affirmed that he would have written the name of the traveler as "H. O. Lee" had he copied this name from Oswald's tourist card.

On April 2, 1964, Mr. Barrios stated that he would attempt to reconstruct the events surrounding his issuance of the exchange orders in question. However, on April 6, 1964, he telephonically contacted Special Agent Larson and advised that he was unable to recall his contact with the traveler for whom he issued the exchange orders in the name "H. O. Lee."

This discusses request of Marina Oswald that she be furnished with a list of all property belonging to her or her late husband which is now in the possession of the Bureau or the President's Commission.

On 8/26/64 Marina Oswald advised Dallas that she is currently working with Priscilla Johnson, a free lance writer, in the preparation of a book. Priscilla Johnson is a former newspaper woman who represented the North American Newspaper Alliance in Moscow in 1959 and interviewed Oswald at that time. Since the assassination she has authored an article on Oswald which appeared in the April, 1964, issue of "Harper's" magazine.

Marina Oswald, apparently in connection with the preparation of her book, requested Dallas to furnish her with a list of all property belonging to her or her late husband which is now in the possession of the Bureau or the President's Commission. Dallas inquired if it will be satisfactory to furnish such a list to Marina Oswald and if the list should be made up from the files available at Dallas.

We received, principally from the Dallas Police Department, a large number of articles which are clearly the property of Oswald and/or his wife. Dallas is in possession of a complete inventory of this material. It appears that Marina Oswald is within her rights to request a listing of material belonging to her late husband and herself which was obtained by the Bureau. Should we refuse to furnish such a listing, we may be placed in an unfavorable light and in view of these factors, it is believed advisable to accede to Mrs. Oswald's request. It will not be possible, however, to distinguish between the items in the possession of the Bureau and the President's Commission as this changes daily; i.e., the Commission constantly calls for exhibits and returns others to us. In addition, the Commission undoubtedly has material belonging to the Oswalds which it has received from Secret Service and other agencies.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to our letter dated September 1, 1964, transmitting six exhibits obtained from Marina Oswald on August 27, 1964.

Pursuant to the request of Mr. William T. Coleman of your staff, there are enclosed two copies of page 20 of Exhibit D-238 on which page appears a listing for the Cuba Hotel.

84 SEP-4 COMM-FBI

Concerning the markings on the large and small maps depicted in Exhibit D-240, we have been advised that the central markings in the J-7 and the H-3 areas of these maps define Lee Harvey Oswald's place of residence at the Hotel del Comercio at Bernardin de Sahagun Street Number 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico. Inquiry at other areas marked on Exhibits D-240 and D-238 is under way and the results thereof will be furnished to you in the immediate future.

Our Laboratory's examination of Exhibit D-237, the portion of the Transportes del Norte bus ticket, obtained from Mrs. Oswald, has established that D-237 was originally connected to the two ticket stubs depicted in Exhibit D-202. The examination has further established that the D-202 ticket stubs were originally connected.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

Mr. Ricardo Medina, Mexico City manager of the Transportes del Norte line, has advised that tickets issued by his company for travel from Mexico City, Mexico, to Laredo, Texas, consist of three sections which are delivered to the purchaser. Each of these sections bears the same number. According to Mr. Medina, one section is for travel from Mexico City to Monterrey and the second is for the travel between Monterrey and Laredo, Texas. The third section, recording the total travel from Mexico City to Laredo, Texas, is retained by the passenger. This section (Exhibit D-237) records the price of the ticket to be 93 pesos and 75 centavos. The tickets of the Del Norte line are pink in color and are torn from a bound, numbered book of tickets in which a stub remains to record the sale thereof.

Sincerely yours,

[illegible] Hoover

NOTE: CONFIDENTIAL as this shows our investigative activity in Mexico City.

Marina Oswald, 8-27 turned over six items believed to have been in Oswald's possession when he was in Mexico. Among these were a portion of his bus ticket from Mexico City to Laredo which definitely places him on the Del Norte line bus and a street map and tourist card. On 9-2-64 Mr. Coleman of Commission inquired of J. C. Stokes if the Hotel Cuba was listed in the tourist guide. This is of significance as Oswald spoke to 2 passengers on the bus going into Mexico about the Hotel Cuba. He probably noted its existence from the travel guide which he likely picked up at Laredo on the way to Mexico. Joining of ticket stubs per Lab report 9-2-64.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Washington, D. C. 20535

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your conducting the following additional investigation for us:

1. Re-interview Ruth Paine to determine whether she was ever a customer in Hutch's Supermarket, 2333 West Shady Grove, Irving, Texas; if so, determine approximately when and how often and with whom, if anybody, she was accompanied. Also ask Mrs. Paine whether to her knowledge Lee Harvey Oswald used to take a bag of lunch with him during October and November, 1963, when he left her home on Monday morning after having spent the weekend at her house. Also, ask Mrs. Paine whether to her knowledge Lee Harvey Oswald had a habit of eating cinnamon rolls with large quantities of milk.

2. Re-interview Marina Oswald and Marguerite Oswald and ask them the same questions as those addressed to Ruth Paine referred to above. In particular, determine whether Marina, Marguerite and Lee Harvey Oswald shopped together at Hutch's Supermarket on a Wednesday evening sometime during October or November, 1963.

In her testimony before the Commission, Marina Oswald has stated that Lee Harvey Oswald at no time had a check for $189.00 and that he did not attempt to cash such a check at Hutch's Supermarket. In re-interviewing Marina, please determine whether she recalls an incident in which Lee Harvey Oswald attempted unsuccessfully to cash a check at Hutch's Supermarket for any amount. On October 31st or November 1st, Oswald did cash an unemployment check for $33.00 at the Atlantic and Pacific store, 209 Williamsburg Center, Irving, Texas. Determine whether Marina Oswald has any familiarity with the cashing of that check which would bear upon the possibility that Oswald first attempted to cash that check at Hutch's Supermarket.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA,

PURPOSE:

To advise of the receipt of an additional President's Commission request on Sunday, 9/6/64, and action taken.

BACKGROUND:

At 12:55 p.m., 9/6/64, Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission advised SA K. M. Raupach he had an additional request concerning a recontact with Mr. B. M. Patterson of Dallas who was one of the individuals witnessing the flight of Lee Harvey Oswald from the scene of the J. D. Tippit shooting.

We previously completed a Commission request wherein the Commission desired affidavits from Patterson and the other individual witnessing Oswald's flight, J. L. Lewis. The affidavits and an additional letterhead memorandum were furnished to the Commission by letter dated 9/2/64.

Patterson in his affidavit had stated he did not specifically recall having been exhibited a photograph of Oswald during his original interview conducted on 1/22/64, and had desired this paragraph to be deleted as an official report of that interview.

Patterson was reinterviewed on 8/25 and 26/64, and on 8/26/64 he observed two different photographs of Lee Harvey Oswald at which time he advised this person displayed in the photograph (Oswald) was positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 p.m., 11/22/63. This information was contained in the 8/27/64, letterhead memorandum furnished to the Commission.

On 9/6/64, Mr. Redlich advised that for the completion of the report it would be necessary to obtain from Patterson an affidavit that the information he furnished on 8/26/64, and contained in the memorandum dated 8/27/64, at Dallas represented a true report of his interview.

Enclosed are two copies of a letter from the President's Commission dated 9-3-64.

Enclosure to your letterhead dated 8-31-64 describing eight additional articles received from Marina Oswald indicates that she produced for your examination anything that might be considered to be of pertinence in this case. This infers that Marina Oswald was the person making determination as to what may be pertinent to this investigation. In view of Commission's request in enclosed letter, recontact Marina Oswald and ask her to produce for your perusal any material presently in her possession which may have been the property of Lee Harvey Oswald. Include in material to be reviewed any writings of Oswald and any writings to him. Request Mrs. Oswald to display for your perusal any items belonging to her, exclusive of personal items such as wearing apparel, etc., which were in her possession as of 11-22-63. Also ask her to produce any additional correspondence she may have received from USSR subsequent to assassination.

Recontact Robert Oswald, Michael and Ruth Paine and obtain assurances from them that they are not at this time in possession of any property of Lee and Marina Oswald.

If any material which in your opinion may be of possible pertinence to this investigation is located as result of above inquiries, furnish same to Bureau.

Handle immediately and submit letterhead by 9-15-64.

Incoming asks for assurances that Commission has been furnished complete inventory of all property in possession of Oswalds as of 11-22-63. We cannot make such assurance as we did not conduct searches during which Oswald property was obtained. Furthermore, Marina undoubtedly has much personal property today that she had on 11-22-63 all of which has absolutely no bearing on this case. Commission further asks assurances that no property of the Oswalds, existence of which is not known to them, still remains in possession of Marina and Robert Oswald and the Paines or any other person. Of course, we cannot speak of any other person. At Marina's request Dallas is engaged in preparing an inventory of all material of the Oswalds that we received from the Dallas Police Department and any other source.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

On August 26, 1964 Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler of the staff of this Commission spoke on the telephone with Mrs. Marina Oswald. During the course of that conversation Marina Oswald advised that she had in her possession a Spanish language television guide covering a period from late September to early October 1963 and a bus ticket or stub dated September 30, 1963 relating to transportation from Mexico City, Mexico to Laredo, Texas.

On August 27, 1964 Mr. Liebeler requested Inspector Malley to cause Marina Oswald to be interviewed about the above items, to gain possession of them and forward copies to us as soon as possible. On interview by your agents in response to that request, it developed that Marina Oswald had certain other items of interest in her possession.

This pamphlet, on page 20, shows a reference to a Hotel Cuba. We have never known how he was aware of the existence of the Hotel Cuba. As he had Cuba on his mind in September,

1. This affidavit is made at the request of the President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy, for the purpose of supplementing the testimony I gave before the Commission concerning certain hairs and fibers I examined.

2. The principal characteristics of cotton fibers used for comparison purposes are color and shade; and degree of twist. Of these, color and shade are by far the most significant. The principal characteristics of viscose used for comparison purposes are color and shade, diameter, and size and distribution of delustering agent.

3. The orange-yellow and grey-black cotton fibers in the shirt, Commission Exhibit 150, were respectively of uniform shades; the dark blue cotton fibers in the shirt were of three different shades. All the fibers in the shirt were mercerized, and of a substantially uniform twist.

4. The green cotton fibers found in the paper bag, Commission Exhibit 142, varied in shade, but were of a uniform twist. The brown viscose fibers in the blanket, Commission Exhibit 140, varied in diameter, shade, size and distribution of delustering agent.

5. Stombaugh Exhibits 1-6 consist of the following items:

(a) Stombaugh Exhibit 1 consists of the hairs I found on the blanket, Commission Exhibit 140.

(b) Stombaugh Exhibit 2 consists of the known sample of Lee Harvey Oswald's hairs sent to me by the Dallas Office of the FBI.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

During the course of discussion of neutron activation analyses between Mr. Melvin Eisenberg of your staff and Special Agent John F. Gallagher of this Bureau on March 16, 1964, Mr. Eisenberg requested the following information:

1. What are some items in common usage which contain barium? Some items that may include barium are: grease, ceramics, glass, paint, printing ink, paper, rubber, plastics, leather, cloth, pyrotechnics, oilcloth and linoleum, storage batteries, matches and cosmetics.

2. What are some items in common usage which contain antimony? Some items that may include antimony are: matches, type metal, lead alloys, paints and lacquers, pigments for oil and water colors, flameproof textiles, storage batteries, pyrotechnics, rubber, pharmaceutical preparations and calico.

3. What are some items in common usage which contain both barium and antimony? Barium and antimony may be found in the following items: printed paper and cloth, paint, storage batteries, rubber and matches, pyrotechnics and possibly other items.

COPY

Honorable J. Lee Rankin

4. Would neutron activation analyses show if a bullet passed through the hole in the front of President Kennedy's shirt near the collar button area and also if a bullet passed through the material of his tie? Neutron activation is a sensitive analytical technique to determine elements present in a substance. During the course of the spectrographic examinations previously conducted of the fabric surrounding the hole in the front of the shirt, including the tie, no copper was found in excess of that present elsewhere in undamaged areas of the shirt and tie. Therefore, no copper was found which could be attributed to projectile fragments.

It is not felt that the increased sensitivity of neutron activation analyses would contribute substantially to the understanding of the origin of this hole and frayed area.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

BASIS FOR INQUIRY

As has been previously reported, OSWALD was registered from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963, in Room No. 18 of the Hotel del Comercio, located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D. F., Mexico.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ from Reynosa, Tamaulipas, was a guest of the Hotel del Comercio on September 26, 1963. LIMA JUAREZ previously advised that a photograph had been taken of a group of the guests of the hotel.

JULIAN HUERTA OLIVA, a Cuban who was residing at the Hotel del Comercio shortly prior to the arrival of OSWALD in September, 1963, furnished a copy of a photograph of a group of the guests at the Hotel del Comercio in September, 1963.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ also advised that he believed that he had seen OSWALD conversing with two Cuban Negroes who were residing at the Hotel del Comercio.

Employees of the Hotel del Comercio stated that ANTONIO OLIVA, a young Negro, possibly a Cuban, had resided in Room No. 4 at the Hotel del Comercio during the period of time that OSWALD was a guest at the hotel. A housemaid of the hotel advised that OLIVA was visited frequently by another young Spanish speaking Negro who may have been a Cuban. It has been determined that ANTONIO OLIVA ALVAREZ is a native of Honduras.

CONTRERAS stated that he was unable to identify photographs of ANTONIO OLIVA ALVAREZ and IRMA CANSECO ORTIZ, the common-law wife of OLIVA ALVAREZ, and reiterated that he had no knowledge of any other Cubans residing in the Hotel del Comercio during the pertinent period other than JULIAN HUERTA OLIVA.

THE AUTHOR WAS MOSCOW CORRESPONDENT FOR NANA IN 1959. A FEW YEARS BEFORE, IN 1953, SHE HAD BEEN RESEARCH ASSISTANT ON VIETNAM FOR JOHN F. KENNEDY, THEN A SENATOR. SHE IS PERHAPS THE ONLY PERSON TO HAVE BEEN GOOD FRIENDS WITH BOTH THE LATE PRESIDENT AND HIS SUSPECTED ASSASSIN. SHE IS TODAY A FREE-LANCE WRITER ON SOVIET AFFAIRS.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., NOV. 22.--(NANA)--"FOR TWO YEARS NOW I HAVE BEEN WAITING TO DO THIS ONE THING. TO DISSOLVE MY AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP AND BECOME A CITIZEN OF THE SOVIET UNION."

THE TIME WAS NOVEMBER, 1959. THE PLACE WAS MY ROOM ON THE THIRD FLOOR OF MOSCOW'S HOTEL METROPOL. THE SPEAKER WAS LEE HARVEY OSWALD, PRIME SUSPECT IN THE ASSASSINATION OF JOHN F. KENNEDY.

WITH HIS SUIT OF CHARCOAL GRAY FLANNEL, DARK TIE AND TAN CASHMERE SWEATER, LEE LOOKED, AND SOUNDED, LIKE JOE COLLEGE WITH A SLIGHT SOUTHERN DRAWL. BUT HIS LIFE HADN'T BEEN THAT OF A TYPICAL COLLEGE BOY.

HIS FATHER, AN INSURANCE SALESMAN, DIED BEFORE HE WAS BORN. RAISED IN TEXAS AND LOUISIANA, THE BOY SPENT TWO YEARS IN NEW YORK DURING HIS EARLY TEENS. AT 17, HE ENLISTED IN THE U.S. MARINES. "I DID IT," HE SAID, "BECAUSE WE WERE POOR AND I DIDN'T WANT TO BE A BURDEN ON MY MOTHER." LATER, HE SPENT 14 MONTHS AS A LICENSED RADAR OPERATOR IN THE FAR EAST.

IN SEPTEMBER, 1959, HIS 3-YEAR HITCH NEARLY DONE, THE MARINES GAVE LEE A DEPENDENCY DISCHARGE. JUST ONE MONTH LATER, AFTER AN EXHAUSTING TRIP BY LAND, SEA AND AIR, HE ARRIVED IN MOSCOW TO PETITION THE SUPREME SOVIET, HIGHEST LEGISLATIVE BODY IN THE U.S.S.R., FOR SOVIET CITIZENSHIP.

FOR DAYS, OSWALD HAD BEEN SITTING ALONE IN HIS HOTEL ROOM, JUST ONE FLOOR BELOW MINE AT THE METROPOL. HE HAD NO FRIENDS IN RUSSIA AND HE DIDN'T SPEAK A WORD OF THE LANGUAGE. THE ONLY SIGHTSEEING HE'D DONE WAS TO "DETSKY MIR," A CHILDREN'S STORE ONE BLOCK FROM OUR HOTEL. HE'D MANAGED TO BUY AN ICE CREAM CONE THERE, HE TOLD ME PROUDLY.

(MORE)

AS WE SAT IN MY HOTEL ROOM ALL EVENING AND INTO THE EARLY HOURS OF MORNING, HE TALKED QUIETLY ABOUT HIS PLANS TO DEFECT TO RUSSIA. HOWEVER, I SOON CAME TO FEEL THAT THIS BOY WAS OF THE STUFF OF WHICH FANATICS ARE MADE.

EVEN THOUGH RUSSIAN OFFICIALS WARNED HIM SOVIET CITIZENSHIP IS NOT EASY TO OBTAIN, LEE WAS ALREADY REFERRING TO THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT AS "MY GOVERNMENT." "BUT," SAID LEE, "EVEN IF I AM NOT ACCEPTED, ON NO ACCOUNT WILL I GO BACK TO THE UNITED STATES. I SHALL REMAIN HERE, IF NECESSARY, AS A RESIDENT ALIEN."

ALL SOVIET OFFICIALS WOULD PROMISE AT THE TIME WAS THAT LEE COULD STAY ON IN RUSSIA REGARDLESS OF WHETHER HE BECAME A CITIZEN. MEANWHILE, THEY WERE "INVESTIGATING THE POSSIBILITY OF SENDING HIM TO A SOVIET HIGHER TECHNICAL INSTITUTE."

AT AN AGE WHEN ANGRY YOUNG REBELS ALL OVER THE WORLD FIND RELEASE IN APING THE BEATNIKS, WHAT BROUGHT THIS SERIOUS, SOFT-SPOKEN SOUTHERN BOY TO MOSCOW WITH NO OTHER AMBITION BUT TO SPEND THE REST OF HIS LIFE AS A SOVIET CITIZEN? EVIDENTLY, IT WAS A COMBINATION OF POVERTY, THE PLIGHT OF THE U.S. NEGRO, AND THE U.S. MARINES.

"MY MOTHER," SAID LEE, "HAS BEEN A WORKER ALL HER LIFE. SHE'S A GOOD EXAMPLE," HE ADDED, "OF WHAT HAPPENS TO WORKERS IN THE UNITED STATES." HE DECLINED TO ELABORATE. "AT THE AGE OF 15," HE ADDED, "AFTER WATCHING THE WAY WORKERS ARE TREATED IN NEW YORK, AND NEGROES IN THE SOUTH, I WAS LOOKING FOR A KEY TO MY ENVIRONMENT. THEN I DISCOVERED SOCIALIST LITERATURE."

LEE WAS STRUCK, IN PARTICULAR, BY MARX'S "DAS KAPITAL." HE CONCLUDED THAT, AS AN AMERICAN, "I WOULD BECOME EITHER A WORKER EXPLOITED FOR CAPITALIST PROFIT, OR AN EXPLOITER OR, SINCE THERE ARE MANY IN THIS CATEGORY, I'D BE ONE OF THE UNEMPLOYED." LEE BECAME A MARXIST. LATER, AS A MARINE CORPS PRIVATE IN JAPAN AND THE PHILIPPINES, HE "HAD A CHANCE TO WATCH AMERICAN MILITARIST IMPERIALISM IN ACTION."

FULLY A YEAR BEFORE, LEE BEGAN GETTING READY TO GO TO RUSSIA. USING A BERLITZ GRAMMAR, HE TAUGHT HIMSELF TO READ AND WRITE RUSSIAN NEVER, SAID LEE, A NICE-LOOKING YOUNG MAN WITH GRAY EYES AND BROWN HAIR, DID HE CONSIDER DESERTING THE MARINE CORPS.

DID IT OCCUR TO LEE THAT SOVIET OFFICIALS MIGHT BE EMBARRASSED BY HIS EFFORT TO BECOME A CITIZEN OF THEIR COUNTRY AT A MOMENT WHEN RUSSIA WAS CULTIVATING GOOD RELATIONS WITH THE UNITED STATES? RUSSIAN OFFICIALS, HE SAID, "DON'T ENCOURAGE AND DON'T DISCOURAGE ME." THEY WARNED, HOWEVER, THAT NEITHER LEE'S WISH, NOR THEIRS, WOULD DETERMINE WHETHER HIS CITIZENSHIP APPLICATION WAS TO BE ACCEPTED. THEY SAID IT DEPENDED ON THE "OVER-ALL POLITICAL ATMOSPHERE AT THE MOMENT. MEANWHILE, THEY OFFERED LEE THE SANCTUARY OF A PROLONGED STAY IN THE U.S.S.R.

- AS FOR OFFICIALS AT THE U.S. EMBASSY IN MOSCOW, THEY WERE TORN BETWEEN THEIR DESIRE TO GIVE LEE TIME TO THINK IT OVER, AND THEIR LEGAL OBLIGATION TO HEAR HIS OATH RENOUNCING AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP IF HE INSISTED. LEE WAS BITTER AT U.S. CONSUL RICHARD SNYDER, WHO, HE CHARGED, STALLED HIM WHEN HE ASKED TO TAKE THE OATH ON OCT. 31, THE ONLY TIME LEE HAD BEEN AT THE EMBASSY. AS A RESULT, LEE WOULDN'T GO BACK THERE. HE WOULD LET THE SOVIET GOVERNMENT HANDLE LEGAL DETAILS WHEN, AND IF, HE BECAME A CITIZEN OF THE SOVIET UNION. MEANWHILE, HE HANDED OVER HIS PASSPORT TO THE AMERICAN EMBASSY.

I ASKED LEE IF THE ORDINARY RUSSIANS HE MET EXPRESSED SURPRISE AT HIS DESIRE TO DEFECT. "WELL," HE SAID, "THEY'RE VERY CURIOUS AND THEY ASK ME WHY. BUT MATERIALIST MUSCOVITES," HE ADDED, "UNDERSTAND WHEN I SPEAK OF THE IDEALISTIC REASONS THAT BROUGHT ME HERE. AND THEY ASK ME MANY QUESTIONS ABOUT THE MATERIAL CONDITIONS OF WORKERS IN THE UNITED STATES."

REGARDLESS OF ANY MATERIAL SHORTCOMINGS IN MOSCOW, LEE INSISTED HE WOULD NEVER GO BACK TO THE U.S.A. "EMIGRATION," HE SAID, "ISN'T EASY. I DON'T RECOMMEND IT TO EVERYONE. IT MEANS COMING TO A NEW COUNTRY, ALWAYS BEING THE OUTSIDER, ALWAYS HAVING TO ADJUST. BUT TO ME, MY REASONS ARE STRONG AND GOOD. I BELIEVE I'M DOING RIGHT."

THAT WAS WHY LEE WOULDN'T ANSWER THE PHONE WHEN HIS MOTHER WAS CALLING FROM FT. WORTH, TRYING TO PLEAD WITH HIM TO RETURN HOME. HE HAD REFUSED TO SPEAK TO ANY AMERICAN CORRESPONDENTS. JUST WHY HE ANSWERED WHEN I KNOCKED AT HIS DOOR AND WHY, A FEW HOURS LATER, HE CAME TO SEE ME IN MY ROOM, I NEVER LEARNED.

AS OUR CONVERSATION DREW TO A CLOSE -- WE ATE NOTHING, AND HAD BEEN SIPPING ONLY TEA -- I HAD A TERRIBLE FEELING OF FUTILITY. DISILLUSION, I WAS SURE, AWAITED HIM.

AS HE WAS LEAVING I ASKED HIM TO COME SEE ME AGAIN. THE RUSSIANS, OSWALD TOLD ME, HAD WARNED THAT HE MUSTN'T TALK TO AMERICANS. BUT HE PROMISED, BEFORE CLOSING THE DOOR, THAT HE WOULDN'T DO ANYTHING DECISIVE WITHOUT AT LEAST LETTING ME KNOW.

TWO DAYS LATER I WENT TO THE SECOND FLOOR "DEZHURNAYA" -- THE WOMAN WHO SITS NEAR THE ELEVATOR AND HANDS OUT KEYS TO EACH ROOM -- AND ASKED FOR MR. OSWALD. HER HANDS FLEW UP IN A KNOW-NOTHING GESTURE. "HE'S GONE," SHE SAID.

I'D WONDERED WHAT HAD HAPPENED TO HIM SINCE. NOW I KNOW.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka
IS - R - CUBA

By letter dated August 25, 1964, J. Lee Rankin of the President's Commission referred a letter and a book received by the Commission, and requested that the letter be translated and the book described. Both articles were in French.

The letter is from Edouard Amberg, 47 Boulevard Gambetta, Mulhouse, Ht-Rhin, France, dated July 7, 1964. The writer advised that prior to the assassination of the President he intercepted two "telehypnotic" messages of an impending tragedy in America. He claims that he is one of the world's greatest authorities on "telehypnosis" and that it is his belief that Oswald was being influenced through "telehypnosis" by one or more persons. He offers his services to the Commission to clear up the assassination and to combat crime.

The book is a treatise on "telehypnosis" which is the power to control and manipulate people at a distance.

ACTION:

Attached for approval is a proposed reply to Rankin's letter furnishing the requested translation.

NOTE: On 9-1-64, Mr. Redlich approved preliminary drawings with the request that finished copies be furnished to him. All the material utilized for preparation of these exhibits was selected by the Commission's staff writers ~~supervisors~~ from information already furnished by the FBI, prepared in report volumes, visual aids, scale models; etc. Redlich indicated that additional aids will be needed from time to time, right up to the final report. Redlich also stated that graphic illustrations prepared by the FBI are indeed necessary in order to clarify obscure, technical points which will appear in the final report. The Laboratory is requested to furnish the Dallas Office with all the outside letterings and markings on the four book cartons (Item # C-40) on which the fingerprints and palm prints of LEE HARVEY OSWALD were discovered, which cartons came from the Texas School Book Depository (TSBD), Dallas, Texas.

Mr. ROY S. TRULY, TSBD, Dallas, Texas, has advised that with the identifying labels on these boxes, he can definitely determine the dates these cartons were received in Dallas. This information is needed, in an effort to determine who may have handled these cartons so that the unidentified latent fingerprints and palm prints can be identified. Mr. TRULY is of the opinion that these cartons contained the "Think and Do" books, "People and Progress", shipped to the TSBD from George Banta Co., Inc., Menasha, Wisconsin, and Second Rolling Reader books shipped by Scott, Foresman & Co., Pinola, Illinois. If photographs of the outsides of these cartons are available, and copies can be furnished Dallas, they can be exhibited to Mr. TRULY for identification purposes.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

In reply to your communication dated September 3, 1964, the translation of a letter in Spanish which was furnished to you by this Bureau on August 7, 1964, is a literal translation of the original Spanish text. The several differences between this version and the translation prepared by Mrs. Odio would appear to result from certain liberties taken by the latter in her interpretation.

For instance, in the second line of Mrs. Odio's translation, as furnished by you on page one of your letter, the word "friends" appears in the original Spanish as a singular noun, "friend." In line three, "not even in" is an erroneous interpretation. The original Spanish word is "por" which means "through" rather than "not even in."

With reference to your specific inquiry regarding that portion of Mrs. Odio's translation which refers to "their full names," the literal translation is "his name."

On August 7, 1964 you forwarded an English translation of a letter in Spanish which has been marked Sylvia Odio Exhibit One in proceedings before this Commission. In her deposition Mrs. Odio translated that portion of the Spanish language material which was underlined in the original. As set forth at pages 373-74 of the transcript of her testimony, a copy of which was forwarded with our letter of August 28, 1964, her translation was as follows:

You will note that the translation of that material which appears on page 3 of your translation is somewhat different than the translation made by Mrs. Odio. Would

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

BASIS FOR INQUIRY

As has been previously reported, OSWALD was registered from September 27, 1963, through October 1, 1963, in Room No. 18 of the Hotel del Comercio, located at Calle Bernardino de Sahagun No. 19, Mexico, D.F., Mexico.

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, from Reynosa, Tamaulipas, was a guest of the Hotel del Comercio from September 15, 1963, until after October 1, 1963. LIMA JUAREZ previously advised that a group photograph had been taken of some guests of the hotel, including two Cubans.

JULIAN HUERTA OLIVA, a Cuban who was residing at the Hotel del Comercio just prior to the arrival of OSWALD in September, 1963, furnished a copy of a group photograph of guests at the Hotel del Comercio in late September, 1963.

LIMA JUAREZ also advised previously that he believed that he had seen OSWALD conversing with two Cuban Negroes who were residing at the Hotel del Comercio. LIMA JUAREZ previously stated that he had seen a total of four Cubans at the Hotel del Comercio during the period that he resided there, including the two Cuban Negroes and the two Cubans who he thought had appeared in the group photograph.

REINTERVIEW OF ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ, who normally resides in Reynosa, Tamaulipas, Mexico, furnished the following information to a confidential source abroad on August 26, 1964, at his temporary residence at Cerrada de Lauro Aguirre No. 19, Mexico, D.F., Mexico.

ENCLOSURE

C O N F I D E N T I A L

A copy of the group photograph furnished by JULIAN HUERTA OLIVA was exhibited to LIMA JUAREZ, who stated that this was the group photograph to which he had previously referred. LIMA JUAREZ identified the persons appearing in this photograph as follows, left to right:

FRANCISCO MORALES, his companion who was seeking employment

GABRIEL CONTRERAS, a man from Chihuahua with eye trouble

JULIAN HUERTA, a Cuban who later went to the United States

MANUEL SANTOS, a farmer from Torreon, Mexico

ERNESTO LIMA JUAREZ

LIMA JUAREZ said that, when originally interviewed, he had throught that a second Cuban had appeared in the photograph, but now realized that he was mistaken.

LIMA JUAREZ said that the second Cuban, to whom he had previously referred, was a friend of JULIAN HUERTA who was not a guest at the hotel. A photograph of NESTOR LEONELO CARBONELL was shown to LIMA JUAREZ and he said that the photograph and the name appeared to be familiar to him but he could not be certain that this was the individual who had visited JULIAN HUERTA at the Hotel del Comercio.

LIMA JUAREZ stated that to the best of his knowledge, HUERTA was the only Cuban who was a guest at the Hotel del Comercio during the period of time that LIMA JUAREZ resided there, with the exception of ANTONIO OLIVA, a young Spanish-speaking Negro that HUERTA had identified as being a Cuban.

It is noted that ANTONIO OLIVA, as previously reported, has been identified as a Negro from Honduras.

C O N F I D E N T I A L

A photograph of ANTONIO OLIVA was shown to LIMA JUAREZ, and LIMA JUAREZ immediately identified the photograph as a photograph of the "Cuban Negro" who lived in a room on the roof of the Hotel del Comercio with a Mexican girl. LIMA JUAREZ identified a photograph of IRMA CONSECO ORTIZ as being a photograph of the girl who resided with OLIVA.

LIMA JUAREZ said that another Negro whom he considered to be a Cuban had associated with OLIVA but was not a guest of the hotel.

LIMA JUAREZ stated that, shortly after his arrival at the Hotel del Comercio in mid September, 1963, he saw OLIVA and the other Negro standing at the entrance of the Hotel del Comercio conversing with a person believed by LIMA JUAREZ to be an American. LIMA JUAREZ recalled this American as being a young white male, about five feet eight inches tall, with a dark complexion and definite Latin characteristics. LIMA JUAREZ specifically noted that this individual had curly black hair with a marked widow's peak and a noticeably high forehead.

LIMA JUAREZ stated that, when he was first interviewed concerning this matter, he had identified photographs of OSWALD as being identical with the individual mentioned above; however, after thinking carefully about the matter, he is now quite certain that this individual was not OSWALD. LIMA JUAREZ stated that he is now quite certain that he has never seen LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to our letter dated September 1, 1964, with which were enclosed photographic copies of Exhibits D-237 through and including D-242.

There are enclosed two copies each of translations from the Spanish language of Exhibit D-237 and from the Russian language of Exhibit D-242.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD aka
IS - R - C
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIAN (COMMUNIST)

In response to a telephonic request today from Mr. J. Lee Rankin, President's Commission, I conferred with Mr. Rankin in his office concerning the latent print lift (identified as Oswald's) from the assassination rifle and concerning the 25 latent prints remaining unidentified which were developed on the four book cartons recovered at the Texas School Book Depository. SA Robert A. Frazier, Firearms Unit, FBI Laboratory, and Section Chief Sebastian F. Latona, Latent Fingerprint Section, Identification Division, also participated in this conference.

As set forth in Mr. Rosen's memo of 8-28-64, Mr. Rankin had previously inquired if we could determine whether the latent lifted by Lieutenant Day, Dallas Police Department, was in fact lifted from the assassination rifle. I informed Mr. Rankin that the FBI Laboratory was able to positively identify this lift as having come from Oswald's rifle in the area under the wooden foregrip.

Mr. Rankin informed me that he had made an official request by letter in this regard. This letter will be answered upon its receipt and upon the completion of a photograph illustrating the identification.

Mr. Rankin stated he would also request by letter that the FBI attempt to identify the latent prints on the cartons referred to above with particular reference to eliminating the prints of Dallas police officers, Secret Service Agents and Texas School Book employees. Mr. Rankin was informed that six of the latents were palm prints which would necessitate acquiring "major case" type prints for comparison purposes. I advised Mr. Rankin that this phase of the investigation would be handled upon receipt of the letter defining the objectives.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

There are enclosed two copies each of memoranda captioned "Mark Lane" dated August 12 and August 17, 1964.

Concerning James Alford Markham's reference to his arrest on July 30, 1964, in his statement as set forth in the enclosed August 12, 1964, memorandum, your attention is invited to the fact that, as set forth in our July 31, 1964, memorandum in the Mark Lane matter, the records of the Dallas Police Department reveal that James Alford Markham was, in fact, arrested on June 30, 1964.

Upon detachment of the classified enclosures, this letter may be regarded as unclassified.

Helen Markham to get her to identify Oswald and by inference he has claimed that Dallas police used brutality when arresting Markham's son James. Fact is Markham jumped out of an upstairs window of his mother's home and was injured in the fall. He admitted this during prior interview. The 8/12/64 enclosure records that James Markham now claims he was pushed out of the window by police. He claims he lied when previously interviewed as the police promised him probation, but as he has now been indicted, he wants to tell the "truth" now. The enclosure shows James Markham to be a liar. The 8/17/64 letterhead recounts Lane's activities when in Denmark. Classified "Confidential" as Legat, London, classified his letterhead to protect the foreign source.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation
Department of Justice
Washington, D. C. 20535

Dear Mr. Hoover:

The Commission would appreciate your conducting the following additional investigation for us:

1. Mr. Garland Slack, 3130 dc Lee Street, Dallas, Texas, has testified before the Commission that on November 17, 1963, he was present at the Sports Drome Rifle Range in Dallas where he observed a man whom he thought to be Lee Harvey Oswald. He testified that while there he became involved in an altercation with this man because this person was firing at his target. Slack also said that he observed "a tall boy" wearing a beard accompanying the man he thought to be Oswald, and that the two of them left together in an older model 4-door sedan. Mr. Slack testified that his wife, Lucille, was present with him on this occasion at the firing range.

Please interview Lucille Slack and obtain from her all information which she has in regard to the above incident at the firing range. Among other questions, you should be sure to ask Mrs. Slack to describe the person who became involved in the argument with her husband, whether she believes that the man was Lee Harvey Oswald, and whether she believes that the bearded person at the firing range was a companion of the man her husband believes to have been Oswald. Also ask Mrs. Slack to describe the gun that the man believed to be Oswald was firing, and determine whether Mrs. Slack noticed any unusual blast or flames when the rifle was fired. Did the gun have a scope or a sling? If so, of what type? Also ask Mrs. Slack when she believes her husband first noted the similarity between the man he had seen at the firing range and Lee Harvey Oswald; if she believes that the man was Oswald when did she first notice the similarity? You might also in a subtle manner attempt to obtain from Mrs. Slack an evaluation of her husband's veracity.

2. In the report from the Dallas Office of your Bureau dated February 25, 1964, it was reported that on the preceding day Special Agent C. Ray Hall, with the use of a polygraph, interviewed Albert Guy Bogard in regard to his allegation that on November 9, 1963, he gave a demonstration ride to a man who visited the Downtown Lincoln-Mercury salesroom in Dallas and gave his name as Lee Oswald. The report indicates that the emotional responses recorded by the polygraph were those normally expected of a person telling the truth. However, the report provides only a summary of the questions which were asked Mr. Bogard. Would you please provide us with as detailed a report as possible concerning the precise questions asked of Mr. Bogard and his answers to these questions.

3. In the report prepared by Special Agents C. Ray Hall and Maurice J. White on December 11, 1963, covering an interview with Mr. Oran Paul Brown, 101 Savannah, Waxahachie, Texas, it appears that Mr. Brown provided corroboration for the testimony of Mr. Bogard. Mr. Brown stated that one to two weeks before the assassination Bogard asked him to service Oswald if he appeared in the salesroom while Bogard was not in, and that Brown wrote Oswald's name on a slip of paper which at some time he brought home with him. Mr. Brown further stated that when he returned home on the evening of November 22, 1963, his wife asked him what he knew about Oswald since she had seen Oswald's name on a piece of paper among his effects. Please interview Mrs. Brown to determine whether or not she ever observed the name "Lee Oswald" on a piece of paper among Brown's effects and whether or not she ever made the remark to her husband which he ascribed to her.

Also, reinterview Oran Brown to determine whether or not on November 22 he himself saw Mr. Bogard remove a business card from his wallet which he claimed bore Oswald's name and throw this card in the refuse.

4. Also in connection with the testimony of Mr. Bogard, please interview a Mr. Wilson who was a salesman at the Downtown Lincoln-Mercury at the time of the assassination, and reinterview Jack A. Lawrence, 144 10th Avenue, South Charleston, West Virginia, and Robert V. Teter, 3737 Higgins, Dallas, who also previously were salesmen at this showroom. Determine from all three men the circumstances under which they first learned of Mr. Bogard's allegation that Oswald had been a prospective customer; in particular, determine whether any of these men themselves saw Bogard take a card from his wallet, announce that Oswald's name was upon it, and tear up the card and throw it in the trash.

As to Mr. Wilson, also determine whether he has any knowledge about Mr. Bogard's having used Wilson's demonstrator car to make a demonstration to a prospective customer on November 9, 1963. Before the assassination, did Bogard ever mention anything to Wilson about such a demonstration or about the customer to whom he made the demonstration?

As to Mr. Lawrence, he has previously stated to Special Agents John B. Woodruff and Leon R. Graben, on December 11, 1963, that Bogard "wrote uppapers covering the sale of this car to Oswald"; determine precisely what "papers" Lawrence was referring to and the basis upon which he made such statement. Mr. Lawrence also stated that "as a result" of his calling Mr. Bogard's allegation to the attention of the FBI "his leaving his employment in Dallas at the Downtown Lincoln-Mercury Company was speeded up and occurred the same day he made the call." Determine the basis upon which he believes that his discharge was connected with his calling this matter to the attention of the FBI; when he called the FBI, did Mr. Bogard or Mr. Pizzo, the assistant sales manager, or anybody else oppose his doing so? Ascertain the surrounding circumstances.

As to Mr. Teter, who has previously informed your Bureau that Lawrence had at one time told him that he had received a bad conduct discharge, determine whether and when he related this fact to Mr. Pizzo; if he did so inform Mr. Pizzo, what was Pizzo's reaction to this information?

Also, please reinterview Mr. Bogard himself to determine whether he spoke to anybody other than Mr. Pizzo about the prospective customer he believes was Oswald prior to the date of the assassination. If Mr. Bogard does not recall doing so, ask him, in particular, whether or not he ever spoke to Mr. Brown about this customer and asked Brown to service the customer for him if the customer should appear in the evening when Bogard was not in the showroom. Also ask Mr. Bogard whether he prepared a write-up sheet on the customer or merely wrote his name on the back of his business card. If he did not prepare a write-up sheet, why did he not do so?

5. Clifton M. Shasteen, 2214 Fairfax, Irving, Texas, who owns Cliftons Barber Shop, 1321 South Storey, Irving, has testified before the Commission that a man he believes to have been Lee Harvey Oswald was in his barbershop on several occasions prior to the assassination for haircuts. He testified that on at least two occasions the person believed to be Oswald was accompanied by a 14 year old boy, who was also in the barbershop by himself on other occasions, and also that he saw the man thought to be Oswald drive to the barbershop in Mrs. Paine's station wagon. Please interview the barbers who worked for Mr. Shasteen during October and November of 1963. A Mr. Burt Glover and a Mr. Buddy Lowe (or Law) were employed by Shasteen during this period; it is not clear whether or not there were other barbers in Shasteen's shop during this time. Determine whether the other barbers recall a customer in the shop who they believe resembles or was in fact Lee Harvey Oswald. Shasteen testified that the person he believes was Oswald was in the shop on one occasion on a Friday evening close to 7:00 p.m. at about the time that Shasteen was leaving for a high school football game; this was either on November 1 or November 8, 1963. Referring to the occasion on which Mr. Glover cut this person's hair, Shasteen testified as follows:

> "he went around and instead of using his back bar to look in the mirror and comb his hair, he went down to the one at the middle chair and just rudely pushed out of the way and he go up there and combed his hair and turned his water on, you know, and got some more oil and put on it, on his hair, and he didn't say thank you or excuse me or nothing. He just pushed in there---those things make you remember."

Obtain from the barbers as complete a description as possible of the physical appearance of any person they believe resembled Oswald, including a full description of his apparel; also ascertain as much information as possible about any person who may have accompanied a man resembling Oswald to the barbershop and also ascertain whether the man resembling Oswald was seen driving a car to the barbershop, and if so, obtain a description of the car.

Mr. Shasteen also testified that his "brother-in-law used to live right across the street from" Mrs. Paine; he also testified that he owned some property in Irving which he rents to others. Please re-interview Mr. Shasteen in order to obtain the addresses of his brother-in-law's former residence and the rental property which he owns, and then attempt to verify the information which he provides you.

The Commission appreciates the continuing cooperation of your Bureau.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

NOTE: The Commission's letter is four pages in length and requests collaborative investigation concerning early developments in the assassination primarily dealing with allegations that generally do not adhere to facts developed by us. For example, additional investigation concerning Oswald being seen at a rifle range practicing, additional investigation regarding Oswald allegedly driving a demonstrator car prior to the assassination at speeds in excess of 70 miles an hour, allegations concerning his being seen in a barber shop. None of these allegations appear to have an basis. As the results are received the Commission will be notified. Be pertinent

PURPOSE

To recommend the attached letter be sent to the President's Commission pursuant to its inquiry advising them that personnel of this Bureau conducted an estimated 25,000 interviews since the assassination on 11-22-63.

DETAILS

On 9-2-64, Howard P. Willens, Staff Member of the Commission, telephonically contacted J. R. Malley and requested to be advised of the estimated number of interviews conducted by this Bureau since 11-22-63. Willens made specific reference to a prior Bureau letter dated 8-12-64, wherein the Commission had been advised we did not keep track of the number of such interviews conducted and that to obtain this figure would be an enormous undertaking. Willens nevertheless stated it would greatly aid the Commission in endeavoring to give the Bureau credit for work performed if the Commission could be furnished some rough estimate of the number of interviews conducted without resorting to a physical count or other time consuming project.

BACKGROUND

The Commission by letter 8-7-64, stated it intends to incorporate in its final report the extent of the "excellent" investigative efforts undertaken by the Bureau since 11-22-63, and in this regard requested certain statistical data, including the number of interviews conducted by this Bureau. By letter 8-12-64, we advised the Commission that over 1750 investigative reports comprising more than 17,200 pages had been furnished to the Commission and we also summarized some of the major special services and projects handled for the Commission. The Commission was specifically advised we did not keep track of the number of interviews conducted by virtually every FBI field office and representatives abroad and that to develop this information would be an extremely laborious and time consuming project.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont
RE: THE PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION

BASIS FOR ESTIMATE OF 25,000 INTERVIEWS CONDUCTED

This matter was discussed with Bureau supervisors in the Domestic Intelligence Division and General Investigative Division who have handled the three distinct phases of this matter since its inception. These phases are generally referred to as the Lee Harvey Oswald background investigation, assassination investigation and the Jack L. Ruby Civil Rights investigation. Based on the supervisors intimate knowledge of these matters an estimated figure of 25,000 interviews conducted was arrived at which they feel is conservative.

RECOMMENDATION

That the attached letter be sent to the Commission advising that this Bureau conducted an estimated 25,000 interviews since the assassination of President Kennedy on 11-22-63.

FROM: R. H. Jevons

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN F. KENNEDY, DALLAS, TEXAS, 11/22/63

Lee Oswald

Mr. Melvin Eisenberg of the President's Commission telephonically contacted SA Paul M. Stombaugh on 9/1/64, relative to certain questions regarding fiber examinations conducted in this case for inclusion in an affidavit he is preparing for SA Stombaugh's signature. A resume of this conversation is as follows:

Mr. Eisenberg desired to know what mercerized cotton is. He was told this is cotton that has been chemically treated and which process removes much of the twist naturally present in cotton.

He inquired as to whether or not the degree of twist in cotton was regarded as a main characteristic used for comparison purposes. SA Stombaugh answered that the twist was a minor individual characteristic used, the shade of the fiber being the main characteristic.

He asked what delustered fibers were and the significance of the spots on these fibers. The answer given was that delustered synthetic fibers are those that have been chemically treated to remove the luster or shine from the fiber. The resulting spots from this chemical action are fairly uniform in size and are used as a major individual characteristic for comparison purposes.

Mr. Eisenberg then inquired if the small tuft of cotton fibers removed from the butt of the assassination rifle contained several different shades of each color. He was told that the gray-black and orange-yellow cotton fibers each contained one shade; however, the blue cotton fibers contained two different shades of blue.

He then asked the approximate number of fibers in the tuft, whether or not these matched those in Oswald's shirt, and whether or not the cotton in this shirt was mercerized. The answer was there were six or seven fibers in the tuft. The blue fibers matched two of the three shades present in the shirt and the gray-black and orange-yellow fibers matched the gray-black and orange-yellow fibers present in the shirt. The cotton in the shirt was mercerized, the twist of the cotton fibers in both the shirt and the tuft from the rifle being fairly uniform.

Mr. Eisenberg then asked how many different shades of green cotton fibers were in the blanket (found in Paine's garage) and was told approximately seven. He then inquired if the several green cotton fragments removed from the paper bag (found near the rifle) matched any of these. He was told they matched one of the shades.

He inquired whether or not the delustered brown viscose fibers present in the blanket had uniform delustering spots. He was told the spots varied in size with the various fibers as the fibers were of different diameters. However, the brown viscose fiber fragment from the paper bag microscopically matched some of these fibers in diameter and delustering characteristics.

Mr. Eisenberg then stated that he had neglected to place into evidence the glass microscope slides containing the fibers removed from the gun and the paper bag, the hairs removed from the blanket and the known hair samples obtained from Oswald. He inquired whether or not these are still available and upon receiving an affirmative answer, stated the introduction of these would be included in the affidavit.

SA Stombaugh is to be contacted by a representative of the President's Commission in the near future to obtain his signature on the affidavit and to turn over the glass slides for evidentiary purposes.

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission

Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 12, 1964, concerning the scope of this Bureau's investigative efforts since the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Reference is also made to a telephone conversation between Mr. Howard P. Willens of your staff and Mr. J. R. Malley of this Bureau on September 2, 1964, relative to our making an estimate of the number of interviews conducted by personnel of this Bureau since November 22, 1963.

As you were previously advised in my letter dated August 12, 1964, we did not keep track of the number of interviews conducted by virtually every one of our fifty-six continental field offices and our representatives abroad. Based on the most recent request of Mr. Willens, an effort was made to arrive at a reasonable estimate of the number of such interviews conducted, without resorting to a physical count or engaging in a laborious, time-consuming research project. In line with the above, it is estimated FBI personnel conducted 25,000 interviews since November 22, 1963. It is pointed out this figure took into consideration interviews and reinterviews in all matters investigated by this Bureau arising from the assassination of President Kennedy.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to my letter dated August 27, 1964, concerning the display of photographs of Officer J. D. Tippit and Mr. Bernard Weissman to six individuals having a connection with the Carousel Club.

Enclosed are two copies each of two communications from our Portland Office dated August 21, 1964, and August 31, 1964. In the enclosed communications you will note Mr. Crafard states Mr. Jack Ruby told him that he knew Officer Tippit and that he, Crafard, had seen Mr. Weissman at the Carousel Club on a number of occasions.

For your information, my letter dated August 27, 1964, enclosed a communication from our Dallas Office dated August 21, 1964. On page two of the Dallas communication Mr. Andrew Armstrong, Jr., during an interview on August 20, 1964, stated after viewing photographs of Officer Tippit and Mr. Weissman that he had never seen either individual before. Mr. Armstrong also stated that Mr. Ruby had told him that the "Tippit" who was shot was not the one he knew. Further, beginning on page three of the Dallas communication Detective Gayle M. Tippit, during interview on December 16, 1963, acknowledged that he was very well acquainted with Mr. Ruby.

ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT
JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

MISC. - INFO CONCERNING

ReBurad dated 9-2-64, concerning a request to verify Bernard Weissman's employment at Carpet Engineers Inc., Dallas, Texas, on 11-14-63.

Every effort should be made to expedite this investigation so that the Bureau can conclude its inquiries and advise the Commission at the earliest possible time.

NOTE: Commission by let 8-3-64, referred to testimony of Mark Lane before Commission, in which he alleged there was meeting at Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63, between Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full page ad in Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. It appears Commission is taking every precaution to preclude possible future criticism. Commission request required displaying photographs of Weissman and Tippit to 6 individuals associated with the Carousel Club to insure neither were seen in the club.

NOTE CONTINUED PAGE THREE

With the transmission of the enclosed letterhead memoranda from Portland, we conclude our inquiries based on requests set out in the Commission letter dated 8-3-64. It is pointed out Crafard, although interviewed on numerous occasions, never previously furnished the above information. Crafard is an itinerant by nature and was employed by Ruby as a handy man. He is not considered reliable, is prone to exaggerate and there is some indication he has enjoyed the notoriety occasioned by his association with Ruby. During interview on 8-10-64 by New York Agents Weissman stated he believed he was employed on the evening Lane alleged the controversial meeting took place. The Commission by letter 8-31-64, requested efforts be made to verify this employment and when the results are received, all inquiries in this particular phase will have been completed. This matter is being closely followed and the Commission will be promptly advised when the results are received.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

The President's Commission on the Assassination of President Kennedy by letter dated August 28, 1964, requested the recontact of Mrs. Virginia Louise Davis, 2225 By-Way, Dallas, Texas, who, with her husband, operates the Sports Drome Rifle Range in Dallas.

The Commission noted that Mrs. Davis was originally interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on December 1, 1963, at which time she apparently indicated that no written "register" was maintained at the rifle range during the period from September to November, 1963, when Oswald is alleged to have practiced at the rifle range.

The Commission further noted that in the course of her deposition to a member of the President's Commission on April 1, 1964, Mrs. Davis referred to a "journal", which she described as a daily record she kept of everything that happens at the range, which everyone had to sign when they first opened the range. She noted that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had picked up the sign-in slips and checked them out.

Attached hereto are the results of investigation conducted in an effort to clarify this matter.

FLOYD GUY DAVIS, owner, Sports Drome Rifle Range, 8000 West Davis, Dallas, Texas, advised that his wife, VIRGINIA, and he are the sole operators of this range.

Mr. DAVIS stated that in the course of their business, they maintain only one type of record, and that is a business ledger which lists by days the amount of money taken in at the range, as well as the amount of expenses paid out with the names of the business concerns to whom the money was paid. He stated that this ledger, or "journal", does not contain the names of customers at the range.

Mr. DAVIS stated that when they opened their range for business on Saturday, October 26, 1963, they started off keeping a guest sign-in type register wherein the shooter signed his name and address. The purpose of this register was to aid them in their new business so they could send a card to those who had registered advising them of the date of their future "turkey shoots".

However, many of the shooters did not desire to sign the register for various reasons, and after November 3, 1963, they stopped maintaining such a sign-in sheet.

Mr. DAVIS stated that if his wife had referred to a "journal" in her testimony to a member of the President's Commission, she undoubtedly was referring to their business ledger and not to a so-called guest register of shooters.

In regard to the "sign-in" records maintained from October 26, 1963, to November 3, 1963, inclusive, Mr. DAVIS produced from his desk six sheets of 12" by 8½" lined tablet paper and two sheets of 7" by 5½" white memorandum size paper on memo paper of the "F. Mr. DAVIS advised that the red "x" marks by the names of many of the individuals listed on these sheets were made by someone other than his wife and him, and he does not know the meaning of the marks.

Mr. DAVIS turned over the aforementioned sheets of paper and advised that the President's Commission may use them for any purpose they might desire; however, he does desire their return to him eventually.

Mrs. VIRGINIA PASH DAVIS, also known as VIRGINIA LOUISE DAVIS, was interviewed in her trailer home located at 2825 By Way, Dallas, Texas.

Mrs. DAVIS stated that her husband, FLOYD GUY DAVIS, and she first opened their Sports Drome Rifle Range, at 8000 West Davis, Dallas, Texas, on Saturday, October 26, 1963.

She stated that when they first opened the range, they had decided to have the customers sign a register, on ordinary tablet paper, listing their home addresses. The purpose of this was to obtain the addresses of the customers in order for her to drop them a post card to advise them when the range would hold a "turkey shoot". Some of the customers did not react very kindly to signing such a register; some refused to sign the register, and after a week or so, they discontinued this practice of having the guests sign a register. Mrs. DAVIS stated that this list is certainly not to be considered as the complete listing of all individuals who had used this rifle (and revolver) range between Saturday, October 26, 1963, and November 3, 1963; the last day a listing was maintained.

Mrs. DAVIS stated that the "journal" she was referring to when interviewed by a member of the President's Commission is actually a business-type ledger listing credit and debits for a particular day's business. This journal contains the identity of business expenses and the names of the business concerns to whom money was paid, as well as listing the amount of money taken in at the rifle range. She stated this journal does not contain the names of any customers or shooters at the range on a particular day.

Mrs. DAVIS stated that she referred to the "journal" in her deposition in her efforts to definitely pinpoint the the date of the first "turkey shoot" held at the range. She did not mean to imply that this "journal" contained the names of customers at the range for a particular day in question.

Regarding records maintained by their range, Mrs. DAVIS stated that she and her husband maintain this "business journal", referred to above, and for approximately one week (from October 26, 1963, to November 3, 1963) had maintained the previously referred to "sign-in" register containing the names of the customers and their mailing addresses. They keep no other record other than the "journal".

Mrs. DAVIS viewed the six 12" by 8½" lined tablet paper sheets and the two 7" by 5½" white business note sheets on "F. B. McINTIRE EQUIPMENT CO." memorandum paper, furnished by her husband on September 3, 1963, and advised that these eight pieces of paper are the entire "sign-in" register maintained previously at the range from October 26, 1963, and which they discontinued keeping after November 3, 1963. Mrs. DAVIS stated that the President's Commission is most welcome to use these papers for any purpose they see fit. She noted that the red "x" marks by various individuals' names were made by some other Government agency, and the meaning of the check marks are unknown to her.

Mrs. DAVIS stated that her husband and she need their business journal in the course of their business, but if the Commission still desires the use of same (after now understanding the true nature of this ledger), she can possibly make it available to them.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Enclosed for your information are two copies each of two newspaper articles. Both articles are primarily concerned with public assertions made by Mr. Mark Lane concerning his theories on the assassination of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. Considerable information regarding Mr. Lane has been previously furnished to you.

No further action is being taken with regard to these articles unless specifically advised to the contrary by you.

ReNYairtel dated 9/3/64 enclosing copies of the above referred to newspaper articles. One copy of New York's airtel and the enclosed articles are furnished for your information. Subsequent reporting of this material is not desired.

NOTE: Lane is the New York attorney who injected himself into the Oswald case through the "National Guardian" newspaper. Lane has been married often, has engaged in [redacted] and is known to be associated with communist dominated organizations. He has been making speeches around the country and particularly in New York endeavoring to prove that Oswald was innocent. His material is based on malicious half truths and theories. The article by Kilgallen relates to a thoroughly investigated allegation made by Lane in his testimony before the President's Commission that a meeting took place at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11/14/63 between Bernard Weissman, officer J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed the controversial full page ad in the Dallas newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. The Kilgallen article rehashes this allegation and adds a new dimension in that a fourth individual allegedly attended this meeting at the Carousel Club who is identified by Kilgallen as a "rich oil man." The article by Hathaway briefly discusses Lane's continuing lectures on the assassination and their effect on the general public. Hathaway claims Lane speaks with logic and many people come away believing his theories. We have furnished the Commission numerous items relating to Lane's speeches, newspaper articles and the like. It is not felt any additional investigation is warranted.

Mr. J. Edgar Hoover
Director
Federal Bureau of Investigation
United States Department of Justice
Washington 25, D. C.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

Page 12 of Agent Callender's Report of December 24, 1963, provides a schedule of Continental Trailways buses from New Orleans to Houston as of September, 1963. Pages 10-11 of Agent Fults' Report of December 11, 1963, similarly provide what appears to be a schedule of all Greyhound buses from New Orleans to Houston as of September, 1963.

It would be helpful to the work of the Commission if you could inform us whether pages 10-11 of Agent Fults' Report do in fact provide a schedule of all Greyhound buses running from New Orleans to Houston. If not, could you furnish such a full schedule? Also, are Continental Trailways and Greyhound the only buslines which operated buses from New Orleans to Houston during September, 1963? If not, could you please furnish schedules for the additional lines?

Your continued cooperation is appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel

NOTE:

In addition to above requests Commission desired to obtain FBI basis for concluding that rubber stamp used on Oswald's vaccination certificate was made by the rubber stamp in Oswald's possessions. The Laboratory Division is handling this matter. Based on information available to the Bureau, the clip in the assassination rifle was empty although one cartridge was in the rifle chamber. Further Oswald's original order and envelope were apparently destroyed by Kleins after they were microfilmed. This matter is being coordinated with the Laboratory Division and when the results of investigation are received, the Commission will be appropriately notified.

At approximately 9:00 a.m., 9/9/64, Mrs. MARGUERITE OSWALD, mother of deceased victim, telephonically contacted SAC J. GORDON SHANKLIN and advised that Attorney JERRY MURAD, whose name has been mentioned in the newspapers the last several days as being considered by RUBY "kin", had been involved with her (Mrs. OSWALD) from the beginning. Mrs. OSWALD stated that Deputy Sheriff BILL BROWN of Fort Worth, Texas, came to her house on 11/28/63 and stayed at her house for 24 hours a day. He immediately wanted to become her business manager and wanted her to write a book. He suggested Attorney JERRY MURAD and had MURAD draw up a contract, which she refused to sign. She stated BROWN became indignant and took all the newspaper clippings out of her house and left at 12:00 midnight. She stated she could not understand why he stayed 24 hours a day when he was only supposed to work 8 hours.

Texas

Mrs. OSWALD inquired as to who suggested that JERRY MURAD act as attorney for RUBY. She stated there must be some connection between RUBY, BROWN and MURAD.

It should be noted that "The Fort Worth Press", Fort Worth, Texas, on 9/8/64 carried an article wherin Mrs. EVA GRANT, sister of RUBY, denied reports that the RUBY family was seeking to hire Fort Worth attorney JERRY MURAD as an addition to the RUBY defense staff.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

There are enclosed two copies each of memoranda dated August 25 and August 28, 1964, dealing with the claims of Ernesto Lima Juarez.

The group photograph referred to in the enclosed memoranda was designated Exhibit D-231, two copies of which were furnished to you as an enclosure to the report in the Lee Harvey Oswald case of Special Agent Robert E. The enclosures are letterheads from Legat, Mexico City, which have been approved for dissemination by Messrs. Belmont and Malley. The Lima Juarez aspect dealt with his claims to have seen a man he thought was Oswald at the Del Comercio Hotel in Mexico City in September - October, 1963. He said this person associated with a group of four Cubans who were registered at the hotel and that two of the Cubans were depicted in a groupphotograph taken at the time by a street photographer. His claims have been thoroughly discredited. There was only one Cuban at the hotel at the time. He has been interviewed by New Haven and denies any knowledge of Oswald. The group photograph was located and Lima now admits he was mistaken in that only the Cuban interviewed by New Haven was in the picture. On 8/26/64 he recanted and told Legat that he is now quite certain he has never seen Oswald. Classified "Confidential" as Legat has so classified letterheads to protect our operations in Mexico.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, aka.

At the request of J. Lee Rankin, General Counsel, President's Commission, Mr. Sebastian F. Latona, Latent Fingerprint Section, Identification Division, and Malley met with Mr. Rankin, Mr. James Wesley Liebeler and Mr. Burt Griffin at the Commission office today.

Mr. Rankin advised that the members of the President's Commission were rather anxious to try to resolve a question that existed relative to the palm prints and latent fingerprints that had been developed on four cartons that were located on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building in the area of the window from which it is believed Oswald shot President Kennedy.

Mr. Rankin advised that the Commission had received from the Bureau a number of pieces of correspondence concerning this matter wherein it was set forth that Oswald's prints had been found among the latent fingerprints and palm prints located on the cartons but they were concerned over the identity of the latent prints which had not been identified. He commented that the Bureau had obtained prints for elimination purposes from the employees of the Texas School Book Depository Building which Mr. Truly, the manager, believed might logically have a reason to have been in the area of these boxes. Mr. Rankin commented that Truly had strenuously objected to all of his personnel being printed at that time due to the loss of work being sustained by his company.

Mr. Rankin stated that the situation now exists where the Commission has not resolved the identity of these prints and it leaves room for the allegation and speculation that Oswald had a co-conspirator in killing President Kennedy. For this reason Mr. Rankin desired the Bureau to attempt to resolve this issue by whatever additional investigation was necessary, fully realizing the scope of the investigation that might be necessary.

Mr. Rankin stated that he would appreciate the Bureau's making an effort to obtain Mr. Truly's permission to print all of the employees of his company for elimination purposes. He advised that in the event there were any objections on Mr. Truly's part he would appreciate being told so that either he, Mr. Rankin, or Chief Justice Warren could contact Mr. Truly to advise him of the importance of this matter to the Commission in order to obtain his full cooperation.

A detailed letter is being prepared by Mr. Rankin's office outlining the investigation that is desired and will be sent to the Bureau as soon as it is ready. In the meantime, the Dallas Office has been filled in concerning the request of the President's Commission in order that they could get started on this rather large request for additional investigation.

In addition to the foregoing, Mr. Rankin requested relative to the latent fingerprint and palm print impressions that a chart be made visually demonstrating the location of the latent fingerprints and palm prints developed on the four cartons. He stated that he would appreciate it if this chart would show the latent finger and palm prints that actually belonged to Oswald as well as the other impressions that were developed and remain unidentified. He stated he would appreciate these being numbered in such a manner that it would be easy for the Commission members or anyone else reviewing this matter at a subsequent date to follow the complete picture relating to these latent prints. Mr. Latona is proceeding with the preparation of the chart as requested.

Request for Additional Data Re Palm Print on Barrel of Assassination Rifle

Mr. Rankin advised several questions had been raised relative to the palm print found on the barrel of the assassination rifle located on the portion of the barrel which was attached to the wooden foregrip of the rifle. Mr. Rankin stated as he understood the matter the palm print located on the rifle barrel had been located by Lieutenant Day of the Dallas Police Department and had been lifted from the rifle by Lieutenant Day. He noted that the Dallas Police Department made no mention of this latent palm print for a number of days following the assassination. He commented that on November 23, the day following the assassination, Chief of Police Curry, when questioned by news media, answered that fingerprints had been found and when asked further questions about identification stated the rifle had been forwarded to the FBI Laboratory. On Sunday, November 24, District Attorney Henry Wade, when questioned before news media, made the statement that a palm print had been found. Mr. Rankin states that based on the information made available to the Commission the existence of this palm print was not volunteered to the Bureau until a specific request was made of the Dallas Police Department.

Memorandum to Mr. Belmont
Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Mr. Rankin further advised that when Lieutenant Day testified before the President's Commission he stated on finding the print he considered photographing it and had intended to do so and then lifted the latent palm impression. The Commission testimony does not show whether Lieutenant Day did or did not photograph the palm impression that he located prior to lifting the palm print impression.

In view of the foregoing, Mr. Rankin desired that Lieutenant Day of the Dallas Police Department be contacted to ascertain from him whether or not he did or did not make photographs of the latent palm impression that he found on the rifle barrel and if he did, in fact, make photographs to obtain such photographs and make them available to the President's Commission.

Mr. Rankin advised because of the circumstances that now exist there was a serious question in the minds of the Commission as to whether or not the palm impression that has been obtained from the Dallas Police Department is a legitimate latent palm impression removed from the rifle barrel or whether it was obtained from some other source and that for this reason this matter needs to be resolved.

During this discussion about the location of this latent palm impression there was considerable conversation about the use of fingerprint dusting powder, the procedure used by Mr. Latona in his examination of the rifle, and Mr. Rankin requested that an examination be made even at this late date to determine if any trace of a dusting powder other than that used by Mr. Latona could be located on the wooden foregrip of the assassination rifle. The Laboratory has been advised and is handling the requested examination.

Submitted for information.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
REQUESTS FOR VISUAL AIDS

During the past several weeks the Bureau completed 23 visual aids which were requested by Mr. Rankin to be used by the Commission to assist report writers in clarifying obscure, technical points which will appear in the text of the finished report estimated to consist of 30 volumes upon completion. On 9-8-64, staff members Redlich, Willens, Slawson and Griffin requested fifteen (15) additional visual aids dealing with Oswald's life in the USSR, Ruby's killing of Oswald and the assassination site. No deadline date was set at that time, however, their requests were given expeditious attention by the Exhibits Section and within two working days plus several hours overtime, preliminary rough draft sketches were completed and discussed with these attorneys on 9-9-64.

Mr. Willens, Administrative Assistant to Mr. Rankin, advised me on 9-9-64 that he had been instructed to have the completed text and visual aids in the hands of the Government Printing Office by noon Friday, 9-11-64. He instructed his staff to get me all the information necessary to complete new exhibits and to approve all rough sketches already submitted to the Commission. The 15 rough drafts were approved by 4:00 p.m., on 9-9-64. Two additional visual aids were requested making a total of 17 to be completed in a matter of one working day, an assignment which normally would be handled in four working days. Material for two visual aids is still to be obtained by the Commission from the Defense Department and made available to the Exhibits Section early on 9-10-64.

Mr. Willens was advised that the visual aids would be completed and delivered to him by noon on Friday, 9-11-64.

ACTION:

Extra hours have been ordered for experienced Exhibits Specialists to work beyond the normal working day to the extent necessary to get this job done on time.

He stated that a member of the Commission staff had contacted Mr. Truly of the Texas School Book Depository and had advised Mr. Truly he would be interviewed by the Bureau for the following information:

1. The approximate weights of the rolling readers cartons with their contents. & the last carton
2. The approximate weights of the other two cartons at the window with their contents. average 55 lbs
3. Ask Truly whether there were any cartons on the sixth floor of the Depository which could not be handled by one male individual. No.

Mr. Redlich stated they desired this information in order to support a statement that the assassin could have moved any of the cartons on the sixth floor of the Depository Building without assistance.

Mr. Redlich will be orally advised of the results of the investigation with written confirmation to follow.

ACTION:

SAC Shanklin was telephonically advised of the material desired by Redlich and instructed to handled the matter expeditiously; advise of results telephonically followed by letterhead memorandum appropriate for dissemination to the Commission.

REC 12 EX 109 - 4817

Honorable J. Lee Rankin
General Counsel
The President's Commission
200 Maryland Avenue, N. E.
Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 5, 1964, concerning schedules of the Continental Trailways and the Greyhound bus lines in September, 1963, for the route from New Orleans, Louisiana, to Houston, Texas.

The information reported on pages 10 and 11 of the report in the Lee Harvey Oswald case of Special Agent Daniel W. Fults, Jr., dated December 11, 1963, at Houston, Texas, does not represent a schedule of all Greyhound buses running from New Orleans to Houston in September, 1963. The full schedule of Greyhound buses making that trip on September 25, 1963, is set forth on page 3 of the December 24, 1963, report of Special Agent Stephen M. Callender in the Oswald case.

On September 9, 1964, Mr. E. A. Reimherr, Terminal Manager, Southern Greyhound bus lines, New Orleans, and Mr. Major Green, Terminal Manager, Continental Trailways bus lines, New Orleans, confirmed that their respective companies are the only interstate bus lines operating between New Orleans and Houston. Messrs. Reimherr and Green also confirmed that the schedules of trips by their companies between New Orleans and Houston as set forth on pages 3 and 12 of the report of Special Agent Callender dated December 24, 1963, are correct and complete. According to Mr. Reimherr, the time differential in connection with several of the Greyhound lines' runs between New Orleans and Houston is occasioned by different routes utilized and the number of stops made en route.

Sincerely yours,

J. Edgar Hoover

It did not as Fults' report did not deal with bus schedules, it dealt with efforts to locate bus drivers in the HO area. The info concerning the Greyhound schedules was reported on page 3 of NO 12-24-63 report which was apparently overlooked by Commission. Commission also asked if other bus lines operated between HO and HO in 9-63 and asked to be assured that the Commission was provided with the full schedules of Greyhound and Continental. NO 9-9-64 tel establishes this to be the case and shows that no other bus lines operated between points in question in 9-63.

SUBJECT: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

This afternoon Mr. W. J. Liebeler of the President's Commission telephoned.

Mr. Liebeler stated that in connection with the arrest of Oswald on August 9, 1963, by the New Orleans Police Department it was ascertained that Oswald had in his possession a pamphlet entitled "The Crime Against Cuba" written by Corliss LaMont. On the pamphlet by rubber stamp was the following, "FPCC, 544 Camp Street, New Orleans, La."

Mr. Liebeler stated that Secret Service had conducted extensive investigation to ascertain relationship to and association by Oswald with the Camp Street address and had developed no pertinent information. According to Liebeler, the Secret Service had checked with the New Orleans FBI Office and had been advised that the FBI in New Orleans had also checked on Oswald's relationship to the Camp Street address with negative results.

Mr. Liebeler stated that he had the two following requests:

1. He would like to be furnished with copies of any FBI reports setting forth the investigation conducted by the FBI regarding Oswald's association with the Camp Street address. (Liebeler stated such reports may have been furnished to the Commission but his file room could not locate any.)

2. Mr. Liebeler would like to have furnished the original pamphlet which Oswald had in his possession at the time of his arrest on 8/9/63. Mr. Liebeler identified their Secret Service report of the investigation of this matter as Secret Service Control Number 517, report dated 12/9/63, at New Orleans, by Agent Gerrets.

Mr. E. A. Reimherr, Terminal Manager, Southern Greyhound Bus Lines, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI on September 9, 1964, that on September 25, 1963, his company operated 13 buses from New Orleans, Louisiana, to Houston, Texas.

Mr. Reimherr stated that the following is the schedule for Greyhound Buses leaving New Orleans and arriving in Houston, Texas, on September 25, 1963:

10:45 PM	7:35 AM (Next Day)

Mr. Reimherr stated that in regard to the two buses which left New Orleans, Louisiana, at the identical time of 7:00 AM and arrived in Houston, Texas, at different times, the reason for the different times of arrival was as follows:

He stated that the bus which was scheduled to arrive at 3:55 PM is an express bus which makes limited stops between New Orleans and Houston and that this bus travels to Houston on U. S. Highway 190 via Baton Rouge and Opelousas, Louisiana. Mr. Reimherr stated the other bus which also leaves at 7:00 AM, but which arrives in Houston at 6:35 PM, travels to Houston via U. S. Highway 90 through Houma and New Iberia, Louisiana, making numerous local stops en route.

Mr. Reimherr stated that in regard to the Greyhound Buses which left New Orleans at 1:45 PM and 2:45 PM and arrived in Houston, Texas, at 1:00 AM the next day and 12:20 AM the next day respectively, this is correct, as the bus leaving New Orleans at 1:45 PM travels to Houston via U. S. Highway 90 making local stops en route while the bus leaving New Orleans at 2:45 PM is an express bus making limited stops and travels via U. S. Highway 190 and therefore would arrive in Houston first.

Major Green, Terminal Manager, Continental Trailways Bus Lines, 1314 Tulane Avenue, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI on September 9, 1964, that on September 25, 1963, his company operated four buses from New Orleans to Houston, Texas. Mr. Green furnished the following schedule of buses leaving New Orleans and arriving Houston, Texas, which was effective on September 25, 1963:

Leaving New Orleans	Arriving Houston
8:15 PM	7:00 AM (Next day)
4:40 PM	2:15 AM (Next day)
12:20 PM	10:50 PM (Same day)
6:00 AM	4:30 PM (Same day)

Mr. Reimherr and Mr. Green both advised that the bus schedules previously furnished comprise all of the buses operated by their respective companies between New Orleans, Louisiana, and Houston, Texas, on September 25, 1963. Both Mr. Reimherr and Mr. Green stated that their respective companies are the only interstate bus companies operating between New Orleans, Louisiana, and Houston, Texas, and were the only companies operating on September 25, 1963.

Re Bureau airtel to Legat, Ottawa, 9/4/64, concerning excerpts from the 7/15/64 issue of "Liberty" magazine, a Canadian publication, which issue contains an article by one "NORMAN SIMILAS as told to KEN ARMSTRONG."

As pointed out in referenced communication, the second column on page 13 of the above-referenced article in "Liberty" stated, "one of the pictures I took as the presidental (sic) car passed, showed two figures beside the gun barrel in the window. A reporter for the Dallas Times also saw two figures. His newspaper published that story too. I have never heard another reference to it since."

For the information of the Bureau, attention is called to the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated 11/30/63, wherein several individuals interviewed made mention of seeing two Negro men in the windows of the Texas School Book Depository on the floor immediately below the window from which the assassination shots were fired. Specifically, pages 12 to 14 reflect the interview with HOWARD LESLIE BRENNAN; page 15 reflects interview with ROBERT H. JACKSON, a photographer for the "Dallas Times Herald"; and page 18 reflects interview with MALCOLM O. COUCH, photographer for WFAA-TV.

in time to see the barrel of a rifle being pulled inside the window but could not see the person holding the rifle. He also recalled seeing two Negro individuals looking out the double windows immediately below the window in which he saw the rifle. It was his impression that these two Negroes were looking upward in the direction of the window in which he observed the rifle.

The Bureau may desire to furnish the name of ROBERT H. JACKSON to Legat, Ottawa, as the individual possibly referred to as the reporter for the "Dallas Times."

Re NY airtel to Bureau 7/31/64 with enclosure.

Enclosed for Bureau are 8 copies of an LHM reflecting the results of an interview in the Paris Office with United Press (UP) Paris correspondent ALINE MOSBY by Assistant Legal Attaché Howard P. Winter.

Miss MOSBY was entirely cooperative during this interview and she promised to search her personal effects for her copy of the 8 or 9 page typewritten report she furnished to the Warren Commission in the spring of 1964.

During the interview Miss MOSBY mentioned that she had been awarded a fellowship for a year's study at Columbia University by the Ford Foundation. She said that she expected to start this study at Columbia University in New York City on or about September 20, 1964, adding that while there she would be glad to furnish any further information desired in this matter.

During the interview she also mentioned that Mr. WHITMAN BASSOW, who is currently a "Newsweek" correspondent in Paris, France, served as a news correspondent in Moscow for a

She said that it is possible that WHITMAN BASSOW would know LEV or LEO SETYAEV because BASSOW during his stay in Moscow had many Soviet friends in news and radio circles in the Russian capital.

The Paris Office will furnish to the Bureau any further pertinent information which ALINE MOSBY may furnish. In the absence of specific instructions from the Bureau no effort will be made by the Paris Office to contact the above mentioned WHITMAN BASSOW.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

On September 3, 1964, in Paris, France, Miss ALINE MOSBY, United Press correspondent, currently assigned to the United Press International office in Paris, France, advised that she was assigned to Moscow, USSR, from about February 1959 until about December 1961. She said that she had written a book about her experiences during this assignment advising that the book was entitled "The View from Number 13 Peoples Street" and that it was published by Random House in New York in April 1962. She said, however, that it contained little or nothing concerning instant subject.

Miss MOSBY advised that during the Fall of 1959 she learned from a source she can no longer recall that subject was then in Moscow as a defector from the United States and as a person who had indicated his desire to give up his U. S. citizenship and settle permanently in the USSR as a Soviet citizen. Miss MOSBY said that sometime during early November 1959 (to the best of her current recollection) she had succeeded in getting subject to agree to an interview which took place in OSWALD's Moscow hotel room. The interview lasted about two hours. Miss MOSBY made extensive notes of the interview and placed the results on the United Press wire to New York. She said that the story was never fully published by any U. S. newspaper but that parts selected from it were subsequently published by some of the U. S. newspapers subscribing to the United Press news service. Miss MOSBY said that she knew this publication had taken place because she subsequently learned that subject, in the USSR, had received a newspaper clipping from his relatives in Texas where some of the newspapers published part of what Miss MOSBY had filed. She said that OSWALD complained to her about the misleading lead of the story, claiming that it gave the impression that his defection was due mostly to his unhappy childhood and youth whereas OSWALD was insistent that the true facts were that his defection was due to his philosophical convictions. Miss MOSBY said that OSWALD never complained to her about any of the facts set out in the body of the story.

Miss MOSBY recalled that the original report which she filed of her interview with OSWALD was rather lengthy. She commented that the full story could probably still be located in United Press files in New York City through Mr. ROGER TATARIAN, United Press Vice President in Charge of News.

Miss MOSBY said that in early 1964, while she was in Washington, D. C., she mentioned her 1959 story to Mr. JULIUS FRANDSEN, United Press International, Washington, D. C. representative, and asked FRANDSEN whether he thought the story might be of interest to the Warren Commission in connection with the investigation of the assassination of President Kennedy. As a direct result of her conversations with FRANDSEN, she was later contacted by letter by Mr. Lee Rankin of the Warren Commission. Later - in March or April 1964 - she finally sent some 8 or 9 double spaced typewritten pages which resulted from the copious notes she had originally made during her interview with OSWALD in Moscow.

Miss MOSBY said she had no information as to whether or not OSWALD had ever participated in a broadcast on Radio Moscow during his residence in the Soviet Union. She advised that when she was in the Soviet Union she knew several persons who were connected with the North American Section of Radio Moscow. She stated, however, that LEV or LEO SETYAEV was not one of the persons whom she knew. She could not clearly remember any of the Soviet citizens whom she knew in the North American Section but after consulting her notes she advised that they contained the following:

KOSTYA VISHNEVIETSKY - commentator - Radio Moscow. Office telephone Russian B 92258; home telephone Russian B 12071.

ALEXANDER PETROB - North American Section, Radio Moscow. Telephone 336585.

Miss MOSBY said that during her interview, OSWALD gave no specific information concerning his activities and contacts in the Soviet Union other than to say that he was in contact with Soviet officials and that he was attending various plays in Moscow. He did, however, discuss at length his history prior to coming to the USSR and he gave an expose of his reasons for his adherence to communism. Miss MOSBY recalled that she regarded subject's reasons as rather puerile and of no substantial consequence.

Miss MOSBY further recalled that shortly after the assassination of President Kennedy on November 22, 1963 she sold the original story of her interview with OSWALD in Moscow to the Paris, France weekly newspaper "L'Express." She said that this organ later published about half of the story in one of its editions. She said that the story which appeared in "L'Express" was hedged with editorial comment indicating doubt as to the writer's conclusion that subject was a lone assassin and did not have any associates.

Title: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Character: INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

Synopsis: MALCOLM JERRY HOY is alleged to have stated he saw assassination. Los Angeles Office located and interviewed HOY. LEE E. BOWERS, JR., employed as a tower man at North Tower Street Union Terminal Company, Dallas, which is located adjacent to the Texas School Book Depository (TSBD) and triple underpass, reinterviewed concerning his having been contacted by Mrs. MARK MARTIN of Oklahoma, who described herself as private individual conducting her own investigation into the assassination. Additional investigation conducted concerning possibility OSWALD had telescopic sight mounted on a rifle and sighted at the Irving Sports Shop, Irving, Texas, without substantiating same. JIM MAC CAMMON states he took five 35 mm photographs at Texas Theatre, Dallas, at time of OSWALD's capture, of which only three were good. One depicted capture of OSWALD inside theatre; one showed OSWALD in custody of police outside theatre; and other one showed crowd scene outside entrance of theatre following OSWALD's capture. MAC CAMMON states he sold these photographs to "Life" magazine. MARINA OSWALD made available stub of bus ticket # 13688, issued by Transportes del Norte (Mexican bus line), for travel from Mexico D.F. to Laredo, Texas, on which appears a block stamp on back, "Transportes del Norte, Sat. 30, 1963, Mexico D.F., J. Gascon", which she found among material belonging to LEE HARVEY OSWALD. She furnished additional items belonging to him of possible significance to this investigation and furnished signed statement to the effect she had searched through her personal effects for anything which might be of interest to the investigation, and that she had, to the best of her knowledge, made available for examination all pertinent material. WAYNE E. HARMAN and wife, EDNA, furnished information concerning gouged out hole in grass near TSBD observed by them on 11/22/63 after assassination, which they considered of possible significance. Described location of gouged out hole is in line with shot that struck President KENNEDY in the head, but is not in line with the mark on the curb on the south side of Main Street. Location of gouged out hole is in same general area as piece of bone found. Two cartridges, approximately .30 caliber, 3½" in length, steel-jacketed, received from CLYDE J. WATTS, attorney, Oklahoma City, who alleged such cartridges came from residence of WILLIAM MC EWAN DUFF, a former employee of General EDWIN A. WALKER, at Dallas, Texas. Two leaflets obtained from Lt. ROY ALLEMAN of the New Orleans Harbor Police, New Orleans, Louisiana. Each contained one latent fingerprint, but neither identical with fingerprints of LEE HARVEY OSWALD (deceased), FBI # 327925D. Investigation fails to substantiate allegation that on 11/14/63, there was two-hour meeting at Carousel Club, Dallas, Texas, between BERNARD WEISSMAN, Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT, and JACK RUBY. Affidavits obtained from Mrs. MARY BROCK, ROBERT BROCK, B. M. PATTERSON and L. J. LEWIS concerning their observations immediately after shooting of Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT. Investigation, which is continuing, fails to substantiate allegation by JAMES ALFORD MARHAM, son of HELEN LOUISE MARHAM, who was an eyewitness to shooting of Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT, that he met LEE HARVEY OSWALD prior to assassination and that OSWALD discussed killing the President when he came to Dallas. Other allegations that individuals, believed to be OSWALD, observed at certain locations not substantiated by investigation. Alleged diary of one ERIC RITZEK found at ticket counter of Continental Trailways, Los Angeles, California, 8/15/64, reflects RITZEK caused OSWALD to commit assassination and OSWALD's subsequent arrest by JACK L. RUBY by hypnosis. Efforts to identify RITZEK negative. Alleged diary submitted to FBI Laboratory for examination. Allegations made by A. L. JONES, Sayre, Oklahoma, that he met individual "last July or August", who stated he was going to kill rich man every chance he had. JONES wonders if such individual was OSWALD. MARINA OSWALD advised she is now collaborating with PRISCILLA JOHNSON concerning the writing of a book to be authored by MARINA OSWALD. MARINA OSWALD states she no longer retains WILLIAM MC KENZIE as her attorney.

AUBREY RAY LINDSEY, Mechanic, Goodyear Service Center, Plaza Shopping Center, telephone No. AD 5-4536, advised he resides at 13425 Brookgreen, Dallas, Texas.

LINDSEY stated he formerly operated his own shop, The Taylor Motor Company, 4312 Ross Avenue, Dallas, Texas. He said while operating this business, MALCOLM J. HOY was a customer of his. LINDSEY advised that on November 22, 1963, he had HOY's car in his shop for repairs. He stated HOY stopped by the shop and asked him if one of LINDSEY's employees would drive him to downtown Dallas so he could view the Presidential motorcade. LINDSEY stated he let one of his employees drive HOY to downtown Dallas. LINDSEY stated he cannot now recall which of his employees drove HOY to downtown Dallas.

LINDSEY advised that shortly before HOY returned to LINDSEY's repair shop he had heard radio broadcasts announcing that President KENNEDY had been shot. LINDSEY stated when HOY returned he commented to him that President KENNEDY was shot twice "because I was there watching it." At this time, LINDSEY stated the radio broadcasts had only stated that President KENNEDY had been shot. LINDSEY stated he has not seen HOY for a number of months and believes he last resided at 4310 San Jacinto, Dallas, Texas. He said he attempted to locate HOY at this address and was informed by the landlady that HOY was a very strange individual. She said the walls and furniture in his room were "filled with bullet holes" and she asked HOY to move which he did. LINDSEY said he does not know HOY's present whereabouts but believes he was employed on the assembly line by General Motors at the Arlington, Texas plant.

LINDSEY advised that other than the above he had no information which would assist in the investigation of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

THEODORE H. FREEMAN, Chief, Plant Protection, General Motors Corporation, Arlington, Texas, was interviewed in his office.

FREEMAN advised the records of this General Motors plant indicate MALCOLM JERRY HOY was employed on June 4, 1963, as a spot welder and his employment was terminated on May 4, 1964, when he walked off the job without notice.

According to HOY's personnel file, an employment inquiry was received on May 28, 1964, from the General Motors plant at Southgate, California, asking for employment recommendations on HOY as he had apparently applied for work at that General Motors plant. The local employment office on the same day gave unfavorable recommendation on HOY to the Southgate plant.

FREEMAN advised the file does not indicate that HOY was ever hired by the Southgate General Motors plant, but he cannot say for sure that he was not hired.

FREEMAN noted the local personnel file of HOY contains a notation by some unidentified General Motors employer interviewer that he thought HOY was a mental case.

FREEMAN continued noting that HOY apparently arrived in Dallas, Texas, around June, 1963, from 8577 Tidewater Drive, Norfolk, Virginia, which address is also noted on HOY's application as that of his father, WILLIAM THOMAS HOY.

HOY's personnel file contains the following local Dallas addresses during his period of residence in this city:

1. 2222 Harlandale, as of June 4, 1963

3. 4846 Swiss Avenue, as of February 14, 1964

4. 4840 Junius Avenue, as of March 4, 1964

FREEMAN noted that at the time HOY quit, a representative went to his last known address of 4840 Junius Avenue, Dallas, where HOY's former landlady advised that he had left Dallas advising her General Motors was sending him to a mechanic's school in Detroit, Michigan.

FREEMAN noted this remark by HOY about being sent by General Motors to a school in Michigan was untrue.

FREEMAN noted HOY was apparently hired at the time General Motors was setting up a second shift and was taking almost anyone they could get, and, accordingly, was not doing as much of a screening job as they normally do in their hiring.

FREEMAN advised HOY's employment file contains the following limited descriptive data:

B. Contact of LEE E. BOWERS, JR., By Mrs. MARK MARTIN As To What BOWERS Had Seen On Day Of Assassination

DL 100-10461

On August 20, 1964, LEE E. BOWERS, JR., 10508 Maple Grove, Dallas, Texas, telephonically advised Special Agent PAUL E. WULFF that he had just been contacted by telephone by a woman giving her name as "Mrs. MARK MARTIN", of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. MARTIN questioned BOWERS regarding the assassination of President KENNEDY and stated she was just an individual who was in Dallas for the purpose of trying to "piece the whole thing together".

Mr. BOWERS stated that based upon the questions asked by Mrs. MARTIN, it was quite evident to him that she was in possession of the information which he had previously furnished to the Dallas Police Department, as well as the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Mrs. MARTIN also asked BOWERS if he thought OSWALD committed the assassination and if there were any police on top of the triple underpass. She also asked him how fast the Texas School Book Depository had been sealed off by police.

It is noted that the "Mrs. MARK MARTIN" who telephonically contacted Mr. BOWERS is possibly identical with Mrs. MARK E. MARTIN, also known as SHIRLEY MARTIN, of Hominy, Oklahoma, who is reportedly conducting her own investigation of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

FD-302 (Rev. 3-3-59)

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date September 1, 1964

Mr. LEE E. BOWERS, JR., 10508 Maple Grove, Dallas, Texas, home telephone number Davis 1-1909, was interviewed at his present place of employment, the Green Clinic and Hospital, 1302 Englewood Street, Dallas; office telephone number Whitehall 2-1361.

Mr. BOWERS advised that on November 22, 1963, the day of the assassination of President KENNEDY, he was employed as a tower man at the North Tower Street Union Terminal Company, a railroad, which is located adjacent to the Texas School Book Depository building and the triple underpass, which President Kennedy's automobile was about to pass under at the time of the shooting.

Mr. BOWERS stated that at approximately 12:15 p.m. on Thursday, August 20, 1964, he received a local telephone call at work from a woman who identified herself as "Mrs. MARK MARTIN", of Tulsa, Oklahoma. Mrs. MARTIN described herself to Mr. BOWERS as a private individual conducting her own investigation into the events in Dallas on the day of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

Mrs. MARTIN expressed to Mr. BOWERS her desire to have a personal interview with him in his office about what he had witnessed and testified to as having seen at the triple underpass and in the vicinity of the Texas School Book Depository building at the time of the assassination.

Mr. BOWERS advised that he told Mrs. MARTIN that he had nothing to offer to her, and he saw no reason for her to interview him regarding this matter.

According to Mr. BOWERS, Mrs. MARTIN stated she desired to talk to him for a minute or two. He stated their telephone conversation lasted approximately seven or eight minutes.

by Special Agent RICHARD J. BURNETT /jtf Date dictated 8/31/64

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

Mr. BOWERS stated Mrs. MARTIN then commenced to ask him direct questions, which indicated to him that she had full knowledge and had possibly read the report of his previous interviews with the Dallas Police Department and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. He noted that while he had also been interviewed by a representative of the President's Commission, her questions did not indicate to him that she had seen the President Commission's report on his interview, as a few things he had discussed with the Commission's representative were not touched on by Mrs. MARTIN.

While Mr. BOWERS does not recall the exact wording of Mrs. MARTIN's questions, he recalled she inquired as to whether or not he was going to author a book, to which question he replied "No". Her primary interests seemed to concern what had transpired at the triple underpass and the area of the "grassy knoll", next to the underpass, at the time of the shooting. She wanted to know who was on the underpass and what these individuals did at the time of the shooting. Mr. BOWERS stated he told her he had no comments to make on the matter as he had testified as to what he had seen. She persisted with her questioning and wanted to know if there were any policemen on top of the underpass. He told her there were two uniformed police officers on the underpass, one at each end. She then wanted to know if they left their post, and BOWERS answered that within three minutes after the shooting, there were some 100 policemen in the area of the underpass.

BOWERS stated that the reason he even talked with Mrs. MARTIN as long as he did was because he was interested in finding out just who she was and how much she knew about his previous interviews with law enforcement agencies.

Mrs. MARTIN asked BOWERS about his interview with the President's Commission, and he told her he had no comment to make in this regard.

Mrs. MARTIN questioned him about the three automobiles he had seen parked near the Texas School Book Depository, and she described these three cars to Mr. BOWERS in detail.

Mr. BOWERS stated that Mrs. MARTIN wanted him to evaluate the information he had previously given to the law enforcement agencies, and he stated he would not evaluate his testimony as he had reported just what he had seen. He told her to call the Federal Bureau of Investigation if she wanted an evaluation of his information.

Mr. BOWERS advised Mrs. MARTIN wanted to know if the shots he heard had come from the inside or the outside of the Texas School Book Depository building, and he answered her that in view of all the many noises in the area, he could not say where the shots came from.

Mr. BOWERS then told Mrs. MARTIN he was very busy, she thanked him and the telephone conversation ended.

Mr. BOWERS stated Mrs. MARTIN's questions were directed along the following lines:

(1) His previous testimony

(2) Events at the triple underpass at the time of the assassination

(3) Occurrences in the area of the Texas School Book Depository building at the time of the assassination

(4) Where the shots had come from

(5) Evaluation of what he had witnessed on November 22, 1963

Mr. BOWERS stated that Mrs. MARTIN had undoubtedly obtained his office telephone number through a local call to his residence, which telephone number is listed in the Dallas telephone book. He had questioned his father and son as to whom Mrs. MARTIN had spoken to on August 20, 1964, and each had told him that he had not spoken to any such woman that day; however, his father recalled a telephone inquiry about two weeks previously from a woman asking for his office telephone number.

It is noted that Mr. LEE E. BOWERS, JR., was previously interviewed by Special Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on November 22, 1963, regarding what he had witnessed that day at the time of the assassination of President KENNEDY.

At that time Mr. BOWERS advised that he was watching the Presidential Motorcade from his tower at about 12:28 p.m., when he heard three shots. He saw no one run from the west or south side of the Texas School Book Depository building, and, prior to the shooting, did not see any suspicious person enter the building; however, he stated he had observed three cars parked in the parking lot located west of the Texas School Book Depository building. Mr. BOWERS described these three cars in detail. Following the shooting, BOWERS observed none of these cars were in the parking lot.

By letter dated August 6, 1964, the President's Commission requested additional investigation be conducted concerning the possibility that LEE HARVEY OSWALD had a telescopic sight mounted on a rifle and sighted at the Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas. The President's Commission noted previous testimony regarding this matter has raised questions concerning which they desired additional investigation.

It was desired the following persons be interviewed: Mrs. GERTRUDE HUNTER; ROY TRULY; CHARLES WOODROW GREENER; friends of Mrs. HUNTER whose names were furnished as "Mr. and Mrs. DOMINICK", as well as determine the date of the Irving - Richland Hills High School football game, which occurred in November, 1963.

Mrs. GERTRUDE HUNTER, 141 South Hastings, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at her home at which time she furnished the following information regarding the proposed trip of her relatives, JAMES and DORIS "DOMMNEY" of Houston, Texas:

Mrs. HUNTER stated that the "DOMMNEYs" had not directly told her that they planned to visit her in November, 1963, but that her sister-in-law and mother of DORIS "DOMMNEY", one Mrs. PATTERSON, had written her that the "DOMMNEYs" were planning a visit to the Dallas area in November, 1963, and would probably visit her in Irving, Texas.

Mrs. HUNTER stated that Mrs. PATTERSON died on or about June 13, 1964.

Mrs. HUNTER does not have the letter in which Mrs. PATTERSON mentioned that the "DOMMNEYs" planned to visit the Dallas area in November, 1963.

Mrs. HUNTER stated that the "DOMMNEYs" did not visit her in Irving, Texas, in November, 1963.

Mrs. HUNTER furnished the address of JAMES and DORIS "DOMMNEY" as 8133 Locksley, Houston, Texas.

She does not know if the "DOMMNEYs" still have their old station wagon, but might now have a newer Chrysler automobile.

ROY S. TRULY, Superintendent, Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed in his office.

Mr. TRULY advised his company does not utilize a "time clock" system for its employees to check in and out of work. A notation is merely made that the particular employee is at work on a certain morning and was still at work at the completion of that same day. The particular employee is then credited with eight hours work for payroll purposes.

The warehouse employees, of which OSWALD was one, are given forty-five (45) minutes for lunch. It is possible for an employee to take a few minutes longer, but if he was off too long for lunch same would have been noted and possibly deducted from his day's wages.

TRULY stated that during the short time OSWALD was an employee of the Texas School Book Depository, he does not recall his being gone on any day on an extended lunch period.

TRULY stated that he believes OSWALD rode to work from Irving, Texas, with fellow employee WESLEY FRAZIER in the latter's older model Chevrolet sedan.

TRULY stated he does not recall ever having heard that OSWALD had an automobile of his own or arrived at work by any other means than by bus or riding with FRAZIER in the latter's personal car.

TRULY stated Mr. H.S. AIKEN, a leadman in the warehouse, keeps the daily employment records of each warehouse employee.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

TRULY stated that while a warehouse employee, such as OSWALD, would have noted on a bill of lading that he was the particular employee who filled a book order, these particular bills of lading would not indicate the time of day the work was started or finished, nor would they indicate that so much time was utilized in filling a particular order. In this regard, Mr. TRULY noted that some small book orders can be filled in a few minutes while larger book orders may take hours to fill.

Furthermore, Mr. TRULY stated that the orders and bills of lading are filed by towns and cities and, accordingly, to make a search for particular orders filled by OSWALD on November 6-7, 1963, would be an enormous task and then, when and if all such bills of lading were located, they would not contain a notation as to the time of day the order was filled by OSWALD or how much time was actually needed by OSWALD to fill the particular order. Consequently, Mr. TRULY stated that such a review would not determine just how much time OSWALD was off for his lunch period on the dates in question.

Mr. TRULY added that it is, therefore, impossible to tell by any record of this company that an employee, in this instance OSWALD, had been gone for a longer period of time than forty-five minutes on his lunch hour on any specific day.

H. S. AIKEN, Leadman, Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed at his place of employment.

AIKEN, who is commonly referred to by his nickname "STEVE", advised that he keeps the daily employment records of the warehouse employees. He stated the employees do not use a time clock to record their time of arrival, departure or time taken for lunch. He stated that he is advised in the morning as to who is at work and at the end of the workday who is still at work. The normal workday consists of eight working hours.

AIKEN stated that no notation of any sort is made of the time an employee takes his forty-five minute lunch period, that is, the employee's time of departure for lunch and the time of his return.

AIKEN noted his time record for LEE HARVEY OSWALD indicates that during the week of November 4 through November 8, 1963, OSWALD was credited with having worked eight hours each day from Monday, November 4, 1963, through Friday, November 8, 1963.

AIKEN stated that if an employee was gone for a period of time much longer than the employee's forty-five minute lunch period, he would have reported this information, and the time would have been deducted from the employee's pay for the day. In OSWALD's particular case, there had been no notation that OSWALD was gone for lunch on either November 6 or November 7, 1963, for any extended period of time in excess of his normal forty-five minute lunch period, and AIKEN would surmise that OSWALD had not overstayed his lunch period on those days.

WESLEY FRAZIER, 1413 West Shady Grove, Apartment 27, Irving, Texas, was interviewed at his place of employment, the Texas School Book Depository, 411 Elm Street, Dallas, Texas.

Mr. FRAZIER advised that he is employed by this company in its warehouse.

FRAZIER stated that LEE HARVEY OSWALD used to ride to work with him from Irving, Texas, in his (FRAZIER's) 1954 Chevrolet, four-door sedan, black in color. FRAZIER further described this vehicle as rather "beatup" looking with most of its chrome missing. The car has power-glide transmission as well as "loud pipes."

FRAZIER stated that OSWALD has never driven this car and at no time did he ever loan the car to OSWALD, including any short period of time such as a lunch period.

FRAZIER further advised that he has never heard of any of the other Texas School Book Depository employees loaning their car to OSWALD at any time.

FRAZIER noted that his car has previously been photographed by a representative of the President's Commission investigating the assassination of President KENNEDY.

CHARLES WOODROW GREENER, owner, Irving Sports Shop, 221 East Irving Boulevard, Irving, Texas, and a resident of 2015 Rosebud, Irving, was interviewed at his place of business. Mr. GREENER advised that his memory regarding past events and dates has always been very poor and he was not positive that the information he was about to furnish regarding his whereabouts between Friday, November 22, 1963, and Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 28, 1963, would be absolutely correct, but that his information was based on the best of his present recollection.

GREENER stated that between November 22, 1963, and November 28, 1963, he had been in Irving, Texas, at either his place of business or his home. If he had left Irving at any time during this period, it would have been for only a few hours and not overnight.

GREENER stated that during this week's period he naturally had conversed on numerous occasions with his employee, DIAL D. RYDER, at work, but he did not recall RYDER ever mentioning to him that the Irving Sports Shop had worked on a gun for OSWALD. At no time, according to GREENER, did RYDER advise him between November 22, 1963, and November 28, 1963, that he, RYDER, had located a work ticket bearing OSWALD's name.

GREENER stated that the first he knew about any work slip in the name of OSWALD was when he read about it in "The Dallas Times Herald" newspaper on Thanksgiving Day, November 28, 1963, and the news article was a complete shock to him. GREENER stated he was at home on Thanksgiving Day when he read this newspaper article. He then, on the same day, went down to his store and saw the work ticket for a person named "OSWALD".

B. Photographs Taken By JIM MAC CAMMON Showing OSWALD Being Removed From Texas Theatre, Dallas, Texas, After His Arrest November 22, 1963

The President's Commission, by letter dated July 30, 1964, enclosed two photographs designated as GERALD L. HILL, Exhibit A, and GERALD L. HILL, Exhibit B. These photographs were taken at the Texas Theatre and show OSWALD being removed from the Texas Theatre by police officers. On the back of each of the photographs there appears the name and address of the photographer, JIM MAC CAMMON, 3121 Routh Street, Dallas, Texas.

The President's Commission requested that Mr. MAC CAMMON be contacted and either the color slides from which the pictures were made or the original negatives be obtained so that it might be determined if the shirt worn by LEE HARVEY OSWALD in these photographs is the same shirt which has been designated as Commission Exhibit Number 150.

JIM MAC CAMMON, owner of Jim MacCammon Associates, 3121 Routh Street, telephone No. RI 7-1701, advised he resides at 6924 Walling, Dallas, Texas, telephone No. DI 8-4752.

MAC CAMMON advised that on November 22, 1963, he was outside the Texas School Book Depository Building, 411 Elm Street, when he heard over the Dallas police radio that a Dallas police officer had been shot in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas. MAC CAMMON stated following this police broadcast he accompanied a Dallas police officer to the Oak Cliff section of Dallas and was in the Texas Theatre at the time of OSWALD's capture.

MAC CAMMON stated he had his 35 mm camera equipped with a "Strobe light" with him. He said he took a series of five photographs at the Texas Theatre, three inside the theatre and two outside the theatre. Of the three photographs taken inside the Texas Theatre, MAC CAMMON stated only one came out since a police officer stepped in front of his "Strobe light" just as he snapped two of the pictures.

The three good photographs have been given the following designations:

GERALD L. HILL Exhibit A
Capture of OSWALD inside Texas Theatre.

GERALD L. HILL Exhibit B
OSWALD in custody of police outside the Texas Theatre.

GERALD L. HILL Exhibit C
Crowd scene outside entrance of Texas Theatre following OSWALD's capture.

MAC CAMMON advised that he sold the above photographs to "Life" magazine and that NATALIE KOSEX, position unknown, "Life" magazine, Rockefeller Center, New York City, has the original 35 mm color slide of the above photograph given the designation GERALD L.

MAC CAMMON stated that pressure of business has kept him and his staff from properly indexing and filing his numerous color slides and, consequently, he does not know the exact location of the above-mentioned 35 mm color slides. After searching through numerous loose slides in various boxes, loose slides on desks, tables, and on the floor, MAC CAMMON stated he could not locate the originals of any of the above color slides. He did locate and furnish a duplicate 35 mm color slide from which the photograph designated GERALD L. HILL Exhibit B was made. He stated this color slide is an exact duplicate of the original color slide. MAC CAMMON was requested to, and he advised he would continue searching for the original of this slide and also for the original 35 mm slide from which the photograph given the designation GERALD L. DL 100-10461

On August 27, 1964, JAMES WESLEY LIEBELER of the President's Commission, advised the Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters, Washington, D. C., that in a telephone conversation on the previous evening, MARINA OSWALD had told him she had located a bus ticket stub issued by the Mexican Bus Line, Transportes del Norte. Date 8/27/64

MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at her residence, 629 Belt Line Road, Richardson, Texas. Mr. DECLAN FORD, an advisor of MARINA OSWALD, was present during this interview.

MARINA advised that on the evening of August 26, 1964, Mr. JAMES WESLEY LIEBELER, a representative of the President's Commission, telephonically contacted MARINA at her residence to inquire of her concerning several matters in the investigation of the assassination, including an inquiry as to whether LEE HARVEY OSWALD had left New Orleans for Mexico the day following the departure of MARINA from New Orleans to Texas, or if OSWALD had stayed on in New Orleans for a while before his departure for Mexico. MARINA said that when Mr. LIEBELER asked this question it recalled to her that she had, on about August 17 or 18, 1964, found among some personal effects belonging to her, a stub of a Mexican bus ticket. She said she told Mr. LIEBELER about this ticket and that she had found it in a paperback pamphlet which OSWALD had brought back from Mexico. MARINA said these items, as well as the other items described below, had been discovered by her in a small brown suitcase which contained old magazines, personal letters, personal photographs of her children, greeting cards and books. This suitcase and its contents had been in MARINA's possession at the PAINE house at the time of the assassination. Following the assassination, these items were delivered to her. She does not recall now exactly when she acquired them or from whom.

MARINA made available these pertinent items which are described as follows:

(1) A paper stub of a bus ticket issued by Transportes del Norte showing travel from Mexico, D. F. to Laredo, Texas. The price shown is $93.75 (MN-Pesos). The stub number is 13688. A block stamp bearing this legend appears on the back of the stub, "Transportes del Norte. Set. 30, 1963, Mexico D.F., J. Gascon". The date shown is September 30, 1963. MARINA stated she found this stub inside the paperback pamphlet entitled "This Week - Esta Semana" which is described immediately below.

(2) A paperback pamphlet entitled "This Week - Esta Semana", for the week September 28 - October 4, 1963, which is written in the English and the Spanish languages. This book is a well-known tourist and entertainment guide for the Republic of Mexico and is published on a weekly basis. MARINA exhibited handwriting which appears on page 38 of this pamphlet. Some of this handwriting is in English and there is some Russian handwriting. MARINA identified the handwriting as that of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. She also pointed out markings made by a pen on pages 29, 31, 50, 54 and 78, but she could not identify these markings as having been made by LEE HARVEY OSWALD or any other person.

(3) A book with cover torn off entitled "Learning Russian", published by Foreign Languages Publishing House, Moscow. Author is NINA POTAPOVA. On page 12 of this book the Russian alphabet is printed and part of the alphabet is torn out. MARINA remarked that she had been exhibited by a representative of the President's Commission pieces of paper on which had been pasted printed letters cut from some book or magazine. She said therefore this item might be of interest in the investigation. She identified this book as a book used by OSWALD in his study of the Russian language.

(4) A guide map of Mexico City, folded, published by Editorial Flecha, printed in Mexico, D. F., which contains a large map of Mexico City on which appear three enclosed circle markings. There also appears on the back a smaller map which contains three circle markings, as well as a line drawn along streets in Mexico City. In the index opposite this smaller map, several locations are checked. MARINA identified this map as being the property of OSWALD. She said he probably obtained it in Mexico on his trip there.

(5) A paperback pamphlet entitled FIESTA BRAVA, published by Pemex Travel Club, Mexico, D. F., which describes the bullfight. MARINA stated this was also the property of OSWALD and was probably obtained by him in Mexico on his trip there and brought back by him to Dallas.

(6) A library pass in the name of LEE HARVEY OSWALD, dated April, 1962, written in the Russian language. This pass was used by OSWALD to obtain books in public libraries in Russia.

MARINA stated she had probably seen these pamphlets and book on several occasions, but did not think them of particular pertinence in this investigation. She said she did not know that the bus ticket stub was contained in one of the pamphlets.

On August 28, 1964, the President's Commission made a verbal request of Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D. MARINA OSWALD was interviewed at her residence, 629 Belt Line Road. She was asked if she knew of any other documents, books, letters or other articles, which were her property or the property of LEE HARVEY OSWALD which might be of pertinence in the investigation of this case. She stated that she would make available anything that might be considered to be of pertinence, and she wanted to cooperate to the fullest. She exhibited several books which she stated she had purchased since the assassination. She also went through her personal papers, documents and photographs again. From these effects, she made available the following listed articles which were taken by the interviewing Agents, and a receipt was given to MARINA OSWALD:

(1) A deck of "Aviator" brand playing cards, manufactured by The United States Playing Card Company, Cincinnati, Ohio, containing 52 playing cards. MARINA identified these cards as personal property of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. She stated her daughter, JUNE, had been playing with these cards during the past few months.

(2) An envelope addressed to Mrs. MARINA OSWALD and a letter dated October 29, 1963, which letter is written in the Russian language and has been identified by MARINA OSWALD as a letter from her friend, OLGA DMOVSKAYA, who resides in Minsk, Russia.

(3) A letter without envelope, which MARINA has identified as a letter to her from PAUL GOLOVACHEV, which is written in Russian. The date of the letter is the eighteenth day of the month (written in Russian), 1963. The letter

MARINA was asked if, to her knowledge, she had made available everything of pertinence to the investigation of the assassination, and she stated that to her knowledge she had made available all such pertinent items. She furnished a statement to the effect that she had made available everything which might be of pertinence in this investigation. This statement is as follows:

D. Gouged Out Hole In Grass Near Texas School Book Depository, Observed By Mr. and Mrs. WAYNE E. HARTMAN On November 22, 1963

FD-302 (Rev. 3-3-59) FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1 Date 8/10/64

WAYNE E. HARTMAN, accompanied by his wife, EDNA, was interviewed in the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. HARTMAN said he is self-employed as a manufacturer's representative calling on drugstores, department stores, and gift shops in various states throughout the country. He said he resides at 3217 Seaside, Irving, Texas.

HARTMAN said he had learned through a radio broadcast that the Federal Bureau of Investigation had been conducting additional investigation in the area of the triple underpass where President KENNEDY was assassinated and reportedly was looking for another bullet that might possibly have been fired at the time of the assassination. Upon hearing this broadcast, HARTMAN said he felt he should report the following information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation:

On November 22, 1963, HARTMAN advised that he had business at the courthouse in Dallas, Texas, and had proceeded from the courthouse to Mullendore's Cafeteria at 601 Main Street, Dallas, Texas, shortly after 11:30 a.m. HARTMAN stated while he and his wife were in Mullendore's Cafeteria, someone announced that President KENNEDY's motorcade was proceeding west on Main Street and would shortly pass by on the street outside. HARTMAN stated he and his wife took up a position on the northeast corner of Record and Main Streets to view the motorcade. He said after the motorcade passed their position he and his wife returned inside Mullendore's Cafeteria. Within a few minutes, after returning to the cafeteria, HARTMAN said he heard some shots and a comment was made that President KENNEDY must be receiving a gun salute. HARTMAN said this did not sound like a satisfactory explanation to him and he and his wife left Mullendore's Cafeteria and walked west on Main Street, stopping on Houston Street just above the grassy area that separates Main and Elm Streets. HARTMAN related that he and his wife observed much confusion and saw a woman and child lying on the grassy area on the north side of Elm Street about midway between the triple underpass and Houston Street. HARTMAN stated he also observed a police officer and a young boy standing on the grassy area that separates Main and Elm Streets about midway between Houston Street and the triple underpass. HARTMAN advised he and his wife, out of curiosity, proceeded down to the location where the police officer and the young boy were standing to determine what had happened. He stated the police officer or the young boy commented that someone had shot at the President. At this time, HARTMAN stated he noted a gouged out hole in the grass that was about one and one half inches in diameter. He stated this hole continued just beneath the roots of the grass for about 18 to 24 inches. He said the ground was not heaved up but was soft to the touch and could be depressed. HARTMAN said he was able to fit three fingers into the hole.

HARTMAN was exhibited photographs 7 and 8 of the photography exhibits appearing in the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated November 30, 1963. HARTMAN stated he and his wife were standing about five feet south of the curb in the area where the culvert or manhole cover is located. He said this gouged out hole was in line with the general area of the Texas School Book Depository Building. He said some bystander had mentioned that he believed the shots had come from the Texas School Book Depository Building. Upon realizing this, HARTMAN said he and his wife left this area and returned to Houston Street between Main and Elm Streets. He stated they remained at this location until they heard the announcement over the radio that President KENNEDY had been shot. He stated they then returned to the Dallas County Courthouse.

HARTMAN advised that on Sunday, November 24, 1963, he and his wife returned to the area where they had observed the gouged out hole on November 22, 1963. He said the grass was trampled down by people and they could not locate the hole.

HARTMAN stated he did not know if this incident had any significance but thought he should bring it to the attention of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mrs. WAYNE E. (EDNA) HARTMAN, 3217 Seaside, Irving, Texas, accompanied by her husband, was interviewed at the office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Mrs. HARTMAN advised that on November 22, 1963, she had accompanied her husband to the Dallas County Courthouse. From there, she stated they went to Mullendore's Cafeteria at 601 Main Street, Dallas, Texas, arriving there sometime after 11:30 a.m. While in the cafeteria, Mrs. HARTMAN stated someone advised that President KENNEDY's motorcade was proceeding west on Main Street and would pass in front of the cafeteria very shortly. Mrs. HARTMAN advised she and her husband left the cafeteria and took up a position on the northeast corner of Record and Main Streets. She said she viewed the Presidential motorcade and after it passed she and her husband returned inside Mullendore's Cafeteria. A few minutes after returning inside Mullendore's Cafeteria, Mrs. HARTMAN said she heard some loud reports and was informed by her husband that it sounded like gun shots. She said she and her husband left Mullendore's Cafeteria and walked west on Main Street to Houston Street. She stated she observed much confusion in this area and, to determine what had happened, she and her husband proceeded down the grassy slope that separates Main and Elm Streets and about midway down this slope she and her husband talked to a police officer and a young boy. She said either the young boy or the police officer informed that there had been a shooting.

Mrs. HARTMAN advised while they were talking to the above police officer and young boy she and her husband noticed a gouged out hole in the grass. She said the hole was about one and one half inches in diameter and went right under the roots of the grass for a distance of about 18 to 24 inches. She said she was able to determine this by softly pressing on the grass above the hole and in this manner determined the length of the hole. She said a bystander had informed that he believed some shooting had come from the general area of the Texas School Book Depository Building. She said when she and her husband realized this hole was in line with the Texas School Book Depository Building she and her husband returned up the slope to Houston Street between Elm and Main Streets. She said she and her husband remained at this location until they heard a radio broadcast that President KENNEDY had been shot. She stated she and her husband then returned to the Dallas County Courthouse.

Mrs. HARTMAN advised that she and her husband returned to this area on Sunday, November 24, 1963, and attempted to locate the gouged out hole they had observed on November 22, 1963. She stated the grass was all trampled down and she and her husband could not locate the hole.

Mrs. HARTMAN was exhibited photographs 7 and 8 of the photography exhibits in Dallas report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated November 30, 1963. She stated she and her husband were standing about five feet south of the curb in the general vicinity of the culvert or manhole cover.

With the use of a Detectron, Model 27, metal detector, Special Agents NAT A. PINKSTON and ROBERT M. BARRETT searched a three hundred square foot area, which area was located at the culvert on the South side of Elm Street in Dealey Plaza. This area was located based on a description of a gouged-out hole in the grass as furnished by Mr. and Mrs. WAYNE E. HARTMAN of Irving, Texas, on August 6, 1964. This gouged-out hole had been observed by the HARTMANs on November 22, 1963, subsequent to the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY. The HARTMANs had pinpointed the area where they had observed this gouged-out hole from Photographs Seven and Eight from the photography exhibits appearing in the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated November 30, 1963. The area searched was a half-circle area, using the culvert as the center. Found through the use of the metal detector were one bottle cap and one aluminum plug, measuring one inch long and one-half inch wide. No fragments or other evidence was found in the area observed.

It is to be noted that page 150A of Dallas report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated November 30, 1963, reflects that WILLIAM ALLEN HARPER had found a piece of bone approximately 25 feet south of the spot where President KENNEDY was shot. It should be further noted that this is in the same general area where Mr. and Mrs. WAYNE E. HARTMAN observed a gouged out hole in the grass about one and one half inches in diameter and 18 to 24 inches in length.

It should also be noted that this gouged out hole in the grass observed by Mr. and Mrs. WAYNE E. HARTMAN is in line with the shot that struck President KENNEDY in the head. Further, it should also be noted that the gouged out hole in the grass observed by Mr. and Mrs. WAYNE E. HARTMAN is not in a direct line with the mark on the curb about 25 feet east of the east edge of the triple underpass on the south side of Main Street.

E. Two Cartridges Obtained From CLYDE J. WATTS, Attorney, Who Alleges Such Cartridges Came From Residence Of WILLIAM MC EWAN DUFF, Former Employee Of General EDWIN A. WALKER at Dallas

RPG:vm
DL 100-10461

Previous investigation concerning WILLIAM McEWAN DUFF appears on pages 132-135 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated July 2, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, in captioned matter, page 135 of which reflects a listing of previous reports wherein information regarding DUFF has been reported.

Additional investigation concerning DUFF is also reflected on pages 121-132 of the report of SA ROBERT P. GEMBERLING dated August 5, 1964, at Dallas, Texas, in captioned matter.

DUFF was formerly employed by General EDWIN A. WALKER at Dallas, Texas. An allegation of association with LEE HARVEY OSWALD by DUFF has been previously investigated as has an allegation by DUFF of possible association between General WALKER and JACK L. RUBY.

Date 7/31/64

Mr. CLYDE J. WATTS, Attorney, was contacted at his request at his office, 219 Couch Drive, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He furnished the following items:

Two (2) cartridges, approximately 30 caliber, 3 1/4 inches in length, steel jacketed. Stamped on base of each cartridge is "L" "C" "53."

Mr. WATTS advised as follows:

He obtained the above described cartridges (plus a third identical cartridge, which he, himself, is maintaining in his possession), from WILLIAM KEESTER. In the spring of 1963 he had hired WILLIAM KEESTER and CLIFF ROBERTS, Private Investigators, of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, to go to Dallas, Texas, to investigate the matter of somebody shooting at EDWIN A. WALKER, a former General of the United States Army. An individual named WILLIAM DUFF, a former employee of WALKER, was developed as a suspect in the shooting by KEESTER and ROBERTS. The three cartridges were obtained by KEESTER and ROBERTS from DUFF's residence without DUFF's knowledge. KEESTER delivered the three cartridges to him at his office in Oklahoma City, 219 Couch Drive, sometime during the summer of 1963. He placed the three cartridges in an envelope and put them in his desk at his office and they have been there ever since that time.

He had completely forgotten about the three cartridges until a recent visit to Dallas, Texas, when he appeared before the Warren Commission. During this recent trip to Dallas, he talked with a Mr. LIEBLER (Phonetic), an attorney for the Warren Commission, at which time he recalled and mentioned to Mr. LIEBLER the incident concerning his obtaining the three cartridges.

Mr. LIEBLER told him to give the three cartridges to the FBI in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, so that they could be forwarded to the Warren Commission in Washington, D. C.

He desires to maintain possession of one of the cartridges. He believes KEESTER should be able to furnish specific details as to how he and ROBERTS came into possession of the three cartridges.

Mr. WATTS did not place any marks on the cartridges by which to identify them. He does not know if KEESTER or ROBERTS placed any identification marks on the cartridges. The two cartridges need not be returned to him.

Regarding WILLIAM DUFF, DUFF came to Oklahoma City about two months ago and told him he was being discharged from military service due to a fraudulent enlistment. He wanted to keep tabs on DUFF, so he prevailed upon a friend of his, H. W. THOMPSON, of the Oklahoma Paving Company, Oklahoma City, to give DUFF a job. As far as he knows, DUFF is presently working for the Oklahoma Paving Company in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

CLIFF ROBERTS, Investigator, Oklahoma State Crime Bureau, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, advised that in the spring of 1963 he had been associated with WILLIAM ROSS KEESTER in the operation of the K & R Investigation Service, 417 Leonhardt Building, Oklahoma City; that the partnership had been retained by Attorney CLYDE J. WATTS, counsel for General EDWIN A. WALKER, for purposes of conducting investigation relating to WILLIAM MC EWAN DUFF as a suspect in the attempted assassination of General WALKER.

In connection with the investigation concerning DUFF, as previously reported, ROBERTS said he and KEESTER had moved into the same apartment building with DUFF and, on an undercover basis, had established an acquaintanceship and then his confidence in a proposal that DUFF kill General WALKER for them. This was done in an effort to establish what knowledge DUFF might have had concerning the earlier attempt to assassinate General WALKER.

In the development of this proposal to DUFF, ROBERTS said he had obtained some rifle shells from DUFF's apartment without DUFF's knowledge. He did not recall how many he had obtained or how many he had found. As he recalled, he had found these shells in a shoe box in a closet located in DUFF's apartment. There were two other men, names not recalled, who were living at that time in the same apartment with DUFF. ROBERTS stated he cannot now recall how he had identified the shells with DUFF, as opposed to the two others. There were two closets in the apartment and the effects of these individuals were commingled. It was ROBERTS' recollection that he had found something else in the shoe box which had identified the shoe box, containing the shells, with DUFF.

ROBERTS stated that he had not marked the shells with anything which he could identify when the shells were found, nor does he believe he now could identify the shells, except through a chain of evidence by testimony that he had given the shells to Mr. CLYDE J. WATTS, counsel for WALKER.

ROBERTS stated that he had found no evidence in his contacts with DUFF, nor when he had located the shells, that DUFF had a rifle, a firearm of any other type, or had any particular knowledge of the use of firearms.

Never, ROBERTS said, had he or KEESTER confronted DUFF with their knowledge of his possession of rifle ammunition, nor had they intimated this to DUFF. Not having discussed the ammunition with DUFF, ROBERTS said neither he nor KEESTER has any information as to its origin, or why DUFF might have retained it, unless as a souvenir of his military experience.

A. Allegation That On November 14, 1963, There Was A Two-Hour Meeting At The Carousel Club, Dallas, Texas, Of BERNARD WEISSMAN, Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT And JACK RUBY

By letter dated August 3, 1964, the President's Commission on the Assassination of President KENNEDY advised that MARK LANE had testified before the Commission about an allegation that on November 14, 1963, there was a two-hour meeting at the Carousel Club between BERNARD WEISSMAN, Officer J. TIPPIT be obtained and exhibited to GEORGE SENATOR, ANDREW ARMSTRONG, LARRY CRAFORD, KAREN BENNET CARLIN, NANCY POWELL, and WILLIAM D. CROWE in order to determine whether any of these individuals observed WEISSMAN or TIPPIT at the Carousel Club at any time and whether any of these persons observed a meeting such as that described by LANE.

Furthermore, the Commission requested that BERNARD WEISSMAN be reinterviewed to determine his whereabouts on November 14, 1963, and in particular in the evening hours.

The Commission also requested that Mrs. J. D. TIPPIT be reinterviewed as to whether or not she was aware of any contact between her late husband and BERNARD WEISSMAN.

The Commission further noted that RUBY claims he did not know Officer J. D. TIPPIT, who was killed on November 22, 1963, but he did know another member of the Dallas Police Department by the name of TIPPIT. The Commission requested that this latter officer be interviewed to determine the extent of his relationship, if any, with JACK RUBY.

Mrs. MARIE TIPPIT, 238 Glencairn, Dallas, Texas, advised that she is the widow of deceased Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT, who was murdered on November 22, 1963, in the line of duty. Mrs. TIPPIT viewed two different photographs of her late husband, which had been furnished on August 6, 1964, by the Dallas Police Department and which photographs she described as follows:

1. A photograph of her former husband taken in 1952 depicting her husband in plain street clothes;

2. A police uniform snapshot of her husband taken in 1957.

Mrs. TIPPIT stated that the uniform photograph of her former husband is the better likeness of him.

Mrs. TIPPIT stated she has no additional good photographs of her husband as he had always neglected having a commercial photograph made of himself.

Mrs. TIPPIT further advised that BERNARD WEISSMAN is unknown to her and she does not recall her husband ever mentioning his name or having known such an individual.

After viewing photographs of J. D. TIPPIT and BERNARD WEISSMAN, CARLIN stated she had never seen either of these two men talking together or with JACK RUBY prior to the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY in November, 1963.

CARLIN stated that after JACK RUBY shot LEE HARVEY OSWALD on November 24, 1963, there was a man at the Carousel Club in Dallas, where she performed, who vaguely resembled WEISSMAN and who worked taking cover charges and generally helping around the club. She stated she did not know this man's name, could not describe him and did not know where he came from. She stated he was there only a few nights and she never did learn his name. She stated she could not positively state that this man was BERNARD WEISSMAN, but he just had a general appearance of WEISSMAN. She added that it was very dark in the club and it was possible that she could be mistaken.

By letter dated August 21, 1964, the President's Commission requested that L. J. LEWIS and B. M. PATTERSON, both of Dallas, Texas, be recontacted and an affidavit obtained from each in order to establish whether their previously recorded interviews of January 21 and 22, 1964. respectively, were accurate as to what they had seen on November 22, 1963.

Date August 26, 1964

On August 25, 1964, B. M. PATTERSON, Apartment 201, Habana Apartments, 1607 North Carroll, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed at his present place of employment, the Holly Southwest, Inc., 5606 Dyer, Dallas, where he is employed as an accountant.

PATTERSON stated that in regard to his interview with Agents of the FBI on January 22, 1964, he would like to make the following clarifications of any misinterpretations of information he had previously furnished at that time:

PATTERSON stated that when he had observed a white male, approximately thirty years of age, running south on Patton Avenue on the early afternoon of November 22, 1963, he remembers this person was carrying a revolver in his hand and was obviously trying to reload the gun. The individual stopped still, ejected the cartridges, reloaded the gun, and then placed the weapon inside his waistband. He then began walking west on the north side of Jefferson Boulevard.

PATTERSON stated he does not at this late date specifically recall the photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD having been displayed to him on January 22, 1964, and cannot at this time state that he had identified LEE HARVEY OSWALD at that time as the same person he had seen running south on Patton Avenue with a weapon in his hand.

On August 26, 1964, two different photographs of LEE HARVEY OSWALD were exhibited to B. M. PATTERSON, at which time PATTERSON advised that this person (OSWALD) is positively and unquestionably the same person he saw at approximately 1:30 p.m., on the afternoon of November 22, 1963, running south down the east side of Patton Avenue between East Tenth Street and East Jefferson Boulevard, Dallas, Texas, with a revolver in his hand.

PATTERSON stated that he then saw OSWALD stop, eject some cartridges from his revolver, and cross over to the north side of East Jefferson Boulevard, where he proceeded at a walk heading west on East Jefferson toward Crawford Street.

2) A full-body photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD standing in a yard holding a rifle in his left hand and what appears to be a newspaper in his right hand.

L.J. LEWIS, Kemp's Garage, 634 West Davis, Dallas, Texas, advised that in regard to the information he had previously furnished to the FBI on January 21, 1964, concerning his observations on November 22, 1963, of the incident involving the shooting of Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT, he desired to make the following clarifications of this previous interview:

LEWIS stated that upon hearing the three or four gunshots coming from the direction of Tenth and Patton Avenue and recognizing the sounds as gunshots, he had immediately telephoned the Dallas Police Department to report the shooting. While conversing with an unknown officer at the Police Department, there was so much confusion at the Police Department end of the telephone conversation, they were having trouble making out what LEWIS was telling them. A few seconds later, he noticed a white male, approximately thirty years of age, running south on Patton Avenue, carrying either an automatic pistol or a revolver in his hand, and while running was either attempting to reload the gun or conceal the weapon in his belt. LEWIS stated that when this unknown individual reached the intersection of Patton Avenue and Jefferson Boulevard, the individual then proceeded west on Jefferson Boulevard.

LEWIS noted that as he now recalls, he had called the Dallas Police Department prior to seeing this unknown individual running south on Patton Avenue and had not called the Police Department after he had first witnessed this unknown individual.

JAMES ALFORD MARKHAM, presently confined to the Dallas County Jail for violation of parole and awaiting trial for burglary, advised as follows:

About two weeks before the Assassination of President KENNEDY, he was at a bowling alley on Jefferson Boulevard in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas. He believes the name of this place to be Oak Cliff Lanes. There he met one JERRY TOLLIVER, whom he described as being 27 to 28 years of age, 5'9", about 170 pounds, black, thinning hair, well-built, appearing to be a weight lifter. He does not remember who introduced them to each other.

About three days after this, MARKHAM was walking along Jefferson Boulevard in the afternoon on his way to the Oak Cliff Grill when a car with TOLLIVER at the wheel pulled up to the curb beside him. He cannot remember the make, model, or year of this car. TOLLIVER asked MARKHAM where he was going and, when he told TOLLIVER, the latter offered to drive him there. With TOLLIVER, on the passenger side of the front seat, was a man whom TOLLIVER introduced to MARKHAM as "OZZIE." He does not remember whether TOLLIVER introduced him or referred to him as OSWALD, but remembers that they called him "OZZIE." TOLLIVER and OZZIE then drove him to the Oak Cliff Grill on Jefferson where they let MARKHAM out of the car and then drove away.

MARKHAM advised that after the assassination of President KENNEDY, he recognized photographs of LEE HARVEY OSWALD as being identical to "OZZIE."

He next saw "OZZIE" at Kidd Springs Park in Oak Cliff about four days after the latter incident above.

MARKHAM had gone there to do some fishing and "OZZIE" happened by on foot, alone. They visited for a short period and talked about trivial matters which MARKHAM cannot now further describe.

This document contains neither recommendations nor conclusions of the FBI. It is the property of the FBI and is loaned to your agency; it and its contents are not to be distributed outside your agency.

To the best of his present recollection, he next saw "OZZIE" about two days after the above occurrence. Late in the afternoon he went to an apartment on Lancaster in Oak Cliff occupied by MARKHAM's brother, WILLIAM, WILLIAM's roommate whose name MARKHAM cannot now recall, one BARBARA, last name not recalled, and a second girl whose name MARKHAM cannot remember. They were planning a party. These were the Mon Leon (phonetic) Apartments. When he got there WILLIAM's roommate and the two girls were at the apartment, but WILLIAM had not yet arrived. JAMES MARKHAM had been drinking beer and continued to drink. Toward evening, he was in somewhat of an intoxicated condition, and went out to the rear of the apartment, where he found "OZZIE" sitting in a car along with about three other young men, none of whom he had met before, and whose names he does not know, and whom he has not seen since.

JAMES MARKHAM talked with these persons for perhaps an hour. They asked him if he knew any way to make some easy money and they discussed the possibility of pulling some burglary jobs, but did not make any definite plans or discuss any definite possibilities. He does not remember that "OZZIE" contributed anything to the discussion or that there was any indication given that "OZZIE" had pulled any jobs, or done any time before.

While he was talking with "OZZIE" and the other men, he believes BARBARA may have come out the rear of the apartment building, and may have seen them, but MARKHAM insisted he was intoxicated and has no clear recollection of just what did go on.

After about an hour, "OZZIE" and the others left. He does not remember who was driving, but does remember "OZZIE" was not driving. JAMES MARKHAM then went back into the apartment and continued to party with the group there.

The following day, at about 3:00 P.M., JAMES MARKHAM went to the Texas Theatre in Oak Cliff to see a motion picture. He does not remember the name of the picture. He went there alone, on foot. Inside the theatre, he happened to see "OZZIE" and JERRY TOLLIVER. He had not made arrangements to meet them there and did not know they were going to be there. They saw the movie together and then left on foot after the movie, going to the Beckley Club on Jefferson in Oak Cliff. By this time it was dark. MARKHAM, "OZZIE" and TOLLIVER sat there for about an hour, drinking soft drinks and chatting about various things. He said "OZZIE" talked "crazy," and when MARKHAM mentioned he had not been working because he had been serving time in prison, "OZZIE" questioned him as to how he felt about this. He replied that he was rather bitter. During the latter portion of the conversation, "OZZIE" asked MARKHAM how he would like to help him, "OZZIE," "stun the nation." "OZZIE" used this term during a discussion, which "OZZIE" instigated, about killing the President on his coming visit to Dallas. MARKHAM thought he was kidding, paid no particular attention to him, and does not remember that "OZZIE" said anything specific in this regard.

At this time, MARKHAM invited TOLLIVER and "OZZIE" to visit him at his mother's home, 328½ East 9th Street, Dallas, some afternoon after 1:00 P.M., when his mother was gone to work. They said they would do so, and after walking away from the Beckley Club together for about a block, split up, with MARKHAM going to his mother's home, and "OZZIE" and TOLLIVER going in another direction.

He never saw "OZZIE" again, but said when he read about the assassination of President KENNEDY, knew immediately "OZZIE" was responsible, and his opinion was proved correct when he saw photographs of LEE HARVEY OSWALD and recognized him as "OZZIE."

He saw TOLLIVER again on two occasions on unremembered dates after November 22, 1963, at unrecalled places in Oak Cliff. These were not prearranged meetings, but he just ran into him by chance. On one of these occasions, he asked TOLLIVER if he had killed President KENNEDY, and TOLLIVER just laughed and did not answer him. They did not discuss the assassination further.

"OZZIE" always seemed to have spending money, although he did not appear to be a free spender or to be affluent in any way. He never mentioned having been in Russia or any other foreign country. He did not mention being married. He never said where he lived, where he had lived before coming to Dallas, where he had ever worked, or whether he was working at the time MARKHAM knew him.

MARKHAM never learned where TOLLIVER lived, does not know where he ever worked or works, does not know anyone who knows TOLLIVER or where he might be contacted, does not know whether TOLLIVER ever served any time, and can furnish no information as to where he might be located.

MARKHAM never told the above story to anyone, including his mother.

Based on his acquaintance with TOLLIVER and "OZZIE," he is of the opinion TOLLIVER assisted LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the assassination of President KENNEDY. He never saw either TOLLIVER or "OZZIE" with a gun and never discussed guns with either of them.

JERRY M. GENTRY, part-time employee of the Oak Cliff Bowling Lanes and a regular uniformed member of the Dallas Police Department, advised that one of his "informants", whose identity he did not desire to disclose, had told him on Friday night, August 28, 1964, that he (the informant) knew a "JERRY TOLLIVER," but had not seen him in the Oak Cliff area of Dallas for over a month and did not know TOLLIVER's present whereabouts.

GENTRY stated that due to the rush of business on Friday night at the bowling lanes, he was unable to question his source closely regarding the informant's personal knowledge of TOLLIVER. GENTRY added that he will question his informant further regarding TOLLIVER the next time he sees his source and will attempt to obtain information which might possibly lead to his identification and location.

GENTRY noted that only one of his sources contacted by him, regarding the identity of "JERRY TOLLIVER", claimed to know such an individual.

On August 6, 1964, JOSEPH L. BERRD, an instructor in the Department of Government at Southern Methodist University, telephonically advised on the evening of August 6, 1964, that a friend of his, one ROBERT BRINN, Dallas telephone number TAylor 3-5172 (The Texas Catholic, 2114 Kidwell, Dallas), had told him that CHARLES HIERZI (phonetic), who operates the Lakewood Laundromat, had told BRINN that OSWALD had worked at the laundromat in November, 1962.

CHARLES E. HIREZI, Manager, Lakewood Laundromatic, 6341 Prospect Avenue, Dallas, Texas, was interviewed at his place of employment.

HIREZI stated that on November 14, 1962, he had employed one GEORGE CARMACK, JR., of 3919 Bryan Street, Dallas, Social Security Number 412-56-5871, to assist him in the operation of the laundromat at this address.

HIREZI stated he thought it was a remote possibility that the aforementioned GEORGE CARMACK might be identical with LEE HARVEY OSWALD, the alleged assassin of President JOHN F. KENNEDY. He based this belief on the fact that CARMACK appeared to be identical with photographs that he has seen in the newspaper of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

HIREZI stated that he recalls that CARMACK had come to Dallas a very short time before his employment at the laundromat from some unknown location in Florida. He recalls that CARMACK had indicated to him in the course of a conversation that he was born in Tennessee.

HIREZI stated that CARMACK had tattoos on both his left and right arms.

HIREZI stated that CARMACK worked for him for approximately two to three weeks, commencing on November 14, 1962, and left leaving no forwarding address. HIREZI had tried to contact him at the aforementioned Bryan Street address and had found that CARMACK was unknown at that address. HIREZI added that he had not contacted the FBI regarding the possibility of CARMACK being identical with LEE HARVEY OSWALD as he thought it was just a very remote possibility. HIREZI said that he had no idea as to the present whereabouts of GEORGE CARMACK, JR.

It is noted in the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. GEMBERLING, dated November 30, 1963, at Dallas, captioned "LEE HARVEY OSWALD, ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY, NOVEMBER 22, 1963, DALLAS, TEXAS; ASSAULTING FEDERAL OFFICER", on page 92, that during the interview of LEE HARVEY OSWALD at the Dallas Police Department on November 22, 1963, Special Agent MANNING C. CLEMENTS, in the course of taking OSWALD's description, noted that OSWALD had "no tattoos or permanent scars".

It is further noted that previous investigation has established that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was employed by Jaggars-Chiles-Stovall, Incorporated, 522 Browder, Dallas, Texas, from October 12, 1962, to April 6, 1963, and was so employed on November 14, 1962, as recorded in the report of Special Agent ROBERT P. Mr. V. L. PENNINGTON, 405 North Clinton Street, telephone WHitehall 6-7257, telephonically furnished the following information:

Mr. PENNINGTON related that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. PENNINGTON, who reside with him at the above address, observed an individual, whom they now believe to have been LEE HARVEY OSWALD, shortly after noon on November 22, 1963, drive up to a laundromat located on the corner of Davis and Clinton Streets in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas. According to Mr. PENNINGTON, this individual was driving a light-colored station wagon, was very nervous, came rushing into the laundromat where he made a telephone call, speaking in a foreign language believed to be "Mexican." After completing his telephone call, this individual rushed out of the laundromat, leaving the car behind.

Mr. PENNINGTON advised his parents would like to furnish this information in greater detail, and he requested they be interviewed by Bureau Agents. He asked that he be contacted prior to the interview so that he may be with his parents at the time. He explained they are old and easily upset.

JOHN WESLEY PENNINGTON, 405 North Clinton Street, Dallas, Texas, advised that he is retired.

Mr. PENNINGTON advised that sometime between 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m., Friday, November 22, 1963, his wife, ODA, and he had taken some wash to the Tidy Lady Launderette, 1227 Davis Street, which is located at the northeast corner of Davis and North Clinton in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas, Texas, approximately two blocks from their place of residence.

His wife and he were the only individuals in the laundromat, which is a self-service, coin-operated establishment.

After they were inside the laundromat waiting on their wash, an unknown individual drove up alone in a light-colored station wagon, year and make unknown, and parked on the east side of North Clinton Street, just north of the Davis - Clinton intersection, and by the side door of the laundromat.

This unknown person hurried around the corner onto the north side of Davis, walked several feet, turned around, entered the laundromat, and went directly to the pay phone located inside this laundromat. He did not appear to notice the PENNINGTONs sitting in the laundromat.

This individual made a local telephone call, spoke briefly to some unknown person, and left the laundromat walking at a quick pace, crossed Davis Street, and headed south on North Clinton Street. He did not re-enter his automobile.

Mr. PENNINGTON stated he did not overhear any of this person's telephone conversation. Mr. PENNINGTON stated that he mentioned to his wife that the man acted as if he were in some kind of trouble.

He advised that he paid no particular attention to this incident until shortly after he arrived home when he received a long distance telephone call from his daughter in Phoenix, Arizona, asking him if they heard about the assassination of President KENNEDY. Up until this telephone call, Mr. PENNINGTON stated that neither his wife nor he had heard the news of the assassination.

Later when his wife and he had viewed the photograph of LEE HARVEY OSWALD on television, they commented that OSWALD appeared to be the same person they had seen at the laundromat on Friday, November 22, 1963.

Mr. PENNINGTON stated the person they saw at the laundromat, who they believe was possibly identical to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, was wearing a medium brown jacket with dark brown vertical stripes, closed to the collar, and dark pants. He does not recall whether the jacket was a zipper or button-up style. The individual wore no hat.

In regard to the foregoing information furnished by Mr. and Mrs. JOHN WESLEY PENNINGTON, the following is noted:

Previous investigation has determined that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was reportedly wearing a light gray cotton jacket with a full-length zipper in the front between the time he left his rooming house at 1026 North Beckley, around 12:55 p.m., November 22, 1963, until shortly after he shot Dallas Police Officer J. D. TIPPIT at approximately 1:17 p.m., November 22, 1963. (The PENNINGTONs described the jacket as definitely medium brown with dark brown vertical stripes.)

The movements of LEE HARVEY OSWALD from the time of the shooting of President KENNEDY at approximately 12:34 p.m., November 22, 1963, until his arrest at the Texas Theater at about 2:00 p.m., November 22, 1963, have been accounted for as follows:

(1) President KENNEDY was shot at approximately 12:34 p.m. in downtown Dallas.

(2) OSWALD boarded a bus in downtown Dallas near his place of employment, but left same shortly thereafter, about 12:40 p.m., due to traffic congestion.

(3) OSWALD boarded a taxicab at the Greyhound Bus Station in downtown Dallas at about 12:45 p.m.

(4) OSWALD got out of the taxicab on North Beckley and walked north toward his rooming house at 1026 North Beckley, Oak Cliff section of Dallas, at about 12:55 p.m.

(5) OSWALD entered the rooming house about 1:00 p.m. and left shortly thereafter.

(6) OSWALD is accused of shooting officer J. D. TIPPIT at 1:17 p.m.

(7) OSWALD was arrested by local Dallas Police inside the Texas Theatre at 2:00 p.m.

It is noted that the PENNINGTONs advised they are not sure of the time they were in the laundromat, but after they returned to their residence a few blocks from the laundromat, they shortly thereafter received a telephone call from their daughter in Phoenix, Arizona, advising them of the assassination of President KENNEDY, which was unknown to them at that time. The PENNINGTONs believe they were in the laundromat sometime between 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m., Friday, November 22, 1963.

It is further recalled that the PENNINGTONs stated that the individual they saw and that they believe was OSWALD drove up to the laundromat, and then left, after making a telephone call, walking south on North Clinton Street. Extensive investigation regarding OSWALD has not revealed that he owned a motor vehicle or even knew how to drive a car.

The distance between the Tidy Lady Launderette, 1227 Davis Street, and the Texas Theatre is a little over one mile.

Mr. and Mrs. JOHN WESLEY PENNINGTON are an elderly couple.

D. Alleged Diary Of ERIC RITZEK Reflecting He Caused LEE HARVEY OSWALD To Commit Assassination And OSWALD's Subsequent Murder by JACK L. RUBY By Hypnosis

DL 100-10461

On August 21, 1964, the Los Angeles Office advised that on August 19, 1964, G. C. HOSKINS, Terminal Manager, Continental Trailways, 601 South Main Street, Los Angeles 14, California, furnished to Special Agent PHILLIP B. DEILY a small size, black-covered journal bearing written notations in the form of a diary. The front of the book is labeled "Diary of Impressions & Observations of Eric Ritzek Began Sept. 5, 1963". According to Mr. HOSKINS, this book was found at the ticket counter late on the afternoon of August 15, 1964, by Ticket Clerk ADRIAN MOUNT, who has no idea as to the identity of the owner and/or the person who left the book on the ticket counter. Mr. HOSKINS said he does not desire the book be returned to him.

The following is a verbatim transcription of the writings contained in the above-described book:

"Sept 5, 1963

"Charles, my room-mate and fellow polictical science major in our Junior year has just invited me on a holiday to Mexico City at the end of this month. He was quite elated, and promised a profitable experience in human physcology (my minor subject) and of course polictical science. He is a likeable but odd sort of fellow, and I have seldom seen him so out-going. This trip must be very important to him. We both have enough credits from two years of summer classes, and we rate a feild trip. (At our own expense of course.)

"Charles has returned to our room, and has observed me making my observation. He was at first disturbed and urged me to destroy the previous. Well I hardly think that is necessary since I've only begun this narrative. He fretted a few minutes and relented. 'Of course', he said, 'You are writing history itself.' And he made me promise that I would not reveal this book to no man during both our life times.

" 'Then the inevitable truth will be known', said he.

"Sept. 6, 1963

"Had an entertaining evening, previous. Charles was delighted. For weeks I have been excerising my skills and powers as a hypnotist over this certain young lady. Formerly of high chasity and moral character.

"The popular theroy and the generally accepted one is: That a subject under hypnosis can-not be compelled to do any act that is against that person's personal code of ethics. But this so-called code of ethics can be torn down like a wall, which it is after a series of sessions under hypnosis. For all men and young girls are corrupt, and seek after animal lusts which governs the survival of the universe. Men have tried to legislate it, regulate. Churches in order to obtain the balance of power by sheer weight of numbers attempt to own it outright.

"I managed to trigger the final destruction of the girl's will by a previous suggestion last week. I simply bit off the end of a cigar and spat it upon the floor, and Carol desired Charles and myself as her lover.

She saw only one lover but there were two animals lusting her virgin flesh for the survival of a corrupt universe. So great was my sucess with the subject in the past short weeks She accepted us both as her one husband in acts that defy description.

"Charles was exceedingly pleased. He told me after we left the girl's flat that my ability will further our proposed mission in Mexico.

"Before leaving Carol I put her into a deep sleep, into a sleep so deep, so everlasting that her heart will beat ever slower, ever slower, until it stops. And she will awake - Nevermore

"The dead sleepeth the everlasting sleep of eternal peace. And never point an accusing finger, nor uttereth a hard word, against those who must strive for the survival of the universe.

"A man is either the master of his universe or a tool in the hands of a skilled and cunning craftsman. And a man who is content to be a tool is a fool. And an old tool that has served its purpose to the craftsman must be discarded, disposed of - cast out.

"So to Carol; sleep well fine tool, Awake again - Nevermore.

"You have served your purpose, been used in the hands of the craftsman, now dear fool, sleep the sleep of sleeps, The sleep of the grave. -- Evermore.

"Sept 10, 1963

"Charles and I obtained our visas to the United States and Mexico. An awful lot of red tape to go through. I really consider myself and Charles citizens of the universe, personally, I owe no alligence to no one but myself. I hardly see where the red tape at the consoletes are necessary. We leave on the 15th. Charles has arranged for us to meet a chap in about a fortnight.

"I read in the papers where it has been announced that Carol's heart failed in her sleep. What a pity. So young, so beautiful, so chaste - to her way of thinking. She has served her purpose to whatever Charles has in mind, and then she was expendable. Charles has recieved a letter today from America, Texas in fact. It contained thousands of dollars. Charles has declined to devulge the identity of our benefactor.

"Charles cautioned me once again upon the maintenance of absolute secrecy of this document, and foretold of it's potential value to future generations of craftsmen and tools.

"Charles had informed me that the hour is near at hand to devulge the purpose of our mission.

"Sept. 11, 1963

"Charles is truely a great craftsman. All men seemingly big and great and minutely small and bug-like are tools and pawns in his hands.

"Charles plans to launch a great adventure purely in the interest of observing polictical science and human physcology.

"Our goal is to kill the American president John F. Kennedy.

"Truely a once in many puny lifetimes opportunity for valued observatory and knowledge.

"I am so joyful I can hardly retain my composure.

"Charles says he has several useful tools at his disposal. Both seemingly great and powerful, and the bug like human leech.

"Actually all men are bug-like leeches. Who allow themselves to be used as tools in the hands of the skilled craftsman to further their own lusts for glory.

"Sept 14, 1963

"Have been busy the past three days putting our affairs in order. We sail tomorrow at dawn.

"Sept 16, 1963

"We sailed for New Orleans yesterday before sunrise. Thats in a place called Louisana which is in the southern extremitie of America.

"Sept 19, 1963

"We arrived at New Orleans this afternoon. It was a ghastly trip, and I'm glad it's over.

"Sept 20, 1963

"Charles was gone a few hours this morning. When he returned to our hotel room he brought a chap of about our age. After I had a chance to observe him I found him to be likeable on the surface, but he really is a despondent little worm. Professes to be a Communist or some such thing. To induce a Communist to kill the incumbant American president will be a real test of my abilities. (Poor Charles how he envys my power over little toys.) I found Lee Harvey Oswald to be an easy subject. I do honestly believe he could be induced to anything even his own destruction. Which will have to be done.

"Lee Harvey Oswald, I feel it important to record this tool's name in full. For he will be the unwittenly tool in the hands of the skilled craftsman. I am that skilled craftsman. Poor resourceful Charles. The cunning planning Charles is also a tool of the skilled craftsman. I worked with Lee H. Oswald several hours today. I induced hynosis and brought him forth several times. He is such an easy subject, busteth for grandeur. That is his, as most men, Achilles Heel.

"The true craftsman remains in the shadows and plys his tools.

"Sept 26, 1963

"I worked with Lee Harvey Oswald (I must record the name, for he will prove history greatest tool) all this week. He is aboard this very bus as we are travelling through Mexico to Mexico City. He is not presently in a trance. But he knows not why he travels thusly. Nor does he remember Charles and myself. A well made tool in our hands. Poor buy like fool. -- Evermore,

"I just learned by a English speaking radio that a fellow passenger is carrying that President Kennedy is planning a trip to the American state of Texas next month or rather the month after next. I will utilize this information to my advantage. I must close. Charles has nudged me. A fellow passenger grows curious. Silly curious fool. I saw to it that he will not remember a thing of this trip. He will forget everything he may have seen in this book the very next time he utters a sound through his mouth.

"Sept 27, 1963

"Charles and I arrived in Mexico City. A beautiful city, but the country is poor. Inhabited by poor tools, slaves to great tools that think they are craftsmen. And slaves after their own lusts and ignorance.

"Sept 28, 1963

"Sumomed Lee H. Oswald to our hotel room by pre-arranged signal. To which he answered not knowing why. I worked all this day with him. Lee Harvey Oswald Lee Harvey Oswald Lee Harvey Oswald Lee Harvey Oswald I must enter that name in this record.

"Sept. 29, 1963

"I find Lee Harvey Oswald an intelligent person. Surly, hateful and at odds with the universe - but not without a degree of undeveloped intelligence. His thoughts are confused. I will put them in order to my satisfaction.

"I am the complete master of the situation. Charles has played out his role, and merely looks on as I make destiny.

"The American president will die in Dallas Texas. That much has been decieded. And Lee Harvey Oswald will be my weapon of destruction. He has no choice, I am his master, the skilled craftsman. He is my tool in the glorious experiment. Silly fool. -- Evermore.

"October 1, 1963

"We released Lee H. Oswald from his willing prison. He is a fool, but with a keen mind that I properly arranged to my satisfaction. He will be a craftsman - for awhile. He is able, and will think for himself, and bring about the end of President Kennedy's life. He for a brief moment in time and space will hang suspended above all men and the great skilled craftsman, and function like a programed computer.

"A glorious Frankenstein monster I have created.

"With his function performed, he will deterioate. Become a scared running carniverious animal. He will seek destruction by his actions. By a policeman's bullet. And he will remember nothing.

"Lee H. Oswald will serve his purpose and go the way of all tools discarded - Cast out. By the skilled craftsman. -- Evermore. Arise again? -- Nevermore

"October 2, 1963

"Lee H. Oswald left at noon or shortly thereafter by bus for Larado Texas. He goes to America at my bidding, for a reason that is at this time vauge to him. But as this computor functions new circuts will come into play. And then all the pieces will fall into place.

"And behold the blood of America's fallen leader.

"And a machine gone mad. Outwardly resisting but truely and in fact seeking the peace and blackest of blacks. The darkest of darkness. In search of the grave another tool that has served it's purpose. Cast out -- by the great craftsman.

"Into his grave this fool, that was content to be a tool will be cast when his usefulness has been fulfilled. -- Evermore.

"October 3, 1963

"Charles and I set out by a poor ramshackled bus to see some of this poor country. People walk about with nothing to do nothing to behold. Standing in the mud and the filth of animals that are ever present in their bare feet. These are true fools. They appear to be satisfied with their misery. Misery they have endured graciously in ignorance and superstition for the ages. And will go on doing so for countless ages, because they are fools and tools.

"Poor tools in the hands of the rich and powerful. The rich and powerful beings of this dreadful planet. This pebble in the sky. This face upon the face of the universe. That lusteth after their own petty powers and greed.

"Oh leave thy petty pebble called earth. This testing ground for nothing. Stand with the greats and the skilled craftsmen. -- Evermore "Poor Charles. Cunning planner, Greedy human that receives thousands of dollars from a power hungry human in Texas. Poor Charles knoweth not the true craftsman.

His true master. It is I. The great craftsman who uses men as tools for my personal experiments and observations.

"October 10, 1963

"We still travel in Mexico, Charles and I. This poor land trys hard enough to be noticed.

"October 12, 1963

"Saw what is refered to as a bullfight in some forgotten hamlet. It is an interesting observation to watch men in their endevours to prove their mastery over simple cruel beasts. Animals lusteth for blood. Men are animals, always have been. Evermore shall be -- Evermore

"Men will stand with the giants of universe? -- Nevermore

"Men are puny little bugs. They are stepped upon by the giants. Evermore shall be.

"The bugs devoure the smaller more helpless bugs, in their pitiful struggle to survive on thy miserable planet. Those bugs are devoured by the great bugs and the powerful vermim that are fearful of losing their power and control. Not knowing of the close hanging heel. The spike boots of the giant.

"Parasites. Little twisted wrecks of germs and bacteria in human form. Feed upon the spilled blood and guts of those that have fallen. To enhance their own useless survival.

"After about what these so-called intellects reckon as 4½ billion years. This is civilization's greatest stage of development. It should be consigned to the fires before it festers the universe.

"October 13, 1964

"Poor Charles. He is disturbed at my impressions.

"But he is greatly pleased at my abilities and achievements with Lee. I am pleased that he is pleased with my endevours.

"October 14, 1964

"Charles lusteth as an animal for a simple but comely young peasant girl. I too, for all men are corrupt animals that lusteth flesh and blood and power. Tis the key to survival.

"Sometimes I feel as though I belong. But I must satisfy my animal like cravings and hold my self above the people and stand with the giants.

"October 15, 1963

"I feel as though I belong. I feel as though I belong.

"October 16, 1963

"We once again enter the land called America. And we are in that subdivision called Texas.

"What confusion. No order to the system whatsoever.

"Mexico - Texas - America - New Orleans - what confusion. It's all one planet. Called Earth, and one portion looks basically the same as another.

"Charles tells me that we are enroute to a place called Fort Worth. A city near Dallas where the president has been consigned to be put to death for our observations.

"We arrived at Fort Worth about an hour after the sun-set. We're staying at a hotel and I'm very tired. Charles has succumbed to sleep.

"October 21, 1963

"We examined the sights of this city called Fort Worth. Some worth observing. So many poor little people about everywhere. Charles took a leave this afternoon, and he'll return as soon as possible. I suspect he's off to see our benefactor. Charles is a capable, qualified administrator.

"October 22, 1963

"I further toured this city. Dallas is only about 18 kilometers distant, but I thought it wise to refrain from that place until the appointed time. Charles has not yet returned. But he is a resourceful lad. I fear not for his welfare."

He divided it evenly among us two comrades. Since he is so willing to equally share his fortune; I rather suspect that he has recieved more than he has led me to believe. All men are corrupt. -- Evermore.

"Charles still refused to reveal the identity of our benefactor. But he affirmed the fact that it is the same individual that sent us money in the mail, and that this individual has everything, in fact very much to gain by the President Kennedy being slain.

"Charles enjoys his little secret, it makes him feel so smug. Smuggness gives little man a sense of importance.

"In fact if I remain disinterested he will eventually devulge more and more information.

"Now he is insisting on how much this individual has to gain from the hands of his fallen cheiftain.

"November 6, 1963

"I really don't see why any man who possesses so-called intelligence indulges in such a primitive inactive past time as fishing. Imagine a person with superior intellilectual powers actually trying to prove himself to be more intelligent than a fish. That is the object behind this thing they call a sport. (You are compelled to purchase a thing that is called a license before you may 'fish'. It shows that you have recieved official permission from the government in order to fish) To outthink a fish.

"Charles appears to enjoy this sort of thing. He has out thought and captured several species of what is called 'Catfish'. Ugly brutes.

"Charles is so strange at times I honestly believe that he is different.

"I observed in the newspaper that President Kennedy plans to make a public spectical of himself in the streets of Dallas Texas the coming 22nd. He shall indeed.

"November 7, 1963

"I have had enough of Charles and his silly past-times. I have repaired to seclusion to ponder upon the pure wisdom of the universe. Pure knowledge is what I hunger for -- what I seek. My only lust.

"What is terror? The faceless thing that stalks all men. Terror is the ticking of the clock, the passing of time. Terror is the dark. Terror is the mystic. Terror is the beat of your own failing heart. Terror is foot-steps in the room. Terror is the breath of the assassin upon your neck.

"The innocent must pay for the errs of the guilty, (as they shall do.) For their are far more innocent than guilty. It is the simplist thing, for the many to serve and pay the few.

"Men are justice, and all men are corrupt. Justice is a pagan whore, a blind bitch that exacts the tall of many to serve the few.

"November 10, 1963

"Today, Charles and I ponder the papers that give much detail to President Kennedy's intended journey to the dark kingdom.

"The matter is passed from our hands. Oh -- we could stop it, if we wanted to, but we don't want to. It's a slim chance but we may be fortunate enough to witness the spectical.

"Since I have torn Oswald's mind apart, and placed it back together again, I know how it functions.

"November 11, 1963

"We journeyed to Dallas and walked over President Kennedy's intended route. I have noticed everything, now I must place myself in Oswald's mind for a few minutes to ascertain the best location of the assassination.

"November 12, 1963

"I do honestly believe that the assassination will occur in the vicinity of the 'Triple Overpass'.

"Further I believe that Lee Harvey Oswald will fire his deadly bullets from one of the upper windows of a building called the 'School Book Depository'.

"Charles believes this assumption is correct. Of Charles always agrees with me for my mind is so much keener than his.

"There is a small park nearby, where we may tarry and behold the fruits of our labour.

"November 13, 1963

"We departed Dallas. I observed that the townspeople are largely disenchanted with their President. In fact our deed may bring about widespread rejoycing. The innocent Oswald may be herelded in time to come as a great hero. But first he must pay for the guilty.

"November 14, 1963

"We repaired to Juarez Mexico to await the great day of revolotion. What a dreadful place. It hasn't enough dignity to be referred to a city or even a hamlet.

"November 21, 1963

"We returned to Dallas, and are boarded in a hotel. Both Charles and I anxiously await the morrows festivities. Behold the fruit of our labours.

"I am tired from the travel, but too excited and gleeful to sleep.

"On our way to this hotel we observed derrogatory handmade signs posted against President Kennedy. I have heard his name taken in vain in the lobby of this hotel. I have even heard a fellow wish evil upon the President.

"If what we are about to achieve can possibly be defined as evil, That individual shall get his wish.

"THE DAY OF THE THUMP NOVEMBER 22ND 1363
AS OBSERVED BY ERIC RITZEK AND HIS COMRADE CHARLES

"November 22nd 1963

"Friday: November 22, 1963

"The great and glorious day has transpired, and I Eric Ritzek was the master craftsman.

"I shall start a virgin page. A new book a testiment. Ring out the old, and hereld the coming of the new.

"I Eric Ritzek the master craftsman was the designer, author, and witness of November the twenty-second nineteen hundred and sixty-four.

"I must write quickly weighing each precious thought. As the events of this day are hours old but still vivid in my marvalous mind. My beautiful wonderious brain. The brain and thoughts and mind and deeds of the Master Craftsman I: Eric Ritzek -- Evermore

"FRIDAY: NOVEMBER 22ND 1963
THE DAY OF THE THUMP
BY ERIC RITZEK
THE AUTHOR OF DESTINY

"November 22, 1963

"Today is Friday. It was warm and sunny. I had feared rain but it was naught.

"At about 9:00 A.M. Charles and I managed to secure a picnic lunch box from the kitchen staff of the hotel in which we stayed. Under the guise that we wanted to eat our lunch in the park and 'get a chance to see the American President.'

"Having obtained the desired lunch box we departed to our prearranged vantage point.

"The crowds enroute were so dense it was eleven o'clock before we arrived at the small park.

"There were a few discontented souls in the crowds lining both sides of the thoroughfare. Some bearing placards that expressed their ill feelings. But the vast majority of the people were genuine well-wishers. And of course they were curious, they merely wanted to gawk at a President.

"After all it isn't often a common man can view his highers in the flesh.

"Arriving at the park we climbed a low hill. Seating ourselves, we were joyed at our vantage point. From this vantage point we could see over the heads of the great crowd.

"At about 12:30 P.M. while we were still eating our lunch and finishing a thermos of coffee, the motorcade came into view. The crowds went mad with cheers. I glanced towards the School Book Depository and observed a figure crouched in the sixth floor. I couldn't see the face at that distance, but I assumed that it was Oswald. I assumed correct, as the coming events were to prove. In his hands a long metalic object glinted in the warm sunshine. Apparently that was his rifle.

"The motorcade came closer. Oh -- I wish I owned a camera.

"I could've owned one at that momsnt. Money certainly is no problem with me. The master craftsman.

"On came the motorcade. Past Oswald's vantage point. Closer they neared the network of bridges.

"Why doesn't Oswald fire? Has he been discovered, Have we failed. Damn Charles and his great plan. Soon the object of this mission will be safe beneath the bridge.

"Hark--

"A shot. A shot was fired from the sixth floor of the School Book Depository. I saw the smoke. I saw Oswald reload.

"The President did a complete flip, his wife tried to flee on foot in panic.

"Another shot, still another.

"The President's car is racing away at a high speed. A bloody foot hangs over the side. The secret service men are trying to restrain the President's wife. She is completely seized with panic as she trys to jump out of the car.

"One of them just struck her a blow with his fist knocking her down.

"The crowds are in a panic. People are screaming and running. Some are throwing themselves upon the ground as policemen run about with drawn guns.

"Three motorcycle officers carrying shotguns are headed this way.

"Terror -- fear

"Have we been discovered,

"How could we

"I do not see Oswald.

"They pass. Go right on by and do not even look at us. The police are everywhere. They seemed confused.

"I now see them, several of them, enter the School Book Depository.

"Many things of panic and confusion are happening all at once. It's difficult to record everything that happens simutainously.

"The crowds are regaining their compuse. Mothers with babies in their arms are running away.

"Others are crying, some are cheering and rejoycing.

"I have just seen Oswald leave the 'School Book Depository'.

"He even held the door open for a hard running policeman with a machine gun in his hands to enter. Then he disappeared in the milling mob.

"Soon his cooly functioning mind will cease, and as the great craftsman had ordained, Lee Harvey Oswald the assassin will seek self destruction.

"The innocent must die to preserve the guilty.

"1:15 P.M.
"A passerby with a transistor radio has informed us that the President is dead. He died at Parkland Memorial Hospital.

"The stranger appearing well-to-do says it is a tragedy. But the man is smiling Hypocrit.

"Why do men fear their own emotions, and wear a mask through life?

"All part of the chaos called civilization.

"Yes I now hear a radio. the President is truly dead.

"I hear talk of war.

"I hear talk pestilence people are scared. Fear is everywhere.

"And a child shall lead.

"Out of the mouths of babes. -- Evermore

"Passing a public school I hear the children cheering and clapping their hands.

"Reflecting the true feelings of their elders.

"I see their elders in the streets. Pretending to be sad. But I spy a tell-tale smirk and sneer and smile now and then.

"There is nothing more to see here. We could observe better V.I.A. our hotel room television set. If we need to see the public in the flesh, merely step outside.

"Charles and I now return to our hotel. Along the route I hear several persons say things like:

"'I told you so'.

"'I knew something like this would happen.

"How could he -- the fool.

"'I'm glad, he needed killin.'

"Several nodded in approval and voiced assent. A woman looked fearful.

"'Be careful', she said, 'They may hear you'.

"Who is this faceless 'They' men fear so much?

"A President is shot and everybody cowers and lives in fear.

"A grocery store clerk is shot in a holdup and nobody cares.

"A President's blood is the same color as other humans.

"I obtained a spot of President Kennedy's blood upon my handkercheif as a cherished keep-sake.

"What is so special about a President. He will be replaced.

"There is no such thing as an un-replaceable man. If you doubt these words of wisdom:

"Tarry awhile in a cemetary. Ponder if you will the rows of silent graves. Everyone of those sun bleached stones owner's has been replaced with a tool fashioned to be a better model. -- Evermore

"Upon arriving at our hotel room we immediately locked the door to our room and turned on the television set. We turned it up loud to drown out the sounds of any conversation between Charles and myself.

"The television conveyed the impression of widespread shock and greif.

"I suspect it is superficial.

"Confusion is paramount. That much can be ascertained.

"The police have announced that they have a prime suspect in custody. This isn't good, Oswald wasn't meant to be taken alive. They have not disclosed his identity.

"3:05 P.M.

"The police released the identity of their suspected assassin. It is Lee Harvey Oswald that they lay hold to. This is not good, his being taken alive. He also killed a police officer in his thwarted flight to self destruction. Something went wrong, I do not like this. Neither does Charles.

"The television cameras must be stationed in the police station itself.

"Yes, they are. I have seen Oswald. He is smiling so smugly. I do not like this at all. He should be seeking death.

"Hark, a reporter hurridily questions him as the police push him into a room.

"'Why did you kill the president?' asks the reporter.

"'I never killed nobody,' was the reply, and Oswald has gone into the room. The door is closed. Policemen are shoving persons down the hallway from the room that contains Lee Harvey Oswald, I do not like this. Oswald must die.

"By all means he must die. Charles agrees.

"We shall begin at once to arrange his execution.

"For the innocent must pay for the crimes of the guilty. -- Evermore

"I press the blood stained handkercheif to my bare breast and feel my heart beat beneath. Cherishing the sucess of our great and glorious mission. -- Evermore

"Saturday night (very late)
November 23, 1963

"The body of the fallen leader has been borne away. Another king stands in his place. The wheels of chaos turn smoothly never missing a beat.

"Everywhere schools and business are going to be closed Monday. In observance of President Kennedy's funeral.

"A national holiday has been declared under the guise of mourning.

"With my own ears I have heard plans discussed for hunting and fishing and other pleasure trips.

"Amid all this clandistine gaiety, the master craftsman has once again carved, molded and created destinity.

"Charles and I met an tavern owner of very questionable character. He was truely mourning the death of the president.

"He was in the process of closing his place of endeavour when we happened to encounter him. I detected true greif and sincerity and I expressed likewise.

"Soon a freindship was formed and Charles and I were invited into his establishment for a drink.

"His temperment was highly voltile. Which made him a good subject for what I had in mind.

"Soon, with hardly any effort what-so-ever I had induced hynosis over the man.

"Then gave him the post hypnotic suggestion that he should avenge the President's death.

"Of course it done in such a manner that the man will be able to explain where he ever got such a notion to take it upon himself to be the public avenger.

"In case the weird workings of the human mind in this individual do recall such a suggestion. A pre-installed mental block will prevent Absolutely prevent any and all communication on the matter.

"Having completed our bussiness I placed the man in a responsive trance to last until dawn, and Charles and I left to await the further results of our labours. Another innocent shall pay for the guilty.

"For the innocent are many and the guilty are few. The many shall serve the few.

"I do not know even know this man's name. I thought it not important enough to ask.

"The hour grows late. Charles has long since retired and sleeps like a baby. I shall do likewise.

"Oh imagine the absolute frustration if this person does remember our covenent, and is unable to relate it in any way, Imagine the sheer maddening frustration.

"Sunday, November 24, 1963

"Sorrity has regained control these early daylight hours this day. People still talk in hushed tones. Perhaps afraid to awake the dead.

"We learned V.I.A. the radio while breakfasting that Oswald is to be moved from the police station to the county Jail. The police say he has not admitted anything but they posess an 'air tight case' against Oswald.

"I should like to see the transfer to the County Jail.

"Charles and I went to the Dallas police station at around noon this day, to see what could be seen. It was most profitable.

"We could not gain entry because of the crush of people. But we observed our newly fashioned tool of our trade leave his parked car and shove his way inside the building. An armoured truck was parked in the car part and garage way. Our tool look straight at me, but did not know me. He roughly shoved Charles aside and disappeared within.

"A moment later that seemed like an eternity there was a clamour of voices. Then a shot resounded from within the tiled walled interior.

"There was a rattle and a clatter of running feet and hoarse frantic incoherent shouting from many throates.

"The armoured car was moved out of the car part after some frantic delay and shouting, and an ambulance arrived.

"Oswald; looking very poor was dumped upon a litter and roughly handled into the awaiting ambulance, and hurried away still shackled to a policeman.

"Our tool was beaten by several fists and pistol butts and knocked to the floor amid an awray of drawn guns and curses. The sight of the drawn guns caused some of the news reporters to lie in mortal fear upon the floor while others tramples upon them.

"Then our tool was carried bodily away.

"Once again death, chaos, and confusion. Oh -- I mustn't forget terror. Stark terror reigned as king.

"Second to none -- only the master craftsman reigned absolutely supreme over the toiling masses.

"Upon returning to our hotel room and our television set. We discovered who our tool was:

"Leon Jack Rubinstein, known around this city of Dallas Texas as one 'Jack Ruby'

"Aftermath to our labours

"The late President Kennedy was laid into his tomb this day.

"Amid much sickening ceremony that really groted my stomach.

"The new king, 'President Johnson has declared a period of national mourning. To last until December 22nd.

"Just in time for Christmas shopping. How very conveinent.

"Everywhere institutions are closed while the workers take a holiday. How hypocritic.

"December 24, 1963

"I see everywhere, cheap-overpriced publications menting the death of President Kennedy. The public at large has fairly well recovered from the shock. In fact they never were shocked.

"From all the generated sorrow V.I.A. publishing firms, and elaborate special 'Collector's Copy' magazines someone has made a greedy lucritive profit from all of this.

"Where-ever money can be made - no matter how made - to hell with ethics - all men are corrupt - money shall be made.

"December 25, 1963

"Charles is dying. He is suffering from a rattlesnake bite. However their are no rattlesnakes here at college.

"Charles' affliction was hypnotically induced by myself.

"But never-the-less he shall die, slowly and painfully, and his feeble mind shall cause his body to produce quanities of blood in his blood stream not unlike rattle-snake venom.

"I wonder what will be said when the students and faculty return from the holidays.

"He will no doubt be accused of pilfering from the Zoology department.

"Charles and I had a falling out over who is the master craftsman. The true giant. Poor Charles could only place a poor second to the greatest.

"I am the greatest.

"Charles has stopped screamming. Yes - he is very stiff and dead. His body continues to swell and turn black and purple.

"I hated to do it but it was necessary.

"I emerged as the dominate personality.

"I hate to kill. That is to be forced to the practice of having to do it myself.

"That is beneath my dignity. Beneath the dignity of one of my great stature. It is barbaric to have to take a life yourself when there are so, many tools at one's command.

"Sleep well dear Charles. You have served your purpose, and you became obsolete. You became greedy.

"Ive warned you time and time again about those traits.

"They won't be tolorated.

"Those were traits of weakness and it cost you your life.

"You were acting like a human, and I couldn't tolerate that.

"I shall return home before the expiration of the holidays, and report in full to our superiors.

"I regret having to report Charles' paramount weakness. But it must be reported to prevent such a recurrance, in future experiments with the people of the planet called Earth.

"In the ten years we have been stationed here, Charles showed an overwhelming weakness and desire to be a human being.

It should be noted that the name "ERIC RITZEK" did not appear on any passenger lists of buses in which OSWALD is known to have travelled, although the entry for September 26, 1963, in the alleged diary reflects RITZEK and CHARLES were on the same bus as OSWALD en route to Mexico City.

It is also noted that JACK L. RUBY's places of business, the Carousel Club and the Vegas Club, were closed to the public on Saturday, November 23, 1963, although an entry in the alleged diary for November 23, 1963, states that CHARLES and ERIC RITZEK met a tavern owner, who was later identified as RUBY, as he was closing his place of business, and CHARLES and RITZEK were invited by this tavern owner into his place of business for a drink, at which time RITZEK hypnotized RUBY.

It is further noted that the alleged diary reflects on November 11, 1963, ERIC RITZEK and CHARLES walked over the route to be taken by President KENNEDY in Dallas, although such route had not been released as of November 11, 1963.

Under date of August 31, 1964, PAUL M. ROTHERMEL, JR., of the Hunt Oil Company, 700 Mercantile Bank Building, Dallas, Texas, transmitted to the Dallas Office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation a two-page handwritten letter addressed to Mr. ROTHERMEL from A. L. JONES, General Delivery, Sayre, Oklahoma, dated August 25, 1964.

The following is the contents of the above-described letter:

"Sayre, Oklahoma.
General Delivery.
August 25, 1964.

"Mr. Paul M. Rothermel
Dallas, Texas.

"Dear Mr. Rothermel:

"Here is how I saved Mr. H.L. Hunt's life. Last July or August I was sitting on the step at the front door entrance to the First National Bank here in Sayre and a young-man walked up to me and started a conversation. I do not remember but a small part of what he and I said in our rather long conversation, he said I have just gotten out of a Hospital and hitch-hiking my way to Amarillo, he soon began to talk about our Government and what our Government Officials in Washington stand for, and what they are doing, and he said a poor young-man does not have much chance, then I tried to encourage him to no affect, and I asked him if he drank beer, he said sometimes, I said lets go have a beer, I purchased him 2-cans of beer. While he and I were in the beer bar he began talking about rich-men, saying they have many times more than they need and are making it harder for we poor people I am going to go to killing them every good chance I have, I am going to get that rich-man H.L. Hunt down at Dallas. Then I said by what I have been told Mr. Hunt began making his wealth the hard way by working on a ranch when he was a poor young-man and has give quite a sum of money to poor-people and to the benefit of poor people in other ways, Then he said I will leave him alone.

"I do not remember how this young-man looked and I did not when I saw a picture of Oswald who supposedly killed President Kennedy, and since President Kennedy was killed I have wondered if this young-man was Oswald, that I feel sure I will not ever know. Of course if this young-man was Oswald then Mr. Hunt is safe from him. I am proud of what I said and did in Mr. Hunts behalf, I would do the same for anyone because I wish everyone well.

"Sincerely Yours

"A. L. Jones

The Truth about Cuba

IS IN CUBA!

On January 16, 1961, the United States Government imposed a ban on travel by U.S. citizens to Cuba. Failure to abide by the ban is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or 5 years in jail or both. (8 USC 1185, 22 USC 225.)

This is in clear contradiction to remarks made by President Kennedy before the United Nations on September 22, 1961, when he deplored action by any nation which "builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners". It seems also to violate the spirit of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 which states "Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own and return to his country".

What mysterious features exist on this tiny island of 6½ million people to become so taboo for American eyes? Although the policy of the Castro government is to promote tourism everywhere in Cuba, our government innocently explains that the travel ban is to safeguard our welfare.

- Why then does it allow American citizens to travel in such trouble spots as Somoza's Nicaragua?
- Why then does it exempt Americans such as "certain" businessmen and "certain" reporters from the ban when they are the very ones most likely to become involved in international incidents?
- Why then do other Western countries such as Canada, Mexico, England, France, West Germany, etc., find that the safety of their nationals does not require restrictions on travel to Cuba?

Our government states that another reason for the ban on travel is that it is in the national interest to combat Communism by preventing travel to Cuba.

- Why then is travel allowed and even encouraged to admittedly Communist countries such as Poland, Yugoslavia and even the Soviet Union?

In short, WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT HIDING?

As a result of the Cuban Revolution stopping the flow of Cuban wealth to the United States, Cuban soil, industry and manpower has been put at the disposal of the Cuban nation.

- Can it be that the new schools, homes and hospitals of revolutionary Cuba might contrast severely with the Cuba that served as a U.S. plantation and might weigh heavily on the American conscience?
- Can it be that we would also see the effects of the recent invasion which was supported by 43,000,000 dollars of our tax money?

WE MAINTAIN THAT THE TRUTH ABOUT CUBA IS IN CUBA AND THAT WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBSERVE AND JUDGE FOR OURSELVES WHAT IS HAPPENING THERE!

If you agree:

- Seek permission from the Passport Office to go there. When it is denied, ask why.
- Write to the U.S. State Department and President Kennedy asking that our government adhere to concepts of justice and international law and expressing your opinion on the travel ban.
- Read books which present the side of the story you haven't been told such as

90 MILES FROM HOME by Warren Miller and
LISTEN YANKEE by C. Wright Mills.

Both of these books are in pocketbook editions and can be purchased at the bookstands.

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S ASSASSINATION
LEE HARVEY OSWALD
NEWS RELEASE QUOTING
DR. VINCENT P. GUINN

Attached is a copy of a news release dated 8/27/64, in which Dr. Vincent P. Guinn, head of the Activation Analysis Program of the General Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation is quoted as saying that he had been working with the FBI and "I cannot say what we found out about Oswald because it is secret until the publication of the Warren Commission report. But I can tell you about activation analysis and crime." The Director noted "What about this? H."

Neutron activation is a relatively new highly sophisticated method of analysis wherein samples are placed in an atomic energy reactor and subsequent measurements of the characteristic radiations from the samples serve to identify the elements present. Although somewhat cumbersome, the method has the advantage of greater sensitivity than any other technique available. The Bureau has utilized this technique in the past and it was used in connection with the examination of bullet fragments recovered from President Kennedy and Governor Connally and paraffin casts obtained from the hands and cheeks of Oswald (casts were prepared by the Dallas Police Department).

With the Director's approval, through Bureau liaison, arrangements were made with Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, Chairman, Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to have our Laboratory experts work with the AEC contractor at the Oak Ridge National Laboratories of the AEC in carrying out these examinations. The examinations were conducted on a highly confidential basis and the results were reported to the President's Commission by the FBI (Results, in general, added little to the investigation).

REC 5

Guinn did not participate in the actual examinations nor have the results of these studies been discussed with him by FBI Laboratory personnel. It is not known whether the AEC or the President's Commission may have conferred or consulted with Guinn; however, Guinn is known to be a publicity seeker.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Lieutenant Francis L. Martello, Platoon Commander, First District, New Orleans, Louisiana, Police Department, on September 9, 1964, advised that on August 10, 1963, he interviewed a prisoner, Lee Harvey Oswald, at the First District, who had been arrested on August 9, 1963, for creating a disturbance while distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature on Canal Street, New Orleans.

At the time Oswald was questioned, Lieutenant Martello said he examined identification papers furnished him by Oswald which Oswald had removed from his wallet. At the conclusion of the interview, Oswald was returned to his cell. Lieutenant Martello stated he then placed his notes, along with several copies of the Fair Play for Cuba literature, in a file folder and placed the folder in a file cabinet.

Lieutenant Martello further advised that at approximately 3 p.m., November 23, 1963, he was interviewed by Mr. Adrian G. Vial, United States Secret Service at the First District, as Mr. Vial desired to secure from him any information he possessed regarding his, Lieutenant Martello's, interview of Oswald on August 10, 1963. Lieutenant Martello stated that at the outset of this interview he secured the original file folder on Oswald and turned over to Mr. Vial all the literature which had been secured from Oswald at the time of his arrest on August 9, 1963. Lieutenant Martello said that upon going through this folder he discovered a small piece of white paper which contained handwritten notes in English and some writing which appeared to him to be in a foreign language which he could not identify. He added that such paper had inadvertently become misplaced in the folder following his interview with Oswald. This piece of paper was turned over to Mr. Vial, but before doing so, Lieutenant Martello said he made a longhand copy of the information contained thereon. A Xerox copy of the original piece of paper, on which Lieutenant Martello recorded these notes, is attached to this memorandum.

At about 3:00 PM, November 23, 1963, Lieutenant Martello was informed he was interviewed by Mr. Adrian G. Vial, United States Secret Service at the First District, as Mr. Vial desired to secure from him any information he possessed regarding his, Lieutenant Martello's, interview of Oswald on August 10, 1963. At the outset of this interview, Lieutenant Martello stated he secured the original file folder on Oswald and turned over to Mr. Vial all the literature which had been secured from Oswald at the time of his arrest on August 9, 1963. Upon going through this folder, Lieutenant Martello said he discovered a small piece of white paper containing handwritten notes in English and some writing which appeared to him to be a foreign language that he could not identify and which had inadvertently become misplaced in the folder following interview with Oswald. This piece of paper was turned over to Mr. Vial, but before doing so, Lieutenant Martello said he made a longhand copy of the information contained thereon. A Xerox copy of the original piece of paper, on which Lieutenant Martello recorded those notes, is attached to this memorandum.

Lieutenant Francis L. Martello, Platoon Commander, First District, New Orleans, Louisiana, Police Department, on September 9, 1964, advised that on August 10, 1963, he interviewed a prisoner, Lee Harvey Oswald, at the First District, who had been arrested on August 9, 1963, for creating a disturbance while distributing Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature on Canal Street, New Orleans.

At the time Oswald was questioned, Lieutenant Martello said he examined identification papers furnished him by Oswald which Oswald had removed from his wallet. At the conclusion of the interview, Oswald was returned to his cell. Lieutenant Martello stated he then placed his notes, along with several copies of the Fair Play for Cuba literature, in a file folder and placed the folder in a file cabinet.

Lieutenant Martello further advised that at approximately 3 p.m., November 23, 1963, he was interviewed by Mr. Adrian G. Vial, United States Secret Service at the First District, as Mr. Vial desired to secure from him any information he possessed regarding his, Lieutenant Martello's, interview of Oswald on August 10, 1963. J. R. Malley spoke with SAC Shanklin of Dallas with regard to the Latent Fingerprint Section's recent identification of additional latent palm and fingerprints on the four cartons found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

Malley advised Shanklin that all of the latent fingerprints and all but one of the palm prints had been identified and that Dallas should continue to press in obtaining palm prints from those individuals who logically might have touched the cartons. He was instructed to insure that all FBI personnel were appropriately eliminated.

Shanklin advised they have several good possibilities in Dallas. From the Dallas Police Department one Bobby Gene Brown has indicated he may have touched the cartons. Shanklin also stated some employees of the Sheriff's Office in Dallas have also stated they may have touched the cartons. When the major case prints from these individuals are received, they will be appropriately checked against the remaining palm print.

Memorandum

TO : MR. A. H. BELMONT

DATE: 9-14-64

FROM : MR. I. W. CONRAD

SUBJECT: ASSASSINATION OF THE PRESIDENT

It is noted that, as set forth by earlier memoranda, Court reporters' copies of testimony by Laboratory representatives before the President's Commission were obtained and reviewed for accuracy and suggested corrections and changes were furnished to the Commission in the form of corrections in the manuscript itself. In some instances these changes were required by inaccurate reporting on the part of the Court reporter and in other instances they were considered desirable to supply details and clarification for those reading the transcript and not having the benefit of the atmosphere and conditions of the actual testimony, such as reference to specific exhibits used in illustrating the testimony. Where the attorney handling the examination was available, these changes were discussed directly with the attorney; in the majority of cases, however, the attorneys were not available and, therefore, the corrected manuscripts were left with Mr. Willens of the Commission in order that he might forward them to the appropriate attorney for concurrence in the proposed corrections. Mr. Eisenberg handled the bulk of the testimony for the Commission and we were advised that, in the event any of the suggested changes were questioned, we would be further advised.

However, as set forth in Mr. Malley's memorandum of July 27, 1964, Mr. Willens subsequently advised that some of the changes were acceptable and some were not, without specifying which were accepted and which were not. Accordingly, immediate efforts were undertaken to determine which of the suggested changes were disapproved. We have been successful to date in obtaining testimony transcripts of only two of the Laboratory witnesses and a review of these indicates that uncorrected errors in reporting still existed in both transcripts. These uncorrected errors have again been called to the Commission's attention.

Where we have suggested changes for the purpose of clarity, it is purely a matter of the Commission's decision whether to make such changes. The testimony as given is correct. Where the suggested changes were due to typographical errors and errors in court reporter transcription, the responsibility rests with the Commission to make the changes. We have called the errors to the attention of the Commission, and in the event any question arises at a later date, we can so state.

Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission called SA John F. Gallagher of the Laboratory today and requested his presence at 9:30 a.m. on 3/25/64, to depose on matters relating to neutron activation analyses conducted on the paraffin casts from the hands and cheek of Lee Harvey Oswald. A written copy of the letter requesting SA Gallagher's testimony is attached.

As you will recall, paraffin casts taken from Lee Harvey Oswald were examined by neutron activation analyses at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, to determine if these casts bore any deposits which could be specifically associated with the rifle cartridges found in the Texas School Book Depository Building following the President's assassination. As a result of these examinations, deposits found on the paraffin casts from the hands and cheek of Oswald could not be specifically associated with the rifle cartridges. In view of the fact that the paraffin casts were not made until after the reported firing and handling of the rifle involved, no significance could be attached to the residues found on the casts other than the conclusion that gunshot residue in these residues are present in amounts greater than would be expected to be found on the hands of an individual who had not recently fired a weapon or handled a fired weapon.

He recently wrote an article in the French newspaper setting forth his results of an interview with Marina Oswald. The information he attributes to Marina generally conforms with the data she has furnished this Bureau. His interview with Marina presents her in a very good light as the victim of an assassin who is trying her best to make a successful life for herself and her children in America. Marina reportedly told Gun that she was convinced Lee Oswald had killed Kennedy because he wanted to become a "big shot, a celebrated person, a somebody."

Synopsis: In June, 1963, unknown individual distributed Fair Play for Cuba Committee literature on Dumaine Street Wharf, New Orleans, during a visit of the USS Wasp. Unknown individual requested to leave wharf by patrolman of New Orleans Harbor Police. This patrolman states he believes unknown individual may have been LEE HARVEY OSWALD, based on photographs of OSWALD he has observed on television and in newspapers. Literature obtained from unknown individual by police officer forwarded to Identification Division for examination. Two latent fingerprints, not identical with fingerprints of OSWALD, developed. JERRY ALLEN HERALD, Gonzales, La., states that on 11/22/63, he arrived in Dallas, Texas, on photographic assignment for the "Paris-Match" magazine regarding assassination. About five days later he and JEAN CAMPBELL, a correspondent for the "London Evening Standard" were in Irving, Texas, and entered a used furniture store, which had previously beer a gun shop. EDITH WHITWORTH, a store employee, stated that OSWALD had been in store about the first of November, 1963, asking for a part for a gun and also inquiring about furniture. WHITWORTH states she referred OSWALD to a local sporting goods store in Irving. Photograph designated as President's Commission Exhibit 237, displayed to EVARISTO GILBERTO RODRIGUEZ, along with photographs of five other individuals. Upon viewing these six photographs, RODRIGUEZ stated that none of these photographs are identical with the person who had accompanied OSWALD to the Habana Bar on the occasion previously described. Issues of "The Militant" for October 14, 21, 1963, found in Post Office Box 30061, New Orleans, on 11/22/63, by postal authorities obtained.

NO 100-16601/mh

On July 21, 1964, Mr. LLOYD BECK, Office of Naval Intelligence, Eighth Naval District, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that according to the records of his agency, the aircraft carrier "USS Wasp" (CVS - 18) visited the Port of New Orleans from June 13, 1963, to June 20, 1963, and during this period of time, was berthed at the Dumaine Street Wharf. Mr. BECK informed that the "USS Wasp" was one of six U. S. Naval Vessels visiting the Port of New Orleans during this period of time and that the "USS Wasp" is currently at its home port of Boston, Massachusetts. Mr. BECK informed that no information had been received by his agency that during the period that the "USS Wasp" visited the Port of New Orleans, any individual was engaged in distributing leaflets in the vicinity of the "USS Wasp" or any other Naval Vessel.

On July 21, 1964, RAYMOND MARTINAS, Harbor Master, Port of New Orleans, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised that he recalled the visit of the aircraft carrier, the "USS Wasp" to the Port of New Orleans during June, 1963. Mr. MARTINAS informed that no information had come to his attention that any individual had been distributing leaflets near the "USS Wasp" during the period this ship was visiting the Port of New Orleans.

Date 7/22/64

Lieutenant ROY ALLEMAN, New Orleans Harbor Police, advised that his agency is in no way connected with the New Orleans Police Department. But is a separate and distinct law enforcement agency. He informed that his agency is under the control of the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, an agency of the State of Louisiana.

Lieutenant ALLEMAN advised that he recalled an incident wherein an individual was distributing leaflets on the Dumaine Street Wharf at the time the "USS Wasp" was berthed during June, 1963. Lieutenant ALLEMAN stated that he recalled that Harbor Patrolman GIROD RAY had been contacted by a member of the United States Navy and requested to locate an individual who was passing out leaflets on the Dumaine Street Wharf, near where the "USS Wasp" was berthed. As a result, Patrolman RAY located this individual, name unknown, and asked him to leave the premises. Lieutenant ALLEMAN stated that no arrest was made and that this person, upon request, did leave the Dumaine Street Wharf. Lieutenant ALLEMAN informed that Patrolman RAY obtained two leaflets that this unknown individual had been passing out and recalled that one of these leaflets had "something to do with Cuba" but could not recall any additional information.

Lieutenant ALLEMAN stated that he did not personally observe the individual passing out the leaflets and that he could furnish no additional information regarding this incident. He stated that the records of his agency do contain a brief, typewritten report made by Patrolman Ray as well as two of the leaflets which were being distributed by the unknown individual.

Lieutenant ALLEMAN furnished the original report of Patrolman RAY , dated June 16, 1963, and the two leaflets described as follows:

1. A yellow-colored leaflet entitled "Hands Off Cuba."

2. A white-colored leaflet entitled "The Truth About Cuba Is In Cuba."

Patrolman GIROD RAY, Harbor Police, advised that he recalled the incident in June of 1963, wherein he requested an individual to leave the Dumaine Street Wharf, after this individual was observed passing out leaflets in the vicinity of the "USS Wasp."

Patrolman RAY advised that he could not recall the day of the week, but believed it was either on a Saturday or a Sunday and that he had been assigned to a roving patrol in the area of the Toulouse and the Dumaine Street Wharves. He said this was a special assignment, inasmuch as the "USS Wasp" was berthed and that there were visiting hours for civilians who desired to go aboard this ship. Patrolman RAY stated that late in the afternoon, possibly between 3:00 PM and 5:00 PM, he was approached by an unknown enlisted man from the "USS Wasp" who told him that the Officer of the Deck of the "USS Wasp" desired Patrolman RAY to seek out an individual who was passing out leaflets regarding Cuba and to request this individual to stop passing out these leaflets. Patrolman RAY stated that he was between the Toulouse and Dumaine Street Wharves when he received this information and thereafter, immediately went to the Dumaine Street Wharf where he saw an unknown white male passing out leaflets which were white and yellow in color. He described this unknown individual as a white male, age late 20's, 5'9" tall, 150 pounds, and slender build. He said this individual was distributing these leaflets to U. S. Naval personnel in the area and also to civilians who were leaving the "USS Wasp."

Patrolman RAY stated that he approached this person and asked him if he had permission to distribute the leaflets. This person replied that he did not have permission to do this and felt that he did not need anyone's permission since he was within his rights to distribute leaflets in any area he desired to do so.

Patrolman RAY stated that he told this individual that the wharves and buildings along the Mississippi River, encompassing the Port of New Orleans, are operated by the Board of Commissioners of the Port of New Orleans, and that if this individual received permission from the Board of Commissioners, he could distribute these leaflets. Patrolman RAY stated that after informing this individual of this information, this person kept insisting that he did not see why he would need anyone's permission and thereafter, Patrolman RAY informed this individual that if he did not leave the Dumaine Street Wharf, Patrolman RAY would arrest him. Upon hearing this, this person then left the Dumaine Street Wharf.

Patrolman RAY stated he could not recall how this person was dressed, other than that he was well groomed and that this unknown individual was alone and was not assisted in the distribution of these leaflets by any other person.

Patrolman RAY stated that he could not now recall whether he looked at some type of identification of this individual, but believes he may have done so. Patrolman RAY stated that he feels sure that he wrote this unknown person's name on a slip of paper, but that apparently he had lost this piece of paper, as he did not include this individual's name in his typewritten report and that he could not recall the name.

Patrolman RAY stated that he feels this unknown individual who was distributing the leaflets was LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He said he bases this on the fact that subsequent to the incident, he had observed photographs of OSWALD on television and in the newspapers and that from these photographs he observed, he believes that the individual on the Dumaine Street Wharf was LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Set forth on the following pages are copies of the pamphlets as well as a copy of the report of Patrolman RAY which were furnished on July 21, 1964, by Lieutenant ROY ALLEMAN of the New Orleans Harbor Police.

ISOLATE CUBA?

On January 16, 1961, the United States Government imposed a ban on travel by U.S. citizens to Cuba. Failure to abide by the ban is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or 5 years in jail or both. (8 USC 1185, 22 USC 225.)

This is in clear contradiction to remarks made by President Kennedy before the United Nations on September 22, 1961, when he deplored action by any nation which "builds a wall to keep truth a stranger and its own citizens prisoners". It seems also to violate the spirit of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights adopted by the United Nations in 1948 which states "Everyone has the right to leave any country, including his own and return to his country".

What mysterious features exist on this tiny island of 6½ million people to become so taboo for American eyes? Although the policy of the Castro government is to promote tourism everywhere in Cuba, our government innocently explains that the travel ban is to safeguard our welfare.

- Why then does it allow American citizens to travel in such trouble spots as Somoza's Nicaragua?
- Why then does it exempt Americans such as "certain" businessmen and "certain" reporters from the ban when they are the very ones most likely to become involved in international incidents?
- Why then do other Western countries such as Canada, Mexico, England, France, West Germany, etc., find that the safety of their nationals does not require restrictions on travel to Cuba?

Our government states that another reason for the ban on travel is that it is in the national interest to combat Communism by preventing travel to Cuba.

- Why then is travel allowed and even encouraged to admittedly Communist countries such as Poland, Yugoslavia and even the Soviet Union?

In short, WHAT IS THE GOVERNMENT HIDING?

As a result of the Cuban Revolution stopping the flow of Cuban wealth to the United States, Cuban soil, industry and manpower has been put at the disposal of the Cuban nation.

- Can it be that the new schools, homes and hospitals of revolutionary Cuba might contrast severely with the Cuba that served as a U.S. plantation and might weigh heavily on the American conscience?
- Can it be that we would also see the effects of the recent invasion which was supported by 43,000,000 dollars of our tax money?

WE MAINTAIN THAT THE TRUTH ABOUT CUBA IS IN CUBA AND THAT WE HAVE THE RIGHT TO OBSERVE AND JUDGE FOR OURSELVES WHAT IS HAPPENING THERE!

If you agree:

- Seek permission from the Passport Office to go there. When it is denied, ask why.
- Write to the U.S. State Department and President Kennedy asking that our government adhere to concepts of justice and international law and expressing your opinion on the travel ban.
- Read books which present the side of the story you haven't been told such as

  90 MILES FROM HOME by Warren Miller and

  LISTEN YANKEE by C. Wright Mills.

BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE PORT OF NEW ORLEANS
(AN AGENCY OF THE STATE OF LOUISIANA)
INTER-OFFICE COMMUNICATION

DATE: June 15, 1965

TO: Chief L. Deutschman C.C.

FROM: Patrolman Girod Ray

SUBJECT: Distribution of Propaganda Literature

While working a special assignment at Dumain St. Wharf I was approached by a U.S.S. Navy Officer from the U.S.S. Yamp, who stated that he saw a white male adult subject handing out the enclosed pamphlets to persons visiting the ship, berthed at Dumain St. Wharf.

I immediately looked for this subject and found him distributing these pamphlets and asked him if he had received permission from the Dock Board to issue these papers. He stated that he thought as an American citizen he did not need Mayoral permission. I ordered this man off of our property and told him he would have to refrain from issuing anything on Dock Board Property without their express consent.

Pat. Girod Ray

The following items previously furnished by Lieutenant ALLEMAN were submitted to the FBI Identification Division, Latent Fingerprint Section, for examination:

1. A yellow-colored leaflet entitled "Hands Off Cuba."

2. A white-colored leaflet entitled "The Truth About Cuba is in Cuba."

The Identification Division was requested to examine the above items for any latent fingerprints and to compare any latent fingerprints developed with those of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. On July 31, 1964, the Identification Division advised that one latent fingerprint had been developed on Item #1, a yellow-colored leaflet entitled "Hands Off Cuba." In addition, one latent fingerprint had been developed on Item #2, a white-colored leaflet, entitled "The Truth About Cuba is in Cuba."

The Identification Division further advised that the two latent fingerprints developed are not identical with the fingerprints of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

INTERVIEW WITH JERRY ALLEN HERALD,
GONZALES, LOUISIANA

Date

Mr. JERRY ALLEN HERALD, Box 81, Gonzales, Louisiana, advised that he had destroyed his notes and tapes made of interviews of persons regarding LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

Mr. HERALD advised that on November 22, 1963, he arrived in Dallas, Texas, at approximately 4:45 PM on an assignment from the New York Office of the "Paris-Match" magazine to make photographs regarding the assassination of President KENNEDY. He advised that approximately five days after arriving in Dallas, he and Miss JEAN CAMPBELL, a correspondent for the "London Evening Standard," were in Irving, Texas, to contact persons regarding Mrs. OSWALD. He stated that as he and Miss CAMPBELL were driving down the street they noticed a sign that said "Gun Shop" and decided to stop at this place to see if anyone there might know OSWALD. Upon entering the shop, they found that it had been converted into a used furniture store and was no longer a gun shop.

He advised that they talked to a woman in the store, a Mrs. EDITH WHITWORTH, and asked her if she knew the OSWALDs.

Mrs. WHITWORTH advised them that LEE HARVEY OSWALD was in her store on a Wednesday or Thursday afternoon about the first week in November, 1963. Mrs. WHITWORTH then stated that OSWALD asked her for a gun part, and Mrs. WHITWORTH specifically named this part, calling it a "plunger." Mr. HERALD advised that Mrs. WHITWORTH then stated that OSWALD became interested in some of the furniture in this store, and a woman entered the store whom she assumed to be OSWALD's wife, and this woman had two children with her, one being a very young baby.

Mr. HERALD stated that he recalls that Mrs. WHITWORTH gave a very detailed description as to how Mrs. OSWALD was dressed, and she also stated that the man conversed with this woman in a foreign language. Mrs. WHITWORTH advised HERALD and CAMPBELL that OSWALD talked of furniture and stated that he would need some furniture for an apartment or a house in about three or four weeks.

Mr. HERALD advised that Mrs. WHITWORTH stated OSWALD had remained in the store for approximately twenty minutes and that when he and his wife left they entered a 1955 blue sedan, possibly a Ford, which automobile was parked directly in front of the window of the store. He stated that Mrs. WHITWORTH said that OSWALD did not bring any weapon in the store and that she did not see him with any weapon of any kind at that time. He stated that Mrs. WHITWORTH advised them she had seen OSWALD on television and his pictures in the newspapers, and she was certain that he was the person who had been in her store.

Mr. HERALD stated that Mrs. WHITWORTH advised them that there was another woman in the store at the time the OSWALDs were in there. He advised that he and Miss CAMPBELL, upon leaving the store, telephonically contacted this other woman, and she told them basically the same story that Mrs. WHITWORTH had told them. Mr. HERALD further advised that Mrs. WHITWORTH had referred OSWALD to a local sporting goods store in Irving.

DISPLAY OF PHOTOGRAPH
(PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION EXHIBIT 237) TO EVARISTO GILBERTO RODRIGUEZ

New Orleans, La.

EVARISTO GILBERTO RODRIGUEZ, 1239 Chartres Street, was interviewed at his residence, at which time he was referred to his previous interview with Special Agents of the FBI on May 12, 1964. On May 12, 1964 RODRIGUEZ had related that, as best he could recall, it was in September, 1963 at approximately 3:30 a.m. or 4:00 a.m., day of the week not recalled, that two white males entered the Habana Bar and sat at a table opposite the center of the bar. At that time RODRIGUEZ had stated that based on photographs he had seen of LEE HARVEY OSWALD after the assassination of President JOHN F. KENNEDY he was then able to state that one of these two men was, in his opinion, LEE HARVEY OSWALD. On May 12, 1964 RODRIGUEZ described the man who accompanied the person he believed to be OSWALD as age about 32, a little taller than OSWALD (about 5'7") and perhaps a little heavier, with a medium build and muscular biceps.

On July 30, 1964 RODRIGUEZ was shown the photographs of six white males, including a photo depicted in the President's Commission Exhibit #237. RODRIGUEZ was asked if the persons depicted in any of these photographs was identical with the person who had accompanied LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ on May 12, 1964. RODRIGUEZ viewed each one of the six photographs slowly and carefully and then stated that none of these photographs was identical with the person who had accompanied OSWALD to the Habana Bar on the occasion described by him on May 12, 1964. He then said he did not recognize the persons depicted in these six photographs as persons he had ever seen before. RODRIGUEZ was then asked if any of the persons depicted in these six photographs in any way bore any resemblance to the man who had allegedly accompanied LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ on May 12, 1964. He then, again, reviewed all six of these photographs and then remarked that the person depicted in one of the photographs (which is identical to President's Commission #237) has shoulders that resemble those of the man whom RODRIGUEZ had seen with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ on May 12, 1964. However, RODRIGUEZ stated that the person depicted in that photo (identical with the President's Commission Exhibit #237) did not resemble the man RODRIGUEZ had seen with OSWALD in the Habana Bar in any other way except for the way his hair receded on the sides of his head.

RODRIGUEZ reiterated then that the person depicted in the photo which is identical to the President's Commission Exhibit #237 was not identical with the man RODRIGUEZ had seen with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Habana Bar.

In response to inquiry, RODRIGUEZ explained that on the occasion when LEE HARVEY OSWALD was seen by RODRIGUEZ in the Habana Bar with another man, RODRIGUEZ did not clearly see the face of the man that had accompanied LEE HARVEY OSWALD to the Habana Bar. RODRIGUEZ added that he recalls the physical build of the man who accompanied OSWALD to the Habana Bar better than his face. However, RODRIGUEZ was positive that the man depicted in the photograph which is identical to the President's Commission Exhibit #237, was not identical to the man that RODRIGUEZ had observed with LEE HARVEY OSWALD in the Habana Bar as described by RODRIGUEZ to Special Agents of the FBI on May 12, 1964.

FROM : L. J. GAUTHIER

SUBJECT: PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION
REQUEST FOR VISUAL AIDS

Additional visual aids have been requested by the Commission's staff after their deadline for exhibits was met last Friday, 9-11-64.

Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler, who is writing the chapter which deals with Oswald's motives, selected certain photographs of Oswald which he desires to be arranged into five visual aids. According to Liebeler, it is intended that these photographs reveal the defiant expression on Oswald's face after his arrest. One interesting outcome according to Liebeler was the refusal of Messrs. Rankin, Willens and Redlich to authorize the use of a photograph showing Oswald handcuffed with clenched fist upraised for the reason that the appearance of the photograph in the report would bring up the question of the "Communist salute." (see attached). Liebeler felt the photograph should be used to show Oswald's general attitude of defiance to the circumstances of his arrest because it was germane to Oswald's motives. However, he understands that the Commission's policy with reference to the use of visual aids was the exhibits should have a material significance to the text and not be used merely for illustrations that do not in any way assist the reader to understand the text.

Mr. W. David Slawson of the Commission's staff, who is handling the chapter covering Oswald's foreign conspiracy, requested three additional exhibits depicting Oswald while in U.S.S.R.

The last of the material needed to complete this request was received from Liebeler at 11:00 a.m., 9-15-64. Mr. Willens advised that he had cut off all requests for additional charts by his staff

Note Lee Oswald's upraised, clenched fist, the Communist symbol of the triumph of Marxism by revolutionary violence.

"Justice by Assassination" was written in 1947 and it illustrates that Communist "Justice" is served by world-wide assassinations which will result in anarchy, chaos, disorder suspicion, hatred and internal confusion.

There has been an incredible attempt (both in this country and in Russia) to transfer responsibility for the assassination of President Kennedy from Lee Oswald to the forces of Communist resistance in this country!!!

Lee Rankin contacted the Bureau 9/10/64 and indicated that he desired the FBI to interview Congressman Pillion concerning certain data in his letter. Mr. Rankin underlined the specific items that he desired Congressman Pillion be questioned about. He asked that the Bureau determine from Congressman Pillion the basis or proof of each of the underlined items.

WFO should immediately have two experienced mature Agents who are familiar with the Oswald investigation contact Congressman Pillion in connection with his letter. For the information of the WFO, Mr. Rankin telephoned Congressman Pillion and requested that he be available for interview by the FBI and Congressman Pillion indicated he was perfectly willing ; to be interviewed by Bureau Agents.

In your interview of Congressman Pillion in addition to the specific items underlined by Mr. Rankin in the enclosure, the WFO should also question Congressman Pillion concerning his statements which appear on page eight of the enclosure which are as follows: "There is an abundance of direct evidence linking Oswald to the Soviet Secret Police. Evidence already available establishes Oswald's close association with the Soviet Secret Police and other Communist agencies and terroristic groups."

Results of WFO's interview with Congressman Pillion should be immediately furnished to the Bureau in a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination to the President's Commission.

Representative Gerald R. Ford

Honorable Allen W. Dulles

Honorable John J. McCloy

(Constituting the membership of the President's Commission to Report Upon the Assassination of President Kennedy)

Dear Mr. Chairman, and honorable members of the President's Commission:

There have been persistent and continuing official and unofficial news leaks concerning the findings and conclusions to be contained in the report of the President's Commission upon the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The news reports have been uniform in anticipating the substance of the major conclusions. Former Attorney General Robert Kennedy has publicly stated his views concerning the causation of Lee Oswald's assassination of President Kennedy.

The F.B.I. (Federal Bureau of Investigation) exercises prime responsibility for the investigation of this tragic homicide. This Bureau is responsible to the Attorney General of the United States.

Anticipated Commission Conclusions

The Attorney General's conclusions and the conclusions of the President's Commission anticipated in the advance news reports coincide.

The substance of the Attorney General's conclusions and the conclusions of the President's Commission anticipated in the news reports are:

1. That Lee Oswald, alone and unassisted, committed the assassination of President Kennedy.

2. That Lee Oswald's crime was not directed or instigated by any known or secret Communist agency.

3. That Lee Oswald was a paranoiac, anti-social personality, and his assassination of the President was the product of a disturbed mind.

4. That Lee Oswald's Communist Marxist-Leninist associations, beliefs, affiliations and allegiances were not causally related to his assassination of Presiden Kennedy.

Commission Findings a "Whitewash"

If this is a fairly accurate summary of the conclusions to be expressed or implied in the Commission's report, then, this report will have reached an incomplete, false and unrealistic conclusion in failing to establish the true and ultimate motivating factors which caused Lee Oswald to assassinate President Kennedy on November 22, 1963.

These conclusions would absolve internal and international Communism from complicity in and guilt for this infamous crime. These findings are contrary to the known facts. They contradict our experience with, and our knowledge of, the secret terroristic operations of the Soviet Secret Police (KGB) and the thousands of subsidiar organizations throughout the world coordinated and concentrated to undermine, disrupt and destroy all non-Communist political order.

To ignore the decisive influence of Communist ideology, Communist agents and associations over Lee Oswald in perpetrating this crime would constitute a gross deception upon the American public and world opinion.

If the final report excludes Communism as the prime motivating factor in Lee Oswald's crime, then, this report would, in effect, provide a "cover-up" and "whitewash

Commission's Report Legalistic -- Not Realistic

The conclusions reached by the Commission are apparently based upon our accepted principles of legal jurisprudence.

The proof that Lee Oswald assassinated the President is incontrovertible. Oswald is not the defendant in a murder trial, wherein the proof of guilt beyond a reasonable doubt is applicable.

The question of Oswald's commission of this crime is not the principal issue to be resolved by the Commission. The vital issue that concerns the American public is the relevancy and the full disclosure of the United States Communist, Soviet Communist and International Communist Parties, agents, influences and associations that motivated Oswald's act of assassination. This is the paramount danger that continues to threaten the future security and survival of this nation.

The Lenin technique for the seizure of political power by non-military means incorporated terrorism and murder as part of its revolutionary wars.

Political assassinations are standard Communist tactics intended to break dow law and order, to create fear and paralysis.

The super-secrecy of the Communist operations makes direct legal evidence unavailable.

For the Commission to justify its conclusion that no Communist agency instigated or was responsible for Oswald's crime on the basis of the failure of direct legal evidence is dangerous, unrealistic and illogical.

Commission Cannot Render Independent Judgment

The President's Commission is a political body. The members of the Commissio are appointees of the Executive Department.

Any final decision reached, or findings and conclusions made, will, of politi cal necessity, be in conformity with the State Department's policies. Over the past thirty years, the United States policy toward the Soviet and Communism has been characterized by ingratiation, appeasement and convergence.

It is the policy of our government to de-emphasize or suppress information that might create an antagonistic public opinion in this country toward the Soviet dominated International Communist apparatus.

The inquiries and findings of the Commission will, in all probability, be influenced toward conformity with the political policies of the State Department.

Political considerations that must be taken into account by the Commission prevent it from giving to the American public an independent, true and accurate analysi of the motivations and causations behind the assassination of President Kennedy.

Communists Have Benefited from Prolonged Delay in Publication of Commission's Report

The President's act in establishing this Commission had the effect of preempting all other investigative jurisdiction over this crime. Official inquiries and i vestigations already begun or about to begin were peremptorily terminated.

The ad hoc creation of this Commission has effectively shielded the Communist apparatus from public identification as the principal causative agency of President Kennedy's assassination.

Communist Propaganda Campaign

During the nine months that have elapsed since the appointment of the Commission, the International Communist movement has waged a massive propaganda campaign to confuse and befuddle the peoples of the Free World concerning the true source and motivations behind the assassination of President Kennedy. The Communists developed and propagandized specific lines, however contradictory, that continue to divert public and official attention from the Communist influences that resulted in President Kennedy's death.

The United States Communist Party organization and the Soviet Communist press fabricated and spread the "whitewash" for Communism by allegations that Oswald was a tool of American right-wing, allegedly fascist forces, or was a spy and agent of the United States Government.

Damaging Effect of Communist Propaganda

The consequences of the calculated, Communist propaganda and psychological warfare pressures have been that:

(a) The Communists have, without refutation, convinced world public opinion that the Communist forces are innocent of culpability and responsibility for President Kennedy's death.

(b) American official and private investigative agencies have been silenced during this nine-month period.

(c) The Commission's inquiries have suppressed the free flow of available information and prevented the American public from rendering a true and balanced judgment as to the Communist role and involvement.

(d) The delay of the Commission's report has perpetuated the false and perilous thesis that the paramount danger to our nation emanates from the anti-Communi individuals and groups in our society, and not from domestic and foreign Communist forces.

Communist Influences Upon Oswald

The evidence conclusively establishes that Lee Harvey Oswald was a confirmed and obsessed Marx-Leninist Communist. His life and mind, since the age of 15, was influenced and shaped by the teachings and the revolutionary terroristic tactics of Communism.

Oswald Sought Citizenship in Soviet Union

Immediately upon his discharge from the U. S. Marine Corps, Oswald went to the Soviet Union, and denounced the United States. He attempted to abandon his American citizenship and petitioned for citizenship in the Soviet Union.

Oswald's Enlistment in Soviet Secret Police (KGB)

Immediately upon his arrival in the Soviet Union, Oswald voluntarily became associated with the Soviet Secret Police, known as the KGB. The KGB has the responsibility for the intelligence, infiltration and terroristic operations of the Soviet Union and its allied Communist network around the world. The recruiting and training of agents for sabotage, assassination, incitement of riots and all other forms of terror and violence is carried out by the KGB.

KGB Arranges Extraordinary Privileges for Oswald

Following Oswald's arrival in Moscow, the KGB arranged press conferences to publicize Oswald's defection.

Shortly thereafter, the KGB provided a job for him in the sheet metal shop of a radio factory in Minsk. Oswald was not a skilled sheet metal worker. His job was a clerical job of "checker". This was a sham "cover" job.

Oswald was given a 5,000 ruble lump sum payment prior to going to Minsk. Thereafter, he received 700 rubles per month as wages and an additional 700 rubles per month from the KGB. The 700 ruble payment from the KGB was falsely represented as emanating from the Soviet Red Cross.

The 1,400 ruble monthly income of Oswald was comparable to the salary of the General Manager of the factory where he was allegedly employed in an unskilled labor capacity.

The KGB provided Oswald with a scarce and comparatively luxurious apartment in Minsk for a period of more than two years.

During his long stay in Minsk, Oswald was permitted to enjoy an exceptionally active social and recreational life.

Oswald Marries Into Soviet Secret Police Family

Oswald married a member of the Young Communist Party, known as KOMOSOL. His wife, Marina, was the niece of a Lt. Colonel in the MVD, (now known as the KGB).

It is probable that Marina was "planted" by the KGB, and induced to marry Oswald as part of the KGB operations. There is no definite evidence that Marina Oswald was a KGB "control agent" over Oswald. But, the well-known KGB methods of operation make this a distinct possibility.

The grant of an exit visa to Oswald and to his wife, Marina, is a most extraordinary Soviet act. Oswald knew more than a month before that he and his wife would receive permission to leave the Soviet.

There can be no question but that Oswald and Marina were considered by the KGB to be potential agents for either specific or future assignments.

Oswald's Training for Assassination

Oswald qualified as a rifle marksman during his training in the U. S. Marine Corps.

The KGB arranged to allow Oswald to engage in target practice and shooting during his more than two-year stay in Minsk. The use of a rifle and practice privileges is absolutely forbidden to foreigners in the Soviet.

It is significant that a KGB-directed school for terrorism, sabotage and assassination is located in the Minsk area. It is reasonable to assume that Oswald received specialist training and indoctrination from the KGB during his extended assignment in Minsk.

Oswald Obsessed with Communism

From about June 1962, when Oswald returned to the United States, until his arrest for the murder of President Kennedy on November 22, 1963, he was completely preoccupied with Communism. His efforts to earn a living for his family were only incidental.

Oswald subscribed to, and avidly read such Communist, Marx-Leninist revolutionary publications as the "Militant" and the "Daily Worker".

Oswald's mind and body was only an instrument for death, manipulated by sinister forces and vicious men who exploited this pliable, vulnerable and sick individual.

Oswald's mind was psychiatrically and systematically conditioned and prepared for violence and terroristic activities on behalf of the Communist cause. Oswald became a cold, calculating professional paranoid killer who was intimately associated with the Communist apparatus.

ION

Similarities of Kennedy Assassination to Trotsky Murder

There is a striking similarity between the assassination of President Kenned and the murder of Leon Trotsky in Mexico City, on August 20, 1940. Trotsky's assailan while using many aliases, was commonly known as Ramon Mercader. Like Mercader, Oswald used various aliases and cover names. Mercader was 27 when he killed Trotsky; Oswald was 24 when he assassinated President Kennedy. Both had abnormal mentalities, and bot were obsessive "loners".

Mercader served in the Communist forces in the Spanish Civil War, receiving sabotage and terrorist training. After the war he went to the USSR, where he received further specialized training from the NKVD, one of the various names which the KGB has had in former years. Oswald received his training in the U. S. Marine Corps, and ther after went to Soviet Russia, where he put himself under the protection and undoubted indoctrination and training of the KGB and its related agencies.

Evidence regarding Mercader's identity and background was virtually non-existent during the time of his trial in Mexico City.

Incriminating Truth Comes Out Years Later

More than ten years elapsed before Mercader's true identity was established, and before sufficient circumstantial evidence was produced to conclusively prove that he had killed Trotsky on direct orders of the Soviet Secret Police. There is an abundance of direct evidence linking Oswald to the Soviet Secret Police. Evidence alread available establishes Oswald's close association with the Soviet Secret Police and oth Communist agencies and terroristic groups. All that is lacking in his case is direct proof of assignment by the Communist underground to assassinate President Kennedy or some other outstanding American personality.

Today, more than twenty years after the killing of Trotsky, and even without direct conclusive proof, world opinion accepts the fact that Mercader murdered Trotsky under specific orders from the Soviet Secret Police.

House Un-American Activities Committee Cites Communist Influence On Oswald

In its report for 1963, the Committee on Un-American Activities of the U. S. House of Representatives directly placed the responsibility for President Kennedy's assassination upon the Communist apparatus.

Similarities of Kennedy Assassination to Trotsky Murder

There is a striking similarity between the assassination of President Kenned and the murder of Leon Trotsky in Mexico City, on August 20, 1940. Trotsky's assailan while using many aliases, was commonly known as Ramon Mercader. Like Mercader, Oswald used various aliases and cover names. Mercader was 27 when he killed Trotsky; Oswald was 24 when he assassinated President Kennedy. Both had abnormal mentalities, and both were obsessive "loners".

Mercader served in the Communist forces in the Spanish Civil War, receiving sabotage and terrorist training. After the war he went to the USSR, where he received further specialized training from the NKVD, one of the various names which the KGB has had in former years. Oswald received his training in the U. S. Marine Corps, and thereafter went to Soviet Russia, where he put himself under the protection and undoubted indoctrination and training of the KGB and its related agencies.

Evidence regarding Mercader's identity and background was virtually non-existent during the time of his trial in Mexico City.

Incriminating Truth Comes Out Years Later

More than ten years elapsed before Mercader's true identity was established, and before sufficient circumstantial evidence was produced to conclusively prove that he had killed Trotsky on direct orders of the Soviet Secret Police. There is an abundance of direct evidence linking Oswald to the Soviet Secret Police. Evidence already available establishes Oswald's close association with the Soviet Secret Police and other Communist agencies and terroristic groups. All that is lacking in his case is direct proof of assignment by the Communist underground to assassinate President Kennedy or some other outstanding American personality.

Today, more than twenty years after the killing of Trotsky, and even without direct conclusive proof, world opinion accepts the fact that Mercader murdered Trotsky under specific orders from the Soviet Secret Police.

House Un-American Activities Committee Cites Communist Influence On Oswald

In its report for 1963, the Committee on Un-American Activities of the U. S. House of Representatives directly placed the responsibility for President Kennedy's assassination upon the Communist apparatus.

The following quotations from this report conclude that Oswald was motivated and influenced toward his assassination of President Kennedy by the Communist network operating to destroy the United States and the Free World.

"Because hate is so large an element in Communist doctrine and propaganda, it is reasonable to conclude that Oswald's close association with the Communist movement and reading of its propaganda markedly influenced his conduct."

"Within the past year, we have witnessed a shocking example of the kind of horrible act that can be committed by a fanatical Marxist who had for years been an avid reader of Communist anti-American propaganda and - not long before the slaying of the President - a leader of pro-Castro agitation on the streets of one of our major cities."

"Perhaps, it would not have happened if, during past years, the American people, as a whole, had worked harder to disclose the lies and half-truths in domestic Communist propaganda so that our youth would not be misled by it."

Mr. Chairman, I respectfully submit that the following findings and conclusions are fully justified and warranted by the facts and circumstances present in this case.

Conclusions

1. Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated President Kennedy on November 22, 1963.

2. Lee Harvey Oswald was of unstable mentality but knew the nature and quality of his act of assassination. His crime was premeditated but was not motivated by personal animus toward President Kennedy.

3. Lee Harvey Oswald's assassination of President Kennedy was part of a pattern of political assassinations and criminal anarchy. In this homicide, Lee Harvey Oswald was wholly influenced and motivated by his Communist ideology, training, associations and objectives.

4. The circumstantial evidence is sufficient to exclude to a moral certainty, any other hypothesis, except that Lee Harvey Oswald assassinated President Kennedy to advance the world Communist plan designed to ultimately destroy the United States and the Free World.

5. Lee Harvey Oswald's assassination of President Kennedy is complete consistent with Communist terroristic methodology. On the other hand, it is inconsistent to ascribe Lee Harvey Oswald's multiple murders and attempted murders to any other motivation, cause or source than that of Communist mentality, apparatus and operations.

6. There is no direct evidence that the Soviet Secret Police (KGB), or any other Communist agency or organization specifically assigned Lee Harvey Oswald to assassinate President Kennedy. But, the lack of available evidence does not exclude the reasonable presumption that the KGB indoctrinated, trained and prepared Lee Harvey Oswald as a professional specialist for future use as an assassin or terrorist.

7. Lee Harvey Oswald would not have assassinated President Kennedy except for his total commitment to Communist ideology, methodology and objectives.

Effect of Commission's Judgment

If the President's Commission absolves the Communists from direct or indirect involvement in the assassination of President Kennedy, then, it will be doing a tragic injustice and perpetrating a great dis-service to the American people.

President Kennedy's last sacrifice will have been in vain if the true cause of his death is not identified, so that the American people and their government can be fully alerted to, and informed of the sinister, secret, complex, universality and immediacy of the dangers of the Communist world apparatus.

The judgment of the President's Commission must have for its prime purpose, the prevention of the recurrence of a similar assassination and the protection of the nation, not from Oswald but from his Communist co-conspirators.

This letter is respectfully submitted with the request that it be incorporated into the official record of the Commission's proceedings.

By letter dated September 10, 1964, the President's Commission requested that in conducting the investigation concerning the leaks of the Lee Harvey Oswald diary, the Jack L. Ruby polygraph examination and the Jack L. Ruby testimony before Chief Justice Warren, that Mr. Sol A. Dann of Detroit and Mr. Melvin Belli of San Francisco, the members of the Commission staff and the Commission be interviewed and report the results of these inquiries.

Enclosures comprising reports and memoranda are being furnished to WFO only as WFO will be handling the bulk of this investigation. In this respect WFO is to assign mature, experienced personnel to this matter. The fact that the Commission has requested the investigation must not lend itself to any reluctance on the part of the investigative Agents to fully explore and pin down any and every possibility that the questioned leaks might have occurred within the Commission. The results of the investigation must meet the highest Bureau standards. All interviews are to be thorough, business like and conducted with circumspection.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Personnel assigned are to thoroughly review the enclosed memoranda and reports which reveal previous investigation conducted in this matter before instituting investigation.

For the information of all offices, results of investigation for each phase must be submitted separately by a letterhead memorandum suitable for dissemination as follows:

Pertaining to the leak of Oswald's diary, this information is to be contained in a letterhead memorandum under the caption "Lee Harvey Oswald, Internal Security - Russia - Cuba."

Pertaining to the Ruby interview and polygraph examination, results of this investigation are to be reported under "Jack L. Ruby, Lee Harvey Oswald - Victim, Civil Rights."

For the information of Detroit and San Francisco following is a summary of investigation previously conducted concerning the leaks:

By letters dated June 30, 1964, and July 10, 1964, the President's Commission requested the Bureau to conduct investigation of the publication of Lee Harvey Oswald's diary by "The Dallas Morning News" and "Life" magazine.

On June 27, 1964, "The Dallas Morning News," Dallas, Texas, carried an article by Carl Freund concerning information furnished by Jack Ruby at the time of his interview by Chief Justice Earl Warren at Dallas, Texas, on 6-7-64. A copyrighted article by Hugh Aynesworth concerning Oswald's diary together with a photograph of a page of this diary also appeared. On June 28, 1964, the same paper carried the second article by Hugh Aynesworth concerning the diary, also a photograph of a CP U. S. A. letter dated 7-31-63, addressed to Oswald, a photograph of Oswald's undesirable discharge from the U. S. Marines dated 9-13-60 and a photograph of an International Certificate of Vaccination in the name of Oswald bearing the signature "A. J. Hideel" bearing date stamp 6-8-63. These items were among materials seized by the Dallas Police Department on 11/22 - 23/63, in a search of Oswald's room at 1026 North Beckley Street, Dallas, Texas, and his effects at the residence of Ruth Paine, 2515 West Fifth Street, Irving, Texas.

The investigation indicated Assistant District Attorney William F. Alexander, Dallas, Texas, was the possible source of material published. It was determined Alexander obtained film of the above-mentioned documents from Dallas Police Department on June 1, 1964, and had copies of the film and hard copy photographs made at the Dallas Recordak Corporation in Dallas, Texas. Officials at "The Dallas Morning News" refused to divulge the source of the material for their articles. Interviews with officials of the Dallas Police Department failed to establish the source of material published, although Chief of Police, Jesse E. Curry, had the immediate reaction the information was made available by Alexander. Also Mr. Henry Wade, District Attorney, Dallas, Texas, indicated he suspected Alexander but could furnish no specific proof.

When Alexander was interviewed by Agents of the Dallas Office, he denied being the source of the material published. However, Alexander alleged that Representative Gerald R. Ford, a member of the President's Commission, leaked the information to "Life" magazine. Alexander made other allegations which he stated he obtained from a source that he would not identify.

Mr. Henry Wade, District Attorney, made available for examination a folder containing hard copy prints of the evidence, which folder he stated was obtained from the office of William F. Alexander during late June of 1964.

On July 17, 1964, Mr. Holland McCombs, Dallas correspondent for "Life" magazine advised he contacted Hugh Aynesworth, reporter for "The Dallas Morning News" on June 25 or 26, 1964, concerning the purchase of a copy of Oswald's diary, at which time he was referred to Aynesworth's wife Paula. Mr. McCombs purchased from Paula Aynesworth the copy of Oswald's diary for $2500. Neither Aynesworth nor his wife revealed the source of the diary. Thereafter "Life" magazine obtained permission from Marina Oswald for the publication of the diary for $20,000 plus one-half share of all foreign sales of the issue containing the diary.

Disposition of the film and prints in possession of the Dallas Police Department were accounted for. The FBI Laboratory conducted an examination of the material obtained from the office of Mr. Henry Wade, Dallas, Texas, and a copy of Oswald's diary obtained from "Life" magazine. The examination established that "Life" magazine's copy which was published, was made from the film obtained from the Dallas District Attorney's Office.

On August 17, 1964, Congressman Gerald R. Ford was interviewed by a representative of this Bureau. He said he desired to unequivocally state, and to furnish a signed statement if necessary, that he did not leak the information in question. He also stated that he did talk to "Life" magazine previously, but under no circumstances had he given "Life" magazine any information concerning Oswald's diary.

Ruby was afforded a polygraph examination at the Dallas County Jail on 7-18-64 by Special Agents Bell Herndon and W. James Wood at the specific request of the President's Commission. Present during various phases of the examination were E. L. Holman of the Dallas Sheriff's Office, Clayton, Fowler and Joe H. Tonahill, Ruby's attorneys, Assistant District Attorney William Alexander, Dr. William Robert Beavers, Court Reporter Odell Oliver and Jack Ruby. On 7-22-64, the "Dallas Times Herald" printed an article purporting to be the complete questions and answers from the polygraph examination and on 7-30-64, the Commission requested that we conduct investigation to determine how this information came into the hands of the "Dallas Times Herald."

Enclosed are letterhead memoranda setting forth results of this investigation with the exception of an interview with Arlin Specter of the President's Commission, who has not been interviewed.

RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

On June 7, 1964, Chief Justice Warren and members of the President's Commission interviewed Jack Ruby at the Dallas County Jail. On 8-18-64, a copyright story by Dorothy Kilgallen appeared in the "New York Journal-American" which set forth verbatim the transcript of Ruby's testimony. On 8-20-64, the Commission requested that we conduct investigation to determine how this transcript came into the possession of Dorothy Kilgallen, and the Journal-American. Enclosed are letterhead memoranda setting forth results of investigation conducted with the exception of investigation within the President's Commission itself. It will be noted that in addition to persons interviewed who were present, Chief Justice Earl Warren, Congressman Gerald Ford of the Commission, Commission Counsel J. Lee Rankin, Commission Staff Counsel Joseph H. Ball and Arlin Specter and Elmer W. Moore, Special Agent, U. S. Secret Service assigned to the Commission were also present during this interview.

All persons who were present at the interview of Ruby and during the conduct of the polygraph examination who have not been interviewed must be thoroughly interviewed for all information they may have concerning the leaks. Any other indicated investigation within the Commission itself must also be conducted; particularly in connection with the transcript of the Ruby interview, it must be determined how many copies were reproduced by the Commission, what was done with them and all persons having access to them within the Commission must also be interviewed. Every effort must be made to pin down the specific handling and disposition of each and every copy known to exist. It is noted that one copy of this transcript was furnished by the Commission to the Bureau and the Commission has been advised of the security of this copy.

With respect to the interview of Melvin Belli, it was noted that he was the attorney who defended Ruby during his trial in Dallas, Texas, however, he was discharged prior to the Commission's interview of Ruby and the polygraph examination and was not present on either occasion. He should be thoroughly interviewed for any knowledge he might have concerning the leaks of the Oswald diary, interview of Ruby and polygraph examination.

VERIFICATION

Airtel to SAC, WFO
RE: LEE HARVEY OSWALD, AKA.

With respect to Mr. Sol A. Dann, he is a Detroit attorney who was hired by Ruby's family subsequent to Ruby's trial. There has been animosity between Dann and Ruby's Dallas attorneys, Fowler and Tonahill. Dann hired a psychiatrist to examine Ruby prior to the polygraph examination and on the basis of his recommendation was strongly opposed to allowing Ruby to take the examination. This should be considered in the interview of Dann at Detroit and any information he has concerning any of the three leaks in question should be obtained. Leads arising from either of these interviews should, of course, be set out by teletype and promptly pursued to their logical conclusion.

The Bureau has received indications the President's Commission is concluding its investigation. Therefore, this matter is to be handled immediately.

Detroit and San Francisco are to submit the results of their investigation to reach the Bureau on or before September 18, 1964. WFO is to submit results of investigation to reach the Bureau by 9 a.m. September 21, 1964.

All offices are to submit one copy revealing results of investigation to Dallas for their information as office of origin. The Bureau will handle dissemination to the President's Commission.

Persons contacted should be initially and specifically advised that these interviews are being conducted upon the specific request of the President's Commission. In addition, receiving offices are instructed this is a limited investigation restricted to Commission members, Commission staff and the two former Ruby attorneys.

Upon completion of interviews with Commission members and staff, WFO is instructed to advise the Bureau and do not interview Chief Justice Warren pending further instructions.

SUBJECT:

LEE HARVEY OSWALD
INTERNAL SECURITY - RUSSIA - CUBA

This afternoon Mr. Howard Willens of the President's Commission telephonically requested an interview by Bureau Agents of Mrs. Johnnie Walker, 2437 Varsity, Grand Prairie, Texas.

Willens stated Mrs. Walker had telephonically contacted the Commission on Sunday, 9/13/64, and today reporting that on October 24, 1963, she had attended a meeting with Oswald and other individuals which was a conspiratorial meeting of some kind.

She also advised the Commission that she had a friend at the post office where Ruby and Oswald had their post office boxes. Mr. Willens stated he did not know the significance of the information regarding this friend.

Willens stated Mrs. Walker had advised she was willing to appear and testify before the Commission but had indicated some reluctance to be interviewed by the FBI.

Mr. Willens stated Mrs. Walker could be contacted at the above address or through the telephone of a neighbor whose number is AN 2-0390.

Willens indicated he felt Mrs. Walker might be a "crackpot" but indicated that he desired she be interviewed by the FBI for any pertinent information in her possession.

ACTION

A teletype is being sent to the Dallas Office instructing them to interview Mrs. Walker.

Dear Mr. Hoover:

I enclose a copy of a memorandum dated August 28, 1964 to me from Mr. Wesley J. Liebeler of the staff of this Commission. The memorandum relates to certain problems raised by a conflict between the testimony of Special Agent Latona of your Bureau and Lt. J.C. Day of the Dallas Police Department concerning a palm print which Lt. Day testified he lifted from the barrel of the assassination weapon, apparently on November 22, 1963. Those problems were discussed with Inspector Malley and Agent Latona at a conference held on August 28, 1964 between those gentlemen, Mr. Burt W. Griffin of our staff, Mr. Liebeler and myself.

Would you please conduct the investigation necessary to resolve the questions raised in the attached memorandum. We would also like to have a statement from Lt. Day setting forth specifically and in detail what steps he took in processing the weapon for prints together with a description of any instructions he may have received in that connection and a statement as to from whom he received them. We would also like to have his statement as to when and why he turned the weapon over to the F.B.I. and the exact circumstances under which he did so. We would also like to know when Lt. Day first identified the palm print as being that of Lee Harvey Oswald and who, if anyone, he told about it at the time. We would like to have copies of any written reports Lt. Day may have made about the palm print as well as any photographs which he may have taken of the print while it was on the rifle.

Lt. Day should be questioned concerning his usual practice in photographing prints and in establishing beyond question that a print in fact appeared on a particular object from which it was claimed to have been lifted. If he did not follow his usual practice in the instant case, we would like to know why he did not. We would also like to know what precautions he took to protect the palm print which he claimed still remained on the rifle when he turned the rifle over to your Bureau, and why the protection afforded to the palm print differed from that given to the unidentifiable fingerprints that appeared on the rifle.

In connection with the above we call your attention to pages 166-167 of the report of Special Agent Gemberling dated November 30, 1963 at Dallas, Texas. Perhaps the Special Agent who made the reports there set forth could expand on what Lt. Day told him at that time.

Any other steps that you could take to establish whether or not the palm print in question was actually lifted from the assassination weapon would be greatly appreciated.

In view of our schedule we would appreciate receiving as prompt a reply as is possible. Your continued cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

J. Lee Rankin

MEMORANDUM

August 28, 1964

To: J. Lee Rankin

From: Wesley J. Liebeler

Messrs. Griffin and Slawson and I raise questions covering the palmprint which Lt. Day of the Dallas Police Department testified he lifted from the underside of the barrel of the K-1 rifle on November 22, 1963. That story is set forth on pages 7-10 of the proposed final draft of Chapter IV of the Report, copies of which are attached.

We suggest that additional investigation be conducted to determine with greater certainty that the palmprint was actually lifted from the rifle as Lt. Day has testified. The only evidence we presently have on that print is the testimony of Lt. Day himself. He has stated that although he lifted the palmprint on November 22, 1963, he did not provide a copy of the lift to the FBI until November 26, 1963 (9 H 260-61). He also testified that after the lift he "could still see traces of the print under the barrel and was going to try to use photography to bring off or bring out a better print." Mr. Latona of the FBI testified with respect to the lift of the palmprint, that "evidently the lifting had been so complete that there was nothing left to show any marking on the gun itself as to the existence of such--even an attempt on the part of anyone else to process the rifle" (Id. at 24).

Additional problems are raised by the fact that:

1) Mr. Latona testified that the poor finish of the K-1 rifle made it absorbent and not conducive to getting a good print;

2) None of the other prints on the rifle could be identified because they were of such poor quality;

3) The other prints on the rifle were protected by cellophane while the area where the palmprint had been lifted was not, even though Lt. Day testified that after the lift the "/palm/ print on gun was their best bet, still remained on there," when he was asked why he had not released the lift to the FBI on November 22, 1963.

1 XEROX
SEP 17 1964
RECORDED
ENCLOSURE

We should review the above circumstances at our conference with Agent Latona and Inspector Malley. The configuration of the palm print should be reviewed to determine, if possible, whether or not it was removed from a cylindrical surface. The possibility that the palm print or evidence of the lift was destroyed while the rifle was in transit should be reviewed with them. The exact condition of the rifle at the time it was turned over to the FBI Dallas office should be ascertained. Agent Latona should be asked if he can think of any explanation for the apparent conflict in the above testimony.

We should also:

1) Determine whether or not Lt. Day had assistance when he worked with the prints on the rifle. If he did, we should obtain statements from those who assisted him.

2) Lt. Day should be asked why he preserved the fingerprints on the rifle, which were not sufficiently clear to make positive identification, and yet did not preserve the palm print, which was clear enough for that purpose..

3) Lt. Day should also be asked why he removed only the palm print and should be questioned again concerning his recollection that he saw the palm print still on the rifle after he made the lift.

4) Lt. Day should be asked if he took any photographs of the palm print on the rifle after the lift. He may have done so, since he did photograph the less valuable fingerprints, and the palm print on the rifle, according to his testimony, was still the "best bet" for identification. It is also significant that Lt. Day stated that he was going to attempt to get a better print through use of photography.

of an organization of which Oswald was the only member.[24]

When seeking employment in New Orleans, Oswald listed a "Sgt. Robt. Hidell" as a reference on one job application[37a] and "George Hidell" as a reference on another.[37b] Both names were found to be fictitious.[37c]

The frequent use of "Alek" as a first name for Hidell is a further link to Oswald because "Alek" was Oswald's nickname in Russia.[38] In possession of the Commission are letters from friends of Oswald, addressing him with the familiar "Alek," and letters to Marina Oswald from her husband signed "Alek."[39]

OSWALD'S PALMPRINT ON RIFLE BARREL

Oswald's purchase of the rifle was determined within 24 hours after the assassination and confirmed later by expert witnesses before the Commission.[40] Additional proof of ownership was provided in the form of palmprint identification.

A few minutes after the rifle was discovered on the sixth floor of the Depository[40a] it was examined by Lieutenant J. C. Day of the Identification Bureau of the Dallas Police. He lifted the rifle by the wood stock after determining that the wood was too rough to take fingerprints. Captain J. W. Fritz was then permitted to eject a cartridge by operating the bolt, but only after Day viewed the knob on the bolt through a magnifying glass and found no prints.[40b] The rifle was then dusted with fingerprint powder and traces of prints could be seen on the side of the metal housing near the trigger.[40c] At 11:45 p.m. on November 22, the rifle was released to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and forwarded to Washington where it was examined on the morning of November 23 by Sebastian F. Latona, Supervisor of the Latent Fingerprint Section of the FBI's Identification Division.[41]

In his testimony before the Commission, Latona stated that when he received the rifle, the area where prints were visible was protected by cellophane.[42] He examined these prints, as well as photographs which the Dallas police had made of them, and concluded that "the formations, the ridge formations and characteristics, were insufficient for purposes of either effecting identification or a determination that the print was not identical with the prints of people. Accordingly, my opinion simply was that the latent prints which were there were of no value."[42a]

Latona processed the complete weapon but developed no identifiable prints.[42a] He stated that the poor quality of the metal caused absorption of the moisture from the skin, thereby making it difficult to obtain a clear print.[43] Moreover the rough quality of the wood made it unlikely that the stock could take a good print.[43a]

On November 22, however, before surrendering possession of the rifle to the FBI laboratory, Lieutenant Day of the Dallas Police Department had "lifted" a palmprint from the underside of the gun barrel "near the firing end of the barrel about three inches under the woodstock when I took the woodstock loose."[44] "Lifting" a print involves the use of adhesive material to remove the fingerprint powder which adheres to the original print. In this way the impression is actually removed from the object.[44a] The lifting had been so complete in this case that there was no trace of the print on the rifle itself when it was examined by Latona.[44b]

Day apparently assumed that sufficient traces of the prints had been left on the rifle, because he did not release the lifted print until November 26.[44c] When received in the Bureau laboratory in Washington on November 29, the print had been mounted on a card on which Lieutenant Day had written the words "off underside gun barrel near end of foregrip C2766."[48]

Latona testified that this palmprint was the right palmprint of Lee Harvey Oswald.[49] At the request of the Commission, Arthur Mandella, fingerprint expert with the New York City Police Department, conducted an independent examination and agreed that this was the right palmprint of Oswald.[52] Latona's findings were also confirmed by Ronald G. Wittmus, another FBI fingerprint expert.[53] Moreover, experts testifying before the Commission agreed that palmprints are as unique as fingerprints for purposes of establishing identification.[53a]

Oswald's palmprint on the underside of the barrel demonstrates that he handled the rifle when it was disassembled. A palmprint could not be placed on this portion of the rifle, when assembled, because the wooden foregrip covers the barrel at this point.[45] The print is additional proof that the rifle belonged to Oswald.

FIBERS ON RIFLE

In a crevice between the butt plate of the rifle and the wooden stock were several cotton fibers of dark blue, grayish black, and orange-yellow shades.[54] On November 23, 1963, these fibers were examined by Paul M. Stombaugh, a special agent assigned to the Hair and Fiber Unit of the FBI laboratory.[56] He compared them with the fibers found in the shirt which Oswald was wearing when arrested in the Texas Theatre.[55] Stombaugh testified that the colors and twist of the fibers found on the rifle matched those in Oswald's shirt. The three basic colors in the shirt were present in the fibers on the rifle, and there was a match of shades within each color.[57]

Mr. Stombaugh explained in his testimony that in fiber analysis, as distinct from fingerprint or ballistics analysis, it is not possible to state with scientific certainty that a particular small group of fibers come from a certain piece of clothing to the exclusion of all others because there are not enough microscopic characteristics present in these fibers.[58] Judgments as to probability will depend on the number and types of matches.[58a] He concluded that the fibers "could easily have come from the shirt."[59] Moreover, he stated, "In my mind I feel that these fibers came from this shirt, but I know of no scientific method to prove this, so therefore I am unable to say this."[60]

On the basis of Stombaugh's testimony the Commission has concluded that the fibers on the rifle most probably came from the shirt worn by Oswald when he was arrested. The Commission has also found that

NOTE: Commission, in 9/1/64 letter, refers to the palm print lifted from the underside of the assassination rifle barrel concealed by the foregrip by Lieutenant J. C. Day, of the Dallas Police Department, on 11/22/63. The tone of the Commission's letter appears to question Day's veracity and suggests the palm print, which was positively identified as belonging to Oswald, came from another source than the assassination rifle. Certain circumstances indicate Day did not follow usual procedure in handling this lift and some of the pertinent questions raised in the Commission's letter are:

1. Why did Day wait until 11/26/63 to give the FBI this lift when the rifle and other evidence relating thereto was furnished on 11/22/64?

2. Why wasn't the area where the lift was taken from protected with cellophane as other areas were protected?

3. Why didn't he photograph the impression before making the lift as is customary; and, if he did take a photograph, why wasn't the photograph furnished?

4. Our FBI Identification Expert has testified the absorbent quality of the metal in the rifle would not be conducive to getting a good lift.

5. How was it possible to identify the palm print when other prints on the rifle could not be identified?

Inasmuch as the positive identification of Oswald's palm print on an unexposed portion of the assassination rifle indicates Oswald handled the weapon in a disassembled state, it is very pertinent that the above questions be answered. When the results are obtained, the Commission will be appropriately notified.

Hello, dear Marinochka,

I thought a long time about your last letters. There is much in them which I do not understand. Of course, I did not expect that you would keep on shedding floods of tears for a whole year or two. But, on the other hand, you are so preoccupied right now with those dollars and furniture. Generally, I have nothing against furniture, especially if it is good. But it seemed to me somehow that you would keep on being yourself, first of all, and furniture and all other things would come after.

Of course, it is difficult and simply impossible for me to form a conception of all about which you write. From my point of view, the only consolation for you is your girls. Here everything is clear and simple. You are their mother and it is your duty to raise them and bring them up properly.

Hello Lee, Marina and June,

I passed my examinations for the spring term, but not completely - a few arrears remain, which I shall liquidate in the near future. So, I am practically a third-year student. My last exam was on July 3, and on July 4, I got a job for summer vacation. There is nothing generally more interesting for me than my specialty and this job is better than any I ever had. I had to go on field trips. I am on a field trip right now. But this is the last one - my school will start on October 1. Generally speaking, I developed a taste for field trips - one travels, in a manner of speaking. It is too bad that our organization does not send people to Rio de Janeiro or Kilimanjaro.

Lee, I think that you will like the reproduction of Kramskoy's painting "An Unknown." Kramskoy saw her only once, but she produced such an impression upon him that on returning home he started to work on this picture.

In addition to a post card series "Vicinity of Moscow," I am sending one of your snapshots and a post card with our first cosmonauts.

As soon as I return to Minsk, I will send you several views of Minsk which I took in summer.

Write how you are getting along, how June is growing; does she speak Russian well?

Good bye 3

Dear Marinochka!

There are no letters from you for so long! I, myself, wanted to write you but did not know where. Certainly, I was worried about you and your little ones. Your letter has somewhat dispersed this worry, but at the same time confused me. We have read here about President Kennedy before, but after his tragic death we learned more about him. The news about his death startled many and aroused surprise and doubt. How come, Marinochka, in America, in this interesting country, and suddenly a murder of the President on the street? I was astonished when I read in the newspaper and heard on the radio the name of Alik. Although he is not alive, how can you doubt his character even for a minute? Well, I remember how you talked about him. Even you, yourself, are asking now how can one understand what he has done? If I were in your place and loved my husband the same way, I, too, would defend my husband and father of my children. You, yourself, in my opinion, seriously doubt that he is guilty. I, for example, cannot believe that he has done it. It simply can't be! He was not the kind of man, it seems, to me, to leave you alone with the children without means in a strange country without hope of returning. He could not forsee, that you would get those thousands of dollars about which you are writing. In general, all of this is an absurdity of some kind. I am confused in guessing.

He knew that you had nobody to depend on in his America except him alone. Do you know, in my opinion, it is important for you to look into the matters regarding Alik and other questions? It will be very difficult for you to live this way. All of this is incomprehensible to me. It surprised me greatly that so many Americans sent you money. Well, this is only because they, too, do not believe that he killed the President. It is not for the murder that they are paying you money. Here we read many various articles from America and other countries. They even now broadcast over the Voice of America and sometimes over BBC. Everybody everywhere says that it was not Oswald who did it. It is probably difficult for you to read there especially with small children. I cannot imagine, my dear, how I can help you. If this letter reaches you, be sure and write me. I am waiting. The newspapers here say that you were taken away somewhere and nobody is allowed to see you. I do not have much credence in this. Pour out your soul to me and you will feel better. Kissing you,

Hello, dear friends, Marina, Alik, little June and the littlest member of your family, still unknown to us!

First of all, accept our very belated but warmest and sincere congratulations on the birth of your second big bundle of joy. It does not matter, whether it is a girl or a boy; the birth of a new human being is still a wonderful thing. Let him grow beautiful, happy, and healthy for your joy. Personally to Marinochka we wish health, energy, an earliest recovery and as many quiet nights as possible.

Now, I wish to ask your pardon for such a long and inexcusable silence; to blame for this is simply my unusually stubborn habit - to postpone for tomorrow anything which is not too urgent. That is why I often turn out to be such a little pig.

Marinchik, do not be angry with me. Kolka (Nikolay)* and I often remember you; your last letter made us very happy and, in general, any news from you is precious to us.

We are still living in Uruche, but will soon move to town; they gave us a room in the vicinity of the Academy. I broke with Inna for a very simple reason: I got tired of her playing at idleness, and, moreover, our interests now are different. Somehow, our friendship ended on a sour note, although outwardly it does not seem that anything happened.

Now, I will complain about my Yulka, because she eats so poorly; she would not eat any thick or coarser food and lives exclusively on milk and kefir (); therefore, she lags behind in weight and is very small in size. However, I have to note that she is as quick and lively as a lizard; she crawls fast, moves a lot; I do not know where her energy comes from.

Marina, write about your children. It is very interesting to know more about them. Write about yourselves.

In my first letter I forgot to ask you, Marina, whether Lyalya writes to you. We met her at Valerik (Valerian)* Vinokurov's last New Year's party; she said that she wanted to have your address and to write to you. I have not seen her since then.

Well, that is all for the time being.

Ask what interests you about us.

We are impatiently waiting for at least a couple of lines in answer to this letter. Good bye,

We embrace you warmly,

Dear Marina,

My mother has written me, that you may live in her house. This house is vacant now while she is in school. (Until February.

My brother called me on Tuesday to say, that you may live in Yellow Springs, Ohio, where he is. People are good there. He said that someone there speaks Russian. They teach Russian language in Antioch College. I was in school in Antioch (Antiok). I want to go to Philadelphia to see what kind of work and if an apartment is possible to find there. It is true, I am contemplating moving there in the summer, but not now, but it would be useful now to find a position as a teacher for the school-year of 1964-5.

If you want to fly East, I can go with you, in order to help you with the language. For example, if you want to live for the time being with Mr. Munson in Camden, New Jersey.

This paper is an invitation for you from "Stern" magazine in Germany (not standard as I thought at first) to speak with him about your life and memoirs of Lee. It would be difficult for you to talk about it. But $10,000 would help. This is completely your business. If you want to sign this paper, I advise you to have an attorney who would watch over it. If you want to sign it, Stern magazine will send two men from Germany. It is necessary to sign two copies of the paper, and have another signature by an officer of the Irving Police, your attorney, or somebody else.

Another matter:

"Standard" from Germany wants (Skala?) to pay you $10,000 for the history of you and Lee. "Life," too, wishes to buy something and also the "Daily Express," London. I do not even want to write you about this but ... I do not know. Mr. Neunson said, that he would pay bus fare for you and the children. I will tell you that flying is better. It is not convenient to travel by bus with children. I can buy you a plane ticket. I am afraid that you never want to see me again. It is true, we have horrible memories. It is probably better that we do not live together again.

October 4. In it appeared listing for the Hotel Cuba to which Oswald made reference in talking to fellow passengers on the bus en route Mexico City. Commission has asked if Oswald could have picked up the pamphlet in Laredo en route Mexico City which might explain his knowledge of the Hotel Cuba. San Antonio reports this entirely possible. Legat, Mexico City, reports that according to distribution manager of the publication, this was not possible. It is likely that the distribution manager in Mexico City was confused for if pamphlet does not come off presses until noon on Thursday preceding the week beginning on Saturday it would not be possible to distribute the pamphlet throughout all of Mexico so that it would be of value to tourists in the following week. This seeks clarification of remarks of distribution manager.

NOTE: By letter dated 9-1-64, the Commission referred to palm prints lifted from the under side of the assassination rifle barrel which was concealed by the fore grip by Lt. J. C. Day of the Dallas Police Department on 11-22-63. Certain circumstances indicated Day did not follow usual procedure in the lifting of this print and some questions were raised by the Commission in this matter. The palm print which was obtained was compared with the assassination rifle in the FBI Laboratory and the examiners were able to positively identify this lift as having come from the assassination rifle. This was furnished the Commission by LHM dated 9/14/64. Commission had desired Lt. Day be questioned further regarding how he obtained palm prints and other related information and LHM reveals this information which is being furnished the Commission.

By letter dated September 1, 1964, the President's Commission requested certain investigation into the circumstances under which Lieutenant J. C. Day of the Dallas Police Department processed the assassination rifle for latent fingerprints and palm prints and specifically, concerning his having lifted a palm print from the assassination rifle which was identified as that of LEE HARVEY OSWALD.

By letter dated September 4, 1964, from Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters, Washington, D. C., the President's Commission was advised that the palm print which Lt. J. C. Day of the Dallas Police Department testified he lifted from the barrel of the assassination rifle, had been compared with the assassination rifle in the FBI Laboratory. The Laboratory examiners were able to positively identify this lift as having come from the assassination rifle in the area of the wooden foregrip. This conclusion is based on a comparison of irregularities in the surface of the metal of the barrel with the impressions of these irregularities as shown in the lift.

There is attached the results of an interview with Lt. John Carl Day, reflecting the requested investigation.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

1 Date 9/9/64

Lieutenant JOHN CARL DAY, Crime Laboratory, Dallas Police Department, stated the records of the Dallas Police Department reflected the following information relative to when he first arrived at the Texas School Book Depository on November 22, 1963, and his actions during that day regarding the processing of various pieces of evidence. Lt. DAY stated he had made a written report on January 8, 1964, to Mr. G. L. LUMPKIN, Deputy of Police, Service Division of the Dallas Police Department. This report is set forth as requested of Lt. DAY, and a copy of such report was furnished by Lt. DAY for transmittal to the President's Commission investigating the assassination of President KENNEDY. Lt. DAY stated he preferred to let the written report speak for itself and would rather elaborate orally on the lifting of the palm print from the underside of the rifle, which palm print was found when he examined the rifle on November 22, 1963, rather than to make a written signed statement.

ENCLOSURE

"Lieutenant Day and Detective Studebaker on arrival were directed to the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository building. Three spent rifle shells had been found in the southeast corner of the building. These were under the eastern most window on the south side of the building further described as the south window nearest Houston Street.

"Photographs were taken of the three hulls as found. They were checked for prints, marked for identification and released to Detective R. M. Sims 629 of the Homicide Bureau. The hulls were 6.5 caliber and no legible prints were found.

"About 1:25 P.M. Captain J. W. Fritz 9 directed Lieutenant Day to the northwest portion of the sixth floor where a rifle had been found between some cartons near the stairs. Photographs were taken of the rifle as found, then it was picked up by Lieutenant Day in such a way as to destroy no fingerprints that might be present. With Lieutenant Day holding the gun, Captain Fritz opened the bolt and a live shell fell from the barrel. This shell was in position to fire should the trigger be pulled. The live shell was checked for prints, marked for identification and released to Captain Fritz. No fingerprints were found.

"The rifle, a 6.5 caliber, made in Italy in 1940, Serial C 2766, was taken by Lieutenant Day to the Identification Bureau about 2:00 P.M. and locked in an evidence box until further checking "could be done. Agent Odum, Dallas office of the F.B.I. drove Lieutenant Day to the City Hall. The rifle had no manufacturer's name and had a telescope sight mounted on it which was marked as follows:

4 x 18 coated Ordinance Optics Inc., Hollywood, California. There was a small cloverleaf design with 'OSC' stamped inside the cloverleaf.

"Lieutenant Day returned to 411 Elm Street about 2:45 P.M. and continued the investigation with other Crime Scene Search officers.

"About fifty photographs were made of the area involved in the shooting and a scale drawing was made of the sixth floor by Detectives J. B. Hicks and R. L. Studebaker.

"The cartons in the area where the rifle was found, and also the cartons near the window where the spent hulls were found were dusted for prints. A palm print was found on the top northwest corner of a carton that appeared to have been used by the assassin to sit on while aiming the rifle. This palm print was collected and preserved, along with the carton it came off of, and three cartons stacked by the window apparently to rest the rifle on.

"Lieutenant Day returned to the Identification Bureau about 7:00 P.M. and started checking the rifle for prints. Two fingerprints were found on the side "of the rifle near the trigger and magazine housing and a palm print was found on the underside of the gun barrel near the end of the stock. It appeared probable these prints were from the right palm and fingers of Lee Harvey Oswald, but the rifle was released to the F.B.I. to be sent to Washington, D.C. before the examination was completed and positive identification of the prints could be made. The prints were not very good for comparison purposes.

"Paraffin casts were made of Oswald's hands and the right side of his face about 9:00 P.M. November 22, 1963, in the Homicide Bureau office by Sergeant W. E. Barnes 598 and Detective J. B. Hicks. These casts were sent to DCCCIL November 23, 1963 for nitrate tests.

"All other evidence collected by the Crime Scene Search was released at 11:45 P.M. November 22, 1963 to Agent Vince Drain to be delivered to the F.B.I. headquarters at Washington, D.C.

"Lieutenant of Police

Lt. DAY further related that when he carried the rifle from the Texas School Book Depository to the Dallas Police Department, it was locked up in the Dallas Police Crime Laboratory. Lt. DAY related that at the time this rifle was found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository, he held the rifle up being careful not to obliterate the fingerprints, and Captain WILL FRITZ, Homicide Division of the Dallas Police Department, racked the bolt back ejecting a live round of ammunition, at which time he identified the live round of ammunition.

Lt. DAY stated he dusted the left side of the rifle at about where the clip housing is located and in front of the trigger housing and observed three impressions, two of which indicated ridge patterns. Lt. DAY stated he told Captain FRITZ he wanted to remove the gun to the Dallas Police Crime Laboratory where more suitable conditions were present in which to further examine this gun.

The rifle was taken to the Dallas Police Crime Laboratory of the Dallas Police Department where on the evening of November 22, 1963, Lt. DAY stated he made three photographs of the impressions of the fingerprints which had been raised near the clip housing and in front of the trigger housing. Lt. DAY advised he took the wooden part of the rifle off by loosening three or four screws and uncovered what he considered to be an old dry print with a loop formation underneath the barrel. He stated this appeared to him to be the right palm print of some individual. This print was found on the underside of the barrel which was completely covered by the wooden stock of the gun and not visible until he had removed the wooden portion of the gun. Lt. DAY estimated this print was within three inches of the front end of the wooden stock. Lt. DAY advised he dusted this print with black powder and made one lift.

Lt. DAY stated at this point he received instructions from Chief of Police JESSE E. CURRY not to do anything else concerning the examination of evidence as it was to be immediately turned over to SA VINCENT E. DRAIN of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for transmittal to the FBI Laboratory. Lt. DAY stated he normally would have photographed this print, but since his instructions from the Chief of Police were not to do anything further, he literally took him at his word. Lt. DAY stated the reason he had preserved the other prints found on the gun by photography was the fact he had already photographed these prints prior to getting the instructions from the Chief of Police to cease further examination of the evidence.

Lt. DAY stated he had no assistance when working with the prints on the rifle, and he and he alone did the examination and the lifting of the palm print from the underside of the barrel of the rifle which had been found on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository on November 22, 1963.

Lt. DAY related that after he made the lift of the palm print on the underside of the barrel, he could still see this palm print on the underside of the barrel of the gun and would have photographed same had he not been ordered to cease his examination. Lt. DAY stated he had no reason for not photographing this palm print first before attempting to lift it other than in the interest of time.

Lt. DAY stated he did not take any photographs of the palm print which he lifted on the underside of the rifle barrel after the lift was made, and that the prints of the less valuable ones he had found near the trigger housing and clip housing were photographed prior to the time he received instructions to conduct no further examination of this evidence.

Lt. DAY advised it was his customary practice to photograph fingerprints in most instances prior to lifting them, but in some cases where it was felt by him that he could make a lift, he would go ahead and make the lift and then photograph the print in question.

Lt. DAY stated he saw no reason for wrapping the palm print on the underside of the barrel with any protective covering since it was protected by the wood stock when fully assembled and that it was not necessary to use cellophane or other protective coating as it would have been on the exposed prints.

Lt. DAY stated he tentatively identified the palm print that was lifted off the underside of the rifle, which was believed to have been used in the assassination of President KENNEDY, as matching that of the known palm print of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. He stated this was done on the night of November 22, 1963, in the Crime Laboratory of the Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas. Lt. DAY related on that night he told only two people that he had made the tentative identification of the palm print obtained off the underside of the rifle barrel with that of the known palm print of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Lt. DAY stated these two individuals were Chief of Police JESSE E. CURRY of the Dallas Police Department and Homicide Captain WILL FRITZ of the Dallas Police Department. Lt. DAY advised he could not remember the exact time he made the identification nor the exact time he advised Chief of Police CURRY and Captain WILL FRITZ of the tentative identification, but he did know it was on the night of November 22, 1963, prior to the time he released the rifle to SA VINCENT E. DRAIN of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for transmittal to the FBI Laboratory, Washington, D.C.

Lt. DAY stated he received instructions from Chief of Police JESSE E. CURRY, Dallas Police Department, Dallas, Texas, to turn over all of the evidence collected that he was examining, which related to LEE HARVEY OSWALD, to the FBI shortly before midnight on November 22, 1963. The exact time he received these instructions he cannot recall, but the evidence which included the rifle believed to have been used by OSWALD was turned over to SA VINCENT E. DRAIN, Federal Bureau of Investigation, at 11:45 p.m., November 22, 1963, for transmittal to the FBI Laboratory. Lt. DAY stated that he could positively state that the palm print, which was lifted by him from the rifle, came from the underside of the barrel which, when the gun is fully assembled, is covered by the wooden stock. This palm print, which was lifted by him from this location, was not turned over to SA VINCENT E. DRAIN for examination by the FBI Laboratory until November 26, 1963, inasmuch as he wanted to make further comparisons of this palm print with the known palm print of LEE HARVEY OSWALD. Lt. DAY stated the gun was carefully reassembled, and when the wooden stock was reassembled to the barrel of the gun, this afforded the print that was still visible on the underside of the barrel sufficient protection that it would not be disturbed in his estimation. Lt. DAY related he would have offered this print the same protection by photographing it as he had other less identifiable prints found on the gun near the trigger housing and clip housing had he had enough time prior to receiving instructions to cease examination and turn the rifle over to the FBI. Lt. DAY stated he had no other reason for not affording all of the prints found the same protection.

Lt. DAY related that when the rifle was turned over to SA VINCENT E. DRAIN of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, it was fully assembled and in the same condition as when he had found it on the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository on November 22, 1963.

NOTE:

This involves allegation of Silvia Odio who insists that a Leon Oswald and two members of anti-Castroites Jure organization visited at her apartment in Dallas on 9-26 or 9-27-63. It is not possible for Oswald to have visited her on those dates as we know he was then en route Mexico City by bus. While Odio has suffered nervous breakdown and is undoubtedly wrong re presence of Oswald, it does appear likely that some individuals visited at her apartment in late September as a younger sister confirms this. Dallas has determined that Loran Hall and Seymour, known anti-Castroites, were in Dallas in October, 1963. It begins to look like the Leon Oswald may be Loran Hall. Commission has requested most expeditious handling of inquiry into Odio's claims. We do not have photographs of Hall and Seymour in Bufiles or in Identification, however, photographs are available as indicated herein. Teletype necessary to expedite handling.

New Test May Tell If Oswald Shot Gun

By HUGH AYNESWORTH

The guilt of Lee Harvey Oswald may be proved by a relatively unheard of new activation analysis technique said to be many times more reliable than paraffin tests now universally used in criminology.

A California scientist has indicated that radioactivity tests had been made, on casts of Oswald's cheek and that the results had been sent to the Warren Commission investigating President Kennedy's assassination.

Dr. Vincent P. Guinn, 46, head of the activation analysis AA program for General Dynamics Corp., San Diego, Calif., made the disclosure at a conference at Glasgow University in Scotland.

"I cannot say what we found out about Oswald because it is secret until the publication of the Warren Commission report," Dr. Guinn told United Press International, "but I can tell you about activation analysis and crime."

In homicide cases where a gun is used, wax impressions of the hand and cheek are often taken. The wax lifts tiny fragments of gunpowder, and chemical tests are used on these traces of powder to show if the person fired the gun or not.

Guinn said experiments have proven that the paraffin test is "extremely unreliable." He said it was obvious that a better method was needed and said his company began research on activation analysis about three years ago.

He said when it was concluded that Oswald's guilt could not be proved or disproved from paraffin tests made by the Dallas police, he asked the FBI to try the activation analysis technique.

Guinn described the experiment in this manner:

A rifle similar to the one that killed the president was used. One person fired the rifle on eight different occasions and each time was given the paraffin test.

"Only one out of the eight experiments gave a positive indication," Guinn said.

Then they repeated the experiment using radioactivity.

"It was positive in all eight cases, and showed a primer on both hands and cheeks," he said.

"Then we took the casts of Oswald's cheek and put them in a nuclear reactor. Remember that they already had been through the chemical tests which would wash particles away.

"I can say for the moment that we found no barium but we found antimony in every case," Guinn added.

Dr. Morton Mason, of the staff of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School and the City-County Crime Laboratory, said local criminologists were familiar with the AA techniques but called the method "too expensive" for everyday use.

"It is technically capable of getting into a degree of trace analysis that cannot be touched any other way," Dr. Mason said. "But it will be 100 years before they use it here. It is very, very expensive. It takes specialized equipment and highly trained operators."

Dr. Larry Marshall of the Graduate Research Center of the Southwest said the AA method could determine what minerals were present by checking the rate of decay of the short-life isotopes created when the material is subjected to radioactivity.

"Each different material has a characteristic decay rate," Dr. Marshall said.

He said he was unaware that AA was being used in criminology, but added, "I'm certainly not surprised."

QUESTIONS ON THE ASSASSIN

The official version of the assassination of President Kennedy has been so riddled with contradictions that it has been abandoned and rewritten no less than three times. Blatant fabrications have received very widespread coverage by the mass media, but denials of these same lies have gone unpublished. Photographs, evidence and affidavits have been doctored out of recognition. Some of the most important aspects of the case against Lee Harvey Oswald have been completely blacked out. Meanwhile the F.B.I., the police and the Secret Service have tried to silence key witnesses or instruct them what evidence to give. Others involved have disappeared or died in extraordinary circumstances.

It is facts such as these that demand attention, and which the Warren Commission should have regarded as vital. Although I am writing before the publication of the Warren Commission's report, leaks to the press have made much of its contents predictable. Because of the high office of its members and the fact of its establishment by President Johnson, the Commission has been widely regarded as a body of holy men appointed to pronounce the Truth. An impartial examination of the composition and conduct of the Commission suggests quite otherwise.

The Warren Commission has been utterly unrepresentative of the American people. It consisted of two Democrats, Senator Russell of Georgia and Congressman Boggs of Louisiana, both of whose racist views have brought shame on the United States; two Republicans, Senator Cooper of Kentucky and Congressman Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, the latter of whom is leader of his local Goldwater movement, a former member of the F.B.I. and is known in Washington as the spokesman for that institution; Allan Dulles, former director of the C.I.A.; and Mr. McCloy, who has been referred to as the spokesman for the business community. Leadership of the filibuster in the Senate against the Civil Rights Bill prevented Senator Russell attending a single hearing during this period. The Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, Earl Warren, who rightly commands respect, was finally persuaded, much against his will, to preside over the Commission, and it was his involvement above all else that helped lend the Commission an aura of legality and authority. Yet many of its members were also members of those very groups which have done so much to distort and suppress the facts about the assassination. Because of their [illegible]

All the evidence given to the Commission has been classified "Top Secret", including even a request that hearings be held in public. Despite this the Commission itself leaked much of the evidence to the press, though only if the evidence tended to prove Oswald was the lone assassin. Thus Chief Justice Warren held a press conference after Oswald's wife, Marina, had testified, he said, that she believed her husband was the assassin. Before Oswald's brother, Robert, testified, he gained the Commission's agreement never to comment on what he said. After he had testified for two days, Allen Dulles remained in the hearing room and several members of the press entered. The next day the newspapers were full of stories that "a member of the Commission" had told the press that Robert Oswald had just testified that he believed that his brother was an agent of the Soviet Union. Robert Oswald was outraged by this, and said that he could not remain silent while lies were told about his testimony. He had never said this and he had never believed it. All that he had told the Commission was that he believed his brother was innocent and was in no way involved in the assassination.

The methods adopted by the Commission have indeed been deplorable, but it is important to challenge the entire role of the Warren Commission. It stated that it would not conduct its own investigation, but rely instead on the existing governmental agencies - the F.B.I., the Secret Service and the Dallas police. Confidence in the Warren Commission thus presupposes confidence in these three institutions. Why have so many liberals abandoned their own responsibility to a Commission whose circumstances they refuse to examine?

It is known that the strictest and most elaborate security precautions ever taken for a President of the United States were ordered for November 22 in Dallas. The city had a reputation for violence and was the home of some of the most extreme right-wing fanatics in America. Mr. & Mrs. Lyndon Johnson had been assailed there in 1960 when he was a candidate for the Vice-Presidency. Adlai Stevenson had been physically attacked when he spoke in the city only a month before Kennedy's visit. On the morning of November 22, the Dallas Morning News carried a full-page advertisement associating the President with communism. The city was covered with posters showing the President's picture and headed "Wanted for Treason". The Dallas [illegible]

the first theory was proved false, the Associated Press put out the following story on November 27: "Dallas authorities announced today that there never was a map. Any reference to the map was a mistake."

The second theory correctly placed the President's car on Elm Street, 50 to 75 yards past the book depository, but had to contend with the difficulty that the President was shot from the front, in the throat. How did Oswald manage to shoot the President in the front from behind? The F.B.I. held a series of background briefing sessions for Life magazine, which in its issue of December 6 explained that the President had turned completely round just at the time he was shot. This, too, was soon shown to be entirely false. It was denied by several witnesses and films, and the previous issue of Life itself had shown the President looking forward as he was hit. Theory number two was abandoned.

In order to retain the basis of all official thinking, that Oswald was the lone assassin, it now became necessary to construct a third theory with the medical evidence altered to fit it. For the first month no Secret Service agent had ever spoken to the three doctors who had tried to save Kennedy's life in the Parkland Memorial Hospital. Now two agents spent three hours with the doctors and persuaded them that they were all misinformed: the entrance wound in the President's throat had been an exit wound, and the bullet had not ranged down towards the lungs. Asked by the press how they could have been so mistaken, Dr. McClelland advanced two reasons: they had not seen the autopsy report - and they had not known that Oswald was behind the President! The autopsy report, they had been told by the Secret Service, showed that Kennedy had been shot from behind. The agents, however, had refused to show the report to the doctors, who were entirely dependent upon the word of the Secret Service for this suggestion. The doctors made it clear that they were not permitted to discuss the case. The third theory, with the medical evidence rewritten remains the basis of the case against Oswald. Why has the medical evidence concerning the President's death been altered out of recognition?

Although Oswald is alleged to have shot the President from behind, there are many witnesses who are confident that the shots came from the front. Among them are two reporters from the Fort Worth Star Telegram, four from the Dallas Morning News, and two people who were standing in front of the book depository building [illegible]

In this connection it is noteworthy also that it is impossible to obtain the original photographs of the various alleged murder weapons. [illegible] photograph of Oswald's arrest with the only one ever seen - the entire background was blacked out for reasons which have never been explained. It is difficult to recall an occasion for such falsification of photographs as has happened in the Oswald case.

The affidavit by Police Officer Weitzman, who entered the book depository building, stated that he found the alleged murder rifle on the sixth floor. (It was at first announced that the rifle had been found on the fifth floor, but this was soon altered.) It was a German 7.65 m.m. mauser. Into the following day, the F.B.I. issued its first proclamation. Oswald had purchased in March 1963 an Italian 6.5 m.m. carbine. D.A. Wade immediately altered the nationality and size of his weapon to conform to the F.B.I. statement.

Several photographs have been published of the alleged murder weapon. On February 21, Life magazine carried on its cover a picture of "Lee Oswald with the weapons he used to kill President Kennedy and Officer Tippett". On page 80, Life announced that the photograph was taken during March or April of 1963. According to the F.B.I., Oswald purchased his pistol in September 1963. The New York Times carried a picture of the alleged murder weapon being taken by police into the Dallas police station. The rifle is quite different. Experts have stated that it would be impossible to pull the trigger on the rifle in Life's picture. The New York Times also carried the same photograph as Life, but left out the telescopic sights. On March 2, Newsweek used the same photograph but pictured an entirely new rifle. Then on April 13 the Latin American edition of Life carried the same picture on its cover as the U.S. edition had on February 21, but in the same issue on page 16 it had the same picture with the rifle altered. Now is it that millions of people have been misled by complete forgeries in the press?

Another falsehood concerning the shooting was a story circulated by the Associated Press on November 23 from Los Angeles. This reported Oswald's former superior officer in the Marine Corps as saying that Oswald was a crack shot and a hot-head. The story was published everywhere. Three hours later A.P. sent out a correction deleting the entire story from Los Angeles. The officer had changed his mind.

Oswald for the murder of Patrolman Tippett, yet District Attorney Wade asserted: "We have more evidence to prove Oswald killed Tippett - we have to show he killed the President." The case against Oswald the murder of Tippett, he continued, is an absolutely strong case. Why was the only description of Tippett's killer deliberately withheld by the police from the affidavit of the sole eye-witness?

Oswald's description was broadcast by the Dallas police only 12 minutes after the President was shot. This raises one of the most extraordinary questions ever posed in a murder case: Why was Oswald's description in connection with the murder of Patrolman Tippett broadcast over Dallas police radio at 12:45 p.m. on November 22, when Tippett was not shot until 1:06 p.m.?

According to Mr. Belin, writing in the New York Journal-American, there had been another person who had heard the shots that were fired at Tippett. Harold Reynolds had heard shooting in the street from a nearby room and had rushed to the window to see the murderer run down the street. Reynolds himself was later shot through the head by a rifleman. He was arrested for this crime but produced an alibi. His girl-friend, Betty Mooney McDonald, told the police she had been with him at the time Reynolds was shot. The Dallas police immediately dropped the charges against him, even before Reynolds had time to recover consciousness and attempt to identify his assailant. The girl at once disappeared and two days later the Dallas police arrested Betty Mooney McDonald on a minor charge and it was announced that she had hanged herself in the police cell. She had been a striptease artist in Jack Ruby's nightclub, according to Mr. Considine.

Another witness to receive extraordinary treatment in the Oswald case was his wife, Marina. During the trial while her husband was still alive and shortly after, Marina was told by Chief of Police Jesse Curry that it was Mrs. Oswald's, she replied that she believed Oswald had a rifle but that it didn't look like that. She and her mother-in-law were in danger following the assassination because of the threat of public revenge on them. At this time they were unable to obtain a single police officer to protect them. Immediately Oswald was killed, the Secret Service illegally held both the women against their will for three days they were separated and Marina has never again been accessible to the public. Held in custody for nine weeks and questioned almost daily by the F.B.I. and Secret Service, [illegible] indicate the importance of such an investigation. I am indebted to Mr. Mark Lane, the New York criminal lawyer who was appointed Counsel for Oswald by his mother, for much of the information in this article. Mr. Lane's enquiries, which are continuing, deserve widespread support. A Citizens' Committee of Inquiry has been established in New York for such a purpose, and comparable committees are being set up in Europe.

In Britain I invited people eminent in the intellectual life of the country to join a "The Killed Kennedy Committee", which at the moment of writing consists of the following people: Mr. John Arden, playwright; Mrs. Carolyn Hodgwood Bonn, from Cincinnati, wife of Anthony Hodgwood Bonn, M.P.; Lord Boyd-Orr, former director-general of the U.N. Food and Agricultural Organisation and a Nobel Peace Prize Winner; Mr. John Calder, publisher; Professor Wilson Knight, Professor of English Literature at Leicester; Mr. Michael Foot, Member of Parliament; Mr. Kingsley Martin, former editor of the New Statesman; Sir Compton Mackenzie, writer; Mr. J.B. Priestley, playwright and author; Sir Herbert Read, art critic; Mr. Tom Richardson, film director; Dr. Mervyn Stockwood, Bishop of Southwark; Professor Hugh Trevor-Roper, Regius Professor of Modern History at Oxford University; Mr. Kenneth Tynan, Literary Manager of the National Theatre; and myself.

We view the problem with the utmost seriousness. U.S. sources have long ago refuted the "lone gunman" theory in the official charges against Oswald, but this has never been reflected by the American press. The T.V. television programme or mass circulation newspaper has challenged the basic fact basis of all the allegations - that Oswald was the assassin, or that he acted alone. It is a task which is left to the American people.

Bertrand Russell.

She advised that this pamphlet is published in Mexico City and is mailed directly from there to travel agencies, travel clubs, hotels, and motels.

On September 7, 1964, Miss VELIA URIBE, American Automobile Association, Laredo, advised she does not have a current copy of the publication, "This Week - Esta Semana."

She does not pay too much attention to dates of this publication; however, she usually receives her copies from Mexico City on Mondays. In order to keep them current on a weekly basis, they are printed about four days earlier than for the dates for which they are printed.

She is of the opinion that it is entirely possible that a person going into Mexico on September 26, 1963, could have obtained in Laredo, Texas, or Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, a copy of the pamphlet, "This Week - Esta Semana," issued for the week of September 28 - October 4, 1963, as that publication would have already been received in Laredo and in Nuevo Laredo.

She added that her supply of this publication is distributed very rapidly when received.

On September 3, 1964, FRANCISCO SALIDO, Manager, El Rio Motel, Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, advised that this motel has been in operation for three years, and during this time he has received the pamphlet, "This Week - Esta Semana," on a weekly basis for distribution to tourists going to Mexico.

On September 3, 1964, HERADIO HINOJOSA, Manager, Turismo de Estado (State Tourist Office), Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, advised that his office was established for the benefit of tourists going into the interior of Mexico. He hands out pamphlets and other information a tourist may desire and has been receiving the pamphlet, "This Week - Esta Semana," from Mexico City for at least five years.

On September 7, 1964, JOHN W. LIGON, Manager, Plaza Hotel, Laredo, Texas, advised that he receives the pamphlet, "This Week - Esta Semana," from Mexico City on a weekly basis.

He advised that this is not to say that for the past year he has received a pamphlet every week, as there have been times when he did not receive it for a particular week. He explained that this was probably the fault of the Circulation Department in Mexico City.

The latest copy he has is for the week of August 22-August 28, 1964. This is his personal copy, and he has no other supply of this pamphlet. Generally, he receives the pamphlet about four days before the printed dates for any particular week. For example, he received the copy for the week of August 22-August 28, 1964, mentioned above, on about August 18, 1964.

He is of the opinion that it is entirely possible that a person going into Mexico on September 26, 1963, could have obtained at Laredo, Texas, or Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, a copy of the pamphlet, "This Week-Esta Semana," issued for the week of September 28-October 4, 1963, as that publication would have already been received in Laredo and Nuevo Laredo.

He added that his supply of this pamphlet is distributed very rapidly when it is received.

"This Week - Esta Semana" is a weekly publication which bears a date period from a Saturday to the following Friday. The magazine is presently in its thirtieth year of publication and is published at Calle Ramon Alcazar No. 6, Mexico 1, D. F.

Lee Oswald

You were advised by memorandum of 9-14-64 Mr. Norman Redlich of the President's Commission requested Special Agent Gallagher to appear at the Commission on 9-15-64 for the purpose of conference and to take a deposition concerning the results of neutron activation analyses conducted on the paraffin casts from Lee Harvey Oswald.

SA Gallagher met with Mr. Norman Redlich and after a conference with Redlich a deposition was taken. As soon as the recorded material of the deposition has been typed, it will be furnished the Bureau for review.

In essence, SA Gallagher deposed that deposits characteristic of primer residues were found on the Oswald casts, which were taken from his hands.

The deposits found on the paraffin casts could not be specifically associated with the rifle cartridges since the primer deposits from the rifle cartridges contained the same elements as the primer residues from the revolver cartridges which were reportedly fired from Oswald's revolver subsequent to the assassination.

Mr. Redlich introduced as an exhibit a letter which the Bureau furnished the Commission on March 18, 1964, a copy of which is attached. In view of the fact that this letter points out that barium and antimony occur in some common items, he was interested in knowing if neutron activation analysis did not suffer from the shortcomings of the chemical tests for nitrates. SA Gallagher deposed that the chemical tests were not specific for nitrates. Neutron activation examinations were specific for antimony and barium. Furthermore, although antimony and barium are found in some common items, they are not in a form that is readily accessible for mechanicaladhesion to the body as are items which give positive chemical tests for nitrates. In addition, although antimony and barium are present in some paints, for example, they do not generally represent the major constituents and there are many paints which contain neither barium or antimony.

Dear Mr. Rankin:

During the course of discussion of neutron activation analyses between Mr. Melvin Eisenberg of your staff and Special Agent John F. Gallagher of this Bureau on March 16, 1964, Mr. Eisenberg requested the following information:

1. What are some items in common usage which contain barium? Some items that may include barium are: grease, ceramics, glass, paint, printing ink, paper, rubber, plastics, leather, cloth, pyrotechnics, oilcloth and linoleum, storage batteries, matches and cosmetics.

2. What are some items in common usage which contain antimony? Some items that may include antimony are: matches, type metal, lead alloys, paints and lacquers, pigments for oil and water colors, flameproof textiles, storage batteries, pyrotechnics, rubber, pharmaceutical preparations and calico.

3. What are some items in common usage which contain both barium and antimony? Barium and antimony may be found in the following items: printed paper and cloth, paint, storage batteries, rubber and matches, pyrotechnics and possibly other items.

4. Would neutron activation analyses show if a bullet passed through the hole in the front of President Kennedy's shirt near the collar button area and also if a bullet passed through the material of his tie? Neutron activation is a sensitive analytical technique to determine elements present in a substance. During the course of the spectrographic examinations previously conducted of the fabric surrounding the hole in the front of the shirt, including the tie, no copper was found in excess of that present elsewhere in undamaged areas of the shirt and tie. Therefore, no copper was found which could be attributed to projectile fragments.

It is not felt that the increased sensitivity of neutron activation analyses would contribute substantially to the understanding of the origin of this hole and frayed area.

Specimens received 9/3/64

D-251 Hard-cover journal bearing handprinted title on first page "DIARY OF IMPRESSIONS & OBSERVATIONS OF ERIC RITZEK BEGAN SEPT. 5, 1963"

Result of examination:

The submitted specimen, D-251, was examined cryptanalytically and the following determinations effected:

Some of the cryptic symbols following the entry dated October 22, 1963, are copied from electronic symbols. Others may be attempts to generate writing resembling shorthand. No valid meaning could be derived from these symbols.

The entry dated October 24, 1963, may be an attempt to fabricate writing resembling a foreign language. The Latin phrases "In hoc signo vinces" and "per aspera ad astra" are set forth consecutively in the entry. The former quotation means "in, or by this sign thou shalt conquer" and is a motto said to have been adopted by the Emperor Constantine after seeing a vision of the cross. The latter means "To the stars by hard ways" and in the reverse order "Ad astra per aspera" is the motto of the State of Kansas.

The above entry also contains isolated words in Latin, Spanish, German, Russian, and Scandinavian and possibly other languages. Other than mentioned above, no valid meaning was derived from this entry.

The entry following the January 3, 1964, entry appears to be an invalid mathematical formula. The entry on the following page has the appearance of a sketch of a solar system. The first word above the sketch appears to be "moon" but the remaining writing is illegible.

The symbol of the skull with crossed cigarette and piston with connecting rod appearing on the third page from the end of the written material would appear to be a representation of the views expressed immediately preceding and following the symbol concerning death, cigarette smoking and drivers.

In general, the cryptic entries in the submitted specimen evidence the characteristics of being randomly generated with no valid meaning. These cryptic entries are very similar to entries observed from other sources which are frequently derived from demented minds.

On August 21, 1964, the Los Angeles Office advised that on August 19, 1964, G. C. HOSKINS, Terminal Manager, Continental Trailways, 601 South Main Street, Los Angeles 14, California, furnished to Special Agent PHILLIP B. DEILY a small size, black-covered journal bearing written notations in the form of a diary. The front of the book is labeled "Diary of Impressions & Observations of Eric Ritzek Began Sept. 5, 1963". According to Mr. HOSKINS, this book was found at the ticket counter late on the afternoon of August 15, 1964, by Ticket Clerk ADRIAN MOUNT, who has no idea as to the identity of the owner and/or the person who left the book on the ticket counter. Mr. HOSKINS said he does not desire the book be returned to him.

The following is a verbatim transcription of the writings contained in the above-described book:

"Sept 5, 1963

"Charles, my room-mate and fellow polittical science major in our Junior year has just invited me on a holiday to Mexico City at the end of this month. He was quite elated, and promised a profitable experience in human physcology (my minor subject) and of course polictical science. He is a likeable but odd sort of fellow, and I have seldom seen him so out-going. This trip must be very important to him. We both have enough credits from two years of summer classes, and we rate a f€ild trip. (At our own expense of course.)

1 ENCLOSURE

"Sept 10, 1963

"Charles and I obtained our visas to the United States and Mexico. An awful lot of red tape to go through. I really consider myself and Charles citizens of the universe, personally, I owe no alligence to no one but myself. I hardly see where the red tape at the consoletes are necessary. We leave on the 15th. Charles has arranged for us to meet a chap in about a fortnight.

"I read in the papers where it has been announced that Carol's heart failed in her sleep. What a pity. So young, so beautiful, so chaste - to her way of thinking. She has served her purpose to whatever Charles has in mind, and then she was expendable. Charles has recieved a letter today from America, Texas in fact. It contained thousands of dollars. Charles has declined to devulge the identity of our benefactor.

"Charles cautioned me once again upon the maintenance of absolute secrecy of this document, and foretold of it's potential value to future generations of craftsman and tools.

"Charles had informed me that the hour is near at hand to devulge the purpose of our mission.

"Sept. 11, 1963

"Charles is truely a great craftsman. All men seemingly big and great and minutely small and bug-like are tools and pawns in his hands.

"Charles plans to launch a great adventure purely in the interest of observing political science and human physcology.

"Our goal is to kill the American president John F. Kennedy.

"Truely a once in many puny lifetimes opportunity for valued observatory and knowledge.

"I am so joyful I can hardly retain my composure.

"Charles says he has several useful tools at his disposal. Both seemingly great and powerful, and the bug like human leech.

"Actually all men are bug-like leeches. Who allow themselves to be used as tools in the hands of the skilled craftsman to further their own lusts for glory.

"Sept 14, 1963

"Have been busy the past three days putting our affairs in order. We sail tomorrow at dawn.

"Sept 16, 1963

"We sailed for New Orleans yesterday before sunrise. Thats in a place called Louisana which is in the southern extremitie of America.

"Sept 19, 1963

"We arrived at New Orleans this afternoon. It was a ghastly trip, and I'm glad it's over.

"Sept 20, 1963

"Charles was gone a few hours this morning. When he returned to our hotel room he brought a chap of about our age. After I had a chance to observe him I found him to be likeable on the surface, but he really is a despondent little worm. Professes to be a Communist or some such thing. To induce a Communist to kill the incumbant American president will be a real test of my abilities. (Poor Charles how he envys my power over little toys.) I found Lee Harvey Oswald to be an easy subject. I do honestly believe he could be induced to anything even his own destruction. Which will have to be done.

"Lee Harvey Oswald, I feel it important to record this tool's name in full. For he will be the unwittenly tool in the hands of the skilled craftsman. I am that skilled craftsman. Poor resourceful Charles. The cunning planning Charles is also a tool of the skilled craftsman. I worked with Lee H. Oswald several hours today. I induced hynosis and brought him forth several times. He is such an easy subject, busteth for grandeur. That is his, as most men, Achilles Heel.

"The true craftsman remains in the shadows and plys his tools.

"Sept 26, 1963

"I worked with Lee Harvey Oswald (I must record the name, for he will prove history greatest tool) all this week. He is aboard this very bus as we are travelling through Mexico to Mexico City. He is not presently in a trance. But he knows not why he travels thusly. Nor does he remember Charles and myself. A well made tool in our hands. Poor bug like fool. -- Evermore,

"I just learned by a English speaking radio that a fellow passenger is carrying that President Kennedy is planning a trip to the American state of Texas next month or rather the month after next. I will utilize this information to my advantage. I must close. Charles has nudged me. A fellow passenger grows curious. Silly curious fool. I saw to it that he will not remember a thing of this trip. He will forget everything he may have seen in this book the very next time he utters a sound through his mouth.

"Sept 27, 1963

"Charles and I arrived in Mexico City. A beautiful city, but the country is poor. Inhabited by poor tools, slaves to great tools that think they are craftsmen. And slaves after their own lusts and ignorance.

"Sept 28, 1963

"Sumomed Lee H. Oswald to our hotel room by pre-arranged signal. To which he answered not knowing why. I worked all this day with him. Lee Harvey Oswald Lee Harvey Oswald Lee Harvey Oswald Lee Harvey Oswald I must enter that name in this record.

"Sept. 29, 1963

"I find Lee Harvey Oswald an intelligent person. Surly, hateful and at odds with the universe - but not without a degree of undeveloped intelligence. His thoughts are confused. I will put them in order to my satisfaction.

"I am the complete master of the situation. Charles has played out his role, and merely looks on as I make destiny.

"The American president will die in Dallas Texas. That much has been decieded. And Lee Harvey Oswald will be my weapon of destruction. He has no choice, I am his master, the skilled craftsman. He is my tool in the glorious experiment. Silly fool. -- Evermore.

"October 1, 1963

"We released Lee H. Oswald from his willing prison. He is a fool, but with a keen mind that I properly arranged to my satisfaction. He will be a craftsman - for awhile. He is able, and will think for himself, and bring about the end of President Kennedy's life. He for a brief moment in time and space will hang - suspended above all men and the great skilled craftsman, and function like a programed computer.

"A glorious Frankenstein monster I have created.

"With his function performed, he will deterioate. Become a scared running carniverious animal. He will seek destruction by his actions. By a policeman's bullet. And he will remember nothing.

"Lee H. Oswald will serve his purpose and go the way of all tools discarded - Cast out. By the skilled craftsman. -- Evermore. Arise again? -- Nevermore

"October 2, 1963

"Lee H. Oswald left at noon or shortly thereafter by bus for Larado Texas. He goes to America at my bidding, for a reason that is at this time vauge to him. But as this computor functions new circuts will come into play. And then all the pieces will fall into place.

"And behold the blood of America's fallen leader.

"Into his grave this fool, that was content to be a tool will be cast when his usefulness has been fulfilled. -- Evermore.

"October 3, 1963

"Charles and I set out by a poor ramshackled bus to see some of this poor country. People walk about with nothing to do nothing to behold. Standing in the mud and the filth of animals that are ever present in their bare feet. These are true fools. They appear to be satisfied with their misery. Misery they have endured graciously in ignorance and superstition for the ages. And will go on doing so for countless ages, because they

"Man will stand with the giants of universe? -- Nevermore

"Man are puny little bugs. They are stepped upon by the giants. Evermore shall be.

"The bugs devoure the smaller more helpless bugs, in their pitiful struggle to survive on thy miserable planet. Those bugs are devoured by the great bugs and the powerful vermim that are fearful of losing their power and control. Not knowing of the close hanging heel. The spike boots of the giant.

"Parasites. Little twisted wrecks of germs and bacteria in human form. Feed upon the spilled blood and guts of those that have fallen. To enhance their own useless survival.

"After about what these so-called intellects reckon as 4½ billion years. This is civilization's greatest stage of development. It should be consigned to the fires before it festers the universe.

"October 13, 1964

"Poor Charles. He is disturbed at my impressions.

"But he is greatly pleased at my abilities and achievements with Lee. I am pleased that he is pleased with my endevours.

"October 14, 1964

"Charles lusteth as an animal for a simple but comely young pleasant girl. I too, for all men are corrupt animals that lusteth flesh and blood and power. Tis the key to survival.

"Sometimes I feel as though I belong. But I must satisfy my animal like cravings and hold my self above the people and stand with the giants.

"October 15, 1963

"I feel as though I belong. I feel as though I belong.

"October 16, 1963

"I feel as though I belong.

"October 17, 1963

"I climb among the giants and step upon the bugs. -- Evermore Evermore --

"October 20, 1963

"We once again enter the land called America. And we are in that subdivision called Texas.

"What confusion. No order to the system whatsoever.

"Mexico - Texas - America - New Orleans - what confusion. It's all one planet. Called Earth, and one portion looks basically the same as another.

"Charles tells me that we are enroute to a place called Fort Worth. A city near Dallas where the president has been consigned to be put to death for our observations.

"We arrived at Fort Worth about an hour after the sun-set. We're staying at a hotel and I'm very tired. Charles has succumbed to sleep.

"October 21, 1963

"We examined the sights of this city called Fort Worth. Some worth observing. So many poor little people about everywhere. Charles took a leave this afternoon, and he'll return as soon as possible. I suspect he's off to see our benefactor. Charles is a capable, qualified administrator.

"October 22, 1963

"I further toured this city. Dallas is only about 18 kilometers distant, but I thought it wise to refrain from that place until the appointed time. Charles has not yet returned. But he is a resourceful lad. I fear not for his welfare."

(The next four and one-half pages contain what appears to be doodle marks.)

"October 23, 1963

"Charles has returned, and he carried in a package of plain brown wrapping paper, $100,000. in cash. Small bills, Fives, tens, and twenty's. Nothing larger than a twenty. Mostly in tens. He divided it evenly among us two comrades. Since he is so willing to equally share his fortune, I rather suspect that he has recieved more than he has led me to believe. All men are corrupt. -- Evermore.

"Charles still refused to reveal the identity of our benefactor. But he affirmed the fact that it is the same individual that sent us money in the mail, and that this individual has everything, in fact very much to gain by the President Kennedy being slain.

"Charles enjoys his little secret, it makes him feel so smug. Smuggness gives little men a sense of importance.

"In fact if I remain disinterested he will eventually devulge more and more information.

"Now he is insisting on how much this individual has to gain from the hands of his fallen cheiftain.

"Yes -- Charles used the word 'cheiftain'.

"Now Charles, is cursing me and my 'damned book'. I shall have to put it up, and quiet him down! He's absolutely giddy."

"Charles has returned to our room, and has observed me making my observation. He was at first disturbed and urged me to destroy the previous. Well I hardly think that is necessary since I've only begun this narrative. He fretted a few minutes and relented. 'Of course', he said, 'You are writing history itself.' And he made me promise that I would not reveal this book to no man during both our life times.

" 'Then the inevitable truth will be known', said he.

"Sept. 6, 1963

"Had an entertaining evening, previous. Charles was delighted. For weeks I have been excerising my skills and powers as a hypnotist over this certain young lady. Formerly of high chasity and moral character.

"The popular theroy and the generally accepted one is: That a subject under hypnosis can-not be compelled to do any act that is against that person's personal code of ethics. But this so-called code of ethics can be torn down like a wall, which it is after a series of sessions under hypnosis. For all men and young girls are corrupt, and seek after animal lusts which governs the survival of the universe. Men have tried to legislate it, regulate. Churches in order to obtain the balance of power by sheer weight of numbers attempt to own it outright.

"I managed to trigger the final destruction of the girl's will by a previous suggestion last week. I simply bit off the end of a cigar and spat it upon the floor, and Carol desired Charles and myself as her lover.

She saw only one lover but there were two animals lusting her virgin flesh for the survival of a corrupt universe. So great was my sucess with the subject in the past short weeks She accepted us both as her one husband in acts that defy description.

"Charles was exceedingly pleased. He told me after we left the girl's flat that my ability will further our proposed mission in Mexico.

"Before leaving Carol I put her into a deep sleep, into a sleep so deep, so everlasting that her heart will beat ever slower, ever slower, until it stops. And she will awake - Nevermore

"The dead sleepeth the everlasting sleep of eternal peace. And never point an accusing finger, nor uttereth a hard word, against those who must strive for the survival of the universe.

"A man is either the master of his universe or a tool in the hands of a skilled and cunning craftsman. And a man who is content to be a tool is a fool. And an old tool that has served its purpose to the craftsman must be discarded, disposed of - cast out.

"So to Carol; sleep well fine tool, Awake again - Nevermore.

"You have served your purpose, been used in the hands of the craftsman, now dear fool, sleep the sleep of sleeps, The sleep of the grave. -- Evermore.

"October 24, 1963

(Two pages of what appears to be some language other than English, Which is illegible.)

"November 5, 1963

"Charles and I grew tired of this drab city, and we repaired to the North to a large body of water. (Not as large as we originally traversed) called Lake Texoma, to indulge in a sport known as fishing.

"November 6, 1963

"I really don't see why any man who possesses so-called intelligence indulges in such a primitive inactive past time as fishing. Imagine a person with superior intellilectual powers actually trying to prove himself to be more intelligent than a fish. That is the object behind this thing they call a sport. (You are compelled to purchase a thing that is called a license before you may 'fish'. It shows that you have recieved official permission from the government in order to fish) To outthink a fish.

"Charles appears to enjoy this sort of thing. He has out thought and captured several species of what is called 'Catfish'. Ugly brutes.

"Charles is so strange at times I honestly believe that he is different.

"I observed in the newspaper that President Kennedy plans to make a public spectical of himself in the streets of Dallas Texas the coming 22nd. He shall indeed.

DL 100-10461

"November 7, 1963

"I have had enough of Charles and his silly past-times. I have repaired to seclusion to ponder upon the pure wisdom of the universe. Pure knowledge is what I hunger for -- what I seek. My only lust.

"What is terror? The faceless thing that stalks all men. Terror is the ticking of the clock, the passing of time. Terror is the dark. Terror is the mystic. Terror is the beat of your own failing heart. Terror is foot-steps in the room. Terror is the breath of the assassin upon your neck.

"The innocent must pay for the errs of the guilty, (as they shall do.) For their are far more innocent than guilty. It is the simplist thing, for the many to serve and pay the few.

"Man are justice, and all men are corrupt. Justice is a pagan whore, a blind bitch that exacts the toll of many to serve the few.

"November 10, 1963

"Today, Charles and I ponder the papers that give much detail to President Kennedy's intended journey to the dark kingdom.

"The matter is passed from our hands. Oh -- we could stop it, if we wanted to, but we don't want to. It's a slim chance but we may be fortunate enough to witness the spectical.

"Since I have torn Oswald's mind apart, and placed it back together again, I know how it functions.

"November 11, 1963

"We journeyed to Dallas and walked over President Kennedy's intended route. I have noticed everything, now I must place myself in Oswald's mind for a few minutes to ascertain the best location of the assassination.

"November 12, 1963

"I do honestly believe that the assassination will occur in the vicinity of the 'Triple Overpass'.

"Further I believe that Lee Harvey Oswald will fire his deadly bullets from one of the upper windows of a building called the 'School Book Depository'.

"Charles believes this assumption is correct. Of Charles always agrees with me for my mind is so much keener than his.

"There is a small park nearby, where we may tarry and behold the fruits of our labour.

"November 13, 1963

"We departed Dallas. I observed that the townspeople are largely disenchanted with their President. In fact our deed may bring about widespread rejoycing. The innocent Oswald may be heralded in time to come as a great hero. But first he must pay for the guilty.

"We repaired to Juarez Mexico to await the great day of revolotion. What a dreadful place. It hasn't enough dignity to be referred to a city or even a hamlet.

"November 21, 1963

"We returned to Dallas, and are boarded in a hotel. Both Charles and I anxiously await the morrows festivities. Behold the fruit of our labours.

"I am tired from the travel, but too excited and gleeful to sleep.

"On our way to this hotel we observed derrogatory handmade signs posted against President Kennedy. I have heard his name taken in vain in the lobby of this hotel. I have even heard a fellow wish evil upon the President.

"If what we are about to achieve can possibly be defintd as evil, That individual shall get his wish.

"THE DAY OF THE THUMP NOVEMBER 22ND 1963
AS OBSERVED BY ERIC RITZEK AND HIS COMRADE CHARLES

"November 22nd 1963

"Friday: November 22, 1963

"The great and glorious day has transpired, and I Eric Ritzek was the master craftsman.

"I shall start a virgin page. A new book a testiment. Ring out the old, and herald the coming of the new.

"I Eric Ritzek the master craftsman was the designer, author, and witness of November the twenty-second nineteen hundred and sixty-four.

"I must write quickly weighing each precious thought. As the events of this day are hours old but still vivid in my marvelous mind. My beautiful wonderious brain. The brain and thoughts and mind and deeds of the Master Craftsman I: Eric Ritzek -- Evermore

"FRIDAY: NOVEMBER 22ND 1963
THE DAY OF THE THUMP
BY
THE AUTHOR OF DESTINY

"November 22, 1963

"Today is Friday. It was warm and sunny. I had feared rain but it was naught.

"At about 9:00 A.M. Charles and I managed to secure a picnic lunch box from the kitchen staff of the hotel in which we stayed. Under the guise that we wanted to eat our lunch in the park and 'get a chance to see the American President.'

"Having obtained the desired lunch box we departed to our prearranged vantage point.

"The crowds enroute were so dense it was eleven o'clock before we arrived at the small park.

"There were a few discontented souls in the crowds lining both sides of the thoroughfare. Some bearing placards that expressed their ill feelings. But the vast majority of the people were genuine well-wishers. And of course they were curious, they merely wanted to gawk at a President.

"After all it isn't often a common man can view his highers in the flesh.

"Arriving at the park we climbed a low hill. Seating ourselves, we were joyed at our vantage point. From this vantage point we could see over the heads of the great crowd.

"At about 12:30 P.M. while we were still eating our lunch and finishing a thermos of coffee, the motorcade came into view. The crowds went mad with cheers. I glanced towards the School Book Depository and observed a figure crouched in the sixth floor. I couldn't see the face at that distance, but I assumed that it was Oswald. I assumed correct, as the coming events were to prove. In his hands a long metalic object glinted in the warm sunshine. Apparently that was his rifle.

"The motorcade came closer. Oh -- I wish I owned a camera.

"I could've owned one at that moment. Money certainly is no problem with me. The master craftsman.

"On came the motorcade. Past Oswald's vantage point. Closer they neared the network of bridges.

"Why doesn't Oswald fire? Has he been discovered. Have we failed. Damn Charles and his great plan. Soon the object of this mission will be safe beneath the bridge.

"Hark--

"A shot. A shot was fired from the sixth floor of the School Book Depository. I saw the smoke. I saw Oswald reload.

"The President did a complete flip, his wife tried to flee on foot in panic.

"Another shot, still another.

"The President's car is racing away at a high speed. A bloody foot hangs over the side. The secret service men are trying to restrain the President's wife. She is completely seized with panic as she trys to jump out of the car.

"One of them just struck her a blow with his fist knocking her down.

"The crowds are in a panic. People are screaming and running. Some are throwing themselves upon the ground as policemen run about with drawn guns.

"Three motorcycle officers carrying shotguns are headed this way.

"Terror -- fear

"Have we been discovered.

"How could we

"I do not see Oswald.

"They pass. Go right on by and do not even look at us. The police are everywhere. They seemed confused.

"I now see them, several of them, enter the School Book Depository.

"Many things of panic and confusion are happening all at once. It's difficult to record everything that happens simutainously.

"The crowds are regaining their compuse. Mothers with babies in their arms are running away.

"Others are crying, some are cheering and rejoycing.

"I have just seen Oswald leave the 'School Book Depository'.

"..

"He even held the door open for a hard running policeman with a machine gun in his hands to enter. Then he disappeared in the milling mob.

"Soon his cooly functioning mind will cease, and as the great craftsman had ordained, Lee Harvey Oswald the assassin will seek self destruction.

"The innocent must die to preserve the guilty.

"1:15 P.M.

"A passerby with a transistor radio has informed us that the President is dead. He died at Parkland Memorial Hospital.

"The stranger appearing well-to-do says it is a tragedy. But the man is smiling Hypocrit.

"Why do man fear their own emotions, and wear a mask through life?

"All part of the chaos called civilization.

"Yes I now hear a radio. the President is truly dead.

"I hear talk of war.

"I hear talk pestilence people are scared. Fear is everywhere.

"And a child shall lead.

"Out of the mouths of babes. -- Evermore

"Passing a public school I hear the children cheering and clapping their hands.

"Reflecting the true feelings of their elders.

"I see their elders in the streets. Pretending to be sad. But I spy a tell-tale smirk and sneer and smile now and then.

"There is nothing more to see here. We could observe better V.I.A. our hotel room television set. If we need to see the public in the flesh, merely step outside.

"Charles and I now return to our hotel. Along the route I hear several persons say things like:

"'I told you so'.

"'I knew something like this would happen.

"How could he -- the fool.

"'I'm glad, he needed killin.'

"Several nodded in approval and voiced assent. A woman looked fearful.

"'Be careful', she said, 'They may hear you'.

"Who is this faceless 'They' men fear so much?

"A President is shot and everybody cowers and lives in fear.

"A grocery store clerk is shot in a holdup and nobody cares.

"A President's blood is the same color as other humans.

"I obtained a spot of President Kennedy's blood upon my handkercheif as a cherished keep-sake.

"What is so special about a President. He will be replaced.

"There is no such thing as an un-replaceable man. If you doubt these words of wisdom:

"Tarry awhile in a cemetary. Ponder if you will the rows of silent graves. Everyone of those sun bleached stones owner's has been replaced with a tool fashioned to be a better model. -- Evermore

"Upon arriving at our hotel room we immediately locked the door to our room and turned on the television set. We turned it up loud to drown out the sounds of any conversation between Charles and myself.

"The television conveyed the impression of widespread shock and greif.

"I suspect it is superficial.

"Confusion is paramount. That much can be ascertained.

"The police have announced that they have a prime suspect in custody. This isn't good, Oswald wasn't meant to be taken alive. They have not disclosed his identity.

"3:05 P.M.

"The police released the identity of their suspected assassin. It is Lee Harvey Oswald that they lay hold to. This is not good, his being taken alive. He also killed a police officer in his thwarted flight to self destruction. Something went wrong, I do not like this. Neither does Charles.

"The t

"The television cameras must be stationed in the police station itself.

"Yes, they are. I have seen Oswald. He is smiling so smugly. I do not like this at all. He should be seeking death.

"Hark, a reporter hurridily questions him as the police push him into a room.

"'Why did you kill the president?' asks the reporter.

"'I never killed nobody,' was the reply, and Oswald has gone into the room. The door is closed. Policemen are showing persons down the hallway from the room that contains Lee Harvey Oswald, I do not like this. Oswald must die.

"By all means he must die. Charles agrees.

"We shall begin at once to arrange his execution.

"For the innocent must pay for the crimes of the guilty. -- Evermore

"I press the blood stained handkercheif to my bare breast and feel my heart beat beneath. Cherishing the sucess of our great and glorious mission. -- Evermore

"Saturday night (very late)
November 23, 1963

"The body of the fallen leader has been borne away. Another king stands in his place. The wheels of chaos turn smoothly never missing a beat.

"Everywhere schools and business are going to be closed Monday. In observance of President Kennedy's funeral.

"A national holiday has been declared under the guise of mourning.

"With my own ears I have heard plans discussed for hunting and fishing and other pleasure trips.

"Amid all this clandistine gaiety, the master craftsman has once again carved, molded and created destinity.

"Charles and I met an tavern owner of very questionable character. He was truely mourning the death of the president.

"He was in the process of closing his place of endeavour when we happened to encounter him. I detected true greif and sincerity and I expressed likewise.

"Soon a freindship was formed and Charles and I were invited into his establishment for a drink.

"His temperment was highly voltile. Which made him a good subject for what I had in mind.

"Soon, with hardly any effort what-so-ever I had induced hynosis over the man.

"Then gave him the post hypnotic suggestion that he should avenge the President's death.

"Of course it done in such a manner that the man will be able to explain where he ever got such a notion to take it upon himself to be the public avenger.

"In case the weird workings of the human mind in this individual do recall such a suggestion. A pre-installed mental block will prevent Absolutely prevent any and all communication on the matter.

"Having completed our bussiness I placed the man in a responsive trance to last until dawn, and Charles and I left to await the further results of our labours. Another innocent shall pay for the guilty.

"For the innocent are many and the guilty are few. The many shall serve the few.

"I do not know even know this man's name. I thought it not important enough to ask.

"The hour grows late. Charles has long since retired and sleeps like a baby. I shall do likewise.

"Oh imagine the absolute frustration if this person does remember our covenent, and is unable to relate it in any way. Imagine the sheer maddening frustration.

"Sunday, November 24, 1963

"Sorrity has regained control these early daylight hours this day. People still talk in hushed tones. Perhaps afraid to awake the dead.

"We learned V.I.A. the radio while breakfasting that Oswald is to be moved from the police station to the county Jail. The police say he has not admitted anything but they posess an 'air tight case' against Oswald.

"I should like to see the transfer to the County Jail.

"Charles and I went to the Dallas police station at around noon this day, to see what could be seen. It was most profitable.

"We could not gain entry because of the crush of people. But we observed our newly fashioned tool of our trade leave his parked car and shove his way inside the building. An armoured truck was parked in the car part and garage way. Our tool took straight at me, but did not know me. He roughly shoved Charles aside and disappeared within.

"A moment later that seemed like an eternity there was a clamour of voices. Then a shot resounded from within the tiled walled interior.

"There was a rattle and a clatter of running feet and hoarse frantic incoherent shouting from many throates.

"The armoured car was moved out of the car port after some frantic delay and shouting, and an ambulance arrived.

"Oswald, looking very poor was dumped upon a litter and roughly handled into the awaiting ambulance, and hurried away still shackled to a policeman.

"Our tool was beaten by several fists and pistol butts and knocked to the floor amid an awray of drawn guns and curses. The sight of the drawn guns caused some of the news reporters to lie in mortal fear upon the floor while others trampled upon them.

"Then our tool was carried bodily away.

"Once again death, chaos, and confusion. Oh -- I mustn't forget terror. Stark terror reigned as king.

"Second to none -- only the master craftsman reigned absolutely supreme over the toiling masses.

"Upon returning to our hotel room and our television set. We discovered who our tool was:

"Leon Jack Rubinstein, known around this city of Dallas Texas as one 'Jack' Ruby'

"Aftermath to our labours

"The late President Kennedy was laid into his tomb this day.

"Amid much sickening ceremony that really groted my stomach.

"The new king, 'President Johnson has declared a period of national mourning. To last until December 22nd.

"Just in time for Christmas shopping. How very conveinent.

"Everywhere institutions are closed while the workers take a holiday. How hypocritic.

"December 24, 1963

"I see everywhere, cheap-overpriced publications menting the death of President Kennedy. The public at large has fairly well recovered from the shock. In fact they never were shocked.

"From all the generated sorrow V.I.A. publishing firms, and elaborate special 'Collector's Copy' magazines someone has made a greedy lucritive profit from all of this.

"Where-ever money can be made - no matter how made - to hell with ethics - all men are corrupt - money shall be made.

"December 25, 1963

"Charles is dying. He is suffering from a rattlesnake bite. However their are no rattlesnakes here at college.

"Charles' affliction was hypnotically induced by myself.

"But never-the-less he shall die, slowly and painfully, and his feeble mind shall cause his body to produce quanities of blood in his blood stream not unlike rattle-snake venom.

"I wonder what will be said when the students and faculty return from the holidays.

"He will no doubt be accused of pilfering from the Zoology department.

"Charles and I had a falling out over who is the master craftsman. The true giant. Poor Charles could only place a poor second to the greatest.

"I am the greatest.

"Charles has stopped screamming. Yes - he is very stiff and dead. His body continues to swell and turn black and purple.

"I hated to do it but it was necessary.

"I emerged as the dominate personality.

"I hate to kill. That is to be forced to the practice of having to do it myself.

"That is beneath my dignity. Beneath the dignity of one of my great stature. It is barbaric to have to take a life yourself when there are so, many tools at one's command.

"Sleep well dear Charles. You have served your purpose, and you became obsolete. You became greedy.

"Ive warned you time and time again about those traits.

"They won't be tolorated.

"Those were traits of weakness and it cost you your life.

"You were acting like a human, and I couldn't tolerate that.

"I shall return home before the expiration of the holidays, and report in full to our superiors.

"I regret having to report Charles' paramount weakness. But it must be reported to prevent such a recurrance, in future experiments with the people of the planet called Earth.

"In the ten years we have been stationed here, Charles showed an overwhelming weakness and desire to be a human being.

NOTE: Mark Lane, during testimony before the Commission, alleged there was a meeting at Jack Ruby's Carousel Club on 11-14-63 between Bernard Weissman, J. D. Tippit and Ruby. Weissman placed controversial full-page ad in DL newspaper prior to President Kennedy's visit. Tippit, was shot and killed by Oswald. We have investigated this allegation in the past and no proof of such meeting was developed. During interview on 8-10-64, Weissman indicated he possibly was employed on 11-14-63, by carpet firm in Dallas. The enclosed communications tend to support Weissman's story in that carpet firm's records disclose Weissman had interview on evening of 11-14-63 and prospective buyers recall being contacted by carpet salesman who spent over two hours during evening at their home. Two of people have furnished positive proof that Weissman was there on 11-14-63 & they have also identified his photograph. This concludes our inquiries into this particular matter.

Re LHM shows that Insua told Connell that on date not stated two men called at her apartment seeking to find Odio and that Odio later told her the two men were from anti-Castro organization seeking her support. Dear Mr. Rankin:

Reference is made to your letter dated September 9, 1964, concerning an allegation that Special Agent in Charge J. Gordon Shanklin of our Dallas Office made a public statement about a paraffin test performed on Lee Harvey Oswald.

Special Agent in Charge Shanklin advises me that he made no such statement and that the allegation is completely unfounded.

With my letter to you dated August 21, 1964 concerning the appearance of Mark Lane on the Barry Gray Radio Program in New York City, I furnished you a twenty-seven page transcript of this program. On page four of this transcript substantially the same allegation as set out in your letter dated September 9, 1964, was made by Mr. Lane. At that time this Bureau immediately questioned Special Agent in Charge Shanklin as to the truthfulness of this allegation. In this same letter to you dated August 21, 1964, on page two, I specifically stated, "The alleged announcements made by representatives of this Bureau, which are discussed on pages three and four of the enclosed transcription, are completely without foundation as no such announcements were made."

To further substantiate Special Agent in Charge Shanklin's denial I direct your attention to my letter dated February 20, 1964, wherein I furnished you another transcript of a meeting which took place at Town Hall, New York City, on February 18, 1964, where Mark Lane was the principal speaker.

On page twenty-six of this transcript Mr. Lane is reported to have stated to his audience, "Now you may recall that on Saturday, November 23rd, we were told by Chief Curry, told the press of the nation, told the press of the world, that the paraffin test had come back. It was positive. It proved that Oswald had fired a weapon, it proved that Oswald was the assassin." You can readily see in this instance Mr. Lane attributes this statement concerning the paraffin test to Chief Curry of the Dallas Police Department.

For your further information the report of Special Agent Robert P. Gemberling at Dallas dated November 30, 1963, commencing on page 145 discloses that the paraffin tests were conducted by members of the Dallas Police Department and the technical examinations were made by two members of the Dallas City - County Criminal Investigative Laboratory on November 23, 1963.

CIVIL RIGHTS

PURPOSE

To advise the Bureau received a President's Commission request which requires interviews with members of the President's Commission and staff, Sol A. Dann of Detroit and Melvin Belli of San Francisco, the latter two, are former Ruby attorneys. The interviews are to relate to the leak of information to news media of Oswald's diary, Ruby's polygraph examination and Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren.

BACKGROUND

At the request of the Commission we have conducted extensive investigation concerning the leak of information to news media regarding Oswald's diary, Jack Ruby's polygraph examination, and Ruby's interview with Chief Justice Warren. The results of the investigations have been furnished to the President's Commission.

Congressman Gerald R. Ford was the only member of the Commission interviewed as it was alleged he leaked information regarding Oswald's diary. This allegation was completely erroneous. The Commission was advised other members and staff would not be interviewed in the absence of a specific request.

By letter dated September 10, 1964, the Commission requested that members and staff be interviewed; also that Mr. Sol A. Dann and Melvin Belli, former Ruby attorneys, be interviewed.

NOTE: The Commission previously requested several investigative steps to substantiate or disprove an allegation that prior to the assassination Oswald and his wife Marina visited a gun shop and had a telescopic sight mounted on a rifle. Hunter and Whitworth somewhat supported this allegation however it is felt they were mistaken in their identification as the supporting data furnished by them is not consistent with what our investigation developed.

On September 11, 1964, Cesar Odio, age 28, resident at 1600 Southwest 82nd Place, Miami, Florida, and employed in the office of Maule Industries, Miami, stated he is the brother of Sylvia Odio, presently living in Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Odio said he left Cuba in October, 1960, and Sylvia, age 27, and her husband and their children left Cuba about December, 1960, and took up residence in Ponce, Puerto Rico.

Cuba Fla FI- Texas

The father and mother of Odio were arrested by the Castro regime in October, 1961, for activities against the government and they have been sentenced to 30 and 9 years imprisonment, respectively.

Mr. Odio said he is the oldest of ten children, all now in the United States.

He said Sylvia divorced her husband in 1963 and moved to Dallas, Texas, with her four children about July, 1963. He did not see her again until August, 1964, when he visited Dallas. He said he had no information concerning the incident wherein Sylvia was visited (about September, 1963) at her apartment in Dallas by three individuals, one of whom she believes was Lee Harvey Oswald, who said they were associated with the anti-Castro organization JURE (Cuban Revolutionary Junta). He said he can only presume Sylvia is correct about what she saw. Mr. Odio said he knows no acquaintance of Sylvia or other individual named Leopoldo, who might be identical with the person of the war-name "Leopoldo" stated by Sylvia to be one of the three persons, including Oswald, who had visited her apartment.

ENCLOSURE

Re: Lee Harvey Oswald

Mr. Odio stated his sisters, Sylvia and Sara, age 23, who recently married James Mier at Dallas, both hoped to see President Kennedy when he visited Dallas on November 22, 1963. They were waiting at the Trade Mart in Dallas when news was received that President Kennedy had been shot. He said his sisters hoped to ask President Kennedy to obtain release of their parents, or at least their mother, from Cuba. He said Sylvia fainted at the news of the shooting and subsequently had a nervous breakdown from which she is still suffering. He said Sylvia's breakdown may also have been due in part to her divorce and to the imprisonment of her parents.

On September 11, 1964, Mrs. Silvia G. Herrera, 118 Southeast 12th Terrace, Miami, stated she is the mother of Guillermo Herrera, who divorced Sylvia Odio at Ponce, Puerto Rico, in July, 1963. Mrs. Herrera said she had no knowledge of the incident wherein Sylvia Odio believes Lee Harvey Oswald had come to her Dallas apartment with two other men, who said they represented JURE. Mrs. Herrera said she could not think of anyone named Leopoldo who might be identical with the three men who visited Sylvia Odio.

Mrs. Herrera advised that both her son, Guillermo, and Sylvia and their children, then three, left Cuba before the end of 1960, and settled in Ponce, Puerto Rico, where Guillermo Herrera, age 30, an industrial engineer, graduated from Georgia Tech and obtained employment with Western Fher-Laboratories, Inc. In April, 1962, Mrs. Herrera visited her son and family in Ponce, at which time a fourth child was born to Sylvia. Then, in June, 1962, Guillermo Herrera was sent by his employer to Germany for training to last approximately six months. It was during this period, after Mrs. Herrera had returned to Miami and Guillermo had gone to Germany, that Mrs. Herrera learned Sylvia Odio was apparently neglecting her four children. Mrs. Herrera explained that her other son, age 20, was staying at the residence of Sylvia in Ponce, working and attending college at the time.

Re: Lee Harvey Oswald

Through her son, Mrs. Herrera learned Sylvia had put the children out with friends and was herself going out nights. When Guillermo Herrera returned to Ponce from Germany in December, 1962, he requested Mrs. Herrera to come to Ponce to help care for the children. In March, 1963, Sylvia left Ponce and went to Dallas, Texas, where she obtained psychiatric treatment from one or possibly two doctors; one of these doctors may have examined Jack Ruby, assassin of Oswald. When Sylvia went to Dallas, she said she intended to write novels for magazines, and took a typewriter with her. She frequently telephoned to Ponce to say she could not see her husband and children for two or three years. Her husband, however, had received a letter from Sylvia's psychiatrist in Dallas, advising that Sylvia could lead a normal life.

In approximately June, 1963, Sylvia appeared in Ponce without notice. She then filed suit for divorce but her husband filed a countersuit, which Sylvia did not contest. The husband was awarded custody of the four children, but gave Sylvia written consent to take the children to Dallas. The husband had lost his job due to the problems of caring for his family.

Mrs. Herrera stated Sylvia Odio is very intelligent and does whatever she sets her mind to. In Mrs. Herrera's opinion, Sylvia is also very conceited and vain of her physical beauty and of her brains. Also, according to Mrs. Herrera, Sylvia is a naturally excellent actress and succeeds in obtaining sympathy of others.

Mrs. Herrera said that she, herself, and her two sons enjoyed considerable wealth in Cuba, and Sylvia and her family were also very wealthy. Sylvia's father was self-made, having built a substantial trucking business in Cuba. Sylvia's parents have been involved in Cuban revolutionary affairs through several regimes.

Re: Lee Harvey Oswald

Mrs. Herrera said she believed Sylvia was unable to adjust to the relative hardships of exile from Cuba. Also the imprisonment of her parents had considerable effect on Sylvia's stability. Mrs. Herrera stated that while she could not judge the accuracy of Sylvia's belief that Oswald and two other men had visited her apartment, she is satisfied that Sylvia could intelligently fabricate an incident if so motivated.

On September 11, 1964, Mrs. Grethel Esteves de Martinez, 9250 Southwest 31st Terrace, Miami, stated she is a second cousin of Sylvia Odio. Sylvia's youngest sister, age 6, resides with Mrs. Martinez. Mrs. Martinez said she last saw Sylvia when Sylvia and her children passed through Miami en route to Dallas, Texas, from Puerto Rico, in the Summer of 1963. Mrs. Martinez said she could not comment on the accuracy of Sylvia's information concerning Lee Harvey Oswald appearing at her apartment with two other men. She said Sylvia has had psychiatric treatment since going to Dallas, but seemed quite normal when she came through Miami in the Summer of 1963. She said she believes Sylvia has decided to change from Catholic to another religion but did not know if Sylvia's emotional state influenced this decision. Mrs. Martinez said she had no idea who Leopoldo, named by Sylvia Odio as a companion of Oswald, might be.

On September 12, 1964, Mrs. MIGUEL ANGEL CAMPOS, Urbanizacion El Cerezal, Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, advised she is the sister of JERONIMO ESTEVE and cousin of SILVIA ODIO. PR

Mrs. CAMPOS advised that SILVIA ODIO was from an extremely wealthy family in Cuba and was the center of attraction not only in the family but in the social circles of Havana, Cuba. She lived an extremely frivolous life while in Havana. On arrival in Puerto Rico in 1961, there was a very decided change in the economic status of ODIO and her husband, and she was forced to perform all her own work including raising her children. In the opinion of Mrs. CAMPOS, ODIO was not capable of performing this housework and always complained, attempting to gain sympathy, not only from family but from friends and neighbors. She also attempted to continue to be the center of affairs but without success due to her economic status.

This change in economic life, the arguments with her husband and the eventual divorce and her inability to adjust brought on a series of partial breakdowns. In late Spring of 1963, ODIO returned to Puerto Rico from Dallas in order to obtain her divorce. At this time, ODIO resided for several weeks in the CAMPOS residence in Rio Piedras. During this time, ODIO advised she had been under psychiatric care but that, in her opinion, she had recovered. ODIO claimed that she was working extremely hard in Dallas.

105-82555-4267

Re: LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Since that time, Mrs. CAMPOS has received several letters from ODIO in which ODIO stated that she was working hard but having a difficult time making ends meet. She indicated she had to leave her children at a nursery while she herself went to work and complained in a majority of the letters about the lack of social life. She indicated in the majority of her letters that she was extremely lonesome and had very few friends in Dallas.

Mrs. CAMPOS advised that it is her opinion that ODIO was never able to cope with the change from her manner of life in Havana to the manner of life in Puerto Rico and Dallas. In view of this, ODIO has continually sought various means to regain her position by eliciting sympathy and attempting to be active in various social activities. Mrs. CAMPOS further stated that the hysterectomy operation undergone by ODIO in Dallas had a great effect on her emotional well-being. She further stated that ODIO has an excellent imagination, writes stories, and reportedly has had some published under a pseudonym. She is a very convincing person to talk to, a good actress, and possesses a tendency toward exhibitionism.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Dr. Augustin Guitart, Physics Instructor, Xavier University, 7325 Palmetto, New Orleans, Louisiana, advised a Special Agent of the FBI on September 9, 1964, that he resides at 1931 General Pershing, New Orleans, Louisiana. He advised that he is acquainted with Sylvia Odio and has known Sylvia since she was a small girl who had formerly resided in Cuba. Dr. Guitart stated that Sylvia Odio is the niece of his wife, Helen Guitart. Dr. Guitart stated that Sylvia Odio's parents are Amador and Sara Odio, and that prior to the Castro regime in Cuba, her father was a millionaire who owned and operated a large trucking company and owned a considerable amount of land.

He stated that Sylvia Odio's parents, prior to the rise of Castro, maintained an excellent reputation in Cuba and that he considered Sylvia to be a highly intelligent individual who maintained an excellent reputation.

Dr. Guitart stated that after Castro came to power in Cuba, Sylvia's father and mother were imprisoned and that they are still in prison in Cuba. As a result of Castro, Sylvia's family, including herself, lost all of their possessions and money and that Sylvia and her former husband Guillermo Herrera fled Cuba and came to reside in Miami, Florida, sometime in 1961 for a short period of time. Thereafter Sylvia and her former husband moved to Puerto Rico in 1961 where Sylvia's husband obtained a job as a chemical engineer with an unknown company.

ENCLOSURE

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Dr. Guitart stated that while in Puerto Rico Sylvia began having domestic trouble with her former husband and thereafter, sometime in 1962, the date unknown, her husband was sent to Germany for some type of training by his company at which time he abandoned Sylvia and their four children. As a result of this, Sylvia and her husband were divorced.

Dr. Guitart stated that as a result, Sylvia was left in Puerto Rico with these four children, the oldest being six years of age, with no means of support. Dr. Guitart stated that as a result of her mother and father being in jail in Cuba and the radical change in living conditions from what they formerly were when she resided in Cuba and because of her being abandoned by her husband, Sylvia suffered a very serious emotional breakdown. As a result of this emotional breakdown, Sylvia required psychiatric treatment in Puerto Rico; however, he did not believe that she was at any time placed in an institution.

Dr. Guitart stated that to the best of his recollection, it was either in February or March, 1963, that Sylvia left Puerto Rico with her four children to reside in Dallas, Texas, with her sister Annie Laurie Odio. While en route to Dallas the airplane on which she was traveling made a stop at the New Orleans International Airport for a few minutes and Dr. Guitart went to the airport and saw Sylvia.

Dr. Guitart stated that during the Summer and Fall of 1963, Sylvia Odio would, on occasion, telephonically contact him and his wife from Dallas. The general conversation had to do with members of the family.

Dr. Guitart stated that sometime after the assassination of President Kennedy in 1963 and prior to January, 1964, Sylvia's sister brought Sylvia's four children to New Orleans to stay with him and his wife, inasmuch as Sylvia had an operation at Dallas at an unknown hospital for the removal of her female organs. Dr. Guitart stated that during the Fall of 1963, Sylvia was not well physically because she was having trouble which resulted in the operation previously described.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Dr. Guitart stated that in either February or March, 1964, the date not recalled, Sylvia Odio came to New Orleans to take her children back to Dallas. He recalled that while at his residence, Sylvia observed a photograph of Lee Harvey Oswald in a newspaper and upon seeing the photograph made the statement to him that Oswald and two other males had on one occasion come to her residence in Dallas, Texas.

Dr. Guitart stated that this was the first time Sylvia had ever mentioned this to him and that Sylvia indicated that the other males accompanying Oswald gave the appearance of being more Mexican than Cuban in their physical appearance. Sylvia told him that these three individuals came to her residence during the evening at the time she was busy getting ready to move to another residence. Dr. Guitart stated that Sylvia did not indicate the date of this occurrence nor did Sylvia state to him that Oswald had ever actually introduced himself to her as Lee Harvey Oswald. Dr. Guitart stated that according to Sylvia, she made the identification of Oswald only through observing photographs of Oswald in the newspapers.

Dr. Guitart stated that he could not recall any specific conversation he had with Sylvia regarding her statement that Oswald had come to her residence in Dallas but recalled that it was some time prior to the assassination of President Kennedy and subsequent to August 12, 1963. Dr. Guitart explained that on August 12, 1963, he was present in Municipal Court in New Orleans, Louisiana, at the time Oswald was charged with disturbing the peace as an aftermath of his altercation with Carlos Bringuier on Canal Street in New Orleans.

Dr. Guitart stated that he could not recall whether Sylvia Odio made any mention of the purpose of the visit of these three individuals nor could he furnish any additional information.

LEE HARVEY OSWALD

Dr. Guitart stated that during his telephonic contacts with Sylvia Odio during 1963 and also at the time she came to New Orleans in February or March of 1964, she gave the appearance of having recovered from her previous emotional breakdown. Dr. Guitart stated that he did not believe that Sylvia Odio would intentionally make any untrue statements and that he had never known her to do so. He stated that since Sylvia Odio made the statement that Oswald had come to her residence on one occasion, he believed her.

Dr. Guitart stated he believes that Sylvia Odio's former husband has returned to Puerto Rico where he is currently working as a chemical engineer for an unknown company.

On September 8 and 9, 1964, Special Agents of the FBI contacted the following individuals at inexpensive hotels located in the vicinity of the Continental Trailways Bus Depot, 1314 Tulane Avenue, New Orleans, the Greyhound Bus Depot, 1710 Tulane Avenue, and the Lafayette Square Branch of the U. S. Post Office, 610 South Street, New Orleans, Louisiana. These individuals advised, according to the hotel registers, no individual by the name of Lee Harvey Oswald had stayed at their respective hotels on the night of September 24, 1963. A photograph of Oswald was shown to these individuals who advised that they had never observed Oswald at their hotels.
